The first elected chairman of the LAYPS and YAU who continued in this position until early 1964, was MARVIN TREIGER, who as of April 1964, was chairman of the Youth Commission, SCDCP. Since the organization's inception, key officers have been members of the CP.

STUDENT COMMITTEE FOR TRAVEL TO CUBA

"The Columbia Owl", weekly student newspaper of Columbia University, New York City, December 12, 1962, issue, page one, contained an article entitled "Students to Visit Cuba During Holidays". This article stated in part that the Ad Hoc Student Committee for Travel to Cuba was formed October 14, 1962, by a group of students from New York City universities, the University of Wisconsin, Oberlin College and the University of North Carolina, who stated that as students they would like a chance to see and evaluate the situation in Cuba for themselves and had received an offer of transportation and two weeks stay in Cuba from the Federation of University Students in Havana, as guests of the Federation. The Committee accepted the offer and applied to the State Department of the United States for passport validation which was refused; however, over fifty students planned to defy the State Department ban and go to Cuba.

A source advised on December 6, 1962, it was learned the Ad Hoc Student Committee for Travel to Cuba had recently been formed by the Progressive Labor Group.

A second source advised on September 13, 1963, that during the Summer of 1963, fifty-nine individuals traveled to Cuba; the leaders of the group were members of the Progressive Labor Movement; and the trip was planned and organized by Progressive Labor Movement members.

A third source advised on October 9, 1963, the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba was utilizing Post Office Bos 2178, New York, New York, as its mailing address.

DETAILS:

INTRODUCTION

An article captioned "The Negro Viewpoint" appeared in the "Seattle Times" which contained a brief history of the Negroes in Seattle. The article noted the Madison Street district was occupied by Negroes at an early date and that by 1920 another "Negro area" sprang up on Jackson Street southeast of the Madison Street district. By 1930 Negroes were living in the Cherry Street area north of Yesler Way near 23rd Avenue. The article continued, "As more Negroes came to Seattle, these areas expanded and became what is known today as the Central Area. It can generally be described as being bordered by Interlaken Boulevard at the north, the Mercer Island floating bridge at the south, Lake Washington at the east and the freeway at the west.

"During the Second World War, the area continued to expand and two new predominantly Negro areas developed - Holly Park and High Point. Both are public housing developments.

"Negroes today live in the Central area primarily for three reasons: desire to live among other Negroes, exploitation by both white and Negro real estate agents and impersonal economic factors.

"The Negroes in the eastern half of the area appear to be better housed and better educated and to earn a higher income than those in the western half.

"But a survey conducted two years ago by the University of Washington's Department of Sociology found housing in the area compared unfavorably with white housing throughout the city in terms of home ownership, proportion of substandard homes, crowding, age of units, value and rent of units.

"The average Negro home was valued about $3,000 less than the average white home.

"This is due to the fact that Negroes, as in most Northern cities, are steered to the older sections of the city."

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party, USA (CP)

1. Plans and Strategy on National Level

A meeting of the Communist Party in Tacoma, Washington was held August 3, 1965. MILFORD SUTHERLAND, Organizational Secretary, Northwest District CP (NWDCP), stated that the Communist Party's official stand was to put everything but the war in Vietnam in the background and to concentrate on it only. He explained how things such as civil rights would all fall in place once peace was obtained.

SE T-1 (8/11/65)

Source furnished a report of the Board, NWDCP, for October captioned "Perspectives For the Work of the Party for the Coming Year". Item (2) of this report is captioned, "For a Breakthrough in the Right of the People to Challenge the Establishment" and contains the following, in part, "We single out for immediate overall concentration helping to build the projected Northwest Workshop called to take a new look at war, bigotry and civil liberties. We understand it will probably take place in Portland on November 13. It promises to be an important breakthrough at an advanced level."

Item (4) captioned, "For a Breakthrough in the Civil Rights Struggle in our State" contains the following:

"It is widely understood that we have a Watts type situation in Seattle, Tacoma, Pasco and other Washington cities. Every struggle for real advances has been blunted and frustrated. Housing, job discrimination, school segregation, policy brutality are so many brick walls on the path to freedom.

"In spite of the defeats and frustrations, the forces are gathering that can make a breakthrough to win more than token victories. We must work more effectively among these forces, and help find the key to a new level of action. A major improvement in our work on this front is urgent. We have a number of examples of excellent work, but it must be said that this is not yet enough.

"We propose the use of the Winston pamphlet on a program for the ghetto and the Lightfoot series in "The Worker" as a point of departure for holding a series of discussions with individuals and groups in the community as a step in the development of further program.

"We might say here that there is nothing wrong with our work in the Freedom Fight that couldn't be quite quickly overcome in the process of recuiting a dozen or so Negro members."

SE T-2 (10/6/65)

2. CP Plans and Strategy at District and Lower Levels

During the latter part of July, 1965 leading members of the Northwest District CP (NWDCP) were in contact with youth members of the NWDCP regarding the CP program in Seattle's predominantly Negro Central District or, as it is sometimes called, the Central Area. As the basis for discussion, there was prepared a "guidelines for discussion" which consisted of developments of the youth movement in the Central District. NWDCP State Board and the youth leaders discussed how the CP could assist the development of the youth movement in the Central District. The "guidelines for discussion" emphasized the "necessity of a strong independent mass youth movement closely linked with the overall movement in the Central District".

Source advised that among the CP leaders involved in the above discussions were MARY and MILFORD SUTHERLAND, members of the State Board, NWDCP; BURT NELSON, Chairman, NWDCP; CAL HARRIS and VIVIAN GEORGE, members of the North Central CP Section, and the following members of the King County Youth Club of the CP: WANDA HUBBARD, CAROLYN BURDICK, MIKE RUBICZ and JOHNNY WEBB. Source advised that during the discussions between the NWDCP leadership and the CP youth, comments were made to the effect that the Central Area leadership is now easier to work with and more responsive to the demands of the community. It was stated that the Central Area Youth Action Council (CAYAC) was not making some of the mistakes of the former Central District Youth Club (CDYC) which had failed to try to work with Central Area leadership.

Reference was made to the forthcoming trial of individuals involved in the altercation on June 20, 1965 which resulted in the fatal shooting of ROBERT REESE, a Negro, by an off duty Seattle policeman. It was inferred that some type of activity would take place on the day of the trial.

VIVIAN GEORGE was stated to have shown she was very pleased with the progress of the Freedom Patrol. This referred to groups set up by Central Area civil rights leaders to observe the functioning of the Seattle Police Department in the Central Area. MIKE RUBICZ stated CAYAC was only a small part of the entire Central Area and that it needed the help of the adult community to progress. His statements were in the midst of many others to the effect that CAYAC is the best vehicle for creating a Central Area youth movement. Source advised there has been dissatisfaction with RUBICZ as the leader of CAYAC and a large reduction in members recently.

The CDYC is characterized in an appendix page attached hereto.

MIKE RUBICZ has stated that CAYAC is a Club involving Central Area youth in that its goal was to represent all the Central Area youth and to belong to all Central Area youth. RUBICZ stated there were about 25 members with a ratio of 3 to 1, Negro over white. RUBICZ described CAYAC as a multi-issue organization which grew out of interest in the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP) and has been somewhat involved in the demonstrating around the Vietnam issue.

SE T-3 (5/3/65)

Source advised CAYAC had lost approximately 15 members recently and that there were approximately 15 persons left in the group.

SE T-3 (8/65)

A meeting of the CP was held at Port Angeles, Washington on July 31, 1965. VIRGINIA HAMERQUIST, a member of the Clallam County CP read a portion of a pamphlet written by GUS HALL, National Secretary, CP, USA. The pamphlet dealt with the McCarran Act and how the civil rights movement fits into the repeal of the act - that the time is getting close now for the formulation of a third party with those people in the civil rights movement, the various peace groups, and the Negroes as the nucleus to build around.

SE T-4 (8/17/65)

A meeting of the staff for the annual Young Political Explorers League (YPEL) summer camp was held in Tacoma, Washington, on August 15, 1965. MILFORD SUTHERLAND read his recommendations regarding educationals to be given at the camp. The main topic should be the war in Vietnam and the draft and next in line civil rights, then trade unions. MARJORIE RADER, member of the Tacoma CP, was designated to handle the civil rights educational at the camp.

SE T-1 (8/17/65)

The YPEL is characterized in the appendix attached hereto.

A meeting of the Sno-King CP was held August 18, 1965 in Seattle. HEINIE HUFF, member of the CP Club, spoke of the positive side of the Negro freedom struggle, referring to the voting right bill signed into law. HUFF said the Negroes chief struggle in this country is based on economics - decent homes, education; that struggle of the Negro and all the working class is the struggle against poverty; that poverty is the soft belly of capitalism, therefore, capitalism will never be able to solve the problem of poverty and that poverty will only be done away with when capitalism is replaced by socialism.

When asked how the Club or individuals could play a meaningful role in the civil rights struggle in this period, HUFF proposed that the Club wait for a true analysis of the rioting in Los Angeles and other areas, by way of the "People's World" (PW) or other CP publications before deciding how best the Club can make its contributions to the civil rights struggle in this period.

SE T-5 (8/26/65)

The PW is a west coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

The annual summer camp of the YPEL was held from August 21 through August 29, 1965 near Shelton, Washington. An educational was given by MARJORIE RADER and CHARLES WHEELER on the subject of civil rights and the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP). CHARLES WHEELER was described as an adult counsellor for the camp who had come from Gulfport, Mississippi.

JOHN FAWCETT and his wife, along with LONNIE HEALY came from Seattle to show slides taken by JOHN FAWCETT on his trip to Mississippi earlier in the year. FAWCETT had gone to work with the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) in Mississippi.

During the week it was necessary for MIKE RUBICZ, adult counsellor, and CHARLES NICHOLS to go into Seattle to see the Mayor in regard to action to be taken about the police officers who had shot ROBERT REESE.

SE T-1 (9/7/65)

The "Seattle Times" of February 14, 1965 carried an article on page 16 relating that JOHN FAWCETT was leaving his job and family at 11819 19th Avenue Southwest, to participate in civil rights causes in Mississippi. attend a conference with the Mayor of Seattle. The group was protesting police violence. They specifically sought a murder charge against the policeman who shot the father of a member of the camp group, ROBERT REESE. It was stated that the protesting group was disgruntled with the established civil rights groups in Seattle for they had sought the assistance of Reverend JOHN ADAMS and been denied any aid.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. Events surrounding the ROBERT L. REESE Shooting

1. Background

A meeting of the East Madison-Longshore CP Club was held on July 28, 1965, in Seattle. It was announced that this would be a special enlarged club meeting with additional guests from the District leadership. Present were BURT NELSON and WILL PARRY, both members of this club, with MILFORD SUTHERLAND and ELMER KISTLER among those from the District leadership.

The purpose of this meeting was to examine, discuss and evaluate the role to be played by the Party in racial activities in the Seattle area, and particularly in regard to the use of "Freedom Patrols."

NELSON was the first speaker and stated that in examining the state of affairs in the Negro community there was doubt that the situation constituted a revolution as some Negro people were saying. He stated that his observations would indicate that there was a rebellion against the police arm of the power structure of this state. He advocated that the Party be in a position to play a key role; however, he doubted the correctness of Party members participating in any type of patrol.

WILL PARRY agreed with the position of NELSON. He stated that if any Party members had signed with the registrars as volunteers they would be told to hold action in abeyance until the Section and King County Board could meet and reach a decision.

SUTHERLAND stated that although the Party has an important role to play on this issue and this movement of the Negro community, he felt that it is a matter of tactics and how best to bring these tactics to bear. He cautioned that care must be exercised not to leave the impression that the Party is moving in and taking over control. He suggested that action should be taken to broaden the struggle and include labor and other forces. He also cautioned that care must be taken in working with the forces of the "left".

SE T-12 (7/30/65)

The "Seattle Post Intelligencer" carried an article relating that four Seattle Negroes, OSBORNE MOORE, JAMES A. WILLIAMS, LEROY ALLEN HEAD and WELDON C. BOYLAND, were found guilty of third degree assault for beating up two Seattle off duty police officers at 2 a.m. June 20. The article stated

Washr

LUNELL was found innocent in Seattle Justice Court on a charge of provoking an assault which had resulted in the shooting death of Seattle Negro ROBERT L. REESE, June 20, 1965. The article stated the jury's findings went against the findings of the Coroner's jury that provocative remarks had been made, specifically the word "nigger" used within hearing of the group of Negroes eating at the Linyen Cafe.

ADAMS, Chairman of the Seattle Area Committee on Civil Rights, would ask the United States Civil Rights Commission to send federal investigators to Seattle in connection with the ROBERT REESE shooting. Mr. ADAMS said the Negro community has lost all faith that it can find justice in the police prosecutor's office.

SE T-13 (9/20/65)

Source advised that during July, 1965 PAUL EMERSON, Editor of the Northwest Edition, PW, stated he had been informed he would receive printed information distributed at a Freedom Patrols meeting. EMERSON stated he was interested in the class struggle angle of the Freedom Patrols, not printed matter.

SE T-13 (8/2/65)

PAUL EMERSON is identified by source as a member of the Downtown CP Club, Seattle, and the State Board, NWDCP.

SE T-3 (8/65)

Donald Glick

On June 8, 1965 DONALD ALAN GLICK was observed by Special Agents of the FBI to be residing at [redacted] Seattle, Washington, which is the residence of CECELIA CORR.

Following the initial CAYAC sit-in of August 19, 1965 a leading member of the Seattle CP described the sit-in and developments which had taken place beforehand as follows:

It was stated that CAYAC members are rather close to the defendants in the assault case which grew out of the altercation between four Negroes and two off-duty Seattle Policemen on June 20, 1965. Mrs. WILLIAMS, the mother of one of the defendants, was stated to have been acting as an advisor to them (CAYAC) since the incident.

The "Seattle Times" of August 19, 1965, carried an article relating that on the previous day, four defendants charged with third degree assault in the June 20 beating of two Seattle off-duty policemen had been found guilty by a jury in Seattle Justice Court. Named as one of the defendants was JAMES WILLIAMS, [redacted] b6 b7C

Continuing, source advised it was stated that after leaving the trial of the defendants in the assault case CAYAC members went to the CAYAC headquarters (1913 East Yesler, Seattle) and after some discussion they decided to have a sit-in at the mayor's office the following day. MIKE RUBICZ and BILL CORR were stated to have been the only white persons present at this discussion.

MIKE RUBICZ called VIVIAN GEORGE, member of the North Central Section of the CP, Seattle, the same evening (August 18, 1965) telling her of the CAYAC discussion and asking if it would be in keeping with the policy of the CP. GEORGE gave RUBICZ her assent and arranged for a meeting of RUBICZ with BURT NELSON, Chairman of the Northwest District CP (NWDCP), the following morning (August 19, 1965). NELSON told RUBICZ that this sort of activity should not be done on the spur of the moment. He said that it may be necessary for the CP to deny any responsibility in connection with the sit-in in case it did not work.

According to source, discussion among Seattle CP members indicated that those concerned with activities in the Central Area had serious doubts as to the wisdom of the sit-in. It was felt that the sit-in could cause CAYAC to be isolated from the rest of the community. The opinion was expressed also that several of the demands prepared by CAYAC had no place in a presentation to the mayor.

Members of the CP close to the Central Area recommended that no white, left, non-Central Area people be allowed to take part in the sit-in the following day, according to the source. The source advised that MIKE RUBICZ was reported to have met with MILFORD SUTHERLAND, Organizational Secretary, NWDCP, the evening of August 19, 1965.

SE T-3 (8/23/65)

Source advised that MARY SUTHERLAND "was beside herself" because of the above sit-in demonstration which SUTHERLAND described as unauthorized. SUTHERLAND was concerned because a number of individuals involved in the sit-in were also scheduled to act as counsellors at the summer camp of the YPEL which would commence during the weekend of August 21 - 22, 1965.

SE T-16 (8/20/65)

The "Seattle Times" of August 20, 1965, carried an article on page 17 relating that nine demonstrators from the CAYAC group sat outside Mayor BRAMAN's office on that date.

The "Seattle Post Intelligencer" on August 26, 1965, carried an article on page six relating that members of the CAYAC group met with Mayor J. D. BRAMAN on August 25, 1965. MIKE RUBICZ was shown as spokesman for the group which included in addition to RUBICZ about nine Negroes, mostly in their teens. The article contained the following, in part:

> "'There are ways for people to find out things. I can't break 570,000 people into groups of eight...! the Mayor said. 'This would be ideal' he added, 'but let's be realistic.'
> "RUBICZ maintained that the Central Area Youth Action Council deserved another hearing because its feelings were shared by many.
> "'I want a little more assurance that I am talking to responsible representatives of the community,' the Mayor said.
> "The Mayor told the group their sit-in had not aided race relations."

BURT NELSON, Chairman of the NWDCP, stated that he had received a report about the sit-in demonstration at the Mayor's office in Seattle on the night of August 19, 1965. NELSON stated that the youth involved (not further identified) had contacted the Negro ministers and other Negro leaders in Seattle and these did not want anything to do with the demonstration at the Mayor's office on August 19, 1965.

SE T-17 (8/20/65)

B. LEON BRIDGES Campaign

A meeting of the North Central Section, NWDCP, was held August 19, 1965 at Seattle. WILL PARRY, Section Chairman, said it was important to unite the Section around one program. He said that a good program for the time being would be the LEON BRIDGES campaign for School Board. He said the primary would be held September 1, 1965. He said that the issue around the BRIDGES campaign would be education, better community, and rapid movement toward integration. He remarked that the Section must have a more healthy relationship to the campaign. He indicated that in the past, campaign work by the Section had been inadequate.

SE T-3 (8/23/65)

A meeting of the Sno-King Club was held on September 1, 1965 in Seattle, at which time it was reported that Clubs are urged to unite around the special political struggle around the LEON BRIDGES campaign for School Board in the period before the September 21 primary election. It was stated that this was in line with the discussion at the last meeting on a prospective role the Club could play in the civil rights struggle. LEON BRIDGES was described as a Negro whose background and profession qualified him in the field of education.

SE T-5 (9/23/65)

At a meeting of the North Central CP Section Committee held September 9, 1965 VIVIAN GEORGE described BRIDGES campaign as highly organized. GEORGE urged all out support for LEON BRIDGES in the primary and listed phone numbers to call for help with mailing or door-to-door work.

SE T-5 (9/23/65)

C. Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP) Events

Source furnished a memorandum from the King County PW Committee to all readers groups urging them to attend a meeting at which Mrs. FANNY LOU HAMER, described as one of three who are challenging the Mississippi delegation to Congress, would speak on August 15 at the Madrona Presbyterian Church.

SE T-10 (8/17/65)

Source furnished an invitation to a fund raising dinner in honor of Mrs. FANNIE LOU HAMER of the MFDP to be held August 14, 1965 in Olympia, Washington.

SE T-11 (9/2/65)

"The Facts", a Negro newspaper published weekly in Seattle, Washington, in its September 16 - 23, 1965 issue, contained an article as follows:

"The move to unseat the five Congressmen from Mississippi by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party will be supported in Seattle by a vigil to be held Monday, September 20 in front of the Federal Office Building, 909 First Avenue, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. This vigil will be in sympathy with the one being held in Washington, D.C. by MFDP members from Mississippi during the week of September 16 - 23.

"The challenge to the Mississippi congressional delegation, now being heard in closed session of the subcommittee on elections of the House committee on administration, is based on the illegality of the election of the Congressmen. More than 15,000 pages of sworn testimony support the allegation that many citizens of Mississippi are denied their right of franchise through force, intimidation, and economic reprisals.

"On September 21, WILLIAM FITTS RYAN, Congressman from New York, is due to introduce a resolution to force the challenge out of committee and to the House floor for a vote. If the challenge is successful, Congress will call for new, free elections in Mississippi.

"The Seattle Ad Hoc Committee for the MFDP, sponsors of the local vigil, are calling for those who sympathize with their cause to wire their Congressmen urging support of the challenge and to join in the vigil."

Source advised that pickets numbering from approximately four to ten at various times paraded in front of the Federal Building on September 20, 1965. CECELIA CORR was observed in the group. ANN CARLSON seemed to be one of the persons in charge of the demonstration.

ANN CARLSON attended CP meetings during 1957 and 1958 and resigned for temporary personal reasons.

SE T-18 (10/13/58)

D. General

At a meeting of the CP held in Tacoma, Washington on August 17, 1965, GUY RADER, a member of the CP Club, reported he had written to Congressman (FLOYD) HICKS (Washington State) stating HICKS should help to unseat the Mississippi delegation who had had gotten into office by fraud. RADER read a letter from Congressman HICKS saying the reports on the Mississippi delegates were in Committee and that when the reports were out of Committee he would give them careful consideration.

SE T-19 (8/23/65)

During August, 1965 BURT NELSON, Chairman of the NWDCP, made reference to the ROBERT REESE case and stated that if a white policeman puts his hands on any Negroes a riot could start in Seattle as it did in Los Angeles.

SE T-17 (8/18/65)

A meeting of the Des Moines CP Club was held August 23, 1965 at 13722 45th South, Seattle. GEORGE RUSSELL, Chairman of the CP Club referred to the "garbled" story that came from the capitalist press regarding the trouble in Los Angeles and suggested that for a true accounting of what took place, the members should refer to the August 21 edition of the PW.

SE T-20 (8/24/65)

On August 23, 1965 GEORGE RUSSELL discussed the Sections feelings on Negro demonstrations at a meeting of the Des Moines CP Club. He said that many things are causing these demonstrations and that it is difficult to pinpoint a definite reason. RUSSELL referred to poor housing, no work, and general mistreatment. He went on to say that there will be demonstrations thoughtout the United States and that the Negroes plan to demonstrate in Washington, D.C. approximately October 15 and burn their draft cards in protest. RUSSELL said there is a general feeling that as they are considered second class citizens then they should not be expected to fight.

SE T-21 (9/7/65)

On August 23, 1965 MILFORD SUTHERLAND, Organizational Secretary, NWDCP, discussed the situation in Los Angeles, California. SUTHERLAND stated he thought it gave the movement a lot of publicity and that was what the Negroes and the Party wanted. He said that he didn't necessarily approve of killing, looting, and arson connected with the riots but added "sometimes these are the only methods that will wake the people up to the fact that something should be done for the people as a whole."

SE T-11 (9/2/65)

At a meeting of the Washington Cultural Cooperative (WCC) held September 20, 1965 it was stated that letters had been sent to CORE, the Urban League and the NAACP with a list of Negro publications carried at the WCC bookstore. It was stated that no response had been received to date. The letters had also been sent to 16 junior colleges and 17 junior high schools in the state, to the librarians interested in Negro history.

SE T-13 (9/22/65)

The WCC is characterized in the appendix Section.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), Seattle Chapter

A meeting of the State Board, NWDCP, with CP youth was held July 31, 1965 in Seattle. CAL HARRIS related the topics on the agenda to his work in CORE. He mentioned the efforts of CORE to increase Negro employment in the restaurant industry. VIVIAN GEORGE discussed her work with the Freedom Patrols. She discussed the fact that Reverend JOHN ADAMS had become easier to work with recently and indicated she was very pleased with the progress of Freedom Patrols.

SE T-3 (8/11/65)

The August, 1965 issue of the Seattle "Corelator" publication of the Seattle Chapter, CORE, related the following: "The restaurant industry is our next order of business at this Thursday meeting. CAL HARRIS and his Committee have been in study and negotiations with that group for two meetings . . . Los Angeles riots have caused everyone to ask, 'Can it happen in Seattle?' Well, apparently the police and city authorities think it can; they have had a riot plan at readiness for at least a few years. As a organization committed to the non-violent way of solving problems, CORE is desperately worried that it will happen here . . . To avoid the catastrophe of Los Angeles, Seattle must make concrete steps in true integration on all fronts, housing, education and employment."

B. National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP)

A meeting of the CP Club was held in Tacoma on June 30, 1965. A report on civil rights disclosed the NAACP have done nothing since the Club had last met. It was stated that the NAACP Branch meetings for June and July had been cancelled.

SE T-1 (7/15/65)

Source advised that officers and members of the Tacoma Chapter of the NAACP picketed the offices of the Tacoma School Board at the Center School, Tacoma, Washington, from 2 to 5 p.m. on September 7, 1965, in protest of alleged failure of School Board members to take action concerning "de facto" segregation in Tacoma Schools. Approximately 15 persons participated as unsolicited volunteers in the picket line.

NAOMI ELLISON and MARJORIE RADER were identified as active members of the Pierce County CP, Tacoma, Washington, as of September 7, 1965.

SE T-1 (9/7/65)

C. Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC)

Source advised that THOMAS LYNCH, attorney, is the main force in Spokane's SNCC, according to DAVE KING. KING said LYNCH is unreliable and hard to work with, but is responsible for getting the group started and will be necessary in keeping it going. KING made reference to an organizational meeting to be held at the home of MADELYN LYNCH, [redacted] Spokane, Washington.

SE T-22 (6/21/65)

Source advised that although THOMAS FRANCIS LYNCH is not a CP member, he is friendly with many of the CP members in Spokane, Washington and has sympathies toward their cause.

SE T-23 (4/9/59)

On April 27, 1965 DAVE KING said that the Organizational meeting of the SNCC was a success. About 40 people attended at the home of MADELYN LYNCH. KING said there was a teacher at Eastern Washington State College, Cheney, Washington, who would like to start a professional SNCC club.

SE T-22 (6/21/65)

D. Central Area Youth Action Council (CAYAC)

A CAYAC Youth Rally in connection with the slaying of ROBERT L. REESE was held at CAYAC headquarters, 1913 Yesler Way, Seattle, on July 24, 1965. OSBORNE MOORE, one of the defendants in the assault trial arising out of the ROBERT L. REESE shooting, was the speaker. MOORE spoke of a race riot that would occur in Seattle if the decision went against him and the other defendants. A Negro in the audience of approximately 20 persons questioned him as to why should there be a riot? MOORE stammered and said because the Negroes in the Central Area would not like the decision.

Among those noted in attendance were PATTI RABBITT, BILL CORR, LINDA GIVENS, PETER CORR, TOM WARNER, LEON GIVENS and MIKE RUBICZ, the Chairman.

SE T-13 (7/26/65)

PATTI RABBITT was described by source as a member of the CP in Seattle, Washington.

SE T-3 (3/10/65)

A meeting of the State Board, NWDCP, with CP youth was held in Seattle July 31, 1965. Distributed at this meeting were guidelines for discussion submitted referring to "lessons of the City Hall sit-ins of '63". Source advised discussion at the meeting regarding CAYAC disclosed the CP continues to consider CAYAC as a vehicle for accomplishing their objectives among Negro youth in the Central Area and that they have distinguished from CDYC in that: (1) CAYAC is multi-issue rather than concentrating on one issue - a weekness of CDYC; (2) efforts are being made to avoid personality clashes in the leadership such as occurred in the case of the CDYC.

SE T-3 (8/11/65)

The CDYC is characterized in the appendix section attached hereto.

A meeting of the KCYC of CP was held September 8, 1965 in Seattle, Washington. PATTI RABBITT was asked several questions regarding Central Area Youth Action Council (CAYAC). She said that at the present the membership is synonymous with the leadership. She said that there are approximately twenty persons who could be considered members of CAYAC with whom the actual members have contact on a regular basis. She said that CAYAC had changed during the summer from a primarily high school aged group to an older age grouping. PATTI said that interest and peripheral membership in CAYAC has increased considerably due to the REESE incident. She indicated that those participating in the sit-ins in the Mayor's Office on the second day were not previous members of CAYAC. She said that they are not now members of CAYAC, but that they can be considered as part of this "loose membership" to which she previously referred. When asked if CAYAC had a fairly good relationship to the Negro community, PATTI said that she felt the relationship was very good. She remarked that in the recent past Reverend ADAMS and Reverend MC KINNEY, of the Central Area leadership, called the CAYAC clubhouse and asked members of CAYAC to attend a meeting to help boost the Freedom Patrol Committee. She said that the Freedom Patrol Committee had not been active recently and that the Reverends ADAMS and MC KINNEY felt that CAYAC coulc help increase participation and activity. PATTI indicated that she was extremely pleased with this close relationship with the leadership of the Central Area.

SE T-3 (9/17/65)

APPENDIX

CENTRAL DISTRICT YOUTH CLUB

On June 19, 1963, a source advised that EDDIE GIVENS, MARGARET GIVENS, and RAY COOPER, members of the King County Communist Party Youth Club (KCYC of CP) had helped to organize an Ad Hoc Committee which, at its last meeting, had decided to call itself the Central District Youth Club (CDYC).

On August 9, 1963, this source advised the purpose of the CDYC is "to develop the political awareness of the people involved in order to broaden the mass movement towards Socialism."

On April 22, 1964, a second source stated membership in CDYC had dwindled to twenty-five members, most of whom were inactive.

On May 25, 1964, the first source advised the CP in Seattle continued to discuss the CDYC at its meetings in connection with attempts by the CP to carry out its objectives in the Negro community and the civil rights field. EDDIE GIVENS and RAY COOPER who had functioned as officers of the CDYC were being replaced as leaders but would continue in an advisory capacity.

The above source stated that factors which contributed to the decrease in activity of CDYC included the refusal of Neighborhood House, Inc. to continue use of its facilities for CDYC meetings, and announcement by the Seattle representative of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) that it no longer had any affiliation with CDYC, both of these events taking place during December, 1963.

CDYC was reported by the first source on January 4, 1965, to have died out following departure of RAY COOPER and EDDIE GIVENS from the Seattle area during the latter part of 1964.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

No information developed.

B. OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS - SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

The Socialist Workers Party (SWP) has been designated by the Attorney General pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A characterization of the Denver Branch SWP appears as an appendix hereto.

Plans, etc., made at district and lower-level meetings, including expressions by local leaders.

The Denver Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) held their weekly branch meeting on July 25, 1965, at 1106 Josephine Street, Denver, Colorado.

At this meeting there was considerable discussion of the first Pre-convention Discussion Bulletin which was issued by the National Office of the SWP. This bulletin pertained to the "Negro Resolution."

Colo

NORMAN HODGETT, a member of the Denver Branch, in discussing the Negro Struggle Resolution stated that the discussion bulletin dealt with the Party line toward the Negro Movement. He stated the Bulletin did not offer much in the way of anything new - actually all it is is a review of some of the happenings since the last SWP Convention held in 1963. He stated that the same Party line still holds "that we support the Negro in in all their struggles and that we even support 'separatism' if that is what they want.'" HODGETT stated that the SWP is not necessarily for "separatism."

DN T-1 8/4/65

The Denver Branch of the SWP held a meeting August 28, 1965 at 1465 South Josephine Street, Denver. At this meeting there was the business of voting on the SWP Convention Resolutions and election of delegates to attend the SWP convention.

In connection with the resolution pertaining to the "Negro Struggle," most of the members felt that this resolution was incomplete and while the members went along with the main line of the resolution, they felt that it did not go far enough in stating what the SWP's role in the coming two years will be in connection with the Negro Movement.

DN T-1 9/2/65

The Denver Branch of the SWP held a meeting on September 9, 1965 at 1111 South Gaylord Street, Denver. COLO

Branch Organizer Socialist Workers Party

ALLEN TAPLIN who attended the National Convention of the SWP held in New York in September, 1965, gave a report on what transpired at the convention. He stated that the main line of the Party in the Negro Movement is still much the same--where the Party joins the Negroes in their struggle without taking over, because it is still felt that the Negro does not completely trust the white man, especially in Denver. He said the only thing to do at this time is to join their various actions and make friends.

DN 100-8997

The Denver Branch of the SWP held a meeting on September 26, 1965 at 1111 South Gaylord Street, Denver. At this time two members of the branch discussed the work of the SWP in the Spanish - American community. It was proposed that the members draft a leaflet in the Spanish language each week to sell with "The Militant." It was suggested that probably something from "Solidaridad" ("Solidarity"), the Mexican radical magazine. This leaflet idea is in a planning stage.

DN T-1 9/29/65

"The Militant" is a weekly newspaper of the SWP.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. DEMONSTRATION OPPOSING ORGANIZATION OF DENVER CITIZENS COUNCIL, AUGUST 5, 1965

The Denver Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) held a meeting on August 1, 1965 at 1465 Josephine Street, Denver, Colorado.

There was discussion regarding painting of posters to be used at a protest march on August 5, 1965 at the Grange Hall, West 26th and Zuni Street, at which place the Denver Citizens Council was planning the organization meeting. There was further discussion that members should participate in picket lines on August 5, 1965.

DN T-1 8/4/65

Approximately 100 individuals participated in the picketing of the organization of the Denver Citizens Council which was held on August 5, 1965 at 2475 West 26th Avenue, Denver. One of the leaders of the picketing group was ALLEN TAPLIN, the branch organizer of the SWP.

DN T-1 8/6/65

Re: Denver Citizens Council

During the months of July and early August, 1965, Denver newspapers reported on the plans of a group of individuals who were planning to organize the Denver Citizens Council. Literature was mailed by one LYMAN E. STEELE, Temporary Chairman of the Denver Citizens Council. A portion of this literature is set forth below for the purpose of indicating the aims and purposes of the Denver Citizens Council:

Colo

"A group of civic leaders in our area is concerned about the destruction of individual freedom by the increasing erosion of States' Rights and the adoption of civil rights laws. These forced integration measures will bring government coercion into every local community and will destroy property rights and freedom of choice....."

B. FANNIE LOU HAMER'S VISIT AUGUST 18, 1965

The Denver Friends of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) sponsored a meeting for FANNIE LOU HAMER at Scott Methodist Church, 2201 Ogden Street, Denver, on August 18, 1965. HAMER is a member of the Freedom Now Party in the South and is one of the Party's representatives.

Present at this meeting were about 50 people, including five members of the Communist Party (CP) and eight members of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP.

Mrs. HAMER spoke of her experiences during her childhood in the South and the hardships which prompted her to become active in the Civil Rights Movement. She appeared to be somewhat cynical about the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) in the South and also MARTIN LUTHER KING. She called the NAACP the National Association for the Advancement of Certain People and criticized MARTIN LUTHER KING for taking all the people to Selma. She said that people should struggle in theirown areas. She also criticized the churches for not being active enough in this struggle in theirown areas. She also criticized the churches for not being active enough in this struggle. However, she praised the Methodist churches for open support on the Civil Rights issue. Approximatedly $100 was raised to aid the Freedom

Now Party in their efforts to legalize their party.

Reverend JOHN JACKSON, JR., who is the minister assigned to the Scott Methodist Church, spoke out against those individuals passing out leaflets and selling newspapers and told the audience to ignore these individuals. Members of the CP and the SWP were the individuals who were passing out leaflets and selling newspapers. Denver Colo

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

No information was developed.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

The Aaron Johnson Club of the Southern California District of the Communist Party (CP) held a meeting in Los Angeles, California, on September 1, 1965. ARVILLA JACKSON is a member of this club and gave a report on a recent visit by her to Salt Lake City, Utah. She said she met with CP leaders in Utah, and they told her that the CP works very closely with the National Association For The Advancement Of Colored People (NAACP) and most Party members belong to it. She said the NAACP was going to picket the Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Salt Lake City in the early part of October, 1965, and would picket all church buildings, according to her information from Utah CP leaders. She said the CP has accomplished quite a lot by working through the NAACP.

(There were no demonstrations in Salt Lake City during the above-mentioned Conference.)

WAYNE HOLLEY during the early part of September, 1965, stated he expects there will be picketing at the October Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon). He said that since he favors the Negro point of view with respect to its attitude toward this church, he feels that even though he is a Mormon, he should participate in the picketing if it takes place. HOLLEY indicated he had been asked to join the NAACP, Salt Lake City, but did not specifically state that this was the case.

(SU T-3, 9/9/65)

WAYNE KOLLEY in July, 1963, was the Chairman of the CP of Utah.

(SU T-4)

There are now about 330 paid-up members of the Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP. The NAACP, Salt Lake City, continues to give consideration to sponsoring demonstrations from time to time for the purpose of advancing the civil rights of Negroes. Specific consideration was given to sponsoring a demonstration during the recent Conference of the Mormon Church in Salt Lake City, which was held early in October, 1965, but it was decided no demonstration would be sponsored. There have been no demonstrations sponsored by the Salt Lake City NAACP during the past three months, and there are no present plans for any demonstrations.

The President of the NAACP in Salt Lake City is JOHNIE M. DRIVER, who is employed as an engineer by Sperry Utah Corporation, Salt Lake City. He was elected December 7, 1964.

The CP and its activities are recognized as a danger to the NAACP and the civil rights movement. The NAACP nationally has warned its branches to attempt to avoid cooperation with the CP. DRIVER attempts to discourage activities on the part of communists and communist sympathizers in the Salt Lake City area but does not consider that he has sufficient knowledge pertaining to their activities at the present time to be entirely successful in this. He has some ideas with respect to the identity of some CP members, but these ideas are based only on conversations he has had with other members of the NAACP in Salt Lake City. He has had no personal experience with any of these people of an unsatisfactory nature up to the present time. He will continue to seek the guidance of members of the organization who have been in Salt Lake City for a long period of time in any instance in which communist influence is suspected. He has been in Salt Lake City for less than four years.

National Association For the Advancement of Colored People

Membership records of the Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP in the possession of DRIVER reflect that WAYNE HOLLEY is not a member of the Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP. Among the current members are the following:

C.P. Member ROBERT ARCHULETA, [redacted] Salt Lake City, Utah; membership expires May 31, 1966.

C.P. Member JOSEPH R. DI SANTI, [redacted] Granger, Utah; membership expires January 24, 1966.

C.P. Member ETHEL HALE, [redacted] Salt Lake City, Utah membership expires April 30, 1966.

C.P. Member UDA HANSON, [redacted] Spanish Fork, Utah; membership expires June 30, 1966.

(JOHNIE M DRIVER, [redacted] Kearns, Utah, 10/19/65)

ROBERT ARCHULETA was the Secretary-Treasurer of the CP of Utah in July, 1963.

JOSEPH R. DI SANTI was a member of the Utah State Board of the CP of Utah in July, 1963.

(SU T-4)

The Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP continues to be interested in sponsoring demonstrations and other activities which will further the rights of Negroes. The officers and members of the NAACP, Salt Lake City, are generally aware of the dangers of the CP and hope that communists do not participate in the NAACP demonstrations. Efforts are made to discourage such participation, since it is considered that the CP is basically a danger to the civil rights movement. The NAACP, Salt Lake City, has sponsored no demonstrations during the past three months and none are planned for the immediate future. It is estimated there are about 325 paid-up members of the Salt Lake City Branch. The President of the branch is JOHNIE M. DRIVER.

ROBERT ARCHULETA, JOSEPH R. DI SANTI, ETHEL HALE and UDA HANSON are members of the Salt Lake City NAACP but have no influence on the policies of the organization and are not officers of the NAACP.

For several weeks prior to the Mormon Conference held in the early part of October, 1965, in Salt Lake City, there were numerous rumors to the effect the NAACP was going to hold a demonstration and that violence might result. Actually, it had been previously decided that no demonstration would be held, and shortly prior to the Conference the subject of a demonstration was again reconsidered and turned down.

The NAACP at various national conventions has passed resolutions opposing communism. If a person is a known communist, he is not supposed to be granted membership in the NAACP. As a matter of practice, however, it is almost impossible to challenge a person on this basis, since NAACP officers do not have proof of such membership. It becomes necessary to use other methods to discourage persons suspected of being communists from active participation in the NAACP.

NAACP officers in Salt Lake City assume that the Public Affairs Forum of Utah County (PAFUC) and the Utah Council For Constitutional Liberties (UCCL) are communist front organizations. In view of this, attempts are made to be circumspect in connection with any contacts or activities with these groups.

(SU T-5, 10/20/65)

Characterizations of the PAFUC and UCCL are included in the appendix hereto.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS FORUM OF UTAH COUNTY, also known as, Peoples League For Peace of Utah County

FREDRICK LEE HEUSER, admitted member of the Communist Party (CP), reported that the Public Affairs Forum Of Utah County (PAFUC) was organized about 1951 for the purpose of promoting CP peace programs in the vicinity of Provo, Utah.

A source in July, 1963, reported that the Chairman of the PAFUC and some members, are members of the CP of Utah.

A second source reported in May, 1965, that the PAFUC continues to promote programs of the CP.

IV. MISCELLANEOUS

The "Sunday Herald", a weekly newspaper published at Bridgeport, Connecticut, in its issue of September 26, 1965, on Page 4 contained an article which revealed that CARL BRADEN, Field Director of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, was to speak on "The House Un-American Activities Committee and Civil Rights" on Wednesday, September 29, 1965, at the University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Connecticut. According to the article, the meeting was to be sponsored by the Student League For Human Rights. According to the newspaper article, BRADEN is a member of the advisory board of the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee and was then conducting an anti-poverty program of the Southern Conference Educational Fund in "Appalachia".

LA

Characterizations of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., The Student League For Human Rights and the National Committee to Abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities, are set forth in the Appendix Section of this report.

On Sept er 30, 1965, NH T-1 advised that on September 29, 1965, CARL BRADEN appeared at the University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Connecticut, under the sponsorship of the Student League For Human Rights at the University of Bridgeport, where he delivered a talk concerning "The House Committee on Un-American Activities and Civil Rights" in the lecture hall at the new classroom building at the University of Bridgeport. According to the informant, approximately 50 persons attended this affair.

According to the informant, BRADEN was introduced as the "Information Director" for the Southern Conference Educational Fund. BRADEN told those present that during May, 1954, he helped a Negro family buy a house at Louisville, Kentucky, and was arrested on a charge of creating racial strife and sedition. He said that the prosecution introduced witnesses to prove that there was a "red plot" to establish a Negro republic in the south; that he was convicted, and that he was fined $5,000 and sentenced to 15 years at hard labor. He said he served eight months in prison before the Supreme Court held that the Kentucky Sedition laws were invalid.

BRADEN said he went to work for the Southern Conference Educational Fund in order to have white people join the civil rights movement and break down segregation. BRADEN said that his office at New Orleans, Louisiana, had been raided by the State of Louisiana Committee on Subversive Activities and he contended that the House Committee on Un-American Activities polices men's minds rather than their acts. He said that 25,000 to 30,000 people are victims of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA), which group he claimed violates the United States Constitution, and he argued that the greatest threat to the security of the United States is the suppression of ideas.

The above information was also made available by NH T-2 on September 30, 1965, who also furnished the following information:

Infor[illegible] advised that during BRADEN's appearance at the Univers[illegible]y of Bridgeport on September 29, 1965, the latter stated that HCUA citations are used by newspapers and various individuals in this country in order to deter people from becoming involved in the civil rights movement with people who are cited by the HCUA. Informant said that according to BRADEN, Senator EASTLAND, of the Senate Internal Security Committee, is using his office to interfere with people who are trying to help the negroes on Senator EASTLAND's plantation in Mississippi in the efforts of these Negroes to register as voters.

ENCLOSURE

On October 25, 1965, Chicago T-2 furnished substantially the same information as set forth above; however, added the following: (U)

"Those who attended the Williams Bay Conference reported that Dr. King, Reverend James Bevel, Reverend C. T. Vivian and Reverend Andrew Young, all from the SCLC, dominated the Conference by conducting a continuous dialogue telling the delegates how to overcome the various problems in the Chicago area. Dr. King served as the "expert" on the issue of Jobs; Reverend Bevel served as the "expert" on Housing; while Reverend Vivian served as the "expert" on Political Action." (C) (U)

The delegates were told that if they have been using the same approach or method to solve a certain problem for the past 10 years without any success, they then should utilize a new method of approach. They were further told that fear is the biggest obstacle on the part of the people participating in the civil rights struggle. They were also told that one problem which a city like Chicago would encounter is that of petty jealousies which exist among the various civil rights leaders. In this regard they were told that the leaders must realize that each has a role to play and once they recognize this, they can move forward (C) (U)

Chicago T-2 advised that according to the discussions, the SCLC did not make an overnight decision to come to Chicago but rather they discussed this move for a long time. They, however, finally came because of the CCCO which they felt had the necessary leadership to work out a real program that will change the situation in Chicago (C) (U)

Chicago T-2 further stated that from the remarks made, the overall outlook or analysis of the civil rights struggle in Chicago is that Dr. King and the SCLC have no concrete program for Chicago at this time and that the SCLC is still probing for the correct answers. No mention was made as to how many individuals Dr. King has in the Chicago area from the SCLC. (U)

Chicago T-2 stated that reportedly group meetings are continuing in Chicago which are searching for answers. In this connection the CCCO Labor Committee is attempting to set up an official meeting with Al Raby, the CCCO Convenor, and Reverend Bevel. (U)

According to Chicago T-2, one CCCO Labor Committee delegate who attended the Williams Bay Conference stated that there yet has been no approach worked out as to the problems of Chicago, particularly in regard to the school situation, jobs and poverty. This same delegate was concerned as to how the civil rights organizations in Chicago can form a united front to attack these problems since there are such diversified groups of people in the Chicago area. (U)

According to Chicago T-2 the general feeling appears to be that everybody who attended the Williams Bay Conference was greatly impressed as to how the conference was conducted but all agreed that actually no program came forth. (U)

Chicago T-2 advised that at the meeting on October 22, 1965, it was announced that on October 28, 1965, there will be held a "Labor Civil Rights Rally" at the Packinghouse Workers (U)

Center, 4859 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, with Reverend Bevel as the main speaker. It was pointed out that originally the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UPWA) locals in Chicago were sponsoring this rally but that the UPWA has requested the cooperation of other labor unions including the United Auto Workers of America, the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, Railroad Labor unions, etc. The rally is to consist of a question and answer period with the hopes of enlisting more people into the civil rights movement in the Chicago area. COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF SOUTHERN LEADERSHIP COUNCIL (SCLC)

6-14-84
Classified by 8972 DKH
Declassify on: OADR
GAT10W/SCLC

A confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised during the early part of October, 1965, that he had learned that within the past several days several high level meetings had been held involving Communist Party (CP) members in Chicago, actively interested in the civil rights movement locally. (C) (U)

It was learned through these CP meetings that Eugene Tournour had recently been present at meetings of the local leadership of the SCLC, and the Co-ordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO), a local Chicago civil rights organization which had been most prominent in the sponsoring of demonstrations and protests against Chicago's current school superintendent during the past summer. The meetings between representatives of these two organizations had been for the purpose of discussing problems of co-ordinating the joint efforts of these two organizations in working out a program of activities for the Chicago area for the immediate future. It was learned during the course of one of these high level CP meetings that Tournour had been chosen as liaison from the CCCO to SCLC (C) (U)

The source advised that it is known that Reverend James Bevel, presently head of a group of some ten SCLC staff workers in Chicago, was aware that Tournour was fired some time ago from the staff of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) in Chicago for alleged "left" leanings. Bevel has recently indicated, according to the source, that he wanted more information on this situation since Al Raby, the head of CCCO, was then considering Tournour for a staff position with the SCLC (C) (U)

The source also advised that he had learned that it was stated during the course of these high level party meetings that Tournour was a member of a committee of four which has been meeting in recent weeks to arrange the co-ordination of activities of the SCLC and the CCCO. Among the others on this committee were Raby and Bevel. At one of these CP meetings in question, one of those present supposedly suggested that all possible influence be exerted on Chicago's west side to see if some members of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs there could be integrated into the leadership of some of the projects on the west side being set up by the SCLC staff. (C) (U)

A characterization of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs, nationally and locally is being attached to this memorandum.

The source previously referred to advised during late October, 1965, that he had recently been in contact with a close associate of Eugene Tournour. This individual had advised the source as follows: (C) (U)

A high level committee of the CP in Chicago had met recently and Tournour had attended this meeting as an invited guest. Tournour had reported to the others present on SCLC organizing activities in Chicago, chiefly on Chicago's west side. Tournour had advised that Reverend Bevel has developed an amazing skill in organizing people and in developing mass educational approaches. He had reported that there have been several successful mass meetings and Bevel has established a fairly effective collective leadership (C) (U)

Tournour reportedly had stated at this meeting that, based on his experience in the civil rights movement, he has never felt that the CP was an effective force in this struggle and that the "organized left" has never played any significant role. As a matter of fact, some of the former party people within the civil rights movement have played a negative role. Tournour had further referred (C) (U)

to weaknesses within the CCCO, to the effect that its loose organizational structure prevents it from approaching the level of activities which the SCLC is capable of. (C) (U)

According to Tournour, other individuals present at this meeting had discussed the relationship of the SCLC on the west side with members of the DuBois Club active there. It had been stated that this DuBois Club was trying to participate with Bevel who has "opened the doors" to them and had even held a rally at a DuBois Club headquarters. The DuBois Club here was being careful in its activities connected with the peace movement so that the SCLC or Bevel would not be put on the spot. (C) (U)

Tournour had stated that during the course of this meeting he had been officially invited to formally join the CP, the attitude on the part of the others present being that those who feel the party is necessary to the struggle should join and help make it an effective force. Tournour was to consider this proposal and render his decision concerning actually joining the CP at a later date. (C) (U)

Regarding Tournour it should be noted that the source utilized above has previously advised, during September, 1965, that Tournour has been considered for sometime by the leadership of the Illinois CP as a Party member for all practical purposes and that representatives of the CP had worked closely with him, as they would with another Party member. (C) (U)

This source continued that Tournour was the CORE Midwest regional secretary in charge of the CORE Task Force in Chicago from the summer of 1964 until he was fired by the CORE National Office in January, 1965. He then arranged for a group of Midwest CORE representatives to finance his employment as a staff CORE member of the (U)

Midwest area. As such, Tournour had continued as head of the CORE Task Force in January until June, 1965, when the "Chicago Tribune", a Chicago daily newspaper, ran an article regarding his activities which resulted in a public statement by the CORE National Director that Tournour had been fired. W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS
OF CHICAGO (DCC)

On May 3, 1965, a source advised that on June 30, 1964, a group of young people who had attended the founding convention of the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) met in Chicago and adopted a statement of purpose and constitution forming the DCC as an affiliate of the national DCA.

As of May 3, 1965, there were two DCC Clubs in Chicago, one located on the north side, the other on the west side. Neither Club has a headquarters.

At a meeting of the Chicago Area of the Midwest Region of the DCA held April 3, 1965, at Chicago, TED PEARSON was elected Area Coordinator; ILENE WAGNER, Secretary; and KATHY PEARSON, Area Reporter, all of whom are current members of the Youth Club of the Communist Party of Illinois.

The Chicago Area does not have an official headquarters and is currently using TED and KATHY PEARSON's residence, [redacted] Chicago, Illinois, as a temporary headquarters. b6 b7C

"Dear Ralph,

"It was nice seeing you last month at the staff meeting. I missed you the second day and then I had to rush back.

"I am enclosing for William Stein the withholding certificate which you'll need to put him on the payroll.

"Martin told me after talking with you that it would be awkward to pay him $8,500.00 as salary and $1,500.00 for disbursements because no one else is on such a basis. A compromise was worked out for $9,000.00 as salary, which benefits SCLC.

"Stein has been paid as much as $22,000.00 a year so he should be worth the pay. In addition, he understands if it is not working out to SCLC's benefit financially he will be dropped promptly.

A confidential source advised in April, 1964, that STANLEY LEVISON was a secret member of the Communist Party (CP), USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. LEVISON was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position in civil rights. LEVISON's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. ~~(S)~~ (U)

At this meeting, a discussion was held concerning the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) and an out of state DCA organizer spoke. (U)

He said there were about 30 such functionaries throughout the country assigned to this work and that they each received $30.00 per week for expenses. He said the DCA are a group of Marxist inspired youth, not necessarily Communists, who are involving themselves in the everyday struggle around the peace question, the problems of employment and youth and the problem of equal civil rights for Negroes, especially younger Negroes. He stated that the DCA are composed of Communists, socialists and just plain liberals. (U)

He said that he and the others of the 30 functionaries traveling in the U.S. are paid by "the Party" for this work. At this meeting, it was agreed that each member of this group would contribute a sum of money monthly to sustain the Detroit DCA. (U)

He said the CP told CROCKETT he would be nominated in the primary election but that the CP did not expect him to win in the final election. This is symbolic in that it includes and emerges from youth, it started from the Negro himself, it has gained and continues to gain momentum, it grasps conditions of American pragmatism, it can either go forward or backward, and, it cannot be allowed to go backward.

It was stated that the masses must practice daily theory in their own lives as well as in revolutionary activities. Then, "we can participate in civil rights, in the Negro revolution, the free speech and the anti-war movements. We can concern ourselves with our own growth for our age. We are to elicit from the masses their wishes. Only the masses can do the revolution. As the Negro revolution emerges and reaches potential, we will reach world revolution. We are the creators of new world dimensions."

STANFORD stated that they have to have unity between the Negro community and the labor unions and that the labor unions and the Negro community must work together. STANFORD also pointed out that in this same connection they must do everything to see that Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Bill is repealed. He stated that this was the main goal that they must work for at this time.

Political Affairs is self-described as the theoretical journal of the Communist Party, USA.

STANFORD stated that there is no strong leadership being exerted on the East side of San Antonio and told that certain CP member to concentrate in recruiting for DCA on the East side of San Antonio.

STANFORD stated that they were not very effective since they did not reach the people. STANFORD stated that an effective program known as the Huntsville Action for Youth which had to do with integration was being conducted in Huntsville, Texas. He stated that this was a very important project. He stated that it was his understanding that the church at Huntsville would not let church property be used in connection with this program.

On 10/28/65, CHARLES MIRAS was interviewed by SAS JAMES G. FITZGERALD and JOHN C. SEATON in the vicinity of 119th Street and 3rd Ave., NYC. MIRAS stated that he resides at Rockleigh Road, Palisades, NY, and is employed as an Assistant Principal at Public School 96, 216 E. 120th St, NYC.

MIRAS stated that he was a member of the Bath Beach Club of the Communist Party in Brooklyn, NY, from approximately 1939 to 1946. He stated that when he joined the CP he sincerely felt that the Communist approach to matters concerning the country was the best, but he stated that after he got out of the Navy, he realized that he was in error and terminated his association with the Party. MIRAS advised that he was not active in the CP while he was in the service, but he did retain his CP membership during this period.

MIRAS was asked if he could recall names of individuals who were active in the Bath Beach Club of the CP; he paused for a few moments ostensibly contemplating the question and then said he could not recall any of the names. A number of names of people who had been in the Bath Beach Club were mentioned to him, and photographs were exhibited, but he replied that he did not know them. HARRY WACHTEL's photograph was shown him, and he immediately identified him by name. MIRAS said he did not know if WACHTEL was a member of the CP or if he had attended meetings of the CP. He recalled that WACHTEL was a member of the American Labor Party and the American League Against War and Fascism. He mentioned that he had attended a number of meetings at which WACHTEL was present, but he said he could not recall the nature of these meetings. According to MIRAS, WACHTEL has not been in contact with MIRAS in recent years.

The following is being submitted in lieu of the next quarterly report:

On October 11, 1965, [redacted] advised that when GEORGE MEYERS, District Organizer, Southern Region, CP, USA, visited the Miami area, September 28 - October 2, 1965, MEYERS said he wanted to see a Reverend GRAHAM of the NAACP and a civil liberties attorney named TOBIAS SIMON. MEYERS' purpose in wanting to contact these individuals was not made clear and apparently, he never had met them before.

MEYERS said that he looked up the address of the Reverend GRAHAM and found it was in Coconut Grove, Florida, and decided it was too far for him to travel from downtown Miami. He said he visited SIMON's office but SIMON was absent and he left some literature, not further described.

The Reverend GRAHAM whom MEYERS wanted to see is probably Reverend EDWARD T. GRAHAM, 5308 N.W. 8th Avenue, Miami. This address is not in Coconut Grove but west central Miami. Reverend GRAHAM was formerly chairman of the Miami NAACP. He has never been identified as a Communist Party member, although active in front groups, as set out in previous CIRM reports.

TOBIAS SIMON is believed identical with a Miami attorney with offices at 223 S.E. First Street, Miami. SIMON was a former subscriber to "The Worker" but has never been identified as a Communist or member of the Communist Party. During the past several years, he has been extremely active in representing civil rights defendants involved in picketing and sit-in cases. In 1955 and 1963, he was reported as being a member of the American Civil Liberties Union.

As the above information was obtained [redacted], it is not being submitted in a report in order not to jeopardize this valuable source. In addition, [redacted] advised that MEYERS was such a prevaricator on other matters during his recent Florida trip so as to make anything he said about "contacts" suspect as to veracity. Informant said MEYERS made numerous statements of this type in order to justify his stay in and future return to the Miami area. However, it is known he spent more time swimming and house hunting than he did on Party work. b7D

A review of the case files of racial matter type organizations and the Progressive Labor Party and contact with Special Agents handling these cases determined that there was no information in these files of the type for inclusion in the CIRM report.

Miami will continue to follow and report CIRM activities.

DETAILS:

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party, USA

On August 1, 1965, the annual picnic of the New England Communist Party (CP) was held at [redacted], Sharon, Massachusetts, at the home of LEWIS MARTIN JOHNSON. The guest of honor and speaker at this affair was GIL GREEN and others present included ANNE BURLAK TIMPSON, LEWIS GORDON, LEWIS JOHNSON, OTIS HOOD, EDWARD TEIXEIRA and ROBERT POLLOCK.

b7C

At the picnic, LEWIS JOHNSON introduced EDWARD TEIXEIRA, who in turn introduced GIL GREEN as the greatest defender of Negro rights. TEIXEIRA also mentioned in introducing GREEN that the latter had spent eight years in jail as a result of the Smith Act.

(U)

Speaking at the picnic, GREEN attacked the McCarran Act and said it was unconstitutional. GREEN said that Party members cannot sign according to the McCarran Act without giving up their rights as free citizens. GREEN appealed for financial help for a defense fund to fight to McCarran Act.

ANNE BURLAK TIMPSON in speaking at the picnic praised GREEN and also attacked the McCarran Act. She said that there are forty-four defendants as a result of the McCarran Act and it is expected they will go to trial sometime in the coming October. She stated that four of the forty-four defendants are from New England, including EDWARD TEIXEIRA, LEWIS JOHNSON, OTIS HOOD and herself.

At this picnic, there were seven Negroes present including one who was the President of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) in Rhode Island.

During the talk by GREEN, four of the Negroes walked out and later GREEN asked TEIXEIRA if he had said anything to offend the Negroes. TEIXEIRA said that the four Negroes left the picnic because they were guests of the local Negroes and left early to drive back to New York.

(BS T-1, August 30, 1965)

Members of the District Committee, Communist Party, USA, include OTIS HOOD, Chairman; LEWIS JOHNSON, Secretary; ANNE BURLAK TIMPSON, Treasurer; EDWARD TEIXEIRA, in charge of Negro affairs, as well as ROBERT POLLOCK and LEWIS GORDON.

(BS T-1, March 12, 1965)

EDWARD TEIXEIRA continues to be a member of the National Negro Commission, Communist Party, USA.

(BS T-2, April 8, 1965)

(C) (U) GIL GREEN is a member of the Secretariat, National Board and National Committee and is also a full-time paid functionary of the Communist Party, USA.

(BS T-3, November 16, 1964)

On September 12, 1965, a meeting of the District Committee, CP, USA, New England District, was held in Holbrook, Massachusetts, at the home of OTIS HOOD, although he was not present. Among those who were in attendance at the meeting were ARNOLD JOHNSON, ANNE BURLAK TIMPSON, LEWIS GORDON, ROBERT POLLOCK and EDWARD TEIXEIRA.

The agenda at this meeting included the following topics: "The Worker" drive, peace, Boston Schools.

LEWIS JOHNSON suggested that a local comrade be selected to write articles for "The Worker" about CP activities in New England. ARNOLD JOHNSON said that "The Worker" needs help and operated at a $38,000 deficit last year. ARNOLD JOHNSON further stated that an article by GUS HALL in the "Political Affairs" magazine is to be printed in pamphlet form and will be distributed to all districts. The cost of the pamphlet will be $5 a thousand.

It was announced at the meeting that 5,000 of these pamphlets were ordered by the District Committee, CP, USA, New England District. ANNE BURLAK TIMPSON suggested that most of the pamphlets be distributed in the Negro districts in the Boston area.

EDWARD TEIXEIRA in speaking at the District Committee meeting on the Boston School situation contended that Mrs. HICKS, Chairman of the Boston School Committee, has not been telling the truth about the school conditions in Boston where the Negro children are involved. He contended that in the Dorchester-Roxbury Negro areas of Boston, the schools are so overcrowded that most class rooms have sixty children and in many schools classes are being held in the hallways. TEIXEIRA further mentioned that eventually he will take a leadership role in the Negro school movement, but at present wants to be asked by the Negro leaders.

At this District Committee meeting, ANNE BURLAK TIMPSON and ROBERT POLLOCK also attacked Mrs. HICKS charging she distorted the facts involving the Boston schools. TIMPSON said that many civic groups are behind the Negro movement.

(BS T-1, September 16, 1965)

"The Worker," an east coast communist newspaper, in its issue of September 22, 1964, on page 7, column 1, referred to ARNOLD JOHNSON as the National Public Relations Director of the Communist Party, USA. MASS

GUS HALL is General Secretary of the Communist Party, USA.

(BS T-4, July 12, 1965)

A characterization of "Political Affairs" is contained in the appendix hereto.

Detective Sergeant [redacted], Massachusetts Division of Subversive Activities and a member of the Massachusetts b6 b7C

State Police assigned to the State House, Boston, Massachusetts, advised on October 8, 1965, that on September 23, 1965, CARL BRADEN had spoken on Radio Station WNAC, Boston, Massachusetts. BRADEN in this connection had appeared on the radio show "Comment," the moderator of which is FRED GALE. This is a show at which the guest gives a talk and then answers questions put to him by persons who call into the radio station.

Detective Sergeant [redacted] said he recalled that BRADEN in speaking on this occasion said he was in Boston to help the Negroes and also mentioned that a local office was to be opened which would oppose the House Un-American Activities Committee. b6 b7C

Mr. KENNETH COUGHLIN, [redacted] self-employed in the mortgage-finance business, on October 13, 1965, advised that he had listened to FRED GALE's radio show called "Comment" which was broadcast over Boston Radio Station WNAC when CARL BRADEN was the guest speaker.

COUGHLIN stated that he formerly lived in Jeffersonville, Indiana, and worked in nearby Louisville, Kentucky. While located in that area, he had read about CARL BRADEN and when BRADEN's name was mentioned over "Comment" as being the speaker on the night in question, he had listened from about 10 P. M. until the program was concluded. During the show, he telephoned to the radio station and spoke to BRADEN, inquiring of him as to whether or not he was still preaching the same philosophy which he previously did in Louisville. BRADEN, in reply, affirmed that he was.

Mr. COUGHLIN said he could not recall in detail what BRADEN had said during this radio program other than he talked about the racial issue in Mississippi but did not touch on the local Boston situation. Many people called into the radio station opposing BRADEN but the latter was outspoken in his replies, refusing to answer many of the questions put to him. BRADEN also mentioned that he had written a book opposing the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Mrs. KENNETH COUGHLIN, [redacted], on October 13, 1965, advised SA [redacted] that she, too, had listened to a portion of the FRED GALE show when CARL BRADEN spoke. She said she recalled that someone in the radio audience had called into WNAC and had asked BRADEN whether or not he was a communist. In reply, BRADEN stated that he did not have to answer the question since it was his own business. b6 b7C

The "Boston Herald," a daily newspaper published at Boston, Massachusetts, in its issue of September 27, 1965, carried an article entitled "Integrationist Editor Says No Democracy in the South."

In the above article, it was set forth that CARL BRADEN, the Editor of the "Southern Patriot," had spoken in Providence, Rhode Island, in the Church of the Mediator on Sunday (September 26, 1965) and had told the audience there was no democracy in the south. According to BRADEN, "This is because the people who dominate southern society control all the economic and political structures in the community." KY C.P. member

BRADEN went on to say, "They do this by perpetrating racial strife by telling the poor white man that he is better than any Negro."

In this article, BRADEN was identified as being a staff member of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., which publishes the "Southern Patriot." According to the article, working for the common cause of the Negro and the white in the south has caused him to be branded a "subversive and a revolutionary," BRADEN remarked.

"I am a revolutionary," he said, "not because I am working for the violent overthrow of the Government but because I am working for the economic and political unity of all downtrodden groups in the south, be they Negro, Indian or Jewish."

Mrs. ALBERTA AHERN, 2311 Payne Street, Louisville, Kentucky, a self-admitted former member of the Communist Party, Louisville, Kentucky, in testifying on December 11 and and 13, 1954, in Jefferson County, Kentucky, Criminal Court in the state sedition proceedings against CARL BRADEN, identified BRADEN and his wife, ANNE BRADEN, as having been known to her as members of the Communist Party, Louisville, Kentucky, from January 1951 to shortly prior to her testifying.

Characterizations of the "Southern Patriot" and the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., appear in the appendix hereto.

B. Other Communist Groups

Socialist Workers Party

On April 6, 1965, a meeting of the Boston Socialist Workers Party (SWP) was held at 295 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts. At this meeting, LEONARD GOODMAN said it seemed to him that the Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU) in Boston was moving away from the revolutionary ideas of MALCOLM X and adopting a strictly black nationalist character.

GOODMAN added that insofar as the SWP was still interested in Negro contacts, it will continue in the group known as Friends of the OAAU.

(BS T-5, April 19, 1965)

The Socialist Workers Party has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A characterization of the SWP, Boston, is contained in in the appendix hereto, as well as a characterization of the OAAU.

At a meeting of the SWP, Boston, held on September 16, 1964, among the members elected to the new Executive Committee of that group included LEONARD GOODMAN, GUS HOROWITZ and LAWRENCE TRAINOR.

(BS T-5, September 25, 1965)

On July 6, 1965, a meeting of the Boston SWP was held at 295 Huntington Avenue, Boston. At this meeting, GUS HORDWITZ said that the local group of the Friends of the OAAU had disbanded because of a general lack of interest and inactivity on the part of the parent group. After the business meeting on July 6, 1965, a discussion was held at length concerning the Political Committee Draft Resolution on the Negro Question. It was mentioned that this and a number of other documents will have to be discussed before the SWP convention next fall. It was generally agreed that this particular document was a mild one and should possibly be worded more strongly. LAWRENCE TRAINOR made it clear, however, that this document was meant only to supplement and not replace the last convention document on the Negro struggle. No vote was taken on this document at this meeting.

(BS T-5, July 16, 1965)

On August 24, 1965, a meeting of the Boston SWP was held at 295 Huntington Avenue, Boston. At this meeting, LEONARD GOODMAN said the Friends of the Deacons for Justice had held meetings in Roxbury (Boston), Massachusetts, during August 1965. This group, however, was antagonistic toward the SWP and all the SWP and youth members had been asked to leave the meetings.

GOODMAN went on to say that up until that time, the SWP had been printing the Deacons' newspaper, which is called "Rebellion," but now the SWP would no longer provide this service.

MASS

GOODMAN stated that he felt that locally at least the Friends of the Deacons for Justice had fallen under the control of the Progressive Labor Party.

The Deacons for Justice is a new black nationalist civil rights group. It is a militant organization based in the south that advocates violent self-defense for Negroes. The group that calls themselves Friends of the Deacons for Justice is a northern supposedly integrated support group.

(BS T-5, September 7, 1965)

A characterization of the Progressive Labor Party is contained in the appendix hereto.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

Meeting of the Deacons for Defense and Justice August 22, 1965

Deputy Superintendent [redacted], Boston Police, on September 16, 1965, made available a flyer to Special Agent JOHN F. NOONAN which announced that a rally was to be held on Sunday, August 22, 1965, at the Roxbury YMCA, 401 Warren Street, Roxbury, Massachusetts. According to the flyer, the rally was being held to support the Deacons for Defense and Justice. The speakers were to include a representative of the Deacons, a Roxbury victim of police brutality and also the editor of "Rebellion." The flyer further mentioned that the sponsors were the Boston Action Group (BAG) and "Rebellion."

On August 23, 1965, Deputy [redacted] advised that on August 22, 1965, Patrolman [redacted], a plain clothes officer of the Boston Police Department, was present at the YMCA building, 401 Warren Street, Roxbury, Massachusetts, and observed a small group of persons, both Negro and white, most of whom were men, in attendance at a meeting at the YMCA hall. Officer [redacted] had reported that the meeting had no sooner started, when the young Negro, whose identity was unknown to Patrolman [redacted] and who was officiating at the meeting, requested the white persons to leave. At this point, Colonel THOMAS WRIGHT, Executive Secretary of the YMCA, stopped the meeting and told the speaker that the meeting would have to come to a close if people were excluded from the meeting because of their color. The Negro officiating at the meeting told the Colonel that the white persons present, who were known to him, were sympathetic to the purpose of the meeting and were in accord with his request that they leave.

Colonel WRIGHT thereafter announced that no white person would have to leave but the group of white persons present left the hall remaining in the lobby of the YMCA until the meeting was over.

Officer [redacted] further reported that donations were asked for at this meeting and several speeches were made stressing the difficulty under which the Negro race lives in the south and the necessity that groups such as the Deacons in the south receive financial support to enable them to continue to operate. b6 b7C

Deputy [redacted] further advised on August 23, 1965, that "Rebellion" is a militant type newspaper published in mimeographed form by a Boston group of civil rights workers. Deputy BLAKE further stated that BAG is a regularly organized civil rights group located in the Roxbury area of Boston, Massachusetts.

On September 17, 1965, Colonel THOMAS WRIGHT, Executive Secretary, YMCA, 401 Warren Street, Roxbury, Massachusetts, advised that the YMCA meeting hall was made available for a meeting advertised as a rally to raise funds to support the Deacons for Defense. Colonel WRIGHT stated that he went into the meeting hall just at the moment when an unidentified Negro speaker had requested that the white members of the audience leave the hall.

Colonel WRIGHT said he immediately interrupted the meeting and announced that the meeting would be dissolved if anyone was excluded by race or religion. He told the white persons that they need not leave but in spite of this, all of the white members of the group left the hall and waited around in the lobby of the YMCA until the meeting concluded. The members of the white group seemed to be in complete sympathy with the Negro speaker and made no protest about leaving the meeting.

Colonel WRIGHT stated that he only remained for a short period at the meeting and while the speaker discussed Negro problems in the south in a rather militant tone, he believed that the speaker was being factual in what he said.

On August 24, 1965, a meeting of the Boston SWP was held as mentioned previously in this report. At this meeting

LEONARD GOODMAN said the Deacons for Justice had held meetings in Roxbury, Massachusetts, during August but all SWP and youth members had been asked to leave.

(BS T-5, September 7, 1965)

On October 13, 1965, ROLAND (RON) BEDFORD, [redacted] advised that he is a member of the Deacons for Defense and Justice, which held a meeting in Roxbury, Massachusetts, on August 22, 1965. BEDFORD stated that BILL MC ADOO and DAVE DOUGLAS from New York both spoke at this meeting. b6 b7C

It is understood that BILL MC ADOO and DAVE DOUGLAS of New York spoke at a rally at the new YMCA located in the Negro neighborhood of Boston during August 1965. Everyone at the meeting was black except forty-five whites, who were all Trotskyites and the whites were asked to leave.

(BS T-6, August 23, 1965)

JUDITH ANNE WARREN on June 17, 1965, advised that she had been a member of the Progressive Labor Movement from June 1964 to January 1965. She further advised that she had gone to Cuba in 1964 under the auspices of the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba (SCTC) and others who made this trip included ROLAND BEDFORD as well as KAREN and WILLIAM SACKS.

A characterization of the SCTC is contained in the appendix hereto.

BILL MC ADOO was Chairman of the Committee to Defend Resistance to Ghetto Life, which is commonly known as CERGE.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. OAAU

On April 6, 1965, as mentioned previously in this report at a meeting of the Boston SWP, LEONARD GOODMAN mentioned that insofar as the SWP is still interested in Negro contacts, it would continue in the group called Friends of the OAAU.

(BS T-5, April 19, 1965)

As mentioned previously in this report, at a meeting of the Boston SWP held on July 6, 1965, GUS HOROWITZ said that the local Friends of the OAAU had disbanded because of a general lack of interest and inactivity on the part of the parent group.

(BS T-5, July 16, 1965)

B. Deacons for Defense and Justice

As mentioned previously in this report, at a meeting of the Boston SWP on August 24, 1965, LEONARD GOODMAN stated that the Deacons for Justice was antagonistic to the SWP members and had asked them to leave their meetings. He further stated that up until that time the SWP had been printing the Deacons newspaper called "Rebellion" but no longer would do it. GOODMAN also stated that he felt the Deacons had fallen under the control of the PLP.

(BS T-5, September 7, 1965)

There is a local group who call themselves the Deacons for Defense and Justice, also the Friends of the Deacons, but are normally referred to just by the name of the Deacons. Although the Deacons for Defense are a militant group originally formed in the south, there is no information available which would show that this small group at Boston is in anyway officially connected with the group in the south. It is believed that this group has taken upon itself to organize in the hope that it may more readily increase its membership by using a name which is well known among members of the Negro race. It is believed that the nucleus of this group are HUGH and JACKIE GUILDERSON, husband and wife, and also RON BEDFORD. Mr. and Mrs. GUILDERSON have been active in civil rights groups such as the BAG and CORE and have participated in picket lines and other demonstrations in support of various civil rights matters. RON BEDFORD has likewise participated in civil rights demonstrations and was one of a group of students who travelled to Cuba in 1964 in violation of State Department orders against such travel. RON BEDFORD and the GUILDERSONs are the heart of the Deacons and it is doubted that there are more than three or four other people interested in the group. It is further understood that the group is contemplating reorganizing under the name of "Fathers for Defense" feeling that the Deacons are a failure and that possibly a change in the name might attract new members.

It is further understood that the GUILDERSONs and BEDFORD together with WILLIAM and KAREN SACKS are instrumental in publishing the mimeographed newspaper known as "Rebellion." This is a very militant type publication which attacks police methods and police brutality, playing up atrocities committed against Negroes. WILLIAM and KAREN SACKS were also among the group of students who travelled to Cuba in violation of the State Department decree.

(BS T-8, August 23, 1965)

"Rebellion," in its issue dated July 7, 1965, mentions therein that it is published approximately biweekly by the Rebellion Newspaper Committee. The editor is identified as FLOYD HARDWICK and the staff includes RAY WOODEN, ROLAND BEDFORD, KAREN SACKS, JACQUELINE GUILDERSON and HUGH GUILDERSON.

RAY WOODEN has been voted into membership in the SWP.

COMMITTEE TO DEFEND RESISTANCE TO GHETTO LIFE (CERGE)

A source advised on February 3, 1965, that CERGE was formed on November 1, 1964, as a front of the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), presently known as Progressive Labor Party (PLP). All personnel which comprise the committee are PLM members. CERGE was organized to raise funds for the PLM in order that the PLM will have money for bail when it becomes necessary. The people connected with CERGE hope to build it into a national organization.

A second source advised on March 5, 1965, that it is the plan of the PLM to recruit people into CERGE and use CERGE as a recruiting front for PLM members. The PLM plans to give instructions in Marxist philosophy and those who respond will be advanced from CERGE to PLM membership.

A third source advised on February 3, 1965, that CERGE receives mail through Abbott Business Service, a legitimate business operation, 147 West 42nd Street, New York, New York.

The first source advised on May 5, 1965, that CERGE maintains its office at Room 617, One Union Square, New York, New York.

ORGANIZATION OF AFRO-AMERICAN UNITY, INCORPORATED (OAAU)

On June 28, 1964, MALCOLM X LITTLE, founder and leader of the Muslim Mosque, Incorporated (MMI), publicly announced the formation of a new, all Negro, militant civil rights action group to be known as the Organization of Afro-American Unity (OAAU), with himself as Chairman. This announcement was made at a public rally held by the MMI in the Audubon Ballroom, Broadway and 166th Street, New York City.

A printed and published statement of basic OAAU aims read by MALCOLM X at this meeting indicates that it shall include "all" people of African descent in the Western Hemisphere, as well as "our" brothers and sisters on the African continent. It is patterned after the "letter and spirit" of the Organization of African Unity established (by African heads of States) at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, in May, 1963.

A recording of the remarks of MALCOLM X at this meeting indicates that the aim of the OAAU is to eliminate differences between Negroes so they can work together for "human rights," while the initial objective is to "internationalize" the American civil rights movement by taking it to the United Nations. LITTLE condemned the non-violent civil rights movement and claims that Negroes should be taught to protect themselves, when and if necessary. The OAAU will sponsor a program for Negroes of education, politics, culture, economics, and social reform.

On May 17, 1965, a confidential source advised that the headquarters of the OAAU are located in MMI headquarters, Suite 128, Hotel Theresa, 2090 7th Avenue, New York City.

MALCOLM X was assassinated on February 21, 1965, while addressing an OAAU rally at the Audubon Ballroom, New York City.

STUDENT COMMITTEE FOR TRAVEL TO CUBA

"The Columbia Owl," weekly student newspaper of Columbia University, New York City, December 12, 1962, issue, page one, contained an article entitled "Students to Visit Cuba During Holidays." This article stated in part that the Ad Hoc Student Committee for Travel to Cuba was formed October 14, 1962, by a group of students from New York City universities, the University of Wisconsin, Oberlin College, and the University of North Carolina, who stated that as students they would like a chance to see and evaluate the situation in Cuba for themselves and had received an offer of transportation and two weeks' stay in Cuba from the Federation of University Students in Havana, as guests of the Federation. The Committee accepted the offer and applied to the State Department of the United States for passport validation which was refused; however, over fifty students planned to defy the State Department ban and go to Cuba.

A source advised on December 6, 1962, it was learned the Ad Hoc Student Committee for Travel to Cuba had recently been formed by the Progressive Labor Group.

A second source advised on September 13, 1963, that during the summer of 1963, fifty-nine individuals traveled to Cuba; the leaders of the group were members of the Progressive Labor Movement; and the trip was planned and organized by Progressive Labor Movement members.

A third source advised on October 9, 1963, the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba was utilizing Post Office Box 2178, New York, New York, as its mailing address.

On March 12, 1965, Philip Abbott Luce, 504 West 55th St., New York, New York, a self-admitted member of the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba Executive Committee and the Progressive Labor Movement National Coordinating Committee, advised as follows:

The Student Committee for Travel to Cuba (SCTC) was formerly known as the Ad Hoc Student Committee for Travel to Cuba and the Permanent Student Committee for Travel to Cuba.

Luce was a leader and participant of the 1963 trip to Cuba and an organizer of the 1964 trip to Cuba and both trips were sponsored by the SCTC.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party (CP)

HERSHEL J. WALKER, Chairman, Missouri District CP, stated that the St. Louis units of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and Committee on Racial Equality (CORE) "are dead" insofar as the fight for Negro rights is concerned. He further said that the leadership of each group has been "bought out" by the Government and the "power structure" of the city; that the new group called ACTION, which was organized by PERCY GREEN, is the "only hope" for the Negro in St. Louis.

WALKER then went on to say that although this group is small in size and will never be able to get any real following, it can make the Negro of St. Louis aware of certain conditions which exist. This in turn should bring pressure on the NAACP and CORE and goad them into action.

WALKER also said the sooner the Negro of St. Louis, as well as Negroes throughout the United States, learn that their fight for freedom is a part of the effort of all dark races of the world to win freedom, the more intense and aggressive will be their effort.

ACTION is composed of a dissident group of former CORE members who left because they felt CORE was not sufficiently militant.

(SL T-1 July 1, 1965)

At a CP State Committee meeting in late July, 1965, chaired by WALKER, ORVIL T. LEACH appeared by invitation to discuss his activities in ACTION. He said ACTION is more advanced than any other civil rights group in the area; that it is not anti-Communist and permits Communists to be members as long as they follow the program of the organization. He further said that ACTION is willing to work with the St. Louis Chapter, W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA), on any project and has actually invited DCA to do so.

LEACH advised members of the State Committee the CP should give some financial assistance to ACTION and assign another CP member to work in that organization with him, preferably a Negro. A CP leader commented the main commitment of the Party is now on youth work and this occupies most of their time, particularly in DCA. Therefore, it is impossible to take on any additional responsibility in ACTION. WALKER commented he agreed insofar as financial help is concerned, and then tentatively assigned a veteran CP member to join LEACH in working in ACTION.

DCA is characterized in the attached appendix.

At a CP meeting in mid-July, 1965, there was a discussion of a new committee within ACTION established to investigate the shooting by a white policeman of a handcuffed Negro youth who was under arrest. This committee was also charged with the responsibility of recommending future programs directed against alleged police brutality. ORVIL T. LEACH, veteran CP member, was among those assigned to this committee. Following a discussion of its desirability, HERSHEL J. WALKER agreed it should function and make recommendations regarding police brutality. LEACH had indicated he desired advice as to how to proceed. WALKER further said that police brutality is something with which every Negro is familiar. However, WALKER said he feels any campaign against it would have to be the main project of ACTION to the exclusion of picketing in protest against inadequate Negro hiring. LEACH said he doubted that the leaders of ACTION would drop picketing against local utilities, such as Laclede Gas Company and Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, but he would raise the question pursuant to WALKER's advice.

(SL T-2 July 23, 1965)

At a meeting of CP leaders in late July, 1965, the question of police brutality was discussed and possible activities of the committee set up within ACTION to explore this problem. Both HERSHEL J. WALKER and WILLIAM E. DAVIS, another local veteran CP leader, said they felt nothing specific could be done with respect to the handcuffed youth, MELVIN CRAVENS, who was shot by a St. Louis Police officer, but they felt the committee should urge a petitioning for a Civilian Review Board of police actions.

(SL T-3 August 6, 1965)

B. Socialist Workers Party (SWP)

In July, 1965, RICHARD H. CLARKE, Organizer, St. Louis Branch SWP, promoted and was the main speaker at a "Freedom Now in '65" meeting held at the St. Louis Public Library, 13th and Olive Streets. The purpose of this meeting was to indicate the SWP's interest in racial matters and to attract Negroes and possibly others to the SWP. Only four individuals attended beside CLARKE and veteran SWP member HARRY VON ROMER. The four included PERCY GREEN, head of ACTION, and GEORGE WOODY), a former follower of MALCOLM X, assassinated Negro leader.

(SL T-4 August 4, 1965)

The SWP and St. Louis Branch SWP are characterized in the attached appendix.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

On August 1, 1965, ORVIL T. LEACH and another CP member attended a meeting at DCA Headquarters, 1910 North Grand Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri, of a committee consisting of members of ACTION and DCA. This committee was to work together on the MELVIN CRAVENS case and the over-all problem of alleged police brutality. HERSHEL J. WALKER was also present along with ELLEN HAWLEY, a young woman from New York City assigned to St. Louis by the CP to help establish a CP youth group in St. Louis. At instant meeting a leaflet was drafted calling for a Civilian Review Board and so-called Freedom Patrols. A leaflet was also drafted announcing a mass meeting in August, 1965. PERCY GREEN was scheduled to attend, but failed to appear. WALKER commented that although CORE hadn't formally agreed to work with this committee on the police brutality project, certain CORE members were doing so on an individual basis. It was announced that the leaflet which was drafted would be presented at a membership meeting of ACTION later that evening for formal approval.

(SL T-2 August 12, 1965)

Representatives of ACTION and DCA attended a meeting at the residence of ORVIL T. LEACH, August 4, 1965. It was decided to have mass rallies beginning the following week which would concern the killing of MELVIN CRAVENS. One would be held at the Pruitt-Igoe Housing Project, and the other in the Grand-Easton Avenue area, in an effort to build mass support for the campaign against the St. Louis Police Department. It was agreed that during these meetings volunteers would be solicited for the Freedom Patrols. These patrols would be primarily groups of young people who would watch specific police officers for mistakes in conduct. It was agreed that the Pruitt-Igoe rally would be primarily the responsibility of ACTION, while the other would be under the direction of DCA personnel.

(SL T-5 August 6, 1965)

On August 18, 1965, a rally sponsored by ACTION and DCA was held at Jefferson and Cass Avenues in the Pruitt-Igoe Housing Development. Approximately 35 individuals, mostly youths, attended the rally, which lasted from 6:45 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., and heard speakers demand an end to police brutality. There were no incidents.

A second rally was held August 20, 1965, at Grand and Garfield Avenues. A member of ACTION laid down in the street with his hands handcuffed behind him. He was doused with catchup. The rally was held from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., and handbills were distributed. However, only about 15 persons stopped and listened.

(SL T-6 August 20, 1965)

The two street rallies were considered unsuccessful by the sponsoring organizations. Only a few individuals signed cards indicating their willingness to take part in Freedom Patrols.

(SL T-5 August 23, 1965)

The handbill distributed at instant rallies was titled "Cops Kill Negro Youth - How Many More Must Die!". It then states that 17-year-old MELVIN CRAVENS was handcuffed and gunned down in cold blood. The flier continues: "We need jobs. We need decent neighborhoods. We need good schools, but all we receive from the politicians is more brutal cops." Continuing it says: "What can we do? 1. Join Freedom Patrols to defend our neighborhood from police brutality! 2. Join the fight for a Citizens Review Board which can control killer cops." b6 b7C b7D

August 20, 1965)

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

HERSHEL J. WALKER stated that ORVIL T. LEACH is the only CP member who is "close" to ACTION and has knowledge of most of their activities and plans. He does not hold an office in the organization.

SL 100-19352

During early August, 1965, HERSHEL J. WALKER commented PERCY GREEN has become a problem in that he appears to be wary of the possibility of suggesting a connection between ACTION and DCA. WALKER stated he is trying to show GREEN that ACTION is looked upon in much the same light as DCA since it, DCA, has taken upon itself the job of fighting the so-called "power structure" in St. Louis. WALKER observed that GREEN will learn that help from any source is needed if and when the "big money" of St. Louis decides to actively oppose them.

Synopsis: This report covers the period from 7/1/65 through 10/31/65. At meeting of Fillmore Club, SFCCP, on 8/18/65, mention made that there would be an extensive program of agitation displayed by the CP, USA, on the grounds of racism, inequalities, and other socialistic actions. At SWP National Convention, New York, New York, 9/3 - 6/65, those in attendance reportedly told that "our" main and only goal at this time is to direct "our" orientation to the black Ghetto. Speaker at SWP National Convention commented the SWP could recruit in the Negro ghettos, and there were two alternatives--either a Negro group takes over with "our" fraternal participation, or members of "our" group take over. MORTIMER SCHEER, Vice President, PLP, informed on 8/28/65, that PLP must give the Negroes support and must identify themselves as to who they are and let it be known "they" are supporting the Negro action. Support must be given in such a way as to not infer "we" are trying to dominate the Negro. SCHEER has stated that the events in Watts, Los Angeles County, California, should be referred to as a rebellion and not a riot. During the latter part of July, 1965, or the early part of August, 1965, members of CP,USA, Marxist-Leninist, visited Hunters Point Housing Project, a predominantly Negro area in San Francisco. At one residence, furnished occupant with copies of "Peking Review" and "The Marxist-Leninist Vanguard." SCHEER was leader at demonstration at Bay Area Rapid Transit Tunnel, Oakland, California, on 7/29/65. No information developed concerning Communist penetration and/or influence in racial and other organizations. -P-

DETAILS:

AT SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

This report covers the period July 1, 1965, through October 31, 1965.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY (CP), USA

1) Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries.

No information developed.

2) Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank-and-file members.

SF T-1 reported on August 2, 1965, that on July 5, 1965, he attended a meeting of the County Committee of the San Francisco County Communist Party (SFCCP). At the meeting, ARCHIE BROWN, a member of the committee, proposed a meeting be held of anyone in the community who was interested in among other things, civil rights for the Negro people. BROWN related that at the meeting, the problem of civil rights for Negroes would be discussed openly, and the meeting would be called by the CP. BROWN commented he felt the CP did not have a program on the Negro people and since the CP convention would be held next year and pre-convention discussions had been started, the program on Negro people should commence now. BROWN then proposed a budget of $5000.00 for the project to get out leaflets and other publicity, renting of the hall, and other expenses tied in with the project. BROWN remarked that by having such a meeting, the CP would be "on the move," and added he would like to see some 2,500 people attend such a meeting and discuss the Negro problem on civil rights.

SF T-1 informed during the period from August 2, 1965, through September 27, 1965, that ARCHIE BROWN's proposal for a publicly-sponsored CP mass meeting in the Fillmore area was discussed in Executive Board meetings of the Fillmore CP Club, SFCCP, on July 7, 1965 and July 28, 1965, and also at a Fillmore CP Club meeting on July 14, 1965. According to this source, the members of the Fillmore CP Club believed BROWN was proposing an undesirable step, and BROWN now felt assured because charges against him under the Landrum-Griffin Act had been found unconstitutional. Those in attendance at the meetings felt BROWN now wanted to expose all CP members, and they did not agree with his thinking and believed BROWN was trying to overburden the Fillmore CP Club with grandiose projects in which they would do the work and BROWN would take the credit.

SF T-1 further informed that the Fillmore CP Club developed a program which was presented to the County Committee, SFCCP, and approved by that Committee on September 6, 1965. This plan for CP activity involved a call for help from the anti-poverty program to financially supporting special training projects on phases ranging from common labor through the arts; that the CP should develop support for an apprentice program for Negro youth; that the San Francisco City Government should be pressured for better Negro housing along with improved rent control, improved sanitary conditions in the crowded, sub-standard housing areas and also forced to improve health conditions through strict garbage collection.

At this time, the County CP Committee also decided that the CP should form a close alliance, if possible, with other current organizations working in the Fillmore area among Negroes. In this way, the CP, on an individual member basis, would be able to influence and accomplish CP ends through working in Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), other similar organizations, and certain churches.

SF T-2 reported on August 30, 1965, that on August 18, 1965, he attended a meeting of the Fillmore Club of the SFCCP, in San Francisco, California. SF T-2 reported that at the meeting, a discussion ensued concerning the riots which occurred in Watts, Los Angeles County, California. SF T-2 commented that those in attendance felt that the situation in Los Angeles County was just the beginning for the West Coast and there would be uprisings throughout other parts of California. Those in attendance further felt that the oppressed Negro people would rise and stand against those who were the oppressors, and Negroes were tired of the treatment they had received for the past 100 years in the United States -- minority people are forced to pay taxes and other levies yet the government refuses to extend equality to those in need.

Continuing, and according to SF T-2, there was an agreement at the meeting that there would surely be a revolution by at least 1970, and "it" was the job of the CP to enhance these chances as much as possible. Accordingly, there will be an extensive program of agitation displayed by the CP, USA, on the grounds of racism, inequalities, and other socialistic actions. Those in attendance believed that the CP must step up their various programs to enlighten uninformed peoples of the United States as to the dangerous path the government of the United States is leading.

SF T-2 concluded that the above-mentioned sentiments represented the sentiment of the SFCCP.

3) Plans, strategy, Party line and the like as revealed in Party Publications and other propaganda media.

In the August 28, 1965, issue the "People's World" (PW), there appeared an editorial captioned, "The Message from Watts."

The PW is a West Coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco.

The editorial stated, "To the men of the 'white Power Structure' (that is, the big corporation executives and their coterie of spokesmen in and out of politics), the Los Angeles ghetto uprising said with the intensity of the blazing flames:

"Do not be smug and self-satisfied about what you are doing for the poor downtrodden Negro. What you are doing is too little, too late -- it is much too patronizing."

The editorial commented that the man in the big White House and the men in the little white houses found it easy to be complacent or to bridge the gulf between what was done and what needed to be done with rhetoric. "But in the houses of Watts there is no complacency."

The editorial went on to say that the message was: "the vaunted progress in race relations" had hardly scratched the surface of the problems buried deep in the pit of human misery that is the ghetto. Far more racial measures, far more democratic participation in the formulation and complementation of such measures were necessary than any of those now proposed or contemplated by the "white power structure." The editorial commented that civil rights was not enough -- to tell people they have equal rights was to mock them, when, in fact, they were unequal in employment, in earnings, in their life span and health, in housing, in education, in all the necessities and amenities of life, and in all the essential economic and social ingredients of human dignity.

Continuing, the editorial related that the causes for the Watts outbreak were all too familiar -- discrimination, poverty, frustration, hopelessness, and police brutality. According to the editorial, the practical expression of solidarity by the white progressive community with the people of the ghetto was vital and urgent, and should be manifested in support of the community's demands, in joint action for a program to meet the needs. The minimum for such a program should "demand":

"Massive emergency action by the Federal government, not only to reconstruct the buildings destroyed but to meet the enormous backlog of needed construction in the ghetto community; schools, hospitals, homes. This will not only meet desperate human needs, it can also provide jobs. Any such program must involve the people of the community in its planning, policy-making, and administration. In the case of a natural disaster the Federal government has acted. This is a social disaster that in its scope matches or exceeds an earthquake or flood.

"State action, coordinated with any Federal program; emergency action now, and more comprehensive action at the special legislative session expected in October. Governor EDMUND G. BROWN's state administration cannot escape its responsibility for what occurred.

"Immediate removal of Police Chief PARKER. His retention is a brazen affront to the Negro community, an insolent provocation. As long as he retains the power of the club and gun in the Negro community, all other measures will be compromised and suspected.

"A thorough-going probe by the McCONE Commission that not only lays bare the immediate causes of the outbreak, but also delves into the underlying causes.

"Creation of a civilian review board, including representation of the Negro community, to handle complaints against police, and to serve as a watchdog against police brutality.

"All these are immediate, emergency programs. But one thing is certain, if action is not taken, if the men, women and children killed in the outbreak have died in vain, then more will surely and inevitably die."

B. OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS

1. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY (SWP)

A characterization for the SWP, San Francisco Division, is contained in the appendix.

1a. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries.

SF T-3 related on September 24, 1965, that on September 18, 1965, he attended a joint branch membership meeting of the San Francisco and Oakland-Berkeley branches of the SWP at 1130 - 28th Street, Oakland, California. SF T-3 further related that at the meeting, LESLIE EVANS, a delegate at the National Convention of the SWP, said convention held in New York, New York, during the period from September 3 - 6, 1965, and a member of the San Francisco Branch of the SWP, gave a report on the Negro Question which EVANS stated was originally presented by VERNON ____ at the SWP Convention. EVANS related "our" main and only goal at this time is to direct "our" orientation to the black ghetto. EVANS related that the civil rights organizations working in the ghettos like CORE, NAACP and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) had a great deal of money, and they provided a vehicle for "us" to get into the ghetto. EVANS remarked that when "they", the civil rights organizations, open a branch in the Negro ghetto, "we" can tap them for money and for support and "we" can make many demands from them. EVANS informed that VERNON at the National Convention also commented about the Negroes in Watts, Los Angeles County, California, having a very low political level. VERNON, according to EVANS, stated "we" must realize that the Negroes are willing to be accepted as a revolutionary movement, not as a class to gain agreement. VERNON also stated at the convention the SWP can recruit in the Negro ghettos, and there are two alternatives -- either a Negro group takes over with "our" fraternal participation, or members of "our" group take over.

EVANS related that according to VERNON, "this" can be accomplished by all "our" Negro comrades.

1b. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank-and-file members.

SF T-4 reported on July 26, 1965, that on July 23, 1965, he attended a joint branch membership meeting of the San Francisco and Oakland-Berkeley Branches of the SWP at 1722 Page Street, San Francisco, California. SF T-4 informed that at the meeting LESLIE EVANS gave a talk on the major viewpoints pertaining to the Negro movement. EVANS related that the Negro movement and its revolution had not reached their peak and would have to fight much harder in order to win some of their rights, including housing, voting, employment, and education. EVANS commented that the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) had been instrumental in directing its publication "Young Socialist" to Negro ghettos in the South and on the East Coast. EVANS further commented that the YSA had also pushed "The Militant" newspaper in the South and described the newspaper as the only socialist oriented newspaper that is familiar to the Negroes.

A characterization of the YSA is contained in the appendix.

"The Militant" is a weekly publication of the SWP.

SF T-3 reported on July 27, 1965, that on July 23, 1965, he attended a joint branch membership meeting of the San Francisco and Oakland-Berkeley Branches of the SWP at 1722 Page Street, San Francisco. SF T-3 related that at the meeting, LESLIE EVANS gave a report on the Negro Question. EVANS related that the Negro movement had its beginning with the fight for civil rights, and this fight started in Montgomery, Alabama, in the form of boycotting buses. EVANS remarked "we" helped by donating money and also by donating one station wagon. EVANS went on to say that the basic step is to get the Federal government to send Federal troops to the South to disperse all the illusions the Negroes may have that the government is doing all it can, and will help them. EVANS remarked, "Our task is to recruit and train a Negro Marxist Cadre and integrate it in our movement."

SF T-4 reported on August 19, 1965, that on August 16, 1965, he attended a joint branch membership meeting of the San Francisco and Oakland-Berkeley Branches of the SWP at 1130 East 28th Street, Oakland. SF T-4 related that at the meeting, RAY SPARROW, a member of the San Francisco Branch of the SWP spoke on the history of the SWP, and said that the SWP was not really a party but a propaganda force. According to SPARROW, "we center our attention on the need to combat the capitalist system by exposing the exploitation of Negro and minority groups." SPARROW went on to say "the youth have done a tremendous job in the civil rights movement." SF T-4 added that when SPARROW referred to "the youth," he was referring to the YSA.

2. PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP)

A characterization of the PLP is contained in the appendix section.

2a. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries.

No information developed.

2b. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank-and-file members.

SF T-5 informed on August 31, 1965, that on August 28, 1965, he attended a public affair sponsored by the PLP, said affair consisting mainly of movies, one of which was a movie on Vietnam showing various phases of guerilla warfare. SF T-5 informed that after the movies, there was a discussion relating to the Watts, Los Angeles County, California, situation. During the discussion, MORT SCHEER commented that the incident in Watts was not a riot but a revolution. SCHEER further commented "we" must not condemn the Negroes, but should support them. According to SCHEER there were not many organizations supporting the Negro cause in Watts--there was only CORE and a couple of other civil rights groups which preferred to remain in the background. SCHEER went on to say that the PLP must give the Negroes support and must identify themselves as to who they are and let it be known "they" are supporting the Negro action. SCHEER commented this support must be done in such a way as to not infer "we" are trying to dominate the Negro.

SF T-5 on August 31, 1965, identified MORTIMER SCHEER as the West Coast Organizer of the Bay Area PLP (BAPLP) and Vice President of the PLP.

2c. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like as revealed in Party publications and other propaganda media.

SF T-6 reported on August 14, 1965, that on August 14, 1965, MORTIMER SCHEER contacted ERIC JOHNSON who SF T-6 on August 14, 1965, identified as a member of the BAPLP, for the purpose of preparing a leaflet pertaining to the racial demonstrations in Watts, Los Angeles County, California. SCHEER related "they" should point out in their leaflet that the Watts incident was a rebellion and not a riot, and should be compared to the "Harlem rebellion" of 1964. SCHEER went on to say that rebellions were against the system of oppression and police brutality. JOHNSON suggested "they" should also point out in the leaflet that the National Guard was used and this was the first time since the strikes of 1934. SCHEER agreed and said they should demand in the leaflet that the police and the National Guard be withdrawn and the people of Los Angeles set up their own council and defense units.

[redacted], San Francisco Police Department, San Francisco, California, on August 25, 1965, furnished a copy of a mimeographed leaflet captioned, "HANDS OFF WATTS" issued by the PLP, P. O. Box 73, Station A, Berkeley, California, and is quoted below: b6 b7C

"30 years ago the Governor of California called the National Guard out to beat the working people of San Francisco into submission -- in the great General Strike of 1934.

"Two weeks ago Los Angeles Police Chief PARKER's cops attacked and beat striking workers at the Harvey Aluminum plant.

"Three days ago these same forces were called into the black community of L.A. -- for the same reason.

"The rebellion in the Watts district of L. A. is a movement against the intolerable conditions of life forced upon the masses of Afro-American people in the U. S. These same conditions exist in the Bay Area and all over our country.

"LBJ called today for 'law and order.' BROWN is sending to L.A. the National Guard of San Francisco. The S.F. police have sent 100 riot guns to L. A.

"Whenever the people fight for fundamental changes, the bosses and politicians cry out for 'law and order' -- and they back it up with guns.

"JOHNSON and his generals are trying to bring the same 'law and order' of terror, violence and slavery to Vietnam. He wants us to back him up.

"The people of Watts are fighting for a good life -- a life without unemployment, rotten educational opportunities and the occupation of their community by vicious cops.

"We must support the people of Watts in their just demands for decent conditions. Their fight is the fight of working people everywhere.

"We demand the removal of all troops from Watts and an end to the police war on the black men, women and children of America!"

In the September, 1965, issue of "Spark," a publication of the PLP, there appeared an editorial captioned, "The Meaning of Watts." The editorial set forth the below-quoted information:

"Historically, the revolt of the black people of Watts is the tortured outcry of an oppressed people -- unable and unwilling any longer to submit to a system which for generations has fed on slavery, indignity, police terror.

"In terms of today--right now--the Watts uprising vividly exposes the total failure of JOHNSON's 'Great Society' even to begin to provide for the people's needs.

"Here are the brute facts:

"Thirty-five percent of the people are jobless and half of the families are on welfare.

"12 out of every 100 adults cannot read or write - more than two-thirds did not finish high school.

"Eighty-seven percent of the houses are more than 25 years old and the cheap construction and negligent landlords had brought the area almost to physical ruin prior to the insurrection.

"The facts are now new. Los Angeles 'welfare' officials know it. Governor BROWN and other California welfare authorities know it. Federal officials right up the line to President JOHNSON know it. The fact is, they don't care.

"The fact is, the capitalist system cannot, does not want to eliminate poverty. Profits depend on low wages, unemployment, slum housing, racism. The fact is, the 'War on Poverty' is another face of the continuing war waged by capitalism against the poverty-striken people of all colors -- black, white, brown, yellow.

"The fact is, NOW, the black people are beginning to reject the false and treacherous slogans of the JOHNSON Administration--as it seeks to crush liberation movements; whether they occur in Watts or Vietnam. While JOHNSON and the national press scream about race war, here is what the people of Watts say:

'This is the Negro revolution. We want the world to know. We want to set a fire right here on Broadway rather than go to Vietnam and fight. We would rather fight for the Negro here.'

"The fact is also, the power structure is dealing with Watts as a military operation. Witness the 14,000 National Guardsmen sent to crush the uprising. Witness the killing of 33 black people by Guardsmen bullets, the wounding of 900 others, the arrest of thousands. Witness the appointment of a notorious cloak-and-dagger official -- former C.I.A. chief JOHN MC CONE -- to 'investigate' the causes of the Watts revolt.

"In Watts as elsehwere, the answer of the power structure to liberation movements is simple and ruthless: Crush them. This was the 'answer' given to the striking workers at the Harvey Aluminum plant this summer, to the uprisings in Harlem, Rochester and Philadelphia, to the Congolese people in their fight against U. S. imperialism. This is always their answer to workers--whatever their skin color.

"The lesson of Watts are clear:

"When people have the will to resist, they can keep an entire army at bay -- even when unorganized as they were in Watts.

"Since the government will use every weapon of terror to crush resistance, the people must build and train their own self-defense organizations.

"The ruling class will always use oppression as an excuse to attack the most militant and radical sections of the community. Witness the later raid on the Muslim Mosque in Los Angeles; the attack on the Progressive Labor Party after the Harlem riots.

"In every crisis, the Uncle Toms expose their loyalties to the ruling class. ROY WILKINS and MARTIN LUTHER KING were among the first to condemn the people of Watts and to call for armed might to crush the rebellion.

"The ruling class is weaker than it appears. In Los Angeles it needed the entire strength of California's National Guard to occupy 120 square miles of territory.

"The fight for jobs and better living conditions will go on in Watts and all around the country. In Watts and other ghettos the buildings of political and self-defense organizations can begin around these demands:

"1. Arrest the Nazi Police Chief PARKER, Governor BROWN, and Mayor YORTY and bring them to trial for murder.

"2. Disarm the criminal police and punish the guilty ones.

"3. Withdraw the occupation troops immediately.

"4. Release the 3,000 hostages.

"5. Turn the welfare agencies into job agencies and provide jobs for all.

"These demands can be supported by ghetto dwellers and black and white workers around the country.

"The 'looters' of the Boston Tea Party two centuries ago are remembered and honored today as the Sons of Liberty.

"The uprising in Watts is only one night in the long battle of the people for their liberation."

3. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, MARXIST-LENINIST (CP, USA, M-L)

A characterization for the CP,USA, M-L, is contained in the appendix section.

3a. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries.

No information developed.

3b. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank-and-file members.

Mrs. HARRIETT WELLINGTON, [redacted], Hunters Point Housing Project, San Francisco, California, on September 14, 1965, furnished the following information. Hunters Point Housing Project is made up predominantly of Negroes. b6 b7C

Mrs. WELLINGTON related that some time during the latter part of July or the early part of August, 1965, two Negro men, one of whom identified himself as Mr. (WILLIAM) SHERMAN, and a white woman visited her residence. SHERMAN commented to Mrs. WELLINGTON's husband, WILFRED, that inasmuch as he was the block chairman in a community betterment program, he would like to discuss a few things with him. The three individuals then referred to the events in Watts, Los Angeles, California, and referred to how the Negroes in the Watts area were exploited by the white merchants and how the Negroes in Watts were also subjected to "police brutality." SHERMAN then went on to explain that the way things were going, the future was shaping into the Marxist-Leninist program, and they were contacting Mr. WELLINGTON to explain to him the Marxist-Leninist program. According to Mrs. WELLINGTON, the unknown female injected the comment that only in the United States was the Indian put on a reservation, whereupon Mr. WELLINGTON answered that this was what the Indian wanted. Upon hearing this, the three individuals decided to leave; however, prior to doing so, left the below-described items with Mr. WELLINGTON to read.

1) July, 1965, issue of "Black Flag."

2) June-July, 1965, issue of "The Marxist-Leninist Vanguard."

3) May 7, 1965, issue of "Peking Review."

4) May 14, 1965, issue of "Peking Review."

5) May 22, 1965, issue of "Peking Review."

6) June 4, 1965, issue of "Peking Review."

The above-described issues of "Peking Review" had stamped on them, "Vanguard, P. O. Box 72112, Watts Section, L.A. 2, California, 90002."

Photographs of AARON CHAPMAN and VIOLA BEESON were displayed to Mrs. WELLINGTON. She identified the photograph of AARON CHAPMAN as the other Negro who accompanied SHERMAN, and remarked that the photograph of VIOLA BEESON resembled the white woman; however, she was not sure.

SF T-7 on September 7, 1965, furnished the following information concerning the above-mentioned individuals:

WILLIAM SHERMAN - member of the Central Committee, top ruling body of the CP, USA, M-L. Is also a member of the Standing Committee which carries out the CP, USA, M-L, policy established by the Central Committee.

VIOLA BEESON - member of the Central Committee, CP, USA, M-L.

Calif.

AARON CHAPMAN - alternate member of the Central Committee, CP, USA, M-L, but has no vote.

A characterization for "Black Flag" is contained in the appendix section.

A characterization for CP, USA, M-L, is located in the appendix section.

A characterization of the "Peking Review" is contained in the appendix section.

Mr. WILFRED WELLINGTON related the following information on September 16, 1965:

He stated that some time during the latter part of July or the early part of August, 1965, two Negroes, one of whom identified himself as Mr. WILLIAM SHERMAN, and a white woman, visited his residence.

Through photographs, Mr. WELLINGTON identified AARON CHAPMAN as the other Negro who accompanied SHERMAN. When shown a photograph of VIOLA BEESON, he commented she resembled the white woman; however, he was not sure.

Continuing, Mr. WELLINGTON went on to say that SHERMAN had come to the door with the remark that he understood Mr. WELLINGTON was a block leader in the Community Betterment Program, and for this reason permitted SHERMAN and the two other individuals to enter his home. During the discussion, SHERMAN commented to Mr. WELLINGTON that inasmuch as he was the block leader, he was involved in politics whether he liked it or not. Mr. WELLINGTON remarked that he was only trying to contribute to man's welfare, whereupon SHERMAN replied, "Good, we have something here we want to discuss with you, and also discuss with you some recent events." SHERMAN then referred to the Watts, Los Angeles County, California, incidents to show how the Negroes were being exploited by the white merchants and commented that the Negroes in Watts had been subjected to "police brutality."

SHERMAN went on to say that the way things were going, the future was shaping into the Marxist-Leninist program, and they were contacting Mr. WELLINGTON to explain to him the Marxist-Leninist program. SHERMAN then discussed Marxist-Leninist theories on world revolution, and said the only way people could be satisfied with their own government would be to run it their own way as is done in the People's Republic in Red China. SHERMAN related that the Soviet Union's form of communism did not have a strong enough revolutionary idea. Mr. WELLINGTON, after hearing what SHERMAN had to say remarked to him he was not in favor of what he was saying since he WELLINGTON, an Indian, had come from an Indian background where the Indian wanted to be left alone. At this point, according to Mr. WELLINGTON, the unknown female remarked that the United States was the only country which put the Indian on a reservation and Mr. WELLINGTON replied that this was what the Indian wanted--he wanted to be left alone to enjoy his hunting and fishing rights. Prior to leaving, Mr. WELLINGTON stated that SHERMAN left with him the above-described literature to read, and stated he would return to talk to him again.

Mr. WELLINGTON added that approximately three weeks later SHERMAN appeared again in the neighborhood with another Negro. Upon seeing SHERMAN, Mr. WELLINGTON stated he immediately departed from his residence. He identified a photograph of VINCENT LYNCH as the other Negro who accompanied SHERMAN.

SF T-7, on September 7, 1965, described VINCENT LYNCH as a San Francisco cell member of the CP, USA, M-L.

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, MARXIST-LENINIST

A source on September 7, 1965, furnished the following information concerning captioned organization.

The Communist Party (CP), USA, Marxist-Leninist was founded at the National Conference of former members of the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) held over the September 4-5, 1965, weekend in Los Angeles, California.

The aims and purposes of the CP, USA, Marxist-Leninist are as follows:

1. To conduct guerrilla warfare training, including the use of firearms.

2. To organize CP, USA, Marxist-Leninist cells in the South to exploit all "racial situations" that might arise there, to agitate the population, and create situations which would require the use of Federal troops so that Americans would be fighting Americans.

3. To establish and maintain an accelerated recruiting program to include the acceptance of anyone who is an anti-imperialist.

Source went on to say that the CP, USA, Marxist-Leninist, constitution which had not as yet been drawn up would be patterned after the constitution of the CP of China which would be used as a guideline.

The "Black Flag" is the theoretical organ of the Institute for Social Thought, P. O. Box 16022, San Francisco. The August 21, 1965, issue of this publication stated it was published by the Committee for the Establishment of the Black Liberation Front.

A second source on September 24, 1965, informed that the "Black Flag" contained a strong Black Nationalist Marxist-Leninist policy which was pro-Communist China.

YOUTH FOR JOBS (YFJ), aka
Youth for Jobs Committee

A source advised in July 1963, that several recent graduates and dropouts of high schools in Oakland and Berkeley, California, had on April 17, 1963, attended the organizing meeting of Youth for Jobs (YFJ) in Oakland, California, in response to letters prepared by ROSCOE PROCTOR and DOUGLAS WACHTER. At this meeting, WACHTER gave reports on the unemployment problem among youth and the need for an organization of this type. PROCTOR also spoke at this meeting.

In May 1963, a second source advised that ROSCOE PROCTOR attended meetings of the National Executive Committee of the Communist Party (CP), USA, during May 1963, in New York City.

In January 1963, a third source identified DOUGLAS WACHTER as the Chairman of a CP recruiting class held in January 1963, in Berkeley, California.

In May 1963, the first source advised that in May 1963, a 12-page pamphlet entitled "Youth for Jobs-Aims and Purposes" was distributed. This pamphlet described YFJ as an independent organization of young people working together to find solutions to current vocational, social and recreational problems; it specified that YFJ is not affiliated with any other organizations, but would fully support the labor movement and any other organizations striving to combat unemployment and to increase job security for all employees.

In June 1963, the third source advised that at a meeting of the Political Committee of the CP of the East Bay Region (Alameda and Contra Costa Counties, California) held in June 1963, VIRGINIA PROCTOR, member of that Committee, gave a report on a draft document read before the National Committee, CP, USA, by GUS HALL, member of the National Committee, CP, USA. In connection with the portion of the report dealing with youth, PROCTOR said "A report from this area on the activity around Youth for Jobs organized by ROSCOE PROCTOR will be included in the final document, as one of the signs of the Party work in organizing the unemployed."

On May 3, 1965, a fourth source advised that ROSCOE PROCTOR has promoted and guided YFJ since its inception and continues to do so. The source stated that meetings of YFJ are held at the YFJ Club House, 1095 - 59th Street, Oakland, California, and at homes of individual members.

Confidential informants reported: At meeting of Executive Committee, CPEPD, 7/6/65, it was proposed that a Civil Rights Club be formed to work with NAACP and SNCC. At District Board meeting 7/13/65, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SAYCOX, JR., Civil Rights and Liberties Secretary, CPEPD, was instructed by IRVING GOFF, national CP representative assigned to Philadelphia, to attempt to influence CECIL MOORE, President, Philadelphia Branch, NAACP, to stage a large rally with well known speakers and entertainers. At CP meetings on various levels, CP members were urged to participate in picket demonstrations at Girard College. GOFF stated CP should take advantage of riots because they will eventually lead to socialism. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, SCLC, visited Philadelphia in 8/65. DCA claims credit for integrating dance at local boys home. MARION METELITS, member of District Board, CPEPD, attended SCLC convention in Birmingham, Ala. CP members participated in NAACP-sponsored demonstration at Girard College, but CECIL MOORE violently objected.

DETAILS: I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CPUSA)

1. Plans, Strategy, Party Line and the Like Made at Lower Level Meetings

On July 9, 1965, Confidential Informant PH T-1 advised that at a meeting of the Executive Committee, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), held on July 6, 1965, it was agreed a proposal would be made to the District Board (DB) to establish a Civil Rights Club and assign certain members to this club for the purpose of concentrating on working with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

On July 21, 1965, PH T-1 advised that at a meeting of the DB, CPEPD, on July 13, 1965, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN AYCOX, JR., Civil Rights and Liberties Secretary, CPEPD, stated the NAACP has vowed to continue the demonstrations at Girard College until it is integrated. AYCOX indicated a meeting was being held that night at NAACP headquarters and that he would like to attend this meeting. AYCOX was instructed to attend this NAACP meeting. IRVING GOFF, national CP representative assigned to Philadelphia, also instructed AYCOX to attempt to influence CECIL MOORE, President, Philadelphia Branch, NAACP, to stage a large rally featuring well known speakers and entertainers. AYCOX left the DB meeting to attend the NAACP meeting but returned sometime later and reported the NAACP meeting was not held as scheduled and that no more meetings of this organization would be held until the end of the month.

On July 16, 1965, Confidential Informant PH T-2 advised that at a meeting of club organizers, CPEPD, held on July 15, 1965, IRVING GOFF announced a demonstration was scheduled to be held outside Girard College in Philadelphia, Pa., on Saturday, July 24, 1965, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. GOFF urged all members of the CPEPD, particularly the white members, to participate in this demonstration. He did, however, caution them not to publicly identify themselves as CP members.

On July 20, 1965, PH T-2 advised that at a meeting of the Trade Union Club, CPEPD, on July 19, 1965, the members of that club, especially the white members, were encouraged to participate in the NAACP demonstration at Girard College scheduled for Saturday, July 24, 1965. The members were also cautioned about identifying themselves as CP members.

On August 23, 1965, and August 30, 1965, PH T-2 advised that at a meeting of the Trade Union Club, CPEPD, held on August 22, 1965, IRVING GOFF, District Organizer, CPEPD, placed the blame for the riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles, Calif., on the white people. According to GOFF, the chief of police in Los Angeles is anti-Negro and was responsible for the acts of police brutality in that area.

GOFF stated the CP should take advantage of these riots wherever they occur, as they will eventually lead the United States to socialism. He explained that monopolistic capitalists will have to modify their capitalistic system in order to stop this type of rioting. This can be accomplished by creating more jobs and better housing. The CP will have to urge more jobs and better housing through the various anti-poverty organizations and groups. GOFF also indicated that there are other things the CP should do in this regard, but he said these would be discussed at a later date. GOFF further stated the Negroes cannot rightfully go abroad and fight when they have their own problems here at home. The United States should not be fighting for the freedom of the Vietnamese when some of its own people are not free.

On September 8, 1965, Confidential Informant PH T-3 advised that at a meeting of club organizers, CPEPD, held on August 26, 1965, IRVING GOFF, District Organizer, stated the civil rights organizations participated in their greatest struggle when they organized the March on Washington in 1963. This march had a profound effect on the civil rights bills now coming out of Washington and even laid the foundation for President JOHNSON's thinking on the War on Poverty. The passage of these bills in themselves would not bring full citizenship to the Negro people unless a struggle was developed by the CP organizations to implement these bills. At a recent convention of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), one of the more important issues discussed was peace. The Negro organizations realize we must have peace for without peace the struggle for full citizenship of the Negro people would become more difficult.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

(COMMUNISTS DIRECT INFLUENCE AND PARTICIPATION IN RACIAL DEMONSTRATIONS, DISTURBANCES, DRIVES AND SIMILAR ACTIVITIES WITH RACIAL OVERTONES)

A. MARTIN LUTHER KING'S VISIT TO PHILADELPHIA

On July 29, 1965, Confidential Informant PH T-4 advised that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, SCLC, was scheduled to appear in Philadelphia on August 2 and 3, 1965. According to this source, the proposed tour of KING to Philadelphia has caused several splits in the Negro community in Philadelphia. The Baptist ministers, Reverend LEON SULLIVAN and CECIL B. MOORE, President of the Philadelphia Branch, NAACP, all opposed Dr. KING's visit. This source indicated that opposition to KING's tour of Philadelphia was based on rivalries positions of leadership.

"The Philadelphia Inquirer," a local daily newspaper, on page 10, column four, of the July 30, 1965, issue carried an article entitled "Moore Assails Two Day Visit Here of Dr. King." This article indicated that MOORE blasted the planned Philadelphia visit of KING as an attempt by "the egghead white power structure" to divide local Negroes.

"The Evening Bulletin," a Philadelphia newspaper, in its issue of July 27, 1965, carried an article reflecting that MARTIN LUTHER KING would visit Philadelphia on Monday and Tuesday. This trip to Philadelphia was being sponsored by the "Philadelphia Committee for MARTIN LUTHER KING's Tour," 1521 West Girard Avenue. The chairman of this committee was listed as WILLIAM R. MEEK and Mrs. GOLDIE WATSON was listed as one of the many sponsors.

Bill Meek

PA

On March 6, 1957, PH T-5 advised that at a meeting of the Section Executive Committee, 32nd Ward Section, CPEPD, held on March 5, 1957, a discussion was held concerning the current status of the CPEPD. During this discussion, ARTHUR SCHWARTZ stated that BILL MEEK was recently transferred to a section in the Nicetown area of Philadelphia.

On January 25, 1965, PH T-6 advised that ARTHUR SCHWARTZ was Organization Secretary of the 47th-29th Ward Section, CPEPD.

On March 19, 1952, PH T-7 advised that GOLDIE WATSON was a member of the CP and Communist Political Association during the period 1940-1945.

On August 2, 1965, PH T-4 advised that about 900 people were present for the breakfast meeting with KING on this date. Mrs. GOLDIE WATSON presided over the meeting. KING spoke and stated that due to the help he had received in the South from northern people, he had come North to help the leaders of the civil rights movement, to lend his moral support, and to help raise funds for the local civil rights organizations.

This source also advised that KING conducted several street corner rallies in the West Philadelphia area and during the late afternoon attended a rally at Girard College.

B. ST. JOSEPH'S HOME FOR HOMELESS INDUSTRIAL BOYS, 16TH STREET AND ALLEGHENY AVENUE

On August 10, 1965, Confidential Informant PH T-8 advised that at a meeting of the Philadelphia Branch of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA), held on August 9, 1965, at the DuBois Club clubhouse, 3260 North Broad Street, SANDY PATRINOS stated that she and JARVIS TYNER had gone to the St. Joseph's Home on Thursday, August 5, 1965. They were cordially received by the manager, who stated he welcomed Negroes to the dances held there weekly. As a result of this, PATRINOS took credit for the DCA in integrating these previously all white dances.

A characterization of the DCA appears in the Appendix section of this report.

On July 21, 1965, PH T-1 advised that SANDY PATRINOS and JARVIS TYNER are members of the CPEPD.

On September 27, 1965, PH T-8 advised that at a meeting of the Philadelphia Branch of DCA held on September 24, 1965, SANDY PATRINOS led a discussion concerning the dances at St. Joseph's Orphanage. According to her, the DCA has sent Negro members to the dances which are held weekly at the orphanage. The Negro members have been admitted to the dances and there have been no incidents. PATRINOS has taken credit for integrating these dances.

C. SCLC CONVENTION,
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

On August 24, 1965, PH T-1 advised that MARION METELITS, a member of the District Board, CPEPD, attended the convention of SCLC held in Birmingham, Ala., on August 7-12, 1965. The expenses for this trip were paid by the National Office of the CPUSA but METELITS had to return to Philadelphia one day before the convention ended because she had not been granted sufficient funds. METELITS indicated she planned to travel to New York City to give a report on this convention to some of the leaders in the National Office of the CPUSA.

On October 5, 1965, the same source reported that MARION METELITS had traveled to New York City on September 24, 1965, to keep an appointment with GUS HALL, General Secretary, CPUSA, relative to her attendance at the SCLC convention. However, HALL was not in New York City at the time and METELITS thereafter met with HENRY WINSTON, Vice-Chairman, CPUSA.

D. NAACP DEMONSTRATIONS AT GIRARD COLLEGE

1. CPEPD

On July 9, 1965, PH T-1 advised that BENJAMIN FRANKLIN AYCOX, JR., had given a report on the Negro peoples movement at a meeting of the District Board, CPEPD, held on July 13, 1965. During this report, AYCOX stated a battle for civil rights was being waged by the individuals within the Party rather than the Party as an organization. As an example he cited a lack of Party participation in the picket demonstrations at Girard College. AYCOX stated he was the only active Communist in the NAACP, and he asked the local district of the Party to examine its members and their work in the civil rights field. During this discussion, AYCOX admitted that he himself has not taken an active part in the demonstrations at Girard College.

On July 26, 1965, Confidential Informant PH T-9 advised that on Saturday, July 24, 1965, nine members of the CPEPD participated in the picket line demonstration at Girard College, Philadelphia, Pa., in protest against alleged racial discrimination at that institution. An unidentified spokesman for the NAACP spoke over the public address system and stated the NAACP did not desire the support of the DCA, the Philadelphia Social Science Forum Committee (PSSFC), or the CP. He thereafter requested that members of these groups withdraw from the picket line. However, none of the participating CP members withdrew.

A characterization of the PSSFC appears in the Appendix section of this report.

On June 30, 1965, PH T-1 advised that MARION METELITS, a member of the District Board, CPEPD, had stated that she had mobilized a large group of CP members as well as progressive whites to participate in the picket line at Girard College. According to METELITS, several members were in the picket line on July 24, 1965, but when SOL ROTENBERG, a current CP member and Chairman of the PSSFC, appeared, the NAACP picket captain requested all members of the DCA, the PSSFC, and the CP to withdraw from the line. However, these people remained in line until the demonstrators dwindled.

This source further related that, according to METELITS, SANDY PATRINOS and JARVIS TYNER later went to the office of CECIL MOORE, President, Philadelphia Branch, NAACP, with the intention of telling him that they were willing to help him and that the attack on the DCA was unjustified. MOORE unleashed a verbal attack on them before they had a chance to speak and stated that Communists were not welcome at the picket demonstrations at Girard College and then emphasized that PATRINOS and TYNER should immediately leave his office.

On July 31, 1965, PH T-3 reported that DEBBIE AMIS, RITA "ROOKIE" GABOW, and STERLING ROCHESTER, all current members of the CPEPD, participated in the picket demonstration at Girard College on that date.

On August 3, 1965, PH T-6 advised that on August 1, 1965, RITA "ROOKIE" GABOW, a current member of the CP Youth, mentioned that approximately 13 members of the Party Youth Club and DCA participated in the picket demonstration at Girard College on July 31, 1965, and had encountered no difficulties.

The "Morning Freiheit" in its issue of August 3, 1965, on pages four and six, carried an article entitled "The Tumult in Philadelphia Against a Stronghold of Racism." This article concerned the situation at Girard College, which was founded in 1835 and which in his will STEPHEN GIRARD indicated that only poor white orphan boys could be admitted to this institution. According to this article, Negro youths have been denied the opportunity to attend this institution and as a result, since May 1, 1965, the Philadelphia Branch of the NAACP under the leadership of its President, CECIL MOORE, had been conducting a picket demonstration outside its walls. This demonstration has been met with police brutality. This article reflects that the justified struggle for the admittance of Negro boys to Girard College is developing further.

A characterization of the "Morning Freiheit" appears in the Appendix section of this report.

On August 30, 1965, PH T-6 advised that on August 29, 1965, SANDY PATRINOS, a leader of the CP Youth, stated that she, ROOKIE GABOW, ARLENE and JARVIS TYNER had attempted to participate in the NAACP-sponsored picket line at Girard College on Saturday, August 28, 1965; however, they had been "red baited" by some of the NAACP officials and ordered from the picket line.

On August 30, 1965, PH T-6 advised that all of the individuals mentioned above are current members of the CPEPD.

On September 22, 1965, PH T-1 advised he learned that at a meeting of the Philadelphia Branch of the NAACP held on about September 14, 1965, the subject mater of Communists participating in the Girard College picket line was discussed. Some of those present at the meeting resented the fact that individuals have been identified as Communists and ordered from the line. CECIL MOORE, President, NAACP, commented that this discussion must refer to the "white trash" and "that other guy" who visited him in his office recently and insisted on certain things being done on the line. MOORE stated he kicked these two Communits out of his office and stated he would not tolerate any Communists in the line at Girard College. According to MOORE, the Negroes do not need Communists and the Negro people, except for very few fools, have not accepted Communism and he would not permit them in the line. He further stated that if any Communists appear in the picket line at Girard College, he would remove them bodily from the demonstration.

2. DCA at Girard College

On August 30, 1965, Confidential Informant PH T-10 advised that at a meeting of the Philadelphia Branch of the DCA held on August 25, 1965, at the DCA clubhouse, 3260 North Broad Street, the main item on the agenda concerned ROOKIE GABOW. On August 24, 1965, GABOW claims she participated in a picket demonstration at Girard College but a leader of the NAACP asked the DCA people to leave the demonstration. As a result, ROOKIE GABOW claimed she left the area in her automobile and a policeman followed her, stopped her, and then searched her car allegedly looking for Communist literature.

On August 27, 1965, Lieutenant [redacted], Philadelphia Police Department, advised that SANDY PATRINOS, President of the Philadelphia Branch of the DCA, had advised the Police Department the DCA was holding a street meeting on August 28, 1965. b6 b7C

On August 28, 1965, Special Agents of the FBI observed a street meeting held at 17th and Westmoreland Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., beginning at 1:40 p.m. Participating in this street meeting were 13 individuals, including ARLENE and JARVIS TYNER, SANDY PATRINOS, and ROOKIE GABOW. Utilizing a speaker mounted on an automobile, JARVIS TYNER introduced himself as a "coordinator of the DuBois Club," and he urged listeners to sign a petition for immediate acceptance of Negro children to Girard College. He also urged listeners to join in a picket demonstration at Girard College following the street meeting.

At 3:10 p.m., four automobiles carrying about 12 individuals left the DCA clubhouse and proceeded in caravan fashion to Girard College. At Girard College a picket line was set up. Special Agents of the FBI observed that JARVIS TYNER and SANDY PATRINOS did not join the picket line and immediately left the area. However, ARLENE TYNER and ROOKIE GABOW participated in the picket line demonstration, which ended at 5:00 p.m.

On September 27, 1965, PH T-8 advised that at a meeting of the Philadelphia Branch of the DCA held on September 24, 1965, efforts were made to have the members join the picket demonstration at Girard College; however, after a short discussion, it was mentioned that those present had made other plans and were generally not available to join the demonstration.

3. Participation by POC and PFLJ in Vicinity of Girard College

Characterizations of the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) and the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice (PFLJ) appear in the Appendix section of this report.

On July 30, 1965, Lieutenant [redacted], Philadelphia Police Department, advised that SANDY SMITH and DOROTHY FEREBEE, members of the POC and PFLJ, were picked up by the Philadelphia Police Department on that date in the vicinity of Girard College, Philadelphia, Pa. Lieutenant [redacted] stated that in their car were 200 leaflets to be distributed on the evening of July 30, 1965, in the vicinity of Girard College. [redacted] stated these leaflets were taken to the Philadelphia Police Department and SMITH and FEREBEE were released without charge. These leaflets spoke of the "Girard College farce" and referred to CECIL B. MOORE as an "uncle tom." b6 b7C

PHILADELPHIA FIGHTERS FOR LIBERTY AND JUSTICE

On November 22, 1963, a source advised that the initial meeting of the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice (PFLJ) was held on October 1, 1963, at which time the meeting agreed to the selection of temporary officers.

At a meeting of the PFLJ on November 12, 1963, the organization president stated the purpose of the organization is to form a militant organization dedicated to struggle which shall seek the end to Negro oppression and exploitation in a realistic manner.

A two-page throw-away, dated November 20, 1963, self-identified as being issued by the PFLJ, states this organization came into being as the organized form for developing in Philadelphia the program of the National Congress on Equal Rights which was held August 31--September 1, 1963, in New York City.

On September 3, 1963, a second source advised that the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) held a National Congress on Equal Rights on August 31--September 1, 1963, in New York City.

A third source on May 17, 1965 advised that the PFLJ is currently active in Philadelphia and is controlled and dominated by the POC.

Dear Mr. Bryant:

Your letter of October 31st has been received.

With respect to your inquiry, I have commented generally about the attempts on the part of communists to infiltrate legitimate civil rights groups; however, I have not named any of these groups. As a result, I did not make the release you mentioned.

In connection with these matters, I am enclosing literature which I trust will be of interest to you.

Sincerely yours,

Honorable J. Edgar Hoover, Director

Dear Director Hoover:

If I recall accurately in one or more of your press releases you have indicated that there has been infiltration of Communists, or Communistic sympathizers, in both C.O.R.E. and Dr. King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

If the foregoing is true would you be so kind as to direct me as to where I might obtain copies of your remarks for presentation to the Official Board of the church of which I am a member.

It is my feeling that far too many of our citizens are entirely too complacent about the Communist threat to our society, and I should like, in my small way, to do what I may to alert as many as possible of my friends and acquaintances.

Your cooperation will be genuinely appreciated.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Action for Rights (AR) — ORGANIZATION

Formation

The "Oregonian" and the "Oregon Journal", Portland daily newspapers, on September 15, 1965, contained articles about a meeting, the preceding evening, in the Albina area, promoted by a new group calling itself "Action for Rights." The meeting was composed of about one hundred Negroes and whites and was led by one MEL SPENCER who stated that his group hopes to initiate mass protest among Negroes that would start investigation into charges of alleged police harrassment of Negroes. He charged that policemen who patrol the predominantely Negro section of Portland, Albina, volunteer for their assignment and are the prime sources of harrassment and actual brutality toward Negroes. "We want the police to treat us as people. In turn we would urge Negroes to cooperate with officials who represent law and order" SPENCER said. According to SPENCER his group has talked with the Mayor's Community Relations Committee, urging city officials to investigate alleged police harrassment. Several Negroes spoke to the gathering relating alleged instances of police harrassment or other injustices. They spoke of being stopped in their cars or on the street by Portland police and asked embarrassing questions and searched for identification. They charged that this occurred only because they were Negroes.

Among those present at the AR meeting on September 14, 1965, was DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST. HAMERQUIST suggested to the group that it might be necessary to follow the police when they are in the Negro community to see what they are up to.

PD T-2, 9/65

MELVIN SPENCER, in 1964-1965, regularly attended meetings of the Portland W.E.B. Du Bois Club (PDC) and took an active part in its projects including efforts to arouse concern in the Negro community over allegations of police brutality towards Negroes.

PD T-3, 1/65
PD T-4, 5/65

The PDC and W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America, (DCA), are described in the appendix attached hereto.

Officers and Headquarters

On October 17, 1965, PD T-1, made available a leaflet published by AR, which indicated that the AR organization is located at 3728 N. Commercial, Portland, and that meetings of the group are held there.

The above mentioned leaflet stated that on September 28, 1965, the following officers were elected:

President	MELVIN SPENCER
Chairman	MARY BERRY
Secretary	TED JORDAN
Treasurer	RAY RAPHAEL

PD 100-10580

SECRETARY of CP OREGON

THEODORE JORDAN, also known as Ted, was present at a CP meeting in Portland on September 11, 1965. Others present included RALPH NELSON, chairman, Oregon CP. JORDAN stated in regard to recruiting MEL SPENCER into the CP, that he had talked at length with SPENCER and that SPENCER could not be relied upon, in a crisis, to support the CP. JORDAN stated that SPENCER's major concern was racial issues and not with other CP issues. There was no other information which would indicate whether or not JORDAN was actually a CP member himself.

RAY V. RAPHAEL, whose address was shown to be [redacted], during October, 1965, was a subscriber to the [redacted] "People's World" (PW). b6 b7C

PD T-5, 10/4/65

The PW is a west coast communist newspaper.

TREASURER of CP Portland, Ore.

RAY RAPHAEL, a Reed College student, was among 25 persons, mostly students, present at a Political Affairs Club (PAC) meeting held on April 14, 1963, at 3721 S. E. 22nd Avenue, Portland, at which the main speaker spoke strongly against capitalism in the United States and said that peace was the only way the socialist countries can hope to win in the end in the struggle against capitalism.

PD T-3, 4/18/63

PAC and the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee (PYOC) are described in the appendix attached.

Purpose

The leaflet mentioned above stated that AR is growing so fast and beginning so many activities, that it must be better organized. On September 28, 1965, in addition to electing officers, AR decided to draw up a statement of principles and to decide upon a permanent structure for the group. The leaflet indicated that work was in progress on these matters.

The leaflet continued that "Action For Rights is continuing work on the problem of police brutality and harassment in the Ghetto. We need lots of help because the problem is so big, and because lots of people are afraid to speak up in public and say what they know to be true. Any information that you have on police brutality, police searchings homes without a warrant police using racist language, or police discriminating against Negroes should be brought up in the meeting and we will decide what can be done about it.

"We are asking that the NAACP the Urban League, and the Albina Ministers Association support our three demands on police conduct. These demands are for: 1) a public hearing in Albina, 2) frequent rotation of officers serving in Albina; and 3) for an elected review board in Albina to check on police conduct.

"Action For Rights still has copies of the leaflet telling what your legal rights are when you are stopped and questioned by the police. You can get them at the Freedom House."

Other Communist Connections

On October 3, 1965, BEN JACOBSON referred to a new group "Action for Rights" and indicated that the CP had some connection with this organization but he did not elaborate. JACOBSON stated that he was in contact almost every day with THEODORE JORDAN, a leader of AR.

PD T-6, 10/13/65

BEN JACOBSON was literature director of the Oregon CP during October, 1965.

PD T-2, 10/65

On September 28, 1965, at an AR meeting, DONALD HAMERQUIST was active but declined to accept any elective position.

PD T-1, 9/30/65

At an AR meeting on September 28, 1965, DON HAMERQUIST gave a report on a meeting of an AR committee concerned with police brutality.

HAMERQUIST said the group met with the Mayor who agreed to a public discussion of complaints of police brutality.

PD T-2, 10/1/65

Following an appointment made by RAY RAPHAEL, THEODORE JORDAN, DON HAMERQUIST and RAPHAEL were among others who attended a conference with Portland's Mayor TERRY SCHRUNK on September 22, 1965. JORDAN made a number of demands on the Mayor towards ending police brutality. HAMERQUIST cited several cases of alleged police brutality.

MEETING

7:30 Tuesday, Sept. 28, 3728 N. Commercial,

The ACTION FOR RIGHTS campaign to bring the police in Albina under control has been getting a lot of publicity in the newspapers and on television.

But it takes more than publicity to get things done. We have to get the people in Albina organized and working together before the power structure is going to pay any attention to us.

THIS IS WHAT WE WILL BE TALKING ABOUT AT THE MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT.

Last Wednesday, members from ACTION FOR RIGHTS went down to City Hall to talk about police conduct in Albina with Mayor Schrunk. We demanded three things:

1. That the City call a public meeting in Albina to see what the people think about this problem.
2. That all police in Albina be regularly rotated.
3. That the people of Albina elect a board that would have the power to regulate police conduct in that neighborhood.

The Mayor agreed to the first demand---he ignored the second demand---and he refused the third demand.

BUT WE CAN WIN THEM ALL, IF WE WORK AT IT.

There is a lot more that needs to be done in Albina. We want to get jobs that pay living wages opened up for Negroes in Portland. We want to get rent controls and to put pressure on landlords to maintain their property. We want to get welfare allotments at a level where people can live decently. We intend to make the so-called WAR ON POVERTY work.

A source advised on August 4, 1964, that the Portland W. E. B. DuBois Club (PDC), Portland, Oregon, was originated and organized during July, 1964, by DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST with the assistance of other youthful Communist Party (CP) members in the Portland, Oregon, area.

A second source advised on May 17, 1965, that DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST is Oregon CP state executive secretary and member of the Oregon CP state board.

The first source advised on August 4, 1964, that PDC is a Marxist-oriented youth organization active in the fight against racial discrimination, for peaceful coexistence between world powers and measures to combat the growing problem of unemployed youth. PDC is a chapter of W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) and operates within and is guided by the policies set forth in the constitution adopted June 21, 1964, at the DCA founding convention.

On May 17, 1965, a third source advised the PDC continues to function but has met only on an irregular basis in recent months.

PROGRESSIVE YOUTH ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

On February 9, 1961, a source advised that the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee (PYOC) was established at a national socialist-oriented youth conference held in Chicago, Illinois, December 30, 1960, through January 1, 1961. This conference was the result of a mandate issued by the National Executive Committee, Communist Party, USA, calling for a youth conference to establish an organizing committee whose objective would be to set up a national socialist-oriented youth organization. The conference scheduled a convention to be held within a year to found a new national socialist-oriented youth organization.

AARON COHEN, a member of the Communist Party from 1947 to 1957 and from December, 1961 to October, 1963, on June 18, 1962, advised it was reported at the meeting of the National Council of the PYOC held New York, New York, June 16, and 17, 1962, that although it had been planned to form a Marxist-oriented youth organization by the Fall of 1962, it would not be possible to form such an organization for the next few years.

On May 7, 1963, a second source advised the PYOC has its headquarters at 80 Clinton Street, New York, New York.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA

A source advised on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CP, USA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source had advised that the Founding Convention for the new youth organization was held during the period of June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of the organization, as set forth in the preamble to the constitution, are: "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful co-existence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternatives.

The constitution further states this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or, if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall, in turn, be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source advised in April, 1965, the headquarters of the organization continues to be located at 1953 ½ McAllister Street, San Francisco, California.

Both sources have advised that at the Founding Convention two officers were elected: Philip Chapin Davis - President; Carl Ellenger Bloice - Publications Chairman.

A third source advised on October 26, 1962, Philip Davis attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source advised that Carl Bloice, reporter for the "People's World," was, on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "People's World" is a west coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

DETAILS:

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

On August 21, 1965, WILLIAM TAYLOR, described by the informant as a Field Representative for the Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP), instructed the San Diego Communist Party in the procedure to be followed in the wake of recent rioting and racial unrest in Los Angeles and San Diego. He said a Defense Committee had been formed in Los Angeles and that the Los Angeles Communist Party was actively assisting those arrested in obtaining legal counsel. TAYLOR said the San Diego Communist Party should consider forming a Defense Committee and should prepare and distribute a leaflet playing up the racial and civil rights aspects of the unrest. He also suggested that the San Diego Communist Party raise money to help the Los Angeles committee.

(SD T-2, August 25, 1965)

At a SCDCP committee meeting on September 11, 1965, WILLIAM TAYLOR said that between 12,000 and 13,000 copies of the "Peoples World" (PW) had been sold in the WATTS area. He said that the issue sold was devoted to the riots, the activities of the police department, criticism of the Los Angeles Police Department Chief and similar articles.

TAYLOR said that the Communist Party would concentrate on relatives of the people arrested and try to get them interested in the Communist Party and subscribing to the "PW". He said he had attended some meetings with businessmen in the area and that there was a discussion of anti-Semitism on the part of the Negroes. He said they found there was some truth to this allegation and that some of the smaller Jewish merchants were believed to have exploited the Negroes in the conduct of their business.

(SD T-2, September 22, 1965)
(SD T-3, September 13, 1965)

On September 20, 1965, at a meeting of the San Diego Communist Party Club, LEE MAJOR, described by the informant as an active Communist Party member, gave a report on the Party's interest and participation in the WATTS riot, as disclosed to him at a SCDCP meeting on September 11, 1965.

(SD T-2, September 22, 1965)

"PW" is a West Coast Communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco.

B. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

At a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) meeting on August 24, 1965, LUDWIG GARTNER, described by the informant as Chairman of the San Diego branch SWP, announced that the Los Angeles SWP branch had told him it would send a speaker to San Diego to speak on the WATTS riot, if a request for such a speaker was made.

(SD T-4, September 2, 1965)

A characterization of the San Diego Branch of the SWP is set forth in the appendix.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. LOS ANGELES RACE RIOTS

At a Communist Party meeting on August 16, 1965, there was a discussion of the recent Los Angeles race riots and the racial disturbance in San Diego on August 15, 1965. Those present felt that the police in both areas had used poor judgment. They said that the riot in Los Angeles was predicted but nothing was done to prevent it.

(SD T-1, August 27, 1965)

On August 23, 1965, a leaflet was drafted which purported to show the Communist Party view on the Los Angeles race riots. This leaflet was to go out under the name of the "Freedom of the Press Committee", described by the informant as a name used by the San Diego Communist Party for its public meetings and the distribution of literature.

(SD T-2, August 27, 1965)

At a Communist Party meeting on August 31, 1965, there was a discussion of a leaflet entitled "It's Time To Act" prepared by the San Diego Communist Party concerning racial disturbances in Los Angeles and San Diego. The leaflet was mailed to approximately 100 persons whose names were taken from the Communist Party mailing list. The leaflet stated that the uprising had been misinterpreted by the press, radio and television, who had placed the blame solely on the Negro people and ignored the real causes. It listed as causes joblessness, poor housing and "misguided, corrupt foreign policy". Under a section entitled "What Must Be Done?", the leaflet listed the following:

1. Unemployed Negroes must have jobs. Push the "War on Poverty" program.

2. Improve homes and surroundings.

3. World peace. Stop the waste of war economy while unemployed Negroes go hungry waiting hopelessly for something to happen..... Demand our withdrawal from Viet Nam.

4. Establish a Citizens Review Commission to prevent inequitable treatment of Negroes who have been victimized by prejudices of city police.

The leaflet urged the recipients to write to the President, Congressmen and Senators and demand action from the Governor and Mayor.

SD 100-13295

At a Communist Party meeting on October 6, 1965, one of the members suggested that the Communist Party leaflet "Watts Upsurge , a Communist Appraisal", be mailed with the notice of a public Communist Party meeting on October 31, 1965, to be addressed by a Communist Party functionary from Los Angeles.

CALIF.

(SD T-3, October 7, 1965)

At a SWP public meeting on October 16, 1965, GEORGE DAVIS, introduced as a member of the SWP, discussed the WATTS riot in Los Angeles. He described incidents of alleged police brutality, stating that innocent people were arrested or shot on trumped up charges of looting and setting fires. During his speech, he made several references to the fact that the Negro revolt is leading to the 3rd American Revolution.

SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

(SD T-5, October 19, 1965)

B. STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY DEMONSTRATION

On August 4, 1965, ARTHUR STEVENS, described by the informant as an active Communist Party member, said that there would be a Students for a Democratic Society demonstration on August 7, 1965. He said that he would be there and he had asked JIM STONE, described by the informant as a Negro Communist Party member, to attend and bring some Negroes. He said that there have been very few Negroes participating in any activities in San Diego in recent months.

CALIF.

(SD T-3, August 4, 1965)

C. RACIAL DISTURBANCE IN SAN DIEGO, AUGUST 15, 1965

A reporter from the "PW" was in San Diego on August 20, 1965 to gather material for an article for the "PW" concerning the racial problems. The primary contact in San Diego was ARTHUR STEVENS.

(SD T-1, August 23, 1965)

On August 17, 1965, a "PW" reporter or writer was in San Diego to prepare a story on the racial disturbance in the Logan Heights area of San Diego on August 15, 1965. ARTHUR STEVENS suggested that JIM STONE take this person into the Logan Heights area. STONE told the writer what he had observed on the night of August 15, 1965. He mentioned the throwing of a Molotov cocktail in a grocery store at 30th and K Streets and the throwing of a trash can through a liquor store window on Imperial Avenue.

The article written by this "PW" writer appeared in the August 28, 1965 issue of the "PW".

D. CORE RALLY, OCTOBER 17, 1965

On October 17, 1965, there was a CORE rally at 30th Street and Oceanview Boulevard, San Diego. CHARLES JAQUES, LEE MAJOR, MORTIMER ALTMAN and ESTHER ALTMAN, described by the informant as active Communist Party members, were present at this rally.

II. Communist Tactics

A. Meeting of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MPDP), Washington, D. C., September 14, 1965

Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed the following activities of HUNTER PITTS O'DELL on September 13 and 14, 1965:

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~Group I~~
~~Excluded from automatic downgrading and declassification~~

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

O'DELL arrived in Washington, D. C., at 5:25 p.m. on September 13, 1965, and registered at a local hotel for two nights. On September 14, 1965, he met GEORGE B. MURPHY, Jr., who is in charge of the Advertising Department of the "Afro-American" newspaper in Washington, D. C. He spent about one hour with MURPHY in a cocktail lounge. After meeting with MURPHY, O'DELL entered the Lincoln Memorial Congressional Temple, 1701 11th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., at 4:10 p.m. He remained there until 5:04 p.m. Upon leaving the church, he then visited the offices of the "Afro-American" newspaper at 11th and S Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C. He returned to the Lincoln Memorial Congressional Temple at 8:14 p.m. and remained there until 9:27 p.m.

The Lincoln Memorial Congressional Temple was being used on September 14, 1965, as a focal point for the MFDP activity during their stay in Washington, D. C., to challenge the seating of the Congressional representatives from the State of Mississippi on the basis that Negroes were not allowed to vote during the election of these representatives. On the evening of September 14, 1965, an MFDP rally was conducted at the church.

On December 28, 1952, WF T-1 identified GEORGE B. MURPHY, Jr., as a Communist Party (CP) member in 1952.

In January, 1960, WF T-2 advised that GEORGE B. MURPHY, Jr., met with the CP District Leadership and offered the help of the "Afro-American" newspaper in electing a candidate for office in Baltimore whom MURPHY referred to as "our" candidate. MURPHY requested that he not be asked to attend [illegible] meetings with CP leaders because it was too risky.

In December, 1959, WF T-3 advised that HUNTER PITTS O'DELL was elected a member of the National Committee of the CP, USA, at the last national convention of the CP in December, 1959.

III. Communist Penetration and Influence in Racial and Other Organizations

"The Washington Evening Star," October 10, 1965, Page F8, contained an article reporting the death of MARCUS I. GOLDMAN. The article stated that in 1959 GOLDMAN appeared before the Senate Internal Security Sub-Committee and refused to acknowledge allegiance to the United States. When asked to affirm his allegiance to the United States, GOLDMAN called the question insulting and refused to answer further. He also invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to say whether or not he was a communist or was using a personal inheritance to support communist causes. The article advised that the family requested that expressions of sympathy be sent in the form of contributions to the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

WF T-4 advised on October 1, 1965, that at the time of GOLDMAN's death, ELIZABETH GOLDMAN, his wife, was the only person living with him.

On February 9, 1959, WF T-5 advised that MARCUS and ELIZABETH GOLDMAN were supporting the CP financially.

On June 25, 1964, WF T-4 advised that MARCUS GOLDMAN had recently referred to himself and his wife, ELIZABETH, as being communists.

The files of the NYO reflect that ARNOLD MICHAELIS has had contact with numerous Soviet-bloc officials and establishments in the furtherance of his business. According to NY 628-S*, MICHAELIS, on 6/26/63, conferred with DRAGO VUJICA of the Yugoslav Consulate concerning a movie he would be producing in Yugoslovia. (S) (U)

NY 3726-S*, advised that MICHAELIS in the past has had contact with KONSTANTIN G. FEDOSEEV, Senior Advisor for Political Affairs and MIKHAIL K. POLONIK, both located at the SMUN. In conjunction with the above contacts, it appeared that MICHAELIS was trying to line up an interview with Soviet Ambassador FEDERENKO. (S) (U)

On 5/27/63, NY 525-S* noted that MICHAELIS had extended to FEDERENKO an invitation to be guest at a luncheon held by a group of businessmen known as "We Believe". The aim of the group is to show its concern for the UN. (S) (U)

This letterhead memorandum is stamped "~~Secret~~" because it contains information from NY 4092-S*, a source who furnishes highly sensitive information about racial matters in the U.S. and the infiltration thereof; and because the documentation of STANLEY LEVISON contains a concentration of information from NY 694-S*. In view of the above, the "~~Secret~~" classification is deemed absolutely necessary.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. Levison's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. ~~(S)~~ (U)

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis: During September, 1965, members of Milwaukee Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP), spoke of plan to instigate demonstration against Allen-Bradley Co., Milwaukee, Wis., to protest "tokenism" in hiring practices. SWP distributed leaflet recommending that civil rights groups demonstrate against industrial commission for failure to take action against Allen-Bradley Co. SWP delayed any action against Allen-Bradley Co. until after Milwaukee school boycott, in which SWP planned to participate in October, 1965. SWP leader wrote letter to leader of boycott proposed for 10/18/65, favoring boycott and stating SWP would participate 100%. SWP set up Civil Rights Committee, function of which, according to member, was to get new members in civil rights organizations and use them as contacts for new members in SWP. Members of SWP volunteered to teach in "freedom schools" during school boycott. Members of SWP and Communist Party of Wisconsin (CPW) took part in demonstration called Milwaukee March Toward Freedom and Independence, held on 8/28/65. SWP members attempted to carry signs protesting U.S. involvement in war in Vietnam, but were stopped by demonstration leaders. They did carry signs quoting KARL MARX and MAO TSE-TUNG. CP and SWP members also took part in boycott of Milwaukee public schools, 10/18-21/65. No CPW members placed in

B. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

A characterization of the Milwaukee Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP), is contained in the appendix hereto.

During September, 1965, the members of the Milwaukee Branch of the SWP spoke of a plan to instigate a picket demonstration against the Allen-Bradley Company, 136 West Greenfield Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, protesting a hiring practice of the company, described as "tokenism" by the SWP. According to the SWP, the Allen-Bradley Company has hired only a small number of Negroes for the purpose of token compliance with the demands of civil rights groups.

In a leaflet signed by JAMES E. BOULTON, Chairman of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, issued May 30, 1965, and publicly distributed by the SWP, a recommendation was made that civil rights groups demonstrate against the Wisconsin State Industrial Commission, located in the State Office Building, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for failure to take action against Allen-Bradley. Civil rights groups were also urged to establish motorcades with job applicants to go directly to all-white plants throughout the whole city.

The SWP planned to take action against the Allen-Bradley Company sometime during September, 1965, and hoped to receive assistance from civil rights groups operating in Milwaukee.
(Source: MI T-1, September 7, 1965)

At a meeting of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on September 19, 1965, MYRTLE KASTNER of the SWP lead the discussion. Part of her discussion concerned taking some direct action against the Allen-Bradley Company to force that company to hire more Negroes.
(Source: MI T-2, September 29, 1965)

The Milwaukee Branch, SWP, plans to participate in a school boycott which is to take place in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, from October 18 to 22, 1965. Because of this participation, the SWP has delayed implementing their picket demonstration against the Allen-Bradley Company until some time after the school boycott is completed. (Source: MI T-1, October 11, 1965)

At a meeting of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, held on September 26, 1965, a Civil Rights Committee was elected, consisting of MYRTLE KASTNER, RUBEN HALE, FLORENCE KIRKLAND and JUAN GONZALES, all members of that branch. During the meeting, JAMES BOULTON, who was named that night as Organizer for the Milwaukee Branch, stated that he had written a letter to LLOYD BARBEE, saying that the SWP was in favor of a school boycott proposed for October 18, 1965, and would participate 100 per cent in the boycott. He told the group that all SWP members must participate one way or another in the boycott. MYRTLE KASTNER telephoned FLORENCE KIRKLAND, who was not present at the meeting, and FLORENCE KIRKLAND said she was unable to serve on the Civil Rights Committee because of other commitments.
(Source: MI T-3, September 29, 1965)

LLOYD A. BARBEE, Wisconsin State Assemblyman from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was identified in the August 28, 1965, issue of the "Milwaukee Sentinel", a daily newspaper of general circulation in the Milwaukee area, as Chairman of the Milwaukee March Toward Freedom and Independence held on August 28, 1965.

BARBEE was identified in the September 17, 1965, issue of the same newspaper as Chairman of the Milwaukee United School Integration Committee (MUSIC). This issue stated that MUSIC had just announced that a school boycott would begin on October 18, 1965, to protest alleged racial discrimination in the Milwaukee schools.

The first meeting of the Civil Rights Committee of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, was held at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on October 3, 1965. At this meeting, MYRTLE KASTNER stated that one of the functions of the committee would be to get new members in the civil rights organizations and then to use them as contacts to get new members into the SWP.
(Source: MI T-3, October 19, 1965)

At a meeting of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, held on September 26, 1965, MYRTLE KASTNER reported on a meeting of MUSIC held on September 25, 1965. She stated the group had decided that the school boycott scheduled for October 18, 1965, would commence on that date, but did not decide on the duration of the boycott. She stated that Headquarters of MUSIC would be open starting on September 27, 1965, to accept volunteers to work during the boycott week. MYRTLE KASTNER stated that she had also attended a meeting of CORE on September 26, 1965. She stated that CORE would support the boycott.

During the meeting, the following SWP members volunteered to act as teachers in the "freedom schools" during the boycott period:

JAMES BOULTON, MYRTLE KASTNER, ELAINE GOODREAU and FLORENCE KIRKLAND. WISC.

It was also decided that the SWP would send a letter to all sympathizers of the SWP, asking them to back the boycott.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. MILWAUKEE MARCH TOWARD FREEDOM AND INDEPENDENCE, AUGUST 28, 1965

"The Milwaukee Journal", a daily newspaper of general circulation in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, area, issue of August 29, 1965, contains an article entitled, "Hundreds in Orderly Rights Rally." This article states that a march and rally, sponsored by the Milwaukee March Toward Freedom and Independence Committee, composed of more than 50 civil rights, church, welfare, fraternal and civic organizations took place in Milwaukee on August 28, 1965. It states that a reporter counted 800 persons in the march, about one-fourth of whom were white. The march, orderly but noisy with freedom songs and civil rights chants, followed a 3.7 mile route from the Lloyd Street School, 1228 W. Lloyd Street, through the city's near north side to McArthur Square. The rally featured speeches by Negro comedian DICK GREGORY, and Mrs. FANNIE LOU HAMER, representative of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party. It lasted more than two hours after the one and one-half hour march ended. The article continues that the purpose of the demonstration was to WISC. WISC. WISC.

commemorate the second anniversary of the historic civil rights march on Washington, D. C.

The article says that the march started at the Lloyd Street School playground after members of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) caused consternation among march leaders by carrying signs protesting United States involvement in the war in Vietnam. The march leaders insisted that they be removed. The article relates that one of the march marshals told JAMES E. BOULTON, 2656 South Kinnickinnic Avenue, the SWP chairman, "We're asking you to remove the signs because it (the Vietnam war) is not pertinent to the situation here today." The article states that after discussion, the Socialists removed the Vietnam signs, but continued to carry signs quoting Socialist and Communist philosopher KARL MARX and MAO TSE-TUNG, Chinese Communist Party chairman. According to the article, the SWP members said they also passed out 2,000 handbills calling for support of an organization formed to defend Pfc. WINSTEL BELTON, a former Milwaukee Negro soldier charged with trying to avoid duty in Vietnam by going on a hunger strike. The article states that the marchers were, in turn, picketed by about 30 persons whose picketing was sponsored by an organization called the Los Angeles Memorial Committee, an organization formed "to protest the riots and anarchy that seem to have gripped the nation." These pickets carried signs saying, "Is This Another Communist Controlled Demonstration?" According to the article, they left shortly after the rally started, and there were no incidents.

A source advised that the following persons were observed participating in the above-mentioned demonstration:

JOHN GILMAN, member of the State Board of the Communist Party of Wisconsin (CPW);
ALLAN SHAW, member of the State Board of the CPW;
NENA BETH SHAW, wife of ALLAN SHAW;
SIGMUND EISENSCHER, member of the State Board of the CPW;
MICHAEL EISENSCHER and JUDITH EISENSCHER, son and daughter of SIGMUND EISENSCHER;

AGNES SLATER, close associate of members of the CPW;

INGRID BUXTON, daughter of JAMES BUXTON, deceased former member of the State Board of the CPW;

LILLIAN ONDREJKA, close associate of CP members in Wisconsin;

DENNIS CIESIELSKI, Chairman of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Student-Faculty Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

In addition to the persons listed above, this source also observed the following persons participating in the demonstration:

B. BOYCOTT OF MILWAUKEE PUBLIC SCHOOLS
OCTOBER 18 through 22, 1965

An article appearing in "The Milwaukee Journal" on September 12, 1965, stated that a meeting of the Milwaukee United School Integration Committee (MUSIC), was held on September 11, 1965. The article stated that members of the press who were in attendance at the meeting were requested to leave at the time the group discussed the setting of a date for a boycott of Milwaukee public schools in protest of de facto segregation which MUSIC and other civil rights organizations claim exists in the Milwaukee public schools.

At the meeting of MUSIC, held on September 11, 1965, it was decided that the boycott of Milwaukee schools would begin on October 18, 1965, and continue until October 22, 1965. It was further decided that if the boycott was considered successful, it would possibly be extended to two weeks.
(Source: MI T-2, September 12, 1965)

A boycott of Milwaukee public schools, protesting de facto segregation, commenced on October 18, 1965. The boycott was lead by MUSIC, but several other civil rights organizations participated in it. Approximately 7500 students were absent from Milwaukee public schools on the first day of the boycott, but this figure dropped to approximately 4000 absentees as a result of the boycott on October 20, 1965. MUSIC planned to end the boycott at the close of the day, October 21, 1965. Comedian DICK GREGORY will be in Milwaukee on October 21, 1965, and will participate in a rally planned to be held at the Milwaukee Public School Administration Building, 5225 West Vliet Street, that day.

About 300 persons picketed the residence of Attorney JOHN F. FOLEY, President of the Milwaukee School Board, on October 18, 1965. About 180 persons picketed the residence of Milwaukee School Superintendent HAROLD S. VINCENT on October 20, 1965, and about 350 persons picketed the residence of Milwaukee Mayor HENRY MAIER on October 19, 1965. The picketing of these persons was part of the boycott. It was orderly and the pickets dispersed at 10:00 p.m., upon police orders since there were young juveniles in the picket line.

All activity in connection with the boycott has been orderly and without incident.
(Source: MI T-5, October 21, 1965)

At a meeting of CORE, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on September 19, 1965, MYRTLE KASTNER of the SWP, lead the discussion. Part of her discussion concerned a school boycott to be held from October 18 to 22, 1965.
(Source: MI T-2, September 29, 1965)

At a meeting of CORE on September 26, 1965, MYRTLE KASTNER was the foremost speaker. She made a motion to extend the school boycott, if necessary. The members of CORE voted unanimously to support the boycott. It was stated, at this meeting, that LLOYD BARBEE was using the boycott as a lever to force desegregation in the schools, and would call off the boycott if the school board would take the action he desired.
(Source: MI T-2, September 29, 1965)

A meeting of MUSIC was held on October 2, 1965, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to plan for the coming school boycott. It was stated at the meeting that "freedom schools" would be set up to circumvent the law by having the absent pupils attend some form of school. It was stated that, at that time, the proposed "freedom schools" could accomodate 12,000 students. Plans were announced to have a prayer vigil at the Milwaukee School Board Building for three days previous to the boycott, that is, from the 15th to the 18th of October. This vigil is to run 24 hours per day. Among those present at the meeting was MYRTLE KASTNER. (Source: MI T-2, October 5, 1965)

A meeting of MUSIC was held on October 16, 1965, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. There were about fifty persons present, including MYRTLE KASTNER, JOHN GILMAN and his wife. The purpose of the meeting was to assemble pamphlets to be distributed during the school boycott.
(Source: MI T-2, October 18, 1965)

ALBERT STERGAR, RICHARD CRAWFORD and JAMES BOULTON, all members of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, taught in "freedom schools" during the boycott of Milwaukee schools from October 18 to 21, 1965.
(Source: MI T-1, October 22, 1965)

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

As of October, 1965, the Communist Party of Wisconsin (CPW) had placed no members in any racial organizations. From time to time, members of the CPW have participated in various demonstrations by some of these groups, and have assisted in some of the preparations for such demonstrations, but none have had any leadership roles in the demonstrations. Such participation has been on an individual basis, and not as a group effort.
(Source: MI T-4, October 21, 1965)

The following members of the Milwaukee Branch of the SWP were, as of October, 1965, members of the civil rights organizations indicated below:

Congress of Racial Equality (CORE): MYRTLE KASTNER and FLORENCE KIRKLAND.

Negro-American Labor Council (NALC): MYRTLE KASTNER, FLORENCE KIRKLAND, WAYNE LEVERENZ and JAMES BOULTON.

Milwaukee United School Integration Committee (MUSIC): BETSY STERGAR, FLORENCE KIRKLAND and MYRTLE KASTNER.

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP): Most members of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, belong to this organization.

The Milwaukee Branch, SWP, has consistently supported the programs of the various civil rights organizations, and MYRTLE KASTNER has been very active in MUSIC and CORE, constantly pushing for direct action to bring about integration.

GUS HALL stated KING's position is for mass meetings, mass mobilizations and mass protests and these should be seen as a foundation to be built upon. XX (U)

HENRY WINSTON and WILLIAM L. PATTERSON attacked GREEN's position. WINSTON said GREEN's position that the federal government will act (in civil rights struggles) only if a few more whites are killed, is totally wrong. He said Negroes have rejected this position and they understand the need for unity to achieve their ends. PATTERSON said the Party has never subordinated its position to the position of KING and it is not giving KING the leadership of this movement in America. XX (U)

PATTERSON continued, saying that to reject KING at this moment would be the same as rejecting the entire development of the mass movement. At this time, PATTERSON referred to a document saying it has distorted DU BOIS' position (W.E.B. DU BOIS) who never embraced the role of JOHN BROWN. PATTERSON called for a meeting of the Negro Commission to discuss the matter. XX (U)

It is reported on page three that one Susan Clippinger was arrested in connection with a racial demonstration and that her parents are Dorothy and Richard Clippinger. It was then reported on page four that Susan Clippinger, according to a recent newspaper article, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F Clippinger, [redacted]. It is then stated that according to information obtained in 1946, the name "Richard F. Clippinger (Dorothy), [redacted]" was in the diary and address book of an espionage agent. There is no showing that the Clippingers of [redacted] (apparent parents of Susan) are the same individuals having an association with an espionage agent. It would have been well to have shown this tie in to further solidify the subversive information evident.

Considerable of rerep is devoted to the characterizations of individuals having subversive backgrounds. It is believed that some of these characterizations are too lengthy. Examples appear on pages six - seven (Monica Klein); seven - eight (Victor Lewis); and twelve - thirteen (Nina Wax). This matter has been the subject of prior correspondence with your office. Please make every possible effort to keep characterizations as succinct as possible.

Reference is made to Seattle quarterly report of Special Agent Fred G. Cook, 10/29/65.

In justifying the classification of referenced report as ~~confidential~~, reference was made to the continuing value of T-1 through T-22 and the possible compromise of the future effectiveness of these sources. It is noted that T-8 is a deceased former informant; T-16 is a former Potential Security Informant; and that T-18 is a former informant. It would appear that these three sources should not have been included in the justification. Insure that in the future justification for classification is completely accurate.

Page 25 contains an Appendix characterization of the Seattle Branch, Socialist Workers Party. There is no statement in the details indicating that a characterization of this group is contained in the Appendix. It is noted, however, that a mention is made on page 9 of the details, by way of a subheading, of the Socialist Workers Party. No positive information is reported for this organization and only a statement "No information developed" appears under this subheading. In the future, use the statement "No information developed" only for main headings denoted by Roman numerals. See original Bureau instructions contained in Bureau letter to all offices dated 8/28/64.

MAILED 11 NOV 8 1965 COMM-FBI

On page 11 reference was made to the "Congress on Racial Matters (CORE)." This should have read "Congress of Racial Equality." Correction made at Bureau. No corrective action necessary relative to copies disseminated by your office.

The contents of instant communication should be brought to the attention of Special Agent Cook and the Supervisor who approved referenced report, for their future guidance in the preparation of reports in instant and similar matters.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CPUSA)

(1) Southern California District, Communist Party (SCDCP)

(a) Watts Concentration

LA T-1 (8/3/65)

On July 26, 1965, a meeting of section committee members of the Moranda Smith Section (MSS) included a discussion on the implementation of the concentration by the MSS in the Watts area of Los Angeles, which is a predominately Negro area. It was suggested that the youth members of the MSS be urged to take part in various projects in the Watts area and it was learned that the youth comrades were actually waiting to be informed of the best place to work. The section committee agreed to schedule its meetings only once a month so that more time would be available for attendance of the members at mass meetings. (U)

LA T-2 (8/5/65)

As a part of the MSS concentration program in the Watts area it was announced by ROSE CHERNIN, a member of the West Adams Club, MSS, and executive secretary of the Los Angeles Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, during a meeting held August 2, 1965, that two transfers of CP members from the West Adams Club to the Watts Club of the MSS had been made. The transferees were described as good workers who would be good for the Watts Club. It was pointed out that a good deal of the money from the Anti-Poverty Program spent in Los Angeles would be designated for the Watts area and the CP wanted to exercise as much influence as possible in Watts.

 ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

LA T-3 (9/2/65)

At a meeting of the section committee of the MSS on August 23, 1965, following the riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles (see section II, Communist Tactics), three additional persons were transferred to the Watts CP Club to further implement the Party's concentration program there. (U)

(b) Negro Leadership Conference, University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) (8/27 - 29/65) (U)

LA T-3 (7/28/65)

At a meeting of the section committee, MSS, SCDCP, held July 26, 1965, ERNIE SMITH, a member of the section committee, announced that a California Negro Leadership conference would be held at UCLA August 27 - 29, 1965, sponsored by representatives of UCLA and the State of California. ROSE CHERNIN proposed that the MSS send two persons, including a representative of the MSS youth club, to this conference and that the section pay the expenses of these representatives. (U)

LA T-3 (8/27/65)

At a meeting of the Aaron Johnson Club, MSS, held on August 18, 1965, the club expressed an interest in sending an additional CP member to the Negro Leadership Conference. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

but since the club had no funds to reimburse their representative the representative would use his own funds and be reimbursed by the club as soon as possible. (U)

LA T-4 (8/27/65)

At a meeting of the South Central Club, MSS, held August 19, 1965, a member of the club was selected by vote to be a delegate to the UCLA Leadership Conference. (U)

LA T-5 (9/3/65)

At a meeting of the South Central Club, MSS, held September 1, 1965, a report was given concerning the recent Negro Leadership Conference held at UCLA. The main topic of this conference was the situation in the Watts area of Los Angeles and the causes of the riots. Approximately 250 people attended the conference and WILLIAM TAYLOR, Vice-Chairman, SCDCP, was one of those who attended. (U)

CP - Calif William C. Taylor

LA T-6 (10/15/65)

of CP - Calif

At a MSS section meeting held September 27, 1965, BILL TAYLOR and BEN DOBBS, Executive Secretary, SCDCP, led a discussion on the recent UCLA Leadership Conference. DOBBS, who had not attended, was interested in a comment that many of the speakers had mentioned a "need for a change in the social structure" in the United States and DOBBS wondered if they were in effect calling for a socialist type of government. He was assured that these remarks referred more to an Utopian type of welfare state. (U)

BILL TAYLOR, who attended the conference, praised it in comparison with previous conferences at UCLA in that the conference passed a number of resolutions, a thing not done in previous conferences. TAYLOR also felt that any meaningful gains by the CP in the field of civil rights would have to be made through the professional leaders of the Negro community. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Source advised that several SCDCP members were "delegates" to this conference but that they actually attended as private citizens and their CP connection was unknown to the sponsors of the conference and undesired by those sponsors. (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

(2) CP Youth Matter

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

LA T-20 (8/3/65)

A policy making and evaluating conference of the Youth Section, SCDCP, was held from July 9 to July 11, 1965. One of the topics discussed at this conference was "The Fight for Negro Freedom." During the discussion it was alleged that capitalism originated racism, and that racism, to the extent and degree which it is known in the world today, was made, promoted and kept alive by capitalism.

A further discussion was held as to whether the Negro freedom movement could be called revolutionary in regard to its methods and goals. No definite consensus of opinion was obtained on this subject. A discussion was also held as to whether capitalism can survive if demands of the freedom movement are granted. It was decided that capitalism could survive but that it would be radically changed if all demands were met. It was agreed that the CP should not promote Black Nationalism as such.

LA T-6 (8/6/65)

At a meeting of the Medgar Evers Club, Moranda Smith Section, SCDCP, on August 3, 1965, a report was given on a meeting of the Section and the Watts CP Club and it was decided that the Section could possibly work in the Negro area of Watts through organizations formed after the recent Negro riots there, such as the Watts Clean-up Committee. It was also pointed out the Section desired to try to bring the youth of Watts into the Du Bois Clubs. (U)

(3) W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs

LA T-20 (8/3/65)

At a meeting of the Central Los Angeles Du Bois Club on July 13, 1965, it was announced that CORE had requested that the Du Bois Clubs help in picketing in Pasadena on July 18, 1965, to protest alleged de facto segregation in schools in Pasadena.

LA T-20 (8/3/65)

A picket line sponsored by CORE was held on July 18, 1965, at 732 North Orange Grove Avenue, Pasadena, California, protesting alleged de facto segregation in the Pasadena School system. The Los Angeles Du Bois Clubs supported and participated in this demonstration.

LA T-20 (8/27/65)

An emergency meeting of the Los Angeles area Du Bois Clubs was held on August 15, 1965, at No. 5 Dudley Street, Venice, California. A discussion was held concerning the current Negro riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles. It was decided that the Du Bois Clubs would attempt to gather food and money to send to the Negroes in the riot area. The Du Bois Clubs were also to prepare a pamphlet setting forth what they considered to be the true facts of the riot, and accusing the police of brutality in connection with the riots.

LA T-15 (8/31/65)

A meeting of the West Los Angeles Du Bois Club was held on August 24, 1965, and a discussion was held concerning the recent Negro riots in South Los Angeles, and how to take advantage of the riots in regard to recruitment, the campaign against police brutality, and protests against the war in Vietnam.

LA T-31 (8/25/65)

A meeting of the Central Los Angeles Du Bois Club was held August 24, 1965, and it was announced that the Du Bois Clubs were working with the Southside Citizens Defense Committee to help the Negroes who were arrested during the Watts riots. Du Bois Club members were asked to sign a roster as to when they could work at the Committee headquarters.

LA T-31 (8/31/65)

A meeting of the Area Council, Los Angeles Du Bois Clubs, was held August 29, 1965, at No. 5 Dudley Street, Venice, California. It was announced at this meeting that the Central Los Angeles Du Bois Club was working with the Southside Citizens Defense Committee and had loaned the Committee a mimeograph machine.

LA T-32 (9/3/65)

This source made available information that the Los Angeles Du Bois Clubs were attempting to take advantage of the recent Negro riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles to build a large Negro Du Bois Club in that area. According to this source, the Du Bois Clubs were preparing a pamphlet on the riots which accused the police of brutality. Teams of Du Bois Club members were organized to go into the Watts area and interview people to obtain depositions on police brutality.

CONFIDENTIAL

LA T-33 (9/29/65)

The South Los Angeles Du Bois Club has been reactivated in the Negro area of South Los Angeles and has offices at 103rd and Compton Avenue. The Club will attempt to take advantage of the unrest in Watts as a result of the recent riots.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

(4) Southside Citizens Defense Committee (SSCDC)

LA T-7 (9/21/65)

After the outbreak of the riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles, HURSEL ALEXANDER contacted DOROTHY HEALEY, SCDCP Chairman and BEN DOBBS, SCDCP Executive Secretary, in an attempt to organize the defense of those who had already been arrested during the riots. As a result, on Monday August 16, 1965, he went to to the office of the Los Angeles Committee for Protection of Foreign Born (LACPFB), (also known as the Los Angeles Committee for the Defense of the Bill of Rights and the Protection of Foreign Born) for ROSE CHERNIN, the Executive Secretary, who was on vacation. He attempted to contact attorneys utilized by the LACPFB but none of the employees of the LACPFB office were able to help him. On the day following he utilized the LACPFB office as headquarters for the new SSCDC and the SSCDC evolved as a part of the LACPFB.

LA T-8 (6/7/65)

HURSEL ALEXANDER was a current member of the Aaron Johnson Club, MSS, SCDCP. (U)

LA T-3 (9/2/65)

At a section committee meeting, MSS, held August 23, 1965, it was learned that the CP had set up a defense committee to aid the Negro people and pay for legal defense for those who needed it. The headquarters of this committee, the SSCDC, were in the offices of the LACPFB in downtown Los Angeles and the new organization was actually a part of the LACPFB. (U)

LA T-9 (9/25/65)

The SSCDC was organized in meetings held at the Los Angeles office of the LACPFB on August 26, 27, and 28, 1965.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

HURSEL ALEXANDER was designated the acting director with headquarters at the LACPFB office. He appeared on Los Angeles radio station KLAC on August 25, 1965, and said that the goal of the SSCDC was to organize the relatives of the persons arrested as well as those arrested in the Los Angeles riots in order to demand special efforts on the part of the government to defend the rights of these people. The radio station documented HURSEL ALEXANDER as a communist, basing their documentation upon public records of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA).

LA T-5 (9/3/65)

ROSE CHERNIN had been designated General Chairman of the SSCDC. (U)

LA T-8 (9/7/65)

HURSEL ALEXANDER was currently acting as Executive Director of the SSCDC and was preparing a press release outlining the objections by Negroes to the slow court proceedings in connection with the arrests in the Los Angeles riots. The United Civil Rights Committee (UCRC), a local civil rights organization through which all civil rights work is channelled in the Los Angeles area had informed the SSCDC that it was wasting its time continuing research on those arrested in the riots and that their procedure was not good. HURSEL ALEXANDER refused to turn his information over to the Los Angeles County Bar because he felt that they were too reactionary. Instead he tried to get two persons to call the UCRC office and pretend to be arrestees in order to give information to UCRC "because they are the ones with all the attorneys". HURSEL ALEXANDER was discourged since SSCDC had two hundred cases and no attorneys. (U)

LA T-10 (9/9/65)

At a special meeting of SCDCP members concerned with the Los Angeles riots and held on September 7, 1965,

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

with ROBERT THOMPSON (deceased) of New York present, HURSEL ALEXANDER stated that the recent riot was a good chance for the Party to do something and that the SSCDC was just the thing that the CP members could rally around and make a definite impression on the Negro community. ALEXANDER said that this would enable the Party to get new members. He said that the SSCDC was having trouble finding attorneys for all the defendants and found that Negro lawyers did not like having white lawyers assigned these cases since the Negro lawyers saw this as an opportunity to make money. He said that many Party people promised to do work in the organization but only a few had showed up. He said that the arty analysis of the position of the Negro people at its last convention had been wrong and should be changed again to the theory of having a separate Negro nation.

DOROTHY HEALEY, however, pointed out that she had observed many party people working in the SSCDC office and that HURSEL ALEXANDER had no way of knowing who they were, especially the youth.

LA T-11 (4/23/65)

ROBERT THOMPSON, District Organizer of the New York District CP, was a current member of the New York District Committee. C (U)

LA T-12 (5/16/62)

ROBERT THOMPSON was elected Active Secretary of the CP USA at a meeting of the National Executive Committee on May 13, 1962. C (U)

LA T-13 (9/15/65)

At an enlarged Executive Board meeting of the LACPFB held September 8, 1965, HURSEL ALEXANDER thanked all present for their help in working for the SSCDC. He stated that the C (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

LACPFB office was used and is being used to secure legal aid for those Negroes arrested during the riots. He thanked the LACPFB for their financial contributions, rental payments, telephone and other expenses when it became necessary to open an office in the Watts area. He stated that it was apparent that the Negro people did not want to be associated with an organization of white people such as the LACPFB and that they refused to come to the LACPFB office. The SSCDC was therefore establishing an office in Watts. (U)

(5) Los Angeles Committee for the Defense of the Bill of Rights and the Protection of Foreign Born (LACDBRPFB)

LA T-7 (9/21/65)

On September 15, 1965, the LACDBRPFB held a work shop on the Watts riots in the LACDBRPFB office in Los Angeles. Those in attendance were members of the LACDBRPFB and some of them objected, without success, to the aid given by the LACDBRPFB to Negro organizations in the Watts area.

(B) OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

(1) Communist Party, USA, Marxist-Leninist (CP,USA, M-L)

LA T-36 (8/16/65)

In mid-August, 1965, MIKE LASKY stated he was contemplating violating Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) orders not to attempt to exploit the Los Angeles riot. He said, as Marxists, the Los Angeles POC (LAPOC) should give physical leadership to the rioters and should be providing inspired scientific leadership in sniping, looting, and setting of fires.

LA T-36 (8/20/65)

MIKE LASKY and ARNOLD HOFFMAN, both POC members, had been in the riot area of Los Angeles on August 16, 1965, and everyday thereafter. While in the riot area, contacts were made with individuals, not further identified, therein. As of August 20, 1965, LASKY stated he intended to cause a split within the POC at that time instead of waiting until later as he previously intended to do. He stated he was confident of the support of individuals contacted within the riot area and would attempt to recruit them into his own organization rather than into the POC.

LA T-36 (9/9/65)

The main CP, USA, M-L emphasis was the setting up of an armed para-military group of young men. The source stated he did not know where the arms were to come from and that, as of September 9, 1965, no one had been contacted to become a member of the para-military group.

LA T-14 (10/18/65)

MICHAEL LASKY, member of the CP, USA, M-L, held a press conference on October 7, 1965, in which he announced that he was acting as a representative of the CP of the USA, M-L. He outlined the development of this group and referred to the riots in Harlem in 1964 describing them as a forerunner to the riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles. He stated that his organization, then known as the Provisional Organizing Committee, was present during the Harlem riots but made the mistake of withdrawing from that situation. He continuted in part:

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"With regard to what developed here in Watts, members of the Provisional Organizing Committee, who had particular view of the struggle as remaining hidden from the struggle itself, in other words, removing themselves from the view of the press and authorities for fear of the distortion of the press and the authorities, again existed as a result of the uprising in Watts that we be withdrawn from the situation and no public statements be made. As an outgrowth of this particular opportunistic bend or approach to the question, this caused a severe dislocation within the Provisional Organizing Committee and to realize the forces, so that within a short period of time, less than a month, the Marxist-Leninist elements within the Provisional Organizing Committee, other revolutionary elements in the nation met in L.A. at a secret meeting on September 4th and 5th to reconstitute and re-establish the Communist Party and break with all revisionist trends representing the ideology of the Khrushchvite group and Kosygins and the Brezhneves and all other representatives of opportunism in this country.....

"....the essential and basic factor has been overlooked, and only barely touched on by the press. I think the 'San Francisco Chronicle' is the best example of attempting to deal with the question. They essentially described the uprising as a class question, and this is the essential truth that has been missed and has not been reported accurately in the press. Uprising in the Watts situation was not in itself and cannot be relegated as a Negro question. It is essentially and basically a class question with Negroes holding that section of the class participating in the disturbance in the Watts area. Now to make the point quite clear, no more poverty funds put forward by the reactionary Johnson Administration can resolve the question of the Watts uprising or prevent similar uprisings of this sort from occurring, because to prevent them from occurring you have to go to the basic source of difficulty and that is the capitalistic system in this country. You cannot eliminate proverty in this country under the present system. That has been proven as a fact and there will be no administration that can achieve that end....

CONFIDENTIAL

"..... Why can you have a Watts in the midst of American prosperity, in the midst of American boom? You can have a Watts situation because there are basic contradictions that exist in the society and which the administration is trying to cover over but cannot effectively be covered over.

"One thing that we found very interesting that happened in Watts and the way in which the press and the government dealt with the question of Watts. They did not quite know what to do with the situation. They were a little bit embarrassed at being caught with their pants down, if I may make such a reference. This is precisely what occurred.

".....The whole question was distorted as a race question and built into a race question. Built the entire situation into White against Black and this essentially was a complete distortion of basic politics and the basic real situation that existed in the Watts area. This was not White against Black. This was not a racial situation. It was converted and turned into a racial situation by the ruling class and by the press of this country. It was reported in that light and essential evaluation of the questions of the relationships indicates only one thing, this was a struggle for equal rights, a struggle for equality, a struggle for the eliminations of gross inequalities that existed in the Watts district and throughout the black belt in L. A.

"..... Now, what was the role of the communists, the Marxist-Leninists, in the Watts situation? We have been in the Watts area for better than two years. We have been working in the Watts district as our primary area of concentration. And this was selected prior to our entrance into the L.A. area as our target area. We concentrated on activity and agitation in that area.....

"We carried out agitation against the Police Department and against the police officials as representatives of the ruling class of this country. We went beyond that in dealing with the question of job

CONFIDENTIAL

"discrimination and a number of other particular points. Our main efforts were essentially agitational in order to build up our ranks in our category in order to be in a position to take a decisive leadership to the situation called for. We recognized the potential of the Watts area at that time and the history has borne us out in our initial observation.

"..... The people have become fed up. The people have had enough. They have reached the point where they no longer will take the 'revolutionary phrases' of President JOHNSON that characterizes himself as a revolutionary. For the pseudo revolutionary phrases of the CP, for the so-called militancy of CORE, the NAACP.

"All of these groups have become bankrupt in the eyes of the people. And these conditions were what allowed the development of a potential revolutionary situation in Watts. Not the question of poverty alone. Let me make this very clear, poverty is an essential ingredient but it is not a decisive factor. Poverty has been present in the country since its development and inception. Poverty has been in the world since there has been a mankind in the recorded history. But communism as a way of means and struggle has not been present during all those lean months. The point that is the decisive factor at this time is the presence and development of the Communist Movement in this country.

"And, now let me come essentially to the exact degree of our participation in the uprising itself. You notice we call it an uprising, not a riot. This situation that occurred here in August was not a riot, in the sense of a riot as being a local disorder, confined to a particular area and a short disturbance. This was a city-wide disturbance of a prolonged nature and it entailed more than just a spontaneous reaction..... The realization of the struggle in Watts was tied to the Vietnamese question. This question is reported, and reported adequately. The fact that the people viewed their situation as tied to the struggles of other peoples internationally. The peoples of the Congo, Dominican Republic and in Vietnam. And that this was an initial phase of developing consciousness on the part of the masses in this particular district.

"..... The essential aspect of our agitation has been to bring to the people's attention the interrelationship to these other struggles. This, we feel, came forward as an outgrowth of the Watts uprising, and we can point to this as ethics of our effectiveness of our agitation, the fact that the people have responded to this particular point. Now, specifically, did we go out onto the streets and urge people to destroy property? No, we communists under these circumstances did not go out into the streets and urge the destruction of property. The destruction of property was the spontaneous outgrowth of the struggle.

"We, as communists, if we were to lead a revolutionary movement decisively, we would find more efficient and better ways to go about the question. But we still refer to the Watts uprising as a heroic struggle and we recognize it as that. But, we do pay attention to the errors that the people committed in the struggle. First of all, in the lack of politicalization of the struggle, drawing up specific demands, circulating those demands as part of the protest, and calling for specific action. These points were not brought up and we raise these points which should be taken as lessons. Also the necessity for political organization not necessarily communist, but political organization of the people. Organization of the people that can direct and turn more efficient direction to similar outbursts in the future.

"We want to see these outbursts transformed from mere explosions into directed and channeled struggles. Struggles that can politicalize and expose the relationship of monopoly capitalists to the city government, to the state government, to the national government and international. I could point out, just in passing, the role of CORE, the NAACP, the Socialist Workers Party - Trotskyite, the CP, USA revisionists was a marginal role, if any. They were not even able to participate in the situation. In fact, the decisive factor was their inability to deal with the situation.

"DOROTHY HEALEY and the leadership of the Communist Party in this country were just as much shocked as President JOHNSON over the outburst in the Watts area. And along with the leading elements of the "city government here, in fact, I think DOROTHY HEALEY felt a little bit sorry for Police Chief PARKER and Mayor YORTY than they did for themselves, by this unfortunate occurrence. The fact that CORE was proven to be no real factor in the community, I think, was demonstrated here too. And the NAACP and SNCC the same way.

"There are things that really grew out of this uprising. First of all, the rejection of non-violence as a means and a method of struggle. This was resoundedly rejected by the masses of the people, and their acceptance and willingness to employ violent methods to fulfill their interests. To oppose the violence of the police. Secondly, the rejection of integration, as expressed by these other organizations was also an essential point to be drawn from this situation and, thirdly, the open rejection of the 'quisling' leadership and the helping hands from the DICK GREGORYs and the MARTIN LUTHER KINGs....

..... We, communists, speaking in this capacity as an official representative of the CP, Marxist-Leninist, do not call for the indiscriminate use of Molotov cocktails or force or violence. We call for the politicalized use of force and violence, when in opposition for force and violence used against the interest of the people. I want this to be quite clear. We are opposed to acts of terrorism, we are opposed to acts of anarchism. We do not support, and cannot as communists, support individuals. This is not our end, nor is it our aim. We seek, first of all, to carry out this struggle peacefully..... We would love to carry out this struggle in this country through democratic means. We cannot because history has proven it. It is impossible to carry out this struggle for communism under democracy. You can only carry this struggle so far, through parlimentary means..... And beyond that point, the ruling class shows itself for what it is and we must simply be prepared to defend the interests of the people. That is to say, we must begin to prepare and make our own army. Our own political army. And, if necessary, arm that army, to protect the interests of the people.....

"We represent the interests of the working people and their interests as opposed to the state power of the rich of this country, of the ruling class, of the bourgeois. And for us to place reliance upon law and order and police that represent this ruling class would be hypocrisy on our part.....

"..... We have presently engaged in the formation and development of self-defense units and squads. These units and these squads can, in the future, provide the basis for liberation armies.....

"..... We are without a question, aligned fraternally with all Marxist-Leninist types who are resolutely against U. S. imperialism, against communist revisionism, against Trotskyism. We find the CP of the People's Republic of China and the Albanian Party of Labor and a number of other revolutionary parties including CP of Indonesia, CP of Japan, CP of New Zealand as representing this revolutionary trend.

"..... What occurred here in the city is merely the beginning, because conditions in this country are going to become worse. They're going to become worse economically, and they're going to have their political repercussions..... The international situation is not becoming more favorable. It is becoming more complex by the very moment that we even sit here. And the further deterioration of the control of the U. S. monopoly capitalist position internationally is not going to help its internal situation coupled with the rising struggle of the Negro people....."

(A) RACIAL RIOTS, WATTS AREA OF LOS ANGELES, AUGUST 11 - 16, 1965

[LA T-14 (8/13/65)] U

At a meeting of the section organizers of the SCDCP held on August 13, 1965, BEN DOBBS instructed those present to stay away from the riot area and said that the SCDCP would take no action until things had calmed down, at which time they would know how to proceed. Two Negro members present were specifically instructed by DOBBS to stay out of the riot area. U

[LA T-13 (8/30/65)] U

An educational workshop sponsored by the SCDCP on August 13, 1965, originally scheduled to discuss the war in Vietnam discussed instead the riots then going on in the Watts and South Los Angeles area. U

DAN BESSIE, Chairman of the workshop and head of the educational committee of the SCDCP, proposed that mass meetings protesting police brutality be held, that letters be written urging a civil police review board be established, that letters be written urging immediate release of anti-poverty funds for the riot area and that each club and individual member attempt to arouse community interest and put the blame for the riot where it belonged. U

[LA T-16 (8/19/65)] U

At a SCDCP Educational Workshop held on August 13, 1965, DAN BESSIE said that he had no answer for the reason for the current riots although it was suggested that police brutality was the main factor in the riot. One comrade felt that the CP had a role to play in the riots and violence but another comrade disagreed saying that the Negro community did U not need the CP to speak for it. ADMIRAL DAWSON, a Negro present, said that the Negro community knew what it needed but that people living outside the community needed to be educated to the Negro problem. He expressed joy over the violence and looting by Negroes. He placed the blame on the Los Angeles city government and the white people for keeping the Negro people down and for keeping the Negro ghetto in such poor condition. (U)

ADMIRAL DAWSON was then a current member of the SCDCP. (U)

LA T-5 (8/17/65)

A meeting of the MSS, SCDCP, was held on August 15, 1965, with DOROTHY HEALEY, BEN DOBBS and BILL TAYLOR present. HEALEY reported that she had received a call from ROBERT THOMPSON instructing her to prepare articles for publication in "The Worker" concerning the Los Angeles riots. DOBBS and TAYLOR were to assist her and the articles would be slanted to play up the police brutality angle and to place the blame on Los Angeles City Mayor SAM YORTY and Chief of Police WILLIAM PARKER and County Supervisor KENNETH HAHN. Persons present were instructed to contact as many CP members and sympathizers as possible in order to pack meetings of the Los Angeles City Council and the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. Attendance would be needed to get the floor at both meetings and raise the issue of police brutality. BEN DOBBS would coordinate activities at the City Council and BILL TAYLOR would coordinate activities at the Board of Supervisors. (U)

LA T-18 (9/7/65)

At a meeting of the MSS, SCDCP, held August 15, 1965, the Watts riots were discussed and it was pointed out that the riots were not organized at the onset but that after some time it took on a pattern of organization with certain signs and slogans. DOROTHY HEALEY stated that the riot was a social convulsion stemming from deprived conditions, police brutality, social rejection, unemployemnt and many other conditions. HEALEY and BEN DOBBS were designated to make a Party statement to the press. Club meetings were to be discontinued until after a section committee meeting and after the riot conditions improved.

LA T-19 (8/19/65)

An emergency meeting of section organizers, SCDCP, was held August 16, 1965, with BEN DOBBS in charge. CHARLENE MITCHELL, member of the National Committee, CP USA and the SCDCP, gave a report on the Los Angeles riot. She said that the situation was not a race riot in the classical sense but an expression of opposition to police brutality and a protest against the refusal of city officers to listen to the problems of the people in the area. BEN DOBBS made the following proposals: (U)

1. Demand implementation of the war on poverty immediately.

2. Air charges of police brutality.

(U) 3. Declare the area a full disaster area and bring in all possible Federal aid.

4. Full assistance from Federal, State and local officers for food and other supplies.

5. Build peoples organizations to administer aid, rather than using professional "do-gooders".

6. Obtain massive government aid for jobs, road construction, rebuilding of the area, new homes, etc.

9. Combat all indications of white vigilantism.

10. Call for removal of Chief of Police WILLIAM PARKER.

(U)

11. Demand public hearings to place the responsibility for the riots.

12. Write letters to editors and call radio stations to publicize the problem.

13. Call for a civilian police review board.

14. Organize special organizations (block clubs, mass organizations) to demand resolution of problems.

15. Set up labor information centers and employment.

in the riots and to line up people who had been brutalized by the police or had had their homes entered illegally so that these cases could be presented to whatever committee would subsequently be set up, as well as the Los Angeles City Council.

LA T-20 (8/27/65)

At a meeting of the SCDCP youth clubs held August 17, 1965, FRANKLIN ALEXANDER, a member of the SCDCP, and DOROTHY HEALEY had a sharp exchange over the role of the SCDCP in the Watts area. FRANKLIN ALEXANDER took exception to the belief of the white comrades present that only Negro comrades would be accepted in the Watts community at that time to find out exactly what happened in the riot area. HEALEY told FRANKLIN ALEXANDER that they were primarily concerned with CP policy and not racist activities and that their first responsibilty was to the Party and not to their personal opinions. Thus it was urged that Negro party youth be assigned to interview Negro youth in the Watts area, obtain their opinion as to the reasons for the riots and what should be done by the white power structure to prevent further riots. In the meantime the Watts riots were to be of primary importance for all party clubs to discuss, debate and work on and that this would postpone or delay activities centered around the Vietnam War.

LA T-6 (8/19/65)

A meeting of the party youth of the SCDCP was held on August 17, 1965, to discuss recent Los Angeles riots. It was generally agreed that an act of police brutality had triggered Los Angeles riots and a discussion as to what could be done to rally the logical forces around the problems presented by the riots. Speculation was made as to whether or not the UCRC would assume the responsibility of distributing "Know Your Rights", which would assist those arrested and in jail in connection with the riots. DOROTHY (U)

HEALEY called for the Negro comrades to begin work within the ravished area with a view to building a united front in that area. (U)

LA T-10 (8/24/65)

A meeting of the SCDCP Negro Commission was held on August 18, 1965, and it was agreed during the discussion of the Los Angeles riots that because of the attitude of the Los Angeles Police Department there might be a bigger flare up in the near future. BILL TAYLOR said that the riots, which were of a class nature rather than a race nature, were not channelled in any way but were spontaneous. After the first few days, however a number of gangs moved in and it became obvious that the local criminal element had taken over because of the planned pattern which evolved in the looting and burning. TAYLOR called for those present to do their best to help set up legal defense for those arrested, many of whom were actually innocent. Every effort had been made to set up community organizations and where possible bring out the socialist approach.

LA T-4 (8/27/65)

BEN DOBBS spoke at a dinner meeting sponsored by the PW on August 18, 1965, and said that the local press did not give a true picture of the events which led up to the riot nor of the riot itself, but that the forth-coming edition of the PW would publish a true picture. He said that people were tired of living in the old way and that it was up to the left to help people so that they would not have to live in the old way. He called for a mass government intervention in Watts and called for the resignation of Chief of Police WILLIAM PARKER. He announced that a defense committee was in the process of being organized to assure that those arrested get their full rights. He also stated that the left was not in accordance with the burning and looting that had been carried on during the riots. He said that if the (U)

Party had had a hand in this affair it would have handled it in a different manner and given out different instructions. (U)

LA T-21 (9/14/65)

BENN DOBBS addressed the above meeting and also stated the Los Angeles riots were the result of police brutality and the lack of good police relations with the Negro communities, the ghetto conditions in Watts, and economic conditions including unemployment. DOBBS described Chief of Police PARKER as irresponsible and that this was shown by what took place in Watts. He added that the police used unnecessary force to suppress the riot and that there was police brutality. He called for the ousting of Chief PARKER.

LA T-4 (8/27/65)

At a meeting of the South Central Club, MSS, SCDCP, on August 19, 1965, LILLIAN HUNT, a member of the club, stated that the Party did not take part in the riots in the vicinity of Watts. The Party regrets that it had not established a concentration foothold in the Watts area prior to the uprising. The party did not condone the robbing and looting by the gang elements. (U)

LA T-22 (8/25/65)

DOROTHY HEALEY spoke at a meeting of CP members held on August 20, 1965, and described the Watts riot as not a race riot but said its character was economic since about 25 per cent of the district was unemployed. She claimed that it was not a race riot because no homes occupied by whites in or close to the area were attacked or destroyed. However, many stores run by whites who took advantage of the Negroes had been burned. HARRY HUNT, a member of the (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

trade union commission, SCDCP, felt that the upheaval showed that trade unions and the left had little or no influence and therefore the direction that the disturbance took was influenced by organized gangs. (U)

LA T-21 (9/13/65)

On August 21, 1965, source learned that SAM KUSHNER, Los Angeles editor for the PW, had cabled the story of the Watts riot to the newspaper "L'Humanite" in Paris at a cable cost of $90 and he thought that it might be news worthy to include the interest of that newspaper in the last issue of the PW. However, SADIE DOROSHKIN opposed this apparently because she did not feel there should be any connection between the PW and the story in "L'Humanite" concerning the Watts riot because this might lead people in the United States to believe that the Watts riot was led by United States Communists.

LA T-23 (5/4/65)

LA T-10 (8/24/65)

A meeting of the West Adams Club, MSS, SCDCP, held August 23, 1965, had been postponed from the previous week because of the Los Angeles riot curfew. Discussion was held on the riots and one member, FAY MOKES, said that it was time the leadership of the party be shown by a local statement on the riots and on work in the Negro community that conditions would never be changed until the system of oppression was changed, that all other measures were just stop gap measures to help out at that time. A motion was made and passed that the MSS should prepare for the National Office, CP USA, a socialist-oriented statement relating to Negro work and conditions. Another group member, HILDA SCHNECK, agreed and said that a statement made by the PW on the riots was not as strong as one that many Social-Democrats had made.

LA T-24 (9/2/65)

At the above meeting of the West Adams Club, MSS, SCDCP, it was stated that the general feeling was that the cause of the riots was police brutality and oppression of the Watts residents. Specifically, it was stated that a ghetto exists in Watts, and local and Federal government agencies have given the area little, if any, consideration. Merchants in the area are alleged to have sold Watts residents second rate merchandise. Further, items such as appliances were sold on credit, and in those instances where there was sickness in the family or loss of employment the appliances were repossessed for non-payment, and no consideration was given to the financial plight of the family. It was agreed these conditions have existed for a long time in the Watts area, and the Negroes have been complaining for a long time concerning these conditions but to no avail. It was agreed serious trouble was bound to break out. It was further agreed at the meeting that the rehabilitation of the area must be accomplished swiftly. (U)

LA T-25 (8/31/65)

During the above meeting of the West Adams Club it was agreed that the outbreak could not be called a riot but should be call a revolt against exploitation and police brutality.

At a meeting of the Geronimo Club, 24th CD Section, SCDCP, on August 24, 1965, ELIZABETH SPECTOR, a club member, lead a discussion on the Los Angeles riots. She said that everyone was trying to pick up the pieces but that it was not easy when the right wing forces have already jumped the gun and supported Chief PARKER. She said police brutality was a main factor behind the riots and stated that it was not a race riot but an uprising. SOPHIE STIMINOSKI, a club member, questioned whether it had been proved to be an uprising but this met with opposition from the other members who told her that this was the thinking of persons who did not know the Negro community.

LA T-26 (9/2/65)

At a meeting of the Watts Club, MSS, SCDCP, on August 24, 1965, CHARLENE MITCHELL, section chairman and member of the National Committee, CP USA, announced that the section was interested in starting an information center in the Watts area to help persons get food, clothing, employment and legal counsel. FRED CANNON, a member of the Watts clubs, described this as a waste of time since a Union and Community Association was already doing that type of work in Watts and needed volunteer workers, so that the Party could support this on an individual basis. Several members of the group felt that the riot had been arranged by the police department since the police stood by the stores and allowed looting during the first few days and then began arresting people on subsequent days. (U)

LA T-10 (8/24/65)

ROENEE GRIFFIN, the widow of AUBREY GRIFFIN, a Negro killed during the riots in Los Angeles, had been interviewed at length by Los Angeles Attorney BEN MARGOLIS at the suggestion of SAM KUSHNER, Southern California editor of the PW. KUSHNER indicated that he hoped to make a cause celebre of the plight of ROENEE GRIFFIN following the death of AUBREY GRIFFIN. KUSHNER's hope in this regard was not realized however, inasmuch as ROENEE GRIFFIN informed MARGOLIS that she and AUBREY were never married and that AUBREY had never secured a divorce from his previous wife. &u

Source made available a copy of a publication entitled "Watts Upsurge"currently being circulated by the SCDCP. It contained a speech that was made by WILLIAM C. TAYLOR, Vice Chairman, SCDCP, on August 25, 1965, which is in part as follows:

> "The explosion of the Negro community in Los Angeles which began on August 11, 1965, was an explosion against poverty and deprivation; it was an explosion against the brutality and degrading attitudes of the police department; it was an explosion against those businesses in the community which regularly gouged the people through high prices and low quality. It was an explosion giving vent to the frustrations and resentments resulting from unkept political promises and from the frustrated ambitions and hopes of the people of the communities of Watts and the Central area of Los Angeles.
> "The poverty in the Negro community is both absolute and relative, and it is widespread. The rate of unemployment is five times that of the rest of the city. And, even when employed, the Negro, in all walks of life, be he doctor, lawyer, merchant, or manual worker, earns on the average only one-half the income of a white person in a similar job.
> "The unanimous demand of the Negro community for the removal of Chief of Police PARKER demonstrates, more than statistics, the abhorrence and contempt that the Negro community holds for him and for the police department under his jurisdiction. The explosion which erupted on August 11, was touched off by an incident, all too familiar to the ghetto, of police brutality and lack of respect for Negro women.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"This incident let loose the tide against the concentration camp type of life that is characteristic of the Negro ghetto. Although the ghetto has no stone walls nor barbed wire, its invisible walls are just as effective a barrier from the rest of the city. Within this ghetto the police department has a totally different standard toward the population from that which it has outside. The precinct station which is supposed to protect that part of the city is the 77th precinct; with a community predominantly Negro the staff of over two hundred in that precinct has only five Negroes. In recent testimony before the Police Department in the Hannon hearing it was pointed out that the bulletin boards of this precinct are full of anti-Negro material; that members of the police force used obscene terms about the Negro population and those who participated in the civil rights struggle -- even calling the late ELEANOR ROOSEVELT obscene names.

"Indicative of the attitude of the members of PARKER's police department toward the Negro community is the attitude toward people arrested or stopped for questioning. No white newspaper publisher has ever been subjected to being stopped and searched in front of his own newspaper office, and then forced to await the pleasure of the policeman while he calls the central office and 'does a make' (that is, checks for prior record) on the publisher. This happened to the publisher of the leading Negro newspaper in Los Angeles. Any Negro who ventures outside the community, whether by day or night, is subject to being stopped and asked what he or she is doing in the area, and then forced to wait for the inevitable 'make'.

"It was the resentment against the gouging practices of food stores and other businesses that found expression in the burning of such businesses. Cases have been reported of Negroes intervening to protect their white neighbors and the premises of white businessmen from injury on the grounds these were decent white people. The TV showed a Negro man rescuing an invalid white woman from her burning home.

"Unable to leave the ghetto, the residents are prisoners of exorbitant prices for low quality products. It is well known that many of the larger grocery chains have two grades of meat --one for the middle-class white community, and one for the poor, Negro community--although the prices are the same. The people of Watts and the Central Avenue area pay high rents for inferior and inadequate housing. Those who own homes pay high taxes for negligence by both the City and County governments.

"During this whole period of recriminations, both the Mayor and PARKER have tried to imply that the cry of police brutality is raised only by those who are against law and order--and thus they imply that the Negro community as a whole is against law and order. They consider it necessary to protect the image of PARKER--the image of law and order, lest any protest or action against him will break that image. This thinking echoes that of Alabama and Mississippi, where the LINGOES, the CLARKS and their deputy sheriffs and police departments represent 'law and order' against the Negro people. It is significant that PARKER has never criticized southern 'justice'; on the contrary, he has praised the worst of the south--just as the worst of the south, Sheriff CLARK of Selma sent congratulations to PARKER on his stand against the people of Watts.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"The Negro community needs allies, and will work with them on a basis of equality. The white community must recognize that the problems of Watts and Central Avenue are not exclusively Negro problems--but are problems of all Los Angeles, black and white.

"During the past week, in a desperate attempt to deny the responsibility of City Hall for the upheaval, Mayor YORTY retreated to the usual refuge of reactionary politicians, trying to use the Communists as his scapegoat. Now, I appreciate Mr. YORTY's left-handed tribute to the Communist Party as a vigorous opponent of Negro oppression and police brutality. However, for Mr. YORTY to attempt to cover up the glaring nakedness of police brutality simply because the Communists say it exists, is to beg the question. Actually, during this period, YORTY has moved to the right of GOLDWATER, who did recognize that the Negro people were 'fed up'."

Also included in this publication was a section entitled, "What was the Position of the Communists on the Events?". This section is as follows:

"On August 17th, the Communist Party of Southern California issued the following statement:

"'We charge Mayor YORTY and Chief of Police PARKER with immediate responsibility for the tragic death of 32 people and the imprisonment of over 2,000.

"All competent observers have warned for years that the combination of extreme poverty and ruthless police brutality in Watts and the Central district had produced an intolerable condition. Mayor YORTY and Chief PARKER admit that over a year

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"ago they conferred with Governor BROWN on the use of National Guardsmen, thereby confessing that their sole answer to these conditions was more policing action.

"The Federal War on Poverty funds have been held up by Mayor YORTY's playing politics with human misery. And even without his power politics, the funds allocated would barely skim the surface of the enormous needs in a community where over 30% of the residents are jobless.

"The National Guard costs $300,000 per day. If the total amount that the Guard will cost had been allocated to alleviating misery and squalor, 32 people would be alive today. But both domestically and internationally, our society will spend more to crush people who rebel against intolerable conditions rather than deal with the root cause.

"Chief PARKER has a long history of demonstrating his Nazi-like theory of the master race. A few years ago he denouned the Mexican-American people as a 'wild tribe'. This week he compared the Negro people to 'monkeys in the zoo'. He boastfully described the present situation, with the National Guardsmen here, by saying 'we're on top; they're on the bottom'.

"It is not surprising that the resulting social upheavel has included acts of looting and burning of businesses. As distinct from a civil rights demonstration with its organized political demands, this was a spontaneous uprising in which all elements of an oppressed community participated. No one applauds these acts; they are meaningless expressions against the white 'power structure'.

"But each day organized society commits more serious acts of violence and vandalism against

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

"the body and spirit of the Negro. Let the tears be shed over the hopeless lives which poverty produces in most of Watts. Let the recriminations be directed to the vandals in police uniform who break into homes without warrants, who use the most abusive and violent gestapo methods against law-abiding citizens if they are colored. Let the accusing finger be pointed at Mayor YORTY and Chief PARKER who have obstructed all efforts to alleviate the worst aspects of these conditions.

"With all the loose and provocative talk about anarchy or race-riots the facts prove otherwise. At this time, 37 people are dead, nearly all of whom are Negroes shot by police or National Guardsmen. It is Chief PARKER who fans the flames of further violence when he approves of whites carrying guns. In view of his continued acts of violence and provocative suggestions for future vigilante action it is clear there can be no prospect for law in this area while he remains as Chief of Police.

"We join with others in demanding immediate allocation of funds to provide jobs for unemployed in the area. Put the funds to work in Watts to provide for the necessary low-cost housing, hospitals (there are none in the area now), schools, under the direction of the residents there.

"Establish a Citizens Inquiry where the people of Watts and Central can testify to the conditions which provoked this explosion. Let the white citizens understand that no community is an island unto itself. As long as the social and economic conditions are ignored or tolerated, the tinder is present for future explosions.

During the latter part of June, 1965, DON WHEELDIN contacted the superintendent's office of the Pasadena City Schools, identified himself as Pasadena Chairman of CORE and stated that on behalf of his organization, he wished to protest the continued use of the basement of the Lincoln Avenue Church as school facilities.

LA T-19 (3/24/58)

DON WHEELDIN attended a meeting of the District Council, SCDCP, on March 9, 1958. During the meeting he announced that he had resigned from the National Committee, CP, USA. (U)

LA T-34 (7/2/64)

DON WHEELDIN was master of ceremony at a PW fund raising affair sponsored by Club No. 2, Beverly-Fairfax Section, SCDCP, on June 28, 1964.

LA T-10 (6/16/65)

A meeting to discuss CP participation in the civil rights movement in Los Angeles was held on June 14, 1965, by the SCDCP. ROSE CHERNIN was one of five people present. With regard to CORE, CHERNIN stated that the public image of CORE was still that of an effective activist civil rights group in the North. She said that money and talent could be raised around CORE better than any other group; that the poor meetings held by CORE were as much the fault of CP members in CORE as the other members and that Party people should look over their obligations again. She said she had been working with CORE leaders on the setting up of a defense fund and that she was very much impressed with the organization and planning.

WILLIAM TAYLOR stated that it would be necessary to show the youth that their action in CORE was very bad; that people should be assigned to work in that organization and to stay in it. He said that he and CHERNIN should look for people who could be given a permanent assignment in CORE and instructed to stay there and to work and give guidance.

LA T-10 (6/24/65)

During the latter part of June, 1965, WILLIAM TAYLOR advised a member of CORE that he had met with the chairman of CORE and found him to be quite an independent thinker. TAYLOR suggested to the chairman that CORE needed more stable help to do the routine work and to stabilize the group and that such personnel was available if CORE would just look for it. According to TAYLOR, the CORE chairman asked him who he was kidding and made the statement that TAYLOR's people were among the very worst as far as stability was concerned. TAYLOR stated that the Party would definitely have to find two or three Negroes to go into CORE and to stay in CORE.

LA T-31 (7/14/65)

At a meeting of the W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Central Los Angeles on July 13, 1965, a decision was made that the club would work with DON WHEELDIN and the Pasadena CORE in picketing the church in Pasadena that rents its basement out to the Pasadena School District.

LA T-7 (9/21/65)

At a staff meeting of the Los Angeles Committee for Protection of Foreign Born on September 20, 1965, ROSE CHERNIN announced that the attorney representing the CP, USA in New York would speak at the testimonial dinner being sponsored by the Committee and that the defense committee lawyers and the Pasadena Chapter of CORE are planning affairs to raise money to pay for the attorney's transportation costs.

LA T-3 (4/6/65)

On March 27, 1965, CLIFFORD VAUGHS spoke at the fifteenth annual conference of the Los Angeles Committee for Protection of Foreign Born (LACPFB) and urged that LACPFB endorse the activities of SNCC with funds as well as politically and publicly. (U)

The main part of VAUGHS' speech concerned the civil rights movement and his experiences in the South to get more civil rights for Negroes. (U)

LA T-35 (6/14/65)

On June 9, 1965, MARVIN TREIGER met with a member of the W. E. B. TREIGER felt that this individual's wife needed more practical experience in left-oriented activities and that the SNCC project would be good for her. (U)

A source advised on March 25, 1965, that during the period January through March, 1962, a series of formation meetings to establish a "Socialist Youth Organization," was held in the Los Angeles area. LEONARD POTASH was acting chairman in charge of the group and PAUL ROSENSTEIN and FRANKLIN ALEXANDER were named to a provisional committee to help organize the new group. On April 3, 1962, the group officially selected the name of Los Angeles Youth for Peace and Socialism, (LAYPS), and elected officers.

A second source advised that POTASH, ROSENSTEIN, and ALEXANDER as of 1963 were all members of the Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP).

A third source advised on May 12, 1964, that the LAYPS was organized with the full knowledge and assistance of DOROTHY HEALEY, chairman of the SCDCP and that several Communist Party (CP) members had been approved by HEALEY to teach Marxist theory to members of the LAYPS. This source further advised that the LAYPS was to be a Marxist study and action group and that the teachings of KARL MARX were to be followed. Source also advised that although the alleged purpose of the group was to promote "Socialism" in the United States, the group considered themselves to be "Communist Party Orientated" and were anxious to study the brand of Marxism associated with the CPUSA.

The first source above further advised that in June, 1963, LAYPS changed the name of the organization to Youth Action Union (YAU) for two reasons: The first being that it was felt that LAYPS had gained a bad reputation because of its association with CP groups, the second because it was felt the word "Socialism" in the title was driving away possible recruits.

The first elected chairman of the LAYPS and YAU who continued in this position until early 1964, was MARVIN TREIGER, who as of April, 1964, was chairman of the Youth Commission, SCDCP. Since the organization's inception, key officers have been members of the CP.

"A 'branch' of the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born found to be under the 'actual management, direction and supervision' of Communist Party members. The Los Angeles Committee was reorganized in October, 1950 and reported that it 'shall be affiliated to the national organization known as the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born ' The American Committee and the 'various area or local committees * * * constitute * * * one organization within the meaning of the * * * statute (Internal Security Act)' under which the Subversive Activities Control Board found the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born to be a 'Communist-front organization' and ordered it to register as such with the Attorney General".

(Subversive Activities Control Board, Docket No. 109-53, Report and Order with respect to the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, June 27, 1960, pp. 41, 8, 12 and 51.)

"Cited as a 'regional' organization of the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born and one of its 'most complex affiliates.' 'The Committee on Un-American Activities found that in early publications the local affiliates frankly identified themselves as chapters of the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born' their representation of the themselves as independent groups came only after enactment of the Internal Security Act which would have required them as affiliates, to register as Communist-front organizations.'

"Control of the local organizations * * * was made possible primarily by virtue of the fact that the leaders of the local group were Communist Party members and therefore subject to the discipline of the Party. * * * The local affiliates * * * were actually little more than administrative staffs, whose purpose it was to implement the program of the Communist Party in their respective areas.

A second source advised on April 17, 1964, that as of April, 1964, RUTH GREENBAUM was a member of the Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP) and that MARVIN TREIGER was chairman of the Youth Commission, SCDCP.

The first source above stated that the Du Bois Club was organized mainly to meet the needs of Marxist-Orientated students at the University of California at Los Angeles, (UCLA), but that the club eventually hoped to spread its influence into other areas in West Los Angeles.

The records of the Office of Dean of Student Activities at UCLA, reveal that in February, 1964, the Du Bois Club filed for permission to hold meetings and other special functions on the UCLA campus and that permission was granted. The chairman of the Du Bois Club was listed as RUTH GREENBAUM. In making this application, the club listed a statement of purpose which states in part, "We the members of the W. E. B. Du Bois Club of West Los Angeles, join together to help further the development of a socialist system, free from ignorance, poverty, fear and the economic power exercised by the few over the many.

"Although we view socialism as the likely solution to the ills of the present society, we do not make this an a priori commitment for any honest person to join with us in fighting for a better America and a more rational world."

A third source advised on March 12, 1964, that at a Communist Party (CP) meeting held in Los Angeles, February, 1964, BEN DOBBS, Executive Secretary of the SCDCP, spoke on the CP youth movement and stated that the DuBois Clubs was one of two youth groups operating in the Los Angeles area, both groups were Marxist-Orientated and that members considered themselves Marxist.

Recheck this matter and advise by return airtel of any corrective action necessary. It is reported on page 2 that Laura Foner, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Philip S. Foner, was active in the racinl movement. More than an entire page was utilized to characterize the parents of Laura Foner. All that should have been necessary was the brief material in paragraphs 3 and 4 of page 3 concerning Philip Foner's Communist Party connections. The characterization was not only too lengthy but also required Appendix pages 5 and 6 which would not have been necessary had the characterization been as brief as suggested above. Every possible effort should be made to keep characterizations of individuals in reports in captioned matter as succinct as possible. They should also be indented as required, which was not done in this instance. See Bulet to all offices 8/28/64 for instructions concerning instant matter.

COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF STUDENT NON-VIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE (SNCC)

On October 6, 1965, LEWIS HINSHAW appeared at the Little Rock Office of the FBI and advised that he has spent a considerable amount of time in the offices of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) on West Ninth Street in Little Rock, Arkansas, and recently he noted among the reading material located in the office a magazine known as the Soul Book. He described this as a quarterly magazine and an anti-imperialist type magazine which is published at Post Office Box 1097, Berkeley, California.

Concerning the address of Post Office Box 1097, Berkeley, California, supra, the following information is set forth:

The Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) held conferences the weekend of October 30 - November 1, 1964, in Nashville, Tennessee. This conference was nominally held under the auspices of the Afroamerican Student Movement (ASM). Shortly after the conference began, those present were advised that the conference was actually a function of RAM.

A leaflet distributed at this conference was captioned "The Razor." This leaflet stated it was issued by the ASM. It stated the address of the West Coast Division of ASM was Post Office Box 1097, Berkeley, California.

(LR T-1, 11/3/64)

A characterization of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) is contained in the appendix hereto.

RE: COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF STUDENT NON-VIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE (SNCC)

As of November 16, 1964, the ASM was a front organization utilized by RAM for its more open and public activities.

(LR T-2, 11/16/64)

A conference to form a coalition of militant Negro radicals was held in Washington, D. C., from May 30-31, 1965, in the Hedin House Hotel. Some of the groups composing the National Black Coordinating Committee were, in part, a group which publishes Soul Book in California.

Re New Haven quarterly report SA W. C. Hendricks, Jr., 10/29/65.

On cover page A no reason is indicated as to why T-1, a university professor, was concealed as a source. If it was at his request, same should have been shown.

On cover page A, it is explained that the report was classified "Confidential" since information reported by Edward Le Moine, Jr., "former PSI, could reasonably result in the identification of a valuable source and compromise his future effectiveness." The only information contained in rerep from this source is that contained in the "Appendix" characterization of the Student League for Human Rights. The nature of the information furnished by this source plus his status as a former PSI does not appear to the Bureau as sufficient justification for classifying rerep. You are instructed to immediately reconsider the matter of classification and by return communication, advise the Bureau. In the event you agree with the Bureau's observation that this report may be unclassified, you should take appropriate action relative to copies already disseminated. If you feel that report still merits classification, furnish further justification. Expedite reply as dissemination of report being-held in abeyance.

It is noted that several Appendix pages were not indicated by the word, "Appendix," as required.

It is also noted that the "Appendix" characterization of the Student League for Human Rights (page 7) is not a Bureau-approved characterization. Consequently, it should have been included in the details rather than in the Appendix.

On page 35, line 3, the number indication after "NY T - " was omitted. Advise so addition may be made to Bureau copies. Take no corrective action relative to copies already disseminated.

On page 42, mention is made of information appearing in the publication, "Workers World." There is quoted "....terror of police brutality and Klan violence, continues unabated,..." Thereafter follows a statement that the Ku Klux Klan has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450. For your information, none of the presently active Klan organizations has been designated pursuant to this Executive Order. Therefore, the reference to this Attorney General designation should not have been made and should not be used in the future unless it is used to characterize a Klan organization which has, in fact, been designated by the Attorney General.

On page 96, it is stated that a characterization of the National Lawyers Guild is in the Appendix. It was found, however, to not be so included. The Bureau added a new last page to the report, 118*, containing the appropriate characterization. Do not take any corrective action relative to copies already disseminated.

It was noted that a number of pages of rerep were poorly reproduced in the mimeographing process. Examples are pages 32, 35, 51, 60 and 85.

This letterhead memorandum is classified ~~"Secret"~~ because it contains information from NY 5276-S* and NY 3810-S*, sources who furnish highly sensitive information with respect to racial matters in the New York area and the Communist infiltration thereof. In addition, the characterization of STANLEY LEVISON also contains a concentration of information from NY 694-S*, which is a basis for a "~~Secret~~" classification.

The slight delay in submission of letterhead memorandum was caused by the poor quality of information furnished by NY 5276-S* and necessity of prolonged recontact of source for complete and full identification.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on October 30, 1965, that Stanley Levison and Clarence Jones were in contact earlier on that date regarding an appointment they had for that morning with Martin Luther King (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC). According to the source, the appointment was for 11:30 a.m.

A confidential source, who was in a position to furnish reliable information, advised on October 30, 1965, that he had learned that Martin Luther King, Stanley Levison, Clarence Jones and an unknown man, conferred in King's hotel suite at the New York Hilton Hotel, New York, New York, on the morning of October 30, 1965. The conference, according to the source, concerned the following:

An intensive debate was had regarding Vietnam. It was agreed in that regard, that a position should be projected to the effect that to criticize Vietnam would be patriotic. The unknown male said the position of the National Council of Churches on Vietnam, was very strong, but the council had done nothing to implement its position. He said the "Pro-American" policy on Vietnam was the same as the position taken by many with regard to Red China.

ENCLOSURE
100-442529-1575

Re: Communist Influence in
Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

Stanley Levison brought up the question of an article which is being prepared (for King) for publication in the "Red Book" magazine. Following that, a discussion and examination ensued as to what the article should contain, and whether it should be published in "Red Book" or some other publication, preferably "The New York Times."

Clarence Jones, in referring to what the source believed was a statement in the article that the people (Negroes) could lift themselves by their own bootstraps, said that statement was nonsense. He said the idea that since Jews, Italians and others had pulled themselves up, Negroes should do the same, was nonsense. He said there was no comparison.

King said if the article could be published prior to the White House Conference (President Johnson's conference on civil rights scheduled for November 17,18,1965) it would have a tremendous impact.

In regard to whether he would speak at the White House Conference, King said a planning meeting would be held prior to the conference and it would be decided at that time.

Stanley Levison inquired as to the date of the conference, prompting King to remark that it was on the 17th and 18th of November, thereby giving ample time to print the article in "The New York Times." King said the article would have a much wider audience if it were printed in "The New York Times." Levison suggested having, the article printed in "The New York Times", then follow up in "Red Book" with something quite different.

Re: Communist Influence in
Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

Following the lengthy discussion on the article, Jones raised the question of the statement on the letters King was to have written (the letters to the heads of state urging an end to the Vietnam war and recommending immediate negotiations). He said the question was such a complex one that he had wanted to put into memorandum form his thoughts, but had not done so because he was not sure as to the status "they" were in since their previous statement. He said nothing should be "put out" (a statement) until there was a precise clarification and a tactical implementation of King's position.

Jones said he was recently called by someone and asked why King had not been invited to the Vietnam protest March on Washington. King said he had been invited but did not accept although they had him listed as a sponsor. He said he noticed that he was listed as a sponsor in the "Amsterdam News," but did not know how it got there. Everyone agreed that listing King as a sponsor was a very serious matter. Jones said he was afraid of such a thing as the article (in the "Amsterdam News"). King answered that he did not fight the article because he decided that it was his way out by being a sponsor rather than a speaker.

Levison opined that King's name got in the "Amsterdam News" as a consequence of being a sponsor of Sane. He said no doubt what happened was that the paper listed him as a sponsor but not a sponsor of the specific project in question (the March on Washington). King concurred with Levison's opinion, adding that James Farmer's name (James Farmer, National Director of the Congress of Racial Equality, CORE) and A. Philip Randolph's name also appeared in the "Amsterdam News" as sponsors. He said such things as these articles were becoming increasingly bothersome.

In outlining ways to prevent involvment in some of the peace organization drives, King said he could always state that his civil rights movement precluded him from being a participant. He said he had used that excuse on prior occasions.

Re: Communist Influence in
Racial Matters

According to the source, King was shown a petition by one of the conference participants and was asked if he would sign it as a sponsor. He said he thought the statement was a very good one and he hated not to sign (as a sponsor) it, especially since he was not going to send the letters (the Vietnam letters) and in view of the fact that it was an appeal to all parties involved. He was told that his signature was desired as an initiator, not just as a signor.

After hearing the various positions of those in attendance, King said he wondered if it was urgent that the many questions presented dealing with the peace issue be answered at this time. He said the people of the press had so many people to criticize that they had laid off him on the peace issue. He said he was convinced that the wave of the future was on "our" side, and said his opinion was based on the fact that there were people who had taken a very strong stand although they were not militant demonstrators.

King said President Johnson knows he has the consensus as far as the majority of the people agreeing with him is concerned, but said, no President wants a minority constantly saying, "you are wrong."

On October 30, 1965, at 12:25 pm, a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed Martin Luther King, Stanley Levison, Clarence Jones and Bernard Lee (Personal assistant to King), exit from the elevator at the New York Hilton Hotel, New York City.

Re: Communist Influence in

Internal Security - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on October 28, 1965, that a meeting of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA) Secretariat and invited guests was held that date at 23 West 26th Street, New York, New York. Present were Secretariat members, Gus Hall, Gilbert Green and Henry Winston, in addition to William L. Patterson. (U)

A second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 29, 1965, that William L. Patterson is the District Chairman of the New York District CP. (U)

According to the source, the Secretariat discussed a committee, apparently formed outside the CP, called "The John Brown Commemoration Committee" to mark the 106th anniversary of the execution of John Brown at Harper's Ferry, West Virginia. (U)

During the meeting, Gilbert Green referred to the role of Reverend Martin Luther King in the civil rights field. Green said that King is wrong in thinking that present federal legislation is going to solve the jury problem in the South and produce enforcement of federal laws. Green continued that the federal government will intervene in civil rights struggles only when it is recognized that "white blood" may be shed. Green said "we" have to state a positive position for the right of the Negro to defend himself. (U)

Re: Communist Influence in
Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

Gus Hall stated King's position (in the civil rights field) is based upon mass meetings, mass mobilizations and mass protests which should be viewed as a foundation to be built upon. (U)

Henry Winston and William L. Patterson attacked Green's position. Winston said Green's position regarding federal intervention in civil rights struggles is totally wrong. He said Negroes have rejected this position and Negroes understand the need for unity to achieve their ends. Patterson said the CP has never subordinated its position to the position of King and it is not giving King the leadership of this movement in America. (U)

Patterson continued, saying that to reject King at this moment would be the same as rejecting the entire development of the mass movement (in the civil rights field). At this time, Patterson referred to an unknown document saying it has distorted DuBois' position (W.E.B. DuBois) who never embraced the role of John Brown. Patterson called for a meeting of the CPUSA Negro Commission to discuss this matter. (U)

W. E.B. Du Bois died in Ghana, Africa, at the age of 96. He joined the CP at the age of 93. His letter of application to the CPUSA and his acceptance were printed in "The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, issue of November 26, 1961.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

This memorandum recommends that we furnish to the White House additional information concerning the subversive and criminal records of persons who may represent the Southern Christian Leadership Conference at the President's Conference on Civil Rights scheduled to be held at the White House, 11/17-18/65.

You will recall that in August, 1965, we furnished the White House subversive and arrest data concerning several persons, including Martin Luther King, Jr., and Bayard Rustin, the homosexual, who were to be involved in the White House Conference. More recently, and pursuant to a White House request for a name check on Ralph D. Abernathy, a King aide who was also being considered for an invitation to the White House Conference, the Bureau by letter dated 11/3/65 furnished the White House a summary of information on Abernathy.

We have now learned through our sensitive coverage of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference of a recent conversation between King and a close aide, Andrew J. Young, concerning who will represent the Southern Christian Leadership Conference at the White House Conference; the influence which Rustin and Harry Wachtel (King's advisors with subversive backgrounds) are exerting on this matter; and the fact that both King and Young are not anxious to attend the Conference.

RECOMMENDATION:

Attached for approval is a letter to the Honorable Marvin Watson, Special Assistant to the President, which reports the King-Young discussion and furnishes subversive and arrest information from our files concerning the Southern Christian Leadership Conference people involved. Separate dissemination of pertinent information is being made to the Department, Secret Service and the intelligence community.

COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC)
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

On October 29, 1965, Chicago T-1 advised as follows: (U)

On October 28, 1965, a number of United Packing House, Food and Allied Workers (UPFAW), Locals in the Chicago area, sponsored a "Labor's Rally for Civil Rights" meeting held at the United Packing House Workers Center, 4859 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. It originally was anticipated that at the minimum 500 to 600 people, mainly from the UPFAW would be in attendance, however, it was estimated that only approximately 180 were present.

Reverend James Bevel from the SCLC was the main speaker and advised the group that the purpose of this meeting was to gain the support and assistance of labor in the Civil Rights struggle in the Chicago area. Reverend Bevel stated that in the struggle, five points of interest are being explored, namely, Political Action, Housing, Education, Jobs and Poverty. He stated that the Political Action area has been assigned to the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO) Labor Committee, and that the CCCO Labor Committee plans to develop techniques of political education, stressing the advantages of independent political action; exposing the exploitations of the Negro community by the "Daley Machine" in Chicago; (U) and selecting independent candidates with the objective of exposing Negro politicians.

Reverend Bevel stated that all activities will be channelized through the CCCO. He further pointed out that in an attempt to build broad forces in each of the five areas previously mentioned, it will take at least six months. He pointed out that in order to get the Political Action program moving in Chicago, it must be accomplished by the lower echelon from the labor unions.

Reverend Bevel brought out that in these five areas to be explored, they are anticipating support from the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, Congress of Racial Equality, rank and file labor, and a number of community organizations. He stated that the SCLC will assist in developing and guiding a Civil Rights program for Chicago through CCCO.

Reverend Bevel projected no definite program, and did not seem as impressive as was expected since after his speech it was observed that 40 to 50 individuals left the meeting.

Jack Burch, an official of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (UERMWA), in Chicago, spoke of labor's duty to support a Political Action program in the Civil Rights struggle in Chicago, both from a financial and man-power standpoint. Burch also spoke of the necessity of having a coordinator between labor, CCCO and the SCLC, and recommended that the CCCO Labor Committee finance such a person.

Burch projected no definite program. No future follow up meeting was scheduled by this group and it appeared that this meeting was had mainly for the purpose of "feeling out" certain labor unions or groups in the Chicago area for the purpose of determining what support CCCO can muster from labor.

Chicago T-1 advised he observed Herbert Wright and Nate Sharpe, who are both current members of the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois, present at this meeting. (S) (U)

Concerning Jack Burch, Chicago T-2, on August 13, 1965, advised that Burch is employed as the secretary-treasurer of District 11, UERMWA, and as the assistant business manager of Local 1114, UERMWA, both located in Chicago, Illinois. (U)

Concerning Jack Burch, Chicago T-3, on August 12, 1954, advised that as of that time Jack Burch was a member of the CP unit within UE and within the Farm Equipment Section. (U)

On January 31, 1955, Chicago T-3 advised that on January 26, 1955, Jack Burch attended a CP trade union meeting held in Chicago, Illinois. (S) (U)

On June 14, 1956, Chicago T-3 reported that as of that time Jack Burch was a member and employee of the UE and regularly attended meetings of the CP. (S) (U)

On August 28, 1957, Chicago T-3 further advised that the CP group composed of Jack Burch and others, as of August, 1957, was not active. Chicago T-3 further advised that Burch then was not known to have paid any CP dues since prior to the National Convention, CP, USA, held in February, 1957. (S) (U)

Concerning the UERMWA, the "UE Shop Steward Guide," United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (UERMWA), Publication Number 212, Sixth Edition, 1952, discloses on pages 32-34, "UE - the United Electrical Radio and Machine

Workers of America was established in 1936, at a convention in Buffalo, New York. At that time the organization was called the United Electrical and Radio Workers of America. Shortly thereafter, a large group of American Federation of Labor machinists' locals joined the UE and the full name became the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (UE).

"The UE is known as an 'International Union' because companies of both the United States and Canada are under contract."

"100 Things You Should Know About Communism and Labor," prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., 1951, relates the following information: In 1944, the Committee on Un-American Activities found the "United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO)" to be one of the unions which was described as having "communist leadership... strongly entrenched." The "United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America" was listed as one of the unions which was expelled from the Congress of Industrial Organizations in 1950 because of its communist domination.

The "Internal Security Annual Report for 1957, Report of the Subcommittee to Investigate the Administration of the Internal Security Act and other Internal Security Laws, of the Committee on the Judiciary, United States Senate," on page 61, refers to UE as "one of the strongest communist controlled unions in America."

The International Headquarters of the UE is located at 11 East 51st Street, New York, New York, according to the April 19, 1965, edition of the "UE News", official organ of UE.

All sources utilized have furnished reliable information in the past.

Re quarterly report SA Frank S. Perrone 10/29/65.

Cover pages B and C contain identities of sources used in an Appendix characterization. This type of information is not necessary and should not have been included.

It is stated on Page 1 that rerep covers the period 7-1 through 10/31/65. Quarterly CIRM reports are to cover 3-month periods. Do so in the future.

On Pages 2, 8, 13, 17 and 18 appear statements "No information developed" under various subheadings. The quoted statement should be used only for main headings denoted by Roman numerals. See original instructions concerning the preparation of CIRM reports; Bulet to all offices 8/28/64.

It is noted that very extensive dissemination of rerep was made to other offices and the military intelligence agencies in Honolulu and reason given was because of the interest of other offices in Communist Party activities within the San Francisco area in so far as they relate to similar activities within the areas of the other offices. At the time of preparation of future quarterly CIRM reports, please revaluate the necessity of such extensive dissemination. Note that if the same information is being disseminated to the other offices in reports or other communications under other captions, it would not be normal to make repetitive dissemination through CIRM reports.

Pages 11 through 13 are devoted almost entirely to a verbatim account of an editorial appearing in a subversive publication. Bureau reporting procedures provide for summarizing pertinent articles appearing in publications. In the future, attempt to do so and do not repeat lengthy articles unless fully justified.

IV. MISCELLANEOUS

A. West Tennessee Voters' Project (WTVP)

On August 5, 1965, Memphis Confidential Informant T-1, a Negro resident of Fayette County, Tennessee, who has for several years been an active worker in the Negro civil rights and Negro voter registration movement in Fayette County, advised representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as follows:

The WTVP is an ambiguous group working in four rural and heavily Negro populated counties in West Tennessee, specifically Haywood, Hardeman, Tipton and Fayette Counties. These counties largely have a predominant farm and rural population content, with cotton being the predominant farm commodity. Most of the Negro residents are small landowners, tenant farmers, sharecroppers, and domestic-type employees.

The WTVP is an outgrowth of a movement started within the past two years by Northern white college professors and students, primarily led by Professor Charles Haynie, now of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and by Professor Douglas Dowd of Cornell University.

During the past few months, the WTVP which claims to be working for Negro civil rights (voter registration, desegregation of public schools, Negro kindergarten education and adult literacy education, and organization of Negro tenant farmers and farm laborers into a Tennessee Freedom Labor Union (TFLU), which is headed by a local Negro, William Springfield), is now headed by a loose committee of staff leaders in Fayette County, consisting primarily of DEBORAH (DEBBIE) RIB, University of Wisconsin graduate; DANIEL S. BEAGLE, University of Wisconsin graduate student; ROBERT S. GABRINER and VICKI GABRINER, man and wife, both graduate students of the University of Wisconsin; TIM HALL, who is understood to be a Cornell graduate; and assisted primarily by STEPHEN GINS, a college student; MICHAEL TOBIN, a college student; ANN AUSTIN, University of Cornell student; and JUDY ANN EISENSCHER, all whites. The WTVP leader in Haywood County is TRENA TAYLOR, a white female student of the University of Wisconsin, and the leader in Hardeman County is KAREN WOLFF. The leaders in Tipton County are STUART MITCHELL and JUDY MILLER, both white and understood to be Cornell University students.

Source of the WTVP funds is not known. Its leaders claim they come from sympathetic church people and college students and professors throughout the country, largely centered at the University of Wisconsin, Cornell University, Cortland State Teachers College, New York, and Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

The WTVP has a fraternal relationship with the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), a young militant civil rights group with national headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia. Many of the WTVP workers wear SNCC buttons. Some wear buttons saying, "End The War In Vietnam Now." The source of these buttons is not known. DANIEL BEAGLE has claimed to be an SNCC staff worker but did not elaborate.

To date none of the WTVP workers have mentioned any of their possible organizational affiliations such as the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA), Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), the Southern Students Organizing Committee (SSOC), and the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF).

(Characterizations of the DCA and SCEF are set forth in the Appendix section of this communication.)

The group has established a loose working relationship with Reverend JAMES EDWARD SMITH, male Negro, from Memphis, Tennessee. SMITH formerly worked as a Laboratory Technician in one of the Memphis City Hospitals. In recent months, SMITH has been living in Covington, Tennessee, (Tipton County), where he now claims to be a Field Representative of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). SMITH, JUDY MILLER, and STUART MITCHELL organized a Negro boycott of Negro public schools beginning in late July, 1965, to protest a split-term system for Negro county schools, which would permit a fall recess to allow students to participate in the annual fall cotton picking. Cotton is the basic farm commodity in the area.

The WTVP, headed by the GABRINERs, BEAGLE and RIB, aided by HALL, has organized what heretofore has been a successful Negro boycott of Fayette County Negro schools which began a split term on August 2, 1965. Their alleged aim is to gain complete and full racial desegregation of and upgrading of all public education in Fayette County immediately.

The WTVP has hand-picked HERBERT BONNER, male Negro, a farmer of Fayette County, who lives near Collierville, Tennessee, as its "chief administrator." BEAGLE, the GABRINERS, and RIB are using BONNER and most of their Negro followers as tools. There is little if any Negro participating in the discussions, plans, and strategy of the WTVP. participation

A power struggle exists in the Negro community of Fayette County.

MP + ML

Beginning several years ago, the Original Fayette County Civic and Welfare League (OFCCWL), headed by Negro merchant JOHN MC FERREN; his wife VIOLA MC FERREN; HARPMAN JAMESON, Negro farmer, and his wife MINNIE JAMESON, became the leading group representing Negro interests. The OFCCWL through its efforts and resultant nationwide publicity was largely responsible for winning free and unimpeded Negro voter registration in Fayette County.

TCAN

The MC FERRENs and JAMESON and others, originally cooperated with the WTVP, as did another Negro farmer, ALLEN YANCEY, JR., who is also a Science Instructor at Owen College, Memphis, Tennessee, during the school year.

Gradually in recent months, the WTVP with its Northern university and white-oriented leadership has virtually taken over complete leadership of the nonlandowners and their children in Fayette County. This new leadership is extremely paternalistic in its actions while at the same time professing to be democratic. Its leadership has created distrust, confusion and chaos in the county.

The whites are extremely suspicious of this "outside" leadership, of the lack of cleanliness, unorthodox dress, and behavior of its white workers. The white workers became openly demonstrative, in an amorous fashion, with young Negroes on public roads and in view of the public. This tends to inflame the emotions and sensibilities of the whites and many of the Negroes.

A Negro group headed by ALLEN YANCEY made an appointment to see HOWARD WARF, Tennessee Commissioner of Education, Nashville, Tennessee, on Friday, August 6, 1965, to see if this office could not help to clarify the confused school situation by intervening. A group consisting of BEAGLE, RIB and the GABRINERs insisted in going to Nashville at the same time in order to picket the office of WARF and to demonstrate in an effort to intimidate WARF and State authorities. They even discussed the possibility of engaging in a sit-in in Governor FRANK CLEMENT's office.

T-1 added that WTVP worker KAREN WOLFF has recently been staying with a local Negro TAFT FINNIE and his family two miles southeast of Somerville, Tennessee; that JUDY EISENSCHER, WTVP worker and University of Wisconsin student, has been spending a lot of time in Districts 12 and 13 of Fayette County in the Moscow-LaGrange area; and that TERYL ANN BROWN, also known as Terry Brown, also a WTVP worker, has been staying with various families.

On the night of August 5, 1965, T-1 advised that RIB, GABRINER, and BEAGLE had engaged a charter bus to take 40 to 50 young Fayette County Negroes and WTVP workers to Nashville to picket Commissioner WARF's office on the afternoon of August 6, 1965.

On the night of August 6, 1965, T-1 advised that this group had actually picketed WARF's office in an effort to gain publicity notoriety and to mentally intimidate WARF.

Later, while still in Nashville they learned that 19 or 20 WTVP-sponsored pickets had earlier on August 6, 1965, been arrested for trespassing on the school property of Spring Hill School, then in session in Fayette County.

The WTVP leaders, including ROBERT and VICKI GABRINER and DEBORAH RIB, then tried to organize a group to picket the Fayette County Courthouse protesting the arrests of these pickets.

On the night of August 6, 1965, this information was furnished to C. E. PATTAT, JR., Fayette County Sheriff, who said all of those arrested earlier on August 6, 1965, had been released from jail after making bond. Among the arrestees were JUDY ANN EISENSCHER and VICTORIA ANN NELSON, both white female WTVP workers. EISENSCHER is from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and is a University of Wisconsin student. Later PATTAT advised the group did not picket when they learned on arrival in Somerville, Tennessee, that all arrestees had been released on bond.

On August 7, 1965, T-1 again advised that in the meeting with WARF, the Negro delegation headed by ALLEN YANCEY had emphasized that they were only interested in their children getting a good and uninterrupted education and hoped the Federal Courts would rule that all school facilities in Fayette County be equalized and desegregated. ROBERT GABRINER took the position that picketing should be continued and that demonstrations and picketing be intensified, even to the point of provoking arrests in order to dramatize the issue and to force the Fayette County Board of Education to immediately desegregate its schools.

On August 7, 1965, T-1 said that DOUGLAS DOWD has returned to Fayette County from Cornell University. T-1 added that the bulk of the WTVP-sponsored demonstrators in Brownsville, Tennessee, August 7, 1965, would come from the four West Tennessee rural counties named before; that BEAGLE and RIB had contacted SNCC units in Ashland City and Holly Springs, Mississippi, asking them to send volunteers. He did not know if the SNCC would do this. In the past the SNCC has sent volunteers into these areas to help test public facilities and restaurants.

On August 4, 1965, Memphis Confidential Informant T-2 who is familiar with many phases of Negro desegregation activities in Fayette County, Tennessee, advised that it is incredible as to how rapidly the WTVP has taken over complete control of the Negro desegregation movement in recent months. The new leaders of the movement, DEBORAH RIB, ROBERT GABRINER and wife VICKI GABRINER, DANIEL S. BEAGLE, TIMOTHY HALL and to a certain extent JUDY BUTLER, who may be identical with JUDITH EISENSCHER, and KAREN WOLFF, who are all white and all allegedly from the University of Wisconsin, have completely taken over the leadership of the Negro civil rights movement.

On August 2, 1965, Memphis Confidential Informant T-3 who is familiar with many phases of the desegregation movement in Fayette County and surrounding counties in West Tennessee and familiar with many facets of activity of the WTVP, advised that the apparent leaders of the WTVP are ROBERT GABRINER and wife VICKI GABRINER, graduate students of the University of Wisconsin; DANIEL S. BEAGLE, graduate student of the University of Wisconsin; DEBORAH RIB, graduate of the University of Wisconsin, all of the above being natives of the New York City area; and one TIMOTHY HALL, all of whom are white. They have set up headquarters about one mile south of the city limits of Somerville, Tennessee, on Macon Road just across the road from the Fayette County Training School which is the Negro High School in Fayette County. The headquarters is an old dilapidated concrete building, once the home of a dry-cleaning plant, which has attached to its front a crudely lettered sign which reads, "West Tennessee Voters' Project."

Based primarily on comments made by DEBORAH RIB, DANIEL BEAGLE, and the GABRINERs, the WTVP considers Fayette County to be the fourth poorest county in the United States and they claim that the mission of this group has expanded from a plan originally initiated in 1964 at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, by the "Cornell-Tompkins County Committee for Free and Fair Elections in Fayette County," to fair and equal employment, school desegregation, with an end to split sessions and desegregation of all public facilities.

T-3 stated further that this group has set up a young male Negro, WILLIAM SPRINGFIELD, who works for a white farmer, THOMAS H. FOWLER, north of Somerville, as the leader of an incipient group known as the Tennessee Freedom Labor Union (TFLU). The TFLU is to be patterned after the Mississippi Freedom Labor Unions which are currently being organized among migrant day-laborers and tenant farmers and sharecroppers in the Negro race in Mississippi aimed at getting higher wages and better working conditions. SPRINGFIELD is also a staff member of the WTVP.

T-3 pointed out that HERBERT BONNER, a Negro, a native of Fayette County, Tennessee, has been hand-picked by such people as RIB, BEAGLE and the GABRINERs to be the "Chief Administrator" of the WTVP. They mainly use BONNER to get out among the farm laborers in the area in an effort to stimulate them to participate in WTVP activities; that actually BONNER is merely a "front man" and a "monkey on a string" insofar as the white leaders of the WTVP are concerned; and that they treat him in almost a cruel sarcastic manner and in fact in an effort to gain publicity had him dress up in a broad-brimmed hat and stand with a grin while they hung a crudely made sign on his shirt, which sign read "Chief Administrator, WTVP."

T-3 advised that as of July 29 and 30, 1965, some of the more active workers in the WTVP were DEBORAH RIB, who described herself as 1962 graduate of the University of Wisconsin; Miss ANN AUSTIN, senior at Cornell University; SUSAN MATEO, also known as Susanne Mateo, a student at Cortland Teachers College, New York State; a Mrs. DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, a Wisconsin housewife, whose husband is an attorney allegedly from Madison, Wisconsin; DANIEL S. BEAGLE, popularly known as Danny Beagle, a graduate student, University of Wisconsin; ROBERT GABRINER, also known as Bob Gabriner; and his wife VICKI GABRINER, both graduate students, University of Wisconsin; and Mrs. OLIVE GUTCHESS, a church secretary from Cortland, New York; and one KAREN WOLFF, a sophomore of the University of Wisconsin. The WTVP claims to have some 31 staff members.

T-3 stated that DEBORAH RIB, who described herself as a "Jewish-Quaker," has been in Fayette County off and on since October, 1964. She uses simple terms in talking with Negroes and at a recent meeting at the Liberty Branch Church in the County, a Negro church, where 70 teenagers and adults were present, she used a persuasive manner such as saying, "To Whom do the schools belong? and then encouraged the audience to answer "To use." She kept telling the audience that "Mr. Charley," a term used for white landowners, had been telling Negroes that they did not have the right to representation and then she concluded by saying, "Why keep your children ignorant and put them in the fields to pick 'Mr. Charley's' cotton?" RIB prominently plays on the emotions of the Negroes, with whom she comes into contact, according to T-3, claiming "This fight is not easy because three of my friends gave their lives in Mississippi."

T-3 advised that RIB did not even know the three civil rights workers who were killed near Philadelphia, Mississippi, in June of 1964, but nevertheless likes to give people the impression that she was a close associate of theirs.

T-3 pointed out that considerable friction has developed in the Negro community of Fayette County, pointing out that originally the Negro rights movement, which was quite successful in getting a majority of the eligible Negroes to register to vote to the point where the registered Negro voters now outnumber the white voters, was led by such local Negroes as JOHN MCFERREN and his wife VIOLA MCFERREN, along with Mrs. MINNIE JAMESON, wife of HARPMAN JAMESON. These people originally worked through the Original Fayette County Civic and Welfare League, Inc., referred to as the "League."

On July 29, 1965, according to T-3, JOHN MC FERREN stated that he was no longer working with the WTVP people, inasmuch as he felt that they were teaching socialism and possibly Marxism to the Negroes, urging them to refuse to cooperate with the white landowners as well as the Negro landowners. He stated the WTVP people are promising the local Negroes "something for nothing," and that this can only lead to dissension and dissatisfaction. T-3 pointed out that Mrs. MINNIE JAMESON stated that the WTVP people no longer were willing to work with the representative local Negro leaders, insisting on running the whole desegregation program themselves, and that the official Original Fayette County Civic and Welfare League people now "resent the method by which the WTVP group is doing their work."

Mrs. JAMESON further told T-3 on July 29, 1965, that the WTVP people seem to be "more interested in keeping up an unrest than in solidly solving any of the economic and social problems that exist in Fayette County."

T-3 advised that DEBORAH RIB was well aware of the fact that stories are going around Fayette County, in both the Negro and white communities, about the brazen and open inter-racial sex life being promoted by WTVP leaders. She brazenly admitted to T-3 that inter-racial sex life is rampant but made the statement, "No babies will be born from this project as we have taught the participants the proper method of birth control."

T-3 added that ROBERT GABRINER made the statement that his father was a wealthy department store owner in New York City. GABRINER as well as DEBORAH RIB said that the WTVP recently sent four young Negro students from Fayette County to a workshop in Chicago, Illinois; they did not describe the workshop but stated that among those attending the workshop were HELEN MACKLIN of the Fayette County Training School; JERRY JENKINS, a Negro student of the Training School; and SADIE PUCKETT, also from the Fayette County Training School, which is the Negro high school in Fayette County.

DEBORAH RIB pointed out that the group is pushing the sale of and reading of the book, "Step by Step," written by DOUGLAS DOWD, staff member of the WTVP, who is a Cornell University professor, concerning DOWD's 1964 experiences in working among Negroes in Fayette County. HERBERT BONNER told T-3 that he is prominently mentioned in the book and that the WTVP people want to take him to various cities, including Cleveland, Ohio, to promote the book and raise money for the WTVP. BONNER seems to think that not enough money is coming into the WTVP from the sale of the book, "Step by Step."

T-3 added that DEBORAH RIB, the GABRINERs and BEAGLE on July 30, 1965, stated that the WTVP is not a formal affiliate of the SNCC, although they do have a "fraternal relationship."

T-3 noted that all of the WTVP workers wear SNCC buttons. BEAGLE stated that in the past some of the WTVP workers have gone to SNCC regional meetings in Atlanta, Georgia. DEBORAH RIB stated that the WTVP movement has a working relationship on a cooperative basis with the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, which is largely controlled by SNCC, and that the WTVP is bitterly opposed to the more conservative leadership as manifested by the NAACP. When asked how long the group would stay in Fayette County on July 29, 1965, ROBERT GABRINER replied that the group would stay in Fayette County until the 1966 elections.

T-3 said that on July 29, 1965, DEBORAH RIB was overheard in the WTVP headquarters, according to T-3, talking to some teen-age Negroes and other project workers. The group was complaining of the fact that Trooper JERRY SIMMONS of the Tennessee Highway Patrol (THP) had given a ticket to Mrs. DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, wife of the Wisconsin attorney, for not having a Tennessee tag on her car. RIB stated that a hearing for Mrs. ZEGAROWICZ was to be held at the Fayette County Courthouse later on July 29, 1965, and that if Mrs. ZEGAROWICZ was convicted of this offense the WTVP would picket the Courthouse and demonstrate and she emphasized, "I can assure you it will not be a nonviolent demonstration."

T-3 added later that the charges against Mrs. ZEGAROWICZ had allegedly been dropped and that the picketing did not take place.

Also on July 29, 1965, according to T-3, DEBORAH RIB stated that the head of the WTVP in Haywood County was one TRENA LORRAINE TAYLOR, a student at the University of Wisconsin. The group commented that the building in which they operate is owned by ALLEN YANCEY, a local Fayette County Negro who teaches at Owen College in Memphis, Tennessee, and that while YANCEY has worked with them on certain projects, he apparently does not agree with them on all phases of their activities.

On August 19, 1965, T-1 advised that it had been determined that the following WTVP workers will be staying temporarily at least in the Somerville and Fayette County area:

ELEANOR B. DOYLE, also known as Ellie Doyle, TENN. originally of Irvington, New York;

TIM HALL, also known as Timothy Hall; OHIO TENN.

ANN STANLEY, a Negro girl from Waukeegan, Illinois; ANNA V. STANLEY

JIM AMORY, who heretofore has been a business agent for the International Ladies Garment Workers Union from the Eastern Seaboard.

MARTIN FRED HALPERN of [redacted] b6 b7C
Oceanside, New York;

DEBORAH RIB.

T-1 added that SUE MATEO expects to come back to Fayette County in about a month or so and work permanently in this area. DANIEL BEAGLE and the GABRINERs, according to T-1, plan to leave the area to go back to school probably to leave around August 22, 1965. T-1 pointed out that there has been little talk among the Negroes concerning the Vietnam War, although many of the WTVP leaders have worn buttons reading, "End The War In Vietnam."

On August 19, 1965, T-1 added that it definitely appears that the WTVP Northern college students headed by DEBORAH RIB, DANIEL S. BEAGLE, ROBERT and VICKI GABRINER, are trying to build a cadre of young Negro teenagers, such as JERRY JENKINS, [redacted] student of the Fayette County Training School (Negro high school) in Somerville, and ALFRED LEE EVANS, teenage Negro of Haywood County, as well as SADIE PUCKETT, Negro teenager of Fayette County. [redacted] b6 b7C

For example, T-1 added a few days prior to August 19, 1965, DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, Madison, Wisconsin, WTVP volunteer worker, on leaving Fayette County to return to her Madison home, took JERRY JENKINS, also known as "PEPPER" JENKINS, with her. She will drop him off in Chicago, Illinois, where for the next two years he will live with BRUCE and RANDY RAPPAPORT, former WTVP workers, who are understood to currently be students at the University of Chicago. He will live at [redacted] Chicago, which is the last known residence address of the RAPPAPORTs. He said the RAPPAPORTS were last known to have been in Fayette County in April, 1965, to lead a "freedom march" as a memorial to the Selma - Montgomery, Alabama, freedom marchers.

Also on August 19, 1965, T-1 added that the following WTVP leaders will stay in the West Tennessee area through the Winter of 1965-66:

ELEANOR B. (ELLIE) DOYLE of Irvington, New York;

TIM HALL of Cleveland, Ohio;

ANNA STANLEY of Waukegan, Illinois;

JAMES (JIM) AMORY of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, who claims to be an organizer of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union; TENN.

MARTIN FRED HALPERN of Oceanside, New York;

DEBORAH RIB;

SUSAN MATEO;

and possibly TERRY ANN BROWN. TENN.

T-1 added that on August 18, 1965, the brother of WTVP worker KAREN WOLFF, University of Wisconsin student, who was introduced by KAREN as "RICH" WOLFF, came to Fayette County. He claimed to be a writer and claimed to have just returned to the United States from Vietnam where he claimed he had gone as a reporter. He was strongly opposed to the United States position in Vietnam. He indicated that he had been in Los Angeles, California, immediately prior to coming to Memphis.

KAREN WOLFF was supposed to leave the area on August 22, 1965, preparatory to resuming studies at the University of Wisconsin.

T-1 continued that ROBERT GABRINER later said, "RICH" WOLFF was actually not a writer but that he is a student, allegedly in the East. While in conversation with "RICH" WOLFF on August 19, 1965, ROBERT GABRINER bragged to WOLFF that about two years ago he, GABRINER, had made a trip to Moscow, Russia. He did not elaborate.

On August 25, 1965, T-1 advised that one older white woman had been an active worker in the WTVP during the Summer of 1965. She is OLIVE GUTCHESS, also known as Mrs. KENNETH L. GUTCHESS, former Secretary of the First Methodist Church, Cortland, New York. She has primarily confined herself to doing office work and teaching literacy to adult Negroes in the Somerville area of Fayette County.

On August 25, 1965, T-1 added that another active WTVP worker had been HENRY BRIM BALSER, Cornell University student, together with STEPHEN ROBERT GINS, a Cornell University student; MARTIN FRED HALPERN, a Cornell University student; and BURTON IRA WEISS, Cornell University student.

On August 24, 1965, T-1 advised that the WTVP had earlier in August, 1965, sent a telegram to the United States White House supporting the position of the Washington Summer Action Project, a newly formed group located in Washington, D. C., which had a self-described program of opposition to the war in Vietnam. This group held a series of protests in Washington, D. C., August 6-9, 1965, to coincide with the 20th anniversary of the nuclear bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, to be followed by a meeting known as the "Assembly of Unrepresented People."

T-1 added that apparently someone in the White House misinterpreted the meaning of the telegram and thought that the WTVP was supporting the United States position on Vietnam. Accordingly, one PAUL POPPLE of the White House Staff wrote the WTVP thanking it for its support.

T-1 added that in response thereto, someone in the WTVP, unknown to T-1, wrote a letter dated August 23, 1965, to PAUL POPPLE, Assistant to United States President LYNDON B. JOHNSON, informing him that the WTVP was definitely in support of the Congress of Unrepresented People and in definite opposition to the United States "imperialistic" position in Vietnam.

On September 1, 1965, T-1 advised that the WTVP headquarters in Somerville, Tennessee, contains a series of newspaper clippings, posted on the interior walls. Some of these clippings are those reporting heavy United States losses in Vietnam. T-1 added that most of the Project workers wear buttons reading, "End The War in Vietnam," and "Get Out of Vietnam." T-1 did not know the source of these buttons.

T-1 added that DOUGLAS DOWD, a Cornell University professor, is apparently the financial coordinator of the WTVP, that the Project workers always call DOWD when they need money.

On August 23, 1965, T-3 advised that the Summer, 1965, work of the WTVP is about over; that no further demonstrations are planned; that most of the volunteer workers from the University of Wisconsin, Cornell University, and Cortland State Teachers College, New York, are returning to school.

For example, T-3 said ROBERT and VICKI GABRINER are returning to the University of Wisconsin graduate school. TRENA TAYLOR allegedly picked up some sort of veneral disease in Haywood County and returned to her home to be hospitalized. She plans to return to the University of Wisconsin. DANIEL S. BEAGLE has left to go to California to visit his brother, PETER BEAGLE, a writer for "Holiday Magazine." BEAGLE plans to resume studies in graduate school at the University of Wisconsin. TIM HALL will stay throughout the coming winter, as will DEBORAH RIB and JAMES AMORY. RIB claimed to be an accomplished secretary and hopes to get employment in Memphis and continue her WTVP work.

T-3 added that on August 18, 1965, ROBERT GABRINER, VICKI GABRINER, and DANIEL S. BEAGLE said that the WTVP will now become a political movement, designed to elect Negro office holders to local positions in Fayette, Tipton, and Haywood Counties in West Tennessee, particularly Magistrates.

On September 15, 1965, T-1 advised that a strike of tenant farmers sponsored by the Tennessee Freedom Labor Union, the parent group of which is the WTVP, had been completely unsuccessful; that only 25 or 30 Negroes in the entire county of Fayette County, Tennessee, had seen fit to strike and most of them were too lazy to work anyway. T-1 added that about a year ago one MICHAEL MUNK, a writer for the "National Guardian," a national weekly newspaper published in New York, New York, had done research work among Negroes in Fayette County, although he did not know the details. T-1 continued that it is interesting to note that during the Summer of 1965 on several occasions T-1 observed multiple copies of various issues of the "National Guardian" at the WTVP office in Fayette County.

(A characterization of the "National Guardian" is set forth in the Appendix section of this communication.)

On September 3, 1965, T-3 advised that the GABRINERs, ROBERT and VICKI, had left Fayette County, ostensibly to return to their New York City home. T-3 observed that during the latter part of the summer of 1965 he had observed that VICKI GABRINER worked closely with one TERYL ANN BROWN, a University of Wisconsin student and native of Newark, New Jersey. T-3 also recalled that in late August, 1965, ROBERT GABRINER mentioned that he was interested in building a power structure for the WTVP in West Tennessee.

T-3, who is extremely sympathetic to the cause of basic, orderly, and lasting racial desegregation, stated that after observing much of the WTVP work that he is of the considered opinion that ROBERT GABRINER, DANIEL BEAGLE and other key WTVP workers are not personally, humanely interested in the plight of WTVP rural Negro people but are actually more interested in engaging in social and economic experiments.

With regard to the following participants in the WTVP, there are set out hereinafter, following each of their names, information setting forth their respective affiliations with subversive organizations, Communist oriented groups, and/or actions indicating that they may be opposed to the best security interests of the United States:

VICKI GABRINER, also known as
Mrs. Robert Gabriner

Memphis Confidential Informant T-4 advised on March 3, 1965, that during the period February 20-21, 1965, in connection with a midwest W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America, Inc. (DCA) Conference, ROBERT and VICKI GABRINER, then graduate students of the University of Wisconsin, commented that the GABRINERs were involved in a project which is underway in Fayette County, Tennessee. ROBERT GABRINER indicated that he and his wife had first worked for JESSE GRAY in New York. He then worked for CARL and ANNE BRADEN in Louisville, Kentucky, and he and his wife had worked actively in the Fayette County, Tennessee, area in a project to organize sharecroppers. ROBERT GABRINER said that he was very much concerned that any project that he was involved in taught socialism to the field workers; that it was not enough just to conduct a civil rights movement; that it was imperative that a socialist understanding be developed among the people with whom he was working.

Re: DANIEL SOYER BEAGLE

On January 8, 1965, JAN BIESEK, Registrar's Office, University of Wisconsin (UW), Madison, Wisconsin, advised from records that DANIEL SOYER BEAGLE, born [redacted] b6 b7C matriculated at UW as a graduate student September 14, 1964, being admitted from Columbia College, New York, New York. His original home address was [redacted] New York, New York.

On December 26, 1962, in connection with another FBI investigation, CONSTANT VIBERT, Building Superintendent, [redacted] Bronx, New York, advised SA [redacted] that at that time DANIEL SOYER BEAGLE resided in [redacted] at this address with his parents, SIMON and REBECCA BEAGLE, and a brother PETER BEAGLE. This family had lived at this address since about 1941 and SIMON BEAGLE was a retired Principal from the New York City School System and was then a lecturer.

On December 26, 1963, in connection with another FBI investigation, GISELLE NEUNHEUSAR, Clerk, Columbia College, 116th Street and Broadway, New York, New York, advised IC [redacted] that records of this school reflected DANIEL SOYER BEAGLE was then attending Columbia College and had so attended since September, 1960.

Records of the Subversive Activties Control Board reflect that public hearings were held in New York, New York, during 1963 on a petition by the United States Attorney General to the Subversive Activities Control Board for an order requiring the organization "Advance" to register as required by the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950. In connection with these hearings, on December 16, 1963, the respondent ("Advance") called as a witness DANIEL S. BEAGLE, then living at [redacted] New York, New York, who testified he was a senior student at Columbia University and was chairman of a political campus group known as "Action." BEAGLE stated that his organization had joined with "Advance" in several protest meetings and that he had sponsored the appearance of MARVIN MARKMAN on the campus of Columbia as a speaker and that his (BEAGLE's) organization, "Action," had been active in publicizing a protest of the Government's petition against "Advance."

BEAGLE testified under cross-examination by the Government that he, BEAGLE, attended an Executive Board meeting of Advance in January or February, 1963, and had known MARVIN MARKMAN for approximately two years.

On December 18, 1963, BEAGLE was recalled to the stand for additional cross-examination and then testified he had conferred with MARKMAN and another individual concerning what way BEAGLE's organization, "Action," could assist Advance. BEAGLE said that subsequently Action conducted meetings, published leaflets, and sponsored speeches in an attempt to persuade people that the McCarran Act should be repealed. He claimed Action was not a Communist Party (CP) front.

(Information regarding MARVIN MARKMAN is contained in the characterization of Advance which appears in the Appendix Section of this communication.)

During 1944, the United States Office of Censorship, Washington, D. C., now defunct, made available information reflecting that BEAGLE's father corresponded with ROSE BIEGEL ARENAL and that she and RITA BIEGEL SEBORER, also known as Mrs. Max Seborer, were sisters of DANIEL S. BEAGLE's father. ROSE ARENAL was in Mexico City, Mexico, at that time.

On November 30, 1945, ELIZABETH T. BENTLEY, self-admitted CP courier and former Soviet espionage agent, now deceased, advised that during the latter part of 1939, ROSE ARENAL received mail from LEOPOLDO ARENAL and that she, BENTLEY, picked up this mail and delivered it to her espionage principal. These letters stopped arriving about the time of the murder of LEON TROTSKY.

BENTLEY further stated that she had been informed by her espionage principal that LEOPOLDO ARENAL was a high-ranking CP functionary in Mexico. She stated she received about ten of these letters which she delivered unopened to her espionage principal.

LEOPOLDO ARENAL was the brother-in-law of ROSE ARENAL.

ROSE ARENAL advised Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on April 30, 1951, that she received mail from Mexico in 1939 and turned mail over to ELIZABETH BENTLEY but denied involvement in espionage.

She stated that after the attempt on the life of LEON TROTSKY in May, 1940, she felt the letters she turned over to BENTLEY might have concerned the assassination.

On May 16, 1955, OSCAR BRADLEY, Superintendent at [redacted] New York, New York, advised SA JOSEPH F. DIFFLEY that MAX SEBORER advised him his wife, RITA SEBORER, died on May 7, 1955. b6 b7C

On April 25, 1956, Memphis Confidential Informant T-5 identified a photograph of MAX SEBORER as that of a person known to T-5 from 1938 to 1944 as a member of the Communist faction of the Teachers Union of New York.

On June 22, 1964, Memphis Confidential Informant T-6 advised that a group known as the May 2nd Committee for Peace in Vietnam was registered as a temporary student organization at the University of Wisconsin on April 27, 1964, "with a purpose to focus public attention on the need for speedy withdrawal of United States military personnel and aid from Vietnam." JOHN COATSWORTH was listed as Chairman of this organization. T-6 added that since his arrival in Wisconsin in September, 1963, COATSWORTH received a great deal of publicity in college and noncollege newspapers in Wisconsin regarding his travel to Cuba in the Summer of 1963 with a group of youths, said travel being in defiance of a United States State Department prohibition. T-6 added that COATSWORTH had made speeches to various groups in connection with this trip exhibiting a very sympathetic attitude therein to the Castro Government in Cuba and voicing a very critical attitude regarding United States policy in connection with Cuba.

The September 23, 1964, issue of the "Milwaukee Journal," a daily newspaper published at Milwaukee, carried an item captioned, "Nine Indicted for Tie With Cuban Trip." This item over a Washington, D. The article identified them as field workers for the WTVP. The article further stated that the purpose of the sit-ins, according to Mr. and Mrs. GABRINER of [redacted] Northern Coordinators of the Project, was to test the facilities in Somerville under the terms of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Most of the 100 persons who participated were served but several, including the two University of Wisconsin students, were treated roughly, the article stated.

The May 6, 1965, issue of the "Daily Cardinal," reported that the West Tennessee Voters' Project (WTVP), a group sponsored by a campus organization, is recruiting individuals and raising funds for their volunteers. The article stated that already, two University students, DAN BEAGLE and DEBBIE RIB, are in Fayette County in Tennessee registering voters. The summer project will stress voter registration, the head-start program for children under the War on Poverty Program, and school integration work. The article concluded by stating that those wishing to contribute should make checks payable to the West Tennessee Voters' Project, in care of DEBBIE RIB, and mail to [redacted] Somerville, Tennessee. Also, for further information, calls should be made to [redacted] BOB or VICKI GABRYNER. b6 b7C

At a meeting of the Madison, Wisconsin, chapter of the W. E. B. Re: TRENA LORRAINE TAYLOR

On April 24, 1965, T-4 advised that TRENA TAYLOR of Madison, Wisconsin, had recently been in Fayette County, Tennessee, in connection with a program relating to poverty conditions.

On February 18, 1965, T-4 identified TRENA TAYLOR of Madison, Wisconsin, as being as of that time a Co-ordinator for the Regional Meeting of the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America, Inc. (DCA), to be held in Madison, Wisconsin, February 20 and 21, 1965.

T-4 on January 13, 1965, advised that PEGGY GOLDMAN, then Midwest Coordinator of DCA, commented that TRENA TAYLOR was a Communist Party (CP) member.

(A characterization of the DCA is set forth in the Appendix Section of this communication.)

On April 24, 1965, T-4 advised that on April 23, 1965, TRENA TAYLOR and BOB GABRINER had indicated that GABRINER had been in Fayette County, Tennessee, in connection with a program relating to poverty conditions there. TAYLOR mentioned that apparently there is a group known as the May 2nd Movement, comprising of individuals who are splitting away from the labor movement for the purpose of aiding the underprivileged in Fayette County, Tennessee. (A characterization of the May 2nd Movement (M2M) is attached hereto in the Appendix Section.)

On September 22, 1964, a Federal Grand Jury in the Eastern District of New York (EDNY), Brooklyn, New York, returned a true bill charging nine defendants including MICHAEL BROWN with conspiracy to violate existing United States laws restricting travel to Cuba.

On October 1, 1964, MICHAEL BROWN, together with other defendants, appeared in EDNY, Brooklyn, New York, to answer the indictment handed down against them on September 22, 1964, charging them with conspiracy to violate Title 8, U. S. Code, Section 1185(b), at which time pleadings to the indictment were deferred for thirty days.

On November 2, 1964, BROWN and his co-defendants entered pleas of not guilty before Chief Judge JOSEPH ZAVATT in the EDNY. Upon allegation of defense counsels, Judge ZAVATT stayed the trial in this matter until a decision was rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of ZEMEL versus RUSK, in that the Judge had stated that in his opinion the issues of the ZEMEL case and in BROWN's case were identical.

As of April 27, 1965, MICHAEL BROWN resided in [redacted] New York City, and was unemployed. b6 b7C

The Nashville "Banner," a daily newspaper, Nashville, Tennessee, issue of July 28, 1965, carried a page one story entitled, "'New Left' Student Groups Show Communist Links," by United Press International.

This story reported that GUS HALL, General Secretary of the Communist Party, USA, told Reporter PAUL R. JESCHKE, "We're winning. Fronts are a thing of the past. We've got the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs, the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and the Students for a Democratic Society going for us, but they're not fronts in the usual sense of the word. They're just part of the responsible left--that portion of American youth that realizes society is sick. See you 'round the campus."

The article described EUGENE DENNIS, JR., whose father EUGENE DENNIS, SR. She was not awarded a degree. She was admitted from West High School, Madison, Wisconsin. Her address in September, 1950, was [redacted] Madison, Wisconsin, and her last known address was [redacted] Madison, Wisconsin. b6 b7C

LEVITA O'KEEFE, Credit Bureau of Madison, on May 17, 1965, advised that the ZEGAROWICZ family had been in the files of that Credit Bureau since January, 1954. A written report in file dated October, 1963, shows that EUGENE ZEGAROWICZ graduated from the University of Wisconsin and entered law practice in 1960. He was also a commercial manager of a local radio station. A newspaper item in file dated 1960 shows that he married DONNA DUGDAL, daughter of BRIAN DUGDAL of Platteville, Wisconsin.

On July 13, 1961, Memphis Confidential Informant T-17 advised that an annual meeting of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) was held July 26-31, 1961, at the Student Center, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota. This source stated that DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, [redacted] Madison, Wisconsin, attended the meeting.

On July 22, 1963, T-17 advised that during the period June 23-28, 1963, an annual meeting of the WILPF was held at the YMCA Camp at Estes Park, Colorado, and that DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, [redacted] Madison, Wisconsin, attended this meeting as a delegate.

On April 6, 1965, Memphis Confidential Informant T-18 advised that on March 27, 1965, the Chicago Committee to Defend the Bill of Rights (CCDBR), sponsored a supper and workshop-conference at McGiffert House, 5751 South Woodlawn, Chicago, commencing at 5 p.m. T-18 stated that among those in attendance was Mrs. EUGENE ZEGAROWICZ [redacted] Madison, Wisconsin.

The May 25, 1965, issue of the "Wisconsin State Journal," a daily newspaper of general circulation in the Madison, Wisconsin, area, page one, part two, contains an article which states that a rally to support University of Wisconsin students protesting the House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC) was held at Madison, Wisconsin, the previous Monday night. It states that a six-member panel discussed the origin of the HUAC's Chicago hearings, its relationship to the Constitution, and its results. It states that all speakers urged the abolition of HUAC, calling the committee's function and methods unconstitutional. One of the panelists was Mrs. DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, Secretary of the Ad-Hoc Committee to Abolish HUAC.

The May 25, 1965, issue of "The Daily Cardinal," University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin, student newspaper, contains an article on page one which states that the Madison Chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) sponsored a meeting at the University YMCA the previous Monday to discuss the purpose of the HUAC and its effect on the American community.

The article states that one of the individuals invited to participate in this discussion was DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, an officer of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF). It continues that the meeting of over fifty people was called as a pre-rally for protest demonstrations in Chicago, May 25-27, of HUAC's investigation of eleven United States citizens, most of whom are involved in city politics and fair-housing action.

The article states that Mrs. ZEGAROWICZ gave some alleged reasons for the subpoenaing of the eleven citizens. She stated that some citizens of Austin, a suburb of Chicago, created the Austin Community Organization to try to integrate some of Chicago's communities. She stated the organization was church based and extremely effective in desegregating many neighborhoods. She alleged that the "red squad" of Chicago, a very active group, began to write down the names of some of the leaders of the organization, especially those who had dealings with the Committee many years before, and as a result HUAC asked to come in and investigate the Austin Community Organization and the people who were trying to give back the constitutional rights of some of their fellow citizens. As a result, according to Mrs. ZEGAROWICZ, their own rights as citizens are being taken away.

On May 28, 1965, Memphis Confidential Informant T-19 advised that the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC) held a meeting on May 22-23, 1965, at the Midland Hotel in the Pershing Room, 172 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois. T-19 stated that DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, Madison, Wisconsin, attended the afternoon session of this meeting on May 22, 1965, and the session on May 23, 1965. In addition to DONNA ZEGAROWICZ, there was another individual in attendance from Madison, Wisconsin. At the afternoon session on May 22, 1965, the two from Madison, Wisconsin, were asked to form an Ad Hoc Committee and begin paying $10 or $25 a month to the National Committee.

RE BRUCE AND RANDY RAPPAPORT,
also known as Mrs. Bruce Rappaport

On March 19, 1965, WARNER A. WICK, Dean of Students, University of Chicago, advised the Chicago Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) that a committee known as the Southern Work Project Committee (SWPC) had formed at the University of Chicago and was on that date to depart for Somerville, Tennessee. It is the intention of this committee, he said, that they participate in the building of a community center for the Fayette County Civic and Welfare League of Somerville. DEAN WICK identified the Co-Chairmen of the newly formed committee as BRUCE and RANDY RAPPAPORT, [redacted] Chicago, Illinois, a married couple who are students at the University of Chicago. He stated he was aware only of the proposed summer project and knew nothing of other activity in which the committee might engage.

On March 19, 1965, RANDY RAPPAPORT advised a representative of the Chicago FBI that the committee was then forming for departure for Somerville and expected to arrive in that city by mid-morning on March 20, 1965. She stated the group would participate on March 21, 1965, in a memorial march in Somerville, Tennessee, on behalf of civil rights workers in Selma, Alabama. Mrs. RAPPAPORT furnished no further information regarding the committee or intended activities.

Concerning BRUCE RAPPAPORT, the "Chicago Maroon," a student newspaper published at the University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, edition of January 26, 1963, identified BRUCE RAPPAPORT as Chairman of the Community Relations Committee and majority leader of the Student Government.

The "Chicago Sunday Sun-Times," a newspaper published in Chicago, Illinois, issue of January 27, 1963, reported BRUCE RAPPAPORT was one of twelve representatives of the University of Chicago Student Government who were "ousted" from their positions in Student Government because of an assembly-approved condemnation of the Cuban blockade last October.

The assembly (of which RAPPAPORT was a member) approved a statement to President JOHN F. KENNEDY on October 25, 1962, which said in part, "We deplore the actions of the United States in establishing a naval blockade on military weapons shipped to Cuba."

The article further stated that according to a University spokesman a great deal of resentment was shown to the sixteen assembly members because they voted on the blockade without consulting their constituents.

The "Chicago Maroon," issue of April 23, 1963, identified BRUCE RAPPAPORT as Chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) branch at the University of Chicago.

Memphis Confidential Informant T-22, on October 27, 1961, advised that the University National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) group in making application to the University of Chicago for recognition on that campus during the autumn of 1961, identified BRUCE RAPPAPORT as President of the University of Chicago NAACP.

DOUGLAS F. DOWD was listed as one of the signers of this petition.

In a letter to the editor of the "Ithaca Journal," a daily newspaper published at Ithaca, New York, contained in the October 25, 1962, issue of this paper, DOUGLAS F. DOWD in commenting on the Cuban revoluation and the build-up of missile weapons in Cuba stated that the Soviet Union and Cuba are engaged in brinkmanship but that this brinkmanship is in response to our own. He maintained that Cuba's turning to the East was because that country had been made desperate by American hostility, economic warfare and sabotage.

ADVANCE YOUTH ORGANIZATION

A source advised on February 18, 1960, that Advance, an organization of Progressive Youth, was founded in New York City, on February 13 and 14, 1960.

A second source advised on March 2, 1960, that, according to the Secretariat of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), the Declaration of Principles adopted at the founding convention of Advance were essentially the line of the leadership of the CPUSA.

A third source stated in December, 1961, that at a meeting of the Communist Party (CP) members of Advance held on December 20, 1961, MARVIN MARKMAN declared that Advance had been initiated by the CP as a Marxist-Leninist Youth Organization.

The third source furnished information on January 28, 1963, reflecting that at the Third Annual Convention of Advance, held in New York City on October 13, 1962, the name of the organization was changed to Advance and Burning Issues Youth Organizations (A-BI). This action was taken because Burning Issues (BI), a separate youth organization, organized in New York City in May, 1961, as a discussion club, became an affiliate of Advance.

A fourth source advised on June 26, 1963, that at a meeting of the City Board of A-BI held on June 25, 1963, it was voted to disassociate BI from the Advance organization.

This source advised further on July 11, 1963, that the membership of BI met in New York City on July 10, 1963, and voted to dissolve.

MAY 2 MOVEMENT (M2)
Formerly known as May 2 Committee APPENDIX

A source advised on March 3, 1965, as follows:

The May 2 Movement (M2M) is the name used by the May 2 Committee which was organized on March 14, 1964, at New Haven, Connecticut, by a group of young people participating in a symposium, "Socialism in America," being held at Yale University. The original aim of the M2M was to plan and execute a demonstration in New York City on May 2, 1964, demanding withdrawal of United States troops from Vietnam.

The M2M is dominated and controlled by the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) and has as its aims and purposes the embarrassment of the United States Government by meetings, rallies, picketing demonstrations and formation of university-level clubs at which a Marxist-Leninist oriented approach and analysis are taken of United States domestic and foreign policies.

This source advised on May 19, 1965, that the current headquarters of the M2M is 640 Broadway, New York City, Room 307.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP) APPENDIX
PROGRESSIVE LABOR MOVEMENT (PLM)

A source advised on April 20, 1965, that the PLP, formerly known as the PLM, held its first national convention April 15-18, 1965, at New York City, to organize the PLM into a PLP. The PLP will have as its ultimate objective the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism.

"The New York Times," City Edition, Tuesday, April 20, 1965, page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of PLP. The PLP was described as an outgrowth of the PLM. Its officers were identified as MILTON ROSEN, New York, President; and WILLIAM EPTON of New York and MORT SCHEER of San Francisco, Vice-Presidents. A 20-member National Committee was elected to direct the party until the next convention.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962 by Mr. ROSEN and Mr. SCHEER after they were expelled from theCommunist Party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

The PLP publishes the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly," a theoretical magazine; "Progressive Labor," a monthly magazine; "Challenge," a New York City newspaper; and "Spark," a west coast newspaper.

The June 1, 1965, issue of "Challenge," page 6, states that, "this paper is dedicated to fight for a new way of life - where the working men and women own and control their homes, factories, the police, courts, and the entire government on every level."

The source advised that the PLP utilizes the address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York, but also utilizes an office in Room 622, 132 Nassau Street, New York City, where PLP publications are prepared.

TEACHERS UNION OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK APPENDIX

The 1942 report of the New York State Legislative Subcommittee investigating the Public Education System in New York City (Rapp Coudert Committee), page 178, stated in substance the following regarding the Teachers Union of the City of New York (TU):

"The history of the Communist movement in the New York City School System is primarily the history of the so-called Teachers Union of the City of New York, formerly Local 5 of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) and of its subsidiary, the College Teachers Union, formerly Local 547 of the American Federation of Teachers, which was founded by Local 5 in 1938." The Communists began infiltrating Local 5, in the 1920's and by 1953, were in complete control. In 1941, AFT revoked the charters of Locals 5 and 537 on the grounds that these locals were under the "control of the Communist Party and had consistently engaged in practices inimical to democracy."

Dr. ABRAHAM LEFKOWITZ of the Teachers Guild, deceased, advised in August, 1955, that after the revocation of the TU's charter, it acted as an independent union until 1943, when it became affiliated with the State, County and Municipal Workers of America, CIO.

According to an article appearing in the "New York World Telegram" of June 11, 1946, the State, County, and Municipal Workers of America and the United Federal Workers, both CIO, consolidated in April, 1946, to form the United Public Workers of America (UPWA).

The "Directory of National and International Labor Unions in the United States 1955," pages 3 and 4, reflects that UPWA disbanded in February, 1953, after being expelled from the CIO on charges of Communist domination.

The "Daily Worker," a former east coast Communist daily newspaper which suspended publication January 13, 1958, in its issue of February 16, 1953, page 2, column 5, noted that TU had announced it would henceforth be an independent organization of teachers and had ended its affiliation with the UPWA.

JOHN LAUTNER, former National Functionary of the Communist Party, United States of America, until his expulsion from the Communist Party in 1950, on January 6, 1954, advised that he has known the TU of New York City to have been under the control of the Communist Party since the middle 1930's. He knows the top leaders of the TU, ABRAHAM LEDERMAN, President, and ROSE V. RUSSELL, Legislative Representative, as having been devoted Communist Party members as of the time he left the Communist Party.

The "New York Teachers News," official newspaper of the TU, on October 12, 1963, reported the death of ABRAHAM LEDERMAN on October 3, 1963, and that ROSE RUSSELL continued as a TU official.

The same edition of the newspaper indicated that TU is located at 206 West 15th Street, New York 11, New York.

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals or, if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

The second source advised in April, 1965, the headquarters of the organization continues to be located at 1953½ McAllister Street, San Francisco, California.

Both sources have advised that at the Fouding Convention two officers were elected: PHILIP CHAPIN DAVIS, President; CARL ELLENGER BLOICE - Publications Chairman.

A third source advised on October 26, 1962, PHILIP DAVIS attended a CP recruiting class held at 1579 Scenic Avenue, Berkeley, California.

A fourth source advised that CARL BLOICE, reporter for the "People's World," was on April 3, 1964, elected to the newly organized San Francisco County Committee of the CP.

The "Peoples World" is a west coast communist newspaper published weekly in San Francisco, California.

On 11/2/65, Mrs. CHARLES MIRAS was interviewed by SAS [redacted] and EUGENE R. NOBLE at Palisades, New York. Mrs. MIRAS advised of past membership with the Bath Beach Club of the CP. She stated that her membership with the club was such a long time ago that she was most reluctant to recall names because her memory was so poor. She agreed to consider that matter for a few days until 11/5/65. On 11/5/65, she was again recontacted and stated both she and her husband were unable to give any specific information because of poor memory and any misinformation furnished would be most serious.

ReME quarterly rep SA William H. Lawrence 11/5/65.

The following observations are for the future guidance of your office in the preparation of reports in captioned and similar matters.

The "Location" column in the cover pages failed to contain serial numbers for where original information is located. This, of course, is required.

It was stated on page 2 that an indicated source "advised representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation." This is considered excess verbiage as it is assumed that all information in an investigative report was furnished to the Bureau, unless otherwise indicated.

On page 4, paragraph 3, line 5 "participating" changed to read "participation." Correct your copies; no other action necessary.

Rerep, in general, is much too lengthy. Specifics are as follows. The prime substance of the report, setting forth racial activities, comprises 16 pages. A total of 40 additional pages are utilized for the sole purpose of characterizing individuals who participated in the racial activities. These 40 pages consist of 29 pages for characterizations of individuals, plus 11 Appendix pages for characterizations of organizations with which the individuals have been connected. Some of the more gross examples of unjustifiably lengthy characterizations are those on pages 19-24 (6 pages for the characterization of a single individual); pages 30-32 (3 pages for a single characterization); and pages 33-35 (3 pages for a single characterization). of the characterizations contain unnecessary lengthy personal history data; checks of credit and police records which were either negative or not pertinent; and it unnecessarily repeated information concerning the individual's participation in racial activities. There were also repetitive statements to the effect that a characterization of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America was set forth in the Appendix.

Several of the individuals characterized should not have been included as the information concerning them is not considered subversive. See pages 42-45. On page 35 reference was made to the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee. However, the Appendix failed to contain a characterization of this organization. Some of the Appendix characterizations were not up to date. Examples noted on pages 46, 52 and 53.

The foregoing should be brought to the attention of SA Lawrence and the Supervisor who approved rerep. They should be scored with form errors. In addition, their specific attention should be directed to Bulet 8/28/64 to all offices which contained instructions concerning the preparation of CIRM reports. Specific attention should be given to item #10 on page 5 which concerns the preparation of characterizations of individuals and the necessity for keeping them as succinct and pointed as possible.

APPEARANCE OF BAYARD RUSTIN AT LEHIGH UNIVERSITY, BETHLEHEM, PA.
OCTOBER 14, 1965

The October 19, 1965, issue of "The Brown and White," the official student publication of Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., reflects BAYARD RUSTIN, a civil rights leader, appeared before 130 people in the University Center on Thursday, October 14, 1965. RUSTIN was a guest of the civil rights club and Resident Halls Council.

RUSTIN predicted a political alliance between the civil rights and labor movements in the United States to solve the three major civil rights problems - slum housing, employment with dignity, and quality integrated education. Although these problems affect the Negro more severely, they affect more white people than Negroes. Millions and billions of dollars will be required to finance the works project, and only the federal government has enough funds.

RUSTIN stated that various groups must join together and form a strong political alliance to accomplish their goals. The formation of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the organizing of unions on an industry-wide basis really brought the Negro and unions together. Unionism fought for the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and both liberal and civil rights groups have been fighting for the two dollar minimum wage bill. Federal support of union service to unions would solve the unemployment problem. Negro women, who have traditionally cared for wealthy white children would be hired as assistant teachers. RUSTIN proposed that they care for the children during recess and lunch periods to give teachers more time to teach. He also suggested Negro boys be hired as orderlies in hospitals; however, there must be a redefinition of the job so that he is "not just a dumb nigger that sweeps up white peoples' vomit."

APPEARANCE OF BAYARD RUSTIN AT
PA., OCTOBER 14, 1965

RUSTIN also proposed government support to babysitting agencies to provide employment with dignity and to enable mothers to get away from their husbands and children for a day. He defined for young people that their going to school is work, all people should be paid to go to school whose parents cannot afford it. This would include elementary through university education.

The civil rights movement is a moral crusade and can accomplish much more because of this. RUSTIN stated the Declaration of Independence could hardly be called a nobde document since it was signed by many men interested in justice only for themselves. The civil rights movement attempts to restore nobility to the Declaration of Independence. The civil rights movement is how to redeem America.

The civil rights revolution has grown since the Civil War. From 1955 until 1963 civil rights demonstrators worked on integrated public accommodations. By the time the 1964 Civil Rights Act was passed, the job was two-thirds done.

RUSTIN, who sponsored a rally on June 8, 1965, in New York City against the United States action in Vietnam, stated he believed Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING erred in announcing his opposition to the United States Vietnam policy from the platform of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Although the Vietnam crisis is a badly damaging one, and Dr. KING, as a Nobel Peace Prize winner should have commented on it, it should have been done in a different time and place.

RUSTIN said he supported the war on poverty but not because it is effective. He felt that if he should attack it he would be helping the reactionaries.

RUSTIN was asked to comment on how the Lehigh University civil rights club was not permitted to officially engage in last year's march in Bethlehem.

APPEARANCE OF BAYARD RUSTIN AT
LEHIGH UNIVERSITY, BETHLEHEM,
PA., OCTOBER 14, 1965

RUSTIN stated, "If you are going to act like sheep the administration will continue to treat you like sheep. If you had 300 men, they could and would have done it. Power is everything."

The fiftyfive year old RUSTIN revealed in a joint Brown and White - WLRM Radio interview that he was a member of the Young Communist League from 1938 to 1941. He claims he left the Young Communist League (YCL) when he found out that they were not interested in justice but only in what is good for the Soviet Union.

The YCL has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker," on February 11, 1957, page one, column two, reported BAYARD RUSTIN, Secretary, War Resistance League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, USA held in New York City February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker," was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

On 12/14/65 SA R. ANDREW PETERS engaged Mrs. WALLACE ALBERTSON in a personal pretext interview in front of her residence at 8948 Rosewood Avenue, Los Angeles, and ascertained that she resided there with her husband, JACK ALBERTSON, an actor. The pretext was that of trying to locate someone in the general neighborhood with the last name of ALBERTSON but a different first name from that of her husband. It was noted that Mrs. WALLACE ALBERTSON is rather tall and has light brown hair and is attractive in appearance. (U)

On 12/15/65 it was ascertained by means of a pretext telephone call by SA R. ANDREW PETERS to the office of SCLC, 2400 South Western Avenue, Los Angeles, telephone 731-2456, that WALLACE ALBERTSON is a volunteer worker for SCLC and generally works on Saturday afternoons only at the SCLC office, which is also listed in the phone book as the Western Christian Leadership Conference Office. The pretext was that of having previously been in touch with Mrs. ALBERTSON regarding volunteer work on behalf of SCLC and desired to recontact her concerning this matter. (U)

WALLACE THOMSON ALBERTSON is not on the Security Index nor the Reserve Index of the Los Angeles Office, and no further investigation is contemplated on her at this time UACB. (U)

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

On October 6, 1965, LEWIS HINSHAW appeared at the Little Rock Office of the FBI and advised that he has spent a considerable amount of time in the offices of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) on West Ninth Street in Little Rock, Arkansas, and recently he noted among the reading material located in the office a magazine known as the "Soul Book." He described this as a quarterly magazine and an anti-imperialist type magazine which is published at Post Office Box 1097, Berkeley, California.

Concerning the address of Post Office Box 1097, Berkeley, California, supra, the following information is set forth:

The Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) held conferences the weekend of October 30-November 1, 1964, in Nashville, Tennessee. This conference was nominally held under the auspices of the Afro American Student Movement (ASM). Shortly after the conference began, those present were advised that the conference was actually a function of RAM.

A leaflet distributed at this conference was captioned "The Razor." This leaflet stated it was issued by the ASM. It stated the address of the West Coast Division of ASM was Post Office Box 1097, Berkeley, California.

(LR T-1, 11/3/64)

A characterization of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) is contained in the appendix hereto.

As of November 16, 1964, the ASM was a front organization utilized by RAM for its more open and public activities.

LR 100-3564

A conference to form a coalition of militant Negro radicals was held in Washington, D. C., from May 30-31, 1965, in the Hedin House Hotel. Some of the groups composing the National Black Coordinating Committee were, in part, a group which publishes "Soul Book" in California.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party (CP)

At a CP meeting in early December, 1965, ORVIL T. LEACH, who has been assigned to work in "ACTION", discussed the efforts of the St. Louis Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) to boycott Bi-State Transit buses operating on the Wellston, Page, and Hodiamont lines. Bi-State bought out the service car company which operated in these areas and which served primarily Negro travelers. According to LEACH, CORE has decided to promote this boycott and in order to implement this plan, they are operating service cars with volunteer drivers. No fare is charged because the vehicles do not have licenses to operate. However, donations are being accepted. A veteran CP official commented that it appears unlikely such a boycott will succeed because Bi-State employs many Negro bus drivers and that company has simply tried to eliminate competition by buying out a competing service car line. HERSHEL J. WALKER advised LEACH that Negroes should attempt to start another service car line which would secure a license to operate from the City of St. Louis, or, in the alternative, commence an effort to lower bus fares. LEACH was instructed to keep in close touch with the pending boycott, observe how it develops, and advise CP leaders. WALKER is Chairman of the Missouri District CP.

"ACTION" consists of a group of former CORE members who believe the latter organization is not sufficiently militant.

(SL T-1 December 7, 1965)

B. Socialist Workers Party (SWP)

The Socialist Workers Party and the St. Louis Branch SWP are characterized in the attached appendix.

RICHARD H. CLARKE, Organizer of the St. Louis Branch SWP, in October, 1965, discussed the desirability of supporting the so-called "Alexander Defense Committee", with headquarters Post Office Box 345, Canal Street Station, New York City. CLARKE distributed a brochure which described Dr. NEVILLE ALEXANDER as a Negro scholar who is a political prisoner in South Africa.

(SL T-2 October 7, 1965)

The SWP held its National Convention on September 3 through September 6, 1965, in New York City. There was a workshop involving various "defense cases". One of those discussed was the ALEXANDER case. A SWP official asserted that in the near future one TOBATA (phonetic), a leader of South Africa, U.S.A. who is fighting against racism, would make a national tour in the United States on behalf of the Alexander Defense Committee.

(SL T-2 September 13, 1965)

RICHARD H. CLARKE promoted a meeting on November 11, 1965, at 5880 Delmar Avenue. Its purpose was to organize a St. Louis Chapter of the Alexander Defense Committee and he, CLARKE, was the principal speaker. He said that this meeting marked the beginning of such a group in St. Louis. He then discussed alleged inequities in the treatment of non-whites in South Africa. He declared they are cruelly treated and Dr. NEVILLE ALEXANDER is one of three who were imprisoned for their efforts to improve the status of non-whites in that country. CLARKE announced that TOBATA (phonetic) is touring the United States in behalf of Dr. ALEXANDER. CLARKE concluded his talk by saying that he hoped a chapter could be started soon. Approximately eleven were present.

(SL T-2 November 14, 1965)

CLARKE spoke at another meeting December 16, 1965, at 5880 Delmar Avenue. Approximately eight were present and again CLARKE urged the formation of an Alexander Defense Committee. He asked for the opinion of those present and was told they do not believe it feasible because of the many other activities in various areas.

During his comments, CLARKE announced that the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) would hold seminars over the Christmas holidays for those interested in hearing "radical speakers".

RONALD LANDBERG was present at instant meeting and proceeded to argue with CLARKE. He said he recently attended an anti-war convention and the YSA tried to take over the meeting and subvert its direction in its own favor.

(SL T-2 December 17, 1965)

RONALD LANDBERG is a member of the CP.

(SL T-1 November, 1965)

YSA is characterized in the attached appendix.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

On November 19, 1965, HERSHEL J. WALKER, Chairman, Missouri District CP, endeavored to get support for a picket line to be operated the following evening. WALKER said that a program was scheduled under the sponsorship of a "White Citizens Council".

(SL T-3 November 30, 1965)

On November 20, 1965, Sheriff JAMES G. CLARK of Selma, Alabama, spoke at a meeting held at the St. Louis Baptist Temple, 4249 Gibson Avenue. HERSHEL J. WALKER drove a car full of individuals, some of them CP members, to the church and they all participated in the picketing. There were a number of Washington University students in the line, as well as members of "ACTION".

Pamphlets issued by the "Southern Christian Leadership Conference" were given to the pickets for distribution to passers-by. The pamphlets described some parts of the south as "the land where murder is respectable".

(SL T-4 November 29, 1965)

The speech by Sheriff JAMES G. CLARK, November 20, 1965, was under the sponsorship of the "St. Louis Metropolitan Area Citizens Council". Approximately 150 persons attended the speech while about 175 picketed outside. LEWIS HOLLIS, Mo. an official of the White Citizens Councils of America, was among those who participated in the meeting.

(SL T-5 November 20, 1965)

An article appeared in the "St. Louis Globe Democrat", November 22, 1965, which stated that Sheriff JAMES G. CLARK was introduced at the meeting November 20, 1965, by LEWIS HOLLIS; that in his speech, CLARK charged the civil rights movement is inspired by Communists. He defended his handling of civil rights demonstrators in Selma. He said they were beatniks and misfits who were trying to produce a coffee colored nation. CLARK added he has considered running for Governor of the State of Alabama.

ROBERT MC CULLOUGH, Detective, St. Louis Police Department, on November 27, 1965, advised that RONALD LANDBERG, local head of the St. Louis Chapter, W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA), and IVORY PERRY, [redacted] who has often been arrested as a civil rights demonstrator and who is a member of "ACTION", tried to force their way into the meeting addressed by Sheriff CLARK. They were arrested for peace disturbance.

DCA is characterized in the attached appendix.

On January 10, 1966, Mr. CLIFTON JAMIESON, stockbroker, [redacted] stated he formerly was treasurer of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Citizens Council. He resigned in the summer of 1965. He asserted that it was organized in the fall of 1964 following enactment of the Civil Rights Act. Its purpose is to band white people together to defend their civil rights. He stated the organization lost momentum and Rev. WILLIAM BARLOW became Chairman in the fall of 1965. He has been trying to rebuild the group and it was he who brought Sheriff CLARK to St. Louis.

An article in the "St. Louis Post Dispatch", a St. Louis daily newspaper, on November 19, 1965, stated that the talk by Sheriff CLARK was scheduled to be held in Kiel Auditorium in downtown St. Louis, but was cancelled when Rev. W. C. BARLOW, President of the local "White Citizens Council", said no Negroes would be allowed at the meeting. The article further stated that civil rights groups, including "ACTION", indicated they planned a protest and picket line.

W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America

The constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals, or if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

As of October, 1965, the headquarters of the DCA was located at 954 McAllister Street, San Francisco, California.

Over the Labor Day weekend, 1965, the DCA held a conference in Chicago, Illinois. According to a third source, a new slate of national officers was elected at this conference, which included Chairman Hugh Sterling Fowler, II (who, according to the third source, attended a CP cadre encampment held at Camp Midvale, New Jersey, in June, 1965, and following his election as Chairman of the DCA, attended another national CP cadre youth conference held on September 9-12, 1965, on a farm located in Northern Indiana, according to a fourth source); Director of Publicity Carl Ellenger Bloice (who was elected to the San Francisco County Committee CP in April, 1964, according to a fifth source); Educational Director Matthew "Dynamite" Hallinan (who in June, 1964, was stated to be the Youth Representative on the Northern California CP District Board, according to a sixth source); Organizational Secretary Terence "Kayo" Hallinan (who, according to a seventh source, met in June, 1965, with the District Staff of the Illinois CP to discuss the proposed DCA Midwest Summer Project), and Treasurer Susan Phyllis Borenstein (who, according to an eighth source, has attended meetings of the Youth Club of the CP of Illinois during 1965 in connection with the DCA Summer Project).

ST. LOUIS CLUB

A source has advised that a member of the Communist Party (CP) of Missouri attended a conference in Chicago, Illinois, on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization, and plan for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964. The expenses for this trip, as well as the expenses of two delegates to the founding convention of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) held from June 19th to 21st, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue in San Francisco, California, were paid for by the CP of Missouri.

A second source has advised that the organizing of a DCA Club in St. Louis was done at the direction and financial assistance of the CP of Missouri. Mike Zagarell, National CP Youth Director; Mortimer Daniel Rubin, National CP Organizational Director; and Claude Lightfoot, member of the National CP Committee, while in St. Louis have met with members of the St. Louis DCA Club to discuss its status and activities.

The second source also advised that approximately twelve young people met on March 7, 1965, in St. Louis, and organized the DCA St. Louis Club. They elected officers and executed an application for a charter and membership in the National DCA. Two of the elected officers of the St. Louis Club are members of the CP of Missouri.

Since its inception, the St. Louis Club DCA has been under the complete influence, domination and control of the Missouri CP.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" ("YS"), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated this organization was formed by the nationwide supporter clubs of the publication "YS."

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the "YS" have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 7, 1965, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City, by youth of various left-socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 7, 1965, YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA is located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

DETAILS:

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

No information was developed.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

No information was developed.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

The Bahai group of Salt Lake City, Utah, sponsored a United Nations Day Music Festival in Salt Lake City on October 24, 1965. Among those present were ROBERT ARCHULETA, WAYNE HOLLEY, MARCUS PARR, and JOSEPH R. DI SANTI.

(SU T-1, 10/27/65)

In July, 1963, the following held the noted positions in the Communist Party (CP) of Utah:

WAYNE HOLLEY, Chairman
ROBERT ARCHULETA, Secretary-Treasurer
JOSEPH R. DI SANTI, Member, Utah State Board.
MARCUS PARR, Member, Utah State Board.

(SU T-2)

TERENCE HALLINAN, Organizational Secretary, W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA), was at a meeting in Salt Lake City on the evening of November 11, 1965. He sought to obtain a person to work among the Negroes in organizing DCA and asked ROBERT ARCHULETA to do the same among the Mexican-Americans. This was to be done in the Salt Lake City area. He stated the Youth Branch of the National Association For The Advancement Of Colored People (NAACP) could be used as a means of getting the DCA started in the Salt Lake City area.

(SU T-3, 11/18/65)

A characterization of DCA is included in the appendix hereto.

A characterization of TERENCE HALLINAN is included in the characterization of DCA.

Nothing has been done to bring about the organizing of DCA among the Negroes in the Salt Lake City area. ARCHULETA has done nothing to bring about such an organization among the Mexican-Americans.

(SU T-3, 1/7/66)

There are now about 350 paid-up members of the Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP. This group has sponsored no demonstrations during the past three months, nor does it contemplate any demonstrations in the immediate future.

JOHNIE M. DRIVER continues to be the President of the NAACP in Salt Lake City, UTAH. He is employed as an Engineer by Sperry Utah Corporation, Salt Lake City.

Nothing has occurred during the past three months which has caused DRIVER to consider that the CP in Utah or persons associated with it have attempted to use the NAACP or influence its activities. DRIVER tries to keep in mind the fact that the NAACP is a logical target for the CP and wishes there were some way to completely discourage CP members from seeking affiliation or association with the NAACP, either as members or on any other basis. He periodically cautions members of the Board with respect to the fact that communists could ruin the influence of the NAACP in the civil rights field. He does not personally know that any member of the NAACP in Salt Lake City is or has been a member of the CP, although he suspects such membership on the part of some inactive members.

Membership records of the Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP in the possession of DRIVER reflect that WAYNE HOLLEY is not a member of the Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP. Among the current members are the following:

b7C

SU 100-9845

ROBERT ARCHULETA, [redacted]; membership expires May 31, 1966.
JOSEPH R. DI SANTI, [redacted] membership expires January 24, 19[redacted]
ETHEL HALE, [redacted] membership expires April 30, 1966.
UDA HANSON, [redacted]; membership expires June 30, 1966.

(JOHNIE M. DRIVER, [redacted] 1/18/66)

ETHEL HALE and UDA HANSON were members of the CP in Utah in July, 1963.

(SU T-2)

There are about 360 members of the NAACP in the Salt Lake City Branch at the present time. This group continues to seek methods for furthering the civil rights of Negroes and other minorities and regularly considers the usefulness of demonstrations. No demonstrations have been sponsored during the past three months and none are presently planned. The officers of the NAACP in Salt Lake City appear to be opposed to communism and to be cognizant of the fact that communism can hurt the civil rights movement. No specific actions have been taken to eliminate communists from NAACP meetings or other activities, but the organization attempts to remain alert to the possibility of such participation and hopes to be able to avoid communist influence. The President of the NAACP continues to be JOHNIE M. DRIVER. Among the members are ROBERT ARCHULETA, JOSEPH R. DI SANTI, ETHEL HALE, and UDA HANSON. These members do not attend meetings; they are not officers and have no apparent influence on the policies of the NAACP.

(SU T-1, 1/5/66)

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source has advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party (CP), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates to this meeting were cautioned against the germ of anti-Soviet and anti-CP ideologies. These delegates were also told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself. (U)

A second conference of over 20 persons met in Chicago on December 28-29, 1963, for the purpose of initiating a "call" to the new youth organization and planning for a founding convention to be held in June, 1964.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention. The aims of this organization, as set forth in the preamble to the Constitution, are, "It is our belief that this nation can best solve its problems in an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence, complete disarmament and true freedom for all peoples of the world, and that these solutions will be reached mainly through the united efforts of all democratic elements in our country, composed essentially of the working people allied in the unity of Negroes and other minorities with whites. We further fully recognize that the greatest threat to American democracy comes from the racist and right wing forces in coalition with the most reactionary sections of the economic power structure, using the tool of anti-communism to divide and destroy the unified struggle of the working people. As young people in the forces struggling for democracy, we shall actively strive to defeat these reactionary and neo-fascist elements and to achieve complete freedom and democracy for all Americans, thus enabling each individual to freely choose and build the society he would wish to live in. Through these struggles we feel the American people will realize the viability of the socialist alternative."

The Constitution further states that this new organization shall be a membership organization open to individuals, or if five or more people so desire, a chapter can be formed which shall in turn be guided by the policies and principles of the parent organization.

As of October, 1965, the headquarters of the DCA was located at 954 McAllister Street, San Francisco, California.

Over the Labor Day weekend, 1965, the DCA held a conference in Chicago, Illinois. According to a third source, a new slate of national officers was elected at this conference, which included Chairman HUGH STERLING FOWLER, II (who, according to the third source, attended a CP cadre encampment held at Camp Midvale, New Jersey, in June, 1965, and following his election as Chairman of the DCA, attended another national CP cadre youth conference held on September 9-12, 1965, on a farm located in Northern Indiana, according to a fourth source); Director of Publicity CARL ELLENGER BLOICE (who was elected to the San Francisco County Committee CP in April, 1964, according to a fifth source); Educational Director MATTHEW "DYNAMITE" HALLINAN (who in June, 1964, was stated to be the Youth Representative on the Northern California CP District Board, according to a sixth source); Organizational Secretary TERENCE "KAYO" HALLINAN (who, according to a seventh source, met in June, 1965, with the District Staff of the Illinois CP to discuss the proposed DCA Midwest Summer Project); and Treasurer SUSAN PHYLLIS BORENSTEIN (who, according to an eighth source, has attended meetings of the Youth Club of the CP of Illinois during 1965 in connection with the DCA Summer Project).

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CP)

1) Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank and file members.

On October 15, 1965, DE T-1 and on October 18, 1965, DE T-2 both advised that on October 15, 1965, a Michigan District, CP (MDCP) educational class was held at the William McKie Memorial Library and Educational Center (WMMLEC), 4835 Woodward Avenue, Detroit. (U)

This meeting was commenced by HERBERT KRANSDORF, who introduced the topic of the session as being "Struggle for Negro Rights" and the instructor was introduced as being THOMAS DENNIS. DENNIS commenced the discussion by asking questions from the persons in attendance and following a short question and answer session stated that the current Negro struggle has just now appeared to become an organized struggle but it actually had its start when Negro slaves first arrived in the colony of Virginia. He stated that the newspapers of today imply that this is an anti-white struggle which is not true as an attempt is being made to get the white population to support this struggle. He stated that as far as unity in this movement is concerned, it is one of the few movements in which the entire population from ages five through eighty are involved. (U)

DENNIS further stated that this struggle must bring about some great changes before full equality is attained and that there is a movement afoot in this country to stop the current Negro struggle. He said that to stop this struggle would necessitate a take-over by Fascism and tragic "blood baths" in the South. (U)

No reading assignments were given for subsequent classes and no literature or written material was passed out for study by the class. (U)

A characterization of the WMMLEC is contained in the appendix hereto.

At this meeting, WILLIAM ALLAN discussed the results of the November 2, 1965, Detroit City election. He stated that it was good that the "liberals" had won the election and the "conservatives" had lost. ALLAN said he was pleased that one Negro had been elected to the Detroit City Council but was disturbed because the other three Negro candidates had lost. ALLAN stated that he was particularly disturbed because GEORGE CROCKETT had lost in his campaign because of "Red baiting" through being attacked with "dirty leaflets". (U)

A characterization of "The Volunteers" is contained in the appendix hereto.

On November 10, 1965, DE T-6 advised that WILLIAM ALLAN is currently a member of the Ford Club, MDCP, and is the Michigan correspondent for "The Worker". (U)

He was cited for contempt of court during the New York trial and as a result served a four month prison sentence.

He also said "Yet, there is a lot more that could have been done toward electing more Negroes if we all had worked". (U)

DE T-9 advised on May 26, 1965, that as of that date, ARTHUR MC PHAUL was a member of the Ford Club, MDCP, and of the Freedom Forum Club, MDCP. (U)

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

MORTIMER DANIEL RUBIN, Organizational Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, was in Denver, Colorado, on November 10, 1965, and attended a meeting of the Denver CP group held at the home of ROBERT TRUJILLO, chairman of the Denver CP group, 4030 Tejon Street, Denver.

At this meeting, Mr. RUBIN gave a report on the condition of the CP and among other things stated, "Today the climate was good for CP members working within other groups because although there is red baiting, the groups have become open minded enough to say 'so what if there are communists working with us.'"

DN T-1 11/15/65

B. OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS - SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

The Socialist Workers Party (SWP) has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A meeting was held November 30, 1965, at the residence of Mrs. JAN PHILLIPS, [redacted] Mrs. PHILLIPS is the leader of an organization known as "Denver Area Friends of SNCC." This group is associated with the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

Together with JAN PHILLIPS were HARRY NIER, Denver attorney and chairman of the extinct Denver Chapter, Fair Play for Cuba Committee (FPCC), and SWP members HOWARD WALLACE, BILL CROSBY, NELLE GARCIA and BILL PERDUE.

The meeting was called for the purpose of attempting to plan some activity involving the youth who had been contacted by these individuals. No definite plans were made at this meeting.

DN T-1 12/3/65

A characterization of the Denver Chapter, FPCC, appears as an appendix hereto.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. DEMONSTRATION OPPOSING APPEARANCE OF SHERIFF JIM CLARK, SELMA, ALABAMA, IN DENVER, NOVEMBER 18, 1965

The October 28, 1965, issue of the "Denver Post" reported that the Denver Citizens' Council had scheduled Sheriff JIM CLARK of Selma, Alabama, as a speaker at an open meeting to be held at Denver November 18, 1965.

In the same newspaper article Mrs. JAN PHILLIPS, Secretary of the Denver chapter of the SNCC, reported that local citizens were invited to join in a protest of the appearance of Sheriff CLARK in Denver.

On November 12, 1965, several members of various civil rights groups met at Mt. Zion Church, 29th and Ogden Street, Denver, to plan a demonstration on November 18, 1965, opposing CLARK's appearance in Denver. Included in this group of individuals who participated in this meeting were SWP members NORMAN HODGETT, MARY JANE HODGETT, HOWARD WALLACE, NELLE GARCIA and BILL CROSBY.

Plans were made to distribute leaflets at various churches on November 14, 1965, urging that churchgoers assist in the demonstration against Sheriff CLARK.

DN T-1 11/15/65

During the seven days preceding November 15, 1965, members of the DBSWP were busy in calling their contacts and friends and urging them to participate in the JAMES CLARK demonstration to be held on November 18, 1965.

DN T-1 11/15/65

Officials of the DBSWP instructed its members to participate in the picketing of the meeting sponsored by the Denver Citizens' Council on November 18, 1965. These instructions were relayed to the members during the week preceding November 17, 1965.

DN T-2 11/17/65

DN 100-8997

The November 19, 1965, issue of the "Rocky Mountain News," Denver newspaper, reported that Sheriff JIM CLARK of Alabama spoke in Denver during the evening of November 18, 1965, at Lake Junior High School. The meeting was sponsored by the Denver Citizens' Council. It was reported that approximately 1,000 people attended the meeting and that approximately 500 people picketed the meeting opposing the appearance of CLARK in Denver.

Re: Denver Citizens' Council

During the months of July and early August, 1965, Denver newspapers reported on the plans of a group of individuals who were planning to organize the Denver Citizens' Council. Literature was mailed by one LYMAN E. STEELE, temporary Chairman of the Denver Citizens' Council. A portion of this literature is set forth below for the purpose of indicating the aims and purposes of the Denver Citizens' Council:

"A group of civic leaders in our area is concerned about the destruction of individual freedom by the increasing erosion of States' Rights and the adoption of civil rights laws. These forced integration measures will bring government coercion into every local community and will destroy property rights and freedom of choice....."

B. SWP's SPONSORSHIP OF ISAAC BANGANI TABATA APPEARANCE IN DENVER, NOVEMBER 27-28, 1965

At a meeting of the DBSWP held November 7, 1965, at 1105 South Gaylord Street, Denver, NORMAN HODGETT said that I. B. TABATA, President of the Unity Movement of South Africa, would be in Denver November 27 and 28, 1965. HODGETT stated that the members should read background information regarding TABATA which appeared in the Summer, 1965, issue of the "International Socialist Review."

DN T-2 11/17/65

A characterization of the "International Socialist Review" appears as an appendix hereto.

DN 100-8997

At the DBSWP meeting held November 14, 1965, at 1105 South Gaylord Street, Denver, NORMAN HODGETT made available a pamphlet which he urged members to pass out to their friends which advertised the appearance of I. B. TABATA at the Macedonia Baptist Church, 32nd and Adams Street, Denver, on November 27, 1965. The leaflet is entitled "Freedom Struggle in South Africa" - "Apartheid regime in South Africa continues arbitrary arrests and illegal jailings of freedom fighters."

DN T-2 11/17/65

ISAAC BANGANI TABATA spoke before approximately 100 individuals at the Macedonia Baptist Church, 32nd and Adams Street, Denver, November 27, 1965. TABATA described himself as the President of the Unity Movement of South Africa and he stated that the Negroes in South Africa were suffering from the racism of the government of South Africa. He requested financial assistance for those individuals, including "Dr. NEVILLE ALEXANDER, a brilliant young Coloured scholar and his comrades who are now serving sentences ranging from five to ten years on Robben Island, South Africa." A collection was taken up and approximately $136.92 was collected.

DN T-3 12/7/65

DN T-1 12/3/65

C. DEMONSTRATIONS AT DENVER FBI OFFICE AND FEDERAL BUILDING, JANUARY 6, 12 AND 15, 1966, RE MURDER OF SNCC WORKER, SAMUEL YOUNGE, IN ALABAMA

On January 4, 1966, JAN PHILLIPS advised she was interested in obtaining information concerning the "layout of the Department of Justice office at 19th and Stout Streets, Denver." PHILLIPS stated that this information was necessary as SNCC desired to have a demonstration at the Department of Justice on January 6, 1966. PHILLIPS said that the purpose of the demonstration was to protest the killing of a "civil rights worker in the south who had a connection with SNCC."

On January 5, 1966, JAN PHILLIPS stated that the demonstration would take place on January 6, 1966, between 11:00 and 11:30 A.M. and would last all day.

DN T-4 1/5/66

On January 5, 1966, JAN PHILLIPS of SNCC was in contact with WILLIAM CROSBY, Organizer, DBSWP. PHILLIPS furnished CROSBY with a list of ten names whom PHILLIPS wanted CROSBY to contact to participate in an SNCC demonstration at the Denver Office of the FBI on January 6, 1966. PHILLIPS stated that the demonstration would start at 11:00 A.M. and would continue to 5:00 P.M. or until the demonstration "petered out."

DN T-2 1/5/66

At 12:20 P.M. on January 6, 1966, a group of individuals appeared at the Denver Office of the FBI and identified themselves as representing the Denver Area Friends of SNCC. The spokesman identified himself as JOHN PERDEW. Colo. PERDEW stated that they were at the FBI office to protest the murder of SAMUEL YOUNGE. This group was advised by SAC SCOTT J. WERNER of the jurisdiction of the FBI and they were specifically advised that there was nothing he could do about the slaying of YOUNGE. WERNER explained to the group the FBI responsibility and the FBI policy pertaining to the investigation of any violations of Federal law which occur within investigative jurisdiction of the FBI. JOHN PERDEW furnished a leaflet entitled "WHO IS TO BLAME FOR SAM YOUNG'S MURDER?"

A copy of the above leaflet appears as an appendix hereto.

After the discussion ceased, the group was asked if they had any further requests to make of the FBI and they replied that they did not but that they intended to remain in the FBI office and they were then asked to leave the FBI office. They indicated by their actions that they were making themselves comfortable for an extended stay. Captain TOM COOPER, General Services Administration building guard, and U. S. Marshal WILLIAM H. TERRILL physically removed the people from the FBI office at 1:00 P.M.

U. S. Marshal TERRILL advised on January 6, 1966, that after the demonstrators were requested to leave the Federal Office Building, six of the individuals returned and were then arrested by the Marshal. On January 6, 1966, U.S. Marshal TERRILL signed a complaint at the Denver Police Department charging the following individuals with disturbance: JOHN PERDEW, Mrs. AMANDA PERDEW, Mrs. ROBERTA DELUXE, WILLIAM PERDUE, MARY JO OSGOOD and Mrs. JAN PHILLIPS.

Captain JOHN R. HINDES, Denver Police Department, advised on January 7, 1966, that the individuals were arrested by the Denver Police Department after the disturbance complaint was signed by Marshal TERRILL.

The "Rocky Mountain News" reported on January 7, 1966, that Mrs. REGINA TERRY also participated in the sit-in at the Denver FBI Office but when asked to leave she did so and was, therefore, not arrested.

REGINA TERRY is a member of the Denver CP group.

DN T-1 1/7/66

The "Denver Post" reported on January 7, 1966, that the six individuals arrested pleaded innocent on that date in Denver County Court to disturbance charges stemming from a sit-in demonstration at the Denver Federal Office Building.

DN 100-8997

The "Denver Post" article quotes JOHN PERDEW as saying, "We've come up here to make a point. We hold the Justice Department and the FBI partially responsible for the slaying in Tuskegee, Alabama, of SAMUEL L. YOUNGE, JR."

A meeting was held January 8, 1966, at the home of JAN PHILLIPS, [redacted] Money was collected from those in attendance for JOHN and AMANDA PERDEW.

JOHN PERDEW told of his work with SNCC in the south and gave a brief account of his experience at the sit-in at the Denver FBI Office.

At this meeting HARRY NIER, an attorney, announced that there would be another protest meeting on January 12, 1966, in front of the new Federal Building at 5:00 P.M. NIER also announced that there would be another picket line in front of the Federal Building between 3:00 and 4:30 P.M. on January 15, 1966. NIER urged everyone to attend.

DN T-2 1/18/66

Approximately thirteen adults and three children participated in a demonstration which took place on the mall of the Federal Office Building, Denver, between 5:00 and 5:55 P.M., January 12, 1966. Included in this picket line were those individuals who had been arrested previously on January 6, 1966, WILLIAM PERDUE, JAN PHILLIPS, ROBERTA DELUXE and MARY JO OSGOOD. Also included were MARY JANE HODGETT, NORMAN HODGETT and HARRY NIER.

Special Agents, FBI

Approximately thirty individuals participated in a demonstration on the mall in front of the Federal Office Building, Denver, from 3:00 P.M. to 4:30 P.M., January 15, 1966. In attendance at this demonstration were DENNIS ATKINS, CAROL ATKINS, NORMAN HODGETT, MARY JANE HODGETT, BOB LYONS and WILLIAM PERDUE, all members of the DBSWP, together with ROBERTA DELUXE and JAN PHILLIPS, who had been arrested on January 6, 1966, as well as HARRY NIER and other individuals.

ACTION COMMITTEE FOR EQUALITY

A source advised that at a meeting of the Denver Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP), held in Denver, Colorado, on November 3, 1963, it was announced that a meeting of a Negro discussion group was held on October 30, 1963, in Denver, which was attended by ten persons, including three members of the Denver Branch, SWP. This group was started by the Denver Branch, SWP, as a means of establishing the SWP in the Negro community in Denver, with Howard Wallace, Norman Hodgett and Nelle Garcia, all members of the Denver Branch, SWP, designated by the SWP to control and direct its activities.

The purpose of the group, other than to further the aims and purposes of the SWP, was to function as a permanent civil rights organization, to participate in picketing and other demonstrations to further the cause of Negro rights.

Until August 9, 1964, the group had no officers or official name but on this date temporary officers were elected which included Nelle Garcia as Secretary-Treasurer.

At a meeting of the Denver Branch, SWP, held August 23, 1964, in Denver, it was announced that the name of this organization would be the Action Committee for Equality, (ACE).

The organization was not incorporated under the laws of the State of Colorado or any other state and no official headquarters were maintained.

Since the inception of this group, no official membership list was compiled and meetings were open to anyone wishing to attend.

As of December 1, 1964, the group had held no further meetings, engaged in no demonstrations of any type, or elected permanent officers.

A meeting was held March 28, 1965, attended by fifteen individuals, including three members of the Denver Branch, SWP. This meeting was an attempt by the SWP to reactivate ACT.

This source advises as of November 2, 1965, the Action Committee for Equality was completely defunct and in the event it is reactivated will probably come out under another name with different officers and membership.

WHO IS TO BLAME FOR SAM YOUNGE'S MURDER?

Racists have murdered another civil rights worker in Alabama: Sam Younge, jr., a student at Tuskegee Institute working with the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNICK). On the day he was murdered Younge was helping to register voters in Huskegee, and during the previous week he had helped to erect tents in nearby Lowndes County to house evicted sharecroppers who had registered to vote.

Who is to blame for hhis murder? The recists, of course; but the federal government is just as responsible. Lyndon Johnson, the FBI and the Justice Department have lied to the people of this country again and again. Their fine words should not hide the fact that racists can murddr anyone they choose without fear of stern punishment. Johnson speaks grandly of the Great Society and themi sends "poverty" money and handouts to middle class professionals and Southern mayors. The Justice Department will not prosecute murderers because "Southern juries won*t convict" and then wants to be congratulated because public pressure finally forced them to get a conviction in the Liuzzo case last fall. The fact is the a federal law passed in 1875 prohibits anyone (including the Justice Department) from excluding Negroes from juries. In other words the Justice Department is using its own violation of this law as an excuse for not enforcing other laws.

The FBI repeats the old lie that "we don't make arrests--we are simply an investigative agency" and then continues to arrest draft card burners, along with bank robbers and auto thieves.

These lies are what protect the murderers Johnson so piously condemns. It has taken tremendous public pressure to get the federal govenmment to do anything. What will happen when the pressure is off?

Sam Younge's death is one of hundreds of murders committed to terrorize Negroes since the federal troops left the South in 1877. Most terrorist murders haven't even rated news coverage. How long can Americans expect the 22 million Negroes of this country to be non-violent as they attempt to gain the rights which most people take for granted? Should we be satisfied merely with fine words? and no action?

We demand, along with national SNCC chairman John Lewis, that President Johnson send federal marshals to the Black Belts of Alabama and Mississippi to protect civil rights workers and the general population from murder, legal terrorism and economic exile.

We demand that the Justice Department honestly prosecute the murderers of Sam Younge, Mickey Schwerner, Andy Goodman, James Chaney, Jimmy Lee Jackson, Freddie Lee Griffin, Col. Lemuel Penn, Rev. James Reeb, Malcolm X, and the dozens more who have died for a more just and democratic America.

We demand that President Johnson stop trying to fool the public with more high-sounding laws and begin to enforce the ones already on the books.

WHAT DOES FEDERAL LAW SAY ABOUT THE SAM YOUNGE CASE?

SECTION 242 of the U.S. Code says that anyone who intimidates a person in the the exercise of his right to vote or register is guilty of a misdemeanor.

THE 1965 VOTONG RIGHTS ACT prohibits the intimidation of an individual in the exercise of his right to vote or register, and outlaws the intimidation of a person helping another to exercise that right to register and vote.

The day Sam Younge was murdered he was helping another Tuskegee Institute student, Jimmy Rogers of SNCC, to bring people to the county courthouse in Tuskegee so that they could register to vote. The registrar told Rogers and Younge that if they didn*t leave the courthouse he would "Spill your guts on the floor".

In other words, the Justice Department is legally obligated to prosecute not only Younge's murderer but also lthe voting registear in Tuskegee for violating Johnson's celebrated Voting Rights Act.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY (CP), USA

1. Plans, strategy, Party line as revealed in Party publications and other propaganda media such as written directives, press releases and the like.

The CP of San Francisco in October, 1965, published a four-page leaflet entitled "Election Issues - A Communist Viewpoint". The leaflet on page 4 states that it was issued by the CP of San Francisco, 942 Market Street.

The leaflet purports to set out the CP position in the November elections of 1965 in San Francisco, California. It sets out the history of the CP endorsing candidates for the Board of Supervisors in 1959 and 1961 and of Communist Party participation in the 1963 and 1964 elections that developed the Negro community and other minority groups to work with young people and liberals to elect liberal and minority candidates to office and win [redacted] from the City's power structure.

As a result of this activity, the leaflet states, minority groups, especially Negroes, had gained representation on the Economic Opportunities Board which is to administer the Anti-Poverty Program and force the Board of Education to recognize de facto segregation of Negroes. The leaflet announces that Negro leaders such as Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, GA, Calif. among others, have called for an end to the war in Vietnam so that the Anti-Poverty Program to help minorities and the Negro can be developed and it is because of the war in Vietnam the power structure is able to confuse and divide the people and undermine the struggle for civil rights on the part of the Negro people and other minorities.

The leaflet continues that poverty exists because there are not enough jobs for Negroes and if there are jobs for Negroes the wages are too low and the Negroes are discriminated against.

The leaflet states that through the activity of the CP with other groups, the San Francisco Board of Education has finally admitted that San Francisco schools are segregated, but the Board attempts to lay the blame upon ghettos. The document states that the Board of Education is responsible for the way school district lines are drawn and is to blame for the neglect of good schools in the poor and Negro districts. The leaflet sets out the following demands to be made upon candidates for public office:

"1. Demand minority representation on all levels of City administration, which includes the need to elect Negroes to the Board of Supervisors.

2. Demand that labor and minorities be represented on all expanded commissions.

3. Demand a civilian police review board.

4. Demand jobs for the unemployed, particularly Negro youth.

5. Demand an end to de facto segregation in the schools."

SF T-1 on 10/26/65

There was published by the CP, USA a printed four-page pamphlet entitled "An Open Letter to the President -- From Gus Hall". GUS HALL is the National Secretary of the CP, USA.

Printed on page 4 of the pamphlet was the following:

"Issued as a public service, Communist Party of Northern California, 942 Market Street, Room 410, San Francisco 2, California."

The pamphlet is directed to President JOHNSON and quotes him as stating recently, "The Los Angeles riots were not an isolated incident". HALL states that the President correctly observed that what happened in Watts, California could happen in other cities in the U. S. unless the Negro minority feel that they are getting"a fair shake".

The leaflet accuses the President of lip service and the Federal Government of not doing anything to rid the cities of rural slums and ghettos. The leaflet charges that every slum and every ghetto in every city of America, and especially the South, is like a smouldering volcano ready to erupt. Unless the Government recognizes this, what happened in Harlem, Rochester and Philadelphia last year and in Los Angeles are all forerunners of greater things to come.

The leaflet states that what happened in Los Angeles was not a race riot but the explosion of pent-up feelings against unbearable conditions, police brutality and mass unemployment and every form of discrimination and degradation.

The leaflet charges that the President aggravated the situation by holding the Negroes of Los Angeles responsible for the violence and preached to them to respect law and order. The leaflet asks, "How can there be respect for law and order when the men sworn to uphold it have no respect for it themselves and when the law and order they preach is an acceptance of unbearable and humiliating conditions of life"?

The President is charged with doing nothing to halt the coldblooded murders of civil rights workers and Negroes in the South. The leaflet charges that the Government has done nothing to stop police brutality in Negro communities. It is charged that the Negroes in Watts were shot down like troops in Vietnam.

The leaflet further charges that the President has done nothing against the War on Poverty, but rather the money has been diverted to fight the war in Vietnam. The pamphlet charges that the conditions in slums and ghettos continue to deteriorate and that Negroes and other minorities are worse off today than when the "so-called Anti-Poverty Program" started. It is charged that this is the reason for the sorry condition of capitalism.

The pamphlet states that at the time of the Harlem upheavals the CP put forth an emergency program to really end ghettos and to fight poverty. The pamphlet charges that when it comes to armaments and war there is plenty of money, but when it comes to fighting poverty the economy is starved.

The leaflet continues that the Federal Government had declared the Watts community of Los Angeles a disaster area to receive immediate emergency funds for reconstructions and jobs, but it charges this is not enough since every slum and every ghetto must be declared a disaster area.

The pamphlet states that firm measures must be taken by the Federal Government to end the terror and violence directed against the Negro people in the South and that a Federal investigation of police brutality and of racial influence in law enforcement agencies be conducted.

It was reported that at a meeting of the Fillmore Club of the CP held in San Francisco on October 13, 1965 the two leaflets mentioned above were distributed to club members by CP member PRESTON STALLINGER to be distributed in the Fillmore section of the City of San Francisco, which is nearly 100 per cent Negro.

2. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at district and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank and file members.

A meeting of the East Bay Communist Party Industrial Club was held on November 8, 1965 in Oakland, California. At this meeting ROSCOE PROCTOR, a publicly admitted member of the National Committee of the CP, USA, gave a report on trade union activities of the CP in Oakland, California. PROCTOR said "This report is based on discrimination tactics used on Negroes who are discriminated against in the Iron Workers Union. Some friend of mine who is in the Iron Workers Union started a school to teach Negro workers how to tie bundles. Thursday morning November 11, 1965 we are going to integrate into the Iron Workers Union. The Rapid Transit System in Oakland is creating new jobs and the Iron Workers Union is having difficulty in getting men to fill all of the jobs with contractors that they have contracts with and the Iron Workers Union is hiring people from out of state. The gimmick that the contractors use and the Iron Workers Union business representative is when a Negro applies for help they charge they have not got enough experience, but when a White worker from another state comes in to be hired with no iron workers experience they hire him, but no Negro worker inexperienced. Our strategy is to have a couple of White experienced iron workers who are also progressives lead the line where they are hiring iron workers or even inexperienced white iron workers to see if they hire them in preference to inexperienced Negro workers. The new Rapid Transit contracts being let out to various contractors here in the Bay Area will create about 8,000 jobs for various trades. Therefore, the unemployed Negro should be hired for this work. Of course there are two courses of action we can take if this discrimination practice continues. We can have the NAACP lawyers fight this discrimination. Also on projects where Federeal money is involved, there is a non-discrimination clause in their contracts. Therefore, we will eventually win out in our campaign."

SF T-3 on 11/23/65

A meeting of the East Bay CP Industrial Club was held in Oakland, California on November 22, 1965. At this meeting CP Club member TERRY GREENE said, "This information report is a carry over from our last meeting of which ROSCOE PROCTOR talked about discrimination in the Iron Workers Union and I am giving this report briefly for the benefit of LEON WATSON because he did not attend our last meeting and I will tell LEON WATSON briefly of what occurred at the last meeting. Well, LEON, ROSCOE and some of his friends are forming a school so the Iron Workers Union will hire unemployed Negro workers who, in turn, will integrate into the Iron Workers Union if they do not have difficulty getting in. Therefore, ROSCOE PROCTOR's strategy is to have some White workers lead the way into the union hiring hall, and have several Negroes follow behind them to see if they will hire Negroes as well as hiring the White workers. Do you know any unemployed Negroes LEON? If you do, contact ROSCOE PROCTOR. This is all I have to say on this subject".

Calif.

LEON WATSON said, "This is a very good idea TERRY. I do know a few unemployed Negro workers who I will contact and I will tell them contact ROSCOE PROCTOR."

LEON WATSON is reported to be a member of the East Bay Industrial Club of the CP.

A. COMMUNIST PARTY (CP), USA

Information concerning CP direction and influence of and participation in racial demonstrations, disturbances, drives, boycotts and any other similar activities with racial overtones.

1. Watts Rioting, Los Angeles, California, August, 1965.

A meeting of the Fillmore Club of the CP was held October 13, 1965 in the Fillmore District of San Francisco. At this meeting Club member PRESTON STALLINGER passed out a leaflet on the Anti-Poverty Program and he gave a report on the Anti-Poverty Program held by the CP of San Francisco on a previous date at California Hall, Turk and Polk Streets, San Francisco, California. STALLINGER stated at this meeting, "Someone from Watts said that statements that the CP was involved in the Watts rioting were untrue because the CP had no information there was to be a riot and, therefore, had nothing to do with instigating the riot. This person also said that the problem of the Negro with Chief of Police PARKER of Los Angeles was old. Also since the Watts riots, police brutality has been increased."

2. Picketing of the home of Oakland Chief of Police EDWARD TOOTHMAN, September 25-26, 1965.

It was reported that on September 25 and 26, 1965 a newly-formed group in Oakland, California, known as the Alinsky Committee to Integrate Oakland Now, also known as ACTION, was behind the picketing of Chief of Police of Oakland, California EDWARD TOOTHMAN's home. It was reported that the following organizations participated in the picketing:

The Oakland Direct Action Committee.

Students for a Democratic Society.

Progressive Labor Party.

Communist Party

W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America.

Youth For Jobs.

Vietnam Day Committee.

The demonstration consisted of a picket line with individuals singing freedom-type songs, carrying signs and chanting slogans. Two of the signs were noted to contain the following: "Watts Happening Here Baby?" and "Freedom Now -- Control the Police". Members of the picket line also passed out stickers with the following words, "Burn Baby Burn -- Support the Revolution in Los Angeles." This was the demonstration in front of the home of Chief of Police TOOTHMAN on September 25, 1965. The leaders at the scene of the picketing were identified as EUGENE ARTHUR STOVALL, III and SAUL KALINSKY. There were approximately 180 people in this demonstration. Literature passed out at the demonstration contained the following allegations by ACTION:

1. Over 1/3 of Oakland's population, but 3 per cent of its Police Department, is composed of Negroes.

2. 60 per cent of the City's policemen live outside of the City.

3. Oakland recruits for its Police Department outside the state and has hired white Southerners, but has failed to recruit from within its own Negro minority community.

4. Oakland's minority unemployment rate is higher than any other large city in the West.

5. ACTION demanded that the Oakland Police Department immediately hire 45 minority Negro policemen to fill the present 45 openings in the Oakland Police Department.

6. ACTION also protested the action of the City Council against the establishment of a civilian police review board.

Part of the same group also picketed the home of Chief of Police EDWARD TOOTHMAN of the Oakland Police Department on September 26, 1965. There was a maximum of 57 persons participating in this picket line chanting freedom songs and carrying signs, two of which read, "It's Watts Happening Baby" and "We're Back Chief-ACTION". b6 b7C

There were no arrests made at either of these demonstrations.

EUGENE ARTHUR STOVALL, III was described as a li[redacted] insurance salesman residing at [redacted] He is a graduate of Bishop O'Doud High School in Oakland a[redacted] attended St. Mary's College at Moraga, California, and reportedly spent four years in the U. The Vietnam Day Committee (VDC) has been identified in its literature and in the public press as having originated as an ad hoc-type organization which staged the Vietnam Days Community Meeting on May 21-22, 1965, at the University of California, Berkeley. A press conference was held by the VDC on May 20, 1965, at the Durant Hotel, Berkeley. There it was announced that the community meeting was to inform the community about Vietnam and was not intended to be a balanced program.

As reported in the press, the theme of the entire program of the May 21-22, 1965, community meeting was "Get Out of Vietnam." UC Professor ROBERT SCALAPINO, as quoted in the "San Francisco Examiner," denounced the affair as a travesty whose objective was propaganda. UC Professor AARON WILDAVSKY was said to have described it as unbalanced, unfair, and uneducational.

Subsequent VDC literature has described the VDC as having been organized formally after the May 21-22, 1965, meeting and to now maintain headquarters at 2407 Fulton Street, Berkeley. Its efforts include door-to-door propagandizing, passing petitions urging the President of the United States to change U. S. policy in Vietnam, holding rallies and demonstrations, all directed toward ending U. S. intervention in Vietnam.

"Students for a Democratic Society is an association of young people on the left; one bringing together liberals and radicals, activists and scholars, students and faculty. It feels the urgency to put forth a radical democratic program counterposed to authoritarian movements, both of communism and the domestic right."

Preamble, Students for a Democratic Society Constitution

The following is a characterization of the Alinsky Committee to Integrate Oakland Now, known as ACTION, formed by SAUL ALINSKY of Chicago, Illinois:

It was reported on January 11, 1965 that information concerning the Industrial Areas Foundation (IAF) reflects that captioned organization maintains offices at 8 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. SAUL ALINSKY had been employed by the IAF since its founding in January, 1940. The purpose of the organization is to study the causes of the problems in American industrial areas and to aid in the development of programs for the solution of these problems.

The IAF is to act as a consultant in guiding staff development of the training of personnel in community organizations. The IAF is supported by voluntary contributions and it promotes the development of indigenous community organizations.

SAUL ALINSKY is Executive Secretary of the IAF. This organization was an instrument used in the organization of more than 30 per cent of Chicago, Illinois for social action. One such organization formed by the IAF was The Woodlawn Organization (TWO), a group formed on the South Side of Chicago in 1961 and which is used primarily for promoting racial integration in the local areas. Since 1941, ALINSKY has started approximately 44 power based organizations throughout the country and has supplied organizing tools and organizers for many communities which have asked for them. ALINSKY has been described as a radical but not a revolutionist. He is further described as an opportunist who would use any friendship or contacts to advance his own aims. When civil rights questions such as housing, job opportunities, and neighborhoods became the prime objects of various racial and religious groups in the Chicago area, ALINSKY entered this field of endeavor and has assisted in the formation of various neighborhood organizations.

On April 7, 1962, the "Chicago Daily News," a daily newspaper of general circulation in the Chicago, Illinois, area, carried an article concerning The Woodlawn Organization (TWO) and ALINSKY. This article was captioned "Object: Aid the Negro", and further "Woodlawn Unit Has Big Goals", "New TWO Fights Race Problems, Methods Rouse Controversy."

This article stated that "Chicago, Illinois, could become half Negro in twelve years according to University of Chicago sociologists. Chicago could be ringed by mammoth white suburbs. A controversial group in the south side of Chicago contends that Chicago can be 'the first big, solid Negro community organization in the U. S.' Through a powerful citizens organization, its leaders assert, the Negro can solve his own problems. SAUL D. ALINSKY, a self-described 'agitator', who admits to 'rubbing raw the sores of discontent', says his goal is the peaceful integration of the entire area - city and suburbs."

BAY AREA PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY, aka

"Progressive Labor"

The masthead in the February 8, 1965, issue of "Spark" reflects it is published by the Progressive Labor Movement of the Bay Area, P.O. Box 73, Station A, Berkeley.... page 4 of this issue of "Spark" carries an article describing MORT SCHEER as the "West Coast organizer" of the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM).

A source advised on January 7, 1965, that MORTIMER SCHEER, following a press conference in San Francisco, California, on January 7, 1965, related that he was the West Coast Organizer for the PLM and National Vice Chairman. PLM was started about three years ago as a national organization located mainly in the New York and Buffalo areas, and he has been here since last July striving to organize PLM. He stated PLM has several publications, including "Progressive Labor", a monthly, and the "Marxist-Leninist Quarterly."

The April 19, 1965, issue of the "San Francisco Chronicle", a daily San Francisco newspaper, carried an article which related that the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) was officially formed April 18, 1965, after a four-day convention in New York. PLP was formerly known as the Progressive Labor Movement and MORT SCHEER was elected as one of the vice-presidents of PLP.

A second source advised on May 6, 1965, that the Bay Area Progressive Labor Party (BAPLP) has no headquarters. MORTIMER SCHEER, organizer for BAPLP operates out of his residence.

INDEPENDENT SOCIALIST LEAGUE (ISL), FORMERLY WORKERS PARTY (WP)

The May 4, 1942, issue of "Labor Action", then an official publication of the Workers Party (WP), carried an article which reflected that the WP was formed in April 1940, as a result of a split within the leadership of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP). The article stated that when the Hitler-Stalin Pact was signed and Poland invaded, the minority group within the SWP, in proclaiming the formation of the WP, condemned the pact as being imperialistic in nature and stated it would not support either imperialist camp.

The April 25, 1949, issue of "Labor Action" contained an account of the Fifth National Convention of the WP, held March 24-27, 1949, in New York City, which reflected the change of name of the organization from the WP to the Independent Socialist League (ISL) in order to emphasize the character of the group as a propaganda group for the spreading of socialist ideas and not as a full-fledged political party.

The July 14, 1958, issue of "Labor Action", an official publication of the ISL, contained an article captioned "The ISL Program in Brief." The article indicated: "The ISL stands for socialist democracy and against the two systems of exploitation which now divide the world: capitalism and Stalinism. The ISL, as a Marxist movement, looks to the working class and its ever-present struggle as the basic progressive force in society. The ISL is organized to spread the ideas of socialism in the labor movement and among all other sections of the people. There can be no lasting and genuine democracy without socialism and there can be no socialism without democracy."

The September 22, 1958, issue of "Labor Action" contained an undated statement signed by the Political Committee of the ISL which indicated that the ISL had been dissolved. The statement urged former ISL members to join the Socialist Party - Social Democratic Federation.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A source advised on May 21, 1958, that the San Francisco Bay Area Branch, Independent Socialist League, was an adjunct of the National Organization. The Branch had representation on the National Committee of the Independent Socialist League; it participated in the campaigns of the Independent Socialist League, and contributed financially to the support of the National Organization.

The source advised on August 11, 1958, that the San Francisco Bay Area Branch, Independent Socialist League, had dissolved itself and the members had joined the Local Branch of the Socialist Party - Social Democratic Federation.

OAKLAND DIRECT ACTION COMMITTEE, aka
Oakland Direct Action for Freedom Now

On February 9, 1965, a source advised that at 11:00 a.m. that date at Oakland Direct Action Committee (ODAC) Headquarters, aka Freedom Now Headquarters, 8512 East 14th Street, Oakland, California, MARK EVERETT COMFORT, Chairman of ODAC, held a press conference. COMFORT stated that the objective of ODAC was to organize the Negro community, particularly in the eastern section of Oakland commonly known as East Oakland. He said that ODAC would make demands for equal housing, equal job opportunities and living conditions, and would educate the Negro community to realize that "things are not as good as they seem." COMFORT said that ODAC in contrast to existing civil rights organizations would strongly emphasize police brutality.

The January 25, 1964, issue of the "People's World" (PW), page 3, columns 1-3, contains an invitation to the 26th Anniversary celebration of the PW, to be held on February 1, 1964, in San Francisco, California. This invitation lists MARK COMFORT as one of four special guests to be honored at this celebration.

The PW is a West Coast communist newspaper. b6 b7C

On February 4, 1965, a second source advised that MARK EVERETT COMFORT, [redacted], had been separated from Youth For Jobs reportedly because of his insistence on engaging in acts of civil disobedience which have resulted in arrests, and his refusal to abide by the passive resistance policies of Youth For Jobs in connection with racial matters.

A third source advised that in February, March, and April, 1965, MARK COMFORT has been in frequent contact with MORTIMER SCHEER, West Coast Organizer for the Bay Area Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), concerning plans and activities of COMFORT in the civil rights movement. This source advised that MARK COMFORT departed for New York City on April 8, 1965, with SCHEER to attend a PLM Convention to be held in New York City beginning April 15, 1965. COMFORT was to be a guest of SCHEER at the convention.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party, USA (CP)

1. Plans and Strategy on National Level

A Marxist-Leninist school for CP youth was conducted by DANNY RUBIN at Seattle, November 1 - 7, 1965. There was distributed to the students a discussion outline which was utilized in connection with the classes. During the November 1, 1965 session, those in attendance studied the following material from the question outline: "3. Analyze the following quotation from the standpoint of dialectical materialism: 'SNCC's cardinal principle is that an individual is free only when he can effectively control and carry out all of the decisions affecting the way he lives his life.' (Studies on the Left, Vol. 5, #1, p. 76) . . . (we) believe that history of American exploitation of poor Negroes and poor whites indicates that these groups will not be able to guarantee their economic, social and political freedom unless they exist within a participatory democracy in which property is communal, decision making is communal, standards are public and communally defined, and responsibilities are universally accorded and accepted."

SE T-1 (11/24/65)

DANNY RUBIN WASHINGTON

MORTIMER DANIEL RUBIN is the National Organizational Secretary of the CP,USA and formerly was National Youth Director of the CP.

SE T-2 (10/14/64)

The topic of the educational for the second session of the Marxist-Leninist classes for CP youth, November 2, 1965, was "Classes and the Class Struggle". Question 2 was as follows: "What class or social force is the decisive force today in practice for social progress in the United States? Will this be so in the future?"

The group indicated that they feel the decisive class or social force at present was the civil rights movement and youth. RUBIN corrected them by saying the decisive force is now the working class and will be the working class in the future. He said that, although the leading personalities in all movements at present are the middle strata, this is not the crucial question. He said that Marx does not make personalities the crucial test. In the civil rights struggle, the working class is becoming more dominant. In the peace movement, on the other hand, the middle strata is still dominant.

SE T-1 (11/24/65)

The sixth session of the Marxist-Leninist classes conducted by DANNY RUBIN was held at Seattle November 6, 1965. Question 2 at this session read as follows: "In the U.S. today among both the Negro and Jewish peoples there are various trends to develop further distinct cultural traditions and also trends towards the disappearance of these cultural features. Which trends do you consider progressive and which reactionary?"

Question 3 was as follows: "There is a view that demands of the Negro people for equality and against discrimination are either divisive of Negro-white unity or unimportant. The only important demands are economic - for the creation of jobs for both Negro and white worker, etc. From the standpoint of an understanding of the national question, how do you estimate this view?"

Questions under the topic of civil rights were also assigned. These were as follows: "1. How does the struggle for full equality relate to: A. The class struggle; B. The fight against the ultra-right; C. Anti-monopoly coalition; D. Socialism. 2. The CPUSA has defined the goal of Negro freedom as full equality in economic, political and social life. Is this goal adequate any longer? How can we go from where we are to Negro freedom? What are the main features of the path?" 3. What do you consider to be the main strengths and weaknesses in the movement for full equality today."

SE T-1 (11/24/65)

2. CP Plans and Strategy at District and Lower Levels

A meeting of the Northwest District CP (NWDCP) Committee was held at Washington Hall, Seattle, on October 3, 1965. At the conclusion of the meeting, MILFORD SUTHERLAND, outlined and summarized the actions of the District Committee. Item four was as follows: "General agreement reached on seven specifics of work, which include full mobilization in opposition to U.S. foreign policy, the distribution of the GUS HALL document, participation in the civil rights struggle, and support of the Party building drive quota." With regard to the civil rights struggle, it was noted that they were specifically in need of immediate discussion with individuals in the Central Area.

SE T-3 (10/4/65)

MILFORD SUTHERLAND was identified by source as Organizational Secretary, NWDCP.

SE T-1 (10/65)

GUS HALL is General Secretary of the CP, USA.

SE T-2 (7/12/65)

A meeting of the North Central CP Section Committee was held on October 20, 1965 at 6717 Sycamore Avenue Northwest, Seattle. TAIMI HALONEN, a committee member, reported that demonstrations all over the nation during the recent past had clearly shown opposition to U.S. policy in Vietnam. She called for support of all organized meetings or demonstrations where opposition to the U.S. policy relating to Vietnam could be expressed. It was pointed out that in Seattle, a serious weakness had been shown due to the absence of non campus youth and members of the Negro community in public expressions of opposition to the war in Vietnam. Those present were urged to find ways and means to reach each community and figure out how each area in Seattle might be utilized in attacking Vietnam policy and perhaps linking to this opposition the matter of civil rights.

SE T-4 (10/26/65)

A meeting of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club was held at Seattle, on November 10, 1965. BURT NELSON, District Chairman, NWDCP, brought out the fact that the GUS HALL letter (An Open Letter to the President) was available for distribution. NELSON said it was planned to saturate the University of Washington with the letter and that he and MILFORD SUTHERLAND would join in the distribution.

NELSON announced that a Conference on War, Racism, and the Right to Dissent was to be held at Portland State College, Saturday, November 13, 1965. NELSON urged that as many people that could from this area should attend the conference.

SE T-5 (11/18/65)

The GUS HALL letter, noted above, is further described hereinafter in this report.

A meeting of the South Central Section CP was held at Seattle, November 17, 1965. JO HUGHES commented on the above noted conference at Portland, November 13, 1965, stating she wished the same group would come up to Seattle and work with the Negro people there. It was then brought out that a much more liberal spirit prevailed in Portland than in Seattle due to the Boeing (Company) influence.

SE T-6 (12/3/65)

JO HUGHES was described by source as Washington Treasurer of the South Central Section, King County CP.

SE T-7 (11/30/64)

A meeting of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club was held at Seattle, November 24, 1965. CALVIN HARRIS read a document prepared by himself and VIVIAN GEORGE which brought out the role of different club members in mass work. In the report mention was made of one of the members working in different organizations, including the NAACP. It was shown that the wife of this member was also engaged in mass work in the NAACP. It was stated that a Negro club member was doing his mass work in CORE. These members were not named in the report.

CALVIN HARRIS read further from the report and said that in the future the Central Area will be the central focal point in the clubs mass work as most of the club members live in the Central Area.

During the meeting BURT NELSON suggested caution in preparation of the report, noting that should it fall into the wrong hands, various club members could be associated with the organizations noted.

SE T-5 (11/30/65)

Source identified CALVIN HARRIS as a member of the CP in Seattle, Washington.

SE T-5 (11/30/65)

Source identified VIVIAN GEORGE as a member of the North Central CP Section Committee, NWDCP.

SE T-1 (12/65)

A meeting of the Seattle Downtown CP Club was held in Seattle, November 30, 1965. PAUL EMERSON, discussed the Anti-Poverty Program. He noted there was a Negro woman working on the board at Rainier Vista (housing project) and felt the (Communist) Party should be more involved in this particular kind of mass struggle. PAUL EMERSON said he would have an article on the Anti-Poverty Bill in the December 3 edition of the "People's World" (PW) and that he was anxious to have the paper put in the hands of the people working on the poverty program and also those people living in Yesler Terrace (housing project) or Rainier Vista.

SE T-6 (12/3/65)

Source identified PAUL EMERSON as a member of the Seattle Downtown CP Club.

SE T-7 (12/65)

The PW is a west coast communist newspaper published weekly at San Francisco, California.

On December 1, 1965, a meeting of the King County Youth Club of the CP (KCYC), was held at the home of club member KAE NORTON in Seattle.

Following discussion of trade union activity, the members heard a report from MIKE RUBICZ concerning dissolution of the Central Area Youth Action Council (CAYAC). RUBICZ advised those present that a number of former CAYAC members had left the area and he further expressed doubts that an organization like CAYAC could be really effective in the Central Area. He expressed the opinion that a W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America unit (DCA) would be better suited for the area, whereupon club member KAE NORTON expressed the view that there could probably be two Central Area organizations - one in the civil rights area and another with a broad multi-issue basis, which would deal with many immediate problems of all members of the community.

SE T-1 (12/10/65)

The DCA is characterized in appendix section. MIKE RUBICZ was identified by source as a member of KCYC of CP.

SE T-1 (11/65)

SE T-1 advised in May, 1965 thatMIKE RUBICZ has stated that CAYAC is a club involving Central Area youth (Seattle) and that its goal was to represent all of the Central Area youth and to belong to all Central Area youth. RUBICZ said that there were about 25 members with a ratio of 3 to 1, Negro over white. He described CAYAC as a multi-issue organization which grew out of interest in the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP) and as having been also somewhat involved in the demonstrations around the Vietnam issue.

Source advised that two white males had been observed passing out pamphlets in the vicinity of the 40th and 15th Avenue Northeast gate, University of Washington, for about a hour or an hour and one-half prior to 1:15 p.m. on December 2, 1965. Source furnished a copy of the pamphlet being distributed by the above individuals. This pamphlet is entitled, "An Open Letter to the President" from GUS HALL. This letter contains a notation at the end that it is issued as a public service by the Communist Party of Northern California, 942 Market Street, Room 410, San Francisco 2, California, and the CP of Washington State, P. O. Box 1802, Seattle, Washington. The letter makes note of the riots which occurred in Los Angeles and warns of similiar disturbances unless measures are taken by the federal government.

On December 5, 1965, a CP organizational conference was held at Washington Hall, Seattle, for district leaders, section officials and club leaders of the CP. MILFORD SUTHERLAND directed discussion at this meeting dealing with organizational perspectives. He listed several points as being a way of achieving a break through in Party work. Among these was item 3, "Develop discussions in the industrial areas and in the Negro communities in King County."

With regard to plans for the 1966 elections, various approaches were suggested including: "3. Stimulate the search for youth, labor, Negro and peace candidates from the ranks of those already in motion."

B. Socialist Workers Party (SWP)

The Seattle Branch, SWP, is characterized in the appendix section.

1. SWP Plans and Strategy at District and Lower Levels

Source furnished a statement of policy of the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) which was received in the mail November 7, 1965. This statement, issued by the Seattle Young Socialist Alliance, 3815 5th Avenue Northeast (Seattle) and captioned "Where We Stand" contains the following, in part:

"The Young Socialist Alliance is a nation-wide socialist youth organization working toward the establishment of full political, social and economic democracy. Our goal is the establishment of a socially owned and planned economy managed by the working class as the only answer to the poverty, racism and war inherent in capitalism. We support the following perspectives in attaining these objectives:

"1.) We support the mass and direct-action struggles that are now taking place in the fight for Negro equality: the rent strikes, school boycotts, mass demonstrations, struggles against policy brutality, and the sit-ins and voter-registration in the South.

"2.) We support the continuing and deepening struggle of the Negro people in the South. These struggles are coming into collision with the entire racist structure in the South which is backed by the Johnson Administration.

"3.) We call for electoral opposition to the two capitalist parties through independent socialist and independent Negro candidates; the formation of a Freedom Now Party based in the Negro community and representing its demands; the formation of a Labor Party based on the trade-union movement; and ultimately an alliance of such movements based on the working class as a whole. In line with this policy, we supported the national candidates of the Socialist Workers Party, DeBerry and Shaw, in the recent election, and support the Freedom Socialist Party of Washington.

"4.) We support the struggle for full civil liberties and defend all those whose civil liberties are attacked; the YSA in Bloomington, Indiana, the students who visited Cuba, the SNCC field workers in the South, the Communist Party, Advance, Progressive Labor, the Nation of Islam ('Black Muslims'), Malcolm X's Afro-American Unity Organization, and the Freedom Now Party in New York."

SE T-8 (11/8/65)

The YSA is characterized in the appendix section of this report.

Source advised a party was being arranged by persons connected with the Seattle Branch, SWP, in honor of MARY GIBSON. It was stated MARY GIBSON had just returned from the south where she worked during the summer months as a legal secretary for lawyers in the civil rights movement.

SE T-9 (11/15/65)

Source advised that MARY GIBSON attended an open forum of the Seattle Branch, SWP, on January 9, 1965.

SE T-10 (1/65)

Source furnished a flyer announcing a talk by I.B. TABATA under the auspices of the Alexander Defense Committee, Sunday, December 12 (1965) at the People's Institutional Baptist Church, 24th and East Fir (Seattle). The flyer named WAYMON WARE as Seattle acting chairman of the Alexander Defense Committee.

SE T-3 (12/7/65)

A meeting scheduled to feature I.B. TABATA as the main speaker was sponsored by the Alexander Defense Committee at the People's Institutional Baptist Church, Seattle, December 12, 1965. TABATA was unable to appear, according to ANN CARLSON, who acted as master of ceremonies. A program distributed at the affair contained the following information regarding I.B. TABATA and the Alexander Defense Committee:

"Mr. I.B. Tabata, President of the Unity Movement of South Africa, is touring the United States to report on conditions in South Africa and the great social movements little known to the world, and to raise funds to support the legal defense of persecuted opponents of apartheid, to aid their destitute families, and to help the exiled.

"Mr. Tabata's tour is under the auspices of the Alexander Defense Committee, which was formed in response to the case of Dr. Neville Alexander, a young South African scholar serving a ten-year sentence."

ANN CARLSON attended CP meetings during 1957 and 1958 and resigned for temporary personal reasons.

SE T-12 (10/13/65)

A closed Tendency meeting of the SWP - YSA was held at Seattle Branch, SWP headquarters, January 23, 1966. The topic of the meeting was the withdrawal from the national SWP. It was stated at the meeting that the Seattle Branch, SWP - YSA has such wide disagreements with the national SWP - YSA that they could better work towards their goals without the restraining influence of the national organization.

The immediate plans of action of the Seattle SWP - YSA are to take a more militant stand in current affairs, as they feel the national organization is becoming too respectable and middle class. They (the national organization) are waiting for developments to the point of no longer being leaders. They are not aware of the Negro question, and they have missed the point of the Vietnam and China question.

It was stated that starting now, Seattle will act independently on these issues. Among things they will change are: documents are being passed out to the Southern movement, as they feel it is important that those involved in this start receiving education in this direction now. They also planned to become more active in the Seattle civil rights struggle.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1. Local CP Plans and Strategy

CV T-1 advised on November 24, 1965, that ASSISTANT CHAIRMAN C.P. OHIO ANTHONY KRCHMAREK recently participated in a debate at Baldwin-Wallace College, Berea, Ohio. On November 23, 1965, KRCHMAREK commented that during the course of this debate he was asked whether Communists were the instigators and leaders of the civil rights demonstrations and the Vietnam demonstrations. KRCHMAREK stated that he answered the question by pointing out that the Communists were not the leaders or instigators, but the CP did support these movements and individual Communists have participated in the demonstrations.

ANTHONY KRCHMAREK

CV T-13 advised on March 30, 1965, that at an Ohio CP State Committee meeting held in Cleveland on March 28, 1965, it was announced that PHILIP BART was the new Chairman of the Ohio CP and that ANTHONY KRCHMAREK was his assistant. KRCHMAREK had formerly been Chairman of the Ohio CP.

B. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY (SWP)

1. Local SWP Plans and Strategy

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

LODICO stated that the SWP and the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) should get into all of the civil rights groups, not for the purpose of attempting to

OHIO

MEMBER OF S.W.P. CLEVELAND, OHIO

A characterization of the YSA appears in the Appendix hereto.

PAUL LODICO

CV T-9 advised on April 2, 1965, that as of that date LODICO was a member of the SWP in Cleveland.

(1)

REVOLUTIONARY ACTION MOVEMENT

On November 3, 1964, a source made available a document entitled "The Revolutionary Action Movement Manifesto," the document having been obtained by the source from an individual known to be a member of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM).

This document stated, in part, that RAM was officially organized in the Winter of 1963 by Afro-Americans who support the revolutionary objectives of Robert F. Williams, now residing in Cuba, and his concept of organized violence to achieve the liberation of the Afro-American people in the United States. This Manifesto disclosed that RAM had oriented its program to one of education and political revolution and the organization of a "black" political party with revolutionary objectives, having recognized the need for a "black revolution" that could and would seize power. RAM philosophy is described in this document as one of revolutionary nationalism, that is, one involving the struggles of the nonwhite races of the world against exploitation and enslavement by the white capitalist and imperialist nations.

Regarding Williams, it should be noted that on August 28, 1961, a Federal warrant was issued at Charlotte, North Carolina, charging him with Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution for the crime of kidnapping. Subsequent to the issuance of this warrant, Williams fled the United States to Cuba, where he now publishes a monthly newsletter entitled "The Crusader" from Havana.

This source in September, 1964, advised RAM is dedicated to the overthrow of the capitalist system in the United States, by violence if necessary, and to its replacement by a socialistic system oriented toward the Chinese communist interpretation of Marxism-Leninism. RAM is entirely nonwhite in membership, clandestine in nature, and owes its primary allegiance to the "Bandung World," that is, the nonwhite races of the world rather than to any national entity, as such.

On November 16, 1964, a second source advised he learned recently from an RAM member that the organization began in Detroit, Michigan, largely under the impetus of Don Freeman, described as the "Father" of RAM and referred to as RAM's "Black Stalin." Freeman served as RAM Chairman, with Maxwell Stanford, now of New York City, formerly of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, serving as RAM Field Chairman.

The May, 1960, issue of the "Young Socialist" ("YS"), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated this organization was formed by the Nationwide supporter clubs of the publication "YS".

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the "YS" have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 7, 1965, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City, by youth of various left-socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 7, 1965, YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC) and through an official SWP representative at all YSA NEC meetings. The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA is located in Room 631, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party (CP), USA

1. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at CP of Illinois meetings, including expressions by CP of Illinois leaders and rank and file members

a. General

On October 21, 1965, a meeting of the CP of Illinois staff was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois.

During the course of this meeting, EARL DURHAM, Chairman of the inactive CP of Illinois Negro Commission, introduced GENE TOURNOUR and stated that he and TOURNOUR had been working together in the civil rights field for over one year. DURHAM stated that through this relationship, DURHAM had become impressed with the political insight and dedication to "the struggle" that TOURNOUR represented. It was stated that due to TOURNOUR's efforts, certain advantages had been made in establishing within the civil rights movement, more Negro leadership and the beginning of a labor union base.

DURHAM next reported that he would attempt to explain developments which had occurred around the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) on the West Side and if time permitted he would examine some of the problems of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO).

DURHAM then stated that in his opinion, the political power structure of Chicago was very much concerned with the developments taking place in the civil rights movement. For the first time this power structure had come to realize that the civil rights movement represented a threat to their existence. Therefore, the power structure was taking all types of actions to try and neutralize the civil rights movement. One of the steps taken was that the power structure was trying to develop an organization headed by Alderman RALPH METCALF and to develop this organization into a force in the civil rights movement which could be controlled by the political machine in Chicago.

DURHAM reported that the other aspect utilized by the power structure was to try and subvert the civil rights movement through this incorrect leadership.

DURHAM noted, however, that none of the political machine's efforts need to be successful if there can be developed a real grass roots movement on civil rights issues in the community.

DURHAM further reported that there were rumors that the DALEY political machine was trying to meet with the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING individually and arrange some type of deal with KING, however, DURHAM indicated that he personally did not place much stock in this development.

TOURNOUR next spoke and referred to DURHAM's suggestion that some form of grass roots movement and/or collective be formed. He stated that he had been thinking about this question for some time and whether it was necessary or advantageous from his standpoint to meet with such a CP group. TOURNOUR stated that based on his experiences, he had not felt the weight of the CP as a force in the civil rights struggle and that his convictions of the importance of the Party were only through intellectual convictions, through his reading and discussions with individuals.

TOURNOUR stated that his concern has been that the political machine has not played any significant role in the civil rights struggle. He stated that as a matter of fact, some of the ex-CP people he had worked with had played negative roles. TOURNOUR stated that what should be discussed, in addition to the over-all problems of the civil rights movement, is how the ideological question can be clarified among the leftists.

TOURNOUR next presented a picture of some of the activities of the SCLC on the West Side of Chicago. During this report he indicated that the Rev. JAMES BEVEL, head of the SCLC forces in Chicago, has developed an amazing skill in organizing people and developing mass educational approaches.

According to TOURNOUR, the Rev. BEVEL had formed a fairly effective collective on the West Side of Chicago but he stated that it was unfortunate that this collective only meets during the day.

TOURNOUR stated that in the civil rights movement today, and particularly in Chicago, all types of national and local religious and civil organizations were vying for leadership of the civil rights movement and TOURNOUR had been unable to determine BEVEL's opinion on this competition.

TOURNOUR also reported that in his opinion there were problems of developing an organizational structure into which the activities of the current mass action program could be channeled after the SCLC pulls its staff personnel out of Chicago.

TOURNOUR also commented at the present time there were weaknesses within the CCCO in that as yet the CCCO had not formulated a tight organizational structure that would assist the organization and give it an ability to produce at the level which the SCLC is producing on the West Side.

TOURNOUR noted that AL RABY, Convenor of the CCCO, was just beginning to work to staff his sector of the movement and as of the current time only had one young person working in the CCCO office who was trying to establish office routine.

Following TOURNOUR's comments, JAMES WEST, CP of Illinois staff member, spoke and indicated that the information furnished by DURHAM and TOURNOUR had been extremely valuable and that in his opinion the CP of Illinois should direct an appeal to the National Office of the CP, USA, requesting the National Office to arrange for a discussion leaning toward the designation of Chicago as a point of concentration in both the youth and adult fields.

WEST also commented on the necessity for developing issues in the Negro community and the necessity of establishing the recommended collectives so as to assist in the guidance of CP work in the civil rights area. WEST also noted that at the present time it is necessary to begin to think of how plans could be established to implement political activity in the Negro civil rights field for the coming local and national elections.

Also, during this meeting, TED PEARSON, CP of Illinois youth leader, indicated that he wished to discuss the relationship of the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of Chicago to the SCLC activities. He indicated that the Du Bois Clubs in Chicago had been trying to participate with the Rev. BEVEL in his SCLC organization and that BEVEL had opened the doors to them and had even held a rally at the Du Bois Club Freedom Center on the West Side. However, PEARSON indicated that the Du Bois Clubs had been attempting to organize 200 delegates for a peace march to be held in Washington, D.C. on November 27, 1965, and that the CP of Illinois staff should discuss a plan whereby the attempts to organize the delegation for this peace march would not alienate the Du Bois Clubs from the West Side SCLC activities.

DURHAM then spoke and noted that the problems confronting the left in Chicago relative to the civil rights movement were extremely complicated, particularly when it came to attempts by the left to act as a force in mobilizing the civil rights forces. DURHAM stated that the CP was restricted by lack of a physical force, as well as a lack of ideological forces in the struggle.

DURHAM then suggested that the CP attempt to establish a "top committee of the Party" which would consist of both CP and non-CP people. He recommended that this committee meet regularly to discuss the city-wide problem of the civil rights movement and that, if possible, he would try to serve on such a committee.

DURHAM stated that it would be difficult to establish this committee because the work of this committee would involve its membership knee deep in work.

DURHAM also stated that it was necessary to attempt to form a collective around the CCCO itself and that this collective should not duplicate the work of the "top committee." DURHAM also recommended that a CP collective be formed around the West Side activity of the SCLC, as well as a collective to work on the near North Side of Chicago. He also recommended the formation of a collective around a labor committee which has been formed by various union representatives in the Chicago area to work in the civil rights field.

DURHAM continued and noted that anyone of the collectives, if formed, would be ineffectual if it were comprised of the present CP of Illinois membership because at the present time there are no CP of Illinois members in any deep involvement in the areas where these collectives would be formed. DURHAM stated, therefore, that the CP of Illinois outlook must be to try and influence Party and non-Party collectives.

DURHAM stated that he was not making any hard and fast proposals but that he would like to consult individually with GENE TOURNOUR and others in the civil rights movement and present a final version of his recommendations for approval at either a CP of Illinois Staff or CP of Illinois State Board meeting.

On October 31, 1965, GENE TOURNOUR and AL RABY met with the leadership of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission in Chicago, Illinois.

During the course of this meeting the newly organized "Labor Committee" of the CCCO was discussed. RABY and TOURNOUR were apprised by the CP of Illinois Negro Commission leadership that the commission was disappointed in the progress being made in the civil rights field by the Labor Committee mainly because of the distractions which were being introduced into the work of the committee by some of its members particularly distractions which prevented the organization from being a functioning committee that could play a more active role in the political activity in Chicago.

During the discussion certain suggestions were made by CP of Illinois representatives whereby these representatives would try to develop a functioning committee that could act as a base for AL RABY's civil rights activities in the Chicago area. In response, RABY indicated that he felt such a base would make things easier; however, he did not personally wish to become involved in organizing it. RABY noted that he had been functioning more closely with Negro businessmen and as a result he had been successful in obtaining some help on the financial problem. He also noted that he needed to concentrate more effort in the religious area and that much of his time would be taken up in accomplishing this objective.

The CP of Illinois representatives at this meeting indicated that they were merely furnishing RABY with information and were not suggesting that RABY shift his interests.

GENE TOURNOUR suggested that a citywide collective of various civil rights representatives be formed and that if formed such a collective would be helpful in all of the civil rights projects now underway. He stated that this collective would serve the purpose of coordinating all projects such as the recent developments in labor, in housing projects and other actions. TOURNOUR noted that such a collective if formed could best be built around AL RABY.

Those at this meeting were in general agreement that the formation of such a collective would be useful and it was generally agreed that TOURNOUR should contact some individuals who the group felt were possibilities for this collective and obtain from these individuals their ideas. It was suggested further that once TOURNOUR had made such a survey a subsequent meeting be held to discuss the formation of this collective.

(CG T-1, 11/1/65)

On November 7, 1965, a meeting was held on the south side of Chicago with some 15 to 18 individuals present. This meeting was called by AL RABY, convenor of the CCCO, and those present represented a gathering of the leadership of various elements of the civil rights movement in Chicago, chiefly however individuals connected with either the CCCO or the SCLC.

During this meeting on November 7, 1965, AL RABY explained to the gathering that the purpose of the meeting was to hold a discussion of the various activities taking place in Chicago within the civil rights movement and further to exchange information among various organizations and possibly to form a base to offer mutual assistance to each other.

RABY indicated that the discussion at this meeting was to be the beginning of a series of such discussions to help correlate the civil rights movement in Chicago.

Among those attending this meeting was EUGENE TOURNOUR and it was also understood that another individual and member of the CP of Illinois was in attendance as well as an individual known to be active in the west side unit of the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of Chicago (DCC).

Relative to EUGENE TOURNOUR it is to be noted that TOURNOUR has been considered for some time by the leadership of the CP of Illinois as a CP member for all practical purposes and that representatives of the CP of Illinois had worked closely with TOURNOUR as they would with any other CP member.

TOURNOUR was the CORE midwest regional secretary in charge of the CORE task force in Chicago from the summer of 1964 until he was fired by the CORE National Office in January, 1965.

TOURNOUR then arranged for a group of midwest CORE representatives to finance his employment as a staff CORE member of the midwest area. As such, TOURNOUR had continued as head of the CORE task force from January until June, 1965, when the "Chicago Tribune", a Chicago daily newspaper, ran an article regarding his activities which resulted in a public statement by the CORE National Director that TOURNOUR had been fired.

(CG T-1, 9/65)

The CP of Illinois continues to plan to establish a CP of Illinois club consisting of CP of Illinois members who are active in Negro civil rights mass organizations.

In the meantime, however, until this plan is realized, the CP of Illinois is relying upon EARL DURHAM, Chairman of the inactive CP of Illinois Negro Commission. It is understood that DURHAM works individually with some leaders of some of the Negro mass organizations such as the CCCO, and in addition, has the responsibility for establishing contact with other Negro leaders of community organizations. The long-range objective of the CP in Chicago is to try to form a collective of both CP and non-CP Negroes who are active in the civil rights struggle, and who will function under CP of Illinois leadership. It is hoped that it will be possible for the CP to control this group without it being known as a CP organizational unit, and it is further hoped that some of these non-CP Negroes will be recruited into the CP to form the base for a more substantial and re-organized CP of Illinois Negro Commission.

Based upon a discussion by the State Board of the CP of Illinois in October, 1965, it was decided that EARL DURHAM would attempt to establish the aforementioned collective of CP and non-CP people active in the civil rights movement. As a followup to this discussion, it is understood that DURHAM has been able to affiliate himself as a representative from a neighborhood community organization with a group of individuals active in the civil rights movement and this group is scheduled to meet regularly every Sunday evening. Most of these individuals or at least five or six of them are people connected with the SCLC-CCCO operation.

Notwithstanding the proposals based upon the discussion of the State Board in October, 1965, there has not been a substantive discussion at CP of Illinois State Board meetings on the civil rights issue since the fall of 1965. There has been no request for such a discussion, and at the present time there does not appear to be a necessity for it.

The peace issues such as the protest against the war in Viet Nam have occupied most of the discussions at the CP of Illinois State Board meetings. This Viet Nam issue at the current time has taken precedence over any other topic on the agenda in one form or another.

The CP of Illinois and the CP nationally is trying to establish a relationship between the civil rights issue and the peace issue, and so far has been relatively unsuccessful. There is a current proposal for some form of mass demonstration in February, 1966, trying in the peace and civil rights issues; that is, that these demonstrations will be pursued as a direct attempt to try to involve leaders of the civil rights movement in conjunction with the activities of the leaders of the peace movement.

JAMES WEST, CP of Illinois State Board member and member of the CP of Illinois Staff, has instructed that attempts be undertaken to get AL RABY Convener of the CCCO, to speak at a rally that will be sponsored by the CP of Illinois in February; however, it is understood that RABY has refused to accept this invitation. In view of RABY's refusal, WEST has instructed that attempts be made to get the Reverend JAMES BEVEL or some other SCLC staff member to act as a speaker at that rally. As a parallel effort to this issue of joining the civil rights issue and the peace issue, the CP of Illinois is organizing efforts to influence the Chicago Committee to End the War in View Nam, and it is understood that this committee generally is accepting CP of Illinois advice.

On December 11, 1965, JAMES WEST, CP of Illinois State Board member and a member of the CP of Illinois Staff, indicated that he had proposed to the Chicago peace movement that a peace and freedom demonstration be organized on the south side of Chicago for February 12, 1966.

WEST indicated that his proposal was enthusiastically received although there had been some opposition to the idea from the Trotskyites.

In connection with this proposed peace and freedom demonstration, it is understood that WEST issued instructions to the leadership of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission to attempt to contact forces in the civil rights movement in Chicago and obtain their participation and support of this proposed demonstration. WEST indicated that this CP of Illinois Negro Commission leadership should convince leadership of the civil rights movement in Chicago to organize a separate committee for this purpose.

It is understood that the CP of Illinois Negro Commission leadership is not too enthusiastic about its ability to move the leadership of the civil rights movement into action. It is understood that AL RABY, Convenor of the CCCO, was one of the leaders of the civil rights movement to be contacted on this issue.

Also it is understood that JAMES WEST on December 11, 1965, raised with the CP of Illinois Negro Commission leadership the question of the political action issue among the Negroes in Chicago.

WEST issued instructions that various Negro candidates who announced themselves as candidates against Congressman WILLIAM DAWSON should somehow be encouraged to call a conference with the idea of attempting to coordinate their limited resources and with the view of uniting around one candidate.

It is understood that the CP of Illinois Negro Commission leadership expressed the doubt as to whether the individual candidates would see eye to eye on such a proposal and it was suggested that if anyone of the candidates could pull the group together it would be DICK GREGORY, the Negro comedian.

It is understood that the leadership of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission indicated that an attempt would be made to convince the candidates to hold the conference as proposed by WEST.

(CG T-1, 12/13/65)

On December 19, 1965, EARL DURHAM, Chairman of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission, met with a group of individuals active in the civil rights movement in Chicago, Illinois. Among those attending this meeting were AL RABY and EUGENE TOURNOUR.

The purpose of this meeting was to have EARL DURHAM brief AL RABY on the attempts to formalize the organization of the Independent Labor Committee, also known as the Labor Committee of the CCCO.

During the course of this meeting DURHAM advised RABY that the Labor Committee was organizing an office and was attempting to set a date for a "retreat" to discuss a long-range program.

Also during the discussion, DURHAM indicated that in the First Congressional District, attempts had been made to interest Reverend ARTHUR M. BRAZIER in running for Congress, and at this point there were some doubts as to whether BRAZIER could be convinced to run for office. It was further indicated that AL RABY should have something to say about who did run in the First Congressional District and it was therefore suggested that an attempt be made to convene a conference in the First Congressional District of all the interested parties to discuss this question. It was further suggested that DICK GREGORY, the Negro comedian, be approached as the one to issue the call for this conference so that an attempt could be made to unify a position as to one candidate.

During the discussion AL RABY indicated that he was not convinced that such a campaign effort would have positive results but he agreed to meet with DICK GREGORY and discuss the possibilities with him.

Also during this meeting, EARL DURHAM proposed that consideration be given to launching a campaign to hold rents in the Negro slum areas at their present levels. DURHAM proposed that the Reverend BEVEL of the SCLC be approached concerning this rent campaign and that BEVEL be convinced of the need for such a campaign because it would relate to Mayor DALEY's proposed 1966 budget and also relate to the fight for a better education and the fight against slums.

AL RABY indicated that the idea had merit but had no idea as to how it could be initiated.

In the subsequent period of discussion AL RABY did not seem too enthusiastic over the rent proposal and consequently the subject was dropped.

b. CP of Illinois State Board

On October 19, 1965, a meeting of the CP of Illinois State Board was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois.

During the course of this State Board meeting, EARL DURHAM, member of the CP of Illinois Negro Commission, and a State Board member, reported to the Board that there was a need for a full discussion on the relationship of the civil rights movement and the peace movement in the Chicago area.

DURHAM noted that in the peace demonstrations that had taken place in the Chicago area against the war in Viet Nam, there was a weakness in these demonstrations due to a lack of Negro participation. DURHAM pointed out that there is a growing tendency in leading circles of the civil rights movement to recognize the inseparableness of the peace and civil rights struggle.

DURHAM noted that the Party should alert itself to the possibility of a struggle against sectarianism in the peace movement and gave as an example the fact that in the civil rights movement in Chicago the forces around LAWRENCE LANDRY in ACT have carried on an extremely sectarian struggle. DURHAM noted that this approach, if carried out, would have made it impossible to develop the civil rights movement to the level it now enjoys. DURHAM noted that the idea proposed by LANDRY's group had to be ideologically combated and defeated.

DURHAM stated that in reference to the current peace struggle the same situation was true. DURHAM stated that there is the necessity at the present time for broadening the pace of the peace movement. He noted that this broadening could not be accomplished if the left position of the draft card burners, the troop train stoppers, etc. is the dominant action within the peace movement.

DURHAM closed his remarks by noting that the CP of Illinois must give full support to the coalition that had been built around the march in Washington protesting the war in South Viet Nam because this coalition represents the type of movement that will be necessary to change United States foreign policy.

(CG T-1, 10/20/65)
(CG T-2, 10/28/65)

On November 2, 1965, a meeting of the CP of Illinois State Board was held at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois.

The agenda for this meeting was a discussion on two points. One point was the peace movement against the war in Viet Nam and the other was on the civil rights movement in Chicago.

During the discussion on the peace movement, the CP of Illinois' efforts to support the march on Washington protesting the war in Viet Nam scheduled for November 27, 1965, was discussed. During this discussion TED PEARSON, who was in attendance, mentioned that there was a problem in mobilizing support for this peace effort in the civil rights movement because of the fact that the SCLC under the leadership of the Reverend JAMES BEVEL was holding a "retreat" for some of the west side Negro youth on the same weekend that the march on Washington was scheduled.

In response to PEARSON's announcement, JAMES WEST, CP of Illinois State Board member, indicated that if possible attempts should be made to try to influence the Reverend BEVEL to either postpone his scheduled retreat or allow some of the young people to attend the Washington mobilization.

EARL DURHAM, who was present, indicated in response to WEST's suggestion that it would be most difficult to attempt to cancel the SCLC retreat because this retreat represented almost four months of work by the SCLC on the west side of Chicago.

Following the aforementioned discussion, DURHAM then reported to the board that he desired to comment on the civil rights movement in Chicago and rather than give a full evaluation of the movement he would instead discuss the Party estimate of this movement which had recently been discussed by the CP of Illinois leadership.

DURHAM then reported that a potential now exists within the Chicago area in connection with the Negro civil rights movement for upsetting Mayor DALEY's Democratic machine. DURHAM indicated that this possibility was created as a result of the unity and the struggle which had been developed by the cooperation of the SCLC and the CCCO. DURHAM noted that the main area of activity for these two organizations had been the west side, the near north side, and the north Kenwood area of Chicago.

DURHAM stated that there are still tremendous problems because of the character of the leadership of the civil rights movement; that is, that much of the leadership was still relegated to staff personnel of the various participating organizations and there was still the problem of rank and file participation.

DURHAM also noted that within the civil rights struggle itself serious competition was being developed by some of the participating organizations.

DURHAM noted that the CP of Illinois had discussed the possibility of stimulating the organization of a collective and/or collectives within the various areas of work. DURHAM stated that these collectives were envisioned as incorporating both Party and non-Party individuals and in most instances would not be under the leadership of the CP. DURHAM reported that at recent meetings he had participated in with some of the top leaders of the civil rights movement agreement had been reached to establish at a top level a unity or collective of people who are active in the various fields of work within the civil rights movement.

Subsequent to the aforementioned CP of Illinois State Board meeting EUGENE TOURNOUR met separately with some of the State Board members and reported that he had held a series of discussions with AL RABY of the CCCO and with some SCLC leaders and that they had concluded that they should form a citywide body of about 15 individuals active in the civil rights movement and that this citywide body would be the same type of collective which had previously been suggested by EARL DURHAM. It was indicated during the discussion with TOURNOUR that this collective would be the collective that would discuss political organization and estimates looking toward the defeat of the DALEY political machine in Chicago.

It was decided during this later meeting that EARL DURHAM would participate as a member of this collective ostensibly as a delegate from a civil rights organization in Chicago.

On December 7, 1965, the CP of Illinois State Board held a meeting in Chicago, Illinois.

During this State Board meeting JACK KLING, CP of Illinois State Board member, reported to the board the fact that on recent dates fires, which were believed to be the result of arson, had destroyed the farm of CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman, CP of Illinois, and also destroyed the W.E.B. Du Bois Club Headquarters on the west side of Chicago. KLING indicated that these two acts, in his opinion, gave evidence of some type of conspiracy to destroy these places. KLING proposed that the CP of Illinois work out some type of "fight back" and public expression of indignation over these incidents.

JAMES WEST, who was present indicated that he approved of the "fight back" campaign relative to these acts because they indicated there was a concerted effort to commit acts of violence against the CP because some individuals are fearful of the new prestige and relationships the CP is accomplishing.

It was proposed during this meeting that the Du Bois Club leadership in Chicago should begin the "fight back" by attempting to organize a united committee of representatives of civil rights organizations who would join the Du Bois Club in a protest statement.

(CG T-1, 12/8/65)

On December 14, 1965, the CP of Illinois State Board held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago.

On the agenda for this meeting was a report by JAMES WEST concerning the organization of party program relative to the 1966 elections.

During his report WEST indicated that the main direction of the CP program is to develop a program relative to the civil rights struggle in 1966 particularly around the proposed Negro candidates who would run in the 1966 elections. WEST pointed out that the highlights of such a program should be related to the peace and civil rights demonstrations which were being proposed in the Chicago area and which were designed to tie together the peace question and the civil rights question.

WEST also indicated that the Party's position and program should also be related to the tremendous dissatisfaction among Negro voters throughout the country. He noted that this dissatisfaction was particularly demonstrated in the Chicago area by the announced candidacy of DICK GREGORY whereby GREGORY proposed to run against Mayor DALEY.

WEST reported that in his view the GREGORY campaign should not be taken lightly because it could mushroom into a very serious campaign.

WEST also pointed out there was a posibility that the DALEY machine could be hurt at one of its strongest points, that being the attempt in the First Congressional District to overturn Congressman WILLIAM DAWSON. WEST noted that the CP would exert effort to organize a conference among the various candidates in the First Congressional District in an attempt to rally behind one candidate and to pool their resources to defeat DAWSON. WEST also proposed that the Party attempt to initiate a conference along the same lines in the Second Congressional District in an attempt to defeat Congressman O'HARA. WEST proposed that in connection with the initiation of such a conference the Party also attempted to organize delegations who would issue demands that O'HARA resign. WEST also proposed that during the conferences, if they are organized, the Party should try to develop an approach to challenge the non-Communist affidavits for political candidates in the State of Illinois.

c. CP of Illinois Clubs

On September 22, 1965, the Rogers Park East CP of Illinois Club held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois.

During this meeting MARTIN JOFFE addressed those present and stated that the Rogers Park East CP Club should take steps to involve its membership actively in the civil rights movement in Chicago. It was suggested that this could be accomplished by having the members affiliate themselves with the CCCO headed by AL RABY or have the members support the activities of this organization.

In response to JOFFE's suggestion, HARRY CANTER, who was present, asked to know just what the CCCO was as an organization.

JOFFE then briefly described the activities of the CCCO in the civil rights field and noted that he had been told by the CCCO leadership that they greatly needed help as well as funds. JOFFE noted that membership in the CCCO costs $50 and he suggested that the club designate someone as a representative from the club to join the CCCO with the understanding that the club pay this membership fee.

After some brief discussion, the majority of the club membership present indicated that they were not in favor of JOFFE's proposal. It was generally indicated that the club membership wanted more information about the CCCO before they would give approval to such a proposal.

(CG T-3, 9/29/65)

On October 13, 1965, the Rogers Park East CP of Illinois Club held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. The entire meeting was devoted exclusively to a talk by TED PEARSON, who spoke on the CP youth activity to which he belonged as well as the work of the Du Bois Clubs of Chicago.

CG 100-41324
DET:mmc

In discussing the Du Bois Club activity in Chicago, PEARSON noted that the Du Bois Clubs had been active in the civil rights movement on the west side of Chicago and had been successful in forcing businesses on the west side to hire more Negro employees. He reported that the method utilized was one whereby the club representatives contacted various businessmen and factory management and told the management that they would set up picket lines at these establishments should they fail to hire more Negro employees.

(CG T-3, 10/15/65)

On October 12, 1965, the South Central Freedom of the Press Committee, CP of Illinois, held a meeting at 306 East 43rd Street, Chicago, Illinois.

During the course of this meeting WILLIAM TERNIPSEDE reported to the group that he was in the process of obtaining more information concerning the CCCO. He stated that he desired to find out what the CCCO plans to do in the future relative to their activities demanding the ouster of Chicago superintendent of schools BENJAMIN C. WILLIS.

TERNIPSEDE advised that he and several other individuals were supposed to meet a week ago to discuss the various programs of the CCCO but only a couple of persons appeared for the meeting and consequently little was accomplished.

TERNIPSEDE noted that what discussion was held related mostly to the peace movement and the only thing decided was that the South Central Freedom of the Press Committee should give more support to the groups who are calling for the United States to get out of Viet Nam.

TERNIPSEDE advised that the CCCO's program was discussed to a limited extent and it was agreed that new methods will have to be found to cause the ouster of Superintendent WILLIS because the CCCO marches against WILLIS held in the downtown Chicago area have dwindled away to nothing.

On December 2, 1965, the Social Workers Club, Professional Section, CP of Illinois, held a meeting at 5427 South Dorchester Avenue, Chicago.

During the course of this meeting the mass organizational activity of the individual club members was discussed. During this discussion, it was brought out that the following individuals are active in the Chicago Civil Rights Movement through an organization called Social Workers For Human Rights. The members active in this group from the club were as follows:

PEARL ROSENZWEIG
GOLDIE SHAPIRO
CHARLOTTE HOLENIA
DOROTHY HAYES

All of the above were also present at this meeting.

During the discussion on mass organizations and the civil rights issues, it was brought out that PEARL ROSENZWEIG and CHARLOTTE HOLENIA had met with the Reverend JAMES BEVEL of the SCLC in connection with the war on poverty program on the west side of Chicago. It was stated that during the meeting where the Reverend BEVEL appeared, many of the individuals who attended this meeting expressed hostility against public welfare social workers. It was stated that the social workers who attended the meeting believed that this feeling had been agitated by LAWRENCE LANDRY of ACT; however, those attending the meeting as social workers were gratified that the Reverend JAMES BEVEL soothed the critics, noting that it was not the time for rash actions.

It was also stated during this meeting that BEVEL, during his remarks, indicated that there had been no picketing or demonstrations on the poverty program because it was too cold now to take to the streets and that Negroes should wait until spring before they take such actions.

d. CP of Illinois Caucus Within the Negro American Labor Council (NALC)

On September 27, 1965, CP of Illinois members active within the Chicago Chapter NALC held a meeting at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois.

Among those present for this meeting was EARL DURHAM, who reported on a meeting of a leading National Committee of the CP. DURHAM announced that it was the decision of this CP USA National Committee that every effort should be made to maintain the NALC as an organization. DURHAM, however, noted that it was questionable in his mind as to whether or not the NALC could be maintained in Chicago. He noted that if the organization was to be maintained some way must be found to get the organization back on its feet.

DURHAM noted that if the NALC could not be maintained this situation raises the question as to where those CP members active in the NALC at the present time could go. DURHAM noted that the Illinois CP State Board was going to discuss this question at a future meeting.

DURHAM closed the meeting with the suggestion that the CP members active in the NALC contact members of the Executive Board of Chicago Chapter NALC with a view toward discussing the question of the revision of the Chicago Chapter NALC.

(CG T-6, 10/6/65)

On November 3, 1965, CP of Illinois members active in the Chicago Chapter NALC held a meeting in Chicago, Illinois.

During this meeting EARL DURHAM, who was present, informed those in attendance that from all indications the NALC is a dead issue and because of this the CP of Illinois wanted its CP members active in the NALC to become active in the "Labor Committee" which had been recently formed in connection with the CCCO movement. DURHAM noted that the CP members would be responsible for developing Party influence within this new "Labor Committee."

B. Other Communist Groups

1. Chicago Branch Socialist Worker Party (CBSWP)

During the past three months the CBSWP has had no program regarding the civil rights movement in Chicago, Illinois. There have been no reports given at CBSWP meetings concerning the civil rights movement or organizations and members of the CBSWP have not engaged in any demonstrations.

The explanation for this is that the main concentration of the CBSWP during the past several months in addition to the usual SWP activity has been in connection with the peace issue relative to ending the war in Viet Nam.

II. COMMUNIST TECHNIQUES

A. United Packinghouse Food and Allied Workers (UPFAW) "Labor's Rally for Civil Rights" 10/28/65, Chicago, Illinois

On October 28, 1965, a number of UPFAW locals in the Chicago area sponsored a "Labor's Rally for Civil Rights" meeting which was held at the United Packinghouse Workers Center, 4859 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. It originally was anticipated that at the minimum 500 to 600 people, mainly from the UPFAW, would be in attendance, however, it was estimated that only approximately 180 were present.

The Reverend JAMES BEVEL from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was the main speaker and advised the group that the purpose of this meeting was to gain the support and assistance of labor in the civil rights struggle in the Chicago area.

The Reverend BEVEL stated that in the struggle five points of interest are being explored, namely, political action, housing, education, jobs and poverty. He stated that the political action area has been assigned to the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO) Labor Committee, and that the CCCO Labor Committee plans to develop techniques of political education, stressing the advantages of independent political action, exposing the exploitations of the Negro community by the "DALEY Machine" in Chicago and selecting independent candidates with the objective of exposing Negro politicians.

BEVEL stated that all activities will be channelized through the CCCO. He further pointed out that in an attempt to build broad forces in each of the five areas, it will take at least six months. He pointed out that in order to get the political action program moving in Chicago, it must be accomplished by the lower echelon from the labor unions.

BEVEL brought out that in these five areas explored, they are anticipating support from the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), rank and file labor and a number of community organizations. He stated that SCLC will assist in developing and guiding a civil rights program for Chicago through the CCCO.

BEVEL projected no definite program, and did not seem as impressive as was expected, since after his speech it was observed that 40 to 50 individuals left the meeting.

JACK BURCH, an official of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (UERMWA) in Chicago also spoke and mentioned labor's duty to support a political action program in the civil rights struggle in Chicago, both from a financial and manpower standpoint. BURCH also mentioned the necessity of having a coordinator between labor, the CCCO and the SCLC, and recommended that the CCCO Labor Committee finance such a person.

BURCH projected no definite program. No followup meeting was scheduled by this group, and it appeared that this meeting was held mainly for the purpose of "feeling out" certain labor unions or groups in the Chicago area for the purpose of determining what support the CCCO can muster from labor.

Observed attending this meeting were HERBERT WRIGHT and NATE SHARPE, both of whom are current members of the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois.

(CG T-2, 10/29/65)

Concerning JACK BURCH, it is to be noted that CG T-4 on August 13, 1965, advised that BURCH is employed as the Secretary-Treasurer of District 11, UERMWA, and as the Assistant Business Manager of Local 1114, UERMWA, both located in Chicago, Illinois.

On August 12, 1954, CG T-7 advised that as of that time JACK BURCH was a member of the CP unit within the UE and within the Farm Equipment Section.

On January 31, 1955, CG T-7 advised that on January 26, 1955, JACK BURCH attended a CP trade union meeting held in Chicago, Illinois.

On June 14, 1956, CG T-7 reported that as of that time JACK BURCH was a member and employee of the UE and regularly attended meetings of the CP.

On August 28, 1957, CG T-7 advised that the CP group composed of JACK BURCH and others as of August, 1957, was inactive. CG T-7 further advised that BURCH then was not known to have paid any CP dues since prior to the National Convention, CP, USA, held in February, 1957.

Concerning the UERMWA, the "UE Shop Steward Guide," United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (UERMWA), Publication Number 212, Sixth Edition, 1952, discloses on pages 32-34, "UE - United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America was established in 1936 at a convention in Buffalo, New York. At that time the organization was called the United Electrical and Radio Workers of America. Shortly thereafter, a large group of American Federation of Labor Machinists' locals joined the UE and the full name became the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (UE).

"The UE is known as 'International Union,' because companies of both the United States and Canada are under contract."

The document, "One Hundred Things You Should Know About Communism and Labor," prepared and released by the Committee on UnAmerican Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., 1951, relates the following information:

In 1944 the Committee on UnAmerican Activities found the "United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO)" to be one of the unions which was described as having "communist leadership...strongly entrenched." The "United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America" was listed as one of the unions which was expelled from the Congress of Industrial Organizations in 1950 because of its communist domination.

The "Internal Security Annual Report for 1957, report of the subcommittee to investigate the administration of the Internal Security Act and other Internal Security laws of the committee on the judiciary, United States Senate," on page 61 refers to the UE as "One of the strongest communist-controlled unions in America."

The International Headquarters of the UE is located at 11 East 51st Street, New York, New York, according to the April 19, 1965, edition of the "UE News," official organ of the UE.

On October 28, 1965, a meeting of the "Labor Committee" was held at 4859 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Approximately 150 people attended this affair and the following CP of Illinois members were observed:

HERBERT WRIGHT
SARAH JONES
IJULA SAFFOLD
ANNIE ALEXANDER
BILL TURNIPSEDE
NATE SHARPE
LLOYD CRUMLEY

CG T-6, 11/1/65)

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO)

In connection with the coordinated civil rights activities in Chicago, Illinois, between the CCCO and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), it is to be noted that the CP of Illinois influence is exercised within this complex as follows:

EARL DURHAM, Chairman of the CP of Illinois Commission, meets with a collective made up of representatives of the CCCO and the SCLC. Also, within this collective is EUGENE TOURNOUR. Of the group that forms this collective, DURHAM's CP affiliation is only known to AL RABY, Convener of the CCCO, and EUGENE TOURNOUR. DURHAM ostensibly is a participant in this collective as a representative from a community civil rights organization. This group was brought together by AL RABY, who continues to act as the leader of the group. The meetings of this collective are civil rights meetings and not CP meetings, and this collective is in keeping with the current line of the CP of Illinois that such community organization groupings are the best possible means of influencing the civil rights struggle in Chicago under existing conditions. DURHAM is the only active CP of Illinois member included in this collective; however, the prospectives are that DURHAM, through his work in this collective, will try and recruit other CP members into this collective.

In regard to EUGENE TOURNOUR, he is considered to be a "known Party Communist" as defined by Marxism. A "known Party communist"is an individual who will carry out most of the CP's program, but will not join the CP because this type of individual feels for one reason or another the CP discipline would not be to his liking. Relative to program and ideology, there would be no separation between the CP and TOURNOUR. TOURNOUR is, however, not working in the civil rights movement as a CP assignment, and is strictly working on his own.

In a more limited way, additional CP of Illinois members are still active in the CCCO. These CP of Illinois members are Doctor QUENTIN YOUNG and FOSTER STOCKWELL. Also, ANN PROSTEN, a former member of the CP of Illinois, has been active in the affairs of the CCCO. PROSTEN, however, has not met with the CP in a number of years, but the CP of Illinois still considers her friendly, but not always cooperative. FOSTER STOCKWELL is still meeting with the CP, and Doctor QUENTIN YOUNG is a member of the Doctors Club of the CP of Illinois; however, it is not known whether this Doctors Club is meeting at the present time.

(CG T-1, 1/4/66)

1. Independent Labor Committee, aka Labor Committee of the CCCO

The Independent Labor Committee was not created by the CP, but was independently created by a group of trade unionists. The influence of the CCCO and the intervention of the CP through EARL DURHAM helped set the stage for the emergence of this Labor Committee. There is, however, no direct control or direct influence by the CP of Illinois as yet. The Independent Labor Committee is, however, one of the CP of Illinois' main concentrations at this time.

Among CP of Illinois members active in the civil rights movement, the following individuals are to be active in the Independent Labor Committee:

CG 100-41324
DET:mec

HERBERT WRIGHT
NATE SHARPE
EARL DURHAM
CHARLES WILSON

The main points of CP of Illinois concentration, as indicated, will be directed toward the Independent Labor Committee and toward the CCCO-SCLC groupings. The CP would like to make an attempt to move the civil rights organizations in Chicago in the direction of the economic issues confronting the Negro community in Chicago. So far, this proposal is still in the planning stage. There have been discussions with certain leaders of the civil rights movement on problems of rent increases, but so far, this has not been accepted as an issue.
(CG T-1, 1/4/66)

On November 30, 1965, a meeting of the Labor Committee of the CCCO was held at 4859 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

Approximately 75 to 80 persons were present for this meeting and it was called to discuss the organization of the Labor Committee and the future election of officers for the committee.

During the discussion of the organization of the Labor Committee at this meeting, it was decided that a finance committee and a nominating committee be established. After some consultation, four individuals were nominated to serve on the finance committee by the chairman of the committee and among these individuals were JACK BURCH and NATE SHARPE.

Chairman of the meeting next appointed the nominating committee and among those appointed to this committee were EARL DURHAM and HERB WRIGHT. HERBERT WRIGHT

Also in attendance at this meeting was the Reverend JAMES BEVEL of the SCLC who spoke on the general civil rights movement in Chicago and emphasized the need to organize a program to combat slum conditions in the Negro community.

Among those attending this committee were the following members of the CP of Illinois:

CG 100-41324

CHARLES WILSON
DUTCH WAGNER
EARL DURHAM
HERB WRIGHT
RALPH TURNER
NATE SHARPE

(CG T-6, 12/2/65)

The CP of Illinois members active in the affairs of the Independent Labor Committee of the CCCO held a meeting on December 8, 1965, in Chicago, Illinois. During this meeting it was brought out that the nominating committee of the labor committee seems to be favoring among other officers, JACK BURCH, for the position of vice president of the Labor Committee. It was also brought out that the nominating committee would probably nominate HERB WRIGHT for the office of treasurer of the Labor Committee.

(CG T-2, 12/9/65)

B. The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC)

As previously indicated, EARL DURHAM and EUGENE TOURNOUR are active in participating in the affairs of what is termed the CCCO-SCLC complex. In addition, RICHARD CRILEY is active with the SCLC on the west side of Chicago, where the main points of concentration in civil rights affairs are being carried on by the SCLC. CRILEY does not currently meet with the CP, however, he is still considered a member as far as is known, and is friendly to the CP, but is not always cooperative.

(CG T-1, 1/4/66)

C. National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP)

LESTER DAVIS and BRENETTA HOWELL, who are considered to be current members of the CP of Illinois, are still members of the Executive Board of the NAACP, Chicago Branch; however, these two individuals have not met as a CP collective for some time. As a matter of fact, HOWELL has not been in contact with the CP on the civil rights issue since late summer, 1965.

(CG T-1, 1/4/66)

D. Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC)

SNCC, according to information, is no longer in existence as a civil rights force in the Chicago area.

(CG T-1, 1/4/66)

E. Negro American Labor Council (NALC)

The NALC is no longer considered an effective force in the civil rights struggle in the Chicago area. The NALC continues to exist only on paper, and there is still a relationship between the officers of this organization and HERBERT WRIGHT, a current CP of Illinois member. The only expectation, since the NALC theoretically still exists is that the organization will, from time to time, issue statements on civil rights issues.

Synopsis: HERBERT APTHEKER appeared at University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Connecticut, on 10/27/65, under sponsorship of Student League for Human Rights. In address to approximately 150 to 200 persons present, APTHEKER stated that socialism will come to the United States, a racist country which ranks second only to South Africa in the repression of other races.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

IV. MISCELLANEOUS

On October 27, 1965, NH T-1 advised that on that date, HERBERT APTHEKER spoke at Dana Hall, University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Connecticut, at which time he was introduced as a representative of the American Institute for Marxist Studies. APTHEKER's topic concerned, "Communism - Promise or Menace."

During his remarks, APTHEKER stated that Communism is not a foreign controlled conspiracy; that socialism will come to the United States since the people want this to happen; and that the American government is exploiting its people economically.

APTHEKER said that the United States is a "parasite" to the undeveloped nations and is a racist country which ranks second only to South Africa in the repression of other races. He stated that as a racist and culturally deprived country, the United States will eventually go communistic since the people desire a social revolution.

Informant said that APTHEKER's appearance was sponsored by the Student League for Human Rights; that approximately 150 to 200 persons attended the affair; and that most of those in attendance were students and faculty members from the University of Bridgeport.

A characterization of HERBERT APTHEKER is included with that of the American Institute for Marxist Studies, in the Appendix Section of this report.

On September 28, 1965, NH T-2 advised that the Student League for Human Rights is a large organization on the campus of the University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Connecticut. This organization's membership is composed largely of liberal-minded students; however, approximately five of the members of this organization are also members of the Connecticut Chapter of the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America.

A characterization of the Connecticut Chapter, W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America, is set forth in the Appendix Section of this report.

On October 27, 1965, NH T-3 and NH T-4 made available substantially the same information as that furnished by NH T-2, above.

CHARACTERIZATIONS OF ORGANIZATIONS

AMERICAN INSTITUTE FOR MARXIST STUDIES

A source advised on April 9, 1963, that on April 7, 1963, at a meeting of the New England District Committee, Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in Boston, Massachusetts, Herbert Aptheker stated he was developing an organization called American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS), which would eventually legalize the CP. He stated AIMS would publish literature on history, science, physics, archeology, and other subjects which would be put out quarterly with various supplements.

A second source advised in December, 1959, that Herbert Aptheker was elected to the National Committee, CP, USA, at the 17th National Convention of the CP, USA, held in December, 1959.

A third source advised on June 7, 1963, that on June 3, 1963, Herbert Aptheker spoke at the CP, USA, New York District Board meeting concerning AIMS. Aptheker stated that AIMS would unite and strengthen the CP although the CP would not be connected with it. He stated AIMS was being formed to operate within the scope of the McCarran and Smith Acts and would legally bring Marxist material and opinions to the attention of American scholars and the general public.

A fourth source advised that as of May 7, 1965, AIMS was located at 20 East 30th Street, New York City.

attended the convention of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) held in Birmingham, Ala., from August 7-12, 1965.

On October 5, 1965, this same source reported that METELITS had traveled to New York City on September 24, 1965, to give a report on this convention to GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA (CPUSA). Since GUS HALL was not in New York City at the time, METELITS met with HENRY WINSTON, Vice Chairman, CPUSA, and although she intended to give a report on the SCLC convention, she was very critical of the CP activities within the CPEPD. Source reported METELITS had also traveled to New York on October 4, 1965, at which time she met with GUS HALL, HENRY WINSTON and ARNOLD JOHNSON, National Legislative Director, CPUSA. METELITS reported on her attendance at the SCLC convention.

PHILADELPHIA FIGHTERS FOR LIBERTY AND JUSTICE

On October 21, 1965, PH T-2 advised the regular bimonthly meeting of the Philadelphia Fighters for Liberty and Justice (PFLJ) was held on October 7, 1965, at which time a report was given concerning Girard College and the efforts of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) to integrate this institution. It was stated that the entry of one or more Negroes to the College would not basically benefit the conditions of the oppressed Negro minority in Philadelphia who are the victims of greedy landlords, unemployment and discrimination.

CECIL MOORE, President of the Philadelphia Chapter of the NAACP, was only diverting the Negroes from the real struggle, which is to fight for changes that would change the status of these oppressed Negroes.

A characterization of the PFLJ appears in the Appendix section of this report.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOME FOR HOMELESS
INDUSTRIAL BOYS, 16TH STREET AND ALLEGHENY AVENUE, PHILADELPHIA

On October 4, 1965, PH T-3 advised the Philadelphia Branch of the W. E. [illegible]is Clubs of America (DCA) has claimed credit for integ[illegible]ting the weekly dances held at the St. Joseph's Home fo[illegible]omeless Industrial Boys, 16th Street and Allegheny Avenue. On one occasion the DCA had sent a Negro couple to the dance and they were admitted with no disturbances. Based on this incident, the DCA has claimed credit for integrating these dances. Later, two of the leaders of the DCA talked to the priest in charge of the orphanage, attempting to o[illegible]tain permission to advertise these dances in the neighborhood. The priest refused to grant them permission to do so and ma[illegible]le it clear to them he did not desire to be associated with the [illegible]CA, whom he referred to as "trouble makers." He also indicate[illegible] he was well aware of the DCA's communist affiliations.

A characteriza[illegible]n of the DCA is included in the Appendi[illegible]ection of this report.

APPEARANCE OF BAYARD RUSTIN AT LEHIGH UNIVERSITY, BETHLEHEM, PENNSYLVANIA

The October 19, 1965, issue of "The Brown and White," the official student publ[illegible]ation of Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., reflects BAYARD RUSTIN, a civil rights leader, spoke before 130 people in the U[illegible]iversity Center on Thursday, October 14, 1965. RUSTIN [illegible]as a guest of the Civil Rights Club and Resident Halls Co[illegible]ncil.

RUSTIN predicted political alliance between the civil rights and labor mov[illegible]ments in the United States to solve the three major civil righ[illegible]s problems--slum housing, employment with dignity and qual[illegible].ty integrated education. Although these problems affect the [illegible]egro more severely, they do affect more white people than Neg[illegible]oes inasmuch as millions and millions of dollars will b[illegible] required to finance the works project and only the Feder[illegible]l Government has enough funds.

RUSTIN stated va[illegible]ious groups must join together and form a strong politica[illegible] alliance to accomplish their goals.

He proposed that Negro women care for children during recess and lunch periods at school to give teachers more time to teach. He also suggested Negro boys be hired as orderlies in hospitals. In addition, he proposed Government support to babysitting agencies to provide employment with dignity and to enable mothers to get away from their husbands and children for a day. He also stated that going to school is work and all people should be paid to go to school where parents cannot afford it. This included the elementary through university education.

RUSTIN, who sponsored a rally on June 8, 1965, in New York City against the U. S. action in Vietnam, stated he believed MARTIN LUTHER KING erred in announcing his opposition to the U. S. Vietnam policy from the platform of the SCLC conference. Although the Vietnam crisis is a damaging one and Dr. KING, as a Nobel Peace Prize winner should have commented on it, it should have been done at a different time and place.

RUSTIN revealed in an interview with officials of this student publication that he was a member of the Young Communist League from 1938 to 1941.

> The YCL has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.
> The "Daily Worker," an east coast communist newspaper which ceased publication on January 13, 1958, on February 11, 1957, reflected BAYARD RUSTIN was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the CPUSA held in New York City February 9-12, 1957.

MARTIN LUTHER KING's VISIT TO PHILADELPHIA

On page 3 of the October 16, 1965, issue of the "Evening Bulletin," a daily Philadelphia newspaper, appeared an article which reflects the Reverend Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING spoke at the 50th Anniversary Banquet of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel on October 15, 1965, before more than 1,000 people. KING cited narrow national self-interest as a barrier to peace throughout the world.

KING accused the U. S. of talking about peace while burgeoning a defense budget that already bulges, enlarging an already awesome Army and devising even more devastating weapons. Most other nations are no less guilty than we.

An hour before KING arrived at the Hotel, 30 pickets carrying signs that read "King's Rights Equal Anarchy," "Reds and Peace Don't Mix" and "WILPF Means Red Slavery" paraded in front of the main entrance to the Hotel. Two of these pickets spotted KING entering the Hotel and called him "coward" and "yellow belly" but KING ignored them. The pickets were representatives of the Delaware Valley Citizens for Victory over Communism. There were no incidents.

MILITANT LABOR FORUM
DECEMBER 12, 1965

On December 17, 1965, Confidential Informant PH T-4 advised that on December 12, 1965, a Militant Labor Forum sponsored by the Philadelphia Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) was held at the Hotel Philadelphia, Broad and Wood Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. The Chairman of this Forum was MORRIS CHERTOV, leader of the Philadelphia Branch of the SWP. The main speaker was CHARLES SIMMS, leader of the Deacons of Defense and Justice (DDJ), Bogalusa, La., and WILLIAM MATHEWS of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) in Philadelphia. SIMMS stated the DDJ was formed in January 1965 to protect two white civil rights workers who were threatened by members of the Ku Klux Klan. SIMMS and others took these two workers into the Negro section for protection.

This idea of self-protection and organization into a group was the beginning of this organization. Since its formation, not one civil rights worker has been injured in Bogalusa.

MATHEW stated there is no necessity for violence in Philadelphia and that CORE could solve problems in Philadelphia better than a group like the DDJ. If the Negroes in the city work in harmony they could put pressure on the local government and solve their grievances.

Among those in attendance at this Forum were MORRIS and PEARL CHERTOV, members of the Philadelphia Branch of the SWP, JARVIS TYNER and SANDY PATRINOS. Socialist Workers Party

On December 22, 1965, PHT-1 advised JARVIS TYNER and SONDRA "SANDY" PATRINOS were members of the CP Youth Club, CPEPD, and leaders of the Philadelphia Chapter of the DCA. W.E.B. DuBois Club of America

A collection was taken and SIMMS was given $100 to take back to Bogalusa with him.

A characterization of the Philadelphia Branch of the SWP is included in the Appendix Section of this report.

The Ku Klux Klan has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

PHILADELPHIA BRANCH, SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

A source advised on April 28, 1965 that the Philadelphia Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (PBSWP) is an affiliate of the National SWP, which maintains headquarters at 116 University Place, New York, N. Y., and, as such, follows the aims and purposes of the National SWP. The source advised that the PBSWP which has been an active organization in Philadelphia since 1940, does not have a headquarters at the present time, but utilizes residences of various members for meetings and functions. The source added that the PBSWP utilizes the name "Militant Labor Forum" for public affairs and "Workers Party" as a ballot name when running candidates for public office.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

(A) DEMONSTRATION SPONSORED BY ACTION FOR RIGHTS, PORTLAND, OREGON, NOVEMBER 20, 1965

Action for Rights

Formation

The "Oregonian" and the "Oregon Journal", Portland daily newspapers, on September 15, 1965, contained articles about a meeting, the preceding evening, in the Albina area, promoted by a new group calling itself "Action for Rights." The meeting was composed of about one hundred Negroes and whites and was led by one MEL SPENCER who stated that his group hopes to initiate mass protest among Negroes that would start investigation into charges of alleged police harrassment of Negroes.

MEL SPENCER is described on page three below.

On November 20, 1965, a group of approximately sixty persons participated in a march on the Portland City Hall. The march was advertised as being under the sponsorship of Action for Rights. Upon arrival at City Hall, speeches were made by the leaders in which they stated they would continue to demonstrate until such time as they were afforded a hearing before the mayor. Some of the marchers carried signs reading, "Don't shoot to kill" and "We want a public hearing on police conduct and equal protection of the laws." When the group first began forming for the march, at Dawson Park in the Albina Negro section of Portland, one DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST, Jr. was observed to be a leader in forming the marchers. He passed out signs to be carried and issued instructions to marchers. Among the marchers in addition to HAMERQUIST were LAURENCE WADLEIGH, RAY RAPHAEL and THEODORE JORDAN.

Special Agent of the FBI, Portland

DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST during the year 1965 served as Oregon State Communist Party (CP) Executive Secretary.

PD T-1, 1/12/66

At a meeting of Action for Rights, held September 28, 1965, and attended by about 25 persons, held for the purpose of electing permanent officers, DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST declined to accept an elective office, however, he has been in attendance at practically all the meetings held by this group from its inception to the present time.

PD T-1, 1/21/66

THEODORE JORDAN, according to the records of the Oregon State Penitentiary, was convicted of murder and received at the Oregon State Penitentiary December 13, 1932, condemned to be executed but was committed to a life sentence on July 13, 1934. He was paroled on May 24, 1954, but the parole was revoked after he was convicted for burglary on June 24, 1963. He was granted a discharge from the Oregon State Penitentiary on June 25, 1965.

THEODORE JORDAN during 1965 was, and is presently a member of the Labor Club, CP, Portland.

PD T-1, 1/12/66

RAY VALINCOURT RAPHAEL was present at a meeting of the Political Affairs Club (PAC) held April 14, 1963, at 3721 SE 22nd Avenue, Portland.

PD T-2, 4/18/63

A characterization of the PAC appears in the appendix under the caption Progressive Youth Organizing Committee.

RAY RAPHAEL during the year 1965 was observed by a Special Agent of the FBI participating in Portland on six different occasions in demonstrations opposed to U.S. policy in Vietnam. On the occasion of one demonstration, February 20, 1965, RAPHAEL was one of fifty persons arrested by the U.S. Marshal and charged with trespassing on Federal property.

LAURENCE WADLEIGH was present at a meeting of the CP Youth Club Portland, on May 10, 1965, which meeting was presided over by GUS HALL, General Secretary, CP, USA.

PD T-1, 5/10/65

MELVIN BRUCE SPENCER, also known as MEL SPENCER and DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST, Jr. were very friendly and close associates during 1964-65.

PD T-1, 1/12/66

MELVIN SPENCER in 1964-65 regularly attended meetings of the Portland W.E.B. DuBois Club (PDC), and took an active part in its projects, including efforts to arouse concern in the Negro community of allegations of police brutality toward Negroes.

PD T-2, 1/65
PD T-3, 5/65

The PDC and W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America are described in the appendix attached hereto.

PROGRESSIVE YOUTH ORGANIZING COMMITTEE (PYOC), known in Portland, Oregon as POLITICAL AFFAIRS CLUB (PAC)

A source advised on May 20, 1963, that the Political Affairs Club (PAC) was formed during November, 1962, in Portland, Oregon, as a discussion group for youths of college and high school age and young working people to hold discussions along "leftist lines"; PAC seeks to provide discussion of a radical sort about radical problems and issues. DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST is the leader and controls the policy of PAC, and ALLEN SILVERSTONE, JOHN TALBOT, both Reed College students, and JASON SMITH, a Portland State College student, all of whom claim membership in the Portland Communist Party (CP) Youth Club, have taken an active part in PAC meetings. At a PAC meeting on May 19, 1963, those in attendance, mostly students, voted to officially affiliate with the Progressive Youth Organizing Committee. PAC usually schedules meetings at various off-campus homes every other week and is open to all interested parties. As of June, 1963, PAC continues in existence, has no official headquarters, and has approximately fifty people on its mailing list.

A second source advised on June 3, 1963, that DONALD LEE HAMERQUIST is currently an active member of the OREGON CP state board, as well as a member of the Portland CP Youth Club.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CPUSA)

(1) Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP)

LA T-1 (9/23/65)

On September 10, 1965, a special meeting of the Negro members of the Moranda Smith Section (MSS), SCDCP, was held, at which meeting the members had been asked to invite a few of the non-party friends to discuss just what could be done in the Watts area of Los Angeles. Everyone seemed to be of the opinion that there should be an office or headquarters of some sort in the Watts community where the average rank and file citizen could feel free to come for information or assistance in ways to solve their problems. It was decided to compile various ideas in an effort to come up with a program that would benefit the people in Watts.

LA T-2 (10/1/65)

A Lucy Parsons Club, Echo Park-Silver Lake Section, SCDCP, meeting was held on September 14, 1965 at which time a discussion on the question of removing the Los Angeles Police Chief WILLIAM H. PARKER from office. It was decided that the campaign for the removal of PARKER must continue, and it was stated that the Communist Party's main responsibility was to build support for the Negro people in the white community and to build discussion groups within the various neighborhoods of those present.

LA T-3 (10/18/65)

A meeting of the Free Press Forum (FPF) was held on September 24, 1965. One of the speakers for this affair was WILLIAM TAYLOR, identified by the above source as a spokesman for the SCDCP, who began his presentation on the recent riots that took place in South Los Angeles. TAYLOR gave an interpretation of the offical Communist Party (CP) line and its evaluation of events leading up to and during the riots.

In summation TAYLOR stated that if the citizens of the Los Angeles City and Los Angeles County and citizens of the State of California and the Federal Government wished to head off any recurrence of the Watts riots the following changes must be made:

(1) Chief PARKER should be fired.

(2) Mayor SAMUEL YORTY should be forced into submitting to the War on Poverty and to get the money to the neighborhood as soon as possible.

(3) The Federal, State, County, and City Governments should, with all possible speed, find as many jobs in the quickest time for those unemployed in the South Los Angeles area.

(4) Unscrupulous businessmen who charge high prices for low quality goods should be put out of business.

TAYLOR concluded by asking all those present to take his message to their friends, neighbors, and relatives, and try to do the best they could for the Negro in South Los Angeles.

LA T-4 (1/6/66)

The FPF is an activity sponsored solely by the MSS, SCDCP. It is controled and directed by the MSS, SCDCP, FPF Committee, which is a committee composed of selected members of the MSS, SCDCP.

LA T-5 (10/18/65)

On October 2, 1965 a conference of the Northern California CP was held in San Francisco, California, at which meeting a report was given by a young lady from Los Angeles who reported on the situation in Watts. She said that the Watts riot was not, as many people called it, a social revolution or a revolution to overthrow the government, or any of the other different things that it had been named. She said it was an upsurge of people who had reached a point of no return, most of them unemployed for more than one year and without food for their families. She said they just exploded. She stated that the Chief of Police and the Mayor saying that the left was involved in it was ridiculous and she critizied the left for not knowing the condition of these people and not being in touch with them, and therefore, unable to give them any sort of leadership. She said the real reason for the problem was that most people in the left were working and did not live in the ghettos and consequently were not in touch with the people. She said it was up to the party to find a way for its people to keep in touch and to work very closely with the people in the ghettos. She said that when situations like these arose the party should give the proper leadership.

She went on to say that since the riot many of the party leaders and workers had moved into the Watts area to help. She said the party had organized a Watts Labor Committee which went around to labor units in an effort to get them to open their doors and give these people priorty on jobs.

LA T-6 (10/12/65)

On October 7, 1965, a meeting of the CP National Negro Commission took place in New York City, New York, at which meeting DOROTHY HEALEY, publicly identified as the chairman of the SCDCP, was present and made a report on the Negro riot which had taken place in the Watts section of Los Angeles. This report was lengthy and followed the newspaper accounts. She stated that this riot indicated that the party should have an excellent opportunity to work among the Negroes who continue to be exploited.

LA T-7 (10/18/65)
LA T-8 (10/20/65)

On October 12, 1965 a meeting of the Long Beach and Lakewood CP Club, SCDCP, was held in Long Beach, California. There was a discussion concerning the upsurge in Watts as well as the poverty program and it was stated that under the capitalist system there would always be poverty and unemployment and that the only way it would be straightened out would be under the socialist system. It was also stated at this meeting that the CP's interest in the poverty program was that all party members attempt to help in any way possible.

LA T-9 (11/16/65)

A meeting of the Mexican Commission, SCDCP, was held on October 26, 1965, at which meeting one of the points on the agenda was a discussion of an outline to be submitted to the National Committee of the CP for discussion at the national convention. During this discussion, it was pointed out that it was necessary for the CP to take a new look at the Mexican people of the Southwest and commence to do some organizing of these people.

LA T-1 (11/22/65)

At a meeting of the Negro Commission of the SCDCP held on November 10, 1965, WILLIAM TAYLOR projected the need for the Negro Commission to revamp itself and become more adapted to a role that would be in keeping with the demands and needs of the Negro community. One of the others present gave a rundown of the activities of other organizations in the community and it was decided that the commission should keep informed and help to push the programs of any of the groups that would help to advance the Negro community. The commission members agreed that the most important need in the Negro community was "jobs" and that every effort must be explored to see if jobs could be created; that apprenticeship and re-training programs must be implemented among Negro youths and the older men who had lost their jobs due to automation.

(2) CP Youth Matters

LA T-10 (11/22/65)

At a meeting of the CP Youth Club, SCDCP, on November 21, 1965, at 1953 Kemper Circle, an educational was given on the recent Negro riots in the Watts section of Los Angeles. (3) W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs

LA T-10 (11/30/65)

At a meeting of the Central Los Angeles Du Bois Club on November 26, 1965, at 1733 West Temple Street, the statement was made by one of these in attendance that when the Negro riots broke out in the Watts area of Los Angeles, the Du Bois Clubs and other radicals should have started burning in the white communities as a show of sympathy to the Negro; that this would have thrown the police off and spread them throughout the city, thereby putting less pressure on Watts.

LA T-11 (12/8/65)

This source furnished pamphlet published by the W.E. B. Du Bois Clubs of Los Angeles entitled "The Fire This Time." This pamphlet sets forth the position of the Du Bois Clubs regarding the Negro riots in Los Angeles, and alleges police brutality.

The section organizers of the SCDCP met on September 15, 1965 at which time BEN DOBBS outlined the history of the shift in the work of the LACDBRPFB into an "umbrella" type of defense organization, and the reluctance of several "old timers" in the organization to accept this new role. The Jewish Commission, SCDCP, met on September 20, 1965. At this meeting BEN DOBBS stated that they must support the SSCDC as it was a major initiative of the left, and if the SSCDC was successful, a great many things could come of it.

LA T-19 (10/6/65)

At a meeting of the Aaron Johnson Club, SCDCP, held on September 15, 1965, it was reported that the SSCDC was to become a front organization for the CP in the Watts area. No white members were to work in the office they were opening in Watts at the present time because of the suspicion of the Negroes. The SSCDC is to be operated by the MSS, SCDCP.

LA T-20 (10/11/65)

The Watts Club, SCDCP, met on October 5, 1965, and during this meeting ORTIS DIXON, a member of the Negro Commission, SCDCP, stated he was very busy with the SSCDC and had been unable to make a recent meeting of the Watts Club because of it. A meeting of the South Central Club, MSS, SCDCP, was held on September 1, 1965, during which meeting the main issue on the agenda consisted of the concentration area in the Watts district. LA T-27 (9/24/65)

A Southern California CP Educational Workshop was held on September 10, 1965 which was chaired by BEN DOBBS, identified by source as the Executive Secretary of the SCDCP. DOBBS said that the discussion would be based on questions from the comrades present relative to the Negro uprising in Watts. One of the questions asked was whether the removal of Chief of Police PARKER would solve the problems in the Negro community. DOBBS stated that on the question of the Police Department he favored the civilian review board which could deal in specifics. He said that in the states coming elections many Negroes would come to the forefront and that this would have a far reaching effect due to the Negro uprising.

LA T-28 (9/13/65)

A meeting of the 23rd CP Club, SCDCP, was held in Norwalk, California, on September 13, 1965. One of the individuals present stated that 50 copies of the PW, dated August 28, 1965, regarding the riot in Watts had been mailed to various organizations in the Compton, California area.

LA T- 13 (9/23/65)

A meeting of the Aaron Johnson Club, MSS, SCDCP, was held on September 15, 1965. The distribution of the PW was discussed and it was pointed out that the Echo Park Section, SCDCP, had been distributing the PW in Watts for a long period of time and had been doing an excellent job there. It was felt by those present that the Echo Park Section should continue to work in Watts and that the MSS should concentrate more in the South Central area and around the Teamster Labor Union Hall which was located in that area.

LA T- 23 (10/5/65)

A regular meeting of the West Adams Club, SCDCP, was held on September 20, 1965 and inasmuch as there was no scheduled agenda one of those present was asked to report on what was going on in Watts as far as the CP was concerned. At a meeting of the MSS, SCDCP, held on September 27, 1965, BILL TAYLOR commented that he felt if any meaningful gains were to be made by the CP in the field of civil rights, it would certainly have to be projected through the professional leaders of the Negro community.

LA T-31 (10/20/65)

A monthly meeting of the Electrical Club, SCDCP, was held on October 11, 1965, the first point on the agenda being a continued discussion from the last monthly meeting on ways of talking to individuals in the various trade units and attempting to put pressure on the union leaders in employing more Negroes in the Watts area. COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE (NAACP)
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

A source who has furnished reliable information in the past on January 25, 1966, advised that per instructions of Claude Lightfoot, a leading functionary of the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois, a CP faction within the NAACP held a meeting at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit, Michigan, on January 22, 1966. There were [redacted] individuals in attendance at this meeting, some of whom were not known to the source as CP members.

b7D

This meeting was held to discuss strategy and plans in connection with the forthcoming NAACP National Convention to be held sometime during the summer of 1966. The meeting was quite informal and there was no prepared agenda.

Individuals in attendance at this meeting held discussions concerning the following matters:

1. Ways and means of developing a caucus that will be able to function at the forthcoming NAACP National Convention. In order to develop this caucus it was felt that the recently approved decentralization of some branches must be ironed out in order that all branches may become decentralized. It was felt that the CP would be able to function more efficiently under the decentralization plan. It was pointed out that while the Detroit branch did not vote for decentralization it was felt that should there be changes effected in the structure of decentralization the Detroit branch would go along with such a plan and in this way there would be unity throughout all NAACP branches.

2. Concerning the peace issue, it was stated that the Party could not approach this issue from a foreign policy aspect; however, this issue should be approached in relation to anti-poverty programs and educational programs pointing out the need for expenditure of additional funds for these purposes and withdraw funds earmarked for foreign policy to accomplish this.

3. Concerning the resolutions committees, it was also decided that where possible the Party should compromise and give up membership on other committees in order to obtain delegates on the resolutions committee. It was hoped to capture the four regional delegates to the resolutions committee in the Midwest area even if it meant losing membership in other committees.

It was also stated that every effort should be made to place acceptable members on the NAACP Board located in New York since under New York laws the Board is solely responsible for running the organization.

It was also decided at this meeting that if possible all individuals present would attempt to attend similar meeting tentatively scheduled for sometime in February, 1966, in New York City.

It has been learned that GUS HALL, General Secretary of the Communist Party, USA (CP, USA), is now scheduled to make a public appearance at the Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama, on February 11, 1966. HALL has twice postponed this appearance and actually would like to have "backed out" completely from the commitment. However, HALL received a telephone call on this matter from Tuskegee and the caller threatened to charge him with "cold feet" unless he appeared.

Also, it has been learned that there is consideration being given to advising the Attorney General of HALL's pending trip to Tuskegee together with a demand that it is expected protection will be given him because of all the murders in the South without solution to one of these crimes. As of the early part of the week of January 23, 1966, the thinking among the leadership of the CP, USA was that an official letter should be sent to the United States Department of Justice, however, it would not be made public.

Title: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis:

In December, 1965, a dispute arose within Miami Communist Party (CP) over support of Mrs. ATHALIE RANGE, a Negro businesswoman seeking election as a Miami City Commissioner. Minority of CP members said that because Mrs. RANGE was a rich banker and not a "progressive," she should not be supported just because she was a Negro. Majority of members said that according to a correct Party understanding of the Negro question and the role of the Negro in today's movements, Mrs. RANGE should be supported, even though not a "progressive." CP USA National Committee member has indicated proper Party position would have been to support the election of Mrs. RANGE.

DETAILS:

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

It was learned that in December, 1965, a dispute took place within the Communist Party (CP) of Miami over whether to support a Mrs. ATHALIE RANGE, a Negro businesswoman, who was seeking election to the Miami, Florida City Commission.

~~Group 1~~
Excluded ~~from automatic~~ downgrading ~~and~~ declassification

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

A minority group of CP members stated that because Mrs. RANGE was a rich banker, owner of several businesses, and not a "progressive," she should not be supported just because she was a Negro. This group claimed that because Mrs. RANGE campaigned on a platform stating she would represent all the people in Miami, she was not really concerned with the problems of the Negro.

It was learned that several of this group, acting individually, allegedly induced the Senior Citizens Council of Dade County, Florida, and others to support Mrs. RANGE's opponent.

The majority of the Miami CP members were very critical of this position, stating that Mrs. RANGE had an imposing community status, was active in community and Negro organizations, and was certainly in favor of Negro rights, a position about which her white opponent remained silent. They argued that just because Mrs. RANGE was a banker and wealthy should not be held against her, otherwise "progressives" could not have supported Miami Mayor ROBERT KING HIGH or Miami Beach Mayor ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT, or other similar candidates for that reason. They argued that the good points of Mrs. RANGE far outweighed any objections to her not being a "progressive" and that her election would have been an inspiration for Negroes to register and vote throughout the South. They said the minority group furnished reasons for not supporting Mrs. RANGE which were contrary to a proper Party understanding of the Negro question and the role of the Negro in today's movements.

The Miami CP members could come to no agreement on the correct Marxist position in this matter and will seek advice from leaders of the CP USA.

MM T-1 12/65

It was learned that a CP USA National Committee member has indicated agreement with the position of the majority of the Miami CP members that the proper Party position would have been to support Mrs. ATHALIE RANGE.

IV. MISCELLANEOUS

A. MISSISSIPPI FREEDOM DEMOCRATIC PARTY (MFDP)

On January 4, 1966, confidential informant JN T-1 advised that the MFDP statewide convention was held on January 2, 1966 at 1072 Lynch Street, Jackson, Mississippi. This convention was attended by approximately 375 persons. LAWRENCE GUYOT advised those present that demonstrations were a thing of the past; and the MFDP would have to concentrate on voter registration workshops and political education among Negroes. He wants more door to door contact with Negroes urging them to vote. GUYOT is chairman of the MFDP.

GUYOT announced that he would run for United States Congress in the Fifth District of Mississippi, and he would not resign his chairmanship with the MFDP.

GUYOT stated that CHARLES EVERS, Field Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is losing his appeal and EVERS must get a well-known personality involved in the Civil Rights movement in Mississippi to revive the people. GUYOT claimed that at the recent picketing in Natchez, Mississippi, EVERS made a fool of himself and if he continues his current policies, the MFDP will step in and take over.

On December 15, 1965, JN T-1 advised that MONICA KLEIN had undertaken the task of attempting to arrange for 180 students from all over the United States to come to Mississippi during the Christmas holidays. KLEIN, who is an assistant in the MFDP did not have an issue but felt the MFDP could interest these students in voter registration and they would hold orientations in Jackson, Mississippi, starting just before Christmas.

On December 22, 1965, JN T-1 advised that about 40 out-of-state students arrived in Jackson, Mississippi over the Christmas holidays. The majority had arrived on December 21, 1965 and was far below the 180 expected. JN T-1 advised that no list would be maintained of the out-of-state students of their names or addresses. Almost all the students were from New York, Pennsylvania, or Michigan.

Orientation was made at the Morning Star Baptist Church, Kane Street, Jackson, Mississippi, under the direction of MONICA KLEIN, being assisted by six volunteers of the MFDP.

The group was instructed on how to register Negro citizens to vote and were to work door to door on urging people to vote. They were to be in Mississippi for about ten days and most of the workers were sent to DeSoto County, Mississippi.

On February 6, 1956, confidential source JN T-2 advised that MONICA KLEIN was a member of the Rosenberg Teen-age Club, Labor Youth League (LYL). JN T-2 advised three to four months previously KLEIN was club education director.

The LYL has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to executive order 10450.

On October 28, 1965, JN T-1 advised that LAWRENCE GUYOT, Chairman of the MFDP, has become power mad and very overbearing to the rank and file of the MFDP.

JN T-1 added that the MFDP representatives in Bolivar County, Mississippi, had registered 200 Negroes during the week of October 24, 1965.

On January 6 and 7, 1966, confidential informant JN T-2 advised that JESSIE HARRIS and BARBARA BRANDT are both volunteer workers for the MFDP, Jackson, Mississippi, and have identified themselves as working for SNCC.

HARRIS, as Field Secretary of the SNCC, is currently attempting to get a workshop started on federal programs involving the poverty program. The workshop dates have not yet been scheduled but will probably be held in Edwards County, Mississippi. HARRIS has advised the informant that the workshop will be divided into three parts: (1) General information on poverty program with emphasis on community action program, (2) Protest procedures, and (3) Resources, with personnel of Economic Opportunities as instructors.

On October 19, 1965, JN T-1 advised that from his experience with the MFDP in Mississippi and Washington, D. C. ARTHUR KINOY, WILLIAM KUNSTLER, and WILLIAM HIGGS, are attorneys having great influence on the functions of the MFDP. These three attorneys represented the MFDP in their challenge of the Mississippi Congressional delegation in 1964.

On October 29, 1962, confidential informant JN T-4 advised that a rally sponsored by the New York Council to Abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA) at the Manhattan Center, 34th Street and Eighth Avenue, New York City, was held on October 24, 1962. WILLIAM KUNSTLER spoke at the rally and told the audience that the HCUA interferes with the social program and the brotherhood of man. KUNSTLER called for the abolishment of the HCUA.

A characterization of the New York Council to Abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities appears in the appendix of this report.

On November 3, 1962, confidential informant JN T-5 advised that KUNSTLER had had the "Daily Worker" delivered to his home in Port Chester, New York.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication that suspended publication on January 13, 1958.

On August 30, 1960, confidential informant JN T-6 advised that ARTHUR KINOY had attempted to set up a Communist Party Club of professionals following the National Communist Party Convention in 1957.

On February 1, 1964, Chief of Detectives M. B. PIERCE (National Academy), Jackson, Mississippi, Police Department, furnished the following information:

WILLIAM L. HIGGS was arrested by detectives of the Jackson Police Department on the night of February 1, 1963, at the office of the "Mississippi Free Press," a weekly newspaper at Jackson, Mississippi. He was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor which is a misdemeanor.

On February 19, 1963, Chief of Detectives M. B. PIERCE, (NA), Jackson, Mississippi, Police Department, advised that on January 15, 1963, WILLIAM L. HIGGS was found guilty by a jury in Hinds County Court, Jackson, on a charge of Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor. He was sentenced the same date by Hinds County Judge RUSSELL MOORE to six months in jail and fined $500. HIGGS was not present in court.

On February 18, 1963, Judge RUSSELL MOORE heard arguments on a motion for new trial by HIGGS' court-appointed attorneys. Their motion was denied by Judge MOORE

On December 16, 1965, JN T-1 advised that recently a discussion was held at MFDP headquarters, 507½ Farish Street, Jackson, Mississippi, concerning a southwide protest for the National Coordinating Committee to End the War in Vietnam. Informant stated states have not been designated but feels it will be southwide with the majority of activities in Mississippi, Alabama, and Louisiana.

On December 22, 1965, JN T-1 advised that THOMAS COTTEN, Volunteer worker, MFDP, advised that the MFDP should begin their organization for the southwide protest for the National Coordinating Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

On December 3, 1965, confidential informant JN T-7 advised that the National Anti War Convention was held in Washington, D. C. from November 25-28, 1965. This convention was held to protest the United States involvement in the war in Vietnam. A Mississippi Delegation composed of Negroes and whites were in attendance at this convention.

JN T-7 and JN T-8 on December 5, 1965, described the Mississippi Delegation as "politically naive" and completely confused when the "Communist" oriented groups would use political descriptions or terms with which the Mississippi Delegation was not familiar. The general consensus of the "Communist" oriented individual was that the Mississippi delegates were immature, foolish, and for the most part, no one at the convention took them seriously.

On December 5, 1965, JN T-8 stated this convention was controlled by Communist Party Youth, W. E. B. Du Bois Club and Progressive Labor. Informant stated these groups planned agenda, led the discussion, chaired the meeting, and selected illegal delegates.

A characterization of the W. E. B. Du Bois Club and Progressive Labor appears in the appendix of this report.

TRAVEL OF GEORGE MEYERS, COMMUNIST PARTY OFFICIAL

On November 15, 1965, confidential informant JN T-9 advised that GEORGE MEYERS had returned to Richmond, Virginia, on November 11, 1965. MEYERS stated that he had been on a trip down south to Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi. MEYERS took this trip primarily to gather material in his travels for some articles for publication.

On April 6, 1964, confidential informant JN T-10 advised that GEORGE MEYERS as of April 5, 1964, was district organizer of the Southern Region Communist Party United States of America.

MEMBERS OF FREEDOM DEMOCRATIC PARTY WITH SUBVERSIVE AFFILIATIONS

IRA GRUPPER

On January 4, 1966, JN T-3 advised that GRUPPER was at the MFDP convention on January 2, 1966, at Jackson, Mississippi. GRUPPER at that time was looking for a ride to New York City as he wants to return to that city. He is presently working for the MFDP in Columbia, Mississippi.

On September 25, 1965, confidential informant JN T-11 advised that IRA GRUPPER arrived in Hattiesburg, Mississippi on or about September 18, 1965, and was residing with JOHNNY MAE WALKER, head of the MFDP, Hattiesburg.

JN T-11 stated that GRUPPER claimed he had been away in New York City on a fund-raising drive, making specifications to raise money.

On May 4, 1965, confidential informant JN T-12 advised that IRA GRUPPER was believed to be a current member of the W. E. B. Du Bois Club, based on his attendance at meetings of this club and his participation in activities of this club in recent months.

A characterization of the W. E. B. Du Bois Club appears in the appendix of this report.

PHILLIP SANDERS LAPSANSKY

On January 4, 1966, MIKE HIGSON, Assistant Office Manager, MFDP, advised that PHILLIP LAPSANSKY continues to work for the MFDP.

On April 4, 1965, confidential informant JN T-13 advised that PHILLIP SANDERS LAPSANSKY as of that date was a member of the Seattle Branch of the Socialists Workers Party.

A characterization of the Seattle Branch of the Socialists Workers Party appears in the appendix of this report.

PAUL GUREWITZ

On November 29, 1965, confidential informant JN T-14 advised that PAUL GUREWITZ, the son of CLARENCE and HELEN GUREWITZ was contacted by an unidentified male advising GUREWITZ that a project for "Northern kids" over the Christmas holidays was being prepared. This project would be in Mississippi. PAUL GUREWITZ agreed to go on the project and to get $40 for bus fare.

On January 27, 1966, JN T-14, advised that CLARENCE and HELEN GUREWITZ currently reside at [redacted] Silver Spring, Maryland. b6 b7C

On December 22, 1965, JN T-1 advised that from his knowledge of MFDP activities, the reason for GUREWITZ coming to Mississippi over the Christmas holidays was to participate in MFDP Negro voter registration project. JN T-1 added about forty out-of-state students participated in this project.

On July 19, 1963, confidential informant JN T-15 identified CLARENCE GUREWITZ as a current Communist Party member.

On February 20, 1964, confidential informant JN T-16 described HELEN GUREWITZ as a current Communist Party member.

Synopsis: At meeting of Milwaukee United School Integration Committee (MUSIC), October, 1965, member of Communist Party of Wisconsin (CPW) and two members of Milwaukee Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP), made motion that students of one high school picket another high school where students had been punished for taking part in recent school boycott. Motion not seconded. SWP has set up "Civil Rights Committee." In November, 1965, SWP members asked to report on contacts made with members of civil rights organizations to draw them into SWP. No such contacts had been made. During January, 1966, SWP passed motion to attempt to infiltrate, reorganize and take over leadership of Milwaukee Chapter of Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). Suggestions made that SWP do same in Negro-American Labor Council (NALC), but it was decided branch did not have enough Negro members. A member of SWP took part in march sponsored by CORE, November, 1965, advocating federal legislation to protect civil rights workers in south. Only five adults took part. This SWP member sold copies of SWP newspaper, "The Militant." CPW has made no concerted effort to place members in racial organizations. SJOHN GILMAN, member of State Board, CWP, has been very active in MUSIC, and he and other CPW members have participated in demonstrations on individual basis. Members, Milwaukee Branch, SWP, are members of various civil rights groups, have been urged to support programs of these groups and have taken part in most of demonstrations. Most active are SMYRTLE KASTNER, ALBERT SSTERGAR and BETSY STERGAR. SMYRTLE KASTNER elected delegate in CORE, December, 1965.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CP)

At a meeting of the Milwaukee United School Integration Committee (MUSIC), held on October 23, 1965, it was mentioned that students of East Division High School, Milwaukee, who had participated in a recent school boycott, were being punished by being made to stay after school to make up the lost time. JOHN GILMAN, who was present, and two others, mentioned below, made a motion that the students of North Division High School picket the East Division High School because of this action. This motion was not seconded.

(Source: MI T-1, 11/2/65)

As of August, 1965, JOHN GILMAN was a member of the State Board of the Communist Party of Wisconsin (CPW).

(Source: MI T-2, 8/29/65)

B. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY (SWP)

A characterization of the Milwaukee Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP) is contained in the appendix hereto.

At the meeting of MUSIC on October 23, 1965, mentioned above, the two individuals who, with JOHN GILMAN, made a motion that the students of North Division High School picket the East Division High School were BETSY and ALBERT STERGAR.

(Source: MI T-1, 11/2/65)

As of August, 1965, BETSY STERGAR and ALBERT STERGAR were members of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP.

(Source: MI T-3, 8/31/65)

The Milwaukee Branch of the SWP has set up a "Civil Rights Committee" made up of members of that branch, under the chairmanship of MYRTLE KASTNER. Other members of the committee are BETSY STERGAR, RUBEN HALE, FLORENCE KIRKLAND and JUAN GONZALEZ.

(Source: MI T-3, 11/2/65)

SI
WISCONSIN

At a meeting of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, held on November 7, 1965, JAMES BOULTON asked all of the members present to report on the progress they had made in making contacts with members of the various civil rights organizations for the purpose of drawing them into the SWP. No one had made any such contacts. MYRTLE KASTNER said she had talked to two or three people who seemed to be interested in the SWP. BOULTON said that the female members of the SWP should be able to interest some of the Negro male members of the civil rights organizations in the SWP. MYRTLE KASTNER then stated that she had met some Negro males, but they were interested in dates with her, and not interested in the SWP.

(Source: MI T-4, 12/1/65)

On September 26, 1965, JAMES BOULTON was named as organizer for the Milwaukee Branch, SWP.

(Source: MI T-4, 9/29/65)

At a meeting of the Milwaukee Branch of the SWP held on December 5, 1965, MYRTLE KASTNER reported on the civil rights movement. She reported that the Milwaukee United School Integration Committee (MUSIC) would start one day boycotts of various schools in Milwaukee during January, 1966, protesting de facto segregation.

(Source: MI T-3, 12/7/65)

The January 26, 1966, edition of the "Milwaukee Sentinel," a daily newspaper of general circulation in the Milwaukee area, contains an article captioned "MUSIC Cancels School Boycotts," which states that the Milwaukee United School Integration Committee (MUSIC) announced that it will postpone its previously announced school boycotts. It states that MUSIC had previously announced that it would sponsor a one-day boycott of North Division High School on January 31, 1966, the first regular school day of the second semester. It continues that the North Division boycott in protest against alleged de facto segregation policies of the Milwaukee School System originally had been announced for January 3rd, but had been postponed until January 31st. MUSIC, according to the article, had also planned to boycott Lincoln High School after North Division High School. The article states that a MUSIC spokesman said the boycotts have merely been deferred, not called off, but that no future date has been set.

At a regular closed meeting of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, held on January 16, 1966, a motion was made and passed, that the branch attempt to infiltrate, reorganize and take over the leadership of the Milwaukee Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), which is regarded by the SWP as lacking leadership at the present time.

During the discussion concerning this matter, suggestions were made that the SWP attempt to do the same thing in the Negro-American Labor Council (NALC), but it was decided that the branch did not have enough Negro members to take over the NALC.

(Source: MI T-3, 1/20/66)

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

MARCH, NOVEMBER 6, 1965, SPONSORED BY CONGRESS OF RACIAL EQUALITY (CORE)

On November 6, 1965, the Milwaukee Chapter of CORE sponsored a march for the purpose of advocating legislation which would make it a federal crime to murder, injure or intimidate civil rights workers in the South. The march started at North 12th and West Clarke Streets, Milwaukee, and proceeded to the Milwaukee County Court House where the participants held a short rally.

Only five adults participated in the march, one of whom was ALBERT STERGAR, a member of the Milwaukee Branch of the SWP. Most of the participants were juveniles, and less than twenty-three persons took part in the march.

The demonstration was orderly and without incident.

(Source: MI T-1, 11/8/65)

On November 6, 1965, ALBERT STERGAR, a member of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, assisted the Milwaukee Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), in a rally to obtain signatures for a petition demanding a law to make it a crime to attack civil rights workers. During this rally STERGAR sold copies of the SWP newspaper, "The Militant."

(Source: MI T-3, 11/10/65)

"The Militant" is a weekly newspaper of the SWP.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

As of January, 1966, the Communist Party of Wisconsin (CPW) had made no concerted effort to place members in any racial organizations. JOHN GILMAN, a member of the State Board of the CPW, has been very active in MUSIC, and he and other members of the CPW have participated in various demonstrations by some of these groups, and have assisted in some of the preparations for such demonstrations. Such participation has been on an individual basis, and not as a group effort.

(Source: MI T-2, 1/26/66)

The following members of the Milwaukee Branch of the SWP were, as of January, 1966, members of the civil rights organizations indicated below:

Most members of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, belong to this organization.

The members of the Milwaukee Branch, SWP, have been constantly urged to support the programs of the various civil rights organizations and have taken part in most of the demonstrations. Of the members, Relet Bureau to Memphis 11/19/65 re recent news article appearing in Washington, D. C., newspaper concerning a movie film produced by a Klan group which mentioned, among other things, reports re alleged Communist influence in Racial Matters which had been made by the Tennessee Legislature's Committee on Un-American Activities.

Bureau requested a copy of such a report, if it in fact exists.

Memphis indices contain no reference to such a committee.

The following investigation at Nashville, Tenn., was conducted by SA [redacted]: b6 b7C

On 1/20/66 the Honorable MILTON RICE, Assistant Attorney General for the State of Tennessee, Nashville, advised that the Tennessee Legislature which convenes every two years has no Committee on Un-American Activities or subcommittee of a similar nature. The Legislature did authorize two investigations which might be considered as falling under this vein. In 1953, then Senator ROBERTS conducted an investigation and produced a report on the possible subversive influences on the text books used in the State of Tennessee. Of more pertinence to captioned matter, the 1959 Legislature conducted an investigation of the Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tennessee, and produced some sort of report concerning same. GEORGE MEYERS, District Chairman of the Communist Party (CP), visited Washington on January 7, 1966. His main purpose in coming to Washington was to visit the office of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). He was to visit the SNCC office to get information for an article in "Political Affairs."

WF T-1 1/10/66

"Political Affairs" is self described as the theoretical organ of the CP.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. Council of Federated Organizations Project over Christmas Holidays, 1965, at Greenville, Mississippi.

PAUL GUREWITZ, the son of CLARENCE and HELEN GUREWITZ, was contacted by an unidentified person who had talked to BEN PERKINS at the COFO (phonetic - probably the Council of Federated Organizations), in Greenville, Mississippi, on November 29, 1965. They were getting up a project for "Northern Kids" over the Christmas holidays. PAUL GUREWITZ agreed to go on the project and to get the $40 for bus fare. The unidentified male was to tell LYNN WELLS who, on November 29, 1965, was in Atlanta, Georgia, for a conference which was not identified during the conversation. LYNN WELLS was to call PERKINS.

WF T-2 11/29/65

On July 19, 1963, WF T-3 identified CLARENCE GUREWITZ as a current CP member.

On February 20, 1964, WF T-4 described HELEN GUREWITZ as a current CP member.

LYNN WELLS, although not otherwise identified, is probably the daughter of ROY HUDSON WELLS and RUTH WELLS. LYNN WELLS, according to WF T-2, is a friend of PAUL GUREWITZ and has been active in the High School Friends of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee with PAUL GUREWITZ.

On August 26, 1954, WF T-5 advised that ROY HUDSON WELLS had been a CP member for the past 18 years.

On June 25, 1954, WF T-5 identified RUTH WELLS as a current CP member.

B. Negro Boycott in Natchez, Mississippi, November, 1965

LYNN WELLS contacted HELEN GUREWITZ in early November, 1965, and said that "they" had the idea of sending telegrams to the Civil Rights leaders in Natchez, Mississippi, to show support for the Negro boycott being conducted in Natchez. HELEN GUREWITZ agreed to send a telegram and agreed to try an get someone else to send a telegram too.

WF T-2 11/5/65

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. STUDENT NON-VIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE (SNCC)

GEORGE MEYERS' interest in SNCC is reported in Section 1 of this report.

On November 7, 1965, there was a memorial meeting for MARCUS I. GOLDMAN, who died on October 2, 1965, at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Washington, D.C. At the meeting a request was made, for those who wished, to contribute money to the SNCC.

WF T-6 11/8/65

ELIZABETH GOLDMAN, the wife of MARCUS GOLDMAN, gave MARCUS GOLDMAN's desk and file cabinets to SNCC, but the SNCC people did not take the desk because they could not carry it. ELIZABETH GOLDMAN raised $2,000 for SNCC and hoped to get more. She wanted to give SNCC enough to buy a car. One hundred and fifty-five dollars of the amount raised was raised at the memorial service for MARCUS GOLDMAN at the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Then MARCUS GOLDMAN's sister gave $600 and other contributions kept rolling in. ELIZABETH GOLDMAN felt that some people might feel that she and her husband were "way out" for raising the money for SNCC, but that was what she and her husband wanted to do. When MARCUS GOLDMAN died and people wanted to know where to send remembrances, they were told to contribute to SNCC. As a result the $2000 was raised. ELIZABETH GOLDMAN promised SNCC to raise enough money for a car, so she planned to raise more money in New York when she moved there.

WF T-7 12/24/65, 12/26/65

Following the death of MARCUS GOLDMAN, his wife, ELIZABETH GOLDMAN, gave a lot of his books to Howard University in Washington, D.C. When the men from Howard University came to GOLDMAN's home to get the books, ELIZABETH GOLDMAN told them that she and her husband had always been interested in the Civil Rights of Negroes. She told them that MARCUS GOLDMAN worked for 30 years in the United States Government and it gave them a lot of satisfaction to give some of MARCUS' earnings to the various Civil Rights causes. She gave Howard University books on Negro history in Africa; Soviet Philosophy; Peoples of the USSR; A Political History of the Americas; Communism and the People; Bolshevism; and some articles and Supreme Court decisions.

Mrs Marcus D Goldman WF T-7 12/26/65

WF T-8 advised on June 25, 1964, that MARCUS GOLDMAN had recently referred to himself and his wife, ELIZABETH GOLDMAN, as being communists.

Title: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis:

At Communist Party (CP) national organizational meeting in December, 1965, a CP official stated that the anti-poverty program should be the concentration point of the CP in Baltimore. Another official stated that the CP in Baltimore had members in civil rights activities, and that a picture of "ghetto living" could be a focus of attention of the Maryland CP. The Maryland Committee for Democratic Rights (MCDR) discussed plans to back a proposed Open Occupancy Law. An informant advised that despite statements of CP officials, the CP in Maryland has exerted no influence in racial matters. Some persons who were associated with the Spartacist Group in Baltimore participated in two demonstrations protesting segregated housing in the Baltimore area.

JAKE GREEN

JACOB GREEN, Chairman of the CP of Maryland, gave a report which included reference to racial problems in the City of Baltimore. This portion of the report dealt with White Citizens Councils in Southern Maryland, and it was said that Negroes in Maryland were having problems insofar as job opportunities and housing were concerned.

HENRY WINSTON, a national CP official, asked GREEN what point of concentration the Party should have in Baltimore, and GREEN replied that one of the points of concentration should be the anti-poverty program. He said he intended to make a drive in connection with this and would like to make another report to the national leadership in February, 1966.

At this meeting, DANNY RUBIN made the statement that the CP in Baltimore had members active in both trade union work and civil rights activity. He said that East Baltimore presented a picture of "ghetto living" which could be a focus of attention for the CP in Maryland.

(BA T-1 on 1/6/66)

On October 8, 1965, the Maryland Committee for Democratic Rights (MCDR) sponsored an affair held at 601 W. 40th St., Baltimore, Md. BA T-1 identified twelve of the 35-40 persons present as current CP members. At this meeting, ROY WOOD, Chairman of the MCDR, who was one of the persons identified as a current CP member, introduced CARL JAMES BRADEN as the main speaker of the evening. He described him as a courageous newspaper man who is presently editor-in-chief of the "Southern Patriot", and an organizer for the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Incorporated.

At the beginning of his talk, BRADEN stated he had been convicted of sedition and had served eight months on a fifteen year sentence and had been fined $5000.00 because he had bought a house in Louisville, Kentucky, and transferred it to a Negro family who was unable to buy a home because of prejudice. He also announced that his only topic would be civil rights. He discussed the Southern Conference Educational Fund and said that it has long been active in promoting integration in the south.

He said that a decision had been made that the best way to reach the goal of integration was to organize the poor people, both white and Negro, in a common goal.

BA T-3 on 10/12-13/65
BA T-4 on 10/12-13/65
BA T-5 on 10/12-13/65)

Characterizations of the MCDR, and the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Incorporated, are appended hereto.

On October 21, 1965, at a regular meeting of the MCDR, held at 7400 Rockridge Rd., Baltimore County, Maryland, ROY WOOD said that the MCDR must try to help to get a fair housing act passed in the Baltimore City Council. JAKE GREEN, Chairman of the CP of Maryland, who was present, also said that pressure must be put on the Baltimore City Council to get the proposed Open Occupancy Law passed. He said that both state and federal governments should help to combat housing discrimination.

(BA T-2 on 10/25/65
BA T-3 on 10/25/65
BA T-4 on 10/28/65)

An MCDR meeting was held November 4, 1965, for the purpose of discussing the need for an Open Occupancy Law in the Baltimore area. ROY WOOD said that every member of the Committee should think about how they could help the sources who are trying to push the Open Occupancy Law through the Baltimore City Council.

(BA T-6 on 11/17/65)

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. CP, USA

On October 26, 1965, and January 25, 1966, informant advised that despite statements made by officials of the CP to the effect that CP should participate in civil rights activities in the Maryland area, the CP in Maryland has exerted no significant influence in racial matters for more than six months.

B. MARCH AGAINST SEGREGATED HOUSING IN THE BALTIMORE, MARYLAND, AREA SEPTEMBER 11-12, 1965

On September 11, 1965, Lieutenant GEORGE WALDHAUSER, Northern District, Baltimore City Police Department, Baltimore, Maryland, advised that approximately 40 individuals participated in a sit-in demonstration sponsored by the Baltimore Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), at the Colmar Apartments, 4417 Colmar Drive, Baltimore, Maryland, to protest segregated housing. Fifteen of the individuals participating in the demonstration conducted a "sit-in" in a sample apartment.

Lieutenant ROBERT HEWES, Northern District, Baltimore City Police Department, advised that four of the individuals sitting-in were arrested on trespassing charges in the late evening of September 11, 1965. The other individuals continued their demonstration until 9:40 p.m. of that day.

On September 12, 1965, Lieutenant HEWES, advised that the picketing and sit-in demonstration by CORE at the Colmar Apartments was resumed at 3:10 p.m., September 12, 1965.

Lieutenant CORTEZZI, Northern District, Baltimore City Police Department, on September 12, 1965, advised that at 5:30 p.m. that date, five individuals who had been sitting-in were arrested for trespassing. One of these individuals arrested on September 12, 1965, was MARIAN LUMMIS.

BA T-7 on May 12, 1965, advised that MARIAN LUMMIS had been a member of the Spartacist Group in Baltimore but had dropped out of that Group. On July 20, 1965, BA T-7 advised that although MARIAN LUMMIS resigned from the Spartacist Group under the persuasion of her boy friend, she still works for them and permits the Group to use her printing equipment. Md.

A characterization of the Revolutionary Committee of the Fourth International, also known as the Spartacist Group, is appended hereto.

C. MARCH AGAINST SEGREGATED HOUSING IN THE BALTIMORE, MARYLAND, AREA NOVEMBER 14, 1965

News sources in the Baltimore, Maryland, area on November 16, 1965, carried a story reflecting that 17 demonstrators, who are members of CORE, demonstrated against segregated housing at the Carlyle Apartments in the 500 block of West University Parkway, Baltimore, Maryland, on November 14, 1965, by conducting a sit-in at the Apartments. On November 16, 1965, the records of the Municipal Court of Baltimore City reflected that these 17 persons were arrested at the Carlyle Apartments on November 14, 1965, and charged with violation of the trespass law. The records reflected that one of the persons arrested was RALPH LEO WILKENS, [redacted] Baltimore, Maryland. b6 b7C

On November 16, 1965, BA T-7 advised that RALPH LEO WILKENS was one of the original members of the Spartacist Group in Baltimore, Maryland, which was organized in April, 1965; however, WILKENS resigned from the Spartacist Group early in May, 1965.

BA 100-23443

MARYLAND COMMITTEE FOR DEMOCRATIC RIGHTS

A source on August 15, 16, and 28, 1961, advised that following a meeting of the Communist Party National Committee at New York City, August 12, 1961, GEORGE MEYERS, Chairman of the Communist Party (CP) of Maryland - D. C., instructed CP members at Baltimore that a committee should be set up to mobilize opposition to the June 5, 1961, decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court concerning the Smith and McCarran Acts. MEYERS instructed that this committee which should be set up at a meeting August 26, 1961, should be composed of non-Party as well as CP members and that the Chairman should be "non-Party but close to the Communist Party." On August 26, 1961, the Maryland Committee for Democratic Rights was set up at Baltimore with the stated purpose of making the public aware of the Supreme Court decisions which in effect would outlaw the CP and what these decisions meant. On May 4, 1965, this same source advised that the Maryland Committee for Democratic Rights continues to remain an active organization at Baltimore.

RE: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

A source advised on January 31, 1966, that a meeting of the National Negro Commission of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA) was held at Communist Party headquarters, 23 West 26th Street, New York City, on January 19, 1966. Among those in attendance were HENRY WINSTON, JAMES JACKSON, WILLIAM PATTERSON, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, PAT TOOHEY, CARL WINTER and GUS HALL.

The subject matter under discussion was the problem of the increase of white chauvinist expressions within and without the Communist Party and in certain electoral activities.

HENRY WINSTON introduced the subject by stating that in the recent period, a number of such manifestations had appeared and that today they reflect greater damage on the Party because the movements and struggles are larger and there are a greater number of Negroes engaged in these movements. WINSTON said he has heard of a number of instances within the Party where certain white comrades are manifesting chauvinist objections to working under or accepting leadership from Negro comrades. However, the most glaring example was the role of certain Party members in the city elections recently held in Cleveland, Ohio, and Miami, Florida.

In the Cleveland mayoralty election, where the Negro candidate lost the election by a narrow margin of 2,000 votes, WINSTON called attention to the activity of several prominent and influential white Communists and "progressives" who opposed the Negro candidate and supported his unacceptable opponent, the present Mayor of Cleveland. WINSTON said he was convinced that the activities of these persons were sufficiently influential as to make the difference between defeat and victory for the Negro candidate.

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

WINSTON said that an even graver situation was exhibited during the recent City Commission election at Miami. There the activities and role of several influential Party members who broke from Party decisions can be charged with the responsibility for making the difference in the defeat of a Negro woman candidate for the City Commission. There were nearly 40,000 votes cast in this election and the Negro candidade lost by only 1400 votes. These several comrades were sufficiently influential in various organizations that their unpermissible support for the opponent was responsible for this margin of votes.

WINSTON said that these various examples, all arising together or in the same period of time, would demonstrate that they are not isolated happenings but omens of what may be happening elsewhere. He believed that these instances will occur again and again in varied localities and therefore, the Party should move at once against any more such situations developing.

WINSTON commended PAT TOOHEY and the Miami Communist Party for directing the attention of the national leadership to this situation by submitting a memorandum for action by the national leadership. He said that the Secretariat and the Negro Commission had already discussed the memorandum and agreed with its content and proposal.

Concerning the Miami, Florida situation, it appears that a dispute arose within the Miami Communist Party over support of a Mrs. RANGE, a Negro businesswoman who was allegedly wealthy and not a "progressive." Some of the Miami Party members held the view that because Mrs. RANGE was a rich banker and not a "progressive," she should not be supported just because she is a Negro. However, the majority of Party members held that according to Party policy, she should have been supported even though not a "progressive." FLA

JAMES JACKSON was highly in favor of the position of the majority of Miami Communist Party members and urged that this position be strongly upheld.

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT was especially bitter about the reported cases of objecting to working under Negro leaders and called for a most penetrating treatment of the entire situation.

WILLIAM PATTERSON gave examples of the rise of the existing forms of white chauvinism in Party and outside ranks and said it was noteworthy that this chauvinism came not from the new people but in most cases from old, long-term Party members and the people in the progressive ranks who had been around a long time.

It was decided after a two-hour discussion that the National Secretariat should prepare an answer to the memorandum from the Miami Communist Party; that DANNY RUBIN would deliver this answer when he visits Miami on February 10, 1966, and that the memorandum would be written as a political document for use throughout the Party. Also, HENRY WINSTON was directed to prepare a basic article on this subject for publication in "Political Affairs." This article is intended as a directive for the Party and its supporters concerning this problem. Finally, the Secretariat letter and the WINSTON article will be made the object of a special discussion by the Cleveland District Committee and the Miami City Committee.

"Political Affairs" is self-identified as the theoretical organ of the CPUSA.

growing in the recent period. This was reflected in a number of speeches from Districts as to their activities and experiences. It was also shown in the quality of attendance. Of the approximately 100 people attending this meeting, roughly one-third could be judged as being under thirty years of age, most in their mid-twenties. Formerly, if five of the 100 were under fifty years old, it would have been exceptional. Also, in and around Party gatherings, offices and areas of activity, there was observable an ever-growing number of much younger people than the Party has been accustomed to seeing. (U)

While some of this growth has taken place as a result of consistent and planned work in certain areas, a great deal of it has occurred where people just start out looking for the Party. MICKEY LIMA, in his speech to the National Committee, said he now has four applications in his pocket but does not know what to do with them. He does not want to place them in existing clubs where they will be soured and disillusioned but he has no new appropriate setup to accommodate an influx of new fresh people. (U)

According to GUS HALL, the National Office continues to receive a large number of inquiries and requests for information and literature through the mail. He also said that many people are now speaking to him about joining the Party. He vaguely referred to an "important national mass leader in the civil rights movement, once with us but who left, but who has worked with us cooperatively in some national struggles, who has now asked about the advisability of his joining the Party." According to informant, a pure speculation on his part suggests that BAYARD RUSTIN might be the person HALL was speaking of as RUSTIN fits this category. (U)

Some organizational advance may be expected also as for the first time in some years, there were held a number of specific organizational meetings and discussions and district quotas were firmly allocated and accepted. (U)

In addition, some definite points of concentration have been selected. In Chicago, Illinois, which has limped along for so long with the ill, overburdened JIM WEST, plans are now under way to withdraw JACK KLING from his Freiheit-Jewish work to become an open district functionary. Also, (U)

CONFIDENTIAL

LOU DISKIN, while continuing to operate the Party book store, will become an active Party district functionary. Also, FRANCES GABOW of Philadelphia is being transferred to Chicago to probably function as organizational secretary. (U)

Discussion was heard of plans to create several open Party headquarters in cities where they were long abandoned, and to have as many districts as possible have an "open communist spokesman." The cities of Chicago, Cleveland, Newark and Philadelphia were suggested as being among the first for this project. (U)

According to Organizational Secretary DANNY RUBIN, the Party has need of a great amount of people for many responsible positions in districts but cannot as yet find them. He mentioned that Seattle will now need an open spokesman as BURT NELSON is returning to work as a longshoreman to take advantage of a favorable communist ruling recently by the Supreme Court, that an open leader is needed in Boston, and particularly in Atlanta and Birmingham, which are the two southern concentration points. On November 24, 1965, a meeting of the Cold Springs Club of the Erie County Communist Party (ECCP) was held in North Tonawanda, New York. JOHN MC KENZIE, a member of this club, said that it had recently been formed at the direction of JAMES TORMEY of the New York State Communist Party (CP) headquarters and that the assignment of this club would be to work in the Negro community of Buffalo and also in North Tonawanda, New York.

On November 27, 1965, a meeting of the Cold Springs Club of the ECCP took place in Buffalo, New York. Those who comprised the club attended the meeting and they are JOHN MC KENZIE, Chairman, IVORY MC KENZIE, TONY MASSA, and GLORIA MASSA. JOHN MC KENZIE described the nature of the Negro community of Buffalo. He cautioned about the danger of Party people who permit their CP connections to become publicly known. JOHN MC KENZIE stressed that Party people can do better work in the Negro community if they keep their CP connections hidden.

On December 2, 1965, at a meeting of the Cold Springs Club held at the home of the MASSAs in North Tonawanda, New York, TONY MASSA described what he might be able to do regarding Negro work among certain people of his community in North Tonawanda. It was agreed that this new formed group would meet each week until the members learned each other's manner of operating, until a program was mapped out, after which the members could start branching out on their Party assignments.

JOHN MC KENZIE stressed that they should not mention the CP to people with whom they came in contact.

At a meeting of the Cold Springs Club of the ECCP held December 10, 1965, JOHN MC KENZIE emphasized that members of this club in their work in the Negro community should not act as leaders, but should try to influence the masses and try to get them to do things for the CP. MC KENZIE stated that efforts should be centered around the Negro's needs for jobs and housing. He also mentioned that there may be times when members of this club will have to deny that they are Communists because to admit it would result in their isolation from the Negroes of the Cold Springs area, whom he described as principally members of the middle class.

On December 19, 1965, TONY MASSA had an inter-racial get together at his home in North Tonawanda, New York, for the purpose of carrying out his assignment in the Cold Springs

Club of the ECCP, whereby he is to work in the Negro community. Present were a number of people who had no connections with the CP. The gathering was strictly social in nature and its purpose was to foster Negro-white unity. At no time was there any reference to Communism.

At a meeting of the Cold Springs Club of the ECCP held January 6, 1966, JOHN MC KENZIE said that this club would work as a vanguard among the Negro people, but will make no reference to the CP or anything on the left. The members of this club will not act as spokesmen for the Negro people, but instead will try to plant ideas quietly in the Negro community, hoping that these ideas may some day grow.

WORKERS WORLD PARTY

On April 17, 1959, a source advised that on February 12, 1959, a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group, under the leadership of National Committee member, SAM BALLAN, split from the SWP.

The source stated this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpretation of political events split from the SWP on the grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of LEON TROTSKY and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) periphery - individuals characterized by the minority as petty-bourgeois.

The minority program, according to the source, advocates unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal the building of a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world.

On May 12, 1960, the source advised this minority group had chosen the name Workers World Party.

On May 3, 1965, a second source advised the Workers World Party, which maintains headquarters at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, supports the People's Republic of China in its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

The SWP and the CP have been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

EX 109

6 FEB 21 1966

February 13, 1966

During the course of discussion at the State Board, Communist Party (CP) of Illinois, meeting held on February 13, 1966, in Chicago, Illinois, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, leading functionary of the CP of Illinois, and Chairman of the Negro Commission, CP, USA, indicated he would be going to Cleveland, Ohio, sometime in the future on Negro Commission work and would meet there with HENRY WINSTON and others. The purpose of their meetings in Cleveland would be to discuss various aspects of and developments relating to the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING movement in Chicago and to prepare for a possible similar drive by the KING forces in Cleveland on the question of civil rights, equality, and slums.

GUS HALL, General Secretary, CP, USA, who was also present at this Board meeting, stated that maybe the Party should do as Dr. KING has done and get an apartment in Chicago and move the Negro Commission into it, here, in Chicago. If the Party did this, then the Negro Commission could get behind the KING drive. He reminded those present that they should not forget that the Party has not as yet given up the thought of moving the National Office out of New York to Chicago in order to be near the center of the working class. At the same time, HALL also made it known that the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) would definitely be moving to Chicago and some of the national leadership are scheduled to be in the city during June, 1966. He stated that he personally could see no reason why these leaders who were coming here could not move up their arrival date in order to "pitch in here on the KING movement" and give it all the help possible.

A confidential source advised on January 26, 1966, that beginning on January 15, 1966, and continuing through January 17, 1966, an enlarged meeting of the National Committee, Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), and invited guests, was held in the Laurelton Room of the Hotel Wellington, located at 55th Street and 7th Avenue, New York, New York.

Although this was a meeting of the National Committee, CPUSA, it was designated as a "Political Perspectives Conference."

The meeting was attended by approximately 100 people with representatives from every State and District where the Party has any kind of organization, with the exception of the State of Missouri.

Of the approximately 100 attending, about one third gave the appearance of being under 30 years of age and most of these in their mid twenties. This was a greater proportion of young people than at such meetings in past years.

Only the approximately 35 National Committee members present were allowed to vote on policy matters.

At the beginning of the opening session on January 15, 1966, HENRY WINSTON made an announcement that JOHN ABT, General Counsel of the Party, was invited to sit with the "Conference" during its duration for the purpose of rendering legal advice whenever it might be needed during the discussions.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

REPORT OF GUS HALL

The report by GUS HALL was of three hours duration given with infrequent reference to notes and with a fourth hour devoted to summarizing main points and answering questions. HALL advised as follows:

This National Committee meeting faces the primary task of issuing and authorizing the new Draft Program and of setting the date and sending out the Call for the 18th National Convention. The National Committee meeting also serves to open up the many points of discussion which will play a big part in the National Convention discussions in such a manner as the Party has never had before for depth and understanding.

Issuing the Party program and calling the convention is a reflection of the new political reality facing the Party, that is, it is time to step out and get into things, or as the youths say, to "dig the situation and shake to it."

These times and this reality is also a challenge to the leadership and cadre and whether it can grasp the meaning of this situation and rise to the demands of the reality or be content with frittering away all the great opportunities which the new historical situation presents.

The beginning of all Party thinking and conceptions is that Viet Nam is now the focal point of all world relationships. Viet Nam represents a dialectical confrontation to the two opposing world systems. It is a situation where the forces of world anti-imperialism is in the ascendancy and a great decline and weakening of the world imperialistic system. The very nature of the present situation makes the anti-imperialist forces superior and supreme.

Despite such relationship of forces, there is the contradiction that there exists the ever-present and great danger of war due to the aggressive drive of imperialists for colonial profits and domination.

It is not a situation where the irresistible forces meets an immovable object; the danger of a great disaster is very real. There can be no reliance on atomic parity to prevent it nor on the sanity of the imperialists to desist from it.

The forms of struggle in light of this situation is determined by the relationship of forcesin each given country.

The total United States policy is based on a history of miscalculations. It miscalculated present history and the great social force propelling it and the quality and content of the force of national liberation. It miscalculated the great power and world influence of the socialist world, its ties with anti-imperialist and liberational movements and forces, of the qualitative power resulting from their merger and unity. It miscalculated on how the people of the United States would react to the policies of aggression despite the resounding expression the people dealt to BARRY GOLDWATER. The people have a "crisis of confidence" in the policy and good intentions of the United States Government. Its menagerie of traveling diplomats is another miscalculation, and while giving no sign that it is ready to change course has, by a diplomatic circus masked as "peace", attempted to get what it cannot obtain by outright aggressive war.

The Communist Party should not over simplify and misjudge the quality and depth of the opposition to United States war policies. Many forces are moved into action because of the nature of their own self interest or for self preservation such as the Vatican, United Nations, the Mansfield Report, the SNIC statement, JULIAN BOND in Georgia and others. According to HALL, the Party must look below all current events and see the possibility of very bad developments occurring.

Under cover of the "peace" offensive there is clear evidence of escalation of the war, of bombing Hanoi and even use of poison gas. If further escalated, the use of atomic weapons can be expected. Due to this, the Party must maintain a very flexible policy to assure the greatest flexible ability. The Party may face the need of mobilizing support for all those forces who are for peace and support of Viet Nam, regardless of their type or possible self interest.

The Party should anticipate a strong effort by the ultraright to try and utilize the many frustrations for a vicious jingoistic pro-war drive.

The Party must not take on an oppositional professional role or be negativists on "principle." To do so would find the Party very often not merely occupying parallel positions with the ultraright but many times actually allied on given negative questions. HALL said that the Party cannot have what LENIN called the "itch of youth" to go all out on everything at all times.

The bombing respite in Viet Nam is an example of the danger of the Party not being flexible. He asked whether or not the Party silence on this was such that it may have benumbed itself and the people to the possibility of treachery. He said that the Party did not fully explain to the people why the United States ceased the bombing which many interpret as from the goodness of heart and desire for peace when it was actually for an opposite reason.

The Party must work so as to give the peace forces the deep feeling of victory and be sensitive to things which may cause pessimism or frustrations of people in time of difficulty.

International Communism and anti-imperialist unity is strengthening and consolidating.

Tashkent was a milestone in assuring peace and casting the Soviet Union in a new world role, the effect of which was not lost on millions of people.

He pointed out the many processes of unity which were developing. He said the Tri-Continental Anti-Imperialist Conference in Havana is a major example; the effect and influence of this conference will be spread and deeply felt in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

On the domestic front military aggression is casting a black shadow, bringing forth huge war budgets, inflation, war conditions, high prices and profits and reducing the necessary public works and social services. This is the scene and ground for the 1966 elections where already a massive campaign is under way to condition the people to the "need of sacrifice." Among these "sacrifices" will be the right to protest, to picket, to strike, to demand higher wages, the Anti-Poverty Program and aid to Appalachia.

The Demagogues are using the slogan of "guns and butter" and trying to condition the people to the idea that they cannot afford butter but just the guns. They use threats of inflation to head off demands for higher wages and devise a new and unacceptable role for government where it becomes the arbiter of wages by dictums of "guidelines" and 3½% levels beyond which is unpermissible.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The Party must be oriented to give the fullest attention to this struggle, and it will need initiative and organization to do it. New York has the highest sales tax in the nation of 5% and is still threatening additional taxes. While the people are agitated, they have no specific leadership. This is a job for every Party member and other progressive organizations.

President JOHNSON's blast against trade unions must not go unanswered and the entire labor policy of the Administration must come under heavy challenge and fire.

President JOHNSON spoke of east-west trade but has done nothing to implement it. In the meantime, all kinds of harassments and limitations have been placed against such arrangements which could become one of the best channels to ease tensions and create a basis for peace.

The proposal for a four year term for congressmen is a sign of efforts to create bureaucratic centralization and an issue which people seem the least concerned.

Concerning the Peace Movement, it must be noted that contrary to what has happened in the past when many said a "curse on both houses" or many who solely blamed the Soviet Union for the tenseness and danger to peace, there is today a universal recognition that it is the United States who is the source of aggression, threats and danger. This attests to the correct efforts of the USSR and peace forces.

The vast youth movement is still the spearhead of the present wave of protest.. New segments become involved with a stream of full page advertisements and the formation of Ad Hoc and other committees by scientists, teachers and Catholics. The Women's Strike for Peace continues to expand its activity. A great debate opened up within the Catholic Church and the visit of the Pope to the United States and United Nations is still being felt in igniting the vast Catholic peace sentiment.

A greater number of important Jewish religious figures are also becoming active and vocal.

There is now excellent developments that after so long when all of these varied groups operated alone or singly that major steps have taken place to unify and coordinate their work and struggles into a single central direction.

HALL then discussed the Conference of the National Coordinating Committee to End the War in Viet Nam held in October, 1965, in Washington, D. C., and the anti-war demonstrations during one of its meeting days.

There is now an obvious need for a definite anti-imperialist center of agitation, propaganda and peace efforts. Ad Hoc Committees or efforts in this direction are not enough. The movement has substantially developed to where more is needed than just the existing pacifists, religious and one-issue groupings and such a center can be a most decisive factor in combatting the aggressive direction of United States foreign policy.

HALL said there is also good news in that a movement is under way to establish a strong Veterans Peace Committee and Movement which is headed, he thought, by retired General HUGH HESTER. The Party must fully support this effort.

The peace movement has lacked any trade union and labor base. Everything must be done to see that this is changed. In New York there is in formation a Trade Union Peace Committee. This problem must be explored everywhere with the eventual goal of possible labor unification of such trade union committees into one labor center for peace and against imperialist aggression.

Every Party member must be a fighter for peace, active somehow and somewhere. This condition does not exist at the present time. HALL said that ARNOLD JOHNSON would speak more specifically on this problem.

HALL then went into an extensive talk on the labor and trade union situation, the essence being that the New York transit strike had broken the long spell of class collaboration and reinstituted militancy and better working class policy into the labor movement. It is necessary to carry the lesson of this strike to all labor as an antidote to the business-as-usual and reactionary policies of the MEANY AFL-CIO leadership. HALL said that the Party must make a sharp break with all of its past habits and practices and that the working class, the labor movement and the trade unions must become the center of all major Party work.

The lack of participation by the working class in the main struggles today, that is, peace and civil rights, endangers the success of all such struggles. Nearly all civil rights struggles and the recent legal victories on down the line stem not from the strength and participation of the organized working class but from other segments in the nation, that is, liberals, church groups and the youth.

HALL said there is now no reason for the Party to hide its head like an ostrich because of "McCarthyism" or onerous legal restrictions. He cited the example of the court ruling in the ARCHIE BROWN case and said that Communists can now be trade union officials if they are elected. He asked why Party members have not been elected and why they are still hiding. He said a great new path is opened up for Party members to once again have the position in labor which they once held in the past.

The Party has also won the fight for Communists to work in industry. The recent decision affecting BERT NELSON in Seattle means he can return to the ranks of labor and work as a longshoreman even though a recognized Communist. Of course, it creates a problem for the Party of finding a replacement for NELSON as a full time Party leader there but for such a victory the Party will take such a problem any time.

HALL said the biggest victory and one which should dispel any remaining reticence of fear concerning the Party's right to exist and function was the decision of the United States Supreme Court invalidating that part of the McCarran Act affecting the Party. HALL said that the members should not mind about the conviction of the Party on another section, that it, too, will be overthrown.

HALL said the Party also won its fight on the passport question which was another step in recognizing that its members are human and citizens. He asked what is deterring the members and said that the only thing holding the members back is themselves, their mentality that lives in yesteryear when in reality it is today with its changing conditions.

The Party has been retarded by intrusion of a middle class influence and ideology. Too many of our comrades have been influenced by such ideology and attitude especially toward the working class and trade unions which explains the Party's isolation from them. The Party cannot get into the trade union movement as new Christopher Columbuses discovering all that is good and all that should be done. The Party does not want to capture the unions or give any such impression; the members must win position and prominence only because they are the best leaders, have the best ideas and do the best work.

The working class and trade union question must become one of top priority. All of the Party's schools, classes and approaches must be restudied and remapped and the Party press, magazines and literature must be re-examined and infused with this new outlook.

The Party has to make trade union unity a central concept, that is, unity embracing the existing labor movement with those expelled from it and functioning independently, the working class together with the Negro people, and the organized with the unorganized through a real and meaningful campaign.

Two special areas need emphasis. The Party must strive to help unite those militant areas such as the teamsters, miners, mill and smelter workers, united electrical, west coast longshoremen, to their rightful place in a united labor movement and help to organize the masses of Negro workers to their rightful place in a united labor movement.

Without such a mobilization of the rank and file and without a strong orientation by the Party to the working class, this class cannot meet and conquer the challenge of automation, cannot win strikes whether economic or political, cannot effect any alliances, electoral or other to advance interests, cannot organize the unorganized and cannot count on playing its leading role in society.

In the labor movement the MEANY-LOVESTONE axis is a open ally of the policies of aggression and miscalculation. They are pliant and willing tools of imperialism and the CIA in the labor movement. The price of the MEANY-LOVESTONE line must be made clear to workers as meaning higher taxes, higher prices, casualties and degradation of Americans before the world.

The Party stand on the labor question must not be that of a fight to replace or oust the leaders. If the Party is critical it must be concrete and also sponsor realistic alternatives to that which it opposes or criticizes. The Party's strength in labor will result from only the extent to which it is rooted in the struggles and best represents the needs of the worker.

HALL then talked about the meaning of the Watts disorders in Los Angeles and described them as a symptom of expanding unrest and large scale struggles over unfulfilled economic and social needs. He said this has national significance since it exists in many area and must be reacted to by CP forces.

Concerning the 1966 elections, he said the general guidelines used during the 1964 campaign are still correct today, and that tactics employed at that time are still valid. He said that the Party recognizes there is some confusion on this question but that a cold or ex-post facto assessment will show its correctness.

The Party's tactics must now, however, reflect the big changes since 1964; the role of the ultraright is not the same nor are the alternatives so limited and similar.

The escalation of the war has swerved the Democratic Party its candidates and supporters into a bad position and as being responsible for a most unpopular war. The Party, like others, confronts serious difficulties with respect to the 1966 elections and what coalitions, and in what form, is best. Nevertheless all forces seem convinced of the necessity of exploring all possibilities for such coalitions within and around the framework of the Democratic Party.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The time is now right to run some Communist candidates for office and every practical possibility must be explored to this end. Red-baiting still exists but often the worst red-baiters are the Party members who bend to it without cause. Red-baiting and the general trend of anti-Communism is not only receding but in many quarters is looked upon as the diversion and shoddy weapons of suspicious elements. While previously the peace forces and groups even held our members at arm's length, it is noted that ARNOLD JOHNSON is openly part of various top national peace coordinating bodies. GIL GREEN has also been welcomed and many people who recently signed documents to exclude Party members have now changed their attitudes.

The Party must break through its self-imposed shell and start with a mass campaign around the Draft Program.

Millions want to know about the Party, what it is, what it believes in and they must be told in a big way. The Party must fight for its rightful place as one of the leading political forces and national movements of this nation.

It is now invisioned that there will be a first run of 50,000 copies of this fundamental document. It will be about 128 pages in paper back edition. It should be launched with a bang by the end of January or no later than mid February. It can serve to help influence the thinking concepts and outlook of millions of Americans. It can give answers and influence the growth of mass movements, of organizations, leading cadres, and of the common people. That is why it should be the first document of our national pre-Convention discussion.

Many comrades have long hibernated and many still long for the old comfortable hibernation. This idea must be done away with. The new status and strength that the Party has can make its members the mass leaders of mass movements. Each member should assess what he has done in each city and each neighborhood, how many people did he recruit and initiate and how many new clubs have been organized. HALL asked whether members have everywhere concretely determined which are the mass agencies where they can take political leadership or win status. Members must utilize every available arm, handle or means of access, call them what you will - fractions or caucuses.

There is a wide and intense interest in what the Party says and what it does. But it is necessary that a critical examination be made. Is the Party part of the issues being argued, does it try to move the matter forward, does it reflect the mood of angry men, of optimism, and the enthusiasm of young people, does the Party analyze and treat contemporary events as they are or as of another day?

The Party face toward the public must be as militants but not crackpots. The press and literature need a new, fresh look and the sales and methods of promotion of all our materials must be thoroughly revamped.

The Party is growing despite its internal and external hindrances. While there is a steady growth it is only a symptom of what the present conditions allow us to really grow. The Party must take a long look at its posture today. It needs new subscribers to its publications, opening up new headquarters and offices and of openly getting into the swim of everything. Now is the time to launch real recruiting drives, refreshen and rebuild, enlarge its circle of cadres, and expand its form of committee work and leadership.

HALL said that this is the outlook in connection with the launching of the Draft Program and preparing a convention to involve at least a thousand people.

The Political Resolution, the Draft Program and the resolutions which will follow on specific subjects now become the basis of our pre-national convention discussion.

At no time during HALL's speech did he make any reference whatever to the Chinese. The only reference made at all at this meeting was a single remark by WILLIAM PATTERSON, who in his speech said "This report is also an effective answer to the line of the Chinese comrades."

Following HALL's speech, some 50 speakers were given ten minutes each to talk about his report.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
DRAFT PROGRAM RESOLUTION

A copy of the Draft Resolution was handed each member of the National Committee to read and make notes and then had to be returned to ARNOLD JOHNSON.

The Draft Resolution reflects a sharp change in the position of the CPUSA on questions of war and peace, on the domestic situation, the attitude toward the present Administration, relations with other forces and suggests several new tactical changes. The Resolution is intended to be the "approach" and the "line." It will be represented as more militant and more revolutionary. It is designed to capitalize upon the great social and political ferment, to set itself at the head of the ferment and movements and to now make a most serious effort to break its long isolation from mass movements. It will try to abandon the many old-fashioned sectarian ways of doing things and thus expand its organizational base and membership and weld around a large peripheral following.

The Resolution states that a socialist America is the goal to be fought for now and not looked upon as a Utopian dream at some future date.

The following general decisions were adopted to launch and make possible this Draft Resolution. It will be a paperback edition of 128 pages entitled "New Program of the Communist Party of the United States" and will appear at the end of January or mid-February, 1966, at the latest. It will strive to answer who Communists are, what they believe, what is their view of and suggested solutions for the problems of mankind, and especially the problems of the American nation and people. Its aim will be to popularize and explain the necessity of the people adopting socialism and moving forward to the establishment of a communist society as the solution to wars, poverty and human misery.

An initial edition of 50,000 copies has already been allocated to each district of the Party to purchase and take specific steps to disseminate. It is supposed that another 50,000 copies can be printed if the first edition is used as directed.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

It will sell for $1.25 retail, 95¢ to commercial discount orders, and provided to Party groups at 25¢ to 30¢ a copy.

It will be serialized in "The Worker." The type will be retained and a mass cheap edition will be run off from this type in newsprint at a later date.

On launching the draft program, a national press release with excerpts will be sent to all news media and commentators and columnists. Review copies will be sent to all major newspapers and magazines, television and radio stations.

A national press conference will be arranged for GUS HALL and all district organizations are directed to set up similar press conferences.

Efforts will be made on a national and local basis to obtain television and radio appearances by Party leaders to discuss and explain the program and the National Office will prepare an extensive advertising campaign providing mats and material to all districts for state and city publicity.

GUS HALL will address a large gathering in New York on February 25, 1966, and all districts were directed to arrange, if possible, similar type affairs.

The National Office will map out a large promotional campaign to get the book received or accepted by local libraries, school and university libraries, university and college social science and other classes and departments.

Local Communist Party (CP) organizations will obtain it directly from New Outlook Publishers, headed by WILLIAM WEINSTONE, who will handle all distributional and financial arrangements for the local groups.

Each individual member of the Party must receive a copy and be responsible for four other copies being sold to non-Party people. This is the so-called French Party System of "five for four" whereby a member disposes of four copies and gets one free for himself from the profit.

The National Office will make a national mailing of 10,000 advertising brochures. Local Parties will receive required amounts of these brochures for mass local mailings. The National Office has requested that information of all such mailings be sent to them in order that they may make a grand tally later.

Local and District groups were directed to make a list of every book store in their area, visit the book stores and attempt to have them order substantial quantities at "reasonable discounts."

A Spanish translation is planned for some time later; however, date and quantity to be published not yet determined.

The National Office is preparing a basic study outline for use by all CP classes and study groups and for discussion purposes by individuals.

Each CP district was directed to prepare a leadership gathering and a public discussion to which a national representative will come and lead their discussion.

A special effort is to be made to have public discussions and public gatherings held when the Draft Program is launched. Also, it is desired to have Party speakers invited to address any kind of organization or meeting on the subject matter of the draft program.

The discussion and attention to be focused upon the Program will be part of the pre-convention discussion in written form in "The Worker," "Political Affairs," and other publications.

During the period before the convention, there will appear at least two tabloid-size printed publications to contain articles and contributions from every Party member.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Concerning financing this ambitious project, each CP District is being allocated a quota of the first 50,000 editions, to be paid for in advance.

The National Office will make a special appeal for funds and "Political Affairs" will also make a special appeal which is estimated to raise $10,000 beyond sales. The remainder must come from the CP Districts and the sales of the book.

It was stressed that the campaign around this Draft Program is one of the Party's most important projects and taken together with the enlarged National Convention in June, is intended to reach many thousands of non-Party people.

"The Worker" is an East Coast communist newspaper.

"Political Affairs" is self-described as the theoretical organ of the CPUSA.

DECISIONS CONCERNING 18TH NATIONAL CONVENTION

The following decisions were adopted during the National Committee meeting:

The Convention has been definitely set for June 23 through June 26, 1966.

Its size has been set at 300 regular delegates, 150 alternate delegates, 200 to 300 "Party guests" and 200 to 300 "non-Party guests."

The question of inviting television and newspaper men to the Convention is still under consideration.

A large mass meeting will be held in conjunction with the Convention; however, whether to hold it at the beginning or the end of the Convention is still undecided. Great latitude is to be allowed on the pre-Convention discussion, with all efforts made to invite participation by non-Communists.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The Convention Call will be issued February 15, 1966.

"The Worker," "Political Affairs," and two issues of a printed bulletin will carry the internal aspects of the pre-convention discussion.

The National Secretariat is authorized to select a number of Commissions to prepare draft amendments for the Constitution and draft resolutions on specific areas of work such as labor, civil rights, peace and youth and publish each when completed.

The National Board shall prepare a full review of its stewardship and work of the Party and transmit it to the CP clubs for discussion.

The final date for presentation of resolutions for action by the Convention is June 10, 1966.

State and District Conventions may convene in May or at the latest, during the early part of June, 1966.

The National Board and Secretariat is authorized to create a Convention Preparations Committee and appropriate subcommittees on registration, housing, public relations, exhibits and decorations. Now working on one or another aspect are DANNY RUBIN, MICHAEL STEIN, JOSEPH BRANDT, HELEN WINTER and RASHEED STOREY.

A committee on Appeals is to be set up consisting of three National Committee members.

The question of inviting fraternal parties, that is, other communist parties, was deferred for further action.

In order to finance the Convention, a three-month dues assessment is levied against each member. As dues are paid on a variable scale, depending on the person's earnings, each member will pay using the same yardstick. If a member now pays $1.00 per month, his assessment will be $3.00 per month, in addition to his present thirteen months dues, $1.00 of which is a permanent assessment for "southern work."

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The following schedule of representation was established:

Each District or State organization shall be entitled to one delegate, regardless of its size. In addition, there shall be one delegate from each District or State for every 20 members, up to the first 100 members, then one delegate for each 30 members from 101 to 300 members, and then one delegate for each 50 members from 301 members onward.

National Committee members may run for and be elected in any district desiring to nominate them. However, if not elected, a delegate will have a voice but no vote at the Convention.

Since the Constitution provides that no one may be a delegate to a National Convention unless he has been a member for a year or qualified for the National Committee unless two years' membership, a referendum was authorized to amend the Constitution to six months as a delegate and one year for National Committee membership. State organizations were recommended to amend for three and six months for delegates to State Conventions and membership on State Committees. This referendum is to encourage the participation of youth delegates and to make possible their legal election to these committees, even though lacking the present requirement for length of Party membership. This referendum must be completed by March 1, 1966.

The foregoing constitutional requirement for delegates was waived for "any new club or district recently organized," and if organized within three months, shall be entitled to representation.

One alternate delegate shall be permitted for each two regular delegates, that is, if a District elects six regular delegates, they may also send three alternate delegates.

In his report at the National Committee meeting, HYMAN LUMER stated that fares and payment for Convention facilities is estimated to cost $30,000 and this excludes per diem and delegate expenses and cost of publishing the two editions of the special Convention Discussion Bulletin.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Each District shall finance its delegation for per diem and personal expenses. CP Districts and Clubs were directed to commence raising money by socials and donations to help meet their expenses.

DRAFT POLITICAL RESOLUTION

At the National Committee Meeting, a Draft Political Resolution was introduced and circulated among National Committee members for reading and for information, but then had to be returned to either ARNOLD JOHNSON or DANNY RUBIN and be "checked out" as returning it. The following is the essence of the report made by HYMAN LUMER on the Political Resolution and the reasons it was not adopted at this time. This Political Resolution was prepared originally as a guide to the future work of the Party and as a basis of policy discussion at this meeting. However, some comrades questioned as to the need for a general resolution now, and wanted a specific resolution reviewing the Party's work and the political situation and used as part of the National Convention discussions.

According to LUMER, this was not possible because the Political Resolution is usually an omnibus-type and a Convention Resolution could not deal with fragments of matters, but should undertake a basic view of the problems of life and society. A convention-type resolution would find it necessary to examine the overall state of general affairs, world relationships, the relative strength of the working class, the Negro people, etc. It would have to fundamentally go into the status and outlook of the Party and draw overall conclusions of Party tasks and other matters.

The issuance of the Political Resolution laps over and is complicated by the issuance of the new Draft Program. The Draft Program and not the resolution is intended as the major focus of our outlook.

Some questions have arisen as to whether or not a Political Resolution would deflect from consideration of the Draft Program, and whether such a resolution would not be superfluous and unnecessary. However, many comrades argue that issuance of the Draft Program should not and does not negate the specific need for a Political Resolution. GUS HALL has stated that the Draft Program is not and should not be considered a resolution, since it deals with basic goals, our main outlook in the years ahead, and a broad sweep of basic perspectives, and total range of policy. Our immediate task, and that of a year or so ahead, needs a resolution to reflect the existing situation and tasks for such a period. HALL thought the Draft Program and Political Resolution were not in contradiction or in competition for attention.

A brief Resolution has been prepared to single out the key issues and subject matters which the Party faces on the road ahead.

The general orientation of this Resolution is as follows:

The 17th National Convention (of 1959) reviewed the new possibilities of mass socialist struggle and the ensuing years saw these processes develop and unfold in the manner then foreseen.

The dialectical contradiction evident at that time is still the backdrop of any policy estimate or analysis today. The key question today is Viet Nam, the fight for peace, and the struggle of the right of nations for self-determination and independence. Although the specific nature of issues is now different than in 1959, when Berlin was the main point of issue, the aggressions of imperialism is still the issue. The economic issues are the same and are much more important.

According to LUMER, this is why the present Political Resolution selects specific aspects of struggle, while considering as still valid the estimate the Party made of world conditions and relationship of forces in the 1959 National Convention Resolution.

LUMER said that some comrades have made a number of criticisms of this Resolution, which take this form:

It shows no excitement, is dull and matter of fact, negative to the civil rights mass struggles and fails in any way to show or feel the vast sweep of this struggle and of the interplay of forces which transformed it from scattered and ineffective protests into a huge mass movement.

It says little about Party gains, and actually tends to minimize them.

It needs a greater elaboration of our basic goals; fails to deal with the question of the nature of Monopoly Capitalism; needs to review the policies of the Party as part of all the recent developments; needs a better and more extensive elaboration of the many complexities of the political situation and Party policies about them, such as the blurring of classes, and the role of classes v e r s u s the differences in monopolist ranks; it does not deal with the international ideological differences (Sino-Soviet dispute); examine the question of the rise or fall of red-baiting influence, the south as being central to the Party's concentration policy, any reference to the Puerto Rican situation, and, except in the briefist manner, a reference to the Draft Program as part of Party policy.

LUMER said these criticisms were being mentioned so that the speakers following him would not use their short speaking time to raise matters which have already been established and are "under consideration."

LUMER said there is one agreed and accepted criticism in the Party Resolution which is being amended in order to express more adequately matters relating to trade unity, the growth within unions of a greater militancy, and the emergence of sharp criticism within the unions of wrong leadership policy.

As there is a feeling among a number of comrades that the Party needs a longer and more specific Political Resolution, one containing a review of Party work which should be launched at the same time as the draft program, the present Draft Resolution is, therefore, being considered as just a basis for such type of resolution, and is not presented to this meeting as conclusive or final.

CADRES AND TRAINING OF LEADERSHIP

HELEN WINTER spoke to the National Committee members in detail on two matters of which she is in charge for the CP, USA, cadres and training of leadership. WINTER called for the establishment of an extensive system of Club training classes on a small and effective level. These classes would train and equip members to act as local and Club leaders, and be able to efficiently handle the maze of internal administrative, organizational, educational, and leadership problems which beset and impede the function of the CP lower machinery. She said it was decided to tackle this matter vigorously in view of the expectation of a great increase in new members who would be lost and then driven away unless the internal machinery is geared to properly absorb them. She pointed out the value of a network of small, local classes, and not to rely on big city-wide educational ventures which have not had good results in the past.

Her second directive was to take up a serious review of all old cadres, examine their capacities, determine their past abilities and areas of work, and carry out a re-deployment of such cadres. She also saw that this kind of examination and review of the cadre force might also reveal many who should not be cadres or may be types the Party should remove.

DIRECTIVES ON YOUTH

The "youth question" was given prominent attention and discussed by several speakers. High priority is being given to the BETTINA APTHEKER letter of November 9, 1965, in which she stated she has been, and is now, a member of the CP, USA, and challenges the "assumption" that there is an international Communist conspiracy, and that Communists are agents of a foreign power.

Plans are under way for a mass distribution among students and communities of this letter, which has been published and is contained in a two-page pamphlet issued by the National Youth Commission, CP, USA.

Also in the leaflet are excerpts from the letter printed in "The Harvard Crimson," October 29, 1965, from the Boston Youth Club of the Communist Party.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

On the back of this leaflet is a questionnaire for those interested in receiving more information on the CP, and/or would like to participate in discussions with the CP and/or would like to join the CP.

The Youth Department of the CP, USA, in a directive to all districts and youth, has listed certain methods and ways of distributing this leaflet, such as handing it to a friend; students from one campus can distribute on another campus; students can distribute leaflets in communities or at gates of industrial plants when the shift changes; Party people working with youth from town #1 can distribute in town #2, while comrades from town #2 are distributing in town #1; day students can distribute at technical schools, night schools, or wherever young people congregate. In some places, it may be possible to have copies of the leaflet displayed on bulletin boards on campuses, or in places where young activists congregate, such as Freedom Houses or Peace Centers.

The directive says that follow-up is essential following distribution. If responses to the questionnaire are mailed to the CP, USA, they will be forwarded to the appropriate geographical area for action. The suggestion is made that if the interest seems genuine, the CP group or club may want to organize contact classes to establish a working basis for determining whatever recruitment is desirable.

DIRECTIVES ON "THE WORKER"

The final circulation figures for "The Worker" at the end of the year showed an increase of 400 new subscribers; however, these gains were offset by a decrease in bundle and newsstand sales, resulting in a total net gain for the year of only 19 new readers. The total circulation for 1965 was 6,363 subscribers, which included 2,860 active subscribers and 3,503 bundle and newsstand sales.

The following major objectives were approved for the 1966 fund and subscription campaign. The annual Fund Drive shall start on February 15, and end June 15. The Fund Drive goal should be a total of $150,000.00, divided as follows:

$85,000.00 to be raised in the General Fund campaign; $50,000.00 to be raised through a Sustaining Fund by the management and editorial leadership; and, $15,000.00 income as a result of increased circulation and advertisement, to be derived from a circulation campaign which shall run parallel with the Fund Drive.

The circulation campaign should last the same period as the Fund Drive, ending on June 15, with an objective of securing 1,000 new subscribers, 1,850 new readers through bundle sales, and 150 new newsstand readers in New York City, for a total increased circulation of 3,000 new readers.

A 100% renewal of approximately 1,000 expired 1964-65 subscriptions.

The Fund Drive and circulation campaign should be conducted uniformly throughout the country, starting on February 15, and ending June 15, and the drive to be concluded simultaneously throughout the country, by the June 15 deadline.

During the weekend of January 22-23, a one-day press conference in each state or district organized by the local press committee, to involve all the friends, supporters and readers of the newspaper.

The Editor and Manager of "The Worker" were authorized to plan a tour and spend an adequate amount of time in the field to help in every way possible the local Press Committees.

The organization of press committees in states where none now exist, and a strengthening of those now in existence, with additional personnel, especially from among youth.

Obtaining a minimum of 500 youth subscribers at a special reduced rate as part of the 3,000 goal of new readers.

According to a letter from JOSEPH BRANDT of "The Worker," requests are continuing from numerous local civil rights groups and organizations in the south, asking for bundles of five and more papers to be sent to them. Also, "The Worker" is widely quoted by readers and activists in the civil rights and peace movement, and is used as a major source for speeches, leaflets, and articles being written in the peace and civil rights movement.

DIRECTIVES ON LITERATURE

National Committee members were directed to take immediate steps to order and have circulated in large quantities the following literature:

The recent pamphlet by GUS HALL entitled, "Communism, Mankind's Broad Horizon," which is his speech to the Humanities Society of Columbia University, and which appeared in the January 2, 1966, issue of "The Worker" under the title, "The Greatest Transition for Mankind."

According to a leaflet from DANNY RUBIN, this pamphlet discusses Viet Nam in relation to the basic issues of self-determination and independence, and in the context of Capitalism. It attacks sharply anti-Communism, and explains the Communist position in the basic issues. It will be helpful to the fight to end the aggression in Viet Nam, and to deepen the understanding and class consciousness of the people.

The first printing by New Outlook Publishers and Distributors, 32 Union Square, East New York, New York, will be 20,000, at 15¢ per copy, but organizations will get it for 5¢, making possible a mass distribution.

A pamphlet by JAMES JACKSON, consisting of two articles, one attacking ROY WILKINS of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and the other on the matter of JULIUS BOND being refused his elected seat in the Georgia Legislature.

A pamphlet by GEORGE MEYERS, consisting of two articles being published on southern conditions.

RE: COMMUNIST PARTY, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A pamphlet, "Rights," October-November, 1965 issue, published by the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, which is also captioned, "Radical Dissent," and contains the speeches of eighteen individuals at a Constitution Day (September 17) teach-in on civil liberties at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in New York City.

"Rights," which is published by the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (ECLC), and the ECLC are characterized in the appendix.

Two publications for the use among trade unionists: a pamphlet by CHARLES R. ALLEN, JR., captioned, "Journey to the Soviet Trade Unions," published by MARZANI and MUNSELL, 100 W. 23rd Street, New York, New York 10011; and, "Labor Today," published in Detroit.

"Labor Today" is characterized in the appendix.

A leaflet captioned, "Repeal Medicare Oath," issued by the Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties (CCCL), 22 E. 17th Street, Room 1525, New York, New York.

The CCCL is characterized in the appendix section.

A leaflet captioned, "Two Lies!", which bears the notation that it was issued by the CP, USA. The two "lies" were claimed to be the statement that the people of South Viet Nam are agents of Hanoi or Peking, and another that "tries to divide and defeat the growing movement for peace by pointing to its 'Communist support'" and repeating the charge of the McCARRAN Act that Communists are agents of a foreign power.

It is considered urgent for the CP, USA, to commence appearing in its own name on the Viet Nam matter, because for so long its work and identity were submerged into general pro-peace and front-type organizations. As part of the Party's decision to now boldly step forward in all areas of activity, the Viet Nam war becomes a central point of attention.

In mid-February, 1966, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised as follows: (U)

Claude Lightfoot, National Vice Chairman and National Negro Commission Chairman, Communist Party (CP), USA, and Chairman of the Illinois CP District, and Henry Winston, also a National CP functionary, while recently meeting with certain Negro American Labor Council (NALC) people in New York City, discussed the possibility that the NALC on the East Coast can possibly play a role in the civil rights movement up and down the Atlantic Seaboard. In this regard, it was learned that Claude Lightfoot is giving consideration that the CP work through the NALC by injecting Dr. Martin Luther King's civil rights program which King has mounted in Chicago along with the Party's civil rights program into the National NALC Convention scheduled for sometime in May of 1966 in Baltimore, Maryland. (U)

To carry out the above objective, Lightfoot was heard to state that he desires Herbert Wright, who is in charge of the Industrial Clubs of the Illinois CP and a member of the practically defunct Chicago NALC Chapter, to go to New York City and while there explain to "our people in the NALC" the civil rights program of King which King is currently undertaking in the Chicago area. In this connection, Wright would also attempt to set up a "caucus" of "our people in the NALC" which caucus group would propose to the NALC Convention a civil rights program for the Atlantic Coast cities based on the programs of King and the CP in the civil rights movement. Lightfoot was also heard to state that the cities of New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore should be target cities for this particular program. (U)

No specific date was set with respect to the aforementioned caucus in New York City; however, the source is of the opinion that such a caucus would take place in the next three or four weeks if it materializes, and that in all probability, Lightfoot and Winston would also be in attendance. (U)

We are writing you the enclosure to a number of friends (so forgive the mimeoing of this note because we believe it will, given a careful reading, deepen one's understanding of the South and encourage participation in the work discussed. The approaches, the techniques, the organization, commented on so informally, can undoubtedly advance, in a very important way, today's many-sided Freedom struggle.

Rev. Claude Williams needs no introduction. His life's work is just now, because of the current ferment in the South, taking on its full, rich meaning. His and his colleagues' needs to expand the work outlined, into every State in the South, requires transportation, food, lodging, typewriters, mimeo machines, and all the other things that go into such a campaign.

So read, and re-read, the enclosure: then, on the basis of your understanding and desire to help, we would ask you to AT ONCE send the most you can afford directly to Rev. Claude Williams, [redacted] Alabama - or, if you prefer, send it to us, address above, and we'll see that he gets the cash. b6 b7C

Unlike all the other important groups working in the South, Claude and his disciples have no national publicity, no national organization, despite the enormous effectiveness of their efforts and despite the urgent need to expand that work. So please consider this too when writing your check.

A SNCC Mississippi Project Director, has put it neatly, and independently of Claude Williams' beliefs, more or less as follows: "The church is the only place that the Negroes can call their own. They would rather have a church than a house; or a Cadillac for the minister than shoes for their own children. And if God can start a Movement, hooray for God."

Yours for Freedom and Peace

THE FOLLOWING IS mimeographed for group discussion at the request of veteran organizers in the South -one with 20 years experience. It is a copy of material sent to Miss Marion S. Davidson and other members of our New York committee (Box 187 Old Chelsea Station, New York N. Y. 10011) as a basis for a Fall report to our friends and supporters. The first item is excerpts from a letter (8/19/ '65) by Bruce Maxwell, a Mississippi Freedom Worker. He speaks of a series of "freedom revivals" which he with local colleagues set up. We refer to this one specific program in the longer letter: not because by it we really brought anything to pass; but as a basis to consider some basic factors which must be recognized and considered before anything can really be brought to pass in the South.

MAXWELL LETTER (excerpts). I have just finished a week of study -my forth- with Claude at his home .....to complete the training I need to further spread freedom revivals and freedom preaching in the Mississippi Delta. Claude sent you a copy of a letter to church leaders in Issaquena and Sharkey counties....an attempt to get the cooperation of churches with the movement. We got eight churches, five of which had never before been involved in the movement. (In the letter) We said the people are afraid to register to vote or to register their child at the "white" school because they would be taking a chance that no one else on their plantation or in their community would do so.....in order to get the people together, we must get the churches together..... Then Claude came. We invited him to do the job we couldn't do.....He spent long hours during the day with preachers, trying to define with them what freedom preaching is. At night he preached the freedom gospel right from the Bible. (At the last of the series, one of the local preachers) Rev. C. C. Smith preached and did an excellent job.....Basically, a freedom revival is this: The preaching of WE.....We all gotta get together to "do the Lord's work". There's no one else to do it and the Lord's not going to do it for us: He never has.....We don't preach heaven, hell or death because these must be done alone and not together.....Unite and do together what we always wanted to do but never had the courage to do, that is, fight against slavery.....ing My job now is to return to Sharkey county and work to defeat the power structure: By enlist- preachers and potential freedom evangelists in this fight and as soon as possible sending them to Claude for more training; by finding churches owned by the people as places for them to preach (Many of the church buildings are boss-owned); and by developing an underground on plantations to get a majority on a plantation to go to register at the same time. .....Claude is toying with the idea of writing freedom Sunday School lessons, using as a workbook the International S.S. quarterlies provided for all churches in rural Mississippi. .....This freedom preaching program is vital to the success of the political movement in Mississippi. We have the black majority in Mississippi to elect 40 out of 122 members to house and 19 out of 52 members to the senate in 1957, not to mention changing the county government in 29 out of 82 black belt counties. We cannot win this battle unless we enlist the masses in numbers we have never had before. We can't do that without trained freedom preachers, without many church buildings and a plantation underground system. Claude's experience and here-and-now Bible interpretations are vital/ this.

Colleagues Marion-Alex, Dick, Jim, et al
New York

I mailed you, previously, a copy of a letter by Bruce Maxwell and Senny Wynn, which announced and briefly stated the purpose of a series of "Freedom Revivals." The enclosed letter by Bruce speaks further of this program. It was an interesting and indigenous approach to the church multitudes which must be reached and enlisted before the job that must be done in the South can be done.

We stated to the people at the outset that a "revival" was not to "convert sinners" or to lead people to believe anything new but rather to lead people to a deeper conviction in what they already believe. So the purpose of this freedom revival is to revive the people who already believe in freedom that we all may act together to get freedom. We explained that other revivals revive people who already believe in religion to help others get religion so they can enjoy heaven after death. But freedom revivals revive people who believe in freedom to help others get freedom so we can all enjoy some heaven (freedom) while we are alive. Our difference here was only in content and purpose, not in procedure or psychology: it was a religious revival.

The services were held in a church; were opened with songs, Bible reading and prayer. A short sermon was preached, relating Bible passages to problems of struggle before us, which at that time were: Getting children enrolled to desegragate the schools before Aug. 15; and registering to vote before Aug. 17. Stating these problems specifically, we asked the people to talk: this was akin to the old "praise meetings" in the early state of revivals to 'lift the glory-bound' feeling. But instead of asking people to "Praise the Lord and tell all the good things" He's done for them, we invited them to make suggestions; as to how we could do these specific jobs the biggest way in the shortest time.

When ready suggestions were made -we did not "drag" the meeting- we "called" for decisions: this was akin to the "mourner's bench", only we did not call for persons to come and give the preacher their hand, kneel down to "get Jesus and salvation." We said here are tables, chairs, pencils and paper. If you believe in freedom and have the conviction and courage to help get it, come here and do what you know God want do for you but that's it's His will you do: Sign up to enroll your child or children in "our school" (no longer "white" school) at this and/or that place -and/or go to the court house and register to vote.

While persons were signing or being helped to sign for these actions, we made another "call": this was akin to enlisting Personal Workers in revivals to go to "sinners", talk with them and even work with them while they are "praying through". Instead, we called for people who would give two hours every day to visiting people on plantations or elsewhere, urging them to action and offering to go with them to school or courthouse if necessary.

In the call for decisions (above) we made this simple and challenging contrast: other revivals call for you to give up things you may be getting fleshly pleasure from -dice, cards, drink, sex. This freedom revival invites you to"give up" things you've hated all your life -long hours, little pay, drudgery, segregation, ignorance: slavery!

People who do not know the South may think this "religious" approach is outmoded, futile, even confusing. At first, most of the freedom workers thought religion should not be mentioned, church services should be avoided and preachers should be ignored, if not opposed. There was merit in this bold, emancipated approach when the boldest minority and the most desperate people were needed to expose the terror and to dramatize the conditions.

But now when that time has past and the multitudes are needed to change the conditions, these same freedom workers are revising their first thoughts. They are coming to realize that being realistic is more than being merely radical. Not only the Bruce Maxwells, but many of the more sectarian-minded colleagues are coming to realize that religion must be considered, that churches must be enlisted and that preachers cannot be ignered. They are finding:

a) That religion is not only a basic factor in the culture of the Negro people but that with them it is also an art;

b) That the multitudes attend church services and revival meetings but only a minority -as yet, an ineffective minority- attend "mass" political meetings or other meetings of struggle. --When we were conducting this series of revival meetings, one each at eight churches in the area, we learned of five revivals being conducted in the same area; probably there were more. This would be normal for almost any community in the black belt during the Summer months;

c) That these pastors and revival specialists are artists in presenting what the masses have come to feel is essentially and wholly their religion: singing, praying, shouting, "getting salvation" and preparing for heaven. --The majority of the people think the struggle for freedom is or may be alright but they do not feel it is religion or any inseperable part of religion.

d) That the most of the regular pastors wittingly or unwittingly support the power structure. Many even preach "proof-text" sermons against the freedom movement, affirming they will have nothing of that "worldly mess" in this church and that neither will they -as preachers of God's Word- personally have anything to do with that "mess". There are more than subtle overtones implying that the mess is the mixing with outsiders, especially whites. Because of the historic content of popular religion, these preachers are disturbingly effective. --As the crisis deepens, we must know that more and more of these artists will be subsidized by the power structure: even trained and directed by that sector (Christian Crusade) which is already screaming that the Negro movement is a revolutionary spearhead of a foreign, materailistic, atheistic ideology.

These are reasons mature local Negro colleagues, including four ordained ministers, with whom Maxwell and I have been working, are reappraising their programs; are struggling to define and to develop a more effective way of reaching and enlisting the deeply religious multitudes of the people -the mass majority of the people. As already stated, these multitudes are not only deeply religious but are members of or are under the influence of churches whose pastors -like most pastors- know little of any gospel other than safety here (especially for themselves) and salvation hereafter. Therefore, any program that will reach this majority and at the same time effectively answer the rantings of these pastors, must be supported by chaptor and verse quotations from the only book they use or know anything about: the Bible.

The religious approach which will enlist these people must consist of more than a casual reference to an isolated passage of Scripture. Its contents must so simply and positively relate the Bible -as a whole- to the freedom movement and its specific phases: that the people will be convinced that the movement is religious and feel it is a* to struggle for its objectives; and that at the same time, it will reveal the lack and the emptiness of the heaven-hell-hallelujah emphasis. That is, to be effective and to do the job that's got to be done, this religious approach must be so realistic and down to earth that it transcends sectarianism, opportunism and dualism -theology, doctrines, etc. /*duty/

Feeling as we do, that an effective religious people's movement must transcend opportunism, secterianism, dualism, etc., I must presume to say we are less than enthusiastic about the Christian Communist movement advertized in 9/4 '65 issue of the Guardian: a) If they have no better or more basic reason for holding that religion and the Bible are pro-people's struggle than, that "God empowered the apostles to perform miracles while they practiced Communism", they have a superficial understanding of religion and the Bible -and by the same token, of communism. b) Christ and Christian are sectarian terms employed by counter-revolutionists to develop an escapist doctrine and movement -dualistic, otherworldly- to defeat the continuous here-and-now people's fight -and opposition movement within institutional Israel-Judah and an international revolutionary movement beyond the boundary lines of Israel-Judah- from Moses, through the prophets-Jonah, and continued by the Son of Man and his apostles. c) Any appeal to miracles is to encourage escape from realism to supernaturalism; is to support those who advise the people to "wait, meekly wait and murmur not" and say,'If you'll just be patient and good, God will change things.' All these are emphases we do not need in the South: in fact are struggling to get away from.

These thoughts are fresh in mind because in our talk Maxwell and I had covered them all but verbatum before they appeared in the ad. I had further stated -perhaps with a lot of rationalization- that I had come to feel that the basic thing Marxism and religion have in common is that neither is dualistic; that Marx never repudiated religion, as such, but rather repudiated and refuted sectarian theology, idealism and other dualistic theories; that Marx with his religious background (non-dualistic mind) put the religion of the prophets and the Son of Man into an equation for the first time: that this or that concept-precept arose from this or that condition-practice and that unless they were related in qualitative change neither had any substance in reality....."Ye cannot add one cubit to your stature by taking thought...but seek, knock, strive, do" (Son of Man). 'Thought without action is dead....Spirit without a body is a spook and the body without spirit is a corpse. It takes bread and gravy to keep them together: and the only way to get bread and gravy is to change the conditions that deny them'. (James 2:14ff)

To define, to hammer out the contents and to develop this more effective approach to the religious masses are reasons Bruce Maxwell (white, [redacted] and Negro colleagues from 15 to 60 years old, have been here for study and had me with them in Miss. for work. This study and work continues -and must continue, viz: During his last visit, Bruce and I recorded on tape what we referred to as a people's interpretation of the people's book: The Bible Underground -the people's struggle against slavery, tyranny and oppression; and The Way of Righteousness -the people's fight for freedom, peace and security. I have transmitted and mailed these tapes for study by field leaders in developing freedom evangelists, freedom Bible teachers and other rank and file freedom workers.

These interpretations are neither orthodox nor scholarly. They identify and emphasize the collective, non-sectarian, here-and-now struggles of the people for freedom and are thereby more relevant -and at least more orthodoz- than the otherworldly sectarianism of the Billy Grahams and the vicious individualism of the Robert Welchs. .....Incidentally, Herbert Aptheker has recently published ONE CONTINUAL CRY: WALKER'S APPEAL, which has a timely and challenging revolutionary Bible content; a dynamic mass appeal. The attacks and counter-attacks of reactionaries make time a factor in enlisting the multitudes.....

At the risk of being tedious, I must illustrate our emphasis in specific phases of this program. When speaking to the multitudes about the "righteousness" of joint action against slavery, we enlist attention by this arresting statement: In this people's Book, the words people and peoples, nation and nations, and world are used 4,794 times. From one end to the other its emphasis is people and peoples as against kings, lords, nobles, priests, or any super-leader. We support this joint action of the people by chapter and verse passage after passage, relating the action to concrete problems. In this connection, we add the arresting ststement, that in the first three gospels (naming them) the Galilean Carpenter refers to himself 69 times and every time, without exception, as the Son of Man; never once as the Christ or any super-leader. He was a worker; was one with the people in their fight to throw off the yoke of slavery: That's why "the common people heard him gladly." (Mk. 12:37) -----This is an unsophisticated approach. But the people we are enlisting are an unsophisticated people.

Colleague Bruce refers to an "underground system." This system is merely the recognizing, the admitting and the attempt to correct the fact that in this occupied territory, the majority of persons on plantations are not in the freedom movement; will not and cannot openly take part without most probably victimizing themselves by acting alone. Many would like to be in the movement and would be willing to act if even a few other persons on "their" plantation would join them in action: go to register at the same time. Hence the procedure is to find one such person -imaginative and dependable- on a given plantation and suggest that he enlist a second such person; the two agree on a third, but each to see, test and sell this person before bringing him/her with them into the "branch" (a branch of "the vine brought out of Egypt -Ps.80:8); the three agree on a fourth, again seeing him/her alone before bringing him into the branch; likewise the four agreeing on a fifth and the five on a sixth: then the six divide into branches of three each and proceed as before. When not more that a third of fellow slaves are enlisted -that is, wait not for more than a third before acting- they should agree to act jointly on a given issue at a given time, and to so act.

This procedure is certainly not to provide the timid with an excuse not to act, nor yet to leave the courageous without an excuse to act; but rather to suggest a way in which both the timid and the courageous may act by acting together. The Scriptural thought-form for this procedure is that it is the Bible Underground in which members obey these admonitions: "Let not the left hand know what the right hand doeth"(Mt.6:3, 4); "Be ye wise as serpents and harmless as doves"(Mt.10:16); and 'So speak of the truth in darkness that that which is whispered from mouth to ear in the closets may be proclaimed from the housetops'.(Lk 12: 2,3) -again this is unsophisticated, but realistic.

Again the people are restrained and suppressed in and by their own churches. One prong of this underground is to work within such churches: a) To open pulpits to freedom evangelists on vacant Sundays -there usually is one or more such each month; b) To enlist the churches to take freedom action as a group. The procedure here is to find a deacon who is an ally and suggest that he find another and proceed as suggested for plantations -first among the deacons as such and then among the members. A passage we use in support of this objective is where the Son of Man "Asked his disciples, saying: Whom do men say that I the Son of Man am? And they said, Some say John the Baptist, others say, Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets.....And he said, Upon this rock"(that is, upon this movement for freedom, represented by these horny-handed, flint-faced leaders) 'will I build this struggle' "and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it"(Mt.16:13f)

We explain to the deacons, the freedom evangelists and to others that this passage has come to be read in reverse; read to say the opposite of what it says: read to say the church will withstand the attacks of evil forces. It says just the opposite: that the evil forces cannot withstand the sustained attack of the people; that it is the people who are to do the attacking; that it is the people who are to open the school doors which are now closed by evil forces; that the people attacking as a group are to open the political polls, closed to them by evil forces; that it is the people who are to attack the bars of discrimination and shatter the walls of oppression: and any group that is not so attacking these evil forces is not a church. It may be a club or a storm shelter but it is not a church. That this is the correct interpretation of this passage is affirmed by the Son of Man's own militant words: Go, Do, Knock, Strive, enter, Compel! ---As we have thus spoken to mass groups, there have been shouts of, "Amen!" That's right", "We've never heard it on this order!"

Another purpose of the work within the church as such, is to kindle a fire under the pastors, some of whom as stated preach against the movement. These support the power structure directly. Others excuse themselves, saying that if they spoke in favor of the movement, some one would "tell the white man": Those support the power structure indirectly by letting "Uncle Toms" and the anties set their standards and tell them what and what not to preach. Both types collect 35-40 dollars a sermon from people who chop cotton ten hours a day for $3.50 without a word in support of the Freedom Labor Union or of any other effort to improve the conditions of the people who feed them.

The objective of this effort is not to remove the pastor. The people need the church(at least, for a place to meet). The church must have a pastor. Another pastor would probably be no better than the present one. Neither is the object to enlist the pastor into the movement. He's not needed or wanted until he proves his understanding and courage. But as pastor he can and should say to his people, This freedom movement is right. We need it. Get in it and fight for freedom, for bread, health, shelter and raiment. So we say to the people, Attend your church. Hear your pastor. Go up and give him your hand: But unless he's said something for freedom, don't have a half-dollar in it. Cut off the gravy-train. He'll learn quick.

A passage we use to drive these points home is where the Son of Man asked Peter three times, saying, "Simon, son of John, lovest thou me?" Each time Peter answered, "Yea, Lord, thou knowest I love you;" to which each time the Son of Man said, "Feed my sheep." (John 21:15-17). Peter was told to act, to do something: to feed the sheep. A shepherd's responsibility is to feed the sheep. But these pastors have reversed this: they're asking the sheep to feed them. And if we continue to do it, without them helping us to better feed ourselves, we are indeed a bunch of sheep. -To this, "Amens" all a round.

In all this we, of course, are speaking in symbols. But these symbols are categories of quality reference to the people. It is easy, therefore, to put a positive content into them, which replaces the negative content. This is why this religious approach is so important. Religious convictions, being quality convictions, are rooted in the deepest self. This self may be an immature, uninformed, undisciplined and negative self: here we have the superstitious, the fanatic, the bigot and the vicious. But this self may be a mature, informed, disciplined self: here we have the dedicated, sacrificing, courageous revolutionary zealot. A war is on between the two. It cannot be won by wish or fiat. Reactionaries are not attempting to so win it. We must not.

There is more to be done in the South; there is further to go and the problems are more complex than many new comers at first realized. Religion -- religion as interpreted and directed in its present institutional set-up-- is the weightiest chain on the people. At the same time, and related to this fact, religion is potentially the most immediate, dynamic and thoroughgoing revolutionary force in the South. Not to recognize these facts and relate to them is to neither understand the breadth and depth of the problem nor to use the resources at hand in solving it.

Our work in Mississippi has been with and in support of the programs of the Freedom Democratic Party, the Freedom Labor Union, school boycotts last Spring and school integration enrollments during the Summer. The latter was the 'burden' of our Freedom Revivals. Revivals are a phenomenon of the Summer months only, especially in the rural South. But literally millions of people meet at the churches at least once each week: Sunday Schools for example throughout the year.

A phase of our continuing work will be Freedom Institutes in Bessemer, Ala., where we will bring leaders and potential leaders from representative communities in Mississippi: Greenwood, Greenville, Indianola, Glen Allen, Rolling Fork, etc. Here we will train indigenous leaders -freedom preachers, freedom Bible teachers, freedom Sunday School teachers and other rank and file leaders- how to talk freedom both to youth and to grown-ups who habitually meet each week to talk about "right and wrong, good and evil." Only these leaders will talk of such in the concrete instead of the abstract. Our effort, needless to say, is not merely to teach people how to relate the Bible to the "class struggle" but to develop revolutionary rank and file leaders who can speak to the multitudes in their "own tongue" about any basic issue of the struggle.

Our first institute is being planned for the week end of Oct 15: tentatively at the hall of the Bessemer Voters League, with which group I've had the privilege of working for some four years. We can pay the gas-oil car expenses of 20 persons from Mississippi, sandwich and bed them for less energy and almost as little cost as it would take for me to go to Mississippi and personally visit these several places. After one or two institutes these leaders, being carefully selected, may themselves develop local leaders. To this end I passed on a hand-operated mimeograph machine when four freedom workers -two Negro and two white- left here last Sunday.

..... Yes, the secretary of the Voters League, Mrs. Helen Cooley, said several persons from the league probably will take part in the coming institute. Incidentally, while talking with her, she was very enthusiastic about the August response of the people to register to vote: "Lines over a mile long," she said -200, 300 and 400 on successive days. Federal registrars were not called in. This is the result of local work previously done.....

I am also looking forward to the possibility of sitting in, this Fall and Winter, on the meetings of the white ministers' association of "Greater Birmingham". I am again an ordained minister, through the graciousness of the Hartford Baptist Church(Detroit), a member of the Progressive Baptist Association, which is predominantly Negro in membership. Dr. Charles A. Hill, pastor of the Hartford Avenue church, suggested that the church might designate me to represent them in some specific way in the South. I am presuming to suggest that I be named as a freedom evangelist to preach the Gospel of the Kingdom in "Dixie." The title Evangelist should permit me a seat and voice -if not a vote- in this elite Birmingham body. If they deny me such, it will reveal a sectarianism more superficial than their racism. I covet the opportunity of bearding the lion by saying to these white brethren some of the things I've been saying to the multitudes in Mississippi.

Reference is also made to Miami airtel to Bureau, 2/3/66, enclosing a letterhead memo setting forth information furnished by [redacted] This LHM reported WINSTON as stating that white chauvinism on the part of several prominent and influential white communists and "progressives" in Cleveland was a factor in the defeat of a negro candidate for mayor in Cleveland. WINSTON was to write an article for "Political Affairs" on this (and other) issues, which article was to be the basis for a special discussion by the Cleveland District Committee. Numerous informants of the Cleveland Office have reported that WILLIAM PATTERSON is coming to Cleveland on either March 5 or 6, 1966, and staying here until 3/11/66. The only information obtained to date from Cleveland informants concerning the purpose of PATTERSON's visit is to renew old acquaintances.

These same informants report that WINSTON and LIGHTFOOT are coming to Cleveland on 3/11/66, and will stay here until either 3/12 or 13/66.

At a meeting of the Citizens for Constitutional Rights, on 2/17/66, it was reported that their visit to Cleveland is sponsored by "The Worker", and the purpose of the visit is to raise funds for and increase the circulation of "The Worker." However, at a Citizens for Constitutional Rights meeting held 2/24/66, it was reported that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT would speak on 3/11/66, at Cory Methodist Church, Cleveland, on the subject "Africa - Asia and the Freedom Movement in the USA." Informants have reported, and [redacted] confirmed on 3/1/66, that the only known meeting scheduled to date is this meeting at Cory Methodist Church, and that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT will be the only speaker. It is hoped that radio and TV programs can be arranged for both LIGHTFOOT and WINSTON. [redacted] stated that at no time has there been any mention of the name of MARTIN LUTHER KING. b7D

[redacted] reported on 2/23/66, that during the course of a discussion with ANTHONY KRCHMAREK that date, KRCHMAREK stated that HENRY WINSTON and CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT will come to Cleveland on 3/11/66, the purpose of their coming being to involve the negro to a greater degree in the general CP movement.

The Bureau, New York, and Chicago will be kept advised of the activities of PATTERSON, WINSTON, and LIGHTFOOT while they are in the Cleveland area.

Re: Communist Influence in Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on March 1, 1966, which disclosed that Stanley Levison and his brother, Roy Bennett, were in contact on that date. According to the information furnished by the source, the following transpired:

First of all, Bennett wanted a report on Martin Luther King's (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC) efforts to eradicate slum conditions in Chicago. Levison told him that results were quite sensational. He said "they" have 168 Organizations united including all civil rights organizations.

Bennett then inquired if "they" (King's SCLC) were going to take a position in the elections in Chicago. Levison said he had discussed the matter with King and that King was of the opinion "they" could defeat United States Representative William Dawson. The "Dawson machine", Levison said, supports the "Daley machine" (Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago). King, according to Levison, feels that Al Raby, the President of the Chicago Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, could defeat Dawson. Raby, however, is reluctant to get involved because he is afraid people would think he got into the civil rights movement in Chicago solely for personal political gain. Levison said he told King that "they" should get involved in the political issue, or if not, to have a very serious discussion in that regard. II

Internal Security - C

The next issue discussed was the probable United States Senate race between Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois and Charles Percy (the defeated Illinois Gubernatorial candidate). Bennett, in this regard, wondered if the civil rights groups in Chicago would have any sympathy with a movement which would attempt to defeat Douglas because of his position on Vietnam, (his support of the Administration's position). Levison said he did not think so, but added, however, that he would be going to Chicago next week (March 7-12, 1966), therefore, would try to find out from "them" (King and the SCLC).

Both agreed that Douglas has a very good record on civil rights, and that to support a protest candidate to defeat him could be embarrassing to the civil rights forces.

Levison next referred to the recent act by King Southern Christian Leadership whereby he took over an apartment house in Chicago and announced that he would collect the rents and apply them to remodel the place. Levison said he disagreed with the act and had called Andrew Young (Executive Director of the SCLC) and asked why they had not used the legal resources available to them. Young, according to Levison, said it would have taken too long. Young said they wanted to do the act illegally, and in fact, had enjoyed it. He said they had desired to be jailed for furnishing heat for people with children. Levison said he told Young that it was a good idea and a good "battle cry", adding, however, that it had not turned out favorably (in the papers). Young concurred, but said they could not afford to make such an admission because if they did, Mayor Daley would have them jailed. Levison said he told Young that they had better go ahead and make a statement as to what their purpose was, so that the people in the country would know what their objective really was. Otherwise, Levison said, "they" (the SCLC) looked like a gang of anarchists in that they took over private property.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA) in July, 1963. ~~SU~~ IT, N.Y.

Re: Communist Influence in Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. His differences, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. (U)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on July 16, 1963, that as of that date, Roy Bennett was a secret member of the CPUSA.

STANLEY LEVISON

A confidential source advised in April, 1964, that STANLEY LEVISON was a secret member of the Communist Party (CP), USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. LEVISON was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position in civil rights. LEVISON's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. (U)

Re: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS - INTERNAL SECURITY - C

A source advised on March 2, 1966, that at a meeting of the Miami Communist Party (CP) City Committee held on February 25, 1966, a letter was read from HENRY WINSTON which concerned the Negro question. WINSTON is a member of the CP, USA, National Committee, and on the CP, USA, National Negro Commission, and a spokesman for the Party on Negro matters.

The letter from WINSTON resulted from a request for advice by the Miami CP, which was having a serious dispute over whether the Miami Party should have supported Mrs. ATHALIE RANGE, a Negro businesswoman who was seeking election to the Miami, Florida, City Commission, in December, 1965. Mrs. RANGE was alleged to be a rich banker and owner of several other businesses, and was not considered a "progressive." The dispute arose over whether Mrs. RANGE should have been supported just because she was a Negro. The majority of the Miami City Committee members felt that a proper Party understanding of the Negro in today's movements and the correct Marxist position would show that Mrs. RANGE should have received their support.

In his letter, WINSTON stated that the proper Party position would have been unequivocal support of Mrs. RANGE. He said the position of the minority of Miami CP members showed a lack of understanding of the importance of this problem, underestimated the readiness of the masses to support the candidacy of a Negro woman, and indicated a failure to understand the national character of the Negro question. 100-442529-1706 as a whole, should be concerned, is the struggle for political power. He said that recently, a whole series of conferences dealing with this subject have taken place throughout the United States. He said the Negro people feel that in the fight for full equality, the struggle for political power is one of their more important weapons, and that Communists in the United States are in accord with this decision. In fact, one of the three primary slogans of the CP, USA, is the struggle for first-class citizenship. He said the fight for political power will become more and more important in the fight to bring about political equality for the Negro people.

In describing the problem in this regard, WINSTON said that until several weeks ago, there was not a Negro in the Cabinet, no Negroes on the Supreme Court of the United States, no Negroes in the Senate, and only six Negroes in the House of Representatives. There are no Negro governors or lieutenant-governors, and only one Negro Attorney-General. There is only a token number of Negroes in state legislatures. Throughout the United States, there are only two Negro mayors, at Springfield, Ohio, and Mount Bayou, Mississippi. The number of Negro councilmen throughout the United States does not correspond at all to an extent which would give equal representation.

According to WINSTON, there exists a tremendous problem in terms of elective and appointive office, and this situation is a real indictment of United States capitalism.

This struggle develops in numerous ways and forms. A position taken by some, an anti-white position, is that Harlem should become a self-contained unit, and all white people would be removed, and political power placed only in the hands of Negroes. He said this is an unsound way to approach the correct struggle for power, and that the fight for political power must be based on unity of Negro and white people on the basis of advancing that struggle to the point where the struggle against inequality can develop on all fronts.

In this regard, WINSTON said that in Mississippi, the Freedom Democratic Party, with a membership of about 25,000, and existing within forty of the eighty-two counties of that state, is fighting for official recognition as the dominant party in that state. This is a new development which grew out of a specific situation in Mississippi, and is the form in which the struggle for political power, when properly understood, is being developed in that state.

WINSTON said that the essence of this struggle is for representative government, and this means the election of Negroes to political office in which an appeal is made to all those who believe in a democratic government. This means that in areas where is a Negro minority, the right to be elected to office; in areas where there is a Negro majority, the right to share the leadership with the white people; and in some other cases, the election of a majority of Negroes representing all people.

In this fight, it will be necessary to include the organizations of voters' leagues, democratic parties, improvement associations, and numerous other forms.

WINSTON concluded by stating that it is a measure of the thinking and understanding of all Progressives as to how to defend the best national interests of the United States, the individual states, and the counties and cities.

This letter was well received by the members of the Miami City Committee, with the major exception of MORRIS ROHINSKY, who is Chairman of the Miami CP. He said he still disagreed with this position as taken by WINSTON, and that the National Office does not understand mass work and particularly, Party work in the South, which is different than anywhere else in the United States. The WINSTON letter will be the subject of further discussions in each of the CP Clubs in Miami.

There was some talk among those CP members who were in complete agreement with WINSTON that in view of the anti-Party attitude of ROHINSKY on the Negro question, an attempt will be made to ease him out as Chairman of the Miami CP.

RE: VISIT OF HENRY WINSTON, WILLIAM PATTERSON AND CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT TO CLEVELAND IN EFFORT TO INFLUENCE THE NEGRO PEOPLE - MARCH, 1966

CV T-1 advised on March 10, 1966, that a social gathering was held for WILLIAM PATTERSON on March 9, 1966, at the home of FRIEDA KATZ. At this gatering PATTERSON stated that he was in Cleveland to renew old acquaintances, and to make new acquaintances. He stated that he had already seen Reverend JOHN T. WEEDEN, of Saint Timothy's Missionary Baptist Church, on two occasions, twenty persons being present on the first occasion and forty persons present on the second occasion. He advised that he would like to meet once more with Reverend WEEDEN, with PHILIP BART being present. Both KATZ and BART requested that an effort be made to also arrange an appointment for BART and PATTERSON to meet with BERNARD MANDEL, for as BART said, "I understand that Dr. MANDEL knows of and understands more about poverty in Cleveland than anyone else, especially in the Hough area (Negro area in Cleveland)." PATTERSON at this point commented on the wonderful job MARTIN LUTHER KING did in the Chicago slums, and stated that the Communist Party is doing all it can in the Negro struggle for civil rights. At this social gathering on March 9, 1966, PATTERSON and several others took steps in an attempt to influence one of the Negroes present to join the CP.

FRIEDA KATZ - CV T-5 advised on February 10, 1966, that FRIEDA KATZ was present at a meeting of the Ohio CP State Committee, held in Cleveland, Ohio, on February 6, 1966.

PHILIP BART - CV T-5 advised on February 10, 1966, that PHILIP BART is Chairman of the Ohio CP.

BERNARD MANDEL - JOHN VICTOR BLANC, a former member of the CP who testified on behalf of the U.S. Government, advised on June 30, 1946, that BERNARD MANDEL's name appeared at that time among the records of the Cuyahoga County CP Membership Director as being a member of the CP Euclid Club, with CP Book Number 88987.

CV T-1 advised on October 31, 1963, that on October 27, 1963, the first of a series of six Sunday night lectures, conducted by BERNARD MANDEL and sponsored by the Socialist Workers Party (SWP), was held at SWP Hall in Cleveland, Ohio.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

RE: VISIT OF HENRY WINSTON, WILLIAM PATTERSON AND CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT TO CLEVELAND IN EFFORT TO INFLUENCE THE NEGRO PEOPLE - MARCH, 1966

CV T-6 advised on March 11, 1966, that on that date WILLIAM PATTERSON commented that during his visit to Cleveland he had met with both WILLIAM O. WALKER and CHARLES LOEB, both Negroes. (WILLIAM O. WALKER is publisher of the weekly Cleveland Negro newspaper, "The Call-Post," and is also a member of the Industrial Relations Board of the State of Ohio. CHARLES LOEB is a member of the Cleveland City Transit Board.) PATTERSON stated that he felt that LOEB had a sympathetic ear for the Negroes in the civil rights movement. Concerning his interview with WALKER, PATTERSON indicated that WALKER was friendly, but PATTERSON did not give any indication that his talk with WALKER had been productive, from PATTERSON's point of view. PATTERSON also stated that he had talked with RUTH TURNER, Executive Secretary of Cleveland Committee on Racial Equality. He stated that TURNER was disillusioned with both the communist movement and with the labor movement. She felt that all the 'radical movement' does is talk, and she was not sympathetic to it.

CV T-6 stated that the reason for PATTERSON's visit to Cleveland is to try and get more Negro participation in the communist movement.

Sergeant JOHN UNGVARY, of the Cleveland Police Department, advised that he had learned from one of his sources that PATTERSON had been to visit RUTH TURNER. PATTERSON told this source that RUTH TURNER felt the communist movement was only trying to use the Negroes and that she was not at all sympathetic to him or his views.

CV T-1 advised on March 4, 1966, that a meeting was held in Cleveland on March 3, 1966, presided over by local CP leaders, for the purpose of preparing for CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT's speaking engagement in Cleveland on March 11, 1966. A mailing of 140 pieces of literature, announcing this March 11, 1966 meeting was made and an additional 60 pieces of literature are to be mailed later. This mailing included a notice stating in part that 'CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, from Chicago, will lecture on AFRICA-ASIA AND THE FREEDOM MOVEMENT IN THE USA.---His topic is closely tied to the growing peace movement in our country and most directly towards ending the war in Viet Nam. His lecture will be of great interest to the progressive people in our community.'

CONFIDENTIAL

RE: VISIT OF HENRY WINSTON, WILLIAM PATTERSON AND CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT TO CLEVELAND IN EFFORT TO INFLUENCE THE NEGRO PEOPLE - MARCH, 1966

CV T-1 advised on March 15, 1966, that in addition to the mailing of these notices, throwaways were also prepared announcing this LIGHTFOOT lecture. These throwaways were distributed in barber shops, cleaning establishments, etc., in the Negro areas of Cleveland.

CV T-1 advised on March 14, 1966, that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT did speak at Cory Methodist Church, Cleveland, on March 11, 1966, in a room that would accomodate approximately 100 people. There were 35 to 40 persons present, with HENRY CRAWFORD, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, HENRY WINSTON and WILLIAM PATTERSON being on the speakers platform. LIGHTFOOT was the only speaker and he discussed his travels in Africa, Asia, India and the Soviet Union. LIGHTFOOT denounced U.S. foreign policy, especially as it pertains to Africa and Asia; he commented on some of the beautiful hotels in India, where he stayed, and then denounced capitalism as being responsible for the poor, hungry and ill clothed who slept in the streets outside these hotels; he praised communism for the good things in Africa and India; he stated that the United States should let the people in Africa and in Asia decide for themselves whether communism or capitalism is best for them; and he stated that unless the United States changes its foreign policy, it will, in a decade or two, be reduced to a fourth or fifth rate power.

HENRY CRAWFORD - CV T-5 advised on February 10, 1966, that HENRY CRAWFORD was present at an Ohio CP State Committee meeting held at Cleveland, Ohio, on February 6, 1966.

CV T-1 noted that PHILIP BART, FRIEDA KATZ, HENRY CRAWFORD and a number of others had spend considerable time and effort in planning this LIGHTFOOT meeting, the main purpose of which was to influence the Negro people, but that of the estimated 35 to 40 persons present, not more than 6 or 7 were Negroes, exclusive of the four Negroes on the speaking platform. CV T-1 stated that this was the only public meeting at which LIGHTFOOT, PATTERSON and WINSTON appeared, and neither PATTERSON nor WINSTON spoke.

RE: VISIT OF HENRY WINSTON, WILLIAM PATTERSON AND CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT TO CLEVELAND IN EFFORT TO INFLUENCE THE NEGRO PEOPLE - MARCH, 1966

CV T-6 advised on March 11, 1966, that LIGHTFOOT's talk was really a travelogue of his experiences in Africa and India and he made no bones about being a communist and being a spokesman for the Communist Party. CV T-6 pointed out that despite weeks of preparation, only 35 persons were present at this meeting, two thirds of whom were white. CV T-6 stated that most of those present were the same old party people who have attended CP functions for years, and if these old timers were excluded, there would not have been more than 10 persons present, including 3 Trotskyites.

CV T-6 stated on March 14, 1966, that he had learned from ANTHONY KRCHMAREK that HENRY WINSTON had come to Cleveland for the purpose of contacting the news media, but that an interview with "The Call-Post" was all he accomplished. Source stated that KRCHMAREK was very disappointed in the turnout for the LIGHTFOOT meeting, and commented that it showed a lack of concerted effort and poor planning. He was also disappointed in the small turnout of Negroes, which was the principal purpose of the visit of LIGHTFOOT, WINSTON and PATTERSON to Cleveland.

ANTHONY KRCHMAREK - CV T-6 advised on March 11, 1966, that ANTHONY KRCHMAREK was Chairman of the Ohio CP for many years, prior to PHIL BART coming to Cleveland in March, 1965.

Sergeant JOHN UNGVARY advised on March 14, 1966, that he learned from his source that HENRY WINSTON, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and WILLIAM PATTERSON attended an Ohio CP Board meeting held in Cleveland on Sunday, March 13, 1966. At this meeting there was discussion of the Negro in the trade union movement. There was sharp disagreement among those present, PHIL BART feeling that there should be more Negro representation among the leadership in unions, and one of the Board members being strictly for the best interest of the unions, and expressing the opinion that the Negroes had not progressed in unions because they do not do their part in union work.

On 4/29/65, CLARENCE JONES was in contact with SHIRLEY WRIGHT and asked her to tell HARRY (BELAFONTE) that he would be in the lobby of HARRY's building the following morning to ride out to the airport with him. On 4/30/65, CLARENCE JONES and HARRY BELAFONTE were observed at Kennedy International Airport, NYC.

Indices of the NYO contain no information identifiable with SHIRLEY WRIGHT.

Although there is no information in BELAFONTE's file to substantiate this, it is conceivable, based on the information set out above, that BELAFONTE has a sister named SHIRLEY WRIGHT who was born after his separation from the service.

RACIAL MATTERS

WASH CALVIN HARRIS

A source has advised on December 18, 1965, that CALVIN EVERETT HARRIS, Chairman of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club and a member of the North Central CP Section Committee, was present at a meeting of the North Central CP Section Committee held in Seattle on December 15, 1965.

WASH

At the above meeting, WILL PARRY, Section Chairman, gave a report on the Party concentration policy and Party assignments. With respect to Party assignments, PARRY utilized the example of HARRIS as one who had responded to an assignment to work with the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) and he had, thereafter, made valuable contributions to the Party through this "mass base orientation."

A second source has advised on March 1, 1966, that a meeting of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club was held at Seattle on February 9, 1966. It was announced that Club Chairman, CALVIN HARRIS, had been excused from this meeting for the purpose of attending a CORE meeting held that same evening.

In February, 1966, the Seattle Branch, CORE, announced a "special membership meeting" to be held on February 17, 1966, at the East Side YWCA, Seattle. In this announcement, it was stated that the membership of Seattle CORE and all interested persons were urgently requested to attend this special meeting to discuss and decide on whether they should institute a "School Boycott" for March 31 and April 1 (1966). This announcement stated that negotiations with the school board and school administration to date had resulted in no significant changes, and the schools still had no constructive plans to integrate, even with the legal obstacles to "bussing" removed and the availability of state funds for this purpose. The announcement also states that other organizations are planning to join in this activity.

A third source has advised on February 23, 1966, that the special membership meeting of CORE was held in Seattle on February 17, 1966. The source advised that on the basis of a motion made by CALVIN HARRIS at an earlier CORE meeting, and approved by the CORE Executive Committee, the members were being asked to vote on whether the Seattle School System should be boycotted. The membership voted in favor of this motion.

The second source advised on March 1, 1966, that CALVIN HARRIS attended a meeting of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club held in Seattle on February 23, 1966. HARRIS discussed the Seattle School System issue and announced that he had attended several meetings of people representing various organizations for the purpose of finalizing plans for a proposed two-day student boycott of the Seattle Public Schools. HARRIS stated that these forces had projected action on this issue because they were tired of waiting for favorable action from the school board on integration of the "all white schools."

Appearing hereinafter are selected articles appearing in the Seattle daily press concerning the proposed "boycott" of the Seattle Public Schools on March 31 and April 1, 1966.

Plans Told for School Boycott Here

BY STEVE KENT

Central area Negroes, tired of what they term "dragging of their feet" by the Seattle Public Schools board of directors, have plans well underway for a massive boycott of the schools.

The Negro unrest is based on what they feel is the "do nothing" attitude of the school board toward ending the de facto segregation said to exist in public schools.

Officials of the Congress of Racial Equality (C.O.R.E.), the NAACP Urban League and the Central Area Civil Rights Committee have met several times in the past week to lay the groundwork for the boycott.

If it is effected, the leaders plan to have all children in the Central Area remain away from their classrooms on March 31 and April 1.

"THIS BOYCOTT is not necessary; it is the last thing we want to do," said John T. Cornethan, chairman of the city's C.O.R.E.

"But the school board has not been at all receptive to our suggestions," he added.

Mrs. E. June Smith, president of the Seattle chapter of the NAACP, indicated that the boycott will come as the civil rights leaders' patience wears thin.

"There have been several plans submitted to the school board to end the segregation. I won't say what plan should be implemented, for the board is capable of selecting one.

"I suppose the boycott will be called off if something is done. But any plan will have to spelled out.

"WE WILL NOT go on a promise that something will eventually be done," Mrs. Smith said.

Forbes Bottomly, Seattle Public Schools superintendent, said the proposed boycott would have little effect one way or the other on the school's plan to end the de-facto segregation.

"There are plans to work on these problems. The board has kept this very much in mind, and has been working to provide equal opportunity for all students.

"This boycott isn't necessary, since we are already very much aware of the situation.

"This kind of action will not affect the good judgment of the board," Bottomly said.

THE SUPERINTENDENT spoke out against the idea of the boycott.

"There are certainly more constructive ways for these people to accomplish their ends," he said.

Bottomly said that the boycott would have no adverse affect on any desegregation plans.

"This will not affect the board's desire and ability to move ahead. We have some plans underway now, which will not in any way be changed by this proposed action.

"The board will not and cannot operate under pressure. Any move that is made will be based on the best wisdom and judgment of the members," the educator said.

CORNETHAN did not predict the number of pupils who would be involved in the boycott, but said it would be substantial.

"Last Spring, we conducted a door to door survey in the central area, asking parents if they would be willing to go through with something like this if favorable action wasn't soon received.

"A large number said yes," he added.

Cornethan said the boycott would not be restricted to the central area, but would spill over into "sympathetic outside areas."

The CORE leader echoed Mrs. Smith in saying that numerous suggestions had been made by his group as well as the others, to end the segregation.

"WE HAD HIGH hopes that when the State Attorney General delivered the opinion that state funds could be used for voluntary transfers something would be done.

"But even with that legal opinion, the schools are doing nothing," he said.

Cornethan's 7-year-old son, Michael, participates in the voluntary transfer program.

Cornethan said that the pupils staying out of schools on the two days will be supervised. He said the dates were chosen because they preceded the spring vacation and the education would be least interrupted.

He said another meeting of the participating groups will be held this Friday to finalize plans for the boycott.

"Then we hope all that remains to be done is to notify the people," he said. This will be done by door to door distribution of leaflets, as well as meeting before church and other groups.

The boycott leaders said they would be willing to meet with school officials at any time.

"But I haven't heard anything from them," Mrs. Smith said.

Schools' Racial Problems

By HERB ROBINSON
Associate Editor, The Times

Behind yesterday's statement by Dr. Edward Palmason, School Board president, that he can see "no areas for negotiation" to avert a civil-rights school boycott lies a premise that has been a fundamental part of school policy here for generations.

It is the concept of the neighborhood school, cherished so highly by Seattle parents and educators alike that it has become in effect a community article of faith.

FROM A PRACTICAL standpoint, the neighborhood school as it is known today would have to be all but abandoned in many areas if the demands of the boycott sponsors were to be met.

That is because a workable plan to "integrate the schools within a reasonable period of time" — the stated goal of civil-rights leaders—would have to involve a gerrymandering of neighborhood school-district boundaries and a compulsory redistribution of pupil enrollments so that no classrooms would be racially imbalanced.

There are a variety of approaches that could be taken in the artificial elimination of de facto segregation and some are being tried or are under study in communities elsewhere in the nation.

But virtually all such plans involve some form of compulsory transfers and Seattle school administrators remain adamant in their refusal to arbitrarily upset the traditional neighborhood-school pattern here.

Looking ahead, some educators foresee eventual changes in the neighborhood system involving the shifting of large numbers of pupils to other schools, not for racial reasons, but for specialized instruction. This concept still is far off, however.

THAT IS WHY officials have discounted the likelihood of negotiating with civil-rights spokesmen to head off the boycott scheduled March 31 and April 31. In their view, there is no room for negotiation on this specific issue.

At the same time, the boycott sponsors' secondary demand for a mandatory in-service human-relations training program for all school personnel could be worth some discussion.

Although Supt. Forbes Bottomly has called on school faculties to spend at least one study session this spring examining the effects of racial prejudice on their work as educators, attendance by teachers at other race-relations "workshops" is voluntary at present.

Title: School Boycott

COMMENT: If the boycott does occur as scheduled, there is a possibility only a minimal number of Negro pupils will stay away from class.

There is reason to consider this possibility because of the curious timing of the boycott announcement—it comes in a period when there is no hot issue such as last year's controversial "triad" plan under public debate at the moment — and because the response of Negro parents to even the voluntary-transfer program continues to be only lukewarm.

Although the cost of bus fares has kept some youngsters out of the program, only 400 of the city's 8,600 Negro children transferred into all-white schools this year, 100 fewer than when the program was begun in 1963.

A small turnout for the boycott doubtless would set off endless speculation on the hackneyed theme of whether "the Negro has hurt his own cause." But such discussion would evade the main issue.

The point is that de facto segregation here does exist and that a permanent remedy for the schools' racial problems lies not with the schools alone, but with removal of the economic and social barriers that isolated the Negro community in the first place.

Closure Suit Involves Basic Role of School

By HERB ROBINSON
Associate Editor, The Times

The fundamental issue in the demands for a forcible end to de facto school segregation in Seattle involves a basic conflict of views on the role of the public schools in modern society.

Superficially, the rather spectacular Federal Court lawsuit to be filed shortly seeking closure of five Central Area schools and the two-day classroom boycott scheduled later this month could be regarded as merely new bursts of "demonstration" activity by civil-rights groups.

But the deeper meaning of these maneuvers relates to whether the school system has a duty to provide not only education in the purely academic sense, but to serve also as an instrument of social reform.

The School Board's prevailing policy is to attack social problems resulting from de facto segregation through its specialized compensatory-education and voluntary-transfer programs while at the same time preserving the long-standing concept of the "neighborhood school."

On the other side, those advocating closure of Minor, Leschi, Madrona and Horace Mann Elementary Schools and Washington Junior High and a compulsory city-wide redistribution of their mostly Negro pupils acknowledge such an unorthodox idea would be incompatible with the neightborhood-school tradition.

But they go on to argue that bold steps are called for, if genuine race-relation improvements are to be accomplished.

An articulate proponent of changes in the status quo is Ronald J. Rousseve, a young Negro associate professor in the Seattle University School of Education. Asserting that Negro and white children both would profit from a truly integrated school system, Rousseve said:

"A Negro child virtually isolated in an urban ghetto and engulfed by the spectre of alienation will not be able to compete confidently in the mainstream of American society. Similarly, no Caucasian youngster, sheltered in his suburban neighborhood where he rubs shoulders only with other fair-skinned, scrubbed-face, middle-class children will be prepared to cope with tomorrow's world."

Rousseve believes the present system is producing a "generation of schizophrenics whose textbooks tell them they must come to terms with revolutionary social change in Asia, Africa and Latin America, even though their sheltered existences have taught them to fight change in their own schools, churches and neighborhoods."

In this context, Rousseve contends the schools must furnish sociological as well as "book" learning, a goal that would require wholly integrated classrooms.

Although responsible civil-rights leaders recognize that school administrators here are not blind to the problem, they believe present programs are insufficient.

For their part, school officials understandably are resentful of pressure tactics, such as the threatened boycott, and feel they are being asked to remedy a situation not of their making.

Moreover, so much effort has been expended on compensatory education — in which first-rate teachers and counselors supervise classes for children from substandard cultural backgrounds — that some observers believe better instruction is available in Central Area schools than anywhere else in the city.

The values of this program might be lost in a wholesale mandatory transfer program.

OUTLOOK: The School Board will continue seeking ways of relieving racial pressures, but is unlikely to pursue the radical course of closing Central Area schools and redrawing boundaries of neighborhood school districts.

The lawsuit to compel such action, being prepared by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, is similar to court tests under way in several states, which seek to incorporate de facto segregation within the historic 1954 United States Supreme Court ruling against enforced racial separation in the schools.

A final court decision probably is years away. But that will not deter growing public discussion on the degree to which the schools should provide leadership in solving the most perplexing domestic issue of our time.

Noted Briefly

The Social Security office in Seattle reports it has discovered that a "substantial" number of citizens coming in to sign up for Medicare are eligible for grants under additional federal programs, benefits they did not realize were available. Moral: What you don't know CAN hurt you. . . .

Attorneys for the N. A. A. C. P. have revised their original plans for a lawsuit against the Seattle School Board and the city government. They still intend to press for a court order directing the schools to end segregation. But another section, which would have sought action compelling the City Council to enact an open-housing ordinance, is being abandoned because of legal problems.

Churchmen Back School Boycott

By LANE SMITH
Religion Editor, The Times

The board of directors of the Council of Churches of Greater Seattle has given its support to the school boycott called by civil-rights groups March 31 and April 1.

In a letter signed by the board, the boycott was called "the only form of protest which will bring this issue sharply to the attention of the general public."

THE BOARD also indorsed the "freedom schools" planned by civil - rights groups during the boycott.

The board said it has urged the Seattle School Board to develop and announce a specific plan for integration.

"In doing so, we are mindful of the progress that has been made in the last two or three years, but note also that such efforts have not been sufficient to break down the barriers to full and equal educational opportunities for all," the board said.

"As a consequence, many Negroes lack confidence that the Seattle Board has their real interest at heart . . ."

THE LETTER was written for the board by the Rev. Samuel B. McKinney, council president, and the Rev. Dr. Lemuel Petersen, executive minister.

"We realize that unless Caucasian church members —along with many other citizens — give support for the School Boards of our major metropolitan centers in working out feasible plans for integration, they may some day come under federal legislation, as have the schools in the South, or state legislation, as in Massachusetts, to accomplish such integration," Mr. McKinney and Dr. Petersen cautioned.

The letter said the neighborhood - school concept seems to be a 'sacred cow' in Seattle." It asked whether such a concept "is being used to retard progress toward integration."

CIVIL - RIGHTS organizations have urged support of the boycott because of racially imbalanced enrollments in the central area.

Dr. Petersen and Mr. McKinney said they were hopeful that Caucasian congregations and clergy would support the "freedom schools." The schools will stress Negro history.

"Like other tools of the nonviolent movement, the school boycott is a form of social protest, the letter said.

"It is pretty well conceded that there is little, if any, social progress in this world without protest of some form. Though often controversial—maybe sometimes even nasty and distasteful—such protest seems necessary to move the public and the decision-makers of government, business and other institution to take necessary action.

"Not many people like to become involved in such controversy. However the issues and alternatives seem to indicate that such action is God at work to bring about justice, equality, dignity and opportunity for all. His churches . . ."

Congregation to Study Stand on Racial Issues

A meeting of the congregation of University Unitarian Church has been called for March 28 by the board of trustees to determine if the church as a whole wishes to take a stand regarding the problems of racial imbalance in the Seattle School System.

At its February meeting the Unitarians for Social Justice, a committee of University Unitarian Church, voted to support the school boycott and freedom schools scheduled for March 31 and April 1 by civil rights leaders as a protest against de facto segregation in Seattle public schools.

School Boycott Gets Backing Of Archbishop

In response to many inquiries, the Most Rev. Thomas A. Connolly, archbishop of the Catholic Diocese of Seattle, has announced that "I stand firmly behind" the recent statement of the Catholic Interracial Council supporting the proposed school boycott.

The archbishop's position was made known Tuesday by the Rev. D. Harvey McIntyre, assistant chancellor of the archdiocese.

In its statement on the boycott planned by civil rights groups for March 31 and April 1 to end de facto segregation in the public schools, the council emphasized, in part:

"THERE CAN be no doubt that there is de facto segregation in the schools and also that the school board has resisted any proposal which would substantially reduce racially segregated education. It is our judgment that the gross inequalities of a segregated education fully justify a boycott as an attempt to bring about more equal educational opportunities . . . We encourage our members, as individuals, to take whatever reasonable means they think appropriate to convince the school board to act."

Evans Sees Boycott As 'Unfortunate'

Gov. Dan Evans said Tuesday in Seattle that it is unfortunate that civil rights leaders here feel that a boycott of the schools is necessary to protest de facto segregation in the Seattle Public Schools.

"We'd rather see their efforts and talents working on a solution rather than protesting a problem," he told a press conference on the observation deck of the Space Needle.

"There may be a reason for concern," he said, "but this isn't the way."

THE PRESS conference was held so the governor and Secretary of State A. Ludlow Kramer could tell about their upcoming five-city tour to talk about urban problems.

But newsmen quizzed the governor about several other points before they listened to the tour talk.

He was asked about the failure of the Hanford Atomic Works at Richland to be considered for the possible site for the world's largest atom smasher.

"I am confident that this will not slow expansion in the Hanford area," he said. "I'm a little disappointed that Hanford, with its obvious advantages, was not considered more highly. I imagine there are political considerations."

HE SAID he would contact the state's congressional delegation then plan what action, if any, to take.

"The future of Hanford is all right without this," he said. "We won't be hurt. But we may not grow as rapidly as we would have otherwise."

"Flower funds," which have gotten the attention of the King County grand jury, were condemned by the chief executive.

"They are not a good thing," Evans said. "Abuse of such funds make their existence highly questionable. The flowers they buy with these funds wouldn't be recognized in any florists' shops."

"We live in a relatively unspoiled part of the world where the importance of dealing with today's problems is exceeded only by our obligation to pass on to future generations the opportunity for the same benefits we enjoy."

ON THE question of rapid transit, the governor said he hopes the state can become involved in helping cities with their problems. As a first step, he will ask the 1967 legislature to establish a Department of Transportation.

Meanwhile, on the tour . . .

Kramer, who is the governor's coordinator of urban affairs, outlined a four-point program: (1) working with cities on a day-to-day basis, (2) asking elected officials what problems affect their areas, (3) the meetings in five cities today and Thursday, and (4) the Washington 1976 Conference in Seattle June 3 and 4.

THE URBAN affairs meetings this week will be held today in Bellingham, Yakima and Spokane; Thursday in the Tri-Cities and Vancouver. A similar meeting for the Seattle area will be held some time in May.

"Problems facing the various communities will be submitted to the 1967 legislature," Kramer said.

Of urban problems, the governor said:

"WE HAVE a two-fold problem and a two-fold opportunity. We not only need to find the answer to today's problems, but we also must be able by the end of the century to continue to cope with urbanization in order not to be faced with apparently insoluable dilemmas besetting other parts of the nation.

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

[MM T-1 advised as follows during the period April 11-19, 1966:] X U

The SCLC held a National Board meeting during the period April 11-13, 1966, at the Hampton House Motel and Villas, 4200 Northwest 27th Avenue, Miami, Florida. Sessions were held each day lasting until the early morning hours. The reason for the long sessions was due to the preparation of a Resolution on Viet Nam.

There was general agreement on the substance and contents of the Viet Nam Resolution. However, three men, HENRY H. WACHTEL, STANLEY LEVISON, and Rev. JAMES BEVEL, argued for a stronger statement, particularly the use of stronger language in condemning United States troop participation in Viet Nam.

WACHTEL, LEVISON, and certain others named in this memorandum are characterized in the appendix section of this memorandum.

On April 13, 1966, at approximately 2:00 P.M., MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., held a press conference at the Hampton House Motel and Villas. Representatives from the Miami area newspapers and the national wire services were invited to this press conference.

RE: COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC); COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

Prior to reading the Resolution, KING emphasized that the SCLC remains essentially a civil rights organization. He said that the Resolution does not mean the organization intends to sponsor peace demonstrations or anything of that nature.

The Viet Nam Resolution adopted by the SCLC states that the United States should "seriously examine" the wisdom of prompt withdrawal from Viet Nam and called for the Federal Government to end aid to the military junta against Buddhists, Catholics, and students. The full text of this Resolution is attached to this memorandum.

On April 19, 1966, MM T-1 advised that records of the Hampton House Motel and Villas contained an undated reservations schedule under the caption "SCLC Board Meeting in Miami", which indicated room reservations for those attending the Board meeting. This schedule is as follows:

[MM T-1 advised that all of the above persons occupied the designated rooms except for BAYARD RUSTIN, who did not arrive. It was learned that RUSTIN was supposed to have arrived during the evening of April 13, 1966, in time for the mass meeting on that date. However, he was not observed. Several other individuals who attended the National Board meeting either stayed with friends in the Miami area or at other hotels and motels, names not obtained.

Before an overflow group of approximately 1500 persons at the evening rally on April 13, 1966, KING reiterated statements included in the SCLC Resolution on Viet Nam, said all workers, including migrant workers, should be covered by a $2.00 an hour minimum wage law, and that the United States should spend more money on the poverty program and less on sending a man to the moon. His speech was well received. There were approximately 60 white persons in attendance, the remainder Negro.

HERBERT COULTON from the Atlanta Headquarters of SCLC, presented an affiliate certificate to the Miami Chapter of the SCLC. This presentation was merely a face-saving device as a local chapter has not yet been formed but is expected to be formed in the near future.

RE: COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC); COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

At the rally, it was stated that the SCLC needs money to pay the 300 working members of the organization and that it was hoped at least $5000.00 could be raised at the rally. However, the total amount collected was nearer $2000.00.

KING left Miami at noon on April 14, 1966, for Atlanta where he was to stay overnight and then fly to Chicago to further promote SCLC activity in that city.

STANLEY LEVISON

STANLEY LEVISON was a secret member of the CP, USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. BAYARD RUSTIN

In the "Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, BAYARD RUSTIN is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, RUSTIN is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, RUSTIN gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1, column 2, reported that BAYARD RUSTIN, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

During a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on September 25, 1963, BENJAMIN J. DAVIS remarked that, "RUSTIN calls me constantly--openly". X(u)

RESOLUTION OF THE ANNUAL BOARD MEETING OF THE
SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE AT MIAMI, FLORIDA
APRIL 13, 1966

What has aptly been called "the gangrene of Viet Nam" has in recent weeks made a conflict of confused directions a tragic spectacle. American policy has become imprisoned in the destiny of the military oligarchy. Our men and equipment are revealed to be serving a regime so despised by its own people that in the midst of conflict they are seeking its overthrow. Not only the Vietcong but basic institutions of the South Vietnam society, Buddhists, Catholics and students are expressing contempt for the bankrupt government we have blindly supported and even exalted.

The immorality and tragic absurdity of our position is revealed by the necessity to protect our nationals from the population and army we were told were our cherished allies and toward whom we were benefactors.

Beyond this, the confused war has played havoc with our domestic destinies. Despite feeble protestations to the contrary, the promises of the Great Society top the casualty list of the conflict. The pursuit of widened war has narrowed domestic welfare programs, making the poor, white and Negro, bear the heaviest burdens both at the front and at home.

~~SECRET~~ (U)

VIETNAM RESOLUTION - 2

Another casualty in this war is the principle of dissent. We deplore efforts to characterize opposition to the war as disloyal or traitorous because such attacks on dissent are themselves destructive of our most fundamental democratic traditions.

More important, SCLC as an organization committed to nonviolence must condemn this war on the grounds that war is not the way to solve social problems. Mass murder can never lead to constructive and creative government or to the creation of a democratic society in Vietnam.

We call on our government to:

1. Desist from aiding the military junta against the Buddhists, Catholics and students of Vietnam whose efforts to democratize their government are more in consonance with our traditions than the policy of the military oligarchy. The amazing courage they have displayed in seeking to maintain nonviolent methods of protest deserves our support and sympathy. They are perhaps the first people in history to attempt to secure representative government in the midst of war by peaceful means. If we are true to our own ideals we have no choice but to abandon the military force under such manifestly vigorous popular opposition.

2. The intense expectations and hopes of the neglected poor in the United States must be regarded as a priority more urgent than pursuit of a conflict so rapidly degenerating into a sordid military adventure.

VIETNAM RESOLUTION - 3

The longer we support a war of such dubious national interest, the more deeply do we complicate and postpone colution of our domestic problems.

The longer we support such a war, the more do we strengthen the reactionary elements at home who bar us from social progress and urgently needed reforms.

We urge that our government make a forthright declaration that until a solution is reached, no program for human betterment at home will be sacrificed or curtailed.

3. We believe the moment is now opportune and the need urgent to re-assess our position and seriously examine the wisdom of prompt withdrawel. We further urge that we seriously and sincerely seek free elections and pledge to abide by their results.

We seek an American policy dedicated to peace and resolutely extricated from identification with those who stubbornly proclaim a goal of total military victory using American men and material in so impossible and immoral a pursuit.

Only with this posture shall our nation restore its prestige in a world aghast and alarmed at the ruinous course we now pursue so vigorously and blindly.

(BA T-1 on 2/14/66)

A CP meeting took place at the Chelsea Hotel, 23rd Street and 7th Avenue, New York, New York on February 25, 1966. Seven individuals were present at this meeting, including WILLIAM PATTERSON, HENRY WINSTON, TED BASSETT and JACOB GREEN. PATTERSON and WINSTON are national leaders of the CP; JACOB GREEN is Chairman of the CP of Maryland, as well as a member of the CP National Committee; TED BASSETT is an employee of "The Worker" and a CP member.

"The Worker" is an east coast communist newspaper.

This meeting started with PATTERSON explaining that the group was to discuss the NALC convention, which is to take place in Baltimore in May, 1966. BASSETT then explained that the NALC, during the May, 1966 convention, plans to discuss a number of matters which are of interest to the CP, such as the repeal of Labor Law 14-B, the appointment of a Negro to the AFL-CIO Executive Council, the development of local activities in connection with the war on poverty, a $2.00 per hour minimum wage and an organizational drive in the Southern United States. WINSTON stated that he intended to contact CP Districts throughout the United States and see if it were possible to send CP members to the convention to act as observers and to participate in the workshops and caucuses which will be an important part of the convention. He said that he felt that such activities might have a great effect on the course of the convention.

(BA T-2 on 2/28/66 and 3/1,2/66)

On January 21, 1966, a CP District Board meeting was held at Baltimore, Maryland. CP members present included SAM SCHMERLER, LEE LEWIS, CHARLES JOHNSON, JACOB GREEN and GEORGE MEYERS. GEORGE MEYERS is the Chairman of the CP District, which includes Maryland, Washington, D. C. and Virginia. At this meeting there was a discussion of the problem of open occupancy in the Baltimore area and it was decided that they should prepare a rough draft statement which would set forth the views of the local CP and have it printed up in the form of a leaflet.

At this meeting, LEE LEWIS was asked if he had attended a National Executive meeting of the NALC on January 8, 1966, but LEWIS said he had not. The group continued additional discussion of the open occupancy situation in Baltimore and it was decided that they would write letters to the local newspapers.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. CP, USA

The CP in the Maryland area has exerted no significant influence in racial matters in recent months.

(BA T-2 on 4/18/66)

III. COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. NEGRO AMERICAN LABOR COUNCIL

Current plans of national leaders of the CP to exert influence through the NALC are set forth in Section I of this report.

As of November 24, 1965, LEE LEWIS, liaison officer of the Baltimore Chapter of the NALC, was known to be a current CP member at Baltimore. However, no efforts were being made by the CP leaders in Baltimore to infiltrate, but to influence the Baltimore Chapter of the NALC as of November 24, 1965.

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, on April 21, 1966, made available the following letter:

"April 11, 1966

"To All District Organizers,
" " Negro and Labor Commissions

"Re: Negro Liberation Movement

"In tempo and scope, the Negro liberation movement is increasing at an unprecedented pace. Its political content is deepening and becoming richer. Its relation to national welfare and all problems confronting the American people is becoming clearer. The vitality of political action is more obvious as men, women and youth who yesterday took a hesitant political step are today in the center of struggle. Tomorrow they can become leaders.

"In this we have a grave responsibility. We should contact these heroic Americans. Our knowledge of the nature of the struggle, the real enemy and the imperative necessity for unity in the fight if victories of a lasting character are to be won, can be of immeasurable aid not only to these forces but to all other progressives. This is part of the sharpening ideological battle.

ENCLOSURE

100-442521-1745

"There is no telling where the next outburts of violence may be provoked by reaction. Deep, smoldering anger at their unrestricted persecution is generating hatred against white Americans. Police brutality, state militia, the murderous actions of church bombers, KKK, White Citizens Councils and American nazis, to say nothing of the legal terror of racist courts and government agencies, is calculated to provoke ever sharper reaction, greater hate running in both directions. This is calculated to arrest the growing unity of labor and progressives with the Negro people.

"It is of the utmost necessity to the furtherance of that unity and indispensable solid victories for the American people that resolutions of support from labor, church, all mass and youth organizations reach these courageous fighters for democracy.

"More than moral support is obviously demanded by history. Material support of every character should be forthcoming. It is for us to take this position before all possible gatherings. Committees of aid should be set up.

"It is necessary that resolutions supporting the demands advanced by these Negro leaders go to the President, Senators and Representatives. This does not preclude individual letters. The purpose is to show the interrelationship of national problems of the people and to express unity in struggle.

"The most significant event on the national scene at the moment is that of the evicted Mississippi Delta share-croppers whose spokesmen are now encamped in Lafayette Square opposite the White House in Washington, D. C. Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz has said that 66 percent of the people in the Delta are unemployed and in poverty. For these Americans the war on poverty is a hoax. The war in Vietnam deepens poverty and deprivation here.

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

"Anyone of the big national unions could meet the demands of these American citizens. Nor would such an action release the government from responsibility or from the sharpest criticism. It would indicate, however, who the friends of the Negro citizens are. The role of the trade unions in mobilizing forces for the solution of domestic crises can be clearly portrayed through aid to these victims of the government's utter callousness. Attention should be turned immediately to this issue. Conscious members of all mass organizations should seek to put it on the agenda.

"Letters should go to the press, especially the Negro press which the government through a few concessions is trying to win for its foreign policy.

"This issue demands sharp struggles on the ideological as well as political front. Everyone must be alerted to the possibilities of Negro citizens being provoked to the sharpest forms of militant action this summer. It is necessary that we point out those provocations now and seek to counter them with unity in struggle.

"For the Negro Commission,

"/s/ W. L. Patterson"

The envelope enclosing the above letter was postmarked New York, New York, with return address of 153 Garfield Place, First Floor Left, Brooklyn, New York, 11215.

A second confidential source on January 4, 1966, identified WILLIAM L. PATTERSON as Chairman of the New York District, Communist Party, USA, as of that date.

Requested authorization of [redacted] is to reimburse informant for [redacted] If any expenses are paid by the Communist Party or if expenses are less than anticipated, informant will refund excess.

King and his organization, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) have selected Chicago as its site of the first northern invasionn of the SCLC. Its leaders feel that the future of the SCLC depends to a great extent upon its success in Chicago. The Communist Party has closely and actively followed the current SCLC campaign in Chicago and CP leaders have commented on the weak position and status of the CP in influencing SCLC leadership. CP leaders feel that position of SCLC in going into Chicago is politically sound, however, the SCLC is in need of mass support and the providing of such support should be the concern of CP forces in Chicago. The CP feels it should attempt to get one of its members on the Staff of the SCLC in Chicago and work directly in the SCLC Chicago office, if possible.

CAROL HOOVER

A news item in "The Atlanta Daily World" (an Atlanta, Georgia daily Negro newspaper), dated May 21, 1965, titled "Albany 'Justice' Assailed" datelined Hapeville, Georgia, sets forth information regarding a semi-annual board meeting of the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF) held in Hapeville during the previous weekend. The article reports that Miss CAROL HOOVER, Atlanta, Georgia, an administrative assistant at the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was one of four new members added to the board of SCEF at this meeting.

A characterization of the SCEF is attached hereto.

On August 22, 1964, CAROL HOOVER of SCLC, Atlanta, Georgia, told STANLEY LEVISON she was glad to have seen him at a party the previous Wednesday, according to a confidential source. (U)

She also asked LEVISON for a financial contribution to the campaign fund of DONALD L. HOLLOWELL who was running for Judge of the Superior Court, Atlanta, Georgia. (U)

LEVISON advised HOOVER that in response to her request he had contributed $50. (U)

~~SECRET~~ (U)

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

"The Southern Patriot," a monthly publication, shows that it is published by the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC. (SCEF).

"The Southern Patriot" was cited as an "Organ" of the SOUTHERN CONFERENCE FOR HUMAN WELFARE (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, on the SCHW, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 16, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW changed the name of that organization to the SCEF, and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern people in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals. The amendment was dated April 26, 1946.

A source advised on March 2, 1961, that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, a Communist Party functionary, stated at a meeting of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25, 1961, that the Communist Party is not connected with any progressive movement but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

A second source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party activity in the New Orleans area, advised on June 2, 1965, that during the time the SCHW was in existence, Communist Party (CP) members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated the SCEF is a progressive, liberal organization, which he considers a CP front organization because it has gone along with the Communist Party on certain issues, particularly on the racial question.

On June 2, 1964, the second source advised that in the past he has considered JAMES DOMBROWSKI, the Executive Director of the SCEF, to be a Communist, if not an actual Communist Party member, because he followed Communist principles.

The second source advised on May 27, 1963, that many people who are officials and members of the SCEF, while liberal in their views, are by no means Communists.

CLARENCE JONES is the General Counsel for the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, 15 East 40th Street, New York City.

The Labor Youth League has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The organization was incorporated June 14, 1962.

STANLEY LEVISON (U)

A confidential source advised in April, 1964, that STANLEY LEVISON was a secret member of the Communist Party (CP), USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963 and eafly 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. LEVISON was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position in civil rights. LEVISON's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. (S) (U)

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CP)

1) Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank and file members. (U)

DE T-1 advised on January 27, 1966, that on January 17, 1966, a meeting of "The Volunteers" for "The Worker" was held at 5301 Montclair, Detroit, Michigan. (U)

According to the informant, at this meeting LARRY DAVIS led the discussion which, among other topics, included the local Negro situation and the local police department. DAVIS said that some people want a "stop and frisk" law passed which, according to DAVIS, would give the police more opportunity to harass and intimidate the Negro. DAVIS also commented upon the United States handling of the Cuban refugee problem. He said that while millions of Americans are suffering from poverty, the United States Government is giving $100.00 a month expenses to Cuban families who come to the United States of America and obtain jobs which were formerly held by American Negroes. (U)

A characterization of "The Volunteers" is contained in the appendix hereto.

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist newspaper.

DE T-2 advised on April 27, 1965, that on April 23, 1965, LARRY DAVIS was elected Chairman of the Trade Union Discussion Group, a Michigan District Communist Party (MDCP) club. (U)

DE T-3 advised on March 23, 1966, that on March 17, 1966, a meeting of the MDCP State Board was held at the residence of THOMAS DE WITT DENNIS, JR. in Detroit. (U)

aka Tommy Dennis

According to the informant, discussion at this meeting was led by TOMMY DENNIS and it was brought out that GEORGE CROCKETT, a local Negro attorney, will run for the position of Recorder's Court Judge and also one militant left wing Negro will run for Congress. It was also stated at this meeting that (U)

George W. Crockett, Jr.

Vice Pres. of National Lawyers Guild

the CP platform in Michigan will have "A Negro for Lieutenant Governor on the slate of both major parties". The chances of Negroes being elected to these positions were discussed and MARTIN LUTHER KING and his work for "Our cause in Chicago" was also discussed. The possibility of riots in the future was also mentioned. (U)

DE T-4 advised on July 19, 1965, that THOMAS DE WITT DENNIS, JR. was, as of that date, a member of the National Board, CP, U.S.A. (U)

DE T-5 advised on January 15, 1965, that a National Lawyers Guild (NLG) letter dated October 28, 1964, listed GEORGE W. CROCKETT, JR. as Vice-President of this organization.

CROCKETT is a Detroit lawyer who was one of the defense attorneys during the Smith Act trial of eleven national CP leaders in New York during 1949 and during the Smith Act trial of the six Michigan CP leaders in Detroit in 1953. He was cited for contempt of court during the New York trial and as a result served a four-month prison sentence.

A characterization of the NLG is contained in the appendix hereto.

(B) JOHNSON-FOREST GROUP (JFG)

1) Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank and file members.

The JFG has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

DE T-6 advised on February 28, 1966, that on February 25, 1966, a meeting of the News and Letters Committees (NLC) of the JFG was held at 8751 Grand River, Detroit. At this meeting part of the discussion centered around Communism in this country. Mention was made of the fact that although it is a small party, all Communists are well trained to infiltrate worthwhile groups and work their way (U) into places of authority where they can then begin to dictate policy according to the Communist line. This situation keeps the civil rights leaders on the alert for they know there are those with Communist leanings in their ranks who must be kept in check in order for the civil rights groups to accomplish their main purpose of gaining civil rights for people. According to the informant, those present at this meeting seemed to share the opinion that Communists had infiltrated some civil rights organizations to a certain degree without the leaders of such organizations being aware of what was taking place. Those present thought this to be a deplorable situation which could result in a lack of benefit for the human race as a result of activity of the various freedom movements.

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

A characterization of the NLC is contained in the appendix hereto.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

No information developed.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

(A) CONGRESS OF RACIAL EQUALITY (CORE)

DE T-6 advised on February 10, 1966, (U) that on February 4, 1966, a rally of the Detroit Chapter of CORE was held at the Friedstone Baptist Church, Taylor and Woodrow Wilson Streets, Detroit. Approximately 150 persons attended this affair and among those present, according to the informant, were three individuals who are currently members of the NLC and several other persons who have been present in the past at NLC meetings.

(B) ADULT COMMUNITY MOVEMENT FOR EQUALITY (ACME)

On April 2, 1966, Detective ORVILLE MC GRAW, Special Investigations Bureau, Detroit Police Department, advised that at approximately 3:15 PM on this date a group of about 31 individuals led by ALVIN HARRISON, one of the leaders of ACME, assembled at Chene and Macomb Streets in Detroit and from this area, a group of approximately 26 of these individuals walked to the front of the Detroit Police Department Headquarters, 1300 Beaubien, Detroit, Mich.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

where they picketed and sang "freedom" songs until approximately 6:30 PM. Detective MC GRAW advised their protest concerned the proposed "stop and frisk" legislation which has been pending in the State of Michigan. He said that there was not a petition presented as had been previously indicated concerning this legislation and Michigan State Senator COLEMAN YOUNG, who had been scheduled to appear, was not observed during this demonstration.

According to Detective MC GRAW, the demonstration was peaceful and no arrests were made.

Detective MC GRAW pointed out that ACME is a small local civil rights group somewhat active on the East Side of Detroit which has, in the past, accused the Detroit Police Department of harassment, police brutality, and discrimination against the Negroes.

DE T-7 advised on September 16, 1965, that as of September 13, 1965, COLEMAN YOUNG was a current member of the Freedom Forum Club, MDCP. (U)

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

1. Local CP Plans and Strategy

CV T-1 advised on January 31, 1966, that a meeting of the National Negro Commission of the CP, USA was held in New York City on January 19, 1966, at which HENRY WINSTON said he had heard of a number of instances where certain white comrades are manifesting chauvinistic objections to working under or accepting leadership from Negro comrades, one of the most glaring examples being in Cleveland where the Negro candidate for Mayor lost the election by two thousand votes. WINSTON called attention to the activity of several prominent and influential white communists and "progressives" who opposed the Negro candidate. He said he was convinced that the activities of these persons were sufficientially influential to make the difference between defeat and victory for the Negro candidate.

HENRY WINSTON

CV T-9 advised on August 12 and 13, 1961, that meetings of the National Committee of the CP,USA were held in New York City those dates at which HENRY WINSTON was elected a member of the National Committee, a member of the National Executive Committee and also Vice Chairman of the CP,USA.

CV T-2 advised on February 16, 1966, that on February 15, 1966, ANTHONY KRCHMAREK stated that the CP is interested in getting more Negroes into the CP movement.

ANTHONY KRCHMAREK

CV T-10 advised on March 20, 1965, that at an Ohio CP State Committee meeting held in Cleveland on March 28, 1965, it was announced that ANTHONY KRCHMAREK would be the assistant to PHILIP BART, the new Chairman of the Ohio CP. ANTHONY KRCHMAREK had formerly been Chairman of the Ohio CP.

CV T-3 advised on February 17, 1966, that he had learned that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and HENRY WINSTON were due in Cleveland on March 11-13, 1966, at which time LIGHTFOOT was scheduled to speak. Source stated that efforts are being made to have LIGHTFOOT speak in a Negro church and a special effort will be made to get Negro people to attend.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT

CV T-5 advised on February 15, 1965, that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT is Vice Chairman and a member of the National Committee of the CP,USA, and also Chairman of the Illinois CP District.

CV T-2 advised on March 9, 1966, that he learned from ANTHONY KRCHMAREK that WILLIAM PATTERSON had come to Cleveland a couple of days ago. The purpose of PATTERSON's visit to Cleveland is to get the Negro population more attuned to the aims of the CP and to show that the CP has been fighting for Negro rights for many years. Source stated that the objective is, of course, to bring more Negroes into the Party.

WILLIAM PATTERSON

CV T-11 advised on July 13, 1964, that WILLIAM PATTERSON was at that time Chairman of the New York State District of the CP,USA.

CV T-3 advised on March 10, 1966, that a social gathering was held at the home of FRIEDA KATZ in Cleveland on March 9, 1966, for WILLIAM PATTERSON, at which it was announced that WILLIAM PATTERSON was in Cleveland for the purpose of renewing old acquaintances and making new ones. PATTERSON advised that he had already met on two occasions with Reverend JOHN T. WEEDEN of St. Timothy's Missionary Baptist Church, Cleveland, once with twenty other persons being present and once with forty other persons being present. PATTERSON advised he would like to meet once more with Reverend WEEDEN, with PHIL BART being present. At this gathering FRIEDA KATZ and PHIL BART requested that an effort be made to arrange an appointment for BART and PATTERSON with BERNARD MANDEL, for as BART said, "I understand that Dr. BERNARD MANDEL knows of and understands more about the poverty in Cleveland than anyone else, especially in the Hough area." PATTERSON at this point commented on the successful job that MARTIN LUTHER KING had done in the Chicago slums, and stated that the CP is doing all it can in the Negro struggle for civil rights.

FRIEDA KATZ

CV T-12 advised on March 29, 1965, that FRIEDA KATZ attended a CP State Conference held in Cleveland, Ohio, on March 28, 1965.

PHILIP BART

CV T-10 advised on March 30, 1965, that at a meeting of the Ohio CP State Committee held in Cleveland on March 28, 1965, it was announced that PHILIP BART was the new Chairman of the Ohio CP.

BERNARD MANDEL

JOHN VICTOR BLANC, former member of the CP who testified on behalf of the U. S. Government, advised on June 30, 1946, that BERNARD MANDEL's name appeared at that time among the records of the Cuyahoga County CP membership director as being a member of the CP Euclid Club, with CP book number 88987.

CV T-3 advised on October 31, 1963, that on October 27, 1963, the first of a series of six Sunday night lectures, conducted by BERNARD MANDEL, and sponsored by the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) of Cleveland, was held at the SWP meeting hall in Cleveland.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

CV T-4 advised on March 16, 1966, that WILLIAM PATTERSON as of March 10, 1966, was staying with the PHILIP BARTs and that PHILIP BART is taking him around to meet people. PATTERSON has already met with the minister of Cory Methodist Church, Cleveland, and both BART and PATTERSON were invited to a banquet at this church. Source advised that HENRY WINSTON is scheduled to arrive in Cleveland on March 11, 1966.

CV T-2 advised on March 11, 1966, that WILLIAM PATTERSON advised that date that during his visit in Cleveland he had met with both WILLIAM O. WALKER and CHARLES LOEB. Source stated that both are Negroes and that WILLIAM O. WALKER is publisher of the weekly Cleveland newspaper "Call and Post" and is also a member of the Industrial Relations Board of the State of Ohio; that CHARLES LOEB is a member of the Cleveland City Transit Board. Source stated that PATTERSON said he felt that LOEB has a sympathetic ear for the Negroes in the civil rights struggle. Concerning his interview with WALKER, PATTERSON only indicated that WALKER was friendly and gave no indication that his talk with PATTERSON was productive, from PATTERSON's point of view. PATTERSON also stated that he had seen RUTH TURNER, Executive Secretary of the Cleveland Congress on Racial Equality. PATTERSON stated that TURNER was disillusioned with both the Communist movement and the labor movement. She felt that all the "radical movement" does is talk, and that TURNER was not sympathetic to it. Source advised that the reason for PATTERSON's visit to Cleveland is to try and get more Negro participation in the Communist movement.

CV T-3 advised on March 4, 1966, that a meeting was held in Cleveland on March 3, 1966, presided over by CP leaders, for the purpose of preparing for CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT's speaking engagement in Cleveland on March 11, 1966. Source stated that 140 notices of this LIGHTFOOT meeting were prepared for mailing, and 60 more notices were to be prepared at a later date. The notice stated that "CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, from Chicago, will lecture on Africa-Asia and the Freedom Movement in the USA....which topic is closely tied to the growing peace movement in our country and most directly towards ending the war in Vietnam. His lecture will be of great interest to the progressive people in our community."

CV T-3 advised on March 15, 1966, that in addition to these letters announcing the LIGHTFOOT lecture, throwaways were prepared announcing the lecture which were distributed in barber-shops, cleaning establishments, etc., in the Negro areas of Cleveland.

CV T-3 advised on March 14, 1966, that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT spoke at Cory Methodist Church, Cleveland, on March 11, 1966, in a room that would accommodate approximately 100 persons. There were 35 to 40 people present with HENRY CRAWFORD, HENRY WINSTON, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and WILLIAM PATTERSON on the speaker's platform. LIGHTFOOT was the only speaker and he discussed his travels in Africa, Asia, the Soviet Union and other countries. LIGHTFOOT denounced United States foreign policy, especially as it pertains to African and Asian countries; he commented on some of the beautiful hotels in India where he stayed, and then denounced captialism as being responsible for the poor, hungry and ill clothes who slept outside these hotels; he praised Communism for some of the good things in Africa and India. He stated that the United States should let the people in African and Asian countries decide for themselves whether Communism or capitalism is best for them, and he said that unless the United States changes its foreign policy, it will, in a decade or two, be reduced to a fourth of fifth rate power.

HENRY CRAWFORD

CV T-12 advised on March 29, 1965, that HENRY CRAWFORD attended the CP State Conference held in Cleveland on March 28, 1965.

CV T-3 noted that PHIL BART, FRIEDA KATZ, HENRY CRAWFORD and others had spent considerable time and effort in planning for this meeting of LIGHTFOOT's, main purpose of which was to influence Negro people. Source stated that of the 35 to 40 persons present nor more than six or seven of those in the audience were Negroes. He noted that the four men on the platform, being CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, HENRY WINSTON, WILLIAM PATTERSON and HENRY CRAWFORD were all Negroes.

CV T-2 advised on March 11, 1966, that despite weeks of preparation only 35 persons attended this meeting at which LIGHTFOOT spoke, two-thirds of these being white.

Source noted that most of those present were the same old Party people who have attended CP functions for years, and that if these old timers were excluded there would not have been ten people present, three of whom were Trotskyites.

CV T-2 further related on March 11, 1966, that he learned from ANTHONY KRCHMAREK that HENRY WINSTON had come to Cleveland for the purpose of contacting news media, but that an interview with the "Call and Post," local Negro newspaper, was the only interview he accomplished. Source stated that ANTHONY KRCHMAREK was very disappointed in the turn out at the LIGHTFOOT meeting and commented that it showed a lack of concerted effort and poor planning. He was disappointed in the poor turnout of Negroes, which was the whole purpose of the visit to Cleveland by LIGHTFOOT, WINSTON and PATTERSON.

CV T-5 advised on April 4, 1966, that on April 1, 1966, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT stated that while in Cleveland he had met with RUTH TURNER and some Negro who works in the poverty program; that both of them told LIGHTFOOT that they were completely alienated from the Communist movement because the white forces were not going to produce.

B. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

There is no pertinent information to report on activity of the SWP during the period of this report.

NELSON PEERY

CV T-15 advised on January 7, 1964, that NELSON PEERY is believed to be one of the eight most influential persons in the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist CP (POC), and that he is probably a member of the POC National Committee. He is currently a member of the POC in Cleveland.

A characterization of the POC is contained in the Appendix hereto.

CV T-6 stated that WILLIAM WORTHY is a correspondent for the Baltimore newspaper "Afro-American."

The Committee to Aid the Debs Hall Defendants

CV T-6 advised on March 16, 1966, that on November 13, 1965, the Cleveland SWP held a fund raising social at its Cleveland headquarters, known as Debs Hall. The social was raided by police because of the illegal sale of liquor, those arrested being primarily SWP members, but including JAMES RUSSELL, President of Freedom Fighters, Inc. To raise money for the defense of those arrested, the SWP formed the Committee to Aid the Debs Hall Defendants, popularly known as the Debs Hall Defendants.

JAMES RUSSELL

CV T-6 advised on January 22, 1965, that JAMES RUSSELL has attended a number of public meetings sponsored by the Cleveland Branch of the SWP, but he only attends those meetings in which he has a particular interest, being meetings in which problems of the Negro race are discussed. He has no interest at all in the SWP.

CV T-13 in May, 1965, stated that although he has no information indicating that JAMES RUSSELL is affiliated with the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), nevertheless RUSSELL is a close friend of DON FREEMAN.

A characterization of RAM, in which DON FREEMAN is identified is attached.

CV T-3 advised on April 21, 1966, that Freedom Fighters, Inc. sponsored a meeting held in Cleveland on April 13, 1966, at which WILLIAM WORTHY was the speaker, the subject matter being the war in Vietnam and how it will affect the civil rights movement in the United States. WORTHY claimed that United States involvement in this war will result in the civil rights movement becoming less popular, and possibly forgotten, for it will be regarded as harmful to the war effort. WORTHY claimed that U. S. pilots in Vietnam are like the Ku Klux Klan in the United States, for the Ku Klux Klan bombs churches and schools and kills Negroes, whereas American pilots bomb churches, schools and even hospitals, killing women and children. WORTHY stated that it is hypocrisy for the United States to state that it is fighting for the freedom of people eight thousand miles away when it does not protect its own Negro citizens from the Ku Klux Klan in the South and from police brutality in the North. This meeting was attended by approximately 125-150 persons, including persons known to be active in both the CP and the SWP. An admission charge of $1.00 was collected from those attending by BONNIE HOLT.

BONNIE HOLT

CV T-6 advised on January 14, 1966, that a SWP meeting was held in Cleveland on January 6, 1966. BONNIE HOLT, who is active in the SWP and who is a member of the SWP, was present.

B. STUDENT NON-VIOLENT CO-ORDINATING COMMITTEE (SNCC)

DONALD SCHWARTZMILLER, Security Officer at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, advised on January 11, 1966, that two of the instructors at Kent State University are trying to orgainze a chapter of the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee at Kent State University, one of these instructors being DENEZ GULYAS, of the sociology and anthropology department. Mr. SCHWARTZMILLER advised on February 9, 1966, that a chapter of the SNCC had been organized at Kent State University and identified the officers, none of whom are pertinent to this report.

HUNGARY

DENEZ GULYAS

EDWARD A. TRAUTZ, [redacted] Ohio, advised on October 4, 1950, that he knew DENEZ GULYAS well when both of them attended Kent State University; that GULYAS exhibited an intricate knowledge of Russian history and of the 1917 Russian revolution; that he praised the accomplishments of the Communist regime in Hungary; that he was anti-religious; that in 1947 he and his wife returned to Hungary where they worked until returning to the United States in 1948; that he stated that his father had been affiliated with the Communist government of Bela Kum, in Hungary, in previous years.

b7C

CV T-7 advised in March, 1947, that GULYAS had recently experienced great interest in events in Russia and had requested that the "USSR Information Bulletin" be sent to him.

CV T-6 on January 4, 1966, furnished a list of sponsors of the Committee to Aid the Debs Hall Defendants and among the list of sponsors was the name of Professor DENEZ GULYAS.

C. MISCELLANEOUS

In April, 1966, Sergeant JOHN UNGVARY of the Cleveland Police Department furnished a tape covering an interview of HARLLEL JONES made by a Cleveland television station on approximately April 1, 1966, and pertaining to the racial situation in the Negro ghetto in Cleveland. During the course of the interview JONES stated that he represented the grass roots people in the Negro ghetto and said that the situation for the people in this area is so hopeless that he believed that rioting would occur during the summer of 1966, and that there would be open warfare between Negroes and whites by 1970.

During the course of discussing the group which JONES claimed to represent, he was asked the question, "Is there any affiliation with the Communists or any other group?" to which he replied, "Well as far as I know, there is not and this is one thing that we tried to weed out, if there's any Communist or any type of white groups that try to influence our mind into their philosophy. We have our own philosophy."

CV T-8 advised on March 26, 1965, that HARLLEL JONES was one of the leaders of a Negro rifle club in Cleveland which taught race hatred, and at that time JONES had indicated that he was a member of the Revolutionary Action Movement.

REVOLUTIONARY ACTION MOVEMENT

On November 3, 1964, a source made available a document entitled "The Revolutionary Action Movement Manifesto," the document having been obtained by the source from an individual known to be a member of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM).

This document stated, in part, that RAM was officially organized in the Winter of 1963 by Afro-Americans who support the revolutionary objectives of ROBERT F. WILLIAMS, now residing in Cuba, and his concept of organized violence to achieve the liberation of the Afro-American people in the United States. This Manifesto disclosed that RAM had oriented its program to one of education and political revolution and the organization of a "black" political party with revolutionary objectives, having recognized the need for a "black revolution" that could and would seize power. RAM philosophy is described in this document as one of revolutionary nationalism, that is, one involving the struggles of the nonwhite races of the world against exploitation and enslavement by the white capitalist and imperialist nations.

Regarding WILLIAMS, it should be noted that on August 28, 1961, a Federal warrant was issued at Charlotte, North Carolina, charging him with Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution for the crime of kidnapping. Subsequent to the issuance of this warrant, WILLIAMS fled the United States to Cuba, where he now publishes a monthly newsletter entitled "The Crusader" from Havana.

This source in September, 1964, advised RAM is dedicated to the overthrow of the capitalist system in the United States, by violence if necessary, and to its replacement by a socialistic system oriented toward the Chinese communist interpretation of Marxism-Leninism. RAM is entirely nonwhite in membership, clandestine in nature, and owes its primary allegiance to the "Bandung World," that is, the nonwhite races of the world rather than to any national entity, as such.

On November 16, 1964, a second source advised he learned recently from an RAM member that the organization began in Detroit, Michigan, largely under the impetus of DON FREEMAN, described as the "Father" of RAM and referred to as RAM's "Black Stalin" FREEMAN served as RAM Chairman, with MAXWELL STANFORD, now of New York City, formerly of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, serving as RAM Field Chairman.

APPENDIX

This source stated in May, 1965, there has been no formal headquarters, as such, for RAM but that headquarters have been with FREEMAN since he has played such a dominant role in the leadership of and has directed the policies and activities of the organization.

Within recent months, according to the second source, dissension within RAM has become evident and some dissatisfaction with FREEMAN's leadership has arisen. So far as is known, however, he remains the titular leader of RAM.

To date, according to the second source in May, 1965, RAM has organized units and membership in several of the larger cities in the United States east of the Mississippi River and the organization is currently active in attempting to recruit new members and expland its sphere of influence.

All meetings described herein were held in Los Angeles, California, unless otherwise noted.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

(A) COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CP, USA)

(1) Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP)

LA T-1 (12/17/65)

At a meeting of the Negro Commission, SCDCP, held on December 15, 1965, at 1142 South Serrano Avenue, one of those present said that the Commission should start issuing statements on the important issues as they came up, delve further into the possible role of the Party in Negro activity, expecially in the concentration areas such as Watts, and then take on such activities as holding open meetings in the Watts area. This individual also stated that he felt it was the Party's duty to prod the organizations that were trying to work in the Watts area a little bit more; that drawing up a series of Party proposals for Watts would be one of the first things to do, which proposals would be worked up in the proper form for a wide distribution in Watts.

LA T-1 (12/14/65)
LA T-2 (12/29/65)
LA T-3 (12/27/65)
LA T-4 (12/27/65)
LA T-5 (1/7/66)

At an enlarged Section Committee meeting of the Moranda Smith Section (MSS), SCDCP, held on December 13, 1965, at 3048 Victoria Avenue, the report of the McCone Commission on the Watts riots was discussed, and those present were told they should see that this report was discussed in every organization in which they belonged; that every Party member should do this.

LA T-2 (1/6/66)

A meeting of the Aaron Johnson Club, MSS, SCDCP, was held at 1017 3/4 Georgia Street on December 29, 1965. It was stated that the MSS was urging all CP Clubs to read and discuss the John Mc Cone Report on the Watts riots; that it was filled with weaknesses, and did not give the real facts in terms of the causes that provoked it; and that the CP was calling for a rejection of the report.

LA T-6 (1/20/66)

A meeting of the youth of the SCDCP was held on January 7, 1966 at 2515 West 18th Street. DOROTHY HEALEY was present and spoke about the Negro freedom push and the role the Party had been and was playing in it. She did admit that the Party was not necessarily accomplishing much in this freedom movement.

LA T-7 (3/8/65)

DOROTHY HEALEY is a member of the SCDCP Executive Board, the National Committee, CP, USA, and also Chairman of the SCDCP.

LA T-5 (2/3/66)
LA T-8 (2/1/66)
LA T-9 (2/2/66)
LA T-10 (2/21/66)

At a meeting of the SCDCP District Committee held on January 30, 1966, at the International Longshoremen's Warehouse Union Hall, 5625 South Figueroa Street, BEN DOBBS said that the recent Negro political surge in California was historical and that all forces should unite behind the various Negro candidates.

LA T-9 (2/25/66)

BEN DOBBS is still employed full time as Executive Secretary of the SCDCP. He is also a member of the National Committee of the CP, USA.

LA T-11 (3/11/66)

At a meeting of the MSS Sub-Committee of the Watts CP Club held at 11111 South Wilmington on March 10, 1966, one of those in attendance said they would try to get the Youth Club started and would attempt to get more members transferred into the Watts Club. It was also stated that efforts were going to be made to get the Watts Club into more outside organizations.

LA T-6 (3/16/66)

Source advised that during a recent CP discussion, one of those present pointed out that Negroes are aware that the Party only appeared to be interested in using Negroes as dupes to further its position toward the road to Socialism, and because of this, fewer and fewer Negroes would be joining the Party.

LA T-11 (3/18/66)

At a meeting of Organization Secretaries and Club Chairmen of the MSS, SCDCP, held on March 14, 1966, at 3048 Victoria Avenue, the Chairman said the Party was going to step up the concentration work in the Watts area and that the Party leaders had some great plans for this area.

(2) CP Youth Matters

LA T-12 (2/4/66)

In February, 1966, ROBERT 51 DUGGAN, member of the Youth Commission, SCDCP, and Chairman of the Los Angeles DuBois Club, indicated that he was going to propose to the SCDCP that the CP assess each member $3.00 a month for a period of three months. This money would then be turned over to the Los Angeles DuBois Club to be used by the Club in its summer project in the Negro areas of Venice and Watts.

(3) W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs

LA 100-66078

LA T-13 (2/23/66)
LA T-14 (2/18/66)
LA T-15 (2/14/66)
LA T-16 (2/7/66)

An area conference of the Los Angeles area DuBois Clubs was held on February 5 and 6, 1966, at 1853 South Arlington Street. The conference was broken up into various workshops such as Peace, Labor, Education, Community Organizing, etc. These workshops were to be the basis for continuing committees to be formed as a result of the reorganization of the Los Angeles area DuBois Clubs.

LA T-13 advised that in the Communist Organizing workshop, a discussion was held concerning the Negro community in Los Angeles. Questions were raised as to whether the Negro communities would accept both black and white DuBois Club workers, whether another attempt should be made to start a DuBois Club in the Negro communities, whether the DuBois Clubs should attempt to organize the gangs in the Negro communities, and if the gangs are organized, whether they should be brought into the DuBois Club.

LA T-14 advised that the Community Organizing workshop decided that the purpose of the new Community Organizing Committee will be to concentrate their efforts in the Negro district and institute a program calling for "Jobs for Youth." In implementing this program, the DuBois Club will use three classes of social workers; the first class will be the Negro socialist, the second class will be the Negro social worker, and the third class will be the white socialist with sensitivity to Negro problems.

LA T-15 advised that the Community Organizing workshop discussed the following topics:

1) DuBois Club will concentrate in areas of black ghettos.
2) Black and white relationships and differences to be discussed.
3) The Negro of the North as compared to the Negro in the Sou
4) Problems of sensitivity among Negroes.
5) Different programs for Caucasian and Negro communities.

6) What kind of person can work in a ghetto? It is necessary to move to the ghetto area to be effective.
7) Explore and educate people on the national economic program.

LA T-13 (3/16/66)

On March 15, 1966, a racial disturbance broke out in the Negro area of Los Angeles (Watts) as a result of the arrest of a Negro for throwing a rock at an automobile. This disturbance continueduntil March 16, 1966, and extra police forces were finally removed from the area on March 18, 1966. Two deaths and 55 arrests resulted from the disturbance and damage was caused to 17 businesses, one residence, one school, and five vehicles.

On March 16, 1966, during the disturbance, FRANKLIN ALEXANDER, KENDRA HARRIS, and two companions were arrested in the area of the disturbance and charged with being drunk and resisting arrest. Source stated that ALEXANDER is a member of the SCDCP, and that both ALEXANDER and HARRIS are members of the Los Angeles DuBois Club Community Organizing Committee. Calif.

LA T-17 (3/23/66)

On March 17, 1966, FRANKLIN ALEXANDER, Chairman of the Community Organizing Committee of the Los Angeles DuBois Club, held a meeting on March 17, 1966 in Los Angeles which was attended by representatives of various Negro organizations, civil rights groups and peace groups. During the meeting, ALEXANDER indicated he was beaten by officers of the Los Angeles Police Department at the time of his recent arrest. Source stated that as the meeting progressed, increasing hostility was expressed toward white people, until finally all Caucasians present left the meeting. The result of the meeting was formation of a so-called "Black DuBois Club", the proposed formation of a "United Front" to prepare for participation in possible racial incidents which might arise, and to participate in what the group called a "long, hot summer" in Los Angeles starting around June, 1966.

Another meeting was held by ALEXANDER on March 20, 1966 at 11164 Holmes Avenue, which is the proposed headquarters for the new "Black DuBois Club". Source stated the "United Front" was still in the planning stage, and whether various Negro and civil rights organizations would support the group was speculative. Source also stated the "Black DuBois Club" hoped for support from the SCDCP, but this was also speculative.

(4) Southside Citizens Defense Committee (SSCDC)

LA T-18 (12/9/65)

Source furnished a leaflet distributed by the SSCDC, in which they expressed appreciation of the financial aid they had received from the Los Angeles Committee for Defense of the Bill of Rights and Protection of Foreign Born (LACDBRPFB).

Reasons listed in the above leaflet for the SSCDC organization were to give a concrete objective in the unorganized masses in the Watts ghetto for which they can fight; to direct the frustrations and hatreds of those people into positive demands rather than individual explosive outbursts; and to fight for the defense of all those arrested in the rebellion.

LA T-19 (12/7/65)

On November 3, 1965, the SSCDC met at 1152 South Irola Street, at which meeting the discussion centered around ways to raise funds for the SSCDC. One idea was to support a Christmas party for children of the victims of the Watts riot.

LA T-5 (11/22/65)

On November 10, 1965, the Negro Commission, SCDCP, CALIF. met at 2025 West 65th Place. JOAN JAMES reported on the activities of the SSCDC pointing out that the SSCDC had been able to furnish bail and attorneys for a number of people arrested during the Watts uprising.

LA T-5 (4/6/66)

JOAN JAMES was a member of the SCDCP as well as being Executive Director of the SSCDC.

LA T-5 (12/1/65)
LA T-20 (11/24/65)
LA T-21 (12/1/65)
LA T-22 (11/29/65)

On November 21, 1965, the LACDBRPFB held their 15th annual testimonial dinner at 515 South Olive Street. JOAN JAMES reported on the activities of the SSCDC and asked for support, both financially and morally.

LA T-19 (11/30/65)

Source advised that the individuals arrested during the Watts uprising, whose bail was paid by the SSCDC, had been required to sign a form obligating themselves to work for the Committee when possible.

LA T-5 (12/3/65)

Source advised that anyone who desired to work with the SSCDC could as long as they agreed to do whatever they could to help bring an end to the unjust harassment, brutalization and oppressions of the Negro people. No one working with the Committee has been questioned concerning his political affiliations. Many people in the organization are members of the CP; however, others working with the Committee are not aware of this fact.

LA T-23 (12/7/65)

On December 6, 1965, the West Adams Club, SCDCP, met at 3002 West Vernon. ROSE CHERNIN gave a report on the SSCDC and said the Committee had been doing very well on the court cases of victims of the Watts uprising.

LA T-5 (4/6/66)

ROSE CHERNIN is a member of the SCDCP, Calif., as well as being Executive Director of the LACDBRPFB.

LA T-6 (12/15/65)

Source advised that the feeling generated from the top echelon of the SCDCP concerning the SSCDC, is that the Committee cannot do the job of attracting young Negro people for possible recruitment.

LA T-3 (12/27/65)

On December 18, 1965, a Christmas party was given by the SSCDC for the underprivileged children of the Watts community.

LA T-23 (1/4/66)

On January 3, 1966, the West Adams Club, SCDCP, met at 2128 - 3rd Avenue. It was announced that the SSCDC would hold a fund-raising buffet dinner in January, 1966, and all those present were given tickets to sell at $2 each.

LA T-19 (2/8/66)

On January 26, 1966, the SSCDC held a staff meeting at 1152 Irola Street. HURSEL ALEXANDER stated he had gone as far as he could in working with the Committee, and that he must resign in order to continue his work in his union. He stated he had hoped this Committee would be an organization of Negroes only who would work in the community, and not "just another left committee." He stated, "To Hell with the communists and any other left wingers. This committee is not a brain-washing organization." He said, "we" must fight to keep it this way. He proposed that JOAN JAMES be placed in the position of Executive Director.

LA T-5 (4/6/66)

HURSEL ALEXANDER is a member of the SCDCP.

LA T-1 (2/1/66)
LA T-2 (2/4/66)

On January 31, 1966, the MSS, SCDCP, met at 4431 Angeles Vista Boulevard. It was commented at this meeting that the clubs should take a look at what they were doing in relation to the SSCDC, and not just let it be an organization of a few Party people It was also stated the the Party had been clamoring for "left centers" and that the SSCDC was a real good one that was forming a base in the community, and if there was proper Party participation, it would be an excellent place for recruitment.

(5) Los Angeles Committee for Defense of the Bill of Rights and Protection of Foreign Born (LACDBRPFB)

LA T-20 (1/14/66)

A fund-raising affair sponsored by the SSCDC was held on January 9, 1966 at 5625 South Figueroa Street, Los Angeles. Proceeds were to go to the SSCDC, but all the plans and work done to make the affair a success were contributed by the LACDBRPFB.

LA T-20 (2/3/66)

During a birthday celebration sponsored by the LACDBRPFB on January 30, 1966 at 3875 City Terrace Drive, Los Angeles, ROSE CHERNIN, Chairman, discussed the importance of the organization. She also praised attorneys of the LACDBRPFB who defended the Negroes arrested during the Watts riot in August, 1965, and who helped to organize the SSCDC

(B) OTHER COMMUNIST GROUPS

(1) Communist Party, USA, Marxist-Leninist (CP, USA, M-L)

LA T-26 (4/1/66)

The Los Angeles Cell of the CP, USA, M-L has no plans for any demonstrations or other activity relative to racial matters.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

LA T-27 (1/3/66)

At a meeting of the West Adams CP Club, MSS, SCDCP, held on December 20, 1965, at a residence on West Vernon Avenue, one of the points on the agenda was what was being done in the Watts area of Los Angles. The Chairman said he felt that with the building in and getting the Watts area moving ahead again they, the CP, would have considerable potential in recruiting new members there. All those present were urged to work toward this end in their work in the Watts area.

LA T-4 (1/28/66)

A meeting of the South Central CP Club, MSS, SCDCP, was held at 1235 West 68th Street on January 19, 1966. During this meeting, it was stated that ROSE CHERNIN was urging closer Negro and white unity, and was hoping to obtain more cooperation from various organizations and church groups to help in the Watts area of Los Angeles.

LA T-28 (1/24/66)

Source furnished a throw-away which indicated that the Free Press Forum (FPF) was presenting the Financial Secretary of the SSCDC on the subject, "The Big Frame-Up in Watts and South Central Los Angeles", plus "An Evaluation of the McCone Report", on Friday, January 28, 1966 at 1251 South St. Andrews Place.

LA T-29 (6/25/65)

The FPF is an activity sponsored solely by the MSS, SCDCP. It is controlled and directed by the MSS, FPF Committee, which is a committee composed entirely of selected members of the MSS, SCDCP.

LA T-1 (1/28/66)

At a recent CP discussion, one of those present said there was a lack of understanding among the Negro youth, in that they could not see what good the Party was doing on the civil rights problem. This person said these youth could not be told exactly how the Party was working in a particular group or organization because of the damage it might do and, therefore, could only see the evidences of white chauvinism that was so evident among some of the Party people.

LA T-2 (2/4/66)
LA T-11 (2/4/66)

At an MSS Committee meeting of the SCDCP, held on January 31, 1966, those present were told that in connection with Negro History Week, all CP Clubs were urged to support the Freedom Now Demonstration to be held on February 12, 1966 around the 77th Street Police Precinct, and which was to be followed with a Lincoln Day Rally for Peace and Freedom, at the Baptist Church, 4155 McKinley Avenue. The MSS has leaflets for this affair, and all CP Clubs in the Section were urged to distribute them in the community.

LA T-11 (2/11/66)

A meeting of the South Central Club of the MSS, SCDCP, was held on February 2, 1966 at 1733 West 84th Street. During this meeting, one of those present spoke of the peace march to be held February 12, 1966 at the 77th Street Police Precinct, and said the MSS was using this peace march for its part in the Negro History Week.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

(A) CONGRESS OF RACIAL EQUALITY (CORE)

LA T-13 (4/6/66)

At a meeting of the members of CORE with the National Chairman on April 3, 1966 at 2323 Burnside Avenue, Los Angeles, the members accused each other of sabotaging the civil rights plans in Los Angeles because of their "Black Nationalist" attitude. It was pointed out that the Negroes in the Los Angeles Chapter have lined up solidly against the white people. The feeling was that this has not contributed to the progress of CORE other than to prevent the Marxists from using the organization for their own purposes.

APPENDIX

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, MARXIST-LENINIST (CPUSA, M-L)

On August 24, 1965, a confidential source advised that the West Coast Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (WCPOC) was formed in Los Angeles, California, on August 23, 1965, under the leadership of MIKE LASKY. Although similar in name, the newly organized WCPOC had no connection whatsoever with the Provisional Organizing Committee for a Marxist-Leninist Communist Party (POC) or the latter's West Coast POC.

On September 7, 1965, the above confidential source advised that a National Conference of the newly formed WCPOC was held over the September 4-5, 1965, weekend in Los Angeles. At that meeting, the name WCPOC was dropped, and the CPUSA, M-L was formed under LASKY's leadership. The CPUSA, M-L has the following aims and purposes:

1. To conduct guerrilla warfare training, including the use of firearms;

2. To organize CPUSA, M-L cells in the South to exploit all "racial situations" that might arise there, to agitate the population, and create situations which would require the use of Federal Troops so that Americans would be fighting Americans;

3. To establish and maintain an accelerated recruiting program to include acceptance of anyone who is an anti-imperialist.

This report is classified ~~SECRET~~ because of the sensitive nature of information furnished by AT 1382-S* with respect to the racial situation; this classification felt necessary in order not to jeopardize the valuable position of this informant in furnishing this type of information. The report would normally be classified ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ due to MM T-1 through MM T-4, and MM T-6, informants of continuing value, whose disclosure would have an adverse effect on the national defense interests.

Due to the limited number of persons attending the CP, USA, National Negro Commission meeting in New York City, January 19, 1966, and the continuity of later information in Miami from this same informant, [redacted] two T symbols, MM T-1 and MM T-3, were utilized to avoid compromising this valuable source. b7D

A local chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was formed on April 17, 1966, at Miami. However, Miami indices contain no subversive references on any of the local officers on the basis of known background about them at this time.

On February 16, 1966, [redacted] learned that GEORGE MEYERS, District Organizer, Southern Region, CP, USA, from Baltimore, Maryland, had contacted the Florida CP, USA, Organizer, and suggested that local SCLC chapters at Miami, St. Augustine, and Jacksonville, Florida, be contacted, and to lend them any CP support they desire. According to [redacted] the Florida CP, USA, Organizer, intends to look into this matter further, has done nothing in this regard, and since disclosure of this information would by its nature tend to identify [redacted] it is not included in this report.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

Communist Party, USA (CP, USA) Policy Concerning Negro Political Candidates

A meeting of the CP, USA, National Negro Commission was held on January 19, 1966, at New York, New York.

The subject matter concerned the problem of the increase of white Chauvinist expressions within and without the CP, and in certain electoral activity.

HENRY WINSTON spoke about the Miami, Florida, situation, where he said the activities and role of several influential Party members who broke from Party decisions can be charged with the responsibility for making the difference in the defeat of a Negro woman candidate for the City Commission. There were nearly 40,000 votes cast in this election and the Negro candidate lost by only 1,400 votes. These several comrades were sufficiently influential in various organizations that their unpermissible support for the opponent was responsible for this margin of votes.

WINSTON commended the Miami CP for directing the attention of the national leadership to this situation by submitting a memorandum for action by the national leadership.

JAMES JACKSON was highly in favor of the position of the majority of Miami CP members who believed that the Negro candidate should have been supported even though not a "progressive," and he urged that their position be strongly upheld.

It was decided that the National Secretariat would prepare a policy statement in this regard.

MM T-1
January 31, 1966

At a meeting of the National Committee of the CP, USA, in August, 1961, HENRY WINSTON was elected a member of that Committee, the National Executive Committee, and Vice Chairman of the Party.

MM T-2
August 12 - 13, 1961

A meeting of the Miami CP City Committee was held on February 6, 1966, in Miami. The problem concerning whether Mrs. ATHALIE RANGE, a Miami Negro businesswoman, should have been supported for a position on the City of Miami City Commission evoked a heated discussion. PAT TOOHEY said this problem was presented to the National Office, and that the National Office was astounded that any CP member in Miami would take a position against a prominent Negro candidate.

MORRIS ROHINSKY, Chairman of the Miami CP, violently disagreed with TOOHEY, using as his argument that Mrs. RANGE was not a "progressive," and should not be supported just because she is a Negro. He listed several other instances which, he said, showed why Negroes should not be supported, per se; for example, there were two Negroes on the jury in Washington, D. C., which recently convicted the CP, USA, and also, a Fort Lauderdale Negro gave a substantial donation to BARRY GOLDWATER. ROHINSKY asked contemptuously whether the Party would demand that he support these Negroes.

TOOHEY severely castigated ROHINSKY, pointing out these were isolated incidents, stating that a correct Marxist understanding of the Party position concerning the Negro and Negro mass movements would show ROHINSKY was in error, stating ROHINSKY should be ashamed of his position from a CP standpoint, and that if ROHINSKY had made his statements before any other CP gathering, he would have been overwhelmingly voted out of the Party. After TOOHEY read the riot act to ROHINSKY and others, especially his statements concerning the threat of expulsion, ROHINSKY appeared to calm down considerably concerning this matter; however, it appeared that this issue is far from settled.

MM T-3
February 9, 1966

PAT TOOHEY is the ranking CP, USA, official in Florida and Organizer of the Florida CP.

MM T-3
March 30, 1966

At a meeting of the CP City Committee held on February 25, 1966, a letter was read from HENRY WINSTON in which WINSTON stated that the proper Party position would have been unequivocal support of Mrs. RANGE. He said the position of the minority of Miami CP members showed a lack of understanding of the importance of this problem, underestimated the readiness of the masses to support the candidacy of a Negro woman, and indicated a failure to understand the national character of the Negro question.

WINSTON said that the direction with which the civil rights movement today and the democratic movement as a whole, should be concerned, is the struggle for political power. He said that recently, a whole series of conferences dealing with this subject have taken place throughout the United States. He said the Negro people feel that in the fight for full equality, the struggle for political power is one of their more important weapons, and that Communists in the United States are in accord with this decision. In fact, one of the primary slogans of the CP, USA, is the struggle for first-class citizenship. He said the fight for political power will become more and more important in the fight to bring about political equality for the Negro people.

WINSTON said that there exists a tremendous problem in terms of elective and appointive office, and this situation is a real indictment of the United States.

This struggle develops in numerous ways and forms, A position taken by some, an anti-white position, is that Harlem should become a self-contained unit, and all white people would be removed, and political power placed only in the hands of Negroes. He said this is an unsound way to approach the correct struggle for power, and that the fight for political power must be based on unity of Negro and white people on the basis of advancing that struggle to the point where the struggle against inequality can develop on all fronts.

In this regard, WINSTON said that in Mississippi, the Freedom Democratic Party, with a membership of about 25,000, and existing within forty of the eighty-two counties of that state, is fighting for official recognition as the dominant party in that state. This is a new development which grew out of a specific situation in Mississippi, and is the form in which the struggle for political power, when properly understood, is being developed in that state.

WINSTON said that the essence of this struggle is for representative government, and this means the election of Negroes to political office in which an appeal is made to all those who believe in a democratic government. This means that in areas where there is a Negro minority, the right to be elected to office; in areas where there is a Negro majority, the right to share the leadership with the white people; and in some other cases, the election of a majority of Negroes representing all people.

In this fight, it will be necessary to include the organizations of voters' leagues, democratic parties, improvement associations, and numerous other forms.

WINSTON concluded by stating that it is a measure of the thinking and understanding of all Progressives as to how to defend the best national interests of the United States, the individual states, and the counties and cities.

This letter was well received by the members of the Miami City Committee, with the major exception of MORRIS ROHINSKY, who is Chairman of the Miami CP. He said he still disagreed with this position as taken by WINSTON, and that the National Office does not understand mass work and particularly, Party work in the South, which is different than anywhere else in the United States. The WINSTON letter will be the subject of further discussions in each of the CP Clubs in Miami.

There was some talk among those CP members who were in complete agreement with WINSTON that in view of the anti-Party attitude of ROHINSKY on the Negro question, an attempt will be made to ease him out as Chairman of the Miami CP.

MM T-3
March 2, 1966

It was learned that Miami CP members were informed by the CP, USA, National Office, New York City, of the availability of reprints of an article which was in The Worker newspaper, entitled Terror Down South, written by GEORGE MEYERS of Baltimore, Maryland. This article dealt with the use of terror and other methods of intimidation used against the Negro in the South by Southern racists.

Speech of HERBERT APTHEKER

HERBERT APTHEKER, described in local newspapers as an American CP theoretician, spoke before approximately 1,200 students in the Student Union at the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Florida, during the evening of April 20, 1966.

APTHEKER, speaking on The American Negro Today - Reform or Revolution, followed closely this topic in detailing the history, problems, and causes of the civil rights activity in the United States. He said the fight for civil rights is not a reform movement, but a revolutionary movement, and that riots such as those which occurred in Watts, California, will happen again. He blamed the big money interests and the slum ghettos for the civil rights situation today. He said the Negro question cannot be solved while the United States has an aggressive foreign policy and was fighting in Viet Nam.

During a question and answer period following his speech, he stated when asked about anti-Negro demonstrations in the Soviet Union, that there are thousands of Africans going to school there, and that there was bound to be a few racists among the millions of Russians.

The question which appeared to bother APTHEKER the most was whether civil rights in the United States or political rights in the Soviet Union will be achieved first. APTHEKER proposed that the United States get into a race with the Soviet Union to see if the United States can solve its civil rights problems before the Soviet Union solves its political freedom problem.

MM T-5
April 21, 1966

HERBERT APTHEKER was elected to the National Committee of the CP, USA, at its 17th National Convention held in December, 1959.

MM T-6
December 13, 1959

On April 21, 1966, Colonel RICHARD G. BANKS, Professor of Military Science, University of Miami, advised that HERBERT APTHEKER confined himself pretty much to the announced topic of the American Negro during his speech at the University of Miami. While he began his speech by citing many facts and statistics concerning civil rights and the background of the Negro problem with which a reasonable person could agree, he then managed to turn the question of rights into an indictment of the system of government in the United States. At no time did he indicate any independence in thinking from the "line" used by the Soviet Union in criticizing the United States.

During the question and answer period, APTHEKER said the CP is "small" in the United States, but is engaged in civil rights activity to the best of its ability whenever and wherever it can. He said there are many Negroes belonging to the CP.

The April 22, 1966, issue of the Miami Hurricane, University of Miami student newspaper, contained an article on APTHEKER's speech on April 20, 1966. In this article, APTHEKER is reflected as stating that the CP in America participates as much as possible in all civil rights demonstrations and activities in the United States, that automation and monumental inadequacies of the two-party system will lead American Negroes to join in a "world-wide revolution," that black and white people must learn to live together, and differences must be resolved immediately, or American democracy cannot last, and it is past time to bring socialism to the United States. The article continued that during a question period following his speech, APTHEKER said that in the next few years of the Negro Revolution, the trend will be away from legal rights and toward personal conflicts, and will end up on the American streets.

APTHEKER also contended that race relations in the Soviet Union are no problem.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. Demonstration, George Washington High School, Denver, Colorado, March 19, 1966

The March 2, 1966, issue of the "Denver Post," a daily Denver newspaper, reported that a newly formed "Denver Committee to Improve Racial Relations" is a front for the John Birch Society, aimed at linking the "communist conspiracy" with the civil rights movement. It was reported that the committee has been soliciting individuals, clubs, and organizations to purchase $5.00 per person tickets to a "civil rights seminar" March 19, 1966. It reported that the committee was formed on the advice of a Regional Coordinator of the John Birch Society.

It reported that the Regional Coordinator of the John Birch Society, DONALD H. KENNEDY, of [redacted] b6 b7C Lakewood, Colorado, acknowledged that the sole reason in forming the Denver Committee to Improve Racial Relations was to promote an all-day seminar March 19, 1966, at George Washington High School.

It reported that the speakers for the March 19 seminar would be G. EDWARD GRIFFIN, LEONARD PATTERSON, Mrs. JULIA BROWN, and GEORGE SCHUYLER. It reported that all of the speakers were Negroes except GRIFFIN, who was a National Staff Coordinator for the Birch Society.

On April 1, 1966, DN T-1 made available a letter dated March 15, 1966, written to the members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). The letter is quoted below:

DN 100-8997

"The Denver Branch, NAACP"

On March 21, 1966, DN T-2 reported that approximately 35 individuals picketed George Washington High School, Denver, Colorado, during the morning hours of March 19, 1966, protesting the "conservatives civil rights seminar" which was being held at the high school. Between 175 and 200 people attended the seminar.

On April 1, 1966, DN T-1 reported that a group of individuals under the sponsorship of NAACP participated in the picket line between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m., on March 19, 1966, at George Washington High School, protesting a seminar being conducted by the "Denver Committee to Improve Racial Relations." Three members of the Denver Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP) were present in this picket line.

A characterization of the Denver Branch, SWP is part of the appendix attached hereto.

On March 21, 1966, DN T-3 reported that approximately 35 individuals under the direction of the NAACP participated in the picketing of a conservatives civil rights seminar being held at George Washington High School on March 19, 1966. This seminar was under the sponsorship of the Denver Committee to Improve Racial Relations, which committee was organized by members of the John Birch Society. One member of the Communist Party (CP) group in Denver participated in this demonstration.

A little investigation brings forth the news that we have been sending students to these meetings and, according to some of the people on campus, the students have returned with a "warped" attitude toward almost everything.

As I have no connections who might check this organization out so see if it might be a "Front" type of thing, I will send it on to you for whatever interest you might have in it.

The April 2, 1966, issue of the "New York Herald Tribune" reported that Doctor (Dr.) Thomas W. Matthew, a neurosurgeon who is Executive Director of the Interfaith Health Association of New York, announced on April 1, 1966, that this group had asked the Soviet Union and seven other countries for loans totaling $80,000,000.00 to finance a "self-help program for American Negroes". Dr. Matthew stated the decision to appeal to foreign governments was made after efforts to borrow money within the United States proved fruitless. The group sent letter asking for $10,000,000.00 loans to the heads of each government in the Soviet Union, France, Japan, Liberia, Kenya, Sweden, Kuwait and Israel. Dr. Matthew stated, according to the "Herald Tribune", that in a letter on March 28, 1966, a legal officer in the United States State Department had told Dr. Matthew that no federal laws or regulations forbade what the association had in mind, except in countries that are off-limits now to most Americans, such as Cuba, North Vietnam and mainland China. The "Herald Tribune" further reported that Dr. Matthew had stated that his group is supported by about 400 Negro Baptist ministers and dozens of civic groups and that they had chosen the eight countries for their political diversity "because we are not political. We are very jealous about our loyalty to the U.S. We don't want anyone confused on that". Dr. Matthew hopes for low interest loans, which could be used to purchase slum property and rehabilitate same.

The surplus from this operation would be used to repay the loans and support charitable efforts, among them the group's 125 bed interfaith hospital in Jamaica, Queens, New York.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1966, that Dr. Matthew was endeavoring to have Henry Winston, with whom he has had previous contact, to intercede with Premier Kosygin of the USSR to approve the $10,000,000.00 loan.

A confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that in April, 1964, Henry Winston was elected a member of the Secretariat and the National Board of the Communist Party, USA.

On October 1, 1965, a confidential source who is employed in the United States Government, furnished information which disclosed that during the previous week, a Dr. Matthew, who is Director of the Interfaith Hospital, 175-10 88th Avenue, Jamaica, Long Island, New York, appeared at the headquarters of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Washington, D. C., for the purpose of obtaining a "tax break" for the Interfaith Hospital, allegedly in financial distress.

According to source, IRS informed Dr. Matthew that he could receive no "tax break", whereupon Dr. Matthew allegedly stated that he had much influence in the Negro communities of New York City and if he "gave the word" he could incite a riot worse than that which had occurred in the Watts area of Los Angeles.

JEWISH PEOPLE'S FORUM

On October 28, 1962, a source made available an announcement of the Boston Jewish People's Forum indicating that meetings of the Forum would be held at the Town and Country Club, formerly Morton Plaza, Dorchester, Massachusetts, and that the Forum was "Dedicated to Bringing Fuller Understanding to the Community of Our World and Our Times."

CHARLES PIPER, a former member of the Communist Party, USA, New England District, who furnished information to the FBI on a regular basis during the period 1953-1964, advised in February, 1963 that leaders of the CP, USA, New England District, had ordered support of the functions of the Boston Jewish People's Forum by Communist Party members.

The "Dorchester-Roxbury Record", a weekly newspaper published at Dorchester (Boston), Massachusetts, in its edition of October 1, 1964, printed an item announcing the opening of the twenty-seventh season of lectures, discussions and symposiums on Sunday, October 11, 1964; that the Forums are held at 11:00 A.M., at the Town and Country Club, at Morton and Wellington Hill Streets, Dorchester, Massachusetts, and that the Forums are open to all.

A second source on May 20, 1965, advised that the Boston Jewish People's Forum continues to hold its meetings on Sunday mornings throughout the year, except for the summer months, at the Town and Country Club, located at Morton and Wellington Hill Streets, Dorchester, Massachusetts.

This source advised that speakers at these meetings are frequently nationally known officials of the Communist Party and in their talks place Communism and CP members in a favorable light.

Title: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS, CHICAGO DIVISION

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Synopsis: Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) civil rights activity in Chicago has been closely watched by Communist Party (CP) and CP believes focal point of civil rights movement now located Chicago. CP will create program to implement slum areas of Chicago where Negroes concentrated. These areas are the West, South and near North sides of Chicago. CP also continues to stress need for involving labor movement in civil rights movement so a Negro-labor alliance will develop. CP has called for CP collectives to be formed within Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO) - SCLC complex, however, no success to date. Some CP of Illinois members have been active in Independent Labor Committee of CCCO. EARL DURHAM, Chairman, CP of Illinois Negro Commission, has accepted position of Director, Students Woodlawn Area Project (SWAP) and will develop united front contacts. CP of Illinois members active in National Association for Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) instructed to support move by NAACP to establish neighborhood branches. W.E.B. DuBois Club on west side of Chicago has worked in united front relationship with SCLC in establishing tenant councils and job program for Negro youth. CP summer youth project will be instituted again this year and main direction of project will hinge around civil rights struggle with W.E.B. DuBois Clubs attempting to play a role in struggle on economic issues. Chicago Branch, Socialist Workers Party remains relatively inactive in civil rights struggle.

a. General

The CP of Illinois in January, 1966, was surveying the west side area of Chicago for the purpose of leasing a building where they desire to open a book store similar to the Modern Book Store, the outlet for CP literature in the Chicago area, because with the arrival in Chicago of representatives of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's civil rights group, the west side of Chicago has become the center for civil rights activities.

(CG T-1, 1/20/66)

It was learned in early February, 1966, that EARL DURHAM, Chairman of the inactive CP of Illinois Negro Commission, is to go off the CP payroll and become a fulltime employee of a community civil rights service organization on the south side of Chicago.

(CG T-2, 2/14/66)

In February, 1966, it was learned that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman, CP of Illinois, had directed a request to the National Office of the CP, USA, requesting that office to make $1,000 available to the CP of Illinois. This $1,000 is to be used to finance CP of Illinois work in the current civil rights struggle in Chicago, particularly that CP of Illinois work which is centered around the activities of the staff of the SCLC on the west side of Chicago.

(CG T-3, 2/16/66)

It has been learned that EARL DURHAM has accepted a position as director of community civil rights service organization called the Students Woodlawn Area Project (SWAP).

DURHAM will receive a good salary from this organization and will be a fulltime employee. The original idea for SWAP as an organization began approximately two years ago when two graduate students at the University of Chicago began a voluntary tutoring service for the Negro high school students in the Woodlawn area who were experiencing difficulty in their high school studies. These two students eventually issued a call for other college students to join them in this service activity and since that time this organization has grown rapidly. It is understood that SWAP has been sustained financially through the solicitation of private funds and the organization has been such a success that they sought a fulltime director.

The University of Chicago has donated office space to the organization and DURHAM will be headquartered in this office space at Ida Noyes Hall, University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois.

b. CP of Illinois State Board

On January 11, 1966, the CP of Illinois State Board held a meeting at the home of JAMES WEST, CP of Illinois State Board member and member of the CP of Illinois Staff. This meeting which was held in Chicago, Illinois, discussed among other things the War on Poverty Program of the United States Federal government. During this discussion, JAMES WEST noted that the CP of Illinois had produced a pamphlet on this question of poverty in Chicago and WEST suggested to this State Board meeting that this CP pamphlet receive wide-spread circulation in Chicago particularly in the civil rights centers where the war against poverty was being fought such as in the Woodlawn area, the west side and north side of Chicago. WEST suggested that the centers to be contacted be the ones being run by The Woodlawn Organization (TWO), the SCLC Center on the west side of Chicago and the Jobs for Income Now (JOIN) on the north side of Chicago.

(CG T-2, 1/12/66)

On February 8, 1966, CP of Illinois State Board held a meeting at the residence of LOU DISKIN, CP of Illinois State Board member.

During the meeting EARL DURHAM gave a report on the civil rights struggle in the Chicago area and in this connection mentioned that the forces of the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING have concluded their probing effort on the civil rights question in Chicago and have decided to designate the elimination of slums in Chicago as their main objective. He also noted that they had designated a number of economic issues which will be involved in their drive to end slums.

DURHAM then commented on the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO) and noted that there are 35 civil rights organizations represented in the CCCO, and these organizations as well as the CCCO have found it difficult to gear themselves to the SCLC program. DURHAM noted that not withstanding this difficulty, the relationship between the CCCO and the SCLC leadership has been good. DURHAM said that the SCLC leaders intend to operate independently but that the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING definitely is the guiding leader of the SCLC.

By way of explanation DURHAM noted that the Reverend JAMES BEVEL, KING's permanent representative in Chicago, can be independent because he had a financial grant of his own. DURHAM noted that apparently the SCLC and its staff in Chicago are not wanting for money.

DURHAM pointed out that the SCLC is organizing the City of Chicago into various sections. These sections include the near north side, the west side, the north section of the Woodlawn area and the south section of the Woodlawn area. The Reverend JAMES BEVEL in addition to being the main speaker for the SCLC in Chicago, is also the leader of the west side section.

DURHAM stated that the SCLC and the CCCO have liaison between themselves and exchange ideas. DURHAM stated that he himself has established a relationship with people in both the CCCO and the SCLC and has participated in a limited way in some of the overall planning.

DURHAM noted that in connection with the Independent Labor Committee, he, DURHAM, and HERB WRIGHT, CP of Illinois State Board member, are members of the Independent Labor Committee of the CCCO and will perhaps be able to play a role in organizing tenant councils, rent freezing and assist in obtaining signatures to petitions to control the payment of rent by tenants residing in Chicago slums.

DURHAM then pointed out that in reference to the civil rights organization called ACT, representatives of ACT were also engaged in independent civil rights work on the west side of Chicago. DURHAM mentioned that LAWRENCE LANDRY, Head of ACT, had been called in by the Reverend JAMES BEVEL. BEVEL had asked LANDRY, for advice on how the SCLC should proceed on the west side of Chicago and LANDRY had failed to produce a satisfactory program for BEVEL.

DURHAM noted that BEVEL is exercising caution with LANDRY because LANDRY has a definite tendency towards black nationalism leading to violence. DURHAM pointed out, nevertheless, that the ACT forces are becoming increasingly active with the SCLC on the west side.

DURHAM stated that in reference to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), no one has heard much from this organization. In reference to the Negro-American Labor Council (NALC), DURHAM stated that the NALC only exists on paper and remains strictly an executive type organization.

DURHAM summarized by noting that in reference to the civil rights struggle in Chicago, all activity seems to be centering around the activities of the SCLC and the SCLC intends to push its program in Chicago for the next one and one-half to two years providing its objectives take that long.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman of the CP of Illinois, who was in attendance, next spoke and commented that the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING and his civil rights movement has been discussed by the National CP leadership. LIGHTFOOT noted it was the conclusion of the National Office of the CP that the major civil rights activity has shifted from the South and is now concentrated in Chicago.

LIGHTFOOT pointed out that the CP National Office also reasons that the Reverend KING came to Chicago because Chicago was a typical "Jim Crow" northern city and if KING can break down some of the discrimination and clear up some of the economic problems which the Negro faces in the ghetto in Chicago, then the same problems can be cleared up in other northern cities.

JAMES WEST, CP of Illinois State Board member, then spoke and indicated that there are many economic issues involved in the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's program, such as price gauging and wage garnishments. WEST stated that the CP should consider injecting some of its program into the freedom movement. WEST stated that some of the issues that should be injected are as follows:

A. Freezing real estate taxes
B. Abolishment of wage garnishments
C. The organization of tenant councils
D. A program of rent controls for slum areas.

WEST concluded that these are the issues that the CP should attempt to integrate into the civil rights movement.

(CG T-4, 2/14/66)

On February 13, 1966, the CP of Illinois State Board held a meeting at a private residence at Chicago, Illinois. Among those attending this meeting was GUS HALL, General Secretary of CP, USA. The meeting was called to discuss the SCLC civil rights movement in Chicago and the CP's responsibilities relative to this movement.

EARL DURHAM, Chairman of the CP of Illinois inactive Negro Commission, was asked to comment on this issue for the benefit of those present as well as HALL and DURHAM began his comments by noting for HALL's benefit the fact that he was about to consider a proposal to become a fulltime employee within the civil rights movement. DURHAM explained the fact that he was offered a position with a community civil rights organization and explained the details. GUS HALL upon hearing DURHAM's explanation, was elated over the possibility of DURHAM achieving such a position and those present, including HALL, discussed the ramifications of DURHAM accepting such a position in terms of the possibility that DURHAM's Communist background might be exposed and create security problems for him.

After some discussion, however, all those in attendance agreed that DURHAM should fight to achieve this civil rights position and recommendations were also discussed as to relieving DURHAM of some of his CP responsibilities.

Following the aforementioned discussion, DURHAM then gave a report on the civil rights movement in Chicago with emphasis on the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's activities.

Following DURHAM's generalized report, it was announced that DURHAM had with him certain proposals reduced to writing whereby the CP would implement its work in the civil rights field, particularly in connection with the KING movement. DURHAM was asked to read these proposals which he did and the proposals as read indicated that since Chicago has become the national focal point of the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's movement, a new stage of the civil rights drive had been created and this stage could be characterized as the crossroads where the civil right struggle would meet the class struggle.

It was pointed out that the Chicago civil rights struggle had as its goal the elimination of slums particularly in the Negro ghetto and that these slums were where the jobless could be found, where the lowest paid class could be found and where the most exploited and oppressed sections could be sighted. It was stated that in order to achieve unity in the civil rights struggle, an approach should be adopted which would unite labor and other sections of the city with the Chicago civil rights struggle. In connection with this unity approach, it was stated that the CP could make its contributions by following the program proposed by the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING.

In connection with this KING program and the CP of Illinois' efforts to implement KING's program, it was suggested and proposed that the CP National Office find an experienced individual to conduct one or two weeks research and then write the CP's program relative to slums in Chicago. This recommendation should set forth the following partial demands:

1. Freeze rent and property taxes on slum home owners
2. Establish a ceiling of 10 per cent total interest charge per annum
3. Abolish all garnishments.

It was stated that around the three mentioned demands additional campaigns could be developed including petitions, rallies, delegations, picket lines, etc.

The next proposal for the CP was the question of establishing within the civil rights movement a Negro-labor alliance.

In this connection it was stated that there is a need for parallel action from the ranks of labor to supplement the civil rights movement and this labor action should particularly emphasize the equal rights movement. And also in connection with labor and civil rights, it was recommended that a program be proposed by the CP which would call for the joint activity of labor and civil rights for the recognition of a teachers union in the civil rights struggle. Also CP programs should suggest undertaking a struggle for the recognition of a new social workers union.

It was stated that the new Independent Labor Committee associated with CCCO and the Chicago Labor Forum, should be the two labor organizations which should take the leadership position in building unity between labor and the civil rights struggle.

It was next pointed out that the CP program should recommend that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT write an overall comprehensive document which should be entitled, "Strategy for Victory in Chicago". It was recommended that LIGHTFOOT's document be published in about 10,000 copies. Also suggested was that the CP undertake the issuance of a newsletter on a twice-monthly basis with articles written by CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and others and that this newsletter be designed for mass mailing.

It was next proposed that the CP program should call for a wide distribution of "The Worker" and the distribution of copies of "The Worker" at west side rallies. It was recommended that a "shock troop" of some four to five volunteers be organization for this purpose and that this shock troop concentrate on the west side. Also in this connection it was recommended that a city wide team of from seven to eight CP members be chosen to distribute "The Worker" at mass meetings, demonstrations, etc. It was next suggested that "The Worker" undertake the preparation of feature articles on the civil rights struggle in Chicago.

The tentative plan read by DURHAM at this meeting proposed that HERB WRIGHT, CP of Illinois State Board member, and three other CP members, be assigned to work with the west side DuBois Club with the objective of building a tenant union based on the DuBois Freedom Center on the west side. It was pointed out that such a concentration would help to build mass Du Bois Clubs in Chicago, recruit 20 CP members, and the CP members assigned would assure that the necessary attention would be given to the building of the DuBois Clubs. In this connection it was also stated that the CP National Office should be requested to make available $1,000 for a part-time youth organization on the west side.

The next recommendation read by DURHAM was relative to other areas in Chicago that CP of Illinois members should be assigned to work in such as the Kenwood and Oakland areas. It was also proposed that ISHMAEL FLORY and one other CP member be designated to work in the near north area of Chicago. The objective in the near north area would be to build the civil rights movement in the area, to establish a Du Bois Club on the south side and the near north side, and to recruit 10 CP members, five from each area.

It was also noted at this point that in planning for CP summer projects in Chicago, a priority should be given to plans concentrating on the west side and the Kenwood, Oakland and near north areas.

DURHAM next proposed that relative to finances the CP's budget for the year should include the necessary finances to assure fulfilling the objectives of the CP plan which would finally be published outlining the concentration recommendations. It was stated that proposals submitted to the CP National Office connected with this plan should request $2,000 from the National Office plus whatever other forces the CP of Illinois could obtain from the National Office.

DURHAM's final recommendation was that following the issuance of an overall plan of work for the CP National Office, a special meeting or series of meetings be held to mobilize the entire CP for this project.

(CG T-2, 2/14/66)

On February 22, 1966, CP of Illinois State Board held a meeting in Chicago, Illinois.

During this meeting BLAINE WISHART, CP of Illinois member, reported on the status of the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs in Chicago. During this report it was mentioned that the only Du Bois Club on the west side of Chicago was located at the Du Bois Center under the leadership of CHUCK HARRIS. WISHART noted that the Du Bois Club on the west side of Chicago under HARRIS' leadership had become very active in the work of the SCLC on the west side and had been primarily active in organizing tenant unions. WISHART also pointed out that the Du Bois Club on the west side had been active with the SCLC in working out a jobs program and through this activity had secured some jobs for Negro youths on the west side. It was also stressed that one member of the W.E.B. Du Bois Center in Chicago is on the SCLC staff in the Lawndale area.

WISHART in his report noted that there would be a CP summer project again this year and that the main political direction of the project in Chicago would hinge around the civil rights struggle with the Du Bois Clubs trying to play a role in the struggle on economic issues. WISHART also recommended that the DuBois Clubs during the summer project try to win more white youth to the struggle on civil rights.

In connection with the CP summer project in Chicago, WISHART stated that it was proposed that approximately 10 fulltime CP youths be involved in the project. Six of these individuals should come from the Chicago area and four from outside of Chicago. Three of the six from Chicago would come from the West side with one outsider participating with this group. Three would be centered in the near north side area where it was expected these individuals would attempt to open a Du Bois Center similar to the center on the west side. WISHART proposed the west side center continue to try to develop an independent left force on the west side in the civil rights struggle in an attempt to raise the level of the tenants struggle. WISHART also noted that during the summer project an additional emphasis would be placed on obtaining more jobs for Negro youths.

WISHART noted there had been some discussion at the level of the CP's National Office in an effort to develop a campaign for a youth "economic bill of rights". It was hoped that this matter would be pursued and drafted into legislative form in an effort to have such a bill passed by Congress.

WISHART also pointed out that the CP summer youth project would stress Negro history and the Negro's history in labor.

(CG T-2, 2/23/66)

On March 8, 1966, the CP of Illinois State Board met at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois.

During the course of this meeting, EARL DURHAM reported to the board on his new job with SWAP. DURHAM indicated that the advantages of his new job relative to the CP are that it would allow him many united front relationships.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, who was in attendance following DURHAM's resume warned DURHAM to take it easy in the development of his united front relationships because of his CP background, but he encouraged him to establish these relationships before there was any red-baiting.

LIGHTFOOT also advised the State Board that DURHAM in his new job would be responsible for organizing and guiding some of the CP's leaders in mass work in the Negro field. LIGHTFOOT indicated that DURHAM would be responsible, for directing CHUCK HARRIS of the West Side DuBois Club in civil rights activity. LIGHTFOOT also directed that all the CP of Illinois State Board members should be particularly careful in their relationships with him so they would not jeopardize DURHAM's with any sectarianism.

(CG T-2, 3/10/66)

On April 5, 1966, the CP of Illinois State Board met at a private residence in Chicago, Illinois. One of the reports delivered to this meeting was a report by EARL DURHAM on some problems in the civil rights movement in Chicago.

DURHAM stated that he did not wish to give a formal estimate of how things were going in the civil rights movement but he did wish to discuss some problems that had developed.

DURHAM identified these problems as 1.) The relationship of the labor movement to the civil rights movement;

2.) Some problems of internal unity in the civil rights movement.

In connection with the second point on unity, DURHAM stated that within the movement, a great deal of dissatisfaction exists due to the lack of specific programming on the drive to end slums. According to DURHAM, one question being debated among the various civil rights organizations is whether the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING of the SCLC should continue to meet with Mayor RICHARD J. DALEY. Another issue being debated is whether AL RABY, Convenor of the CCCO, is being ignored by Mayor DALEY. DURHAM stated that if RABY is being ignored it appears that there is an attempt by the DALEY's administration to split the civil rights movement, that is, to split the CCCO from the SCLC. member of Coordinating Council of Community Organizations

DURHAM stated that another problem on unity is the relationship of the various parts of the SCLC to each other. DURHAM stated that some SCLC staff members are responsible for the SCLC training program and these staff members conduct their parts of the program as if they have no relationship except training to the rest of the organizations within the civil rights movement. DURHAM noted that as an example, the Rev. JAMES BEVEL of the SCLC staff has the only organized expression of the SCLC movement as is evidenced when he, BEVEL, helped organize the East Garfield Community Councils. DURHAM stated that both of these movements, that is, the SCLC training program and the activities of the Rev. BEVEL, have an extremely limited relationship with the CCCO. Therefore, there is no unified program as yet for the entire city.

In connection with the problem of the relationship of the labor movement to the civil rights movement in Chicago, DURHAM stated that most of the United Auto Workers Union of America (UAW) leadership relate more directly to the SCLC rather than to the CCCO. This has caused many problems, particularly around where labor should send its forces in the civil rights movement.

DURHAM commented that both of these problems need to be of concern to the CP since the CP of Illinois must play a unifying role and this role can only be carried out by a fight in the labor movement for labor's participation in the civil rights struggle.

JAMES WEST next spoke and endorsed the analysis of DURHAM and commented that he had met with some labor leaders who also recognized the problem of whether the Rev. KING should meet with Mayor DALEY. WEST stated, however, that what the labor forces do not realize is that the very existence of the SCLC in Chicago has already forced certain concessions from City Hall.

WEST further commented that the United Packinghouse Workers of America have announced that they will attempt to organize civil rights freedom centers in the various communities and also try to develop programs for the unemployed and the under-employed.

WEST also stated that there is still the problem of petitioning the labor movement to undertake programs relating to credit buying by Negroes. In this connection, WEST proposed that the CP of Illinois try to get the NALC to prepare and issue, a white paper dealing with this problem and then assist in stimulating publicity and discussion around the issue raised by the white paper.

WEST concluded, however, that the labor movement in Chicago is not yet in the civil rights movement but that if there is enough pressure from the CP the labor movement may move.

During the course of this meeting, JAMES WEST also proposed that a subcommittee of the CP of Illinois State Board be set up to work out the details of a proposed CP plan in the civil rights movement. This proposal was accepted and the subcommittee will consist of JAMES WEST, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, and EARL DURHAM.

(CG T-2, 4/7/66)

c.) CP of Illinois Industrial Council

It was learned on February 14, 1966, that HERB WRIGHT, CP of Illinois State Board member, and JAMES WEST, CP of Illinois staff member, had met to discuss the CP of Illinois State Board proposal that the CP of Illinois members active in industrial work be mobilized to work into the Chicago civil rights movement.

It is understood that WEST and WRIGHT agreed that CP of Illinois members active in industrial work meet on February 25, 1966, where the CP of Illinois program will be explained to them. It is also understood that as a part of this program, JAMES WEST planned to contact representatives of the United Packinghouse Workers of America and see if they would not undertake a program to organize tenant locals within the civil rights movement in Chicago. WEST was also going to request this union to circulate petitions asking for rent control in the slum areas of Chicago. It was WEST's belief that if the big unions in Chicago would get behind some of these proposals, then the unions with the help of CP members active in them, could possibly organize as many as 25 tenant councils in the Chicago area. WEST believed that this effort would be a major contribution in which CP members, also members of the unions, could participate.

(CG T-4, 2/14/66)

On February 25, 1966, the Industrial Council, CP of Illinois, met at 4840 South Parkway, Chicago, Illinois.

JAMES WEST delivered the main report at this meeting and spoke on the SCLC "revolution" in Chicago.

WEST, during his report, noted that the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING's movement in the civil rights area must not fail and must be supported by the CP of Illinois in every possible way. WEST noted that the organization structure, tactics and program of the SCLC movement are the same that the Party would use. WEST stated that CP members will join all mass religious and workers organizations in support of the KING movement. He said that this was necessary because by supporting KING, the working class movement would move forward and would reach higher levels of struggle.

WEST stated that there is a natural alliance between KING's movement and the Negro people and the CP will join the KING movement specifically in the task of organizing the unorganized and the unemployed workers. According to WEST, the CP would also organize the "under-employed" workers which he described as the part-time workers and those who do not earn a living wage although employed full time.

HERB WRIGHT, who also attended this meeting, spoke briefly and called for volunteers to become active in the SCLC west side program to clean up slums. TED WILBURN who was present, agreed to assist on this project.

WEST again spoke during this meeting and noted that the current CP program is sound, that the climate is excellent, and that because of these conditions, people will begin to move. He noted that the CP was emphasizing support of the MARTIN LUTHER KING organization because KING's organization was reaching the people through various forms of organization, through slum unions, tenants' councils, rent strikes, etc.. WEST said that all of these are Marxist techniques whether the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING knows it or not. WEST said that the legality of KING's techniques is of no concern to the Party but the power structure is listening and they are concerned.

(CG T-5, 3/2/66)

d.) CP of Illinois Press Committee

On February 1, 1966, the CP of Illinois Press Committee as well as some members of the CP of Illinois State Board, held a meeting in a private residence in Chicago, Illinois.

JAMES WEST who attended this meeting, commented on the circulation of "The Worker" and during his remarks noted that the number 1 area for building subscriptions to "The Worker" is no longer the south side of Chicago but is now the west side of Chicago. WEST explained that the reason for this is that the major civil rights organization in the country, the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING's SCLC, now has its headquarters on the west side and the SCLC membership campaign in that area has opened up the west side for possible "Worker" subscriptions.

WEST stated that the CP of Illinois must develop a select group of at least eight people who will be available to sell "The Worker" at demonstrations held by various civil rights organizations.

(CG T-6, 2/2/66)

It is to be noted that "The Worker" is an east coast communist newspaper.

On February 20, 1966, a CP of Illinois press conference was held at the Midland Hotel, Chicago, Illinois.

During this conference, NATALIE MYERS, CP of Illinois member, gave the main report. MYERS' report primarily dealt with how to build the circulation of "The Worker" and in this connection she noted that out of the 120 quota for the CP of Illinois District, the west side of Chicago was being assigned the job of obtaining 40 new subscriptions because of the fact that the CP of Illinois had determined that the west side of Chicago would be the center of civil rights activities in the coming year. She explained that with the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING residing on the west side and because of his organization's activities, a favorable situation would be created to obtain these new subscriptions. MYERS stated that four CP members will be assigned from other areas to the west side and that these individuals would work out of the DuBois Club headquarters on the west side in order to assist in obtaining these new subscriptions.

MYERS also noted that 35 new subscriptions to "The Worker" would be purchased and given as gifts to leaders of civil rights groups and labor unions.

(CG T-1, 2/24/66)

e.) National Association for Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) CP of Illinois Caucus

On January 7, 1966, some members of the CP of Illinois leadership met with representatives of the CP of Illinois caucus active in the NAACP in Chicago. The main item discussed during this meeting related to the fact that the NAACP was seriously considering developing neighborhood branches. It was recommended that if the CP had any intention of developing local influence in this decentralization move, the CP should begin to prepare for it now so that CP members could become part of the neighborhood branches.

During the discussion, it developed that the Chicago Branch NAACP was not in agreement with the national office's wishes for decentralization and were fighting a delaying tactic but that notwithstanding the Chicago Branch's efforts to oppose the creation of neighborhood branches, the national office would force it into a decentralization move.

During the course of this meeting, EARL DURHAM directed that in order to prevent the local Chicago Branch from vetoing the development of neighborhood branches, LESTER DAVIS, CP of Illinois member, active in the Chicago Branch, would develop a chapter in his neighborhood and apply separately to the national office of the NAACP for a charter. It was stated that such action by DAVIS would change the character of the discussion at the branch level.

(CG T-2, 1/10/66)
(CG T-7, 1/10/66)

f.) W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of Chicago

It was learned in late January, 1966, that HERB WRIGHT, CP of Illinois Board member, had been in contact with CHARLES HARRIS, head of the West Side DuBois Club. member of W.E.B. DuBois [illegible]

It is understood that during this contact, WRIGHT discussed with HARRIS as well as other members of the West Side DuBois Club, the loss of active membership of the West Side DuBois Club. It was understood that at one time the West Side DuBois Club had a membership of 26 but at the present time only about five of these individuals actually function.

It is understood that CHARLES HARRIS attributed this weakness to the fact that the club's center had been destroyed by fire, the fire had damaged the club's records, and furthermore, the club and center lack the necessary funds to carry on a sustained program. It is understood that HARRIS recommended to WRIGHT that the club, for an active program, needed a budget of $200 per month.

It is also understood that HARRIS pointed out that CP of Illinois representatives to the DuBois Clubs, TED PEARSON and BLAINE WISHART, were the individuals who were supposed to work with the West Side DuBois Club, however, PEARSON had been out of the city for three months and WISHART, PEARSON's replacement, had been of very little help.

It is also understood that during this discussion, HARRIS emphasized that the West Side DuBois Club was very active in the civil rights movement on the west side and was working on a program which involved jobs, better housing, war on poverty and welfare.

(CG T-4, 1/20/66)

B. Other Communist Groups

Chicago Branch Socialist Workers Party (CBSWP)

During the past three months, the CBSWP has had no continuing program relative to the civil rights movement in Chicago. There have been no reports given at CBSWP meetings concerning the civil rights movement or organizations and members of the CBSWP have not engaged in any demonstrations.

CBSWP members have, however, continued to sell copies of "The Militant" at civil rights rallies such as the "Freedom Festival" which was held at McCormick Place in Chicago on March 12, 1966, and which was sponsored by the SCLC-CCCO, to raise funds for the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING's civil rights movement.

(CG T-8, 3/29/66)

"The Militant" is a weekly SWP newspaper.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. Coordinating Council of Community Organizations (CCCO) -- Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC)

1. Independent Labor Committee of the CCCO

On December 22,1965, Communist Party (CP) of Illinois members active in the Independent Labor Committee of the CCCO held a meeting at 1215 East 54th Street, Chicago. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the results of a meeting of the Labor Committee which had taken place on December 21, 1965.

EARL DURHAM, who attended this meeting, expressed his disappointment in the fact that NATE SHARPE and HERB WRIGHT, CP of Illinois members who are active in the Labor Committee, had not accepted a leadership position in the Labor Committee. DURHAM noted that because of this CP of Illinois members would now have to see to it that more CP members became active in the Labor Committee.

DURHAM also advised those in attendance that whatever program of action the Labor Committee adopts in the civil rights field the CP of Illinois members who are active in the Committee should make every effort to see that the program is acted upon. DURHAM noted in this regard that as yet the Independent Labor Committee has not indicated a willingness to cooperate with the SCLC. DURHAM directed that CP of Illinois members should see to it that this cooperation is made a part of the Labor Committee program.

In early January, 1966, EARL DURHAM directed that NATE SHARPE, CP of Illinois member, should see to it that he received an appointment to the Steering Committee of the Independent Labor Committee of the CCCO. Indications were that the Steering Committee would be appointed at a Labor Committee meeting which was scheduled to be held on or about January 18, 1966. It is understood that NATE SHARPE made no commitment to undertake the effort recommended by DURHAM.

(CG T-6, 1/20/66)

In early January, 1966, it was learned that NATE SHARPE, CP of Illinois member, had attended a meeting of the Financial Committee of the Independent Labor Committee of the CCCO and that during this meeting ways and means of raising financial support for the Labor Committee were discussed. It is also understood that during this meeting it was announced that the Labor Committee would work in conjunction with the SCLC as a means of building the membership of the Independent Labor Committee.

(CG T-6, 1/20/66)

On January 18, 1966, a meeting of the Independent Labor Committee of the CCCO was held at 459 East 63rd Street, Chicago. About 75 individuals attended this meeting and the following members of the CP of Illinois were in attendance: CHARLES WILSON; NATE SHARPE. /S,I,

During the course of this meeting those in attendance undertook a discussion as to a program for the Labor Committee. During this discussion it was decided that one of the first jobs to be undertaken by the Labor Committee was that of causing a change in the selection of Precinct Captains throughout Cook County. It was pointed out in this connection that in Cook County the Precinct Captains are appointed by the political party whereas in all other counties throughout the State of Illinois the Precinct Captains are elected by people within a political party.

It was announced that the SCLC had advised the Independent Labor Committee that they would support the Labor Committee in this undertaking.

Also during this meeting in regard to cooperating with the SCLC it was announced the SCLC had undertaken a program to end discrimination in the hiring practices of food store chains. It was explained that the SCLC contention is Negroes are mainly employed in chain stores located in the Negro ghetto areas of Chicago and not in stores which are located in white areas. It was stated that the SCLC would send a committee to the management of these chain stores and insist that Negroes be hired to work in all stores in the city. It was stated that if no action is taken then the chain store in question would be boycotted. The Labor Committee was asked to cooperate in this program.

(CG T-6, 1/20/66)

On February 10, 1966, a reception was held for the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING of the SCLC in Chicago, Illinois. This reception was sponsored by the Independent Labor Committee. Approximately 250 persons attended this reception and most of the individuals in attendance were from various labor unions in the Chicago area. CP of Illinois members observed at this reception included RALPH TURNER, WILL JONES, NATE SHARPE, and HERBERT WRIGHT.

(CG T-4, 2/14/66)

2. Cp of Illinois Members Active in CCCO-SCLC

On March 8, 1966, CP of Illinois members who are active in the civil rights activities of the SCLC held a meeting in Chicago, Illinois. The purpose of this meeting was to hear a report by GENE TOURNOUR on problems which were confronting the SCLC in organizing the East Garfield area on the west side of Chicago.

TOURNOUR advised this meeting that the SCLC was able to establish in the East Garfield area on the west side of Chicago community council type organizations. TOURNOUR indicated that the SCLC staff was to meet on March 9, 1966, to establish an organization for this purpose. TOURNOUR reported that the SCLC and other groups working with them had held several meetings to discuss this proposed organization and there had been a united front effort during these meetings which included the W.E.B. DuBois Club on the west side of Chicago. However, TOURNOUR pointed out that during a meeting held on March 7, 1966, a discussion had developed whereby some of the leadership of the proposed community councils raised the question as to whether the W.E.B. Du Bois Club should be permitted to participate when the formal organization was set up.

TOURNOUR reported that the essence of the discussion was the exclusion of the DuBois Club and because of this TOURNOUR was afraid that this particular position by the leadership might be used as a reason to get CHUCK HARRIS, West Side DuBois Club leader. TOURNOUR pointed out that many of the individuals active in the leadership of these proposed councils had been extremely critical of HARRIS and that because of this such a step against HARRIS could be taken. TOURNOUR noted, however, that ideologically the greater group in attendance at these discussions was against exclusion.

TOURNOUR advised that he was raising this question because he desired the CP of Illinois leadership to approach HARRIS and caution HARRIS against coming to the organizational meeting with a belligerent attitude. TOURNOUR noted that HARRIS's united front work had left much to be desired in the past and unless HARRIS understands how to work with people in these area councils HARRIS could isolate himself.

As a result of TOURNOUR's request it was the decision of the group to refer the matter to CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman of the CP of Illinois, at a CP of Illinois State Board meeting because it was LIGHTFOOT's position that the united front relationship established by the DuBois Club and the SCLC on the west side of Chicago was too important to be dissipated by the sectarian action of one individual.

(CG T-2, 3/10/66)

Relative to the CP of Illinois attempts to infiltrate the CCCO-SCLC grouping, it has been the CP of Illinois' position that CP collectives be formed of CP of Illinois members who were designated to become active in the CCCO-SCLC grouping on the west side of Chicago. However, the CP of Illinois has had no success in forming its proposed collectives.

For a while there were regular meetings of a group on Sunday mornings and it was hoped this group would broaden its base into a collective; however, these meetings are no longer being held. Currently the CP of Illinois has nothing organized which could be considered as even a beginning of such a collective.

In the Independent Labor Committee of the CCCO, HERB WRIGHT, NATE SHARPE and RALPH TURNER are members of the Committee, but so far no definite collective has been formed. At the present time the Independent Labor Committee is definitely not under CP of Illinois control.

Because of the lack of success and because the CP national office has taken an interest in the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING's SCLC activity in Chicago the CP of Illinois has appointed a subcommittee of the CP of Illinois State Board composed of JAMES WEST, EARL DURHAM and CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT. This committee has been established to work out specific details for a CP plan in the civil rights movement generally with particular emphasis on the civil rights movement in Chicago. This subcommittee will attempt to finalize proposals for action for the CP, however, to date this committee has not met.

NEW DAY BOOKS, INC., d/b/a Modern Book Store

On May 5, 1965, a source advised that the Modern Book Store is presently located at 56 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and is operated by LOU DISKIN, a current member of the District Board, Communist Party(CP) of Illinois.

The Modern Book Store (MBS) today is the direct line successor to the original Workers Book Store, 23 South Lincoln Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, established by the CP in the 1920s ostensibly under the ownership of SAM HAMMERSMARK, a charter member of the CP.

The aim and purpose of the MBS is to act as a receiver and purveyor for Marxist-Leninist literature as well as publications of the CP, USA.

While from its origin and through the present time the MBS has been publicly announced as privately owned and operated, it is covertly controlled by the CP. The CP subsidizes the MBS from time to time, purchases literature through this outlet and makes up financial losses sustained therewith. The CP utilizes the MBS as a working point for CP of Illinois functionaries in regard to organizational and educational activities.

Records of the Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois, reflect that on March 18, 1964, New Day Books, Inc., 56 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, was incorporated in the State of Illinois. Its listed registered agent was LOUIS DISKIN.

A second source advised on May 4, 1965, that LOU DISKIN had stated the MBS was incorporated as New Day Books, Inc., during March, 1964, but publicly and in Party circles it continues to use the name Modern Book Store.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS
OF CHICAGO (DCC)

On May 3, 1965, a source advised that on June 30, 1964, a group of young people who attended the founding convention of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA), met in Chicago and adopted a statement of purpose and constitution forming the DCC as an affiliate of the national DCA.

This source further advised that at a meeting of the Chicago Area of the Midwest Region of the DCA held April 3, 1965, the boundary of the Chicago Area was established to include all of Illinois north of Springfield, Illinois, and all of Indiana. At this meeting, TED PEARSON, Chairman of the Youth Club of the Communist Party of Illinois, was elected Area Coordinator.

A second source advised on November 26, 1965, that as of November, 1965, TED PEARSON continues to be the Chicago Area Coordinator of the DCA and the official headquarters is located at the PEARSON apartment, 1808 North Cleveland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

The second source advised that there is currently only one club operating in the Chicago Area and that is on the west side. This club operates a Freedom Center at 2829 West Lake Street, which is open seven days a week to the teenagers on the west side.

Synopsis: This report covers the period 1/1/66-3/31/66. CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT and HERBERT APTHEKER, CP functionaries, stated Negroes have not achieved full equality under capitalism but socialism would alleviate this problem. IRVING GOFF, District Organizer, CPEPD, emphasized the importance of the Negro people's struggle, which is the key to achievement toward socialism in the U.S. At annual conference of ICC in February 1966 the civil rights panel, led by a CP member, adopted the resolutions that discrimination in all forms be abolished, Negro representation be increased, and Girard College be desegregated.

A. PLANS, STRATEGY, PARTY LINE, AND THE LIKE MADE AT NATIONAL MEETINGS INCLUDING EXPRESSIONS BY NATIONAL AND OTHER FUNCTIONARIES

On January 31, 1966, and February 8, 1966, Confidential Informants PH T-1 and PH T-2, respectively, advised a forum sponsored by the Philadelphia Social Science Forum Committee (PSSFC) was held on January 28, 1966, at the Hotel Philadelphia, Broad and Wood Streets, Philadelphia.

A characterization of the PSSFC appears in the appendix section of this report.

SONDRA "SANDY" PATRINOS, a member of the Youth Club, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware, (CPEPD) acted as Chairlady of this affair and introduced CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT as spokesman for the CPUSA. She announced the program listed a debate between LIGHTFOOT and Attorney HARDY WILLIAMS, President of the Barristers Club, on the subject: "Resolved, that full Negro equality cannot be achieved under capitalism." LIGHTFOOT was to take the affirmative.

On January 26, 1966, PH T-3 advised CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT is a leading functionary of the Communist Party (CP) of Illinois and head of the National Negro Commission, CPUSA.

LIGHTFOOT at the beginning of his speech commented on the absence of an opponent and asked for a volunteer from the audience but nobody volunteered.. He stated the Negro under capitalism can achieve a certain amount of freedom, but he is not really equal to the white man unless he has the same means and the same wealth. While it is true some Negroes own their own businesses the Negroes do not enjoy the same opportunities in business and professional circles as white people. A socialist form of government would benefit all the people and not just a privileged few. LIGHTFOOT further stated the various Congressional committees usually headed by Southern Congressmen have been successful in holding back the Negroes. He indicated the only way to overcome this obstacle was to vote these people out of office.

On March 22, 1966, Confidential Informant PH T-4 advised that on the evening of March 21, 1966, HERBERT APTHEKER appeared at a meeting jointly sponsored by students of Swarthmore, Haverford, and Bryn Mawr Colleges. This meeting was held in Goodhart Hall at Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa. APTHEKER, reading from a prepared script, traced the history of the Negro from the revolutionary times through the Civil War, up to the present time. He stated that even today the Negro has not reached a full citizenship status in the United States. The reason for this is that United States still adheres to a policy of imperialism. In addition, he stated the United States also adheres to a policy of colonialism. He felt that socialism would alleviate this problem.

HERBERT APTHEKER is described under the characterization of the American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS), which appears in the appendix section of this report.

B. PLANS, STRATEGY, PARTY LINE, AND THE LIKE MADE AT DISTRICT AND LOWER LEVEL MEETINGS INCLUDING EXPRESSIONS BY LOCAL LEADERS AND RANK-AND-FILE MEMBERS

On February 25, 1966, PH T-2 advised that at a meeting of the District Board, CPEPD, held on February 21, 1966, IRVING GOFF, District Organizer, gave a report on the civil rights movement. He emphasized the importance of the Negro people's struggle in the civil rights movement and stated this struggle is the key to the achievement of socialism in the United States. GOFF emphasized the CP must understand this before it can re-establish its ties with the Negro people. According to GOFF, the CP has become isolated because it did not see the need to wage a struggle in the civil rights movement. The CP let the Negro people do it themselves. As a result he proposed the establishment of a Negro commission within the CPEPD which would keep the CP informed on all matters in the civil rights movement and possibly enable the Party to get into a position to give leadership.

On March 25, 1966, PH T-2 advised the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC) held its annual conference on February 26, 1966, at the Heritage House, Broad and Master Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. Approximately 200 people were in attendance at this affair. This conference is held yearly to draw up a program for the work of the ICC during that calendar year. The civil rights panel led by BENJAMIN FRANKLIN AYCOX, JR., a member of the District Board, CPEPD, recommended the following resolutions, which were adopted:

1. Abolish discrimination in all forms

2. Increase Negro representation

3. Desegregate Girard College.

A characterization of the ICC appears in the appendix section of this report.

On March 14, 1966, PH T-5 advised that on March 3, 1966, an enlarged meeting of club organizers of the CPEPD was held at 39 East Walnut Lane, Philadelphia, Pa. According to IRVING GOFF the purpose of this meeting was to examine the civil rights movement. He stated the civil rights movement was not a movement tied to any political party but a movement which grew out of the struggle of the Negro for equality in this country. These struggles have had a tremendous impact on this country. As a result the question has been raised whether or not the Negro people can achieve full equality under capitalism. According to GOFF it was clear to a communist that the struggle for equality on the part of Negroes was part of the old class struggle. He related the nature of capitalism has made it impossible for the Negro to achieve full equality. Capitalism is based upon suppression not only of the Negro people but of the whole working class. It is through the exploitation of the working class that the capitalist class achieves its greatest riches.

The CP must fight for the elimination of segregation and indicated only a socialist society could bring full equality to the Negro people.

Characterization of Organizations

PHILADELPHIA SOCIAL SCIENCE FORUM COMMITTEE (PSSFC)

A source advised on November 14 and 17, 1958 that a meeting of the District Education Commission, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), was held November 13, 1958, at 3425 Powelton Avenue, Philadelphia. At this meeting DANIEL RUBIN, the District Education Director, presented a proposal for a series of forums under the nominal sponsorship of the Philadelphia Social Science Forum Committee (PSSFC). The source stated that PSSFC was merely a paper organization and this series of forums was organized by the District Education Commission (CPEPD) and had to be approved by the District Committee (CPEPD) before being put into effect.

This source stated on June 12, 1959; November 5, 1959; and October 21, 1960 that the PSSFC remained under the control of the District Education Commission, CPEPD.

A second source reported on October 9, 1961, that the District Executive Committee (DEC), CPEPD, met on October 2, 1961, and approved plans to hold and to support a new series of forums of PSSFC beginning November 10, 1961, and ending in May, 1962.

The second source on May 8, 1964 advised that the main purpose of the PSSFC is to bring to Philadelphia well known speakers who have a pro-Communist point of view. Included among the speakers each year are national leaders of the Communist Party, USA.

The second source added on May 27, 1965 that the PSSFC continued to meet during 1962, 1963, 1964, and 1965 and that it remains under the control of the CPEPD.

CONFIDENTIAL (U)

INDEPENDENT CITIZENS COMMITTEE (ICC)

A source advised the Independent Citizens Committee (ICC) was initiated and formed by the Communist Party, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD), in October, 1962 to build a left-center organization which would be able to initiate political activity. As of May 4, 1964, the policies of the ICC were dominated by the CPEPD through Communist Party members who were officers and members of the ICC.

On May 21, 1965 this same source advised the ICC continues to operate under the domination of the CPEPD.

DETAILS:

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party, USA

On January 20, 1966, there was a meeting of nine persons, four of whom were identified by the informant as Communist Party (CP) members and one as a former CP member. This group planned a meeting for representatives of various political action and left-oriented groups in the San Diego area.

Excluded from automatic downgrading and declassification

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Reports were given of contacts that had been made with other organizations requesting that they send representatives to a meeting on January 28, 1966. It was decided that the general topics to be discussed at the meeting would be de facto segregation in schools and how best to take political action in support of candidates and issues favorable to minority groups.

(SD T-1, January 24, 1966)

At a CP meeting on January 27, 1966, there was a general discussion of the San Diego Coordinating Council for Social Action (SDCCSA). It was stated that the council would deal with civil rights, de facto segregation and peace. The CP club approved the general approach and participation of CP members in this council. There was a discussion as to how active a part the CP members should play without actually taking over the council, but no firm decision was reached. MORTIMER ALTMAN, identified by the informant as an active CP member, favored more control and more CP participation while others felt that the CP should remain in the background.

According to the informant, the CP members are, in fact, completely dominating the council and its activities.

(SD T-1, February 1, 1966)

At a CP meeting on February 7, 1966, MORTIMER ALTMAN said that the SDCCSA was much more important than the reactivation of the "People's World" Discussion Club. He said the council will eventually have representation from 25 different clubs or organizations.

(SD T-2, February 15, 1966)

The "People's World" is a west coast communist newspaper.

SD 100-13295

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

On January 28, 1966, there was a meeting of the SDCCSA attended by 51 persons. LEE MAJOR, identified by the informant as an active CP member, opened the meeting with a general introduction of the agenda, which included de facto segregation, segregation in the cities and civil rights in the segregated areas.

The chairman of the meeting appointed a representative of the Negro Political Association to prepare a report on the political situation and its relation to the Negro people.

(SD T-1, February 1, 1966)

At an executive committee meeting of the SDCCSA on March 10, 1966, three committees were formed. One of these committees was named the Civil Rights Committee with LEE MAJOR as co-chairman.

(SD T-2, March 11, 1966)

At a meeting of the Economics Committee of the SDCCSA, on March 22, 1966, it was decided that one of the problems to be presented to a future council meeting concerned the unbalance of the ratio of Negro unemployed to the total unemployed and what steps can be taken to change this ratio.

fields, including civil rights, and the time has come to assume responsibility; that otherwise the CP will never play the role for which it was intended.

(SL T-1 January 26, 1966)

During a meeting of CP leaders in early January, 1966, WALKER commented that he expected EUGENE TOURNOUR to be in St. Louis the coming weekend at which time he, TOURNOUR, would talk to "some people" re the possibility of starting a chapter of the MARTIN LUTHER KING movement in this city; the long range plan would be to have various small civil rights oriented groups merge into the KING movement. WALKER asserted he was making an effort to contact some people with whom TOURNOUR might logically speak while in St. Louis. Another local CP leader commented that TOURNOUR is working toward merging various civil rights groups in Chicago and the outlook appears favorable. WALKER then commented that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) are the most active civil rights groups in the United States today, but both have their principal activity in the South. He said if either of the two groups were to make a serious attempt to set up chapters in the Negro ghettos of the North, there would be a good chance of drawing members from other less active civil rights groups such as the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

(SL T-2 January 4, 1966)

HERSHEL J. WALKER asserted he expected Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, National Head of SCLC, might come to St. Louis sometime in January, 1966, and he, WALKER, desired KING to talk to some "key people" in the civil rights movement. He further asserted he would like some of these individuals to be ministers and further said he was making an effort to establish such contacts.

(SL T-2 January 4, 1966)

In his conversation with other CP leaders in early January, 1966, WALKER also said he planned to talk to EUGENE TOURNOUR regarding former service car drivers and their struggle with Bi-State Transit Company. WALKER said he desired to get TOURNOUR's opinion about this situation and what might be done.

Source previously advised in December, 1965, that the St. Louis Chapter of CORE has boycotted Bi-State Transit buses operating on the Wellston, Page, and Hodiamont Lines. Bi-State bought out a service car company which served primarily Negro travelers in these areas and left them jobless. WALKER requested ORVIL T. LEACH, veteran CP member, to keep abreast of this boycott and advise local leaders for possible supporting activity.

(SL T-2 December 7, 1965
January 4, 1966)

As of September, 1965, EUGENE JOSEPH TOURNOUR was considered by the leadership of the CP of Illinois to be a CP member. He was meeting regularly with these leaders to keep them abreast of his work in the civil rights field.

TOURNOUR served as Midwest Regional Secretary of CORE in Chicago from the summer of 1964 until he was fired by the National CORE Office in January, 1965. He continued to work surreptitiously as a staff member until June, 1965, when the "Chicago Tribune" ran an article regarding his activity. This resulted in a public statement by the National Director of CORE which announced that TOURNOUR had been fired.

(SL T-3 September 13, 1965)

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

No information was developed.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

At a CP meeting January 30, 1966, ORVIL T. LEACH, who was assigned by the CP to work in "ACTION", pleaded for CP support in the sale of so-called Associate Member Cards. These were placed on sale by ACTION for $2.00. LEACH explained the organization is in dire financial straits. He said it took all the money available to handle the defense of PERCY GREEN, who was arrested for peace disturbance in a civil rights demonstration in St. Louis. Party leaders advised LEACH that civil rights groups such as ACTION should take another look at the habit of doing "silly things" in order to be arrested since it takes money or political pressure to "get out". They observed the civil rights organizations are in no position for either course of action. WILLIAM E. DAVIS, CP Industrial Area Leader, asserted that when the community is aflame and everyone is demonstrating, many things can be done with impunity. However, this situation does not prevail at present and individuals should govern themselves accordingly. CP members agreed to help LEACH sell Associate Membership Cards.

ACTION consists of a small group of dissidents headed by PERCY GREEN who left the St. Louis Chapter of CORE because they did not feel it was sufficiently militant. LEACH is the only CP member currently active in ACTION.

(SL T-2 February 17, 1966)

At a CP group meeting March 12, 1966, members were urged to become active in ACTION.

(SL T-4 March 14, 1966)

CP members are being urged to take out memberships in the St. Louis Chapter NAACP so that they will be eligible to vote in the branch election scheduled for November, 1966. CP members were told that support will be needed to elect a "liberal" slate.

(SL T-5 February 15, 1966)

The CP, while it has several members who are active in the St. Louis Chapter NAACP, does not exert any appreciable influence in the organization.

of discussion by TONY MASSA about Party matters and his ideas in relation to them. JOHN MC KENZIE criticized MASSA and expressed the belief that they were moving too fast on Negro-white unity. TONY MASSA was criticized by GLORIA MASSA for talking too much about himself. JOHN MC KENZIE proposed that TONY and GLORIA MASSA visit JOHN and IVORY MC KENZIE often and be seen with the MC KENZIEs. He felt this would be a good start towards Negro-white unity.

On January 19, 1966, there was a meeting of certain members of the Erie County Communist Party at the home of MIROSLAW ZELMAN on Tifft Street in Buffalo. During this meeting ZELMAN told JOHN MC KENZIE that he would be required to give his report on civil rights at the next Communist Party membership meeting. In a discussion of matters relating to the Cold Springs Club of the Erie County Communist Party, ZELMAN cautioned JOHN MC KENZIE not to let TONY and GLORIA MASSA take up too much of MC KENZIE's time because they would prevent MC KENZIE from pursuing goals of the Party in the Negro community.

MC KENZIE told MASSA to leave his landlord alone because that was his, MC KENZIE's, responsibility.

Synopsis:

BURT NELSON, NWDCP Chairman, and MILFORD SUTHERLAND, NWDCP Organizational Secretary, reported on their attendance at recent national CP meeting to NWDCP Committee 2/12-13/66. Organization of neighborhood groups to discuss peace, labor and civil rights was emphasized. In written report given to DC, following points covered: need for building trade union racial equality; advancing Negro comrades in leadership; extension of organizing drives in the South; placement of Negro candidates on state ballots; concentration on Negro population centers to develop Negro-white working class power; extension of party membership, etc. At subsequent meeting, SUTHERLAND presented list of proposals to be taken up at next national CP convention which included: discussion of Indian role; holding Washington State Negro conference; and building Negro-white unity in cities. DC membership took time out from meeting 2/13/66 to go to Seattle Negro area to distribute leaflets on JULIAN BOND, who was denied seat in Georgia State legislature. North Central CP Section Committee, Seattle, released report which included recommendations to help Negroes find places in basic industry and decisive unions; end de facto segregation in Seattle schools; and strengthen a Labor-Negro-Youth concentration policy. I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. COMMUNIST PARTY, USA (CP)

1. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries

An enlarged meeting of the Northwest District CP Committee (NWDCP) was held in Seattle, February 12 and 13, 1966. Those present were given copies of a "Report" based on notes made by BURT NELSON, NWDCP Chairman, and MILFORD SUTHERLAND, NWDCP Organizational Secretary, at a recent National CP meeting.

BURT NELSON made the main report based on items outlined in the distributed document. He was followed by SUTHERLAND who continued along the lines of this report. Among the items emphasized during a discussion period which followed the remarks of NELSON and SUTHERLAND was the establishment of neighborhood organizations where such questions as peace, labor and civil rights could be discussed.

The written report was addressed: "To DC Members and Invited Guests." The document is signed "Comradely, The State Leadership." It reads in part as follows:

"We take this extraordinary means of providing you with an extensive report of a recent national meeting. We wish you to consider it to be a priority assignment that you carefully study this report.

"Our purpose is to guarantee maximum preparation by all participants in our approaching meeting. The scope of the policy questions and the practical decisions before us and their urgency make it necessary to structure our meeting for action. All of us have much serious work to do to make our coming DC a success.

"Here are the principal matters before us:"

Among the seven items listed thereafter was the following:

"Planning our work in the civil rights field on the basis of the new stage of the civil rights struggle."

Subsequently, the report stated in part as follows:

"*Unity the key question, the central point of departure, the cornerstone around which we build our trade union policy:

-three specific areas of working class unity:
. unity of existing unions.
. unity of the whole class, especially Negro-white unity.
. unity of organized and unorganized through organizing the unorganized.

-the effect on the rank and file if the militant sections of the trade union movement were included in a united trade union movement; how the absence of this affected the potential of AFL-CIO unity.

-basic weakness with respect to Negro-white unity is the slowness of the trade union movement in taking up the fight for equality.
. the just system of seniority cannot be used to buttress 300 years of injustice.
. role of the Party in this struggle: especially an ideological role.

-on the organized and the unorganized:
. the gulf between them has widened.
. this gulf further reflected in other divisions: North v. South; employed and unemployed; Negro and white; youth and older workers.

-need: political mobilization of rank and file of the organized sectors of the working class; this goes to the roots of mass-class education.
. for us: major emphasis on this mobilization of the rank and file of the trade union movement moving toward building unity of the whole class.

"*Unity and our trade union policy:

-the working class cannot take on the class confrontation without such unity.

-the working class cannot become an independent political force without such unity.

-the Negro-white alliance cannot be built without such unity.

-cannot make a breakthrough in any field without such unity.

-the working class cannot play the role of a leading force in society without such unity.

-equally important with the question of unity is the campaign and struggle for such unity.

-this is the foundation of our trade union policy . . ."

"*Some ground rules for Party work in trade union field: we can be effective IF:

". . .if we remember Lenin's point: the working class cannot confine itself to the sphere of the economic struggle; yet the political and ideological struggle must be brought in from the outside.

. an example here: the crisis of the cities: cities are the residences of the working class; the crisis of the cities is a working class crisis. We approach it from this standpoint. We develop the struggle to resolve this crisis by raising the demand for Negro-working class representation, for working class-Negro power in the cities. We take this political position to the class, explain it to the class, win the class to a struggle for this position. . .

"The merging of the struggle of the Negro people and the class struggle:

*On the meaning of Watts:

-Watts raises a new question in the civil rights movement.

. expresses the misery of the system, the generations of poverty, the paucity of progress, the distance of the political parties and the civil rights organizations from the problem of the ghettoes.

. tie with class question: need to struggle for economic and political equality; struggle now must break down the economic barriers.

. need for grass roots organizations in the Negro communities.

. ghetto because of segregation, but slums because of exploitation.

-new stage: civil rights struggle meets the class struggle; challenges profit structure; exposes roots of jimcrow; new alliances, forms and methods; role of working class crucial. ..

"*Julian Bond case: serious questions:

-expresses how thin the veneer of belief in democracy.

-a link in the struggle for democracy and the struggle against imperialism, for national liberation.

-because of this, a pioneering role for us...

"*A growth in our membership, but not enough:

-a problem: how to open the doors to those who want to join?

-there are walls around us; we are afraid of people: how does one break through to join the Party?

-each district, section, club & member must review & take a new look at our political posture in relation to the people; from this set new goals, new quotas on Party growth.
-this must be a period of rebuilding & refreshing our Party.
-on Party functioning:
. committees of Party on all questions of functioning.
. move in direction of committee method of leadership.
. advance youth, Negro, working class, mass connected comrades in leadership . . .

"C. ON WORK IN THE SOUTH:
*See George Meyers current series of articles in the WORKER.
*Many examples of developing Negro-white unity.
*Draft being used against most militant Rights workers; LBJ catering to Dixiecrats on South policies in return for support of war.
*The organizing drives in the South: e.g. major organizing drive in San Antonio, Texas area to which 12 unions are committed.
*Importance of the emergence of Julian Bond: a young figure in the South, changing the political atmosphere in the South.

"D. ON THE MERGING OF THE NEGRO STRUGGLE AND THE CLASS STRUGGLE:
*Profound change in the Negro struggle: from demands in bourgeois-democratic struggle to anti-monopoly, anti-imperialist struggle.
*Civil rights movement: has reached a point where, unless changes take place in labor movement, it will not go anywhere.
*For every district: how take the conferences in New York and California on Negro candidates on state tickets to every state: in this involve labor - leadership & rank and file.
*20 cities on which the economy rests on the working class; these 20 are also the areas of Negro concentration: this the basis of developing centers of Negro-white working class power . . .

"E. ON THE PARTY:
*On the emphasis in Party work on the working class:
-parallel: now emphasis on working class like few years ago on youth.
-Same objective conditions influence youth & working class; automation; job security; nuclear energy & war; the impact of the one-third of the world that is Socialist.
-not enough knowledge on our part of currents of thinking in working class
. resolutions in AFL-CIO conventions no measure of this thinking.

-criticism: limits of our relationship to transit strike; slowness of evaluation.
-ebb or flow? we are in period of flow: must take steps to quicken pace: select out main thing - strengthen the labor movement together with the civil rights movement, and help this to become the force to change the whole situation.
-re COPE: not political centers really, not centers of struggle nor centers of alliances; must help labor to break out of this structure; must help build parallel structures.
-Left in working class movement & in unions: this Left developing & reflected both in rank & file and on top; this Left different from 30's; special attention to significance of Negro workers & developing Left; also Catholic workers in new relation.

"*On Party perspectives for this year:
-some definitions: 'the year of the big change'; 'the year of the Party breaking through to the people'; 'the year of the leap'.
-need for ideological shake-up in Party based on recognition we are in period of flow; overcome grogginess and garrison mentality in our ranks; in the mass movements we also must pitch in on ideological level as well as being tacticians; the vanguard role of our Party here. Example: white chauvinism & its role in the defeat of Stokes in Cleveland
-new breakthroughs on civil liberties possible in this year: McCarran Act
-role of the program discussion in breaking through on our political rights & relationship to the political scene.
-the maximum dialogue of the Party with the people in the course of the pre-convention Program discussion, and with this an ideological clarification in our ranks & among the masses on relevancy of our Party in the political arena today."

2. Plans, et cetera, made at District and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank and file members

On February 13, 1966, during the second day of the enlarged meeting (supra) of the NWDCP, LONNIE HEALY, a member of the District Committee (DC), spoke on the Indian situation and the need of more work being done in this area. She talked about the DICK GREGORY "fish-in" and the need for putting out literature on this subject.

> DICK GREGORY has been publicly identified in newspaper publicity in the Seattle area as being a Negro comedian who is a candidate for mayor of Chicago. Currently he is charged in Thurston County, Washington, with illegal fishing for having joined a group of Indians in February, 1966, to fish in the Nisqually River in protest of a superior court injunction against off-reservation fishing.

After HEALY's talk, MILFORD SUTHERLAND went over a list of proposals to be brought up at the national CP convention. These included:

"Indian role to be brought up.

"Negro conference for Washington State and Negro candidates, such as in California.

"Build Negro-white unity in cities."

Following lunch, all those in attendance at the DC meeting went to the Eastside Branch of the YWCA, 2820 East Cherry, Seattle, and vicinity to pass out leaflets in this Negro neighborhood regarding JULIAN BOND, who was described in the leaflets as being one of eight Negroes elected to the Georgia State legislature but who had been denied his seat in that body because he had endorsed, and will not recant, a Student Non-Violating Coordinating Committee (SNCC) policy statement, drafted by the SNCC 23-member executive board, and endorsed without dissent by 130 SNCC field secretaries throughout the South. The statement protested U.S. intervention in Vietnam.

SE T-1 (2/14/66)

> SNCC is an organization which has concerned itself with racial matters throughout the United States.

Another source reported the leaflets mentioned above were to be prepared by TAIMI HALONEN and would include material taken from SNCC literature including excerpts about the colored legislator who was prevented from taking office in the South.

SE T-2 (2/2/66)

TAIMI HALONEN was described in February, 1966 by SE T-1 as a member of the NWDCP Committee.

On the Section level, the following information was reported:

An Organizational Conference for certain of the members of the North Central CP Section was held in Seattle on February 5, 1966.

VIVIAN GEORGE, Section Organizational Secretary, reviewed the North Central CP Section report which she had helped prepare. This report covered the following points among others:

1. On the question of civil rights, the Watts riots constitute a qualitative change in the civil rights movement. More and more the Negro movement and the peace movement are beginning to work together. It is essential to build the Negro labor alliance with more zeal than ever before.

2. On the question of youth, the "new left" reflects the sharpening crisis in our society. The role of the Party is to clarify the basic ideological questions confronting youth.

In connection with youth matters, GEORGE stated that the North Central Section is made up of two parts. The Central campuses where many students have ideas, support peace and civil liberties. She said it was essential to begin a discussion of program and policies with the reaffirmation that the masses make history, nuclear war can be prevented, Vietnam can be ended, youth can lead peaceful productive lives, capitalism can be abolished and socialism achieved.

GEORGE stated that the above objectives cannot be accomplished without the leadership role of the working class and that the responsibility of working class leadership is in the hands of the Communist Party. She called for full membership work on the concentration policy.

Following a review of individual membership accomplishments, the following key points were outlined:

1. A continuing review of the quality of work and an approach to ways to move the masses.

2. In all Party work, a constant stress on strengthening the Negro labor program.

3. Proposals on the peace question -
   A. A section wide concentration on visiting workers on the Vietnam issue.
   B. Section wide concentration on the formation of a "grass roots" peace committee.
   C. A special plan of work by the Party to insure participation of people in the March 25-26 (1966) peace demonstration.

4. On the question of labor, every member who can join a union is to do so and every trade union member is to work as a communist. The Section is to work out plans for the establishment of industrial and shop clubs. Clubs are to stress distribution of leaflets at industrial plants. The Section staff is to work out special industrial concentration assignments with industrial members. Concentrate on obtaining jobs for Negro youth.

5. On the question of civil rights, additional assignments are to be made to key civil rights organizations. A special plan of work is to be adopted to fight for jobs for Negroes in previously white unions. A policy is to be developed and work done around the anti-poverty program. A continued struggle is to be made towards a police review board. Additional work is to be planned looking towards the end of de facto segregation in the schools. They must work towards achieving working class leadership in the civil rights movement.

6. On the matter of the 1966 elections, they must work to guarantee one or more peace candidates, one or more youth candidates, candidates from organized labor, and encourage "left" and Party candidates. Members must help guarantee the establishment of voting registration campaigns in the working class area. They must help to strengthen progressive trends within the Democratic Party. They must initiate, guide, unite and rally support for independent political movements . . .

It was decided further to consider development of a local unit of the Negro American Labor Council (NALC).

SE T-3 (2/7/66)

On January 20, 1960, SE T-4 reported that BERT WASHINGTON, then Ohio CP organizer for Negro cadre, considered the NALC to be an important movement which the CP desires to infiltrate or influence notwithstanding the anti-communist position then taken by the national NALC leadership.

On February 16, 1966, a meeting of the North Central CP Section Committee was held at Seattle. Emphasis was given in the discussion on the need for day-to-day organizational work on the racial question and class struggle.

SE T-5 (3/21/66)

As a result of the North Central Section Organizational Conference held in early February, 1966, a Report and Program was prepared from which the following excerpts were taken:

"The New Stage in the Civil Rights Movement

The Watts uprising was a catalyst -- a monumental turning-point in the struggle for full freedom and citizenship for the American Negro people. It marked the beginning of a qualitative change in the Civil Rights movement. The new stage of struggle is being shaped, not by the intellectual, largely middle-class leaders, but by the Negro masses, employed and unemployed, in the Southern and Northern ghettoes. The crisis is sharpened by the intensified sharpness of the confrontation in Vietnam. More and more, the Negro movement and the peace forces are compelled by the logic of events to move toward closer unity.

"Our role is to see and to encourage and develop the emerging class content of the struggle. This means fighting for jobs -- for full integration of the American work forces. This means that, as Gus Hall says, we must not use the just system of seniority to perpetuate 300 years of injustice to Negro workers. This means building the Negro-labor alliance with far greater imagination, determination, persistence, and thoroughness than we have thus far displayed.

"The Youth and the New Left

...Our section includes within its geographic limits (a) the Central Area, with its masses of Negro jobless youth, angry, restless, facing the draft, ready to be organized and to move militantly; and (b) the campuses of Seattle U. and (especially) the University of Washington, great concentrations of young people, in ferment with the liberating ideas of their time and generation, a vast potential reservoir of support for peace, civil rights and Constitutional liberties. The entire Section membership needs a fresh and deeper consciousness of the political potential of the young generation."

"...There is general agreement among the Section membership with the Staff's view that a thorough review of individual assignments, and of the work of leading cadre, should be given high priority. The aim of such a review would be to strengthen a Labor-Negro-Youth concentration policy. Such a review is under way and will continue. Its objectives are (1) to guarantee that the most critical organizations and fields of work get first attention; and (2) to assign a priority to individual comrade's assignements, to prune away those secondary assignments which prevent the effective carrying out of primary assignments . . ."

"On Labor:

" . . .As a long-range method of work, encourage and help individual young people and Negro people find places in basic industry and inthe decisive Unions.

"On Civil Rights:

a. Additional assignments in key Civil Rights organizations.
b. A section plan of work to step up the fight for jobs,centering on industries with token or no Negro employment, with special attention to the 15,000 new jobs scheduled to develop in this area.
c. A Section plan of work around the Anti-Poverty Program.
d. Continued struggle toward a Police Review Board.
e. Strengthen the campaign to eliminate de facto school segregation in Seattle schools.
f. Increase working class composition and leadership in the Negro Freedom Movement. In this connection, look into establishing of local chapter of Negro American Labor Council."

A meeting of the Southwest Washington CP Section Committee was held at Hoquiam, Washington, on February 20, 1966. FRED GABOURY gave a report based upon information learned by him at the last DC meeting. He also stated he went to the Nisqually River fish-in and talked with DICK GREGORY (supra) about speaking before a group of people. GABOURY said GREGORY told him "the Watts Riot" is just a pink tea party compared to what's going to happen all across the United States this coming summer.

In reporting on the DC meeting, GABOURY said it is desired that a pre-convention (National CP) statement be prepared on recommendations for giving specific support to the Indian struggle. An outline was furnished to those attending the Section Committee meeting which included the following data:

"New Stage in Civil Rights Struggle:
A. Conference on Negro Candidates (electoral)
B. Concentration on Grass Roots Negro-White political power (problems of the city)
C. Board to take new look at Negro Commission
1. Strengthen concept of role of commissions
D. Demand Grand Jury Investigation of Reece.
E. Fight on jobs."

SE T-6 (3/4/66)

Another source reported additional data on the Southwest Section Committee meeting to the effect GABOURY had also stated the communists are going to put the peace issue ahead of everything else at the coming National Convention. Further, they are going to work the peace movement into the civil rights movement and then into the trade unions. The working class is to be greatly emphasized accordingly.

SE T-7 (3/4/66)

B. SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY (SWP)

The SWP is characterized in the appendix section.

1. Plans, et cetera, made at District and Lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank and file members.

A closed SWP-Young Socialist Alliance meeting was held at SWP headquarters in Seattle on Sunday, January 23, 1966.

The main topic of discussion was the proposed withdrawal of the Seattle Branch, SWP, from the national organization. One of the principal reasons for this withdrawal is the lack of awareness on the part of the national group regarding the Negro question. The Seattle group plans to become more active in the civil rights struggle.

SE T-8 (1/25/66)

The Young Socialist Alliance is characterized in the appendix section.

C. PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP)

The PLP is characterized in the appendix section.

1. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at national meetings, including expressions by national and other functionaries.

EDWARD LEMANSKY, who publicly identified himself as the national organizational secretary of the PLP, spoke at a public meeting in the student union building of the University of Washington, Seattle, Washington, on January 21, 1966. After the talk, a press conference was held and the discussion was recorded by MERRILL ASH of Seattle Radio Station KIRO. Excerpts from the discussion are set out hereinafter:

Q: "What is the principle drawing card to your organization here in the state, is it the race problem, or is it labor problems? What is it?

A: "Well, I haven't been in this State long enough to know what the main issues here are, but generally speaking the issues that are, most people feel are, most critical at this time are the war in Vietnam and the racial oppression that exists throughout the country, not only in the south, but the north and the west as well, but there is also a growing unrest within the labor movement, within the organized labor movement, in the shops, on the production lines, and it's around all of these things that people are coming together and seeing the need to fight for socialism, to bring about a system where the government, instead of representing the owners in the industry will stand as representatives of the working people."

Q: "Well, now you're using the terms socialism and communism, you used it in your talk here sort of interchangeable, what exactly is your organization?"

A: "Well, the Progressive Labor Party is a communist organization that is fighting to establish a socialist United States. When I used the word communist, what I mean by that is that we are revolutionary socialist, who do not --, you know, we don't believe that the people who control this country, the people who own the giant monopolies, are about to allow the workers to peacefully choose a socialist form of government."

Q: "How do you bring this about then?"

A: "Well, I think we bring it about by attempting to organize --, I mean the basic notion is to organize people to fight for their own interests. We don't believe this government represents their interests."

Q: "It must be violently overthrown then or changed?"

A: "Well, we believe that violence should be met with violence. Where violence is used against us we believe in defending ourselves, you know, this is a historic right that -- we're not the only ones who put forward that idea. I think that when vidence is used against strikers, that they have the right to defend themselves when the Klan murders people they have the right to organize such things as this group that was recently organized in the south called the Deacons for Defense. As I said in my talk today, when I was in the south I made it known to the local Klansmen that if they took any shots at me, I'd be shooting back."

Q: "What is your party's position on our system of courts, our system of justice?"

A: "I think that justice is like everything else in this society, a class justice, that if you are poor, and especially if you are black or Spanish speaking or Indian, you don't get justice in the courts, that these courts our set up to protect the interests of the rich. That's what they are there for. They enforce the laws and the poor do not make the laws and do not benefit from them."

Q: "What are your principal differences there, outside, of Vietnam, on that I'm sure we'd take up all afternoon, but let's try a couple of them."

A: "I think the JOHNSON Administration, as I said, despite all the pioused attitudes about being interested in ending a system of racial oppression that has existed in this country for 400 years, hasn't the slightest desire to do anything but make statements, and pass unenforced laws to try and con the people into thinking that it is interested.

Q: "What's your solution?"

A: "Well, I think there is a very simple solution. That anyone who commits an act of racial discrimination in hiring, in housing, in any area of life, should be subject to indictment, and trial and jail. That's what, I mean that would be my solution, that racists should be jailed, just as I think slum lords ought to be jailed or bosses who create conditions on the job that force workers to strike, rather than jailing the leaders of union, I think the bosses ought to be jailed."

Q: "Does the PLP have a great number of members within the race movement as such?"

A: "The race movement?"

Q: "Yes DAVE."

A: "You mean the---Civil Rights Movement? Well, we don't have a great number of members anywhere and we certainly don't have any kind of dominant influence in any area of struggle in this country."

Q: "You said all over the country people are beginning to resist, you cited Berkeley as one example, would you explain -- elaborate on that a little."

A: "Well, last year at Berkeley the students feeling that the kind of education they were getting was not appropriate to what they needed, feeling that they were being trained to run the war machine, to run the corporations, rather than to involve themselves in lives that were meaningful to them, attempted to organize a struggle to gain more control over the eduational process. Now, that grew out of attempts by a number of the students at Berkeley to organize other students on the campus to take part in the civil rights movement, particularly CORE and SNCC. When the University prohibited them from raising money and doing this organizing, they resisted and in fact were able to mobilize overwhelming support of the student body, in this thing. It's just one indication that the control that the University administration and the government at all levels that the control that they exercised throughout the 50's is being broken and people are waking up and fighting for their interests rather than swallowing the line that well you know, let LYNDON solve it, or let this politician handle it or that one."

Q: "Do you take advantage of this unrest or do you start the unrest?"

A: "Well, we hardly start the unrest, I mean, what ever else anybody has every accused us of they didn't accuse us of organizing slavery in this country or organizing the Klan, or organizing a system of industry where guys work and others sit in the offices and profit. That's where the unrest comes from. We didn't organize the war in Vietnam. We didn't set up the draft. We aren't sending the troops there. What we see ourselves doing is attempting to show people the connections between the various sources of unrest, show these connections as being part of an overall system of capitalism, and pointing toward a solution, which I mentioned earlier, that is that the working people of the country organized to take control of the government and take it away from the corporations that now have the government standing as their representative."

Q: "How do you see them doing this?"

A: "Well, I see it being done, you know I said this before, by organizing groups everywhere in the country around specific issues and sometimes around a combination of issues that affect people's lives, putting forward their ideas, demonstrating, petitioning, picketing, running candidates, all of these various activities, but then of course what I believe will happen, and what in fact has happened is that the people will not be allowed to carry these activities on peacefully. The latest example of course was this case of JULIAN BOND, who was elected to the State Legislature in Georgia, elected overwhelmingly, had 85% of the votes, and because he had come out in support of a statement against the war in Vietnam, he was denied his seat, and this denial was done, you know, in the name of freedom, democracy, and every other thing they could bring up, so I see following on that people will find new forms to organize themselves, seeing that the people who run this country aren't going to allow change to take place peacefully and democratically."

Q: "Could you summarize very briefly the answer to the question, what caused you to become a communist?"

A: "I don't think I could do it briefly. I think probably more than anything else it was being able to see that races and poverty, unemployment, war, and the revolutions that were occurring in different parts of the world, particularly the one in Cuba which took place when I was a teenager, that all of these things were connected, and their connection was that on one hand you had a class of people who owned everything and on the other hand you had a class of people who worked for them and didn't own. I don't know if that is brief enough."

Q: "Then you felt that communism was the answer to it then?"

A: "That's right."

On February 1, 1966, LEMANSKY was interviewed at Bellingham, Washington, by DUWAYNE TRECKER, Program Director, KVOS TV Station, who recorded the remarks on tape. Excerpts are as follows:

Q: "I'm still not satisfied with the differentiation between the Communist Party, USA, and the Progressive Labor Party."

A: "Well, maybe it would be clearer if I explained it in terms of issues. For example, in the civil rights movement, the Communist Party has basically advocated non-violence."

Q: "Constitutional means."

A: "No, that is not what I said, I said non-violence. The Constitution provides for the right of self-defense, provides for the right to bear arms. You know. Now the CP takes the position that the way that the black people are going to win freedom is basically to demonstrate and b2 beaten or jailed or killed, as has happened many times, not to resort to counterattacks, counter-violence. We, on the other hand, say that the black people have every right, just like anybody else to defend themselves from unjustified attacks, so, for example, when I was in the South, I spent a year in the South, after a couple of incidents of Klansmen shooting up our car, with the bullets missing by that much, I went down to the local Sheriff and I told him that from then on I was going to be carrying a gun and anybody who made an unprovoked attack on me would suffer the consequences. Now, I was there for another ten months, nobody came near me. They stayed away. That is, none of these Klansmen and other racists who had been shooting at us, including some of the cops, and it seems to me that ---."

Q: "You are saying cops shot at you, police officers?"

A: "That's right."

Q: "Whereabouts in the South?"

A: "This was in the southern part of North Carolina and in South Carolina. I don't have any of the photographs with me now, but there is all kinds of documentary evidence including in the FBI files of shotgun holes yeah big in our cars, and numerous instances of threats of physical attack and examples of physical attack, and when we complained to the authorities, including the FBI, they said well you know that's terrible but you know there is nothing we can do about it. Then they started in with, are you guys communists, and what do you believe, and who are your friends and where do you go and what kind of meetings do you hold, and we are perfectly willing to, you know, say all these things, we always say them publicly, but it seems to us that their job is to go find the guys who were shooting at us. They don't bother to do it.

Q: "Mr. LEMANSKY, would I assume from this then that you advocate force and revolution type of activities rather than peaceful means of change in the civil rights movement?"

A: "No. I'm all for peaceful means, but if people shoot at me or shoot at anybody else, it seems to me that I have a right to defend myself, and I think that everybody does. Now, in the Watts rebellion this past summer in Los Angeles, when the cops and 15,000 National Guardsmen went into the community and started cutting the people, and then murdered 35 of them, it seems to me that they had a right to shoot back and defend themselves. Now this position historically has been advocated by almost everybody."

Q: "They exercised that right in Watts also."

A: "That's right, they did exercise it and I think that they were right to exercise it. Like to take another example, when workers, what ever their color, go out on strike and violence is used against them, I think they have a right to defend themselves and I include in this violence not only, you know, the actual shooting that often has taken place in many strikes, including right in this area, anybody who reads the history of the longshore strikes or the woodworkers' strikes, knows the incredibly violent history of those activities, but more recently in New York City when the transit workers went out on strike, violence was used against them in the form of arresting and jailing the union leaders. Now, it seems to me that while no actual violence took place, certainly the threat of violence was there and those iron bars in the jail constitute the threat of violence and it was police officers who locked MIKE QUILL and the other union leaders up. Now, one might reasonably ask, why didn't the government lock up the bosses? Why not lock up the transit authority who were imposing on these 35,000 transit workers, the conditions that they were fighting against. But instead, the government chose to use its force, and threat of force against the workers who were on strike, and, you find this over and over again. "

Q: "You are not quarreling with the right of the people to strike?"

A: "Certainly I'm not quarreling with their right to strike. They have every right to strike. What I'm quarreling with is the use of the power of the government to break the strike, which is in fact what happens.

Q: "Would this in fact happen in Peking?"

A: "What happen in Peking?"

Q: "If there was a labor, if the masses walked out on their jobs in a factory, what would happen to them?"

A: "Well, first of all they don't, because the situation in China or any of the socialist countries is different from this country, and here is where the critical difference between the socialist and capitalist government emerges, that the socialist government is one that represents the interest of the workers, as I've said before, and in China and any other socialist country, the industry and agricultural areas are used to the benefit of the people who work there rather than, as in this country, where the governmental power is used for the owners of industry and the owners of land, and the work that people do goes to benefit the people who own. It's a totally different situation."

Q: "Would you then advocate then, for instance, the use of rioting and violence on the part of a minority group to get something that they wished from the majority group? Is this the sort of thing you do advocate?"

A: "We don't advocate violence, we dont advocate rioting. See, it is always amazed me and amused me that the Communists are charged with advocating violence. After all, how many communist governments or communist governments, that you know of, that drop napalm on children, or that send, have troops stationed at 6,000 foreign bases around the world. That's what the U. S. has, 6,000 foreign bases, there are U. S. troops stationed throughout the so called free world to keep the people free, to keep them in line, the way we are keeping the Vietnamese people in line, by dragging 200,000 young American men off into the jungles of Vietnam, to murder and burn and destroy, and violence in a place like Vietnam for example, it is not the National Liberation front that is dropping napalm, it is the U. S. Government.

Q: "What is the National Liberation front doing (interrupted) on both sides in it. I had hoped that we would not get involved in a debate of the Vietnam situation today, but to find out more generally what the Progressive Labor Party and ED LEMANSKY is all about. We understand that one can hardly be talked about without the other.

A: "Yea. Well, I just saying that we regard what's happening in Vietnam as one of the most important events today and I don't think you can have a clear picture in what we believe and what we stand for without discussing Vietnam.

Q: "On your subject of non-violence in (inaudible), if I remember correctly BILL EPTON, the leader of your party, was recently convicted and sentenced for inciting rioting in the Harlem incident, and I believe the charge read for attempting to overthrow the State of New York and he was sentenced to a year. How can you profess non-violence on your part and then have a party leader not only arrested and convicted but sentenced for inciting rioting?"

A: "You ever heard of frame-ups?"

Q: "Yea."

A: "People are framed. As for example EPTON was framed. Now first of all, I didn't say that we professed non-violence. I said that if violence was not directed at us, or, and I don't mean just us, but anybody who's fighting to improve his conditions, if this violence wasn't directed at us, then we would be as peaceful as can be. And I'm a very peaceful fellow. You know, I don't like violence, but the EPTON trial was a farce. For example, the main witness against him was a cop, named ABE HART, who infiltrated the Progressive Labor Party and he testified, for example, that he discussed with BILL EPTON, making Molotov Cocktails; that he discussed with BILL EPTON stationing rifle men on roof tops in Harlem; that he discussed with BILL EPTON plans for drawing the cops into the side streets and getting them there. But when the testimony, when he was cross examined, it turned out that this is how he discussed it. He said, 'hey BILL, what about the Molotov Cocktails?' And EPTON said, 'that's ridiculous, that's stupid.' He said, 'hey BILL, what about setting guys up on the roof tops?' And EPTON turned that down, he said, 'no.' You see. But that was how they discussed it. This cop, in a provocative fashion, raised these things and when they were rejected, there was still evidence, in fact the entire trial was marked by an Alice in Wonderland sort of quality, where the indictment was drawn in one way, and then when the trial ended, the judge changed the wording of the indictment. The entire trial, or 90% of the trial was taken up in examination of the views of the Progressive Labor Party and BILL EPTON. And then the judge made a big statement about how nobody's on trial here for his ideas. We want that to be very clear. They made that same speech when they put me in jail. Now EPTON is also sitting in jail, denied bail. He has been in jail since December 20th. Now if you are a member of the Klan, and you murder a civil rights worker, you get out on bail, and 99 times out of 100, you are free. But if you are communist and especially if you are black communist, then not only are you framed in the most vicious manner, but you are not even permitted bail while trying to appeal the case. Now it takes two years, generally, all the way through the Supreme Court. After you are sentenced to a year. So even if we reverse it on appeal maybe he'll serve that full time.

Q: "It seems a very serious charge to me to accuse the State of New York of framing a man for starting riots. Now I believe he was charged with inciting the riots, not particularly making these bombs, nor posting people on tops of roofs, but for actually inciting a riot that did occur. Not the things that did not occur and it is my understanding this is what he was convicted of and sentenced for."

A: "That's right, and we regard that as a frame up because what we see is that the rioting, so called, that occurred in Harlem, resulted from the massive unemployment. One out of three adults in Harlem is out of work. Resulted from the rat and roach infested housing that people have to live in. It resulted from the unbelievably poor schools that the kids are forced to go to and the straw that broke the camel's back, so to speak, was the continual, day to day brutality of the police directed against the people of Harlem which ultimately resulted in the murder of the 15 year old boy, JAMES POWELL, which then led to a demonstration by the Congress of Racial Equality at the police precinct, which was broken up violently by the cops and I've talked to many people who were at that demonstration including so called neutral observers, who tell me that the incident that sparked the Harlem rebellion was the police charging the demonstration with the (inaudible) and with Harlem a tinderbox, the thing flared up and then thousands of cops were called into Harlem, tens of thousands of rounds of ammunition were expended that is what caused the Harlem riot, not one communist agitator with six co-conspirators; which is what was charged in the indictment.

Q: Mr. LEMANSKY, if I may change the subject for a minute, did you vote in the last national election?"

A: "No I didn't."

Q: "Would you tell us why please."

A: "Well, I wasn't registered because I had just moved from North Carolina to New York. But, had I been registered, I certainly wouldn't have voted for either JOHNSON or GOLDWATER, because I feel they represent the same thing. (Interrupted) I assumed that's what you really wanted to get at in asking that question."

Q: Talking about elections, have you run any candidates under the ticket of the Progressive Labor Party?"

A: "Oh yes, in fact BILL EPTON ran in the last election for state senator in New York City, New York State, and despite the enormous difficulties in getting an independent candidate on the ballot, we got 9,000 signatures on petitions, got him on the ballot, and then came election day, out of 150 voting machines in the district 90 of them didn't have his name and another 20 have no lever next to his name. So that is 110 out of 150 voting machines for all intensive purposes, he was not on. Now despite that fact, we managed to get a thousand votes out of a total of 50,000, but those 1,000 votes were gotten in the area where we had our least support because the area that he ran in was approximately, in terms of its population, one third black, one third Spanish-speaking, and one third white. Quite naturally, the area where his name was not on the machine at all was in Harlem, in the ghetto areas, and in the upper class and middle class white section everything, the machines were perfect, everything was okay."

Q: "How would you answer the comment that the Harlem uprising was not connected with the civil rights movement? Are they inseperable? Can they be disconnected?

A: "Well, I think that the Harlem uprising has a very difinite connection with the civil rights movement. The main connection it has is the recognition on the part of the mass of the people of Harlem that the civil rights movement and the pious speeches of the JOHNSONs, KENNEDYs, and everybody else, has not won freedom or equality for the black people in this country. One of the main, most important aspects of the civil rights movement has been that has proven that we have had 400 years of racism in this country and that nothing much has been done to alleviate the conditions that black people live under."

Q: "You don't feel the current civil rights movement will alleviate those problems?"

A: "Not as it currently exists. Now this is not to say that the people in the civil rights movement are stupid or that they are fools. I wouldn't want to imply that at all, but I think that until the civil rights movement comes to fundamentally comes to grips with the question of who holds power in this country and why do they hold power and what do they do with it, they will continue to be sucked into supporting JOHNSON, sucked into believing that the war on poverty somehow is going to change everything, when in fact things like the war on poverty are nothing but massive frauds, where 90% of the war on poverty goes into the pockets of local politicians and professionals who are hired to administer the programs, and at best, 10% of the money trickles down to the people who need it."

Q: "By local politicians, what do you mean, sir?"

A: "Well, I mean Mayors of local towns."

Q: "You are saying payoffs?"

A: "Yea. That's right. I mean, you know, it's all legitimatized in various ways. I'm not saying that there are continual examples, you know, of Sergeant SHRIVER running around, you know, openly passing out the greenbacks."

Q: "But you are saying that people are being paid off or bribed or (interrupted)"

A: "In one way or another. I'm sorry."

Q: "In the poverty movement?"

A: "That's right, in one way or another people are paid off."

Q: "Do you have any proof of this?"

A: "I - well, for example in New York, which is the situation I am most familiar with."

Q: "I'm sorry Mr. LEMANSKY, but our time is up. It has gone very rapidly, and we would certainly like to have the opportunity to discuss further with you, some of these points.

On February 4, 1966, Mr. C. W. McDONALD, Dean of Men, Western Washington State College, Bellingham, Washington, made available a taped recording of a talk given by LEMANSKY on the PLP given on the campus February 1, 1966. Excerpts are as follows:

"Now I've spoken of Vietnam because it is so much in the news, but the Progressive Labor Party is not an organization that is dedicated mainly to agitating people about Vietnam and even if we didn't exist, of course, our people would be agitated.

"I want to talk a little bit about some of the things we see in this country today and what we think ought to be done. Now,in the United States we find a situation where two million black people have lived through 350 years, first of slavery, openly, and in the last 100 years of a disguised form of slavery. And, who in the last six years have begun to build organizations to fight to put an end to conditions of massive unemployment, terrible education, unbelievably squalid housing, racism in all areas of life, including, by the way, in terms of the Army, - you know that while the black people constitute only 10% of the population, they make up 16% of the draftees and these organizations have begun to fight, to bring down a system, as I say which has existed for 300 years, that has imposed in a whole variety of ways an oppressive racist system on them. And what is the reaction of the U.S. Government then? For the most part, pious platitudes from KENNEDY, from JOHNSON, from this politician, from that one. 'Oh, it's terrible, terrible thing. We must do something for these poor downtrodden folk. We have to do something to bring them up! And then what they do, they pass civil rights laws, which are not enforced, except in the most token fashion. It's easy to send 200,000 troops to Vietnam, but to go and maybe drop a little napalm on the local Klan headquarters in some Mississippi town, that, you know, wouldn't dream of doing that. Not that I'm proposing dropping napalm on the Klan, you understand. The point is that this government is perfectly willing to drop it on the Vietnamese, but dozens of people have to be shot and killed before they are even willing to prosecute a Klansmon for murder, but they were quite willing to prosecute members of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee as far back as 1962, in Albany, Georgia and they are quite willing to sit back and commit JULIAN BOND, who was elected to the State Legislature in Georgia by 82% of the vote in his district, quite willing to allow him to be prevented from taking his seat because he spoke out against the war in Vietnam. You don't see American Marines rushing into Atlanta to uphold freedom and democracy. No, you got to be patient, be patient, can't force these racists in the South to change their ways, you can't legislate a (inaudible) that's what they tell us. But you know, when I was in Cuba in 1964, I found out that they've got very, very simple civil rights law in Cuba. Any man commits an act of racial discrimination there goes to jail. That's very oppressive, you see, that's a real anti-freedom war, you know. They are taking the racists' freedom away from them. While in this country it's the people who fight against racism that go to jail and the racists who sit in the halls of Congress and the Legislatures and the Sheriff's Offices and everywhere else. Where those in Cuba who fight for racism have their freedom denied, and those in this country who fight against it have their's taken away. Because, the way societies operate, the way they exist, is that one man's freedom very often means another man's slavery, and in this country, freedom for the owners of U.S. Steel, Standard Oil, the rest of the giant corporations means slavery for hundreds of millions of people around the world, and in a milder form it means that for us here at home.

"So, we find that in New York, for example, just as I was leaving a couple of weeks ago, there was a big transit strike. 35,000 bus and subway workers went out on strike and the impartial government method of dealing with that strike was to jail the union leaders. Not to jail the bosses, not to jail the Transit Authority which created the conditions that forced the workers to go on strike, but jail the leaders of the strike. And of course that wasn't the first time that had happened, anybody who studies the history of the labor movement in this country, or for that matter in this county, sees the continual use of governmental power, whether it is in the form of arrests or shooting, continually sees the use of this power wielded in the interest of the owners of these giant corporations and against the interests of the working people and the farmers. And today, because of enormous investments all over the world and fantastic profits that have been made on these investments, these corporations are in a position to pay American workers a little bit more, but that isn't going to last, isn't going to last, because these investments all over the world which have provided the basis for buying off certain sections of the American working class, these investments are going down the drain, because all over the world, not only in Vietnam, but all over the world, people are fighting to take back control of their own countries from the American corporations and as those profits are lost, these corporations are not going patiently sit by and allow that to happen. Because, as they lose abroad, they are going to turn the screws on the people here at home, and that is already beginning to happen with this drive to automate American Industry, because as they automate, in order further to secure their profit position, millions of jobs are lost and they are forced to automate because they are under enormous pressure from the economies of the Western European countries and from the socialist countries, and from the people of Asia, Africa, and Latin America who are taking back their resources, taking back their industry. In order to maintain their profits, they have to introduce mechanization, automation, which drives millions of people into the streets. The government, the government stands right behind them all the way. We can see this in all kinds of other instances, not just in those examples where the government intervenes in strikes and jails strike leaders, but where the government takes a very sharp and direct stand against those people who protest conditions that exist in many areas of life.

"For example, in New York City, BILL EPTON, who is the National Vice Chairman of the Progressive Labor Party, is in jail, he's been sitting in jail since December 20th, denied bail, on a charge of advocating criminal anarchy, conspiracy to advocate criminal anarchy, conspiracy to riot. Charges growing out of the 1964 Harlem rebellion. He has been sentenced, the other day, to a year in jail and still denied bail. He's a very dangerous fellow said the judge, we can't let this man walk loose. But the entire trial that took place in a sort of Alice in Wonderland atmosphere where the trial went on and at the end of the trial the judge decided that the way the indictment was drawn up wasn't really good, so they changed the wording of the indictment; where tape recordings of supposed speeches that EPTON made were played, but because they were unintelligible the judge handed out transcripts to the jury, and then after they read them he instructed the jury to ignore the transcripts, just pay attention to what you heard on the tape; where the entire prosecution case was testimoney of six cops; where most of the testimony in the trial was around EPTON's political beliefs and then the D.A. and the Judge both made long speeches about how this was not a political trial.

"Now, what happened in Harlem? Harlem, one third of the adult population is out of work. Many of the schools that the kids go to are over 100 years old and the plaster is falling. Its quality of teaching is inferior to anywhere else in the city. If anybody has ever walked through Harlem and seen the kind of housing that people are forced to live in, they would see houses that have more rats than people, and more roaches than rats. They would see daily constant brutality of the police directed against the people of Harlem. And then, they would have read in the middle of July, of an off-duty cop named GILLIGAN, who gunned down a 15 year old Negro kid. Shot him three times, twice after he was on the ground, and the people of Harlem, for them, this incident was the straw that broke the camel's back, and they demonstrated in a demonstration called by Congress of Racial Equality at the police station, and their demonstration was charged by the cops, whipping heads and arresting people, and the riot, so called, began, in which thousands of cops poured into Harlem and tens of thousands of rounds of ammunition were expended against the people of Harlem. EPTON's crime was that he said that the people of Harlem had the right to defend themselves. That when the cops invaded the community, they had the right to use whatever means were available to get them out, get them off their backs. This was his crime. His further crime was that he said that until this system that exists in this country is abolished and destroyed, and until the working people of the country take over and run the country in our own interests, then we will have racism, and we will have these conditions and they will not come to an end. That is, until we have socialism, and this of course was the ultimate crime, being a Red, being a black Red, that's the worst of all. And so, he's sitting in jail, and meanwhile this cop, GILLIGAN, still on the force, and dozens of New York cops who have been responsible for the murder of black people are still on the force, and continue to get promoted, and still the government power is used against the people and yet the press and the schools and everybody else continues to talk to us about how this is a government of all the people. Government is with all of us.

"Now, I think that there are a lot of illusions that have been perpetrated by the government, one for example, that socialism means the end of human freedom. Socialism defined as government intervention in the economy which is as cockeyed a definition as can be, means that it is all over for us. The storm troops will be here, nobody, nobody will have a right to do anything, say anything, except what the government tells them to do. Now, this notion is probably one of the most consistent themes of all of the propaganda that our government puts out. Over and over again, socialism, government intervention, the end of freedom.

"First of all socialism has intervention in the economy is a meaningless phrase, because all governments everywhere have always intervened in the economy, whether it was the government of the slave society that intervened in the economy by suppressing slave rebellions or government of an imperialist economy that intervened by going out and getting colonies for foreign investment, or government of a socialist society that intervened in the economy to take the means of production out of the hand of those few who own it and put it into the hand of the many who work it. Governments have always intervened in the economy.

"They have always intervened, not only in the economy, but in every area of life, in the interest of some people and against the interests of other people. That's what they are there for. That's what a government is. It's an organization of power, of force, of violence, to defend some people against other people. And the choice the people all over the world have, and people in this country have, is to choose whether we want a government that represents that group of people who own, who own these giant corporations, or whether we want a government which stands as the representative of the people who work for these corporations in one way or another, whether it's on the production line or in the offices or somewhere else. And to bring this down to a connection with the kind of education we get, the colleges in this country including this one, are designed and set up largely to train us to be the executors for these corporations, to be the errand boys and the managers for the corporation. Or, for those governmental services which work for the corporation. That's the type of training that is given in the colleges and universities and the high schools. That's the sort of thing that produces the madness of hours restrictions, restrictions on who can teach and at many universities restrictions on who can speak. These things don't come about by accident or because some evil people, you know, get together on Wall Street, and rub their hands and say how are we going to screw the people today. That's not how it happens. It happens because it is absolutely necessary to maintain this system that these things take place. And so, what it boils down to then is what sort of government do we want? What's the choice that we want to make? Do we want to continue a government that makes war all over the world despite its talk of peace? Do we want a government that maintains a system of racism despite talk of equality? Or, do we want one that would actually work in the interests of the people of the country? Like I say, this is the choice the people are making all over the world. It's the same one that we have."

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. SCHOOL BOYCOTT, SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, 3/31-4/1/66

CALVIN EVERETT HARRIS, a Negro who is Chairman of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club, Seattle, and a member of the North Central CP Section Committee, was present at a meeting of the North Central CP Section Committee held in Seattle on December 15, 1965.

At the above meeting, WILL PARRY, Section Chairman, C.P. gave a report on the Party concentration policy and Party assignments. With respect to Party assignments, PARRY utilized the example of HARRIS as one who had responded to an assignment to work with the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) and he had, thereafter, made valuable contributions to the Party through this "mass base orientation."

SE T-5 (1/20/66)

A meeting of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club was held at Seattle on February 9, 1966. It was announced that Club Chairman, CALVIN HARRIS, had been excused from this meeting for the purpose of attending a CORE meeting held that same evening.

In February, 1966, the Seattle Branch, CORE, announced a "special membership meeting" to be held on February 17, 1966, at the East Side YWCA, Seattle. In this announcement, it was stated that the membership of Seattle CORE and all interested persons were urgently requested to attend this special meeting to discuss and decide on whether they should institute a "School Boycott" for March 31 and April 1 (1966). This announcement stated that negotiations with the school board and school administration to date had resulted in no significant changes, and the schools still had no constructive plans to integrate, even with the legal obstacles to "bussing" students removed and the availability of state funds for this purpose. The announcement also stated other organizations are planning to join in this activity.

SE T-9 (3/1/66)

A special membership meeting of CORE was held in Seattle on February 17, 1966. On the basis of a motion made by CALVIN HARRIS at an earlier CORE meeting, and approved by the CORE Executive Committee, the members were being asked to vote on whether the Seattle School System should be boycotted. The membership voted in favor of this motion.

SE T-10 (2/23/66)

CALVIN HARRIS attended a meeting of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club held in Seattle on February 23, 1966. HARRIS discussed the Seattle School System issue and announced that he had attended several meetings of people representing various organizations for the purpose of finalizing plans for a proposed two-day student boycott of the Seattle Public Schools. HARRIS stated that these forces had projected action on this issue because they were tired of waiting for favorable action from the school board on integration of the "all white schools."

SE T-9 (3/1/66)

CALVIN HARRIS attended a meeting of the Longshore-East Madison CP Club at Seattle on February 23, 1966, and made a report on the school issue. He said he had attended several meetings of people representing different organizations such as the Congress on Racial Equality, the NAACP, and the Urban League. He advised the purpose of these meetings was to finalize plans for a two-day school boycott.

HARRIS stated the forces involved in this projected action are tired of waiting for favorable action from the Seattle School Board on integration of the all-white schools. He said it is hoped the two-day boycott would extend not only to the Central Area schools, which are predominantly Negro, but to schools outside the Central Area.

Another club member stated they must make it plain to the officials on the Seattle School Board that only with total integration can a better standard of education be had by all. Another member suggested they should talk with the students, school counsellors, and teachers, prior to the boycott.

SE T-9 (3/1/66)

CALVIN HARRIS went to the Washington Hall, Seattle, February 26, 1966, and tried to rent space at the hall for March 31 and April 1, 1966, for activity related to the school boycott scheduled for those dates.

SE T-11 (3/8/66)

On March 17, 1966, HARRIS attended a meeting of the North Central CP Section Committee at Seattle. He stated he was going to participate in a rally March 26, 1966, sponsored by CORE at the Tabernacle Church in Seattle which will be concerned with the School Boycott.

SE T-3 (3/23/66)

A meeting of the W.E.B. DuBois Club was held at Seattle, March 27, 1966. It was announced PATTI RABBITT was one of two delegates going to Bellevue, Washington, the following Tuesday to talk about the Negro problem and the school boycott.

SE T-12 (3/29/66)

PATTI RABBITT was described by SE T-3 in March, 1966, as being a member of the King County CP Youth Club in Seattle Wash.

The DuBois Clubs of America are characterized in the appendix section.

"The Seattle Times," a daily newspaper, reported in its issue of April 1, 1966, on pages 1 and 2, that 10,738 students were absent on the second day of the boycott, of which number 37.5% were from the Central Area schools. The absentee rate for all schools was 11.2%, whereas the rate for the day prior to the boycott was 6.37%. The Madrona elementary school, 85% Negro, had 63% of its pupils absent.

Mrs. EILEEN HERNANDEZ, San Francisco, a member of the federal Equal Opportunity Commission who met the day before with civil rights leaders, said of the boycott: "It reminds me of the Boston tea party. Until that happened there were not many people in the country aware that there was a problem." One civil rights leader, not identified, said the event "represents a clear mandate to integrate Seattle classrooms."

No violence was reported on either day of the boycott.

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. CONGRESS ON RACIAL EQUALITY (CORE) SEATTLE BRANCH

Information regarding the association with CORE of CALVIN EVERETT HARRIS, CP Club Chairman and member of the North Central CP Section Committee, is set out under Section II (A), School Boycott.

B. NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE (NAACP)

Information regarding the association with the NAACP of CALVIN HARRIS (supra) is set out under Section II (A).

IV. MISCELLANEOUS

A. W.E.B. DuBOIS CLUBS AND RACIAL MATTERS

HUGH STERLING FOWLER II, National Chairman, DuBois Clubs of America, spoke on the campus of the University of Washington, Seattle, on February 18, 1966. He was introduced by PATTI RABBITT, Program Chairman of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) under whose sponsorship FOWLER was speaking. During the evening of the same day, a reception for FOWLER was given at the home of KAE NORTON, Seattle. Throughout the course of the evening, the following plan was evolved to set up a DuBois Club in Seattle. Members of SDS and other youth groups would go to the Central District, which is populated largely by Negroes, and make suggestions to the people on the improvement of their living conditions. It is expected that from these discussions, some type of organization would result which could be infiltrated by members of SDS. In the process, the name DuBois Club could be given to the group.

SE T-2 (2/21/66)

FOWLER and DCA are characterized in the appendix section.

PATTI RABBITT and KAE NORTON were described in February, 1966, as members of the King County CP Youth Club in Seattle by SE T-3.

With regard to SDS, the "National Guardian," weekly New York, New York, newspaper, in its issue of January 9, 1965, carried an article captioned "SDS Calls April 17 Demonstration in Washington," in which it was indicated that the SDS would sponsor a "Student March on Washington, April 17" (1965) to demand an end to United States intervention in the Vietnam war. The article continued that the SDS constitution describes it as a group of "liberals and radicals, activists and scholars, students and faculty," united to work toward a society in which "the people have control of the decisions that affect them and the resources on which they are dependent." The article continued the "SDS, in recent years, has moved away from a sectarian approach and toward the new left."

The "National Guardian" is characterized in the appendix section.

APPENDIX

NATIONAL GUARDIAN

"Established by the AMERICAN LABOR PARTY in 1947 as a 'progressive' weekly,  Although it denies having any affiliation with the COMMUNIST PARTY, it has manifested itself from the beginning as a virtual official propaganda arm of Soviet Russia."

(COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES, Report, "Trial by Treason: The National Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell", August 25, 1956, p.12.)

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY -
WASHINGTON STATE, aka
Pacific Northwest Progressive Labor Party

On May 4, 1965, a first source advised that the founding convention of the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) was held in New York, New York, on April 15 - 18, 1965, for the purpose of organizing the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM) into the PLP. The PLP convention indicated that its ultimate objective was the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism - Leninism.

This first source advised on May 4, 1965 and August 31, 1965, that at the PLP founding convention on April 15, 1965, CLAYTON VAN LYDEGRAF from Seattle, Washington, stated that the PLP should be national in character. He added that in the Seattle, Washington area, there were about twenty (20) people in a group, mostly from the Communist Party, and that this group did not feel too close to the PLP yet since they did not have sufficient time to read PLP literature. VAN LYDEGRAF held discussions with MILTON ROSEN and MORTIMER SCHEER at the founding convention for the purpose of incorporating the Seattle group into the PLP. ROSE and SCHEER were elected as National Chairman and Vice Chairman, respectively, at that PLP convention.

On January 20, 1966, EDWARD LEMANSKY was interviewed in Seattle, Washington, by representatives of Radio Stations KIRO and KETO, Seattle, at which time LEMANSKY stated that he was the National Organizational Secretary of the PLP. LEMANSKY stated that about thirty (30) people in Washington State were interested in the PLP and that the PLP would have an organization in Washington State by the end of January, 1966. LEMANSKY said that the PLP is a revolutionary socialist organization and fighting to establish a socialist United States.

The March, 1966, issue of "Spark", which describes itself as the "Western Voice For Revolution" and as being published by the PLP, carried an article on page two (2) entitled "PLP In Northwest". This article stated that the first PLP organization in the Pacific Northwest was formally established at a convention held in the State of Washington the last week of January, 1966. The sessions were attended by sixteen (16) delegates and several guests. The convention elected a District Committee and unanimously voted to apply for affiliation to the PLP.

On April 4, 1966, a second source furnished a copy of a ten (10) page document entitled, "Position Paper on Mass Political Action and Elections Policy," by CLAYTON VAN LYDAGRAF. This document states that "discussion material prepared by the Pacific Northwest Progressive Labor Party, PO Box 25674, Seattle, Washington."

DETAILS:

On March 4, 1966, the Utah Council For Constitutional Liberties (UCCL) held a meeting in Granger, Utah. During the meeting inquiry was made with respect to the attitude of the National Association For The Advancement Of Colored People (NAACP) toward the Vietnam situation. It was pointed out that a larger percentage of Negroes than whites are being sent to Vietnam.

(SU T-1, 3/8/66)

A characterization of the UCCL is included in the appendix hereto.

On March 8, 1966, ETHEL HALE stated she now has a new address in Salt Lake City, Utah, and that she wanted to make sure her NAACP membership record and NAACP Credit Union file reflected her new address. (U)

(SU T-1, 3/10/66)

ETHEL HALE in July, 1963, was a member of the Communist Party of Utah.

(SU T-2)

There are about 390 members of the NAACP in the Salt Lake City Branch at the present time. This group has as its main purpose the furthering of civil rights of Negroes and other minorities and gives consideration to the effectiveness of demonstrations in connection with this objective. No demonstrations are presently planned, and there have been none during the past three months. The present emphasis of the organization is on housing opportunities for Negroes in the Salt Lake City area. The officers of the NAACP in Salt Lake City have in their officer meetings expressed opposition to communism and appear to be cognizant of the fact that communism is harmful to the civil rights movement. The organization has taken no specific steps to eliminate communists from its membership, but officers have been requested to be alert to the dangers of communist infiltration into the activities of the NAACP. The President of the NAACP continues to be JOHNIE M. DRIVER, who now gives evidence of being more aware of the methods and dangers of communism than in the past. Among the current members of the Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP are the following:

b6

ROBERT ARCHULETA, [redacted]; membership expires May 31, 1966.

ETHEL HALE, [redacted] City; membership expires April 30, 1966.

UDA HANSON, [redacted] membership expires June 30, 1966.

(SU T-1, 4/15/66)

ROBERT ARCHULETA in July, 1963, was the Secretary-Treasurer of the Communist Party (CP) of Utah. UDA HANSON in July, 1963, was a member of the CP of Utah.

(SU T-2)

There are now about 380 paid-up members of the Salt Lake City Branch of the NAACP. No demonstrations have been sponsored by this group during the past three months. No demonstrations are planned for the immediate future. It is considered that the use of demonstrations by those opposed to the United States presence in Vietnam has reduced the effectiveness of demonstrations for civil rights purposes in the Salt Lake City area. JOHNIE M. DRIVER continues to be the President of the NAACP in Salt Lake City. He is employed as an Electronics Engineer by Sperry Utah Corporation, Salt Lake City. DRIVER during the past three months has periodically warned the other officers of the branch that the branch should always be alert to the dangers of communism. He has stated that while no specific action would be taken to deny membership in the NAACP to persons suspected of being communists, every effort would be made to make certain that suspected communists did not gain undue influence or become officers of the group. DRIVER does not consider that any member of the NAACP in Salt Lake City at the present time who is regularly active is a communist. Among the current members of the NAACP in Salt Lake City are the following:

b6

ROBERT ARCHULETA, [redacted]; membership expires May 31, 1966.

ETHEL HALE, [redacted]; membership expires April 30, 1966.

UDA HANSON, [redacted]; membership expires June 30, 1966.

LIMA, chairman of the CP of Northern California passed out a mimeographed document to the members present. The document is entitled "Draft Position Paper on Education in Oakland." It was announced by ALBERT J. LIMA that this was a draft for a resolution to be discussed at the State Convention of the CP to be held in San Francisco, California, two weeks prior to the National Convention of the CP to be held June 22 - 25, 1966, in New York. The draft resolution is as follows

"DRAFT POSITION PAPER ON EDUCATION IN OAKLAND

"Much has been written about 'education' in recent years. The schools in the ghettos have come under considerable scrutiny. The charges are now familiar: the schools are segregated, over-crowded; classes too large; teachers passing through; equipment is scarce and shop machinery has no relation to present-day industry.

"All these charges are true about Oakland's ghetto schools. Based on my personal experience I would make some additional charges.

"Oakland has a tremendous school administration--very large, very complex, very wound up in red tape. In the ghetto schools the administrative positions are held by white people. Their emphasis is on punishment. At the junior high school level, the rules are so numerous and so complex that a Philadelphia lawyer could not learn them. Detentions drop on the children like the gentle rain from heaven. In a 'dentention' a child is kept in the principal's office a half hour after school. This punishment is meted out for everything. Suspension and expulsion are used generously, and during this punishment a child must stay indoors off the streets during school hours. In this way, the schools very neatly turn over to the police the children the schools do not wish to deal with.

"Children who resist this 'San Quentin' treatment get the full force of the administration's ability to punish. Most of them end up outside.

"The majority of teachers in the ghetto schools are middle-class white women. They are loyalty-oathed, brain-washed by the ultra-right, subjected to all kinds of pressure to conform to a non-controversial standard, which says it's dangerous to talk race, religion, or politics. They start with the disadvantage in the ghetto schools of coming from a different world and talking a different language from the Negro children. Generally, their emphasis is on manners and correct English (in the Anglo-Saxon tradition) and their teaching is routine and based on books and source material which is foreign to the world the children come from. At best they are a handful of exceptions to the rule. At worst, they are petty, vicious, and prejudiced middle-class white cogs in the big machine.

"The schools are always talking about how they are preparing the children for 'life.' In my experiences, this generally means that they should shut up and obey orders because that's what 'the boss will require of you as soon as you get a boss.' The non-conformists get plenty of punishment.

"Are the schools preparing children for 'life'? One of the causes of alienation of children from the schools is that the children see no relation between the schools and the big words in 'all them books' and life. (The other major cause of alienation is the permeation of the schools with prejudice and chauvenism.)

"Even in the shop courses which should be directly related to 'life' after high school, I hear dreary stories of students waiting two weeks to get a turn at a machine, of the terrible scarcity of things to work with, and how out-of-date the machinery is. The ghetto schools get the short end of it when it comes to equipment as well as other aspects of school life.

"Do the schools teach the children to read, write, add and subtact? No. The Oakland schools operate on the happy Freudian notion that it is psychologically damaging to a child to be held back with children younger than he is. Therefore, children are automatically passed on to the next grade whether they have mastered the work or not. Thus, in my own block I know one boy who graduated from High School unable to read and another who reached eleventh grade completely illiterate and many who can only stumble through a newspaper at high school age.

"This miserable performance is a combination of no objective requirements for completion of grade school, junior high school, and high school, and chauvinism of the worst sort. The schools are always blaming the children's parents for all their problems and clacking their tongues over 'culturally handicapped' children. They are referring, nine times out of ten, to Negro children. They would resist the suggestion that segregation has created two cultures in America. In the schools these white middle-class teachers have an opportunity to open the door and introduce Negro children to a culture which is not the exclusive property of white, middle-class America but belongs to the whole world. I am referring to the classics of music, art, and literature, and the great philosophers of many countries. Few use the opportunity.

"For instance, during Christmas vacation, when 'Hamlet' in full production was on TV, the children of junior high school and high school age were told to watch it in preparation for a discussion in school. Those that watched it for more than a few minutes were completely puzzled as to what it was all about. They throught the actors, costumes, and speech were completely crazy, and they will not voluntarily subject themselves to any more Shakespeare. Could not this experience have been entirely different if time had been taken in advance to explain the story, the historical period, Shakespearian language, and what makes a classic? None of this was done.

"The pressing demands of the children in the ghetto schools are for more help and less punishment. They want Negro counselors to whom they can talk freely and openly and to whom they can criticize their teachers without reprisals. They want relief from onerous rules like 'no talking in the halls' and the petty, complicated nonsence of the 'up the down staircase' variety.

"Parents should be able to reasonably demand the following minimum from the schools:

"1) Objective standards of accomplishment on reading and arithmetic and preparation of all children for more advanced schooling if they want it.

"2) Integrated administrative and teaching staffs and student bodies.

"3) Young teachers who are dedicated to certain ideals without loyalty oaths and ultra-right pressure.

"4) Smaller classes to give teachers a chance to deal with each child's problems.

"Segregation in the Oakland schools became a matter of public discussion during the years that Dr. NOLAN served on the Board of Education. Unfortunately there was not an organized movement to support Dr. NOLAN's challenges and carry them into actual changes.

"There still is no organized movement of any considerable CALIF size. There is SEDGE which backed Mrs. ELECTIA PRICE's campaign for school board around a good program. Unfortunately she didn't make it. We hope she will be able to try again.

"More recently there is the Committee fighting for free lunches in the Oakland schools. This committee's fight is based on the availability of federal funds to finance free lunches plus the theory that hungrey children do not make good students. And there is hunger in the ghetto schools daily.

"However, just as the schools are not primarily responsible for neighborhood segregation, the schools are not primarily responsible for the empty cupboards in the ghetto homes. But the schools are responsible for giving the Negro children from the ghettos the best possible education. This, I believe, should be our point of emphasis and our demand.

"Mrs. IRENE SAWYER, the young Negro teacher whose dramatic charges against the Oakland schools appeared in the Chronicle on February 14th, says the underlying problem is that Oakland administration and teachers do not believe Negro children can learn and won't try. She found that children were labeled 'mentally retarded' who were merely neglected. Some of those children she forced into regular classes and they have now gone on to U.C. CALIF

"After she helped Negro students win scholarships to Stanford, U.S., and S.F. State, her school principal told her that henceforth Negro students were to be recommended only to Oakland City College.

"I think it is out job to point to the chauvinism in the schools and demand its education, to join forces with other groups demanding it. In Berkeley twn years ago concern regarding segregation in the schools led to the formation of a citizens committee to investigate and recommend. The result of this was the famous Staats Report and a determined coalition of concerned citizens to back its recommendations. Thus Berkeley is years ahead of its meighbcuring cities in recognition of the problem and action on it.

"Oakland has had innumerable committees and investigations. The Element lacking in Oakland is an effective movement to take up the complaints and demands and translate them into actual changes. The problem is more complex in Oakland which has 68 elementary schools, 16 junior high schools, 6 senior high schools, and a city college. About 80,000 students and their families are involved.

"The Oakland School Board consists of seven members. Six of the members are white. The Negro member, HILBURN, is a member of the County Central Committee of the Republican Party. Of the others, two are lawyers, and one, LORENZO HOOPER, is a top figure in Safeway Stores management and a leading member of the Mormon Church. The Mormon Church believes that white supremacy is sanctioned by God. None of the members of the Board live in the ghetto and their children attend either private schools, or the all-white schools of Oakland. We don't know whether HILBURN has a family or not.

"Three demands could be raised in SCHEER's campaign:

"1) Negro counselors in ghetto schools without teaching assignments.

"2) No federal money for schools not educating children to minimum standards.

"3) Expand 'operation headstart' to all children who need it."

2. Plans, strategy, Party line and the like made at district and lower level meetings, including expressions by local leaders and rank and file members.

An enlarged County Committee meeting of the CP of San Francisco was held on December 13, 1965, at San Francisco, California. Part of the discussion at this meeting included the participation of youth within the CP. ARCHIE BROWN, chairman of the CP of San Francisco, in discussing the part to be played by youth specifically concentrated on the Fillmore Club of the CP of San Francisco. The Fillmore Club is in the predominantly Negro district of San Francisco. BROWN stated the Party must have the active support of the Fillmore Club in physically working in the Fillmore Negro area and that the Party must have the support of all clubs in financing a youth program in the Fillmore District. He stated that the clubs of the CP of San Francisco have been asked previously to raise $70 a month for work in this area but that the budget has been increased to $170 a month, of which $100 is to pay a youth organizer to work in the Fillmore District. He stated that this organizer will be chiefly engaged in building the Du Bois Clubs and being liaison between the Du Bois Clubs and the Communist youth with the CP.

A meeting of the leaders of the CP of San Francisco, notably the new San Francisco chairman, JAMES FOREST, was held on January 26, 1966, at San Francisco, California. At this meeting, JAMES FOREST stated that a draft program for the National Convention of the CP would be distributed to the various clubs prior to the State Convention to be held the first weeks of June, 1966. At this meeting, JAMES FOREST passed out a summary of a report on a discussion held at a District Committee meeting, date unknown, which was distributed to those in attendance. One of the points mentioned in the summary to be discussed by the various CP clubs was the following:

"What is your answer to the continued stubborn resistance to ending discrimination against our Negro citizens?" This was one of several positions discussed at the District Committee meeting but was described as a matter of prime importance for the CP. It was announced that the District Committee of the CP has decided to establish a public relations committee to be responsible for working out detailed plans for discussion of Party policy and the Party program in various communities and it was also announced that the National Office of the CP also has a public relations committee working on plans for the public presentation of the CP program in various districts.

USA CP MEMBERS N.Y.

On April 23, 1966, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information which disclosed that Stanley Levison and Clarence Jones were in contact on that date. According to the information from the source, the following is in essence what transpired:

Levison mentioned that he had learned that Martin Luther King (President of Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC), had desired to talk to him about the program of the SCLC in Chicago. Levison said, however, that they had been unable to arrange a contact for that date (April 24, 1966). Levison said he was of the opinion that King wanted to discuss specifically the formulation of a program for Chicago and in fact said that Bayard Rustin (organizer of the March on Washington), was in Chicago to unify the many civil rights groups.

However, according to what Harry Wachtel told Levison, Rustin was very "sore" because the SCLC passed the Vietnam resolution.

The Vietnam resolution was passed during a meeting of the SCLC Board in Miami, Florida, March 11-12, 1966. The resolution called for the United States to consider the prompt withdrawal of United States forces from Vietnam.

Re: Communist Influence in Racial Matters

Levison, in elaborating on Rustin's hurt feelings, said that Rustin and Andrew (Andrew Young, Executive Director of the SCLC), attended a civil rights meeting in Washington recently, where the civil rights organizations agreed they would not (get involved in the Vietnam issue).

Jones said his respect for Rustin had dropped very low as a result of his opinions and statements. Levison said he had no respect for him because he (Rustin) is just playing a game.

Jones said he had watched the newspapers very carefully for a statement by a major civil rights leader attacking King's position on Vietnam; to date, however, there has not been one, according to Jones. He said he thought this was due to the fact that the resolution was really good and was so timely. The statement, Jones said, came precisely at the time that people in the Senate were saying the same thing. Levison acknowledged similar statements from other prominent people, such as Senators Cooper of Kentucky and Russell of Georgia, but disagreed that the reticence of the civil rights leaders to speak was due to this. Instead, Levison said, they were holding their tongues because they were glad that King stuck his neck out. Levison opined that Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young (Executive Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, NAACP, and the Executive Director of the Urban League), had snuggled up to Johnson (President Lyndon B. Johnson) and he now considers them as his boys. King, Levison said, is now in a different relationship to the White House than he used to be, and "they" (Young and Wilkins) are now on the inside.

Jones said he had heard that President Johnson had really wanted Whitney Young to be Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, rather than Robert Weaver (the present Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare). Levison answered that Roy (Roy Wilkins) had led the fight to get Weaver appointed. Levison said the point is that the boys in Washington are accomplishing what they want and this puts King where they would like to see him; so he did not think they were too unhappy about it. King, Levison commented, is reflecting what people think and is increasing his popularity through it. Strategically, "they" (Young and Wilkins), Levison said, had maneuvered themselves where they wanted to be.

With regard to Chicago, Levison said, they (Young and Wilkins) were probably trying to formulate a program which they did not have, but need.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. His differences, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. ~~JFK (5)~~ (U)

Communist Influence In Racial Matters

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1 column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly." ~~S~~ (X) U

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA.

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information in December, 1949, that Harry H. Wachtel, 41 Broad Street, New York, New York, was on a list of individuals carried as active members of the National Lawyers Guild. &/u

A characterization of the National Lawyers Guild is attached hereto.

On March 5, 1944, another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information which revealed that the name Harry Wachtel was on a list of names, significance not known, which was maintained at the Headquarters of the Kings County Communist Party (CP) at 26 Court Street, Brooklyn, New York. &/u

Regarding Harry Wachtel's wife, Leonora, it is noted that the same confidential source furnished information on March 5, 1944, which revealed that her name and address were on a list of names of newly elected officers of the Bath Beach Club of the Kings County CP. &/u

With respect to the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, it is to be noted that this organization is an adjunct of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), of which Martin Luther King, Jr., is the president, and serves to raise funds for the SCLC.

Synopsis:

Informants reported DONALD GUREWITZ helped organize moving a group of Negroes on a de-activated Air Force Base in Mississippi, in February, 1966. GEORGE MEYERS, CP District Chairman, reportedly visits SNCC Headquarters in Washington, D.C., everytime he visits Washington, D.C., to discuss efforts to get Home Rule in Washington, D.C. MEYERS believed SNCC got off on the wrong foot on the store boycotting in Washington, D.C., over Home Rule. WILLIAM ALLAN, "The Worker" representative in Detroit, Michigan, covered the conference of the Citizen's Committee Against Poverty in Washington, D.C. His article in "The Worker" quoted remarks pertaining to race by the poor people at the conference. ALLAN also worked on a story about Home Rule in Washington, D.C. GEORGE MEYERS visited the encampment in Lafayette Park of a group of sharecroppers from Mississippi and gave them literature that he wrote about the South.

II. COMMUNIST TACTICS

A. Eviction of Negroes from De-Activated Air Force Base in Mississippi, February 1, 1966

DONALD GUREWITZ helped organize the "Greenville Eviction" but DONALD GUREWITZ and his friends left Greenville, Mississippi, beforehand so that the presence of the Negroes on the Air Force Base in Greenville would not seen to be instigated by outsiders. There were 15 students from Western Reserve College, Cleveland, Ohio, in Greenville. These students included DONALD GUREWITZ. On February 5, 1966, they were on their way back to school.

WF T-1, February 5, 1966

DONALD GUREWITZ is the son of CLARENCE and HELEN GUREWITZ.

On June 19, 1963, WF T-2, identified CLARENCE GUREWITZ as a current Communist Party (CP) member.

On February 20, 1964, WF T-3, identified HELEN GUREWITZ as a current CP member.

"The Worker", February 6, 1966, Page 1, contained an article captioned "Homeless and Hungry Negroes driven off Air Base in Mississippi". The article said that more then one hundred and ten Negro men and women and children from the Mississippi Delta and a few civil Rights workers were driven out of a de-activated Air Force Base at Greenville, Mississippi, on February 1, 1966, by Air Force soldiers. The group had moved on the base about 30 hours earlier saying "we are hungry and cold and we have no jobs or land". The article stated that the Negro squatters said that their action was sponsored by "The Poor People's Conference".

"The Worker" is an East Coast Communist Newspaper.

B. Boycott of Washington,D.C. Stores Not Displaying Signs Supporting A Right to Vote Law for Washington,D.C.

After a CP meeting in Washington, D.C., on February 21, 1966, GEORGE MEYERS, CP District Chairman, said that he was going to the Headquarters of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) which he said was sponsoring a mass movement for the right to vote in Washington, D.C. MEYERS said that the movement was to make personal contacts with local businessmen. If the businessman agreed to support a right to vote law, SNCC would place a sign in his store window indicating this fact. The idea was that those stores not having signs would be boycotted. MEYERS mentioned that one person in a large local store had been giving SNCC a hard time over this. He stated that this store might be boycotted.

WF T-4, February 22,1966

GEORGE MEYERS said that everytime he comes Md. to Washington, D.C., he goes to SNCC Headquarters to discuss Home Rule Strategy. He believes that SNCC got off on the wrong foot when they tried to organize the store boycott in Washington,D.C.

WF T-4, March 8, 1966

C. Citizen's Committee Against Poverty Conference, Washington,D.C., April 14, 1966-April 16, 1966

WILLIAM ALLAN, "The Worker" Representative, in Detroit, Michigan, was in Washington, D.C., on April 14, 1966, through April 16, 1966, in connection with a conference of the Citizen's Committee Against Poverty. The conference was about the Poverty Program. While in Washington,D.C., ALLAN stayed with CLARENCE and HELEN GUREWITZ at their home in Silver Spring, Maryland. Besides covering the conference for "The Worker" ALLAN visited the Washington Offices of the Detroit Free Press to try to get them to also cover the conference.

In addition to covering the Citizen's Committee Against Poverty, ALLAN also worked on a story about a "Free D.C." movement (a movement to obtain Home Rule for the District of Columbia). He also covered the Cherry Blossom Festival Parade in Washington, D.C., on April 16, 1966, expecting something newsworthy in the report that a young lady was going to enter the Cherry Blossom Queen competition as "Miss Free D.C.". However, the young lady was arrested the previous evening in a local hotel during an attempt to "crash" the [illegible] Cherry Festival Ball.

ALLAN discussed the fact that nothing happened at the parade on April 16, 1966, with GEORGE MEYERS. MEYERS upon hearing that nothing happened at the parade told ALLAN that that was typical. He said that he had tried to tell ALLAN that that was "the way things worked here."

ALLAN also discussed with MEYERS the statement made by an official in the Civil Rights Division of the United States Justice Department in which, according to ALLAN, the official stated that "we have to curb all these wild people and so forth" (in civil rights and poverty demonstrations). MEYERS and ALLAN termed this official "stupid" and "nuts". They agreed that these people must be fed rather then curbed. ALLAN got one of the leaders of the Crusade Against Poverty to make a statement along that line. ALLAN alleged that a line was being developed in Washington, D.C., to "try to isolate these youngsters and all the rest of them". MEYERS and ALLAN agree that it is not just a militant bunch of kids but "the whole movement in the country". ALLAN said that he was writing a wrap-up on the whole thing for "The Worker".

ALLAN also heard reports which he could not completely track down. He said he did ascertain that ten youth organizations had organized a national movement of young people on the poverty question with three or four pretty good demands. ALLAN said he was going to write an article on this movement.

WF T-1, April 16, 1966

The "National Guardian" April 23, 1966, Page 5 in an article about the "Poor People's Convention" in Washington,D.C., by the Citizen's Crusade Against Poverty said that the conference was arranged by the Citizen's Crusade Against Poverty, "a liberal-oriented private group headed by WALTER REUTHER, President of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers."

N.Y.

The "National Guardian" is described in the appendix.

ALLAN's story in "The Worker" April 24, 1966, Page 4, about the conference in Washington,D.C. reported that the poor from Watts, Mississippi, Harlem and Chicago, had the floor all day at the Second conference of the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty and took off on the War in Vietnam, which they said had replaced the War on Poverty. ALLAN quoted a 16 year old Negro youth from Chicago as saying in part "we are being asked to go to Vietnam and help the white man to exploit the colored people" . . . . . "the slum school we go to in the ghetto is that way for a purpose. It is so that we won't learn anything to compete with whites, but we will always be underdeveloped." . . . "Slum Schools are for the perpetuation of exploitation of the Negro and poor whites". ALLAN also quoted the Executive Director of Chicago's West Side Organization for Full Employment as saying "They don't give us any money, they are afraid we will get power, because they know when Negroes get power in Chicago, the power structure will go".

D. Encampment of Mississippi Sharecroppers in Lafayette Square, Washington,D.C., April, 1966

There was a CP meeting in Washington, D.C., on April 5, 1966, conducted by GEORGE MEYERS. MEYERS' first order of business was a discussion of his visit to the "tent people" who were camping in Lafayette Park across from the White House in Washington,D.C. MEYERS interviewed most of the campers and gave them a copy of "Terror Down South" written by MEYERS. While MEYERS was in Lafayette Park, JULIUS HOBSON, Local Militant Civil Rights Advocate, former head of the local Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), and presently head of the Associated Community Team (ACT), was there and began talking to the campers about what MEYERS called the "true problem", getting rid of the current Civil Rights leaders. MEYERS said that he thought HOBSON was an"agent provocateur"who was stirring up the Negro people against the Negroes.

Upon leaving Lafayette Park MEYERS went to the Mississippi Democratic Party Offices in Washington, D.C. where he had a brief talk with some of the people in that office. He also left them a copy of "Terror Down South".

WF T-4,April 5, 1966

Local news reports on the Lafayette Park campers reported that they were sharecroppers that had been living in tents in Mississippi. They were in Washington,D.C., to demonstrate in an effort to secure federal funds for their county in Mississippi.

"Terror Down South" is a leaflet by GEORGE MEYERS identified in the leaflet as "Southern Correspondent of 'The Worker'". In the leaflet MEYERS alleged that the use of terror and other methods of intimidation continue to be a major weapon of Southern Racists in their efforts to nullify the mass demands for Southern Negroes for "Freedom Now". MEYERS claimed that law enforcement in the South lacked the courage, desire or ability to curb the outrages. He said that despite the overwhelming mandate given by the people in the last presidential election that the federal government guarantee some semblance of democracy in the South, MEYERS claimed that the federal government had failed to do so. He said that civil rights workers and Negro leaders talked of the federal government's failure to act in tight-lipped anger and in tones of explosive frustration. MEYERS said that there is much more talk about the Deacons for Defense and the possibility of extending the use of self defense committees. He also alleged that the government's failure to challenge organized terror in the South is equaled by its reluctance to enforce the civil rights legislation this terror is attempting to nullify.

MEYERS' leaflet contained an advertisement requesting the reader to subscribe to and to read "The Worker" which it described as "the militant voice of Progressive America".

WF T-4, April 5,1966

III. COMMUNIST PENETRATION AND INFLUENCE IN RACIAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

A. Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC)

Every time GEORGE MEYERS visits Washington,D.C., he reportedly goes to the Headquarters of the SNCC to discuss Home Rule and the efforts to secure Home Rule in Washington, D.C.

WF T-4, March 8, 1966

Additional information concerning MEYERS' interest in SNCC is contained in Section II of this report.

Copies of this report have been disseminated to local intelligence agencies in accordance with Bureau instructions.

For the information of the Bureau, an appendix section has been utilized in this report for the purpose of characterizing individuals and organizations mentioned in this report. This appendix contains all of the individuals who can be characterized.

In addition to SA SEATON, this report was prepared by the following Special Agents:

ARTHUR J. GREENE, JR.	Socialist Workers Party
JOHN W. ROBINSON	Progressive Labor Party
WILLIAM H. BATTS	Congress of Racial Equality
ANTHONY E. CONSTANTINO	National Association For the Advancement of Colored People

With respect to the Workers World Party, this case file was reviewed by SA A. LEWIS BARNETT, and it was determined that there is nothing pertinent to report for this period.

CG 5824-S*, on 2/13/66, furnished information that a meeting of the State Board, CP of Illinois, was held on 2/13/66. CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Chairman of the Negro Commission of the CP, indicated he would be going to Cleveland, Ohio, sometime in the near future on Negro Commission work and would meet there with HENRY WINSTON and others. The purpose of their meetings in Cleveland would be to discuss various aspects of and developments relating to the Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING movement in Chicago and to prepare for a possible similar drive by the KING forces in Cleveland on the question of civil rights, equality and slums.

GUS HALL, who was also present at this Board meeting, stated that maybe the Party should do as Dr. KING has done and get an apartment in Chicago and move the Negro Commission into it in Chicago. If the Party did this, then the Negro Commission could get behind the KING drive. He reminded those present that they should not forget that the Party has not as yet given up the thought of moving the National Office out of New York to Chicago in order to be near the center of the working class.

NY 100-153735

At the same time, HALL also made it known that the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America would be definitely moving to Chicago and some of the national leadership are scheduled to be in the city during June, 1966. He stated that he personally could see no reason why these leaders who were coming here could not move up their arrival date in order to "pitch in" here on the KING movement" and give it all the help possible.

On 2/16/66, [redacted] advised the following information was received in a letter dated 2/13/66, from GEORGE MEYERS, District Organizer, Southern Region, CP, USA.

MEYERS stated that he had recently returned home after accompanying GUS HALL to Tuskegee College in Alabama, where HALL had given a speech.

In discussing the Negro situation in Miami, he said that there are Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) Chapters established in Miami, St. Augustine and Jacksonville, Florida. He suggested that the Florida CP, USA Organizer contact these Chapters and lend them any CP support they desired.

On 2/16/66, CG 5824-S* furnished information on that date a meeting of the staff of the CP of Illinois took place. During the course of the meeting CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT stated that the Party, had put thousands of dollars into "Freedomways" magazine but as yet had not set aside a single penny for the Negro freedom movement. Accordingly, LIGHTFOOT, as well as the others, agreed that the National Office should be requested to provide at least a thousand dollars for this purpose, which could be used for Party work related to the current civil rights activity in Chicago centered around DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING.

It was also noted that there should be additional book stores opened in Chicago, one for the south side and one for the west side of the city. These new book store locations should be set up in order to have a place where material is available to youth, primarily the Negro youth. For each of these book stores, it was decided that the National Office should be requested to provide a minimum of $1,000.00.

The foregoing information was not included in the report because the nature of the information tends to identify the informants.

In February, 1966, WINSTON made the statement that Negroes will not be second class citizens for long if the Negro movement can join forces with the labor movement; WINSTON stated the civil rights movement and the democratic movement as a whole should be concerned with political power, and he said political power will become more and more important in the fight for political equality for Negro people. February, 1966, at a meeting of New York CP District Negro Commission, RASHEED STOREY said that a program would be set up on how to make the Party's influence in the Negro field felt. In "The Worker" of 1/23/66, it was stated that the JOHNSON Administration is too busy sending young American GI's to Vietnam to kill and be killed to concern itself about the horror of the Negro people's life in the South. In "The Worker" of 1/16/66, GEORGE MEYERS had an article in which he stated that the government has the duty to protect all of its citizens, and it was urged that the President and the Department of Justice use their authority to end the wave of terror in the South. The SWP has organized a Negro Commission to facilitate its work in that field. CP Members continue to be active within NALC. CLARENCE JONES, STANLEY LEVISON, BAYARD RUSTIN and HARRY WACHTEL continue their contacts with SCLC.

I. COMMUNIST STRATEGY

A. Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA)

1. Plans, Strategy Made at National Level of the Party

An enlarged meeting of the National Committee, CP, USA, was held in New York City on January 14, 15, 16, 17, 1966. At this meeting, GUS HALL gave a report in which he commented that the internal problems in the unions make it necessary for the Party to develop long range approaches to this question. The main fight the Party must conduct is the fight for the unity of the trade union movement. This fight must be conducted around three questions: 1. the internal unity of the trade union movement; 2. the unity of the working class, especially Negro-white unity; and 3. the unity of the unorganized workers and the organized workers and as part of that, the organization of the unorganized into the labor movement.

HALL, continuing his report, said the ruling class resorts to terror in the South to maintain its position. He stated that a big task for the Party in this period is the struggle to link the civil rights fight with the struggle for peace.

GEORGE MEYERS spoke about the terror which exists for Negro people in the South. He commented that the white working class is not as involved in the anti-Negro activities as the American press would lead one to believe.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT commented that the civil rights movement will come to a standstill unless the working class moves in and participates. He also emphasized the necessity for the civil rights and peace movements getting into politics, and he said that this cannot be realized without labor's help.

NY T-1
January 17, 1966

A meeting of the National Committee of the CP, USA and invited guests was held at the Hotel Wellington, New York City, during the period January 15-17, 1966. On January 15, 1966, GUS HALL gave the main report to the National Committee. In his report, HALL commented that Negro-White solidarity affects trade unions and the class struggle, and he indicated that the Party is equipped to give the ideological lead on this matter. Continuing, HALL stated that democracy in trade unions requires the election of communists and progressives at least on the lower levels. HALL indicated that the Party would be in a position to help in this ideological struggle to remove white chauvinism and to develop the class consciousness. He stated that the organization of the unorganized is a key question of this unity especially in the South. According to HALL, the mobilization of the rank and file in the unions for this fight is a necessity, and the Party will help to organize it.

Commenting with respect to the WATTS incident, HALL stated that this explosion revealed the generations of poverty, exploitation and JIM CROWISM. According to HALL, the WATTS incident pointed out the"meaninglessness" of the anti-poverty program, and he said it also revealed how far removed the ghetto is from political parties, including the Communist Party (CP). HALL commented that there must be a breakthrough with respect to economic barriers if the recent civil rights victories are to have any meaning; HALL stated the basic roots of discrimination are in economics. HALL stated that currently the point has been reached where the civil rights struggle meets the class struggle, both of whom will be allied against the profit struggle.

HALL stated that new laws are not the solution to this problem. He said that the Department of Justice has "test cases" which are only a means of hiding inactivity. HALL made the statement that the federal government does nothing to stop the murderers and the torturers in the South. Continuing, HALL said "we" must stop the terror against the civil rights movement and the Negro people in the South, and he said that if this is not done, then the same terror will be unleashed against the trade unions in the South.

According to HALL, the Party in many areas should be looking toward winning elections with peace candidates as well as civil rights candidates. He indicated that the people are looking forward to the Party having candidates. HALL commented that the Party needed to take the initiative in the movements for peace and civil rights in order to lead these movements.

On January 16, 1966, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT stated that the civil rights movement has reached a point where unless the organized labor movement gives it its full support, this movement will be stymied. If the civil rights movement is to achieve its aims, changes are necessary in the labor movement. According to LIGHTFOOT, the Party must work out ways and means to free the labor movement which is now a prisoner of the Democratic Party.

January 21, 25, 26, 1966

At a meeting of the CP, USA, National Committee held on January 15-17, 1966, in New York City, HENRY WINSTON told the group that Party activity in the Southern United States must be increased. He said that the American public was beginning to express more interest in the CP and were even coming to Party Headquarters for information. WINSTON said that they would have to see to it that there was a massive distribution of the Party Program to the people in the South and that the South should be requested to furnish money to the Party.

WINSTON stated that the principal struggle in the South was in the field of civil rights and that the Party had to become a part of this struggle. WINSTON added that the Party should also lead the drive for peace in the South since at the present time the Southern states were less inclined to drive for peace than the people in the Northern states.

During the meeting, HENRY WINSTON said that he had been authorized by the National Board and the Secretariat to make a special report. He told the group that JAMES JACKSON was being removed from his position as editor of "The Worker" and being made responsible for Negro work in the Party.

NY T-3
February 23, 1966

A meeting of the National Negro Commission of the CP, USA, was held at CP, USA, 23 West 26th Street, New York City, on January 19, 1966. The subject matter under discussion was the problem of the increase of white chauvinist expressions within and without of the CP and in certain electoral activities.

HENRY WINSTON introduced the subject by stating that in the recent period, a number of such manifestations had appeared and that today they reflect greater damage on the Party because the movements and struggles are larger and there are a greater number of Negroes engaged in these movements. WINSTON said he has heard of a number of instances within the Party where certain white comrades are manifesting chauvinist objections to working under or accepting leadership from Negro comrades. However, the most glaring example was, the role of certain Party members in the city elections recently held in Cleveland, Ohio, and Miami, Florida.

In the Cleveland mayoralty election, where the Negro candidate lost the election by a narrow margin of 2,000 votes, WINSTON called attention to the activity of of several prominent and influential white communists and "progressives" who opposed the Negro candidate and supported his unacceptable opponent, the present mayor of Cleveland. WINSTON said he was convinced that the activities of these persons were sufficiently influential as to make the difference between defeat and victory for the Negro candidate

WINSTON said that an even graver situation was exhibited during the recent city commission election at Miami. There the activities and role of several influential Party members who broke from Party decisions can be charged with the responsibility for making the difference in the defeat of a Negro woman candidate for the city commission. There were nearly 40,000 votes cast in this election and the Negro candidate lost by only 1,400 votes. These several comrades were sufficiently influential in various organizations that their support for the opponent was responsible for this margin of votes.

WINSTON said that these various examples, all arising together or in this same period of time, would demonstrate that they are not isolated happenings but omens of what may be happening elsewhere. He believed that these instances will occur again and again in varied localities, and therefore, the Party should move at once against any more situations developing.

WINSTON commended PAT TOOHEY and the Miami CP for directing the attention of the national leadership to this situation by submitting a memorandum for action by the national leadership. He said that the Secretariat and the Negro Commission had already discussed the memorandum and agreed with its contents.

Concerning the Miami, Florida situation, it appears that a dispute arose within the Miami CP over support of a Mrs. RANGE, a Negro businesswoman who was allegedly wealthy and not a progressive. Some of the Miami Party members held the view that because Mrs. RANGE was a rich banker and not a "progressive", she should not be supported just because she is a Negro. However, the majority of Party members held that according to Party policy, she should have been supported even though not a "progressive".

JAMES JACKSON was highly in favor of the position of the majority of Miami CP members and urged that this position be strongly upheld.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT was especially bitter about the reported cases of objection to working under Negro leaders and called for a most penetrating treatment of the entire situation.

WILLIAM PATTERSON gave examples of the rise of the existing forms of white chauvinism in/Party and outside ranks and said it was noteworthy that this chauvinism came not from new people but in most cases from old, longterm Party members and the people in the progressive ranks who had been around a long time.

On February 9, 1966, the New York School for Marxist Studies held a session at 853 Broadway, New York City. HENRY WINSTON spoke at this session and his main theme was that Negroes in the United States will not be second class citizens for long if the Negro movement in America can join forces with the labor movement. WINSTON said that labor unions must arise in the South and take up the struggle for rights.

NY T-5
February 16, 1966

At a meeting of the Miami CP City Committee held on February 25, 1966, a letter was read from HENRY WINSTON which concerned the Negro question. WINSTON is a member of the CP, USA, National Committee, and on the CP, USA, National Commission, and a spokesman for the Party on Negro matters.

The letter from WINSTON resulted from a request for advice by the Miami CP, which was having a serious dispute over whether the Miami Party should have supported Mrs. ATHALIE RANGE, a Negro businesswoman who was seeking election to the Miami, Florida, City Commission, in December, 1965. Mrs. RANGE was alleged to be a rich banker and owner of several other businesses, and was not considered a "progressive". The dispute arose over whether Mrs. RANGE should have been supported just because she was a Negro. The majority of the Miami City Committee members felt that a proper Party understanding of the Negro in today's movements and the correct Marxist position would show that Mrs. RANGE should have received their support.

In his letter, WINSTON stated that the proper Party position would have been unequivocal support of Mrs. RANGE. He said the position of the minority of Miami CP members showed a lack of understanding of the importance of this problem, underestimated the readiness of the masses to support the candidacy of a Negro woman, and indicated a failure to understand the national character of the Negro question.

According to WINSTON, the direction with which the civil rights movement today and the democratic movement as a whole, should be concerned, is the struggle for political power. He said that recently, a whole series of conferences dealing with this subject have taken place throughout the United States. He said the Negro people feel that in the fight for full equality, the struggle for political power is one of their more important weapons, and that Communists in the United States are in accord with this decision. In fact, one of the three primary slogans of the CP, USA, is the struggle for first-class citizenship. He said the fight for political power will become more and more important in the fight to bring about political equality for the Negro people.

In describing the problem in this regard, WINSTON said that until several weeks ago, there was not a Negro in the Cabinet, no Negroes on the Supreme Court of the United States, no Negroes in the Senate, and only six Negroes in the House of Representatives. There are no Negro governors or lieutenant-governors, and only one Negro Attorney-General. There is only a token number of Negroes in state legislatures. Throughout the United States, there are only two Negro mayors, at Springfield, Ohio, and Mount Bayou, Mississippi. The number of Negro councilmen throughout the United States does not correspond at all to an extent which would give equal representation.

According to WINSTON, there exists a tremendous problem in terms of elective and appointive office, and this situation is a real indictment of United States capitalism.

This struggle develops in numerous ways and forms. A position taken by some, an anti-White position, is that Harlem should become a self-contained unit, and all white people would be removed, and political power placed only in the hands of Negroes. He said this is an unsound way to approach the correct struggle for power, and that the fight for political power must be based on unity of Negro and white people on the basis of advancing that struggle to the point where the struggle against inequality can develop on all fronts.

In this regard, WINSTON said that in Mississippi, the Freedom Democratic Party, with a membership of about 25,000 and existing within forty of the eighty-two counties of that state, is fighting for official recognition as the dominant party in that state. This is a new development which grew out of a specific situation in Mississippi, and is the form in which the struggle for political power, when properly understood, is being developed in that state.

WINSTON said that the essence of this struggle is for representative government, and this means the election of Negroes to political office in which an appeal is made to all those who believe in a democratic government. This means that in areas where there is a Negro minority, the right to be elected to office; in areas where there is a Negro majority, the right to share the leadership with the white people; and in some other cases, the election of a majority of Negroes representing all people.

In this fight, it will be necessary to include the organizations of voters' leagues, democratic parties, improvement associations, and numerous other forms.

WINSTON concluded by stating that it is a measure of the thinking and understanding of all Progressives as to how to defend the best national interests of the United States, the individual states, and the counties and cities.

This letter was well received by the members of the Miami City Committee, with the major exception of MORRIS ROHINSKY, who is Chairman of the Miami, CP. He said he still disagreed with this position as taken by WINSTON, and that the National Office does not understand mass work and particularly, Party work in the South, which is different than anywhere else in the United States. The WINSTON letter will be the subject of further discussions in each of the CP Clubs in Miami.

There was some talk among the CP members who were in complete agreement with WINSTON that in view of the anti-Party attitude of ROHINSKY on the Negro question, an attempt will be made to ease him out as Chairman of the Miami CP.

2. Plans, Strategy Made at District and Lower Level Meeting of the Party

On January 28 and 29, 1966, a CP, USA, New York District Committee meeting was held at the Hotel Woodstock in New York City. GIL GREEN spoke at this meeting and started out by praising the former New York District CP Organizer ROBERT THOMPSON. GREEN spoke about THOMPSON's activities in the period prior to his death in which he was quite active in the civil rights and peace movement.

Party members, according to GREEN, must step up their fight for civil rights and peace. According to him, these two issues go hand in hand at the present time.

The civil rights movement, GREEN, stated has taken a new form because there has arisen a new Negro. He embodies the Negro peoples' movement, which fights not only for civil rights and freedom, but has also taken a stand against the war in Vietnam.

On January 28, 1966, there was a New York State CP Committee meeting held at the Hotel Woodstock, New York City, and during the course of this meeting GIL GREEN spoke. The civil rights movement, according to GIL GREEN, has taken a new form because there has arisen a new Negro. He embodies the Negro people's movement which fights not only for civil rights and freedom, but also has taken a stand against the war in Vietnam. An example of this is JULIAN BOND, a newly elected member of the Georgia legislature who was refused a seat in the legislature because he was outspoken in his oppositon to United States involvement in the Vietnam war. GIL GREEN was certain that Doctor MARTIN LUTHER KING is against the war in Vietnam. GREEN visions the Party becoming stronger and urged all Party members to participate in the process of helping the Party become stronger.

On February 26, 1966, a CP, USA, New York District Negro Commission meeting was held in New York City under the name of New York Current Events Forum. S.T. RASHEED STOREY acted as the chairman of this meeting, and he made several statements with respect to the purpose of the meeting. He said that a program would be set up on how to make the Party's influence in the Negro field felt. He also said that they should complement the CP's National Program on the community level which includes political action, housing, schools, and jobs. He stated that every effort should be made to recruit people especially young people, into the Party and to establish a Marxist school.

S.I.

IDA POSNER spoke on political action in the Brownsville Section of Brooklyn. She mentioned that they are trying to get a Negro representative to run for Congress in that area. She said that the reform clubs on labor are being urged to support a Negro candidate.

member of C.P. AGNES WILLIS N.Y. spoke on the Negro American Labor Council (NALC) in regard to its history and its connection with the labor movement. She made the statement that there is no coordination within the Party itself concerning the Negro and labor activities.

3. Plans as Revealed in Party Publications

"The Worker" is an east coast Communist newspaper.

In "The Worker" issues of January 16, 1966, there appears an article by GEORGE MEYERS in which he discussed the racial situation in the South. MEYERS stated that it is the duty of the Government of the United States to protect all its citizens in their efforts to secure the rights and benefits guaranteed them by the Constitution and by Federal legislation. It was stated that President JOHNSON and the Department of Justice must use their authority to end the wave of terror in the South.

In the article, it was stated that there has been much discussion in the civil rights movement with respect to the demands which should be made to President JOHNSON and members of Congress. MEYERS presented some proposals for the consideration of "The Worker" readers; these proposals are as follows:

1. Enforce the present laws which authorize the President to take action against violence in the South.

2. Enforce the existing law, which makes it a crime to discriminate in the selection of juries.

3. Enact legislation at the next session of Congress which will reinforce the power of the Federal Government to prevent or punish crimes of racial violence.

4. The President should make more use of Federal law enforcement officers in the South. To implement this recommendation, Federal Bureau of Investigation Agents who have failed to act against the terrorist should be replaced with Negro and white agents able and willing to do so. Let President JOHNSON appoint some Negro marshals and substantially increase the number of Negro deputy marshals.

5. "Racist" Federal Judges appointed by President JOHNSON and his predecessors at the behest of the Dixiecrat politicians, should be replaced with Negro and White judges who will abide by their oath to uphold and defend the constitution.

"The Worker" of January 23, 1966, contains an article captioned, "Katzenbach's Silence" in which it was stated that the atrocities against the Negro people continue unabated in the South and that President JOHNSON and Attorney General NICHOLAS KATZENBACH remain silent.

It was further stated that President JOHNSON and Attorney General KATZENBACH have the power to punish the perpetrators of crime's against the Negro people and guarantee that such crimes are not repeated. According to this article, the JOHNSON Administration is too busy sending young American GI's to Vietnam to kill and be killed to concern itself about the horrors of the Negro people's life in the South.

In the article, it was urged that every American concerned about his natins existence should write the President demanding that he use his authority immediately to halt the terror in the South and assure the Negro people the protection of their lives and property.

In the January 23, 1966 issue of "The Worker", ther appears on page four an article by GEORGE MEYERS in which he discussed the "reluctance" of the Department of Justice to effectively challenge organized terror in the South and to enforce the Civil Rights legislation. According to the article, Attorney General KATZENBACH has been reluctant to enforce the 1965 Voter Registration Act in spite of complaints accusing Southern election officials of procrastination, he continues to talk about voluntary compliance.

According to this article, there is no question that Title VI of the Civil Rights Law, which gives federal agencies the right to cut off funds when that law is violated, is a major weapon against "jimcrow". MEYERS in the article, said that this should be used now and used effectively, and he said that the time of waiting for voluntary compliance is long past.

MEYERS urged that federal registrars be placed in each of the 364 Southern counties covered by the Voters Registration Law until every Negro citizen who wishes to register has the opportunity to do so. He also urged that the "integrity of the polls" be protected on election day.

According to the article, there should be an attack on organized terror in the South and Negro-White unity in the labor movement, the churches, in politics, and other spheres. MEYERS felt that these policies would tend to break down barriers which are preventing the South from catching up with the rest of the country.

"The Worker" of March 20, 1966, contains an editorial on page three in which the recent incident in the WATTS area of Los Angeles was discussed. It was stated that "the signals from WATTS urgently call for greater unity of white and negro citizens and their organizations, in demands upon federal and city governments to eradicate the discrimination which lies at the heart of ghetto conditions.

"Political Affairs" is the self-described theoretical journal of the CP, USA.

In the February, 1966, issue of "Political Affairs" there appears an article captioned "Class Confrontation in Freedom Struggle" by JAMES E. JACKSON. In this article, JACKSON stated that during the past decade the young generation, especially of the Negro people, have gained a wide experience with the class nature of the capitalist state and how its police and court system defend its privilege and power. These people have gained experience with respect to building organizations, cultivating unity, reaching out to forge alliances with "a wide stratum of white people". Continuing, the article stated that this group has grown critical of the whole nature and structure of capitalist society. According to the article, this young generation seeks a progressive alternative to capitalism. It was stated in the article that "now, as in no other time in its history, the Communist Party of the U.S.A. has the opportunity and duty to disclose the socialist alternative to the young generation, to bring to the Negro militants the science of Marxism-Leninism to help illumine the way to lasting victory for the masses in the struggle for freedom, equality and justice".

B. Other Communist Groups

Progressive Labor Party (PLP)

Source advised that a discussion was held among PLP members in January, 1966, in New York City, at which time BILL MC ADOO, a PLP leader and several other individuals were present.

This discussion concerned a school board election which will take place in May, 1966, at Mt. Vernon, New York, and the PLP has decided to use this election as a means of creating racial turmoil in Mt. Vernon.

The source further stated that no discussion was held concerning the means of creating this turmoil however, it was definitely agreed that some sort of action would be taken.

NY T- 14
February, 1966

The February 15, 1966 issue of "Challenge", self-described as a publication of the PLP, in New York City, Page 6, carries an editorial captioned "Twelve Children", which reports that twelve children had died in fires in three days at the end of January, 1966, in New York City.

The article claims that these children died because they lived in fire-trap slums owned by the rich to whom the slums are just another source of income.

The PLP calls for the organizing of the buildings, the blocks, and the whole city because the laws are phony and illegal, and a law that allows the workers and their children to be hurt and sometimes killed must be broken or ignored as if it did not exist. It was stated that only through the workers - the poor of all colors and national origin-fighting together can such crimes against the people be stopped.

The March 1, 1966, issue of "Challenge" Page 6, carries an editorial captioned "Leery about Leary", which deals with the campaign promise of Mayor JOHN LINDSAY, for a civilian review board. It also deals with the New York Police Commissioner HOWARD LEARY, and his work in Philadelphia with the civilian review board there.

The PLP claims that the New York City police are against a civilian review board because they are afraid such a board would uncover graft, bribery, shakedowns, payoffs, and theft, as well as outright brutality and murder on the part of the New York City police.

The PLP calls for a "people's review board", to be made up of black, white, and Puerto Rican workers, who can judge police brutality because they alone are the ones who know it.

The March 22, 1966, issue of "Challenge" Page 1, carries an article captioned "Special From Watts", which sets forth in part that in regard to the latest uprising in the Watts Section of Los Angeles, every cop had a shotgun and there were mobile arrest stations for "speedy justice". The article claims that the police had been provacative for months and since the last uprising, the police had baited traps in places such as liquor stores where the windows had been broken and anyone seen in the store would be shot.

The article also claimed that anyone who was seen running was shot by the police.

The March 22, 1966, issue of "Challenge" Page 2, carried and article captioned "Cops 'Guard' Students". This article deals with conditions at Benjamin Franklin High School, Pleasant Avenue and 116th Street, New York City, which is a high school for predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican students.

The article claims that the conditions at the high school are deplorable and the students are abused physically and verbally by the New York City police.

The article also claims that meals which are sold and served at the school for $.40 are "poison".

"To All the Negro Comrades

"Dear Comrades:

"In accordance with the decision reached at the party convention last September to find a way to bring about a better method of communication, collaboration and mutual exchange between the Negro comrades and to strengthen the party's Negro cadre and increase the party's effectiveness, a Negro Commission has been established. The Commission is composed of National Committee members, BOB VERNON, GEORGE JONES, and CLIFTON DE BERRY.

"The Commission suggests that the Negro comrades send us their suggestions on how best to accomplish this task. We would like to have your thinking, views and observations on the reactions of Negro militants to the war in Vietnam, the SNCC statement on the war, the Freedom Now Struggle, and the JULIAN BOND case. If you have not already tried, we suggest that you initiate a probe of some kind in the Negro community. If this is not possible, another suggestion would be to visit Negro subscribers to the Militant in your area. In those branches where the party ran an election campaign recently, it would be a good idea to see and talk with Negroes who expressed an interest in the campaign.

"The Negro comrades in New York are in the process of a probe along the lines outlined above. An Afro-American committee against the War in Vietnam has been established (at the iniative of our comrades). We will be forwarding you a copy of the committee's first Newsletter soon, along with any other material from New York area that would be of interest and perhaps helpful to you. We would suggest that you send material from you area along the same lines to us here. (The above-mentioned committee is still too young for a meaninful appraisal at this time).

"Please forward your ideas and suggestions as soon as possible to the Commission. Send them to Socialist Workers Party, National Office, Attention: C. De Berry, 873 Broadway, New York, New York 10003.

"We want to pass your experience and thinking on to the other comrades in their branches. As soon as we hear from you and can make a full report based on your reports, we will make a full report and send it to you.

"Comradely,

The Congress of Racial Equality will be referred to as CORE in this report unless reference is being made to a chapter of CORE The designation then will be preceded by the name of the chapter.

Proposed Plans and Activities

The January 6, 1966 issue of the "New York World Telegram and Sun", a daily New York City newspaper, contained on page 5, an article captioned "CORE to Stress Grass-Roots Aid", which stated that FLOYD B. MC KISSICK, who would officially succeed JAMES FARMER as National Director of CORE on March 1, 1966, disclosed that CORE would give new emphasis to helping "grass-roots" groups design community action programs, that will be eligible for federal funds. He stated that CORE did not apply for funds itself, but would help "indigenous groups" make applications for federal money He indicated that CORE's concern for federal funds grew out of a feeling within the organization that the civil rights struggle will turn more to the urban centers of the North He stated that the 80,000-member CORE will, for the first time, launch a membership drive in March, and would explore new ways of getting revenue He stated that CORE would attempt to expand its joint programs with other civil rights agencies, such as the National Urban League and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

On March 30, 1966, MARVIN RICH, Director of CORE Scholarship, Education, and Defense Fund (SEDF), 150 Nassau Street, New York, New York, a separate organization from National CORE, advised Special Agent (SA) VINCENT J. ASCHERL that the current project of National CORE consists of work with welfare recipients in Baltimore, Maryland, the theory being that only one out of three eligible people in this city are receiving welfare. The purpose of this project is to provide these eligible people with additional income. Mr RICH stated that no major recent demonstrations have been planned by CORE for the future He stated he had no knowledge of any specific instances of Communist Party influence or control in the civil rights movement, of which CORE is a part.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE (NAACP)

Communist Party (CP)
Attempts to Infiltrate

On October 9, 1965, a CP faction within the NAACP held a meeting at the Great Northern Hotel, New York City. The meeting was attended by both CP and non-CP members.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, a leading functionary of the CP of Illinois, led the meeting and outlined the developments in the Civil Rights Movement, pointing out that the movement had been broken down into various stages, namely: 1. The Montgomery bus boycott; 2. Sit-ins by students; 3. Involvement of labor forces in the North; 4. The Birmingham phase which brought about larger demonstrations in the North; 5. The Watts phase which brought about a new era in the Civil Rights Movement, wherein the spotlight for the first time has been placed on the economic plight of the Negroes. It is the first time an awareness of the economic nature of the Civil Rights movement has been instituted.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT also stated that it was now possible for the Party to influence the NAACP through direct pressure on the membership and to force the membership to become involved in various issues that are not projects of the NAACP as such, but are projects instituted by other Civil Rights organizations.

LIGHTFOOT went on to state that the object of this meeting was to map out a program for decisively influencing the NAACP in the future. He stated that it was no longer sufficient for the Party just to be in attendance at open NAACP affairs; it was now possible to influence the activities of the NAACP. LIGHTFOOT added that it was hoped that the Party could institute this influence in three directions:

1. Give leadership to economic problems and in this manner push the peace issue, noting that economic problems can only be solved through the expenditure of funds and these funds could be obtained by a reduction in war spending. It might also be suggested that there be a cut back in armaments and use these funds to alleviate economic problems.

2. Force the NAACP to become active in all Civil Rights struggles not just in those struggles which are initiated, organized, and run by the NAACP. The NAACP in the past has been hesitant to actively engage in Civil Rights struggles that are not initiated by the NAACP.

3. Attempt to get the NAACP more firmly involved in political activity.

LIGHTFOOT questioned the group whether they thought it would be feasible to develop a "left caucus" in various branches of the NAACP and the group felt that this was possible. It was stated that there were 13 branches of the NAACP in New York and possibly a "left caucus" could be developed within these branches. Also, it was stated that it might be possible to develop such a caucus within the Chicago NAACP. LIGHTFOOT stated that he felt he could develop such a caucus on the west coast, in Baltimore, and in Detroit. LIGHTFOOT mentioned to the group that he thought the group should again meet some time in the early part of 1966, in order that a planned program can be developed, in connection with the next NAACP National Convention, in order that the impact of the Party program might be felt at the next NAACP National Convention.

On January 22, 1966, per instructions of CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, a CP faction within the NAACP, held a meeting at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel, in Detroit, Michigan. Some of the individuals in attendance were not known as CP members. This meeting was held to discuss strategy and plans in connection with the forthcoming NAACP National Convention to be held sometime during the Summer of 1966. This meeting was quite informal and there was no prepared agenda.

Individuals in attendance at this meeting held discussions concerning the following matters:

1. Ways and means of developing a caucus that will be able to function at the forthcoming NAACP National Convention. In order to develop this caucus it was felt that the recently approved decentralization of some branches must be ironed out in order that all branches may become decentralized. It was felt that the CP would be able to function more efficiently under the decentralization plan. It was pointed out that while the Detroit Branch did not vote for decentralization it was felt that should there be changes effected in the structure of decentralization, the Detroit Branch would go along with such a plan and in this way there would be unity throughout all NAACP branches.

2. Concerning the peace issue, it was stated that the Party could not approach this issue from a foreign policy aspect; however, this issue should be approached in relation to anti-poverty programs and educational programs pointing out the need for expenditure of additional funds for these purposes and withdraw funds earmarked for foreign policy to accomplish this.

3. Concerning the resolutions committees, it was also decided that where possible the Party should compromise and give up membership on other committees in order to obtain delegates on the resolutions committee. It was hoped to capture the four regional delegates to the resolutions committee in the Midwest area even if it meant losing membership in other committees.

It was also stated that every effort should be made to place acceptable members on the NAACP Board located in New York, since under New York laws the Board is solely responsible for running the organization.

It was also decided at this meeting that if possible all individuals present would attempt to attend similar meeting, tentatively scheduled for sometime in February, 1966, in New York City.

Among those present at the meeting were WILLIAM PATTERSON, HENRY WINSTON, TED BASSETT and JACOB GREEN. S.I. member of CP N.Y.

WILLIAM PATTERSON explained to the group that they were going to discuss the NALC convention which was to take place in Baltimore in May, 1966.

TED BASSETT spoke to the group and advised them that the NALC during the convention planned to discuss a number of matters of interest to the CP, such as the repeal of Labor Law 14B; the appointment of a Negro to the AFL-CIO Executive Council; development of local activities in connection with the war on poverty; a $2 per hour minimum wage, and an organization drive in the southern United States.

It was stated that the NALC convention would headquarter at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland, and that 150 to 300 delegates were expected to attend.

WINSTON stated he intended to contact CP districts throughout the United States and see if it were possible to send CP members to the convention to act as observers and to participate in the workshops and caucuses which would be an important part of the convention. WINSTON indicated that he felt that such activity might have a great effect on the course of the convention.

WINSTON stated he would immediately begin efforts to contact various Districts. He also indicated that further CP meetings would take place in New York in connection with the NALC convention, and those present would be advised as to the action taken.

I wish to call to your attention that a public announcement has been made to the effect that full preparations are under way for the next convention of the Negro American Labor Council which will take place in Baltimore, Maryland, on May 27-29, 1956.

The significance of this event lies in the fact that the leadership of the organization find it necessary to strengthen the solidarity of Negro and white as a condition for effectively meeting the mounting problems of inequality faced by Negro Americans.

Communists are distinguished by the fact that as workers they are to be found in trade unions and play an active role in the struggle to put an end to all forms of discrimination within the labor movement on the basis of forging unity of Negro and white which in turn will solidify the ranks of labor and the Negro people.

This exemplary work, I am sure, will continue."

Among those observed at the affair were ARTHUR and MARIAN KNIGHT, LEO RABOUINE, HENRY WINSTON and CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT.

TORMEY noted that he has had disagreements with WINSTON in the past regarding security. He also stated that he felt there was a security problem in having CP caucus members attending meetings at WINSTON's apartment. TORMEY stated that since WINSTON and LIGHTFOOT did not belong to trade unions they did not know the problems that trade unionists can get into by being found out to be party members. TORMEY mentioned that if this happened, then all the work that the caucus members had done would go down the drain.

On January 22, 1966, members of the NYNALC CP caucus met at HENRY WINSTON's apartment, 334 East 108th Street, New York City. Those present were CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, HENRY WINSTON, AGNES WILLIS, MARIAN KNIGHT, JOHN CUTCH and LEO RABOUINE.

During the meeting, a lengthy discussion was had on the NALC, and the role they can play.

LIGHTFOOT pointed out, how the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING was planning a mass demonstration at City Hall (Chicago) for unemployment. He wondered if something like this could be started in New York City with the active support of the NALC.

HENRY WINSTON spoke of two statements coming from leaders of the NALC on the Viet Nam situation and the United States involvement. He stated that A. PHILIP RANDOLPH, NALC President, issued one statement favorable to the United States Government's position in Viet Nam. The other statement was issued by CLEVELAND ROBINSON, the NALC Vice President, and called for the secession of war and for bringing him the troops from Viet Nam. WINSTON wondered why RANDOLPH made such a statement and then have a similar type statement come from ROBINSON.

AGNES WILLIS stated RANDOLPH and ROBINSON are very close and she felt sure that any statement made by ROBINSON would have to be cleared by RANDOLPH.

The group discussed the coming NALC convention. LIGHTFOOT indicated it probably would be held in Baltimore, Maryland. He stated there was a section in East Baltimore, which would be good for the same type of activity as the Reverend KING is planning on unemployment in Chicago. LIGHTFOOT stated that most of the individuals in this area are unemployed steel workers.

WINSTON stated that the NALC should have an organizer or promoter for the coming convention. He pointed out that one of the faults of the NALC in the past has been that they did not get organized for the convention properly.

LIGHTFOOT further stated that one of the first places RUSTIN came to when he got the job as organizer for the Negro March on Washington was the Party. LIGHTFOOT stated that one of RUSTIN's stipulations in taking that job was that he would have a free hand to obtain assistance from anyone and anywhere that he wanted.

It was decided to hold another meeting similar to this one at 10:00 a.m. on March 5, 1965, at ARTHUR KNIGHT's apartment, [redacted]. LIGHTFOOT said that one person from Chicago besides himself and one from Baltimore would be present at this meeting in addition to the CP caucus members from the NYNALC.

It was announced that the NALC convention would be held over the Memorial Day weekend (May 27-29) 1965, at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland.

CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT gave a review of the work of the NYNALC CP caucus and commended it highly for what it had done. He stated that it had saved the NALC in New York from members of the NALC who were against the policies of A. PHILIP RANDOLPH and CLEVELAND ROBINSON. He contended that the party should and would set up in other cities throughout the United States, CP caucus groups like the one in New York.

AGNES WILLIS stated that the New York caucus should be enlarged and if this were done they would be able to do more work within the NALC.

WILLIS noted there were only five or six members in the caucus group and they were limited to the amount of work that they could do. She stated it was imperative that the caucus group be enlarged so that they can take up the battle against the building trades for their discrimination.

TORMEY and other party functionaries, including WINSTON are in favor of the suggestion and stated they would try to enlarge the caucus group in the near future.

LIGHTFOOT stated that the next caucus meeting would definitely have party members of the NALC from Baltimore, Detroit and Chicago present at the New York meeting. At this time, they would decide how they should act at the coming NALC convention in May.

It was further mentioned that the NYNALC chapter had not settled on any delegates to the national convention, but would probably do so after the formation of the Nominating Committee, which was to be held sometime during March.

On January 12, 1966, WILLIAM STEIN and STANLEY LEVISON were in contact concerning an affair which was to be held in New York City on February 2, 1966. STEIN requested LEVISON's opinion regarding a letter dealing with this affair, specifically whether the return cards which were being sent with the letter should be sent to SCLC at 200 West 57th Street or whether they should be sent to STEIN at that address. LEVISON stated the cards should be returned to the 57th Street address, but should be sent to MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. because recipients would think they have received a personal letter from KING and would be returning the card to KING personally. The letter requested attendance at a fund raising affair at the Assembly Hall, Riverside Church, Riverside Drive and 122nd Street, New York City. The letter indicated attendance was restricted to clergy and laity invited by clergy.

On January 13, 1966, CLARENCE JONES, ANDREW YOUNG, Executive Director of SCLC, and EDWINA SMITH, Secretary to YOUNG, were in contact. JONES stated that STANLEY LEVISON wanted to discuss some mailing matters with YOUNG when he (LEVISON) arrived in Atlanta on January 14, 1966. JONES indicated that he would also arrive in Atlanta on January 14, 1966 and would stay overnight so that he could discuss some matters with MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

On January 18, 1966, ADELE KANTER, SCLC New York Office Manager, was in contact with STANLEY LEVISON. She stated she was preparing a fund appeal letter for distribution and wanted advice and suggestions from LEVISON. LEVISON instructed her to send him two copies of the appeal so that he could examine it more carefully.

On February 1, 1966, MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., STANLEY LEVISON and BAYARD RUSTIN were in contact concerning KING's position on the resumption of United States bombing raids on North Vietnam. KING stated the press had been bothering him for a statement on the matter. The conferees exchanged opinions. LEVISON stated that KING's position was logically that he opposed the resumption and the main question should be whether KING would adopt a particular position or just oppose the bombing in general. After the exchange of opinions, it was agreed that KING would answer press inquiry with the following observations:

NY 100-153735
HPB:car
(4)

That he was deeply impressed by the large number of Senators who called for the cessation of bombing; that he regretted the resumption of the bombing; and that he was hopeful the United Nations would be helpful.

LEVISON, concurring with these observations, stated they were very important because they showed that others aside from KING opposed the resumption of the bombing. LEVISON stated the important thing was how to point out the amount of opposition to the bombing.

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. then mentioned that on January 31, 1966, he had been in contact with Dr. LINUS PAULING, who stated that the Peace Marchers dealing with Vietnam had not made any changes in Vietnam policy, therefore, something should be done on the political front. PAULING's idea, according to KING, was to start a campaign to elect "peace candidates" to Congress. He wanted KING's signature to commence a fund raising appeal.

After a discussion, LEVISON and RUSTIN advised KING not to get involved in the plan suggested by PAULING. They both opposed KING's involvement because it would involve two "non-political men", KING and PAULING, who had no experience in political drives. KING exceeded to their advice.

KING then requested RUSTIN to go to Chicago, Illinois, to assist him. RUSTIN agreed to go. RUSTIN mentioned that he had conferred with ROY WILKINS, Executive Director of National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). WILKINS claimed to have information that Mayor RICHARD DALEY of Chicago was in political trouble and was prepared to make major breakthroughs for the Negro community. DALEY wanted to make the breakthroughs with KING. WILKINS thought KING should start a vigorous Chicago campaign.

On February 1, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and WILLIAM STEIN were in contact and discussed the fund raising meeting to be held at the Riverside Church on February 2, 1966. It was believed that approximately 230 clergymen from throughout the country would attend. STEIN stated he had received $5,000.00 for SCLC from Reverend D. E. KING, Louisville, Kentucky, the brother of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. STEIN stated he hoped to get a pledge from everyone in attendance. LEVISON, referring to the amount given by D. E. KING, stated the larger amounts might discourage those in attendance, and therefore, it should be announced that any amount was welcome, even a contribution of $100.00.

LEVISON and STEIN's discussion then shifted to the SCLC Branch Office in Harlem, New York. LEVISON indicated he recently had discussed with KING whether the branch should be closed. KING opposed the closing since it was his opinion RUTH BAILEY should be permitted to continue the operation since she was sending in enough money to pay for the expense of operating the office. LEVISON stated it was also his opinion that BAILEY should be permitted to continue. He stated she has been able to penetrate the small social clubs in Harlem which no one else has been able to do. LEVISON believed BAILEY might be able to use her contacts with these clubs at a later date. He stated he had in mind the possibility that BAILEY's contacts could be used to make up a regular contributions list.

LEVISON then commented to STEIN about SCLC's operation in Chicago. He stated that KING had told him that things in Chicago looked so exciting that nobody would discourage him at any price. KING had indicated to LEVISON that Mayor DALEY of Chicago was so scared that he wanted to meet him to make concessions.

On February 2, 1966, BERNARD LEE and STANLEY LEVISON were in contact and LEE inquired if LEVISON had any knowledge of what format was to be used for the meeting at Riverside Church. LEVISON stated he knew of no fixed format, but KING should tell what SCLC is doing and deal principally with why KING believed SCLC should make a contribution in the north. LEVISON stated he had jotted down some notes on a piece of paper for KING's use and left it in a package which LEE would pick up at the Park Sheriton Hotel, New York City.

On February 2, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and ANDREW YOUNG were in contact and discussed an article which LEVISON was apparently preparing for MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. YOUNG stated that LEVISON should go ahead and prepare the article.

On February 8, 1966, MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. and STANLEY LEVISON were in contact and discussed an emergency SCLC meeting called by KING for February 12, 1966 in Atlanta. KING stated the meeting would concern the financial difficulties of SCLC. KING stated only about $200.00 or $300.00 a day in donations were received during the previous two weeks although debts exceeded $50,000.00 and were continuing.

LEVISON indicated that he realized during his last visit to Atlanta that SCLC's financial picture was not sound. KING concurred and stated that he could not have the problem hanging over his head while he was trying to do a job in Chicago and elsewhere. KING stated that he was away from SCLC Headquarters most of the time and wanted to devise a sounder way of operating. LEVISON agreed and stated "You either have to relate your expenditures to your realistic income or you have to have trouble."

LEVISON indicated that he believed money would start coming in because of an SCLC mail appeal which had gone out several days before. After discussing whether HARRY WACHTEL and CLARENCE JONES would attend the emergency meeting. LEVISON agreed that he would try to get them to go to Atlanta for the meeting.

NY T-11
February 8, 1966

On February 9, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and ADELE KANTER were in contact and discussed SCLC financial matters. LEVISON emphasized that the SCLC financial position was not good and that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. had called an emergency meeting in Atlanta. LEVISON stated that KING showed vision in recognizing the danger before it became too late. LEVISON tried to project the expenses and receipts of SCLC for their current fiscal period. LEVISON was of the opinion that between $350,000.00 and $400,000.00 gross would be taken in from mailings. Expenses would run about $110,000.00. LEVISON repeated that he felt $400,000.00 or 40 per cent of the SCLC budget could be obtained from mail appeals. He stated the financial weakness was that SCLC was counting on $150,000.00 from benefits, although there were no benefits scheduled, and the balance of the budget would be obtained from AFN. LEVISON indicated he would attend the Atlanta meeting.

NY T-11
February 9, 1966

On February 11, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and ADELE KANTER were in contact regarding matters of SCLC. LEVISON indicated that the fund raising affair at Riverside Church, New York City, on February 2, 1966, had received a poor reception on the part of the ministers who had attended. It had been decided that in the future, contacts would be made on an individual basis rather than on a mass basis.

LEVISON stated that only eight pledges were received at the affair. He indicated that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. had opposed the affair and LEVISON now concurred with KING that it was a waste of time and effort to hold big affairs.

NY T-11
February 11, 1966

On February 14, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and ADELE KANTER were in contact and LEVISON advised her of what transpired at the emergency SCLC financial meeting held in Atlanta on February 12, 1966. LEVISON stated the meeting was a very good one, financial difficulties of SCLC were squarely handled. LEVISON indicated he suggested the program of SCLC be curtailed and this suggestion drew the ire of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. In elaborating on some of the things acted upon at the meeting, LEVISON said HARRY BELAFONTE was recently in Europe to set up SCLC benefits in Sweden, Norway and Paris. LEVISON stated the benefit for Sweden would be fantastic. The Prime Minister would be the Chairman, the Post Office in Sweden would handle the affair and the National Treasury would handle the money. LEVISON stated the Swedish banks were paying the expenses and SCLC expected to net $200,000.00.

LEVISON mentioned that CLARENCE JONES had attended the emergency financial meeting and announced that SCLC had received only $25,000.00 from the Teamsters Union although officials had previously promised much more.

In considering other means to raise funds, LEVISON stated CHAUNCEY ESKRIDGE, Legal Advisor to SCLC, suggested a radio program for MARTIN LUTHER KING. LEVISON stated that he disagreed with the idea but over his objection it was agreed that advisors to Evangelist Doctor Billy Graham would be used to get the project off the ground. An emergency approach would be used to churches and labor unions to obtain more money and $30,000.00 would be borrowed to help clear bills. LEVISON indicated the SCLC Reserve Fund contained about $34,000.00 plus another reserve fund which they did not want to touch. In addition, he stated there were stocks in a well known mutual fund amounting to $100,000.00. LEVISON indicated SCLC expected to raise money in Chicago and trade unions in Chicago expected to raise between $50,000.00 and $100,000.00.

LEVISON stated that at the meeting, a proposal of his was accepted which was that SCLC should pinpoint the areas in which it expects to raise money and then appoint one person to be the supervisor in charge of that area. He stated that he received the responsibility for supervising AL DUCKETT, a public relations man in New York City, who handles promotional work for SCLC. LEVISON stated that the noted singer, BILLY ECKSTINE was desirous of a five city tour to raise money for SCLC under the direction of AL DUCKETT. LEVISON stated he would supervise the money DUCKETT spent on the arrangements for this tour.

February 14, 1966

On February 14, 1966, MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. and STANLEY LEVISON were in contact and discussed a telegram which LEVISON had prepared for sending to Trade Unions emphasizing SCLC voter registration drives in Alabama and SCLC's "assault on slums" in Chicago and asking for help. KING suggested the telegram make a direct appeal for funds rather than asking for help in general. The telegram was written by LEVISON who indicated the telegram was being sent by KING. LEVISON stated he had selected approximately 15 to 20 unions which would receive the telegram.

On February 23, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and WILLIAM STEIN were in contact and discussed SCLC financial affairs. LEVISON stated he recently talked with HARRY WACHTEL about a fund raising affair in Great Neck, Long Island, New York. WACHTEL had scheduled two meetings at his home which were to be attended by MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. and large donors, specifically those in the $5,000.00 to $15,000.00 category. STEIN stated he had talked to Reverend GEORGE LAWRENCE, Pastor, Antioch Church, Brooklyn, New York, and LAWRENCE was also planning an SCLC benefit. LEVISON told STEIN to be careful in making plans based on LAWRENCE's plans, since LAWRENCE overestimated his own ability to raise funds. STEIN stated that he personally was trying to raise $2,000.00 per week for SCLC. LEVISON stated that was a realistic goal.

NY T-11
February 23, 1966

On March 1, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and his brother ROY BENNETT were in contact and discussed SCLC progress in Chicago to eradicate slum conditions. LEVISON stated he considered the results quite sensational. They had 168 organizations united including all the civil rights organizations. BENNETT inquired if SCLC would take a position in Chicago elections. LEVISON stated he had discussed this with MARTIN LUTHER KING and KING was of the opinion they could defeat United States Representative WILLIAM DAWSON. KING believed that AL RABY, President of the Chicago Coordinating Council on Community Organizations, could defeat DAWSON, but RABY was reluctant to get involved. LEVISON stated that he told KING they should get involved in the political issue, or if not, to at least have a very serious discussion in that regard. LEVISON indicated he was going to Chicago during the next week. One of the matters to be discussed by him in Chicago would be whether SCLC should attempt to defeat Senator PAUL DOUGLAS of Illinois.

LEVISON next stated that he had disagreed with MARTIN LUTHER KING's takeover of an apartment in Chicago and announcement that he would collect the rents and apply them to remodel the place. LEVISON stated that he told ANDREW YOUNG that they had not used the legal resources available to them. YOUNG had told them that the legal resources would have taken too long, and they wanted to do the act illegally, and in fact, had enjoyed it. YOUNG stated that they had desired to be jailed for furnishing heat for people with children. LEVISON stated that he told YOUNG that it was a good idea and a good "battle cry", however, it had not turned out favorable. YOUNG had concurred but stated that they could not afford to make such an admission to Mayor DALEY because he would have them jailed. LEVISON told BENNETT that he had advised YOUNG to make a statement as to what SCLC purposes were, otherwise SCLC looked like a gang of anarchists in that they took over private property.

LEVISON and ROY BENNETT continued discussing SCLC and talked about SCLC finances. LEVISON stated SCLC was raising funds through special affairs, noting that HARRY BELAFONTE had set up two such affairs in Paris. He stated SCLC expected to receive proceeds amounting to between $50,000.00 and $75,000.00. BELAFONTE would then go to Sweden to arrange another round. LEVISON was of the opinion that SCLC would make about $200,000.00 from the affairs in Sweden.

March 1, 1966

On March 14, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON was in contact with an unknown female. He stated he had visited SCLC Headquarters in Chicago located in MARTIN LUTHER KING's apartment. LEVISON stated that when SCLC starts mass action in the spring, everyone would start paying attention. He stated SCLC had a rally in Chicago on March 12, 1966, attended by 12,000 and KING made the major address.

NY T-11

On March 14, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON was in contact with ADELE KANTER and discussed his visit to SCLC Headquarters in Chicago. He stated he found the visit profitable and he came away with the impression the Chicago drive would be a great success. He was confident of success since 125 staff members would be assigned to the project.

NY T-11
March 14, 1966

On March 21, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and CLARENCE JONES were in contact. LEVISON told about a party he attended at HARRY WACHTEL's house on March 20, 1966, to celebrate the birthdays of WACHTEL and BAYARD RUSTIN. WACHTEL had been upset because JONES did not attend and had not contacted him. LEVISON stated that he covered for JONES and further not to worry about WACHTEL's disappointment over the poor attendance because WACHTEL would never cease to cooperate with SCLC, regardless of what transpired. LEVISON described the people at WACHTEL's party as friends of WACHTEL's who were a "curious mixture of left people and former left people".

JONES inquired of LEVISON when the next "Research Committee" meeting would take place and was informed that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. had said it would be on April 6, 1966. JONES further indicated that SCLC fund raising affairs were being held in Paris on March 28, 1966 and in Stockholm on March 31, 1966.

LEVISON indicated he had met with HARRY WACHTEL and Mrs. WACHTEL, Mrs. WACHTEL was no longer thinking about running AFN. LEVISON stated he talked WACHTEL into getting an Executive Director for AFN. LEVISON indicated he was attempting to get someone to work for AFN and he and WACHTEL would meet again concerning the matter. JONES stated he would also attend the meeting.

NY T-13
March 25, 1966

On March 30, 1966, CLARENCE JONES and STANLEY LEVISON were in contact and discussed possible candidates for the position with AFN. They mentioned a possible salary of $10,000.00. JONES and LEVISON also discussed going to Miami, Florida, for a Board Meeting of SCLC on April 12 through 13, 1966. They discussed the agenda to be used at the Board Meeting.

On April 6, 1966, CLARENCE JONES was in contact with GLORIA CANTER, Secretary to HARRY BELAFONTE. JONES indicated he had not attended the SCLC "Research Committee meeting held on that date. CANTER related to JONES that she received information from Stockholm that $200,000.00 had been sent to MARTIN LUTHER KING. She stated there was a possibility of another $200,000.00. JONES and CANTER discussed the fund raising affair held in Paris and it was mentioned that SCLC would realize nothing from it. CANTER estimated that $20,000.00 or $25,000.00 would be used for expenses.

April 6, 1966

On April 5, 1966, STANLEY LEVISON and CLARENCE JONES were in contact. LEVISON wanted to know if JONES had contacted ESTHER SMITH of the Medical Committee for Human Rights concerning the vacancy in the Directorship of AFN. JONES said he had and in fact, had learned from SMITH, that she was very interested in assuming the Directorship. In evaluating SMITH's qualifications, JONES said although she lacked a certain amount of sophistication, she appeared to be aggressive, tough and hard. JONES said SMITH would be available to start immediately and that his overall impression was favorable.

LEVISON said he would talk to HARRY WACHTEL about the matter. Furthermore, he said he thought SMITH would be very good at running benefits and just keeping the Board of Directors prodded and informed. LEVISON agreed to have WACHTEL interview SMITH.

LEVISON then shifted to a conversation that he had recently with ANDREW YOUNG during which time YOUNG told of MARTIN LUTHER KING and YOUNG's trip to Europe. He said the SCLC benefit in Sweden turned out much better than had been expected. In fact, just for the television rights covering the SCLC benefit, they received $30,000.00. In addition, YOUNG said they "cut a record" and leading Swedish artists did the jacket free, and on the first day there were 15,000 orders, of which the SCLC would get $2.50 per album. YOUNG said these proceeds were in addition to the amount they would eventually receive from the benefit itself.

JONES commented, after hearing the favorable report, "They have to stop thinking about civil rights as the State Department said, 'as just a domestic concern' and make all our benefits international."

LEVISON stated he told YOUNG that thought had to be given to international affairs, to which YOUNG replied, "they are interested in King's non-violent doctrine." JONES replied, "and that transcends all national boundaries."

Finally, LEVISON and JONES discussed a "Workshop" idea conceived by and used by the SCLC in Atlanta. In explaining, YOUNG said they brought lecturers from large universities to lecture to candidates running for various offices. The candidates running for the offices heard lecturers whose experience was in related offices to the office to which the candidates were trying to be elected.

LEVISON said he was so gratified with the results, that he told YOUNG to recommend to the SCLC that the "Workshop" idea become a permanent one. He said SCLC must set up an Academy of Political Science and Government, and train all candidates for office. LEVISON said he was using the idea in letters he plans to send to contributors.

Dr. LINUS C. PAULING

On December 23, 1952, according to a "United Press" dispatch, dated December 24, 1952, from Washington, D.C., LOUIS F. BUDENZ, a former functionary of the CP, USA, testified before a Special House Committee in Washington, D.C. At that time, he stated LINUS PAULING had been a "concealed" member of the CP, USA, who had no card or other vestige of membership, but who had made contributions to the CP, USA. He added that PAULING was a member of the Advisory Board that selected fellowship recipients for the Guggenheim Foundation.

In response to the above, PAULING, in an "Associated Press" dispatch, dated December 24, 1952, from Washington, D.C., denied the above allegation and was quoted as saying, "this statement is a lie. I have never been a member of the CP, and I have sworn to this fact."

"Time", a weekly news magazine, in its issue of April 21, 1958, page 13, column 3, characterized Dr. LINUS CARL PAULING as a "long time supporter of Communist line fronts."

To substantiate this characterization "Time" quoted a House Committee on Un-American Activities report in 1951, as follows:

"Professor Pauling", it stated, "has not deviated a hairbreath from this pattern of loyalty to the Communist cause since 1946."

NEW YORK SCHOOL FOR MARXIST STUDIES, INCORPORATED

In September, 1960, a source advised it was announced at a meeting of the Communist Party, United States of America, (CP,USA), New York District (NYD), Staff, held September 16, 1960, that the People's School for Marxist Studies was founded in September, 1960, as the result of a decision of the CP,USA, NYD. Adult classes were scheduled to start October 17, 1960.

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, October 16, 1960 issue, announced the opening of the New York School for Marxist Studies (NYSMS) with general classes beginning October 17, 1960, and SCOPE (Youth) Classes beginning October 14, 1960. The address of the School is Room 1922, 853 Broadway at 14th Street, New York, New York.

The records of Pierce Mayer & Greer, 41 East 42nd Street, New York City, reflect that on August 29, 1960, HERBERT APTHEKER leased Room 1922-23, 853 Broadway, New York City, for the period starting October 1, 1960. The premises were to be occupied by a "People's School." On July 3, 1962, HERBERT APTHEKER signed a new lease for Room 1922-23, 853 Broadway, New York City, to start October 1, 1962, which reflects that the premises were to be used as an office for the NYSMS.

On May 5, 1965, the records of the New York County Clerk's Office, New York County Court House, New York City, disclosed that Certificate of Incorporation, number 450745, of the NYSMS was filed with the Secretary of State, State of New York, on August 17, 1964, and the incorporator was VICTOR PERLO.

The Spring (April 7, 1965 - May 14, 1965) Term, 1965, Bulletin of the NYSMS and SCOPE stated that "The era we live in is marked by profound changes, which are accompanied by intellectual ferment and moral dissatisfaction in our nation. Marxism, we think, offers a valid framework for answering the problems that confront our nation and the world ...."

The Spring Term, 1965, Bulletin of the NYSMS and SCOPE reflects that the office of the NYSMS is located at 853 Broadway, Room 1922, New York, New York.

The second source advised in early 1961 that it was not known at the headquarters of the CP,USA, whether VICTOR PERLO was still a member of the CP. Consequently, he was described as an "unorganized Communist."

A characterization of SCOPE is included in the Appendix.

STUDENT COMMITTEE ON PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION (SCOPE)

A confidential source advised on June 16, 1958, that the Student Committee on Progressive Education (SCOPE) was formed in early 1958 by a group of individuals who were believed to be, by the source, sympathizers of the former Labor Youth League (LYL).

The LYL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A second confidential source advised on November 20, 1958, that at the third day's session of the National Executive Committee (NEC), Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held that day in New York City, ROBERT THOMPSON, Executive Secretary, CP, USA, stated that in New York there is a group of about twenty-one youths who have been a very active force in youth and formed a group called SCOPE, a Student Committee On Progressive Education, which has run for the last year with young people with a Marxist character. THOMPSON stated that approximately eight or ten of this group are CP members.

A third confidential source advised on March 24, 1959, that during a meeting of the NEC, CP, USA, held on March 21, 1959, HYMAN LUMER, CP, USA Educational Director, stated that in New York most of the discussions on youth are between the National Office (CP) and two groups of young people who function in New York, which are either Party groups or pro-Party groups. The first group is called SCOPE (Student Committee on Progressive Education), and this group stands closest to the CP leadership.

A fourth confidential source made available on March 23, 1961, a mimeographed letter signed by "The SCOPE Committee." This letter sets forth that last fall SCOPE became a part of the newly formed New York School for Marxist Studies (NYSMS) as its autonomous youth division.

STUDENT COMMITTEE ON PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION (SCOPE)

The Spring (April 7, 1965 - May 14, 1965) Term 1965 Bulletin of the NYSMS and SCOPE states that "SCOPE believes that knowledge can be achieved and intellectual conformity and apathy avoided only through continual study and discussion. All students, teen-agers, college students and working youths are encouraged to participate actively, as the goal of SCOPE is to provide a unique opportunity for the study and discussion of Marxism."

The Spring Term, 1965 Bulletin of the NYSMS and SCOPE reflects that the office of SCOPE is located at 853 Broadway, Room 1922, New York, New York.

A characterization of the NYSMS is included in the appendix.

On April 25, 1966, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he learned the following information sometime during the latter part of April, 1966: (U)

A Communist Party (CP) Negro-American Labor Council (NALC) Caucus originally scheduled for April 24, 1966, in New York, New York, was rescheduled without any particular advance notice from April 24th to April 23, 1966, New York, New York. Originally 20 people were expected to attend the Caucus on April 24, 1966, including CP members of the NALC from New York, New York, Baltimore, Maryland, Detroit, Michigan, and Chicago, Illinois. The April 23, 1966, Caucus, however, had only ten people present, it being learned that six of the ten, all of whom are NALC members, were: (U)

William Patterson, New York CP District Functionary

Agnes Willis, a member of the New York CP District

Jim Tormey, a New York CP District Functionary

John Cutch of New York City C.P. MEMBER (U)

One of the main points of discussion on the agenda at the Caucus was that of the election of a new President for the NALC who is to succeed A. Philip Randolph, the current NALC President. Four candidates all of whom are National NALC Vice-Presidents are on the slate and include: OF NEGRO AMERICAN LABOR COUNCIL (U)

Cleveland Robinson, of New York who currently is Assistant to A. Philip Randolph and who is Randolph's personal choice

Horace Sheffield, of Detroit MICH

Joe Overton, of New York (U)

Frank Evans, of Cleveland, Ohio

The election of officers is to take place at the pending National NALC Convention scheduled for Memorial Day, 1966, weekend at Baltimore, Maryland. (U)

The CP Caucus group felt that they will promote the candidacy of Cleveland Robinson because Robinson is considered the most militant of the four candidates and would most likely follow through on a program for the NALC. Concerning Sheffield (U)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

the Caucus group felt that he will only go so far in pushing issues. Regarding Overton, reportedly he is considered an opportunist, while Evans is known to be anti-CP and, therefore, would not push a program which the CP might desire to carry out through the NALC. (U)

The CP Caucus group also discussed the issues of promoting through the NALC program a one-hundred billion dollar slum removal program for the United States as well as a program for organizing the unorganized. (U)

Concerning John Cutch a second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 8, 1966, that as of that time Cutch was a member of the CP in New York. (U)

The Albuquerque Office again reviewed all available information and no indications were noted of any Communist influence in racial matters in the state of New Mexico during the period 2/1 through 4/30/66.

This review of available information reflects that the state of New Mexico has little, if any, racial problem matters and all action taken in connection with racial matters appears to have been on a legitimate basis.

Pertinent sources and informants have again been re-alerted to immediately report to the Albuquerque Office any information coming to their attention indicating Communist influence in racial movements.

Albuquerque's investigation of captioned matter for the period 2/1/66 through 4/30/66 is completely negative and accordingly no report is being submitted.

In view of the negative character of Albuquerque's investigation, no local dissemination has been made pursuant to Section 87 C, page 12c of the Manual of Instructions.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

The Des Moines chapter of CORE is practically non-existent and inactive. The only individual who took any interest in this group was Mrs. GRIFFIN, referred to above, and her interest in this group and any other outside activities has dwindled to the vanishing point following a heart attack suffered by her husband several months ago. Mrs. GRIFFIN is now attempting to obtain full-time employment in order to help support herself and her family and obviously has no time or interest in activities such as CORE.

Leaders of the Des Moines Negro community regard CORE in Des Moines as ineffectual and as not representing local Negro aims or goals.

There has been no use or distribution of communist propaganda by the Des Moines, Iowa, chapter of CORE, nor has EDNA MAY GRIFFIN been known to use her position in this group to espouse communist causes or to discuss communist philosophy.

(OM T-1, April 25, 1966)

In February, 1957, EDNA MAY GRIFFIN, Des Moines, Iowa, stated she had been a member of the Communist Party for a period of over twenty-four years.

"It holds no formulae for guaranteed success in the fight but it illustrates with facts and figures why Communists believe the liberation struggle could have been won ere this in the last hundred years and why no victories have a permanent character at this moment.

"Every prominent Negro leader should be sold a copy. It should be discussed in all possible groups.

"Naturally the approach for its sale in Negro neighborhoods and among white Americans, who seek the end of ghetto life and evils should be an objective one. The general appeal will not do. A special approach dealing with the complexities of the civil rights fight must be employed, special leaflets should be made for the ghetto.

"It is precisely because the fight for America, for the elimination of the ghetto and all forms of racism is not the property of Negroes alone, that no problems can be completely resolved here without unity in struggle, that the Communist position stated by America's leading spokesman is focused on this unity question.

Re: Communist Influence in Racial Matters

On April 28, 1966, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on that date, Clarence Jones told Stanley Levison's wife that he is in the process of purchasing the "Amsterdam News". Jones stated that he will be responsible for the editorial section and that he will need Levison's help on the editorial work if he does buy the paper. He said he would not go ahead with the deal if he does not have a commitment from Levison.

The "New York Amsterdam News" is a weekly Negro newspaper in New York City, published by the Powell-Savory Corporation, with its main office at 2340 Eighth Avenue, New York City.

NY

On April 28, 1966, another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Clarence Jones, on that date, stated Bill Vanden Heuvel told him that he was interested in Jones' insurance company (Intramerican Life Corporation), and also interested in buying the "Amsterdam News". Jones indicated that Vanden Heuvel would be willing to come in on the purchase with Jones' group. Jones also indicated that he believed Vanden Heuvel, through his father-in-law, Jules Stein, (Head of the Music Corporation of America), would be willing to put up most or all of the money required to acquire the paper.

Re: Communist Influence In Racial Matters

The source learned on April 28, 1966, that on that date, Jones was in contact with Doug Pugh, Associate Executive Director of Haryou-Act, an anti-poverty training program for Harlem Youth. Jones told Pugh that they may have to move swiftly (on the purchase of the "Amsterdam News") because too many people are aware of the paper being available. Jones said "we" have enough money to consumate the deal ourselves because Bill Vanden Heuvel has indicated that he would be willing to put up most or all of the money. Jones indicated that Vanden Heuvel's wife is the daughter of Jules Stein of the Music Corporation of America. Jones claimed that Vanden Heuvel is a close friend of his and would not be concerned if the price is a million and a half or two million.

The source also learned on April 30, 1966, that on that date, Jones stated that he is a part of a group organizing the purchase of the "Amsterdam News". He said this group includes Doug Pugh and that C. D. Powell, who now owns the paper, is quite willing to sell.

Stanley Levison

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. His differences, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. (S) (U)

LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE
Formerly known as the Labor-Negro Vanguard Party,
Also known as
Labor Vanguard Democrats

In a press release dated November 18, 1961, the LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD PARTY (LNVP) stated:

"The growing influence of the irredentist forces upon the policies of our nation as indicated by the alarming drift towards war and the outlawing of the COMMUNIST PARTY (CP) has accentuated the need for all racial, progressive, and liberal forces to unite in a common party."

In a leaflet entitled, "Call to Progressive Minded America," issued by the LNVP, its founding convention was scheduled for November 25, 1961, in New York City. The aims and purposes were listed as:

1. For the resurgence of the American Labor Movement.
2. For the winning of the struggle for Negro rights.
3. For an end of the cold war.
4. For economic security and higher mass living standards.
5. For the end of the exploitation of man by man.

A source advised on December 19, 1961, that CLARENCE COGGINS is considered the Provisional Chairman of the LNVP. Other active members include BERNARD (WHITEY) GOODFRIEND, ALVIN OLIVER, WILLIAM CLARK, and RODNEY OLIVER.

A second source advised on December 12, 1959, that CLARENCE COGGINS, BERNARD (WHITEY) GOODFRIEND, ALVIN OLIVER, WILLIAM CLARK, and RODNEY OLIVER were all members of the HARRIET TUBMAN Section of the Essex County, New Jersey, CP, which was expelled from the Party with no right of appeal by action of the 17th National Convention, CP, USA, being held December 10-13, 1959.

On January 15, 1963, the first source advised that the LNVP is now using the name LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE (LNVC) and is the name the organization is now known by and under which name all leaflets are issued.

APPENDIX

(Cont'd)

The May 2, 1965, issue of the "Newark Evening News", a daily Newark, New Jersey, newspaper, contained an article that the Labor Vanguard Democrats, running an insurgent slate in the June 1, 1965, Democratic Primary opened their official campaign May 1, 1965, with a "May Day Rally" in Military Park at Newark.

WILLIAM CLARK headed the Labor Vanguard Democrat ticket as candidate for Governor of New Jersey. Other candidates on the ballot were ESTHER NETTE of Newark, candidate for Assembly; HERMAN D. KLEIN of East Orange, candidate for Freeholder; and ALVIN OLIVER of Newark, candidate for Essex County Clerk.

On May 18, 1965, a third source advised that the LABOR-NEGRO VANGUARD CONFERENCE had been inactive for about seven months until CLARENCE COGGINS and ALVIN OLIVER stimulated the current political activity under the designation of Labor Vanguard Democrats.

A review of referenced report indicates the names of individuals mentioned in the details of this report who have a subversive background, are characterized at the end of the report in the appendix section under the caption "Glossary of Individuals."

The Bureau does not object to this procedure, however, to make the report more readable, it is suggested that each time an individual with a subversive background is mentioned in the details of the report an asterisk be placed after his name. This will serve as a flag to the reader that the individual mentioned is further characterized in the appendix section.

Likewise, whenever an organization that is to be characterized in the appendix section is mentioned in the details, an asterisk should be placed following its name.

The first paragraph of the details of the report should contain a comment to the effect that characterizations of individuals and organizations marked with an asterisk are set forth in the appendix section of this report.

The above is being called to your attention for your information and guidance in the preparation of future CIRM reports.

APPEARANCE OF BAYARD RUSTIN,
PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA,
APRIL 14, 1966

On April 28, 1966, Confidential Source advised that a rally for quality integrated education was held on Thursday, April 14, 1966, at the Zion Baptist Church, Broad and Venango Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. This meeting was sponsored by the Coordinating Council on School Integration (CCSI), 20 South 12th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The featured speaker at this affair was BAYARD RUSTIN of New York City, the organizer of the 1963 March on Washington, and it was attended by approximately 400 individuals.

RUSTIN stated that 11 years have passed since the U. S. Supreme Court ordered the schools in the country be integrated; however, most of the schools, particularly those in large northern cities, have remained segregated. RUSTIN stated he was in favor of bussing the school children to correct racial imbalance, and that this bussing of school children was not a new practice and had not been criticized in the past because it had not been used previously to correct this racial imbalance.

RUSTIN stated he had not come to Philadelphia to advise the local school authorities on how to run their schools, but he came only to plead for quality integrated education. He stated that educational parks would promote quality integrated education. He described these parks as those facilities which would bring together schools of all grade levels at the one location, similar to a college campus. He was certain such an arrangement would promote quality integrated education.

On Page 27 of the April 15, 1966, issue of "The Philadelphia Inquirer," a daily Philadelphia newspaper, appeared an article captioned, "Rustin Ties Fate of Rights Drive to School Fight."

According to this article, civil rights leader BAYARD RUSTIN stated on Thursday night that school integration "is the only place where we can keep the movement going." At a rally of approximately 500 people at the Zion Baptist Church, Broad and Venango Streets, RUSTIN told the people that they should hold on to integration of the schools and ride it for all it is worth. He claimed the civil rights movement cannot be stopped if it concentrates on quality integrated education. He stated a social revolution for jobs and a social revolution for housing was needed, and all that is needed to obtain integrated schools are some black bodies and some white allies. He stated active protests are necessary even to achieve school integration.

RUSTIN urged the School Board to construct a series of educational parks housing several schools on one site to produce integration and high-caliber education in a natural setting.

In "The Saturday Evening Post," issue of July 11-18, 1964, Page 76, BAYARD RUSTIN is the subject of a feature article captioned, "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights." In it, RUSTIN is said to have come to New York in 1938 as an organizer for the Young Communist

CONFIDENTIAL

League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party." Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York RUSTIN gave most of his earnings to the "Party." He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker," February 11, 1957, Page 1, Column 2, reported that BAYARD RUSTIN, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), held in New York City on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an east coast communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CPUSA, on that date, BENJAMIN J. DAVIS remarked that, "RUSTIN calls me constantly--openly." (U)

A confidential source advised on February 19-20, 1964, that BAYARD RUSTIN contacted BENJAMIN J. DAVIS on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, DAVIS told RUSTIN that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which RUSTIN was to speak. (U)

A confidential source advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, BENJAMIN J. DAVIS (U)

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on May 17, 1966, which disclosed that Stanley Levison and Martin Luther King, President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), were in contact on that date. Their contact, according to the source, concerned an article which Levison is writing for King. The article will present King's analysis of the recent elections in Alabama. King said he liked the article as prepared by Levison, but did want to cover a few items contained therein.

First of all, King said with reference to Levison's coverage of the Confederation of Alabama Political Organizations, (COAPO), which recently came into being, that there was also another political organization in the state. He said he was raising the question because (COAPO) grew out of the SCLC, therefore he did not want it to appear that he was blowing his own horn. King said (COAPO) is the first grassroots political organization known to the state of Alabama.

King said Hosea (Hosea Williams, Director of Special Projects, SCLC) made a recent statement in Alabama to the effect that some of the labor people were trying to put money behind Elliott (former Congressman Carl Elliott who was a candidate for Governor in the Alabama election) and give it to Negroes to organize for Elliott. Some of the Negroes, King said, were from (COAPO). Hosea (Hosea Williams) more or less said that as a result of hard work and sacrifice "they" (the COAPO) got the Negroes to register, but now labor was trying to come in and make the decisions. King said high labor officials got word of Hosea's statement which upset them very much. As a consequence, he (King) has received three or four calls (from labor officials). In fact, Norm Hill (civil rights official of the American Federation of Labor - Congress of Industrial Organizations, (AFL-CIO) contacted him (King) and urged him to go to Washington to talk with someone in an effort to correct the misunderstanding. King concluded that in the future, he will have to rely more on wealthy people for aid in solving the economic problems of the SCLC (apparently alluding to the hard feelings caused by Hosea's statement about labor). 117

Stanley Levison

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. His differences, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism. (U)

Ralph Turner - Wright and Turner originally were assigned by the Illinois CP District to work in NALC shortly after NALC came into existence in Chicago.

The group discussed a program for the Chapter which basically consists of organizing the unorganized workers in the Chicago area and proposed that this program be launched in Chicago after the National NALC Convention in Baltimore.

The source further advised that at this re-organization meeting eleven memberships were secured at $4.00 each, it being noted that the NALC Constitution requires ten memberships in order for the Chicago NALC Chapter to retain its Charter.

Concerning Herbert Wright, the source further advised that in addition to being designated by the Illinois CP District to work in the NALC, Wright also is a member of the Railroad Club, Illinois CP as well as in charge of the industrial work within the Illinois CP.

Concerning Ralph Turner, the source further advised that in addition to being designated by the Illinois CP District to work in the NALC, Turner is also Chairman of the Railroad Club, Illinois CP.
